

School Halloween Carnival Here Next Monday Night

Carnival Queen To Be Crowned At 6:30

The date you have been waiting for is next Monday night as that is the time the big Halloween Carnival and queen activities will take place.

Crowning of the queen, under the direction of Mrs. Jolly Johnson, has been changed because of the small children who are participating in the coronation and in order to give the business people an opportunity to attend. The coronation will be held in the College gym, doors opening at 6 p. m. and the coronation starting promptly at 6:30.

The queen contest will close at 1 p. m. Monday and it is requested that all teachers and room mothers please see that all money is turned over to the finance chairman, Mrs. Claude Moore or Mrs. Willard Hudson by 1 p. m., for this is the deadline.

At the present time Judy Thompson is in first place, Joyce Taylor 2nd, Precilla Wright 3rd, Wanda Lewis 4th, Phyllis Hill 5th and Margaret Cushing 6th. Other contestants are Mabel Dean Brock, Ruby Mann, Mary Ann Landers, Venita Phillips, Nellie Jon Heathington, Jo Ellen McGowan and Scharleen Pycatt.

Beside the queen coronation, here's the other things that will be in store for you Monday night: Eating at the school cafeteria which opens at 6 p. m., a cake walk, fishing pond, candid movies of local people, spook house, grab bag-candy sale, train on track, picture show, cotton picking and Bingo.

Those in charge wish to remind everyone that there will be night watchmen on duty at all times throughout the carnival to watch the cars and see that they are not molested.

As many of you already know, this annual school carnival is sponsored by the Sims P.T.A. and the many activities which have preceded it are all in connection with the carnival and the money derived from all activities will go to the P.T.A.

Projects of the P.T.A. this year are: Projector and screen for visual education; installation of another water fountain on play ground and also another fountain in the basement for 1st grade children, linoleum for Cafeteria.

The most outstanding project is the P.T.A. Cafeteria. Although the Cafeteria is now self-sustaining under the capable management of Mrs. Winnie Stogner, long hours, yes even weeks and months of hard work by P.T.A. members was required to make it that way.

Here are a few of the projects that the P.T.A. has sponsored in the past: Maps, books, magazines and other equipment purchased for the lower grades. Last year over $1,800 was spent improving Elizabeth Stevens Ward such as painting, cleaning and re-lighting. Black-out shades were purchased; $50 paid on football banquet; $90 on new sight machine. Each year each teacher is given additional money by the P.T.A. to help buy needed supplies. Purchased trees and paid for their care.

Each member and each officer of the P.T.A. works long, hard hours without any thought of praise or reward and all this is done for your children as well as their own.

The P. T. A. Halloween Carnival was originally instigated to keep our children off the streets on Halloween night and give them good, clean fun. That alone should warrant your wholehearted support - - - so don't forget to attend the carnival next Monday night and have a big wonderful time with your own youngsters.

J. R. Porter To Head Boy Scout Finance Drive In Clarendon

Mr. J. R. Porter has accepted the appointment of Chairman of the Boy Scout Finance Drive in Clarendon. Rev. E. Douglas Carver, President of the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced this week. Judge Porter will head the drive which is a part of the Council-wide Drive to raise funds for the Operating Budget of the Council for 1950.

The Clarendon Boy Scout Finance Drive will be held on Monday, November 14, opening with a kick-off breakfast and closing that afternoon with a report coffee. Approximately 60 men are expected to participate in the various phases of the organization. These men will contact more than 300 people in Clarendon during the day of November 14th.

The Operating Budget of the Adobe Walls Council is used to give more and better Scouting to the boys of a 15 county area—12 of them in Texas, and the three counties of the Oklahoma Panhandle—and for the development of the Council Boy Scout Camp, Camp Ki-o-wah, located near Lake Marvin.

Dollar Day Is Next Wednesday

Your local dry goods merchants have another batch of bargains in store for you next Wednesday, November 2nd, as this is the regular dollar day for November.

Look at their advertisements in this issue of the Leader as they have many wanted items at very attractive prices. They want to give you an opportunity to get acquainted with the merchandise they have to offer rather than make a big margin of profit, so clip the dollar day ads out of this paper and save them for next Wednesday and also save yourself some hard earned money.

The Salary Raise Amendment

(An Editorial)

On November 8, 1949 the voters of Texas will pass on whether or not Ten Constitutional Amendments will be added as further patch-work to our already over-patched State Constitution. None of these amendments have much of anything to recommend them from the taxpayers' standpoint and well being, and by their adoption the taxpayers will be additionally burdened.

Of all of these Ten proposals, one in particular stands out as very dangerous. That one is House Joint Resolution No. 5 (the second proposal on the ballot) better known as "The Legislators' Salary Raise Amendment". It also would authorize Annual Sessions of the Legislature, but that was evidently thrown in as a "Smoke-screen" to disguise the real purpose.

1. It transforms offices of service into offices of profit and delegates of the people into salaried officials. Legislators, like grand and petit jurors, should be compensated on a per diem basis for time lost from their ordinary undertaking—the tasks which they have in common with the private citizens they represent. If $10 a day is not enough, they might be given $20, but it should be for days served and with some limit on their sessions.

2. Paying them $300 a month, in advance, all the year around, must mean one of two things: Exorbitant compensation for days actually served or extraordinary long sessions resulting in vastly increased expenditures and tax burdens. The latter outcome is the more probable one.

3. Theoretically, the sessions in odd-numbered years, relieved of part of the work now done by biennial sessions, should be somewhat shorter, while the sessions in even-numbered years might be finished in 25 to 30 days. But consider the average man's reaction to paying legislators $3600 for a year in which they are in session, say, 100 days, and the next year paying them another $3600 for 30 days in session. Legislators must consider that reaction to stay in office. Therefore, the prospect is for annual sessions much longer and much more expensive than our present biennial sessions.

4. To avoid the appearance of being subsidized in their private undertakings by the State, legislators will not only lengthen their sessions but spend more and more time at the State capitol between sessions. This is inevitable. Constituents cannot be expected to view calmly the spectacle of a neighbor pursuing his private business or profession, in competition with some of them, and receiving $300 a month from the State for so doing.

5. Practically continuous residence at the capitol, will make necessary permanent offices and year around employes for legislators. This will mean even greater additional expense to the State than the $3600 salaries. It will also mean that Legislators, living away from their constituents and among other salaried officials, will become less representative of their constituents and more prone to take the tax consumer's view of legislation and taxation.

6. While H. J. R. No. 5 will make salaried officials of legislators, it will not subject them to the restrictions imposed on the salaried officials. They may take private employment while drawing full time pay from the State, and may represent, for fees, private interests before State departments and boards. The latter will be more than ever under the legislators' power by reason of the requirement of annual appropriations for departmental salaries and expenses.

7. If the 51st legislature believed annual appropriations a sounder scheme than biennial appropriations, it had the chance to translate that belief into action. There is nothing in the constitution to prevent appropriating for one year at a time. Of course, there cannot be a session now in an even-numbered year unless the governor calls one, but this legislature knew one would be called. Never-the-less, it made appropriations on the old two-year basis, for all the departments, bureaus, commissions and institutions. This would have been logical enough if H. J. R. No. 5 had been written to become effective in 1951. But it was not so written. If adopted, it will go into effect next January. This will give members of the 51st, who submitted the amendment, the first $3600 salaries. It will also start the amendment off wrong end foremost, with its "second regular session" at $3600 per member preceding its first. And it will provide $3600 for a year in which the legislature might easily do all it has to do in fewer than 30 days.

8. It is only through its own extravagance, followed by a gubernatorial veto, that the 51st has anything at all to do in 1950. It had plenty of time to deal with all questions coming before it. And it did actually make appropriations on a two-year basis for all the departments and institutions. But it made them so big that, to keep expenditures within anticipated revenue plus an enormous surplus, the governor vetoed the second year appropriations for eleemosynary institutions. When it has provided for them, its task for 1950 will be over. But, of course, it will not confine itself to that task in a year for which its members are to receive $3600 each. It must find a lot more to do, and thus the evil effects of the amendment will develop immediately.

9. The principle that legislators should not enjoy increased compensation until after the people have been given a chance to choose new legislators has been generally respected in Texas. It was ignored in the submission of H. J. R. No. 5. Sanction for that departure from sound practice ought not to be given by the people.

10. The rule, reinforced by a statute, that amendments are to be so described that their effects can be known has been set aside in the submission of H. J. R. No. 5. Although its adoption would mean four important changes, to be effected by rewriting two sections of the constitution and adding to another by inference, it is to be described on the election ballot as "the constitutional amendments relative to sessions of the Legislature and to compensation of its members." That is the Whole description. The nine other proposals of constitutional change, on which the people will vote November 8, are all to be described fully. This one alone is to be presented vaguely. Its adoption would set a decidedly bad precedent.—Texas Tax Journal.

A regular business session is held at each meeting and different phases of agriculture are explained to the class and then after the meeting, games will be played and a good time is promised for every one present. The boys are invited to bring their fathers with them.

Baby Show Is Great Success

Approximately between four and five hundred people turned out last Tuesday evening at the College gym for the opportunity to view the youngsters that were entered in the baby contest and enjoy the program which had been prepared for additional entertainment.

Over sixty youngsters between the ages of one and under five were entered in the contest and it was declared by many that it must have certainly been a hard job for the out-of-town judges to pick the winners in each age class.

The winners in the age group one thru 2 years were: Karen Kemp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Kemp and Phil Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hart.

The winners in the three thru four year group were Connie Grady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grady and Sammy LaGrone, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. LaGrone.

Engraved sterling silver forks and spoons were awarded the winners by R. E. Drennan, Master of ceremonies. The contest was sponsored by Mrs. Gordon Bain's sixth grade students and the proceeds will go to the P.T.A.

Those in charge of the event wish to thank the mothers, judges, participants on the program and all others who helped in any way for their splendid cooperation.

Little Judith Ann Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Greene who has been in the hospital at Amarillo is able to be at home and doing nicely.

LAWMAKERS OPPOSE TAX HIKE AMENDMENT

Not all the state senators and legislative representatives voted for a salary raise amendment to be voted on by Texans Nov. 8th. But the majority did, and that is why voters will have to make a choice on HJR 5 on the election ballot.

Senator George "Cotton" Moffett of Chillicothe and who has business interests in Clarendon, is against further tax hike and will speak against the Amendment in the first of a series of state-wide broadcasts on Monday, Oct. 31 at 9 p. m. over the Texas Quality Network. Sen. Cecil Storey of Longview will also speak.

At least one broadcasting station in Amarillo will carry the message, we are informed.

Colts To Play Childress Here Nov. 3rd

Coach John English announced this week that he had matched a game with the Childress Juniors for November 3rd. This will be the last home game for the Colts and they are expected to have some real competition with the boys from Childress. The Colts will still have another game but it will be at Memphis on November 10th.

The Colt mothers want everyone to know that they will have the hot dog stand in operation for the Childress game and invite everyone to drop by and eat with them. Any Colt mother who is not familiar with the stand and would like to help out is requested to contact Mrs. W. W. Noblet.

Tonight the Colts go to Lefors to tangle with the young Pirates. It has been understood that the new paving has been completed from Alanreed to Lefors, so this should shorten the distance quite a bit and those youngsters will appreciate as large a following as can go.

Donley County Farm Bureau Holds Annual Membership Drive Meeting, Oct. 20th

The Donley County Farm Bureau held its annual membership drive meeting at Lelia Lake on Thursday night the 20th of Oct. at the school house. Fifty persons attended and pie and coffee was served.

The group was presided over by Holly Wood president of the Donley County Farm Bureau.

Everyone listened to a radio program over the Texas net work put on by the Farm Bureau from all parts of Texas and the final speech by the State president, Walter Hammond.

Committees in forms of teams were organized to contact persons in the county to join the Farm Bureau.

Mr. Wood stressed the necessity of organization because agriculture faces many problems in the future that vitally effect all farmers and they must be organized to hold agriculture prices up. The teams are to report at the Lelia Lake school house this Thursday night at seven thirty, Nov. 27th. Pie and coffee will be served and every one is invited.

Mrs. W. H. Strawn's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hayes and her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boyd and son Joe Dol of Lawton, Okla., and sister, Mrs. Nash of Lubbock and Lather Strawn of Amarillo, brother of Mr. Strawn were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Strawn to attend the wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hightower of Dallas visited in the Bowen DuLaney home Sunday.

Bronchos Defeat Shamrock Irishmen On Penetrations

The Bronchos journeyed to Shamrock last Friday night and brought home another victory even though the score read 0-0. Neither team was able to score but the Bronchos had the ball down in scoring position within the 20 yard line on two different occasions, giving the local two penetrations.

The game was pretty well matched all the way through, but the weather could have had something to do with this - as it was plenty chilly for both the players and the fans witnessing the game. The game was played mostly on the ground as there was a strong wind from the north and it was almost too cold to try much passing.

The Bronchos were hampered by the absence of two backfield men, Bradford and Mooring. The Broncho line did a fine job all the way through and allowed very few yards gained by the opposition outside of end runs.

Donley County Leader $2.50 yr. in County

The Clarendon Bronchos will be hosts this Friday to the number one team of the district, the Lefors Pirates. The game will be played on the local field and the starting time has been set for 7:30 p. m.

Coach Clinton reported that the Bronchos had looked better in practice this week than any other time this year and seemed to have a determination to knock the top team off the list this week and he feels like the boys were plenty capable of doing just that.

Clinton stated that there probably wouldn't be any change in the line-up other than a switch in offensive and defensive players, although if some players show up just right in the "b" team game with Estelline Thursday night there may be some last minute changes in the first string squad.

Wednesday morning a "Crush Those Pirates Club" was formed at an assembly meeting at the High School and printed bands to this effect were handed to all students. Any caught not wearing them will be penalized. This is expected to help build the fire that will push the Bronchos to victory Friday night.

Plan to be out there, toot your car horn and yell for the Bronchos. They will appreciate your support and will do their best to add another victory for Clarendon.

Gene White, popular outstanding center on the Broncho squad, was selected as the player of the week in Frank Godsoe's poll for the Amarillo News this past week and Gene will be in there Friday night probably showing up even better than ever. We are happy to congratulate Gene on this honor and agree with Godsoe in that he certainly deserved the honor in every way.

Game time is 7:30 and the game will be played on Broncho field.

Painter Advocates A Study of Higher Educational System

AUSTIN—A study of the state's higher educational system to avoid unnecessary duplication of facilities was advocated by University of Texas President T. S. Painter in his annual address to the faculty.

Dr. Painter noted a decreased senior college enrollment trend which has been influenced greatly by junior college expansion.

"Faced with declining enrollments and the prospects of reduced legislative appropriations, it is probable that many institutions of higher learning will endeavor to attract students by expanding into teaching areas which are already adequately provided for elsewhere in the system," Dr. Painter declared.

No program for long-range development of state-supported higher education exists today, he said, and there is no central administrative machinery to see to it that the institutions operate within an approved program.

He added:

"A thorough-going study looking toward development of such a program for the entire system is essential if undesirable and uneconomic duplication of facilities is to be avoided.

"It is greatly to be hoped that the institutions themselves will appreciate the gravity of the situation and support wholeheartedly an objective examination of the facts to the end that available state resources can be utilized with a maximum of efficiency in the development of higher education in Texas."

C. W. Bennett Jr. Makes Five-day Tour of John Deere Plants

Precision engineering, scientific quality control, and modern production methods that would do credit to the finest factories in the world are used in the manufacture of John Deere farm implements, according to C. W. Bennett Jr. of Clarendon of this community, who returned Sunday, October 24th from a five-day tour of John Deere plants in western Illinois and eastern Iowa. These controls and methods not only contribute to the outstanding quality of John Deere farm implements, said Mr. Bennett, but are to a large degree responsible for the fact that John Deere products have not increased in cost as much as most other lines of "hard" goods since the war.

The first three days of Mr. Bennett's tour were spent in Moline and East Moline, Ill., where five of the sixteen John Deere manufacturing plants are located. In Moline, Mr. Bennett saw the John Deere Plow Works, established more than 100 years ago and "home" of world-famous John Deere disk tillers and John Deere Truss-Frame moldboard plows; the John Deere Wagon Works, where rubber-tired wagons, beet and bean tools, stalk cutters, and crop dusters are made, and the John Deere Planter Works, largest corn planter factory in the world, which—among other implements—produces corn planters with 60-acre daily capacity. In Moline Mr. Bennett also saw the John Deere testing and research laboratories, where highly-trained specialists are employed in never-ending search for new ways to improve John Deere implements.

In East Moline, Mr. Bennett visited the John Deere Harvester Works and John Deere Spreader Works. The Harvester Works, with 55 acres under one roof and more than 3,000 employees, manufactures large and small combines, mowers, threshers, and other implements. The Spreader Works makes manure spreaders and loaders, cotton harvesters, hammer and roughage mills, corn shellers, and grain elevators.

During the last two days of his tour, Mr. Bennett visited the two huge John Deere tractor factories at Dubuque and Waterloo, Ia., which employ about 9,000 persons. At these factories he saw production of the various general-purpose, standard-tread, crawler-type, and diesel tractors which comprise the extensive John Deere tractor line. He was particularly impressed by seeing John Deere Tractors "coming to life" and being driven away under their own power at the ends of the modern assembly lines.

Several other John Deere dealers from this general area made the trip with Mr. Bennett. In addition to the factory tour, they met with representatives from John Deere factories in Des Moines, Ia., Ottumwa, Ia., and Horicon, Wis., in order to secure a well-rounded picture of John Deere plans for the coming year, and also were guests at several luncheons and dinners attended by key personnel of Deere & Co. and various John Deere factories.

"The Christ Story" Will Be Presented In Palo Duro Canyon December 16-23rd

CANYON — The Christ story beginning with Abraham and concluding with the birth of Christ will be presented each evening in Palo Duro Canyon State Park, December 16, 17, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

The mammoth pageant, using more than 800 Panhandle people, is the largest spectacle ever attempted by Geller Productions, outstanding Hollywood producers of indoor and outdoor pageants. The event is sponsored and endorsed by the Amarillo Ministerial Alliance.

Staged in eight scenes, the story will be portrayed on the rim of Palo Duro Canyon between El Coronado Lodge and the State Park gate.

The vast and sweeping canyon will be a cathedral-like backdrop for this event which has been titled "The Beginning of Glory—The Christ Story."

The production and story originated by John L. McCarty, Southwestern Public Relations Counsel, will for the first time present in outdoor pageant form the background Bible stories leading to the coming of Christ. Most such stories, including the famous Passion Play, deal almost exclusively with the life of Christ.

The show will begin promptly at 7 o'clock each evening and will present a thirty-minute musical and song prelude. The eight scenes in pantomime and with narration are: "Abraham, the Friend of God," "Story of Moses, a Lawgiver," "David, the Shepherd King," "Solomon, the Wise and Foolish," "Through Elijah God is Praised Again," "Foretelling the Messiah," and "Jesus is Born in Bethlehem."

World Community Day—November 4th

The World Community Day, Nov. 4, 1949, is being observed by Christians all over the world for the purpose of being instrumental in bringing peace to mankind, and the United Council of Church Women is doing its bit with "Pieces for Peace." Pieces of scrap material for quilts and small garments and larger pieces for other needs. Have you ever realized what it means to be without necessary materials? We who live in a land of plenty and whose needs are filled can best show our gratitude for such blessings by helping our unfortunate fellow men. Hunt in every nook for scraps and materials, fit them on a light cardboard base 15 x 24 in. in size. If possible bring with good scissors, needles, thread and pins, Yarn, floss, trimmings and anything usable is acceptable. Wrap in a yard and a half of blue denim, tie securely and bring to the Methodist Church, Nov. 4th. In case denim is unavailable bring your contribution of "Pieces for Peace" any way and it will be taken care of by a committee from the Church Council.

The meeting is scheduled at 1 o'clock for the covered dish luncheon, followed by business meeting, reports from the United Council held recently in Dallas by Mrs. Pete Kunz and Mrs. J. L. McMurtry and a short world community program will follow. Please remember to bring the offering for lepers from the Pig Banks!

Approximately $112,000 in cash awards will be offered by the 1950 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which will open January 27 and extend through Feb. 5.

The scene of the Fort Worth exposition will be the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum and the cluster of buildings which give the show a plant unsurpassed in America for beauty and facilities.

In line with the steady, year-by-year progress carried out by the officials and board of directors, a number of improvements will be noted by the visitors. A new feed building and a second judging and auction arena have been constructed. Other structures added in the past few seasons include six livestock buildings extending over a 950 ft. frontage and connected by a covered corridor; the horse show building, with space for 600 animals, and the pen and carload lots building, these structures representing an outlay of around $2,000,000.

Winners in the fat steers, open classes, will receive $5,045.

The horse show awards will approximate $23,000, apportioned among the gaited horses, walking horses, road horses, Hackney ponies, hunters and jumpers, cutting horses, quarter horses, Palominos and Shetland ponies.

Most daring and skilled of cowboys will compete in the rodeo, always a picturesque and exciting part of the Stock Show. In fact, the Fort Worth exposition originated the indoor rodeo, the first the world had ever seen being in 1917.

Entries bearing that day's postmark will be accepted. Exhibitors are urged to make their entries as early as possible so they can be shown in the official catalog and so that stalls can be assigned. Entries are free but charges are made for stalls and pens.

Health Notes

AUSTIN — Some people claim oysters are good only during the months which have R in their spelling.

But the Texas State Health Department says oysters are not safe any month, with or without the R, if the seafood has not been cultivated, shucked, packed and shipped under sanitary conditions.

Texas' veteran state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says oysters have much to commend them as a source of food.

"They have protein of good quality, iron, and copper (important as a protection against anemia), iodine, which is essential to proper working of the thyroid gland, and a fair amount of vitamins," Cox says. But he adds emphatically, "Beware of uncertified oysters."

According to the doctor, each oyster grower in Texas is given a certificate of approval for the oyster beds he uses, provided health department officials find the beds are free from pollution, and the shucking houses are clean and well-kept. Otherwise, no certificate.

Each shucking house (where oysters are opened) must have a certificate showing all employees are free from communicable diseases, especially typhoid fever. The certificates are issued annually.

The Federal government cooperates with the State by keeping a list of all certified shippers in Texas. If a shipper isn't certified by the State Health Department, his oysters can't be shipped in interstate commerce. And since Texas has some fine oyster beds, Dr. Cox says the interstate commerce ruling is an incentive for oyster shippers to adhere to sanitary practices. Otherwise they miss the out-of-state market.

That's the situation on oyster sanitation from a man who

Better Treatment For Texas' Mentally Ill

AUSTIN—Better treatment for Texas' mentally ill, under a program endorsed by Governor Allan Shivers and other leading Texans, will be the aim of a Citizens' Committee on Mental Health created this week.

Dr. Ozro T. Woods, Dallas physician, will be chairman of the committee, and some 300 citizens will be asked to become charter members, the Governor said. Governor Shivers will send a letter to the list supplied by sponsors of the new organization, calling attention specifically to the proposed constitutional amendment that would allow mental patients to enter state hospitals without the necessity of a trial by jury.

"We hope the CCMH will provide a means of urging the people to open their eyes to the pitiful conditions in our state mental hospitals," said Dr. Woods. "This will be a study group, and a committee of action as well. Citizens throughout the state will be asked to lead their communities in formulating a desirable mental health program."

Dr. Woods predicted the first project of the CCMH will be to convince Texas voters that "the time has come to bring our laws governing the mentally ill up to a humane, scientific, 1940 level."

The amendment mentioned by the Governor and by Dr. Woods will be voted on in the November 8th election. It would empower the legislature to change the commitment procedure which now requires every mental patient to undergo a court trial and be adjudged "insane" by a six-man jury before he can be given treatment beyond the temporary stage.

The constitutional amendment would instruct the legislature to provide the legal safeguards in the new commitment procedure, including recourse to a jury trial if requested by the patient or someone representing him.

"We are the only state in the Union which still makes the mentally sick the victims of an antiquated age which treated insanity like a crime," said Dr. Woods. "It is proper that the Citizens Committee on Mental Health should begin its work with a program to bring our thinking up-to-date on the cause and treatment of mental illness."

Governor Shivers had announced earlier his full support of the lunacy amendment. "The difficult thing for many people to see," said the Governor, is that a courtroom scene, with a judge, a prosecutor, and a jury, can do great harm to an already sick mind. It is this sort of thing which we hope the Citizens Committee will be able to explain at firsthand in communities."

Mrs. Conrad Alexander and baby Mercia of Silverton returned to her home Monday after spending the week end with her parents and family.

CITY HALL

The City has for the past two weeks been repairing and repainting our fire plugs. This was the recommendation of the Fire Insurance Division for us to keep our fire insurance down. We have also been lowering water lines and repairing meters. Beginning last Tuesday we have been grading and packing gravel on a number of streets. This gravel is being paid for by the residents along the streets being graveled. The cost is a maximum of $10.00 per 50 ft. lot, within a 2500 foot radius of the gravel pit. As soon as we get this gravel hauled on the streets we are now working, we will try and work out a program whereby we can also gravel some more parts of town that are more distant from the pit for approximately the same cost. But we will not gravel more distant than 2500 feet from pit at present.

Don't forget Oct. 31st is the deadline to get the 3% discount on paying your City taxes.

Mrs. Alfred Petters from Bivins Station is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. D. DuLaney.

BUDDHIST ABBOT ON AMERICAN TOUR
CHICAGO, ILL.—Abbot Otani, chief Buddhist priest in Kyoto, Japan, accompanied by Lady Otani (L), Rev. G. M. Kubose, Chicago Buddhist (center) translates for the abbot at a press conference. The abbot said that "Communism is losing ground in Japan and Christianity is growing." The Otanis will visit other cities on an extended tour.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—As Senate adjourned (10/19) Vice President Alben Barkley, right, turned his gavel over to Senate Sergeant at Arms Joseph Duke for safekeeping during the adjournment.

Donley County
ACA Farm News

COTTONSEED PURCHASE PROGRAM:

We are very pleased with the response of the farmers toward our cottonseed purchase program. The producers in the county are really selling their seed to the Government. If you have not yet heard about this program perhaps you'd like to know that we are buying cottonseed at no cost to you. Commodity Credit Corporation is paying $46.50 per ton for your cottonseed. All you have to do is tell your ginners that you want to sell your seed to the Government. We have trucks at both gins in Clarendon, at the gin in Lella Lake, and at both gins in Hedley to catch your seed and haul it to the storage lots. Edwin Bailey has charge of the lot here at Clarendon, Clark Cook at Lella Lake, and Charley Barnett at Hedley. They will fill out a form; we pick them up, and all you have to do is come to the PMA office here at Clarendon and pick up your check.

STALKS AND STUBBLE:

We still aren't satisfied about our stalks and stubble program. If you have any type of combine maize that you are going to leave the stubbles, ten inches high, on the ground, come to the office and tell us. We pay 25c an acre for you to leave them on the ground and not graze them until January 1, 1950. We will be glad to issue an approval to you.

MEETING AT CHILDRESS:

Mrs. Ritter, Douglas Lowe, and L. D. Aten went to Childress this week to attend a meeting on ACP performance. The main topic of the meeting was measuring wheat acres, and carrying out performance on wheat allotments. To date we don't have any news about cotton allotments, but we will let you know as soon as we hear.

ELECTIONS:

Be thinking about who you want for your Community and County Committeemen. Election time is not far off. Every farmer and his wife in the county is eligible to vote. We want you to help us make this the best election ever.

AGRICULTURAL SHORTS:

"The continued need for soil building is shown by the fact that six billion dollars worth of lime, phosphorus, potash, and nitrogen is lost from the country's soils each year. Part of this is consumed in the production of crops, and part is lost through erosion."

"The Production and Marketing Administration Committeemen do not attempt to tell farmers what to do, but will help farmers do what they want to do."

"Unless there is hope of something better than mere existence of the farm, there is little incentive to build a stronger soil and better farm. There must be conservation of the farmer as well as the farm."

"Good days for Agriculture go hand in hand with good days for the Nation."

The Lion's Roar

By O. D. Lowry

The Lions Club held its regular meeting Tuesday, October 25 in the club hall. There were 85 Lions and three guests present for this meeting. Lions we dropped to 80 per cent at this meeting.

The Boss Lion called a meeting of all "Talk of the Town" committeemen for Wednesday night at seven.

Lion Bill Lowe was the Lucky Lion this week.

The program consisted of talks by Lions Wester and J. C. Estlack concerning the proposed amendment. Lion Buddy Knorpp gave a short talk on the work of the Quarterback Club.

There being no further business the club faced the flag, sang one verse of America and adjourned.

Local Men Study
Mesquite Control
Experiments

The Spur Experiment station, a branch of the Texas A&M College has been doing much work on the control of mesquites in the past few years. H. M. Breedlove, county agent; Carmen Rhode, local conservationist of the SCS; Quentin Williams, district conservationist for SCS; J. Gould, range specialist for SCS and Mr. Maness who is with SCS; C. E. Bairfield, member of the board of supervisors, went to the Spur station last Thursday, Oct. 20, to look over the experiments.

The work on mesquites where 2-4-5-t was used was most satisfactory. Ninety-five percent of the mesquites were killed and thirty percent of the roots. Mr. Fisher, in charge of the experiment stated that the complete cost was three dollars per acre. The grass was good in the mesquites and all weeds had been killed also from the spraying. Reliable flying companies had been used for the spraying and at a time when crops were not damaged. All spraying from planes in the future must be from persons who are licensed and under bond with the department of agriculture.

H. M. Breedlove, county agent, stated that the cost of spraying was far less than that of the mechanical control. The experiment station research shows that small mesquites will continue to come up from seed and chemicals will give best control. All spraying will have to be done when crops will not be damaged and all persons using planes must be bonded and have complete records to file with the state department on the dates chemicals were applied on whose place they were used.

Better Farming And Better Living

(Talk by The Honorable Marvin Jones, Chief Justice, United States Court of Claims, at the Farmers Home Administration Achievement Day, Program, State Fair of Texas, 2:45 P. M., CST, October 12, 1949, Dallas, Texas).

There is magic in the word home. Around it cluster the most inspiring sentiments of the human race.

Our free republic is anchored in the homes of its citizens. Individual home ownership is the greatest stabilizing influence a country can have and the one security that free men most desire.

Our country has an amazing record of accomplishment. We have had 160 years of the richest experience that was ever crowded into a similar period. Starting almost on a shoestring, and having now only six percent of the earth's population, we still use more than half of the world's telephones. We own one-third of its railroads and eighty percent of the world's registered automobiles, and yet we have only six percent of the earth's population.

We consume and use about one-half of the world's coffee, tin and rubber, twenty percent of its sugar and three-fourths of its silk.

We have innumerable gadgets and luxury items.

But behind all these mechanical things are the divine spark, the inventive genius, the thrift and energy that made them possible. Looking at the beautiful trees we may overlook the creative power that made the forest.

We are prone to forget the simple principles that have made these things possible. We sometimes hear people sneer at the Constitution and the Bill of Rights as if they were outmoded.

We grow used to the precious things of life, and they seem commonplace to use. This is frequently true in our personal contacts, and it is also true in governmental affairs. We sometimes hear the question asked: Why should the living be "cribbed, cabins and confined" by an old dingy piece of parchment, written one hundred and fifty years ago by about fifty men, all of whom are now dead, and most of whom faded into history more than one hundred years ago? Why should these men who lived in different age, under different and simple conditions, "when free government was just emerging from the chrysalis," control by their fiat this great people who not only live in a complex age, but whose interests and activities encircle the earth? Is the age of the oxcart and the wheelbarrow to control the age of the automobile, airplane and radio?

If all progress were purely mechanical or material, there could be but one answer to these questions. But all real progress is spiritual, and the mechanical and material are but the outward manifestations of basic progress. We don't outgrow the ten commandments. Two times two will always be four among honest people, even if we should reach the point of enclosing people in capsules and shooting them across the continent. Some things are fundamental. Liberty and justice are eternal verities.

What is the secret of our nation's greatness? What is the divine note that swells the chorus of the union and makes of this a mighty country respected throughout the world? Up amid the hills of New England, out upon the prairies of the West where they grow corn and wheat, and down in the South where cotton is king, are folks—just plain, honest, homespun folks who act fairly, deal justly and who serve their country in peace and in war.

These make a country and here, too, may be found the philosopher's stone of individual success. It all comes back to the character, the stamina, of the folks who make a country.

I do not decry our material accomplishments. I am proud of them. They are wonderful, but any time we boast of them alone and forget the human element we worship the golden calf just as did the Hebrew children in the days of old.

While we were making our great industrial progress doing all these wonderful things we were letting land tenancy increase by leaps and bounds, both in the city and in the country. As a result the fertility of our soil began to waste away. In our pride in our industrial know-how we almost forgot that "man shall not live by bread alone." Material and spiritual qualities must go hand in hand if we are to remain a strong country.

Man came from the soil and when he grows old and the tools of trade fall from his nerveless grasp he goes back to the soil.

It has long been recognized that farming is basis. For many years one of the leading papers in our state carried at the masthead this quotation:

"When tillage begins the other arts follow. The farmers, therefore, are the founders of human civilization."

All of our new wealth comes out of the ground, either from the crops that grow out of the soil, or from the livestock which feeds upon the grasses that the earth produces, or from the minerals that are buried underneath the soil. Our commerce and industry are built around this wealth. Industry simply changes the form and broadens the use of our natural resources and facilitates the exchange of products made therefrom.

It follows naturally that if the country is to grow and remain strong it must make the proper use of its soil and conserve its fertility. It is almost impossible to do this in a country that is operated chiefly by tenants. This is not a criticism. It is simply comment on human nature.

Practically the entire farm program that has been worked out during the last 20-year period is built around and linked to the conservation of the soil and the proper use of water which in itself is part and parcel of soil conservation. It is difficult to properly fashion a program when a majority of the people who are cultivating the soil are tenants and have only a transient interest in the conservation of the particular tract. Then, too, there has been some difficulty in the ownership and control of tracts that are excessively large. Some of these people have taken the position that the land is theirs and that they will do with it as they please. Fortunately, this number has been comparatively small, as most of the men who own large tracts of land realize their responsibility to the public.

There are two approaches to what we know as the ownership of property. One extreme is that the property is mine and I will do with it as I please, and it is no (Continued page 4, 2nd Section)

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Now They're Sitting Pretty

Squint Miller, who's working as a telephone lineman, was telling me about some birds that got into a fight with his company.

Seems a couple of woodpeckers set up housekeeping in a telephone pole. Nobody minded them living there, but they kept pecking at the wires—causing one short circuit after another.

Finally, the telephone people—who had nothing personal against the birds—just stopped up the hole where they lived. But they kept coming back. At last, the company donated that pole to the woodpeckers and set up a brand-new one for their own use!

From where I sit, we'd all be better off if we were as tolerant with our own kind as that telephone outfit was with the woodpeckers. Let's consider the other fellow's point of view—whether it's his right to live where he wants, or to enjoy a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale when and if he pleases.

OLD PATHS

By DOYLE WILLIAMS
Minister
Church of Christ

If you will remember for some time now, we have been studying the simplicity of the Gospel of Christ. So, let us study further. What is meant by the words "in Christ"? The meaning is, into the Church: into union, communion, and fellowship with Christ; into the kingdom; into possession and enjoyment of all its rights, privileges, hopes and blessings. In amount, it is the same as into remission of sins, into justification or reconciliation; for the man "in Christ" is pardoned, justified, and reconciled. He is adopted into the family of Heaven. Baptism is, then, the last step, or the consummating act, in entering the kingdom.

Take another passage: "Unless a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he can not enter the kingdom of God." John 3:5. That "born of water" is a figurative expression for baptism, is admitted by all authorities of note, and known to every man who has even a tolerable knowledge of religious literature. That Luther, Calvin, and Wesley so understood it and so commented on it, is an undeniable matter of fact. Then, what is the amount of entering into the kingdom of God? It is the same as entering into the Church of Christ, or into remission of sins or state of justification; for every one that is in the kingdom is in the Church, in Christ, pardoned, justified. Here the Lord connects it with the work of the Spirit; for "born of the Spirit" is simply made a believer; or "begotten by the word of truth," or "through the Gospel." The words of the Spirit. "Born of the Spirit" is made a believer, and "born of water" is baptism. The Lord, therefore, connects the work of the Spirit, in making a believer, and baptism together, and thus declares that, "unless a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he can not enter into the kingdom of God." So it stood then, and it ought to be now.

This is the same in substance as the commission — Mark 16:16 — "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." Here we have the literal words, "believe" and "baptize," instead of the figurative words, "born of water and of the Spirit," and connecting the same two things, belief and baptism, together in order to the same end. Find out what the faith is for, or in order to, in this sentence, and you find out what baptism is for, or in order to. The same connection that shows what one is in order to, shows what the other is in order to. They are both in order to salvation. Let us discriminate, the salvation here spoken of is not eternal salvation. It is pardon—an immediate salvation from sin. He that believeth and is baptized shall be pardoned. This is the same in substance as the other passages consulted; for saved or pardoned implies "in Christ," or "in the Church," or kingdom; for all who are saved are in Christ, in the Church, in the kingdom. ### SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Q—How can an employer stop the Social Security Administration from sending letters requesting correct names or Social Security numbers from his employees?

A—Report each employee's number and name on the quarterly tax return exactly as they appear on his card.

Q—If an employee uses a different name from that on the Social Security card, what should an employer do?

A—Request the employee to write the social security office for a card bearing the new name and the number he has always used. Until the duplicate card is received, continue to report the employee under the old name as listed on his card. When the card bearing the new name is received, the employer should change his records and report the employee under the new name and same number.

Q—If an employee has lost his card what should be done?

A—Tell the employee to obtain a form from his local postmaster and request a duplicate card immediately.

For further information write the Social Security Administration Field Office, Amarillo, Texas.

NEW MASSEY-HARRIS COMBINES HAVE MORE CYLINDER CAPACITY

MORE EFFICIENT CYLINDER AND BEATERS
KEEP STRAW AND GRAIN ON THE MOVE
... LET YOU HARVEST FASTER

★ And it's the same in both the new Massey-Harris "26" and "27"—more cylinder capacity, more ability to separate faster with more grain saved. The largest part of separation is accomplished right at the cylinder to give greater capacity to the entire machine. More cylinder capacity lets you cover more acres a day with the Massey-Harris Self-Propelled—up to 50 with the "26," 70 with the "27."

The combing action of the beaters ... the gentle, natural action of the rasp bar cylinder—are balanced in both size and operation to do a uniform job of separating your grain. You do a better job of harvesting with the "26" and "27" ... you move along at a good clip because the Massey-Harris cylinder doesn't shy away from heavy straw. But heavy or light, all of your grain goes to the tank—cleaner grain, more grain to increase your profit. Slugs don't worry the "26" and "27." The elevator feeds the straw and grain in a loose, open ribbon to the beater in front of the cylinder and the cylinder itself. It's another advantage to owning a Massey-Harris ... another reason for big capacity, faster operation, greater grain savings. Stop in soon ... get full details on the new Massey-Harris "26" and "27" Self-Propelled.

Better Farming - -
 one else's business. This is a narrow concept of ownership. If a man owns a house and burns it down he would be placed in stripes because a man has not the right to use his property in such a way as to injure his neighbor. There is no law against a man's abusing the soil, but it is just as great an injury to the public for a man to destroy the fertility of the soil as it is for him to burn down his house.

The other extreme view is there should be no ownership of the land; that it should all be held by the State and used for the common good of all. That is the socialist philosophy. Neither of these two extremes is the proper attitude toward the land. It seems to me the middle one is the proper approach; that is, a man who owns what we call title to the land has a trusteeship or an obligation to the public. The land was here long before he came upon the earth and will remain here long after he passes from the stage of action. All he can possibly have is a life interest with the privilege of stating to whom it shall go when he can no longer enjoy its blessings.

Prayer pulls the rope below, and the great bell rings above in the ears of God. Some scarcely stir the bell for they pray so languidly; others give but an occasional pluck at the rope. One of the nicest places to visit in the country round-about, is in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Goodin; especially to eat. I know that I have bragged on a lot of cooking in my time, and I was honest about it all, and I know that I am inclined to favor the last place that I had the privilege of eating. Considering all these angles, I still say there is something distinctive about Mrs. Goodin's cooking, especially her home made ice cream. It tastes like it had all the butterfat from a good sized cow wrapped up in every dish; it tastes like more and more, and after I did eat that last dish, and everyone was so worried about me, I slept like a baby. Anyway, thanks Leta and Lee for thinking of us on these special occasions. Actually she does cook her ice cream, I understand. Thanks for the privilege of visiting you and your swell family.

I knew a person one time that didn't get along with his wife; his wife's folks didn't get along with his folks and the other way around. He didn't get along with his neighbors, and except for making money never did accomplish any position in his community. When he died, his folks sat on one side of the building, at the funeral, and glared and her folks on the other side, and the other way around. No friends came to bid his spirit the last adieu. Most of his money had been made at the expense of others; in thinking about how little it meant to him in his present journey, it seemed such a mocking thing.
