YOU ARE INVITED TO THE ANNUAL ELECTION-NIGHT PARTY

Saturday evening after you have voted for the best men in all the races, state, district, county and precinct, and have done up the chores, The News invites you to another one of its bi-ennial election night parties.

Come down and mix with the big, good natured crowd, where sportsmanship reigns and where neighbors mingle their congratulations to those who have won local races, and therefore must take up the responsibilities for the people in a few short months.

The News hopes you will have the satisfaction of seeing most of your chosen candidates elected, and it hopes we shall all find that those elected will do the job in a manner pleasing to their friends and surprising to their opponents.

Texas and Donley County need all the luck they can muster in the days ahead. So, come down to our big election night party and let's wish winners, losers and ourselves the best luck possible in the next two years.

GENERAL SUPPORT FROM ALL TEXAS

No single candidate for state office in Texas this year has such general support from every section of Texas, North, East, South, or West, as Hon. Walter Woodul of Houston, who maintains a huge lead for the office of Attorney General.

Walter Woodul is popular in every section of Texas for Texas voters have found that in all his large service to the state, whether as state senator or lieutenant-Governor or acting Governor, he has been a statesman in his breadth of vision of the needs of all Texas. There is nothing sectional about Walter Woodul, and this is the reason for his wide-spread popularity with Texas voters. Read the two selected testimonials from West and East Texas presented below:

From Lubbock, Texas, the Morning Avalanche, in its issue of June 2, in an editorial declared:

"PROGRESS of the current political campaign has done nothing more effectively than to emphasize the dignity of the man who is to become, as we are convinced, our next Attorney General . . . every day makes it more and more apparent that Mr. Woodul as Attorney General will measure up to the highest traditions of that office.

"We find it impossible to forget that for a decade, ever since he began serving in the Texas Senate, Walter Woodul has proven himself to be broad-gauged and fair." The Alba Reporter, of East Texas, in a recent editorial said:

"There is no question of Walter Woodul's election. He has already received pledges of support from every county in Texas.

"There is a reason for Walter Woodul's popularity. His record in the legislature and in the Texas Senate is one that sparkles with accomplishments for and in behalf of the entire citizenry of Texas."

A vote for Walter Woodul is a vote for proven ability and performance devoid of sectionalism.

STREAMLINING THE OL' BUS

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

"Jimmie, Give That Dog of Ours a Kick an' Send Him in the House!"

REVERTING TO TYPE?

Just what our civilization is heading into is well worthy of study and reflection. Are we reverting to type? It hasn't been so very long since we were burning so-called witches or so-called sorcerers; not so much because of their predictions of the future as, in many instances, on account of what they knew of the past. Right now in many sections of the world, governments and populations have become war-mad and with it all, human life is held as the cheapest of all commodities. And, too, such is the terrible logic of war political judgements are merely vain formalities; for the same passions which give rise to accusation give rise also to condemnations.

There is a clever maxim which tells us that unless wicked ideas take root in a naturally depraved mind, human nature in its normal, wholesome state and revolting at crime, will uproot the wrong and substitute the right.

Can it be said of animals which are decidedly cowardly, and are so called, that they are not brave enough to defend themselves in moments of danger? Put to test the serpent is brave as the lion,—the hawk as courageous as the eagle.

It may appear inconsistent and yet is a matter of frequent remark, that quarrelsome and restless characters frequently seek the companionship of gentle, timorous dispositions; as if the former sought, in the contrast, a repose from their own ill-humor and the latter a protection against their own weakness.

If one might judge by the record of violence and crime, even that alone which is given publicity in the press of the country, society has of late years become cursed with that class of men which Plato held should be excluded from the appellation of men and whom Diogenes described as "animals upon two legs with feathers."

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN—Thundering down the home-stretch in the great 1938 Texas gubernatorial sweepstakes, as this column is written, were eleven entrants. The zero hour is Saturday, when nearly a million Texas poll-tax and exemption certificate holders were expected to go to the polls and eliminate nine of the horses. The two leaders will then go into the second and final heat, August 27. As they neared the finish line, three horses were leading the field, running so close together that few dared to predict the final outcome.

Which two of these four will qualify for the second heat was the big question puzzling the political experts. They freely admitted the freakish O'Daniel boom has them confused, although the great majority believed O'Daniel was a certainty for the run-off. Thompson and McCraw were battling to a finish for the other place is the runoff with opinion sharply divided as to which will be successful. Thompson forces, supremely confident, believed the constructive campaign of their candidate, kept scrupulously clean and without mentioning the other candidates, will bring their man under the wire a winner. McCraw with slashing attacks on O'Daniel, in which he has raised the issues of sectionalism, poll-tax payments, and hill-billy music, claimed the race is between himself and O'Daniel. But those opposing him asserted his campaign has collapsed, and his sudden switch from wise-cracks to bitter sarcasm is evidence that he feels he must do something to reform his shattered lines or go down.

The Attorney General has found O'Daniel a worthy foe in the exchange of repartee, and the flour candidate has laughed off McCraw's vicious attacks with little apparent damage to his cause. The big surprise of the campaign may lie in the question of how much O'Daniel talk will resolve itself into votes Saturday. There is still a possibility that the flour man may pull up lame and find Thompson and McCraw fighting it out for the Governorship.

ALLRED IS JUDGE
More than a year ago, this column gave its readers a detailed forecast that Gov. James V. Allred would be judge of the new South Texas Federal Court. The prediction was unqualified, based upon information from a high Washington source. Later, other Texas Newspaper correspondents carried rumors of the event, but weakened from time to time on their stories, and heeded. This column has never weakened, its source repeatedly confirming the original story.

Any political commentator writing from Austin is required to make a good many guesses a year. Many go wrong, naturally, but to stay is business, the commensator must score more hits than misses. This commentator, therefore, takes some pride in the development which this week landed Allred in this judgeship, exactly as forecast in detail.

WILL QUIT ABOUT SEPT. 1

The Governor indicated he will resign after the second primary, immediately after President Roosevelt announced his appointment at Wichita Falls. Soon after his return to Austin, he issued a statement to some extent, and saying he wanted to serve out as much as possible of his term as Governor. That hedging statement was in response to pressure from friends of Jerry Mann and Ralph Yarborough who are candidates for Attorney-General against Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul who will become Governor when Allred steps down. Smart observers here figured that the knowledge that Woodul will be governor nearly five months will be worth 25,000 to 50,000 additional votes to Woodul, and probably put him so far ahead in the Attorney General's race that there would be no runoff. Recognizing this, Woodul's opponents put pressure on Allred.

But Allred's hedging statement is obviously just that. The newly created court opens its first term, Monday, Sept. 5. Allred is the new Court's first judge. It is a 10 to 1 bet that he will take his seat on the bench when the new court opens for business, with a crowded docket.

And Senator Tom Connally will sleep sounder during these next two years, knowing that Jimmie Allred will not oppose him for reelection in 1940.

NOTES
The full name of Gov. Jimmie Allred is "James Burr V. Allred"

To Close Primary Campaign at Dallas

Attorney General William McCraw, and former district attorney of Dallas County, goes into the last week of his state speaking tour as a candidate for governor by speaking today at Houston where he made a plea for "the sober, sound vote of Texans who want a better government at less cost." McCraw will close his campaign for governor in Dallas, his home town, Friday night.

LIBRARY NOTES
(By Mrs. C. A. Burton)

A very significant thing in the world of letters today is the number of scholarships and awards of various kinds being given by individuals and organizations for the promotion of literature. Besides the Newberry and Caldecott awards previously mentioned, various others were given at the A. L. A. meeting at Kansas City in June.

Mary U. Rothrock, supervisor of library service of the Tennessee Valley Authority received the Joseph W. Lippencott award for the most outstanding contribution to librarianship. Carleton B. Joechel of the Graduate Library School, University of Chicago, received the James Terry White award, given for notable published writing, professional or otherwise, for his "Government of the American Library." Both these awards were given for the first time. The Lippencott award is the gift of Joseph W. Lippencott of Philadelphia and consists of a certificate and $500. The White award is a medal given by James T. White of New York and named in honor of his grandfather.

The Julia Ellsworth Ford Foundation has announced the 1938 winner in its annual contest for the best book manuscripts for children. Phyllis Crawford of New York was awarded $3,000 for her manuscript, "Hello, the Boat!"—a story of stowboat life on the Ohio river in the early nineteenth century. Selection of Miss Crawford's work was made from 1,616 manuscripts submitted. "Hello, the Boat!" will be published in the fall.

Marquis James won the 1938 Pulitzer Prize for biography with his "Andrew Jackson."

Possibly the most interesting book for Texans to be published soon will be the "35,000 Days in Texas"—a history of the Dallas News and its Forbears, by Sam Acheson, which will be ready for distribution next week. A review says the story of The News is the story of Texas.

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs.

What you may need is a particularly good woman's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your shrieking nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again.

More than a million women have reported benefits—why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to go "smiling thru" trying times like it has other grateful women for the past 5 generations? IT MUST BE GOOD!

Library Association for employment of an executive secretary. Miss Edwin Sue Goree, who has long been associated with library work in Texas and the Southwest has accepted the position and will make her headquarters at the San Antonio Public Library for the present.

During 1937-1938 five Texas counties established country-wide free library service, thus bringing the total number of such counties to twenty. Texas now has 117 libraries giving free service to the public.

The Library of the University of Texas has recently been renamed. It is now the Mirabeau B. Lamar Library of the University of Texas.

Wilbarger County Library at Vernon celebrated its twenty-first year of service on July 1.

Cattle Movements
In Donley Increase

According to Frank Reeves, Sr. writer of Chuck Wagon Gossip, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Sunday, cattle movements are steadily increasing.

C. T. McMurry sold 300 cows and calves to C. B. Jones of Spur. McMurry & Chamberlain received 250 2-year-olds from San Simon's ranch in New Mexico. Shelton & Chamberlain bought 90 yearlings from J. M. Browder, Memphis, and sold 45 yearlings to A. L. Waggoner, Amarillo. McMurry & Chamberlain sold 240 3-year olds to B. B. Snyder of Denver.

In his race for Governor four years ago 457,821 votes were cast for Tom Hunter—within 2% of his election. An intensive survey of the State indicates that in this race more than a half million votes will be cast for his election. Join these half million citizens with your vote in the interest of a fair, sound, sensible, economical State Government.

To the Voters of Precinct 2:

I have tried to make a thorough canvass of the precinct, but for various reasons, I am sure I have failed to see some of you.

To those I have seen I want to express my sincere appreciation for your courteous treatment.

To those I have not seen, I take this means of soliciting your support July 23, and to all I pledge, if elected, an honest and economic administration of the affairs of the office.

Sincerely,

V. V. Johnston

Candidate for Commissioner, Prec. 2.

Above is shown the state capitol building at Austin, where winners in the various state offices will set up quarters for the next two years. Governor Gives Thrill To Entire Tennessee Town

From The State Observer, Austin: Personally we thought Jimmy Allred was setting himself a precedent that he might have to live up to (We've always wanted a pair of boots, Jimmy) but after all, he's the Governor and it's up to him to decide such matters. Anyway here's the story, told by the participants without any further comment from us: Morrison, Tenn. June 11. 'His Excellency, Jimmy Allred, Austin, Texas. 'Sir: 'This letter you are about to read is from neither a fan nor a crank, just a girl who is quite sincere in asking a favor. I know your time is valuable but please have patience with me and I'll come straight to the point. 'The local talent in my home town is giving a four-act comedy drama of the West on the night of July 4, and having been cast in the leading role as a 'cowgirl' this is my problem. Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. requirements. will receive the cotton price adjustment on their 1937 crop as soon as forms and instructions are received and issued and application is made. E. N. Holmgreen, administrative officer of the state AAA office at Texas A. & M. College, has announced. All acreage is now being measured, Holmgreen said, but compliance with not be required of farmers who produced cotton in 1937 but not in 1938. The recent amending act passed by Congress for speeding up these payments also specified that cotton produced in 1937 but not sold prior to September 10, 1937, will be eligible for a flat payment rate of 3 cents per pound in the amount eligible. Farmers who put their cotton under the 9 cent government loan may receive cotton price adjustment payments on that part of the loan cotton that is eligible for payment without transferring or selling the cotton. The appropriation for the payments is $130,000,000, not, Holmgreen pointed out, large enough to cover all the cotton produced in 1937 at the rates specified. It will, therefore, be used as far as it will go to provide payments on a percentage basis. This percentage will be uniform for all 1937 cotton producers.
