Library Plans

'Magic' Show

The Magical Mysteries Reading Club at the Muleshoe Public Library is in full swing. Boys and girls still have time to register to participate in the club, according to Anne Camp, librarian.

She said over 100 boys and girls have enrolled and are now reading books, setting goals for themselves, and trying to meet their goal.

Mrs. Camp said about 65 children were on hand Wednesday morning for a "get acquainted" and movie program. They were told of many of the good Mystery and Magic books, and told a little "Spooky" story from the new books.

Two films were shown, the "Wizard" and "ricci, Ticci, Tavi", a Walt Disney version, from the Kipling book of Jungle Tales.

According to the librarian, next week, a special treat for the youngsters will be a magic show, with "Marty, the Magician" in Muleshoe to put on a great performance. Mrs. Camp said she is sure this is one show the kids will not want to miss. "Marty is a very talented young man, who has put on many magic shows all over the Amarillo area, and we are fortunate to be able to get him to come here," she said.

Every Wednesday morning from 10:30 - 11:30 a.m. other programs will be presented for members of the Magical Mysteries Summer Reading Club at the Muleshoe Public Library.

Luncheon Honors Volunteers

Six Bailey County residents were among volunteers from: eight South Plains counties who descended upon Levelland on Friday, May 25. They were invited to a special recognition luncheon sponsored by South Plains Community Action in appreciation for their cumulative 3,306 hours of volunteer service to transportation and food distribution programs of Community action.

The eight counties represented were Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Cochran, Lamb, Bailey and Hockley.

Honored from Bailey County for their volunteer hours which totaled 172½ were Rodolfo Castello, eight; Adelia Jones, 62½; Dolores Orozco, 22; Maria Theresa Orozco, 56; Ofelia Saucedo, 16 and Robert Orozco, eight.

Addressing the more than 150 persons assembled at the Mexiteria Howard Maddera, executive director of South Plains Community Action, spoke to volunteers about the necessity of their involvement as aides and escorts in the SPARTAN (South Plains Area Rural Transportation Assistance Network) Program. SPARTAN, according to Maddera, provides "on demand" transportation within each county, between counties, and into Lubbock. Escorts accompany the SPARTAN driver and generally assist the driver with elderly, handicapped, and/or other passengers needing assistance. Aides work

New Pastor

Is Welcomed

Today, Sunday, Barry Bradley will be preaching both the morning and evening services at First Baptist Church in Muleshoe, according to Gayle Turner, church secretary.

Rev. Bradley, his wife Jackie, and two sons, Jeffrey, nine and Jonathan, three, moved here recently from Groom, where he was pastor of First Baptist Church for five and a half years.

Bagworm

Control

Important

Bagworms are one of the major pests of junipers and other trees and shrubs in Texas. Spring hatch begins in mid-May in the Lubbock area this year and is now almost complete. Insecticide control is most effective in late May and early June when the bagworms are small, says County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley.

In the spring, bagworm larvae emerge from hatching eggs inside last year's bags and begin feeding on leaves. They soon begin to construct their own protective bag of silk, twigs, and leaves, making them camouflaged and hard to see. As the larvae and their bags continue to grow, control becomes more difficult.

Bagworms feed throughout the summer months, building their bags until the bags are about one and one half inches long, Tanksley adds. In the fall, the bagworms become adults, mate and the females lay eggs inside their bags. They then overwinter in these bags in tree shrubs. Each overwintering female bag on a tree contains from 500 to 1500 eggs.

"Since the bagworm only completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest," says Tanksley. "But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring."

Insecticides which can be used to control bagworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion, dylox and orthene. The biological insecticide Bacillus thuringiensis can also be used. To obtain effective control, adds Tanksley, through coverage of the foliage is important. He reminds to always read and follow label instructions when applying insecticides.

prepare emergency food boxes, and distribute commodities.

Luis Perez, program director, welcomed the volunteers on behalf of the South Plains Community Action Agency. He paid particular recognition to SPCAA staff working in the eight counties for their efforts in recruiting volunteers so that the persons needing such transportation and food help could be better served.

Special guests at the luncheon were Jack Alexander, president, South Plains Community Action Board of Directors; Howard Gwinn, Hockley County Food Box; Evonne Chrenshaw, director, Levelland Chamber of Commerce; Chilton, Department of Human Resources, Commodity Distribution.

Rev. Ray Elmore, pastor of Christ United Methodist Church, presided.

New Motel

Name Contest

Is Underway

Ken Smith of American Heritage Co., Lubbock, one of the developers of the new motel under construction in Muleshoe, was in the Journal offices Thursday afternoon.

He said a contest is currently underway to name the new motel here. Because of a Heritage Inn recently constructed at Odessa, Smith said plans have changed to name the Muleshoe inn the Heritage Inn.

On page six of this issue of the Journal, is a coupon blank to enter your suggestion for a name for the motel. Fill the coupon in and mail or take it to the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at the Muleshoe City Hall.

Deadline for entry in the naming contest is noon on Thursday, June 14. Smith said the American Heritage Co. reserves the right to reject any or all of the names suggested, and that all suggestions become the property of the American Heritage Co.

Winner of the contest will receive a $50 cash prize, plus a weekend for two at the new motel after it is completed in late August or early September.

The winner will also be recognized at the grand opening and ribbon cutting when the motel is opened.

With 51 units, the motel will also feature a swimming pool, a lobby with a fireplace and five rental units in the main building. Smith

Crops Are 'Excellent' For This Time Of Year

Youth Employment Office Now Open

Youth Employment Services of Muleshoe will be opening its doors again this summer. The Y.E.S. program began in Muleshoe in June of 1983. This organization was founded to promote youth involvement in the entire community. Response to the Y.E.S. program during the first summer of its existence was very rewarding, according to the board members, who cited its success, from both the adult and adolescent viewpoint.

Y.E.S. dispatched about 100 young people, ranging in age from 13 to 17 years to various jobs throughout this area last summer. The Y.E.S. office received many compliments on the kids regarding the work they did, says Linda Elder, president.

"The board of directors are hoping for an even better year in 1984," according to the president. New members to the board are Johnny Young, Tommie Bratcher and Peggy Pohlmeier. Returning from last year are Katherine Sanders, Trey Ellis, Linda Elder, Joan Lewis and Judy Madole. In a regular board meeting held May 14, new officers for the Y.E.S. organization were elected. Linda Elder was elected president; Joan Lewis, vice president and Judy Madole secretary/treasurer.

A fund raising drive is presently underway to raise money to cooperate the Y.E.S. office through the summer months. A $20 donation will buy a chance for a trip to New Orleans to the World's Fair. The package includes air fare for two, three nights lodging for two at the New Holiday Inn in New Orleans, two general admission tickets to the Fair, a four hour tour of the city and a two hour Mississippi River cruise.

Drawing for the trip will be held Saturday, June 23.

Bicycle Owner

Workshop Set

As 4-H Project

Muleshoe 4-H Club will sponsor a Bicycle Safety Project on June 12 and again on June 19. Activities will start both days at 2 p.m. The project is open to any Bailey County youngster regardless of sex, race, religion or economic background, according to the local office.

Bike riders do not have to be a member of 4-H and there is no charge for the workshop.

On June 12, the workshop will be held at the Muleshoe Public Library. Bert Sinclair, Safety Education officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety, will present a program on bicycle safety. Bicycle maintenance and repair will also be taught.

Activities will be at the Bailey County Coliseum parking lot on June 19. This day will include bicycle identification and practice on a safety course. DPS Trooper Lyndon Huckaby will lead this part of the workshop. Participants may bring their bicycles both days.

For more information, contact Kirby Rankin at the Bailey County Extension Office at 272-4583.

Rain Is Combined With Good Weather

Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley has spent a part of this week traveling throughout Bailey County checking the crop situation. As a result of his driving and visiting with farmers and ranchers, he is very optimistic about the current crop picture throughout this particular county.

"All crops are probably in as good a condition in Bailey County as I've seen in the last five or six years at the present time" commented the county agent.

"We realize some producers have some small problems, but when we look at the overall picture, crops are off to a very good start."

"When considering a very hard, cold winter," commented Tanksley, "combined with a prolonged drought, it's really amazing that the crops look as good as they do."

"Some of the reasons for the crops looking so good include the recent timely moisture which was large enough an amount, with some supplemental irrigation, to benefit our producers. Good climate conditions for crop emergence and growth is another factor helping the producer right now."

With a cotton base of some 175,000 acres, Tanksley estimates that cotton is planted on 140,000 to 150,000 acres in the county.

Cotton is emerging in five to seven days, according to Tanksley, who is attributing the fast germination and emergence to ideal weather conditions for cotton growth.

At this time, there is little to no seedling disease, and the biggest factor for cotton getting off to such a good start being the timely moisture received.

"We realize the producer has been frustrated by the dry, windy spring conditions," added the county agent, "and that soil erosion has been a problem, along with poor irrigation efficiency and some other problems. But overall, the picture is excellent for this time of year.

"Moisturewise, across the county, based on reports I have received," he added, "from about 214 west, from two to four inches of very good rain has been recorded. From 214 east, only about one to one and a half inches of moisture has been received, however, these producers have received enough to establish a crop."

"Within the next 10 days to two weeks, they must have additional rain, or their crops will begin to die in the eastern part of the county."

"We will begin to see stand reductions, and the cotton in a stress situation."

With 97 percent of the cotton in the county planted, and from 75 to 80 percent of the cotton emerged, the crop is up and to a good stand at this time. The county agent says he believes the 'heavier than usual' planting of cotton is due, in much part, to the continued drought in other surrounding counties to the south and east of Bailey County.

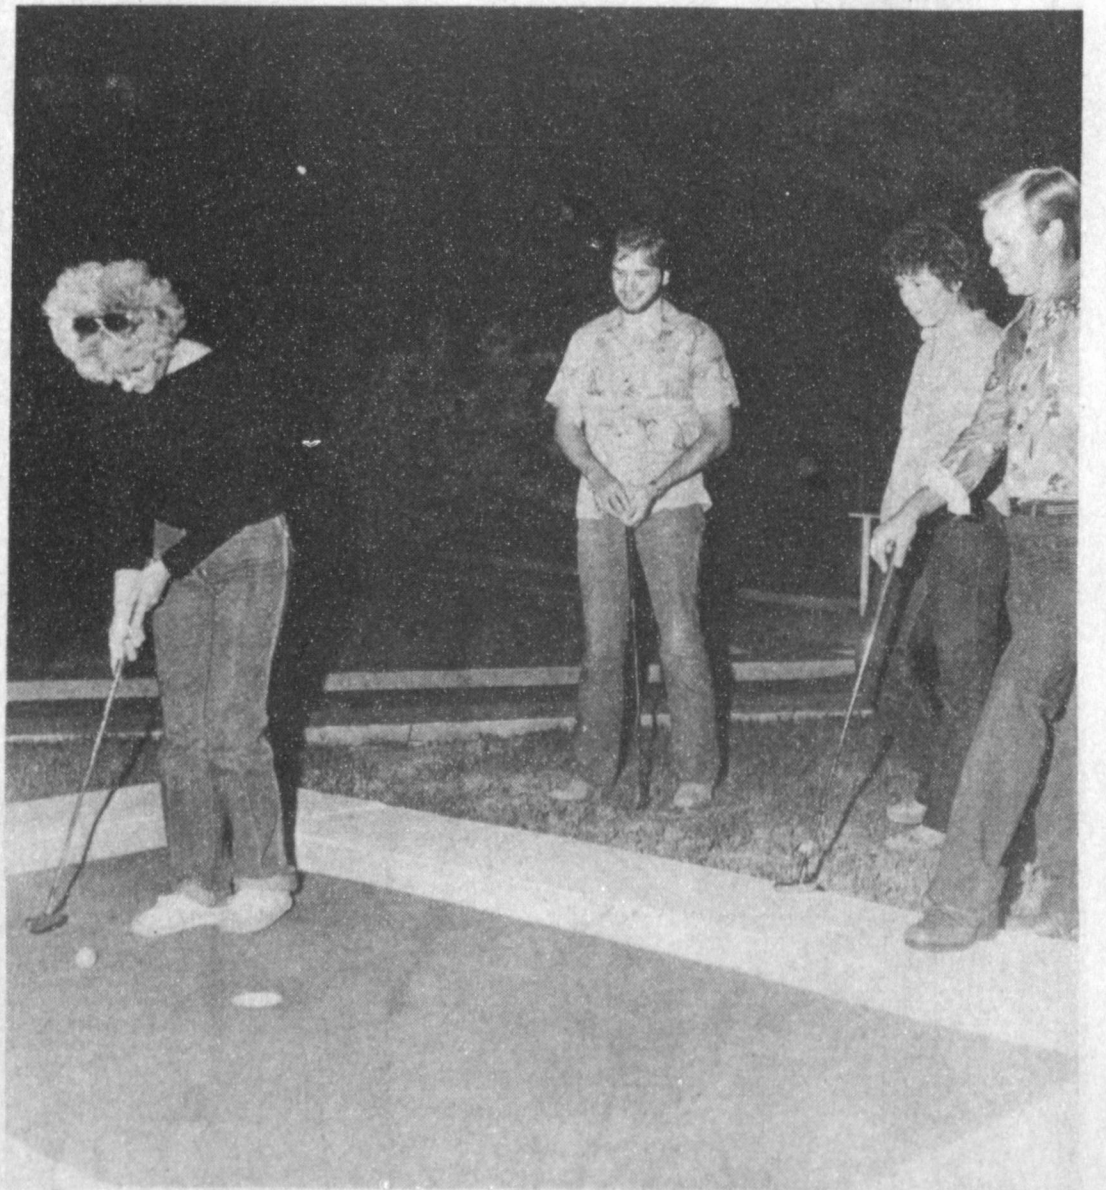

Tanksley says most of the counties have not yet received enough moisture to plant their crops, so county producers believe the market will be stronger this fall.

"At this time, we see a lot of the producers beginning to cultivate their fields in the irrigated areas and they are beginning to work on the weed problems in their fields," commented Tanksley.

Some 22,000-25,000 acres of corn have been planted in Bailey County, and the county agent says the corn is "in excellent condition across the county."

"Most of it is in the eight to 10 leaf stage, and are developing very well. Farmers are laying by their fields, and expect to begin irrigation on their crops within the next week."

Tanksley says that when the corn gets to the 10-14 leaf stage, the water need is much greater.

Excellent Crops

The county agent reminded that wheat took the brunt of the cold and drought until May when the beneficial rain was received.

He said the lack of moisture will be resulting in reduced yields in both irrigated and dryland wheat crops. Some dryland wheat has been grazed out, cut for hay, or plowed up and abandoned because of the blow-out and poor yield potential. Where the irrigated wheat received adequate moisture, wheat yields should be excellent, he said.

Tanksley expects the dryland crop to be reduced by 25-50 percent, as the May moisture was too late to benefit that crop.

In some areas, roads in the county have become impassable due to the blowing and drifting sand, and these are some of the problems facing farmers, who are also finding deep sand in their fields. It will take time to work these problems out, explained Tanksley.

"But, the county farmers' attitudes are good, they are working hard despite being so affected by the weather and the low markets. They figure these are minor problems."

There are no bad insect or disease problems at this time for the farmers, according to Tanksley's survey.

Nearly 10,000 acres of alfalfa are planted in the county and the producers are making 'up and down' yields in their first cutting. The alfalfa producer has been affected by the high wind and lost a lot of water to evaporation and blowing away without reaching their crop.

However, yields are one half to two tons per acre in the first cutting and if the ideal weather conditions hold, they should find very good yields in their next cutting.

Tanksley reminded that statewide, hay is in very short supply, and suggests that all farmers and producers who have hay to sell, contact the ASC office and put their name on the list to be mailed to potential buyers all over the state.

Tanksley says young potatoes are blooming now, and are setting very early. They will be harvested during the next six weeks, with the young potato crop reported to be in excellent condition and high yields expected.

Other vegetables are still very small at this time. Livestock and range conditions are not so good at this time, according to the county agent. He said some producers have been forced to market their cattle early or reduce their main cowherds.

He expects range conditions to still be poor throughout this year, and up to a year necessary for the ranges to recover and grow back from the double dose of a hard winter and the drought. Most ranges are slowly improving at this time.

Much of the cattle have been called out in large numbers, due not only to the poor range conditions, with supplemental feeding necessary, but also due to depressed markets. Some cattle have been fed on wheatfields and other small grains.

All in all, the county agent says Bailey County is so much better off at this time than many areas with the statewide drought affecting most areas of the state, except right along the state line where some beneficial moisture has been received. "We are very fortunate to have received the rainfall we have gotten, and to be in the conditions we are in at this time," says Tanksley. "Without more additional rainfall, in a timely pattern this summer, we may only produce an average crop, but with rainfall when we really need it, we can have a 'bumper crop' year with excellent yields."

Travel Time

Safety Tips

Can Save Lives

Now that school is out and vacation time is here motorists are heading for the road in droves, thus increasing their chances of having unfamiliar driving conditions.

Major V.J. Cawthon, Department of Public Safety Commander of Region 5 said, "When driving in the rural area, slow down before, not after entering a curve. If you wait until it seems urgent to slow down, it is too late. Your engine should be pulling your vehicle through a curve. This pulling force aids in directional control, when you use a safe speed in a curve."

The Major reminds the Texas motorist to be alert to the fact that many people lose their lives within 25 miles of departure and/or destination. This fatal fact of the road is due in great part to abusing the speed laws.

Plan your trip so that you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return in comfort. This means a minimum of night driving, no speeding and no driving fatigued. Have a happy and safe school's out vacation.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
 Recently something was brought to my attention that I would like to share with you. My family and I were visiting in Lubbock over the weekend, when my sister brought up the subject of the 4th of July. She wanted to know if the town of Muleshoe was planning their usual celebration. After telling her "yes", she promptly invited her family to spend the holiday in Muleshoe with us. She said Lubbock was too large and impersonal to enjoy the 4th of July there.
 How many other people feel the same way? How many guests do we have over the holidays?
 My sister voiced a belief that I've held for some time now, Muleshoe is The Very Best!

Muleshoe has so very much to offer any age group of people. Every holiday hosts some special event, from January to December we have so many things to enjoy. Like business sales, club activities, Easter Egg Hunt, 4th of July, Mule Day Festival, Fine Arts Annual PTA Halloween Carnival, Baseball, Basketball, Christmas parade and countless other activities.
 It takes all of us, as individuals, groups, or clubs, and businesses, to make it work. I love Muleshoe and enjoy getting involved. I wish everyone would think about this and realize they need to count their blessings for living in Muleshoe!
 Toni Eagle

Annie Dunn received a big beautiful bouquet from her grand daughter Beverly.
 Jewel Glenn's nephew from Chicago, Ill. visited her Tues.
 Edith Goucher was visited by Marjorie Goforth Wed. afternoon.
 Glenda Jennings came Wed. afternoon to have a Sing-a-Long with the residents. We were so pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Head to attend as our special guest.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
 Recently something was brought to my attention that I would like to share with you. My family and I were visiting in Lubbock over the weekend, when my sister brought up the subject of the 4th of July. She wanted to know if the town of Muleshoe was planning their usual celebration. After telling her "yes", she promptly invited her family to spend the holiday in Muleshoe with us. She said Lubbock was too large and impersonal to enjoy the 4th of July there.

How many other people feel the same way? How many guests do we have over the holidays?

My sister voiced a belief that I've held for some time now, Muleshoe is The Very Best!

Muleshoe has so very much to offer any age group of people. Every holiday hosts some special event, from January to December we have so many things to enjoy. Like business sales, club activities, Easter Egg Hunt, 4th of July, Mule Day Festival, Fine Arts Annual PTA Halloween Carnival, Baseball, Basketball, Christmas parade and countless other activities.

It takes all of us, as individuals, groups, or clubs, and businesses, to make it work. I love Muleshoe and enjoy getting involved. I wish everyone would think about this and realize they need to count their blessings for living in Muleshoe!!
