Calvary Baptist Church

Crowds have been good the past two Sundays at Calvary Church; averaged about fifty per Sunday. Had three additions this past Sunday, and a very fine spirit of fellowship and cooperation prevails. The Brotherhood of our Church is meeting nightly at the Church to build pews and are making good progress. I have never seen a finer group of men, nor a more zealous group in carrying on the Lord's work. Some of our men have only been Christians for a short time and they are growing very fast in the Lord's program.

The pastor spent two very pleasant days last week at the Pastor's and Layman's conference at Wayland College in Plainview. We enjoyed the fine fellowship of Pastors and laymen that we formerly worked with in District 8 and 9 and also with some of my former teachers at the College.

We have been bringing messages the past few Sundays on some of the Fundamentals of our Faith. This Sunday the subject will be "Christ Accused For Us." We invite you to come and worship with us; you will enjoy the warm christian spirit that prevails in our service, Psalm, 133:1.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

Sunday's Amarillo paper carried a lengthy review of "Divine Average", a novel by Elite Hamilton Kirkland. The review was written under the "Bookworm Steps Out" by Chaplain Morris V. Lively. We have this book on our shelves, if you are interested in reading it.

The most recent Sue Barton nurse book is "Sue Barton Staff Nurse". There is a series of these editions—seven books. They are all in the Jr. Girls' section.

For the fourth grade we have "Little Fox" by Morgan Denis & Travees Frost. The book is clever and very interesting. There are two copies for the Third grade—"Tim Tomkins Circus Boy", and "Speckles Goes To School." The books are very attractive, but children's books are as expensive as grown ups except the Golden books and Wonder book editions. These last are 68c in the good binding. The ordinary twenty-five cent copies are not very practicable for use here.

Please don't forget your fine money when your books are over due, and have not been renewed. This fine is 1c per day for each book, and every penny can be readily utilized.

Mrs. C. B. Owens and Mrs. Don Owens visited Friday with Mrs. Hill at Lelia Lake and Mrs. J. S. Beach and other friends at Hedley.

The president, Mrs. Homer Parsons, presided. Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr. reviewed "The President's Lady," by Irving Stone in an impressive and efficient manner. This is a biographical novel of the life and activities of Andrew Jackson and his wife, Rachel. Though it is a novel, it is also authentic history and reveals the life of an innocent woman who became an issue in one of the bitterest Presidential campaigns in American history.

The following members were present: Mrs. Gordon Bain, Mrs. E. S. Ballew, Mrs. C. E. Bairfield, Mrs. C. W. Bennett, Mrs. Homer Bones, Mrs. L. N. SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OFFICERS MEET FOR COVERED DISH SUPPER AND DISCUSSION PERIOD

Fifty-three of the Sunday School teachers and officers of the First Baptist Church met last Wednesday evening at 6:30 for a covered dish supper and discussion period. The challenge of the pastor to make this a monthly affair, was accepted and already plans are in progress for just such a meeting on the last Wednesday evening of each month.

The Sunday School Supt. Bill Lowe, expressed his appreciation to the teachers and officers for their spirit of cooperation and urged upon them to begin now to make preparations for a great expansion program in the Sunday School during the remainder of this year and during 1954.

Bro. Jake Arthur urged all the teachers, and others who would like to teach, to begin a course of study aimed toward the securing of workers diplomas, advanced diplomas and the master diploma.

He also challenged the teachers and officers to lead out in the program of building the Sunday School by helping to increase the net enrollment by at least 10% this year and 20% in 1954.

The slogan for Southern Baptist this coming year will be "A Million More in '54", and they are calling for an "all out campaign by all the Cooperating Baptist Churches to make this slogan come true. To help prepare the people for the task they are striving for a net increase of 10% this year to condition the workers for the big effort of 20% next year.

REX RAY CIRCLE

The Rex Ray Circle of the Baptist Church met Wednesday afternoon, January 28, in the home of Mrs. Joe Goldston.

Following the opening by prayer, Mrs. Kirk Doshier read the secretary-treasurer's report. Mrs. R. A. Hay gave a short devotional, and Mrs. Joe Goldston taught the lesson from the new Mission study book.

After the closing prayer, refreshments were served by the hostess to eight members. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. C. Lewis, February 11.

LILLIE HUNDLEY CIRCLE

The Lillie Hundley Circle of the Baptist Church met in the home of Millie Hillman January 28th. Our meeting began with a song and a prayer.

Letters of thanks from Rev. and Mrs. Lee Aull for the Christmas package were read. The Aulls are missionaries on a barren Navajo Reservation in Mexico. They can use anything from medical supplies to toilet soap as such as these are often the door way to the Navajo hearts. There is much to be done by everyone.

Other work that we have accomplished this month was taking clothing to a needy colored family, remembering our shut-ins, contribution of $2 per month toward the Young People's organization of our W.M.U., also distributing Baptist literature in the depot. Our Circle has also paid $5 toward our new kitchen linoleum. We feel that we are climbing and are striving to do more.

We regret very much to lose one of our good members who was also our secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Pearl Brunan. The Brunans have moved to Childress.

Billy Jean Moore began a new series of Teachings on Pilgrimages to Spanish America. With the work she has contributed toward a large scrap book she is using to bring out points in her teachings, we feel that it is one of the most interesting studies we have had.

We cordially invite visitors or prospective new members to our circle meetings. Due to the fact that we have some members who work with G. A. organizations on Wednesday also, we agreed to meet at 2:30 where they can attend circle before going to G. A.

Members present Wednesday were Minnie Bell Hicks, Opal Spurgeon, Rowena Allen, Billie Jean Moore, Frances McCord, Bea Johnson, Evelyn Preacher, Opal Messer, one visitor, Margaret Lemons, and the hostess, Millie Hillman.

Our next circle meeting will be at Ann Hommel's on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 11, at 2:30. —Reporter.

Mrs. Irene Smith has been on the sick list since Friday night.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Maybe you don't realize it, but as a taxpayer you have 40,000 employees.

These people are state workers. And it looks like you are going to increase their salaries. All depends on the legislature.

A bill to hike the pay of state workers has been introduced by the Austin delegation: Representatives Obie Jones, Pearce Johnson and C. L. Sandaj Jr. and Senator Johnnie B. Rogers.

If it passes, the measure will give "temporary emergency" wage boosts of 15 per cent on all state salaries up to $3,600 per year and 15 per cent on the first $3,600 of higher salaries.

Robert B. Baldwin, Shivers' budget director, proposed a job by job, cost-of-living increase, on an equalized basis.

In his opening message to the legislature, Governor Shivers asked that an increase in workers' pay be included in the budget bill, but that can not become effective until September 1st when the fiscal year begins. Hence the emergency legislation.

It is Edward Clark, Austin attorney, who bosses the legislature, says Leslie Velie, writing in the February Reader's Digest. Velie charges that some of the state's most important laws are written in Clark's office and in his capacity as lobbyist for Herman Brown of the firm of Brown & Root.

Velie says Clark has and uses the power to tell potential political candidates "not to bother" to run, and that he can tell the lawmakers "what they should bother with."

In reply to all this, Clark snapped that Velie's story was a "false, foul, and infamous smear."

He added that he was "shocked and surprised" that the Digest would print a story so "very definitely off-color and completely untrue."

The source for the story, Clark believes, is a "well known local radio propagandist who has been working very closely with the radical wing of the labor movement."

Another to take the issue with Velie was Reuben Senterfitt, speaker of the house, who said he considered the Texas legislature "the most independent body of people I know."

A number of bills going into the hopper for legislative consideration are familiar—they had been introduced at previous sessions.

One of these is the so-called fair-trade bill. This time its author is Representative Lamar Zively of Temple. The measure would prohibit advertising or selling of goods below cost.

Proponents of this bill argue that it would prevent a big merchant's running a little one out of business by ruinous sales. Opponents contend that the public benefits when such sales permit purchases at bargain prices. This is one bill that will affect the women, who do about 80 percent of the buying nowadays.

Also familiar was a bill to legalize race track betting in Texas. The author of this one, Representative Ed Sheridan of San Antonio, declared it would raise many millions of dollars in tax revenue.

More money will be needed for a variety of items, some of which were listed above. Also, funds will be required to give increased pay to members of the legislature themselves, if a bill introduced by Representative Charles Murphy of Houston is successful.

Murphy's bill would give the lawmakers $25 per day during the first 120 days of the legislative session and $5 per day thereafter. The solons now receive $10 per day for the first 120 days and $5 per day thereafter.

No sooner is one set of state officials inaugurated than the political forecasters in Austin begin speculating about who is going to run in the next election.

Last week some of the experts thought they saw in Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey's speech indications that he will be a candidate for governor next time.

There has also been speculation that Attorney General John Ben Shepperd might seek the chief executive's place. Another mentioned as a likely candidate is Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

Those three, or any two of them, would make it a brisk race. Ramsey, by the way, set a record when he received 2,001,709 votes for the office he now holds. That's more votes than any Texas candidate received before—for any office.

There is a surplus in the Confederate pension fund of $4 million, and the amount is growing every year. There are now only two Confederate veterans left in Texas: Thomas Riddle, 106, who lives on a farm near Franklin. The state also contributes to the support of 535 widows of Confederate veterans.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

Someone has said: "Some folks will wrangle for religion; write for it; fight for it; die for it. Do anything but live for it."

Sometimes it is easier to go ahead and do a job than to explain why we can't do it.

You can tell a lot about what kind of a fellow your friends think you are by the kind of jokes they tell you. First thing when they see you coming this thought enters their mind: "Now, there comes Old Joe, he's just the kind of an old so and so who would enjoy a joke like the one I heard last night." Anyway, since I heard the above explanation sometimes I find it a little bit harder to laugh when someone tells one that is just a bit low.

Nowadays you can very near tell a fellow who is driving an automobile that is paid for. He is broke.

One of my neighbors was talking to his old cow: "Now ain't you gonna be a pirty looking thing this fall. Jus to think that you, a $300.00 Democrat cow are going to be running around with a $20.00 Republican calf." I wonder though if he hasn't either forgotten when the cow market broke or just plain lost his hopes for the future. Somehow, I believe the sun will still come up in the east, and that the Good Lord and Mama too are going to keep on being better to me than I rightly deserve.

Anyhow, I feel a lot like Little Bobby as he was winding up his prayer! "And, please, God, take good care of Yourself, because if anything happens to You, we're sunk."

The more we think we know sometimes, the better we express our ignorance.

For every ill beneath the sun, There is a remedy or none. If there is one, resolve to find it. If there is none, just never mind it.

It's not that we get worse as we grow older; just that we get more like ourselves.

You know, neighbors are pretty nice, even when we just speak to them across the street as we go each to our own work. But when we are sick, like for instance my recent case of the mumps, and some friend drops by for a friendly chat, we just sort of feel that this is something beyond anything that we can think of. If God made us a little lower than the angels so that He could have fellowship with us. No wonder we enjoy one another.

and SOCIAL SECURITY

Three million or more self-employed people will have new insurance protection when they file their income tax return for 1952 and include their self-employment report. For those who have been continuously in business since 1950, this report will put on record two full years of coverage under social security and will make each of them full insured, at least until July 1953. As they continue in business and continue to report these earnings once every year, their fully insured status will be maintained.

By fully insured we mean that these persons or their survivors have a measure of protection against loss of earned income due to old-age and death—that benefits can be paid in the event of their retirement after age 65, or to their survivors in case of death at any age. In most cases, these benefits are substantial and are an important source of income. Care should be taken by all self-employed persons to report their earnings properly.

Last year many reports were received without a social security account number anywhere on the return. We are still contacting people to obtain their social security account number, for without it we cannot give credit on a wage record. We must have the social security number before the wages can be posted.

The self-employed who are required to report for 1952 should have their account number ready for income tax time. If the social security card has been lost or destroyed, a duplicate card should be obtained from the social security field office now. All self-employed persons who make a net profit of $400 or more in an occupation covered by the law, must file a return and a profit statement (called Schedule C). This must be done even if their income is not high enough to require income tax payment.

A representative from the Amarillo Social Security Office will be in Clarendon, Tuesday, February 10, at 9:00 A. M. in the Department Welfare Office.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

THE 83rd CONGRESS IS BEGINNING TO MOVE:

You will recall that in an earlier letter I told you about the stalemate in Congress between the convening of the Congress on January 3rd and the inauguration of the new President on January 20th. The inauguration is now over and the Congress is completing its organizational problems. Most of the committees have met and organized for the tremendous amount of work that will be necessary in the coming two years.

The committee to which I have been assigned, Interior and Insular Affairs, had its first meeting on January 22nd, and proceeded in due order to promptly organize. This committee is actually a combination of six committees which were placed under one head and named the Public Lands Committee. Subsequently the name was changed to the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee to conform with the name of the same committee in the Senate. The six committees combined in this one committee are Irrigation and Reclamation, Insular Affairs, Mines and Mining, Territories, Public Lands, and Indian Affairs. The Committee deals with the internal resources of the United States and its territories and insular possessions. It is organized in five sub-committees, Public Lands, Territories and Insular Possessions, Irrigation and Reclamation, Mines and Mining, and Indian Affairs. It is the committee from which the Department of Interior obtains its legislative authority. The Department of Interior employs approximately 60,000 people and is responsible for expenditures in the neighborhood of 600 million dollars a year. It has under its jurisdiction the public lands of the United States, which consist of approximately 820 million acres. This does not include the vast reaches of Alaska and the other territories. In Alaska alone the Government owns above ninety per cent of the territory. The management of these public lands creates many and varied problems. The leasing of oil and minerals on public lands brings into the U. S. Treasury approximately 200 million dollars per year. There are 179 national parks and monuments visited annually by more than 40 million people. These include the Statue of Liberty, the Petrified Forest, a volcano in Hawaii, the Gettysburg Battlefield, and other points of interest. The public lands owned by the Government consist of everything from bald mountain peaks to fertile valley land. Much land was acquired by the Government in recent years as submarginal land. The price paid for this land was low because the land was just not worth anything. Some government departments began to employ methods to restore the fertility of this land so that its production would not be lost. A vast amount of it has been restored and is now producing. At the time the Government acquired these lands it also acquired most of the mineral estate thereunder. Since it has come into the Governments hands, a great deal of it has been proven as oil producing properties. In view of these discoveries there has been much agitation in the past few years for a return of these lands to the persons from whom they were originally purchased or to private ownership regardless of prior interests. This will be a difficult problem to be settled in this and perhaps the next Congress. Many people are concerned about the vast land holdings of the Federal Government and want to see something done to restore some of these lands to private ownership and put them back on the tax rolls. Of course there is much land owned by the Government that is wholly unfit for use by individuals and that would have little or no value for tax purposes, such as arid and semi-arid areas, mountainous terrain and swamp lands, among others. Much research has been done on the arid and semi-arid areas, and these lands will no doubt turn up as big producers in the not too distant future. In this connection it is well to note that irrigation projects can well be the salvation of this country insofar as agricultural production is concerned. Also the proper use of surface water could help solve this problem. A recent survey indicates that there are about 319 million acre-feet of stream run-off annually and only about one-fifth of the run-off, or 78 million acre-feet, has been utilized.

THE 1950 CENSUS shows the population of the 18th Congressional District as 289,449. Of this number 146,636 are males and 142,813 are females. There are 86,545 households, 14,691 farms, and a labor force of 114,532. 79.1 per cent of the farms have electricity and 11,929 of them have tractors. The value of the land and buildings is fixed at $753,945,000. The farms produced and sold products in the amount of $242,112,000. This looks like a pretty good report for the Panhandle and a forerunner of greater things to come.

Gov. Shivers Says School Teachers Need More Pay

FINDING THE MONEY IS THE BIG PROBLEM (NOTE: The Governor of Texas says our school teachers must have a cost-of-living increase in pay. The problem is finding the money. His plan, as presented to the Legislature recently, will be outlined in a series of articles of which this is the second.)

By ALLAN SHIVERS Governor of Texas Our schools can't be run properly without good teachers. Most of our teachers are devoted to their careers, but they have to make a living. Young people are not interested in preparing for jobs that don't pay well. So we have not only to pay today's teachers adequately but to attract tomorrow's. Like everything else in Texas, our school population grows year by year. The question, then, is not whether we must raise teachers' pay—but how, and how much. As explained in the first article of this series, I believe it is possible to give the teachers a cost-of-living increase without raising State taxes. The first step would be the redistribution of State funds now on hand, to get more of our State dollars to the schools that need them most. Here, again, we start with our

"two-pocket" method of financing public schools. From the available school fund, one pocket of the State school finance setup, money goes out to school districts whether or not they actually need it. It is paid on a straight per capita basis—that is, so much for each youngster of school age living within the district.

The minimum foundation, or Gilmer-Aikin, fund supplies money to school districts purely on a basis of need. From this pocket come the dollars to insure that every school gets all the money it requires to operate up to standards set by the State Board of Education.

This is the way our two-pocket system now operates: School district A, a prosperous and well-populated community, gets $400,000 from the available school fund in per capita payments. By Gilmer-Aikin standards, the State Board of Education figures this district's actual need of State funds at $350,000. Thus, it receives no money from the minimum foundation pocket. But it already has obtained $50,000 more in State assistance than it requires.

district B, in a less prosperous neck of the woods. In per capita payments it receives $325,000. But the Gilmer-Aikin yardstick shows that, just like district A, this district also needs $350,000 to meet the standards. So it is granted another $25,000 from the minimum foundation pocket, bringing its total to $350,000. But poor B's rich neighbor A has received $50,000 in State money that it doesn't actually need to meet the State's minimum standards.

I realize that district A probably can put that extra $50,000 to good use. But the problem must be considered from the standpoint of State assistance which, under the Gilmer-Aikin program, is granted for the purpose of assuring every school child a minimum standard of education.

Beside; the taxes the Constitution definitely sets aside for public schools, the available school fund receives about $15 million a year from tax sources the Constitution does not require to be so allocated.

This $15 million could be transferred from the available school fund to the minimum foundation fund. The redistribution would (1) reduce per capita payments from $68 to about $58, (2) ease the drain on the general revenue fund, (3) provide more Gilmer-Aikin money for needy schools, and (4) help make a cost-of-living raise possible for the teachers without increasing taxes.

My other suggestion is that the school districts of Texas return to the original Gilmer-Aikin plan of contributing to the minimum foundation fund on the basis of growing local tax values, rather than on the present flat ceiling basis of local contributions.

In my opinion the Gilmer-Aikin program is the most progressive achievement ever made in Texas public school education. It provides workable means by which every child in the State can be assured of an adequate education.

I believe that these adjustments, which can be made, will contribute to the spirit and effectiveness of this over-all educational program and help us continue to build a greater Texas.

(Next week Governor Shivers will give more details about the proportional contributions he believes should be made by local school districts toward the Gilmer-Aikin program.)

CHIC-O-LINE LAYING MASH

Hens that are bred to lay 200 eggs or more per year cannot live up to their good breeding if some essential substance is missing from their ration. They are likely to break down under this high production unless their ration is reinforced and enriched to offset the demands made upon them. So to play safe and keep your hens laying and paying you big profits, feed them our laying mash which is "power packed" with extra vitamins and trace minerals for "stepped-up" egg production.

natural gas pipelines. Briscoe estimates that it would raise $60 million a year, which would be allocated 40% for primary highways; 25% each to the available school fund and to cities for street construction; and 10% to the soil Conservation Board for use by counties and soil districts for building small check-dams. The authors based the bill on a Louisiana horsepower tax which was attacked in court as being a burden on interstate commerce, but which was sustained by the U. S. Supreme Court in Coverdale v. Arkansas-Louisiana Pipeline Co., 303 U. S. 604, 58 Supreme Court 736. Rep. John A. Warden, McKinney, a co-signer of the bill, thinks that gas pipeline tax sentiment is stronger this session than it was two years ago. However, a House rules change, requiring six days' notice of intent to refer a bill, will handcuff the technique used in 1951 to keep the gas tax alive and pass it. Revenue & Taxation looks pretty unfriendly to the horsepower tax. A lot of editorial comments seem favorable to this bill.

Texas stands a good chance of getting a State office Building, saving a $440,554 a year rent bill. A preliminary skirmish here on the floor of the House, to stop the Board of Control from leasing a state-owned lot for $151 per month for parking cars, was won by a whopping 108-1 vote by supporters of the state office building plan who contend that quite a building could be built for $440,000 per year, and have it paid for in 10 years. Stiff opposition comes from property owners here in Austin, who want to stay on the "gravy train."

Bills dropped into the hopper which will create a lot of static:

Requiring paid lobbyists to register and make monthly reports.

To end cross-filing of Texas Political candidates.

Prohibiting unemployment compensation to persons idled by a strike of others in the same bargaining unit.

Liberalizing the judges retirement system.

Legalizing betting on horse races. (Counties have options.)

Boosting the present ceiling on welfare spending from 35 million to 42 million dollars.

Removing the death penalty in the state.

Redistricting Congressional Districts and also Judicial Districts.

Early-developing signs point to conservative control of the new session of the Legislature. When the House tightened up a rule which would make it hard to move tax bills from unfriendly committees, the Conservatives won this preliminary test of House sentiment by an 82-50 vote.

Lawyers predominate the 53rd Texas Legislature. Those of us who are not lawyers have to really watch our step—you can easily get caught with your Laws Down.

A bill, No. 212, will be introduced to change to 30 days the contents of the bill described as follows:

Four years ago, Clyde White-side of Seymour introduced a bill in the House, Senator Moffett introduced a companion bill in the Senate, providing that out-of-state trucks that come to Texas for the purpose of hauling wheat during the harvest season could buy a 60 day registration permit. Previous to the passage of this bill, they were required to register for approximately nine months. This bill expires June 1 of this year.

The Texas Poll's latest survey as well as the one two years ago, covered a representative cross section of men and women in all parts of the state. Each survey was conducted by a staff of between sixty and seventy interviewers working in large cities, small towns, and rural areas. The attitude of the people now, as compared with two years ago, is shown in their collective answers to the following questions:

1. "If you were a member of the Texas Legislature, would you vote to spend more money than is being spent, or less, for public schools?"

Enrollment "Bulge" To Hit Colleges About 1960

AUSTIN — A tidal wave of school-age boys and girls resulting from the booming birthrate of World War II and since is sweeping through Texas' public schools. Administrators of Texas' state supported colleges and universities are studying with growing concern the problems they will have to face when the full force of this wave strikes their institutions.

Having just recovered from the effects of the veteran enrollment boom which followed the war, the colleges are aware of the problems sudden boosts in enrollment will cause.

A study recently completed by the Council of College Presidents of State-Supported Colleges and Universities indicates that the enrollment "bulge" now sweeping through Texas public schools has entered the junior high schools and will strike the colleges full force about 1960. By 1962, the number of white boys and girls graduating from Texas high schools should reach 56,229 as compared with the 39,091 who graduated in 1952. These estimates are based on a projection of the Texas scholastic population by the Research Division of the Texas State Teachers Association, using the Texas birthrate records and present scholastic population as a base.

If the same percentage of our Texas high school graduates continue into college in 1962 as have in recent years, there will be 35,000 boys and girls knocking on the doors of the state's colleges in September 1962. Compared with the 27,132 who enrolled this year as freshmen, this is an increase of approximately 30 percent. Since the increase in beginning students will build up gradually to this peak, the total enrollment by 1962 will have increased by an even greater percentage. This estimate of increasing enrollments takes no consideration of two other important factors that may make the enrollment boom even more spectacular.

On the basis of the low number of high school graduates in 1952, the number of entering freshmen in Texas colleges should have dropped. Instead, it increased, indicating that a much higher percentage of the total high school graduating group continued to college. This is a national trend which has been marked in recent years and is expected to continue.

In addition, the 1952 increase in enrollments came at a time when the veteran load from World War II had been practically exhausted and the influx of Korean veterans had barely started. Indications are the Korean veterans alone will swell the college enrollments in Texas by some 18,000 within the next two years.

FIVE CENTS

The biggest in town!

Five cents worth of electric service... it's the biggest nickel in town... and it buys lots of service... comfort and entertainment. For example, here's what 5¢ worth of electric service can do for your family:

- A penny's worth makes toast for all your family for three meals...
- Another penny swishes clean three tubs of laundry
- A cent's worth of electric service vacuums six large rugs...
- Then there is enough left out of the nickel to furnish refrigeration for the family's food for hours

AND

- Bring you and your family an evening's radio or recorded entertainment!

Where else could the average family get so much value for one small nickel... a nickel that's now worth only 52% of its 1939 value, but a nickel that buys 17% more electric service than it did 14 years ago?

Let your local electrical appliance dealer show you how easy it is to put electric servants to work for you.
