Water To Be Shut Off Friday

According to Mayor H. T. Burton, Clarendon's water supply will be shut off from 3 to 5 p.m. Friday afternoon, April 1 in order that repairs may be made to a fire hydrant at sixth and Kerney Streets.

It is possible that some sections of town may not be affected but everyone should be prepared for the shut-off with ample water drawn up to care for personal needs during the time the water is scheduled to be off.

Members of the Clarendon School Board as they appeared before a Citizens group in the District Court room last Thursday night. President Walter B. Knorpp was in the act of answering some of the questions that were presented.

Red Cross Drive Quota Is Nearing

The Donley County Red Cross Chapter will be fully able to finance its community and national services in 1960-61, thanks to the public response to its annual fund campaign which should be completed here by the end of the week, Mrs. H. M. Breedlove, chapter chairman, said today.

We have not reached our quota yet, but feel certain when all the reports are in we should be close to our goal. If anyone has not been contacted, please send your donation to the Donley County Red Cross Chapter or leave it at one of the local banks.

More people than it is possible to name are responsible for the campaign's success Mrs. Breedlove declared. The credit is due in large measure to the generosity of the citizens who contributed, she said, we are grateful for their response, and their other fellow-citizens, who will have need for Red Cross services in the next year, have even more reason to be grateful.

The other persons most responsible for the success of the campaign, Mrs. Breedlove said were the volunteers who did the work — who spent days of planning before the campaign began, then days of hard work, walking the streets from house to house or store to store, persuading people to contribute or at desks at campaign headquarters.

Pointing out that Red Cross affects the lives of more Americans than any other non-governmental agency, E. Roland Harriman, national Red Cross chairman, said the Red Cross last year:

Gave disaster relief to more than 17,000 stricken families in 37 states;

Provided 2,000,000 pints of life-saving blood to patients in 3900 hospitals;

Gave help to 79,500 men and women in military service each month and to 130,000 of their families;

Served over 128,000 veterans in VA hospitals each month;

Provided good citizenship-building activities for over 20,000,000 grade and high school students who were members of the Junior Red Cross.

These are just a few of the good things that happened when you gave last year, Mr. Harriman said. The Red Cross is continually expanding and growing to meet the increasing responsibilities placed upon the organization.

Mrs. Robert Bain, Bliss and Scott of Lubbock visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schollenbarger who returned her home Sunday.

Local Exhibit Wins First At Amarillo Science Fair

Clarendon Jr. High School, under the leadership of Johnny Leathers, science teacher, entered 5 exhibits in the Panhandle Science Fair in Amarillo last week. About 365 exhibits from 90 schools were entered in this year's competition.

"The Smoke and Dust Precipitator" entered under the Junior girls physical division by Sharon Henson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Henson and Lynn Bourland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bourland, won first place. The exhibit showed how the use of electrical charges can be used to do away with smoke, dust and fog. The first place trophy, a golden goddess holding a flaming torch on a golden loving cup was awarded to these girls.

In the entire show there were 36 honorable mention places awarded, of which Clarendon Jr. High received 3 as follows: "The Effects of Smoking on Goldfish," Robert Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moss; "Carbon Dioxide and Oxygen Cycle," Bobby Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stina Cain; "The Development of a Chicken Embryo," Judy Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greene, Jr., and Leane Risley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Risley.

These exhibits were shown at the Science Fair here prior to the Amarillo show. The local Science fair was started 3 years ago and each year the projects have been better in quality and quantity and we are looking forward to even better projects next year, stated Mr. Leathers.

MARCH HAS GOOD MOISTURE TOTAL

A slow, soaking rain that moved into the area last Thursday netted a total of .89 inch of moisture which brought our March total to 1.28 so far. This is almost an inch more than was received in 1959 when the grand total for March was .31 inch. The added moisture slowed farming activities but in general, was appreciated, especially by wheat farmers.

E. L. BRANDON DIES IN CALIFORNIA

J. R. Brandon received word Monday of the death of his brother, Elma Lee Brandon, 48, at Santa Maria, California, Sunday night.

Mr. Brandon and another brother, W. D. Brandon of Plainview, left by plane Monday night for California to make arrangements for services which will be held the latter part of this week at Plainview, Texas.

Elma Lee Brandon was a resident of Donley County from 1913 until 1921 and in recent years was employed at the Ashtola Gin through several ginning seasons.

In addition to the two brothers, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brandon of Plainview.

DADS OF CUB SCOUTS TO SEE FILM MON. NIGHT

All dads of Cub Scouts, Pack 37, are urged to attend a meeting Monday night at the First Christian Church at 7:30 p.m. at which time a Texas Game and Fish Commission film will be shown. Title of the 30 minute film is "Outlaw."

City Commissioners To Be Chosen Tuesday

A second election in four days concerning local voters will take place Tuesday, April 5th at the City Hall. At this time, qualified city voters will select two men to help guide the affairs of our little city for the next two years. Voting hours will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Candidates for the two commissioner jobs are Oscar H. Thomas and W. M. Pickering, seeking re-election and V. P. (Pete) Darnell and Loyd McCord as new candidates.

From all indications, a large turnout of voters is expected for this election also. More people have paid their poll tax than in previous years and more interest is being taken in politics than usual.

Be sure your vote is one of those that will be counted in the City Election Tuesday. Your vote may be the deciding vote cast or if you fail to go vote, it might have helped elect the candidate of your choice.

Local Boy Attains Highest Honors

The determination of the Clarendon Junior College graduating honor students has been completed, according to Dean Abel and the top five students scholastically are listed as follows: Valedictorian for the 1960 graduation is a local boy, Clifford Beard, who graduated from Clarendon High School after transferring from Wellington during his sophomore year. Clifford earned this distinction by maintaining the highest grade average for seven consecutive 9 week grade reporting periods.

H. D. Yarbrough, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yarbrough of Claude was designated as Salutatorian of the graduating class by virtue of having the second highest average of grades and having been on the Dean's honor roll every reporting period during his attendance in Clarendon Junior College. H. D. has also been a member of the Bulldog Basketball Team the last two years, refuting the idea that an athlete is not also a scholar.

In third place only .03 per cent behind H. D. was Nancy Young who hails from Winters High School of Ovalo, Texas. Fourth place honors go to Ronald Cummings of Quail High School and in fifth place, James C. (Jimmy) Graham of Clarendon High School.

WILL EHRLI TO HEAD COMMITTEE

AUSTIN (Spl.) — State Representative Will Ehrl, Childress County, has been named head of the Legislative Council's Interim Committee to study Texas' special funds situation. The Council is a legislative research group composed of five senators and ten members of the House of Representatives.

The study group which Chairman Ehrl heads will investigate the large amount of money which Texas has scattered in various special funds to see if possible changes or consolidations might save tax money. Ehrl was directed to report the findings back to the Council for recommendations to the next Legislature.

Upon notification of his selection as Chairman, Ehrl said, "I am very pleased at this opportunity to be of service. It is certainly nice for our District to have this honor. I am hopeful that we can make some recommendations that will save the overburdened taxpayers of Texas some money."

"But in each country, there are more than 11,000 small and large newspapers, each with considerable influence in its own community... Although we are sure that newspapers in the United States have considerably more freedom to say what they choose to say, it is also remarkably interesting to note that the pattern in Russia is more newspapers and broader circulation. This could be a healthy trend."

BAND BANQUET HELD FRIDAY EVENING

The banquet honoring band students and their guests sponsored annually by the band parents was held Friday evening, March 25, in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church.

The scene was that of "Edgett's Corral." The hall was beautifully decorated with a canopy of stars in a blue, blue sky. Bordering the corral was a white plank fence and to the background could be seen the outline of the red brick ranch house topped with a green roof.

As guests arrived tuneful western music could be heard as provided by Ray David, Steve Mills, and Truett Behrens.

Miniature covered wagons with floral arrangements of Jonquils decorated the white covered tables which were lighted by an improvised moon. The western motif was carried out in napkins, plates, place cards, and programs. The menu consisted of Little Doggies, Tumbleweeds, Cowpuncher Beans, Cactus, Flapjacks and Saddle, Soap, Rangers Delight, and Spurs.

Mrs. George Thompson, president of Band Parents, welcomed the guests and Connie McMurtry gave the response. Andra Pinkerton was Mistress of Ceremonies. Rev. Paul Hancock pronounced the Invocation.

On behalf of the Band Parents Mrs. Bob Moss presented Mr. Edgett with a diaper pail and a gift certificate for $25.

The young people adjourned to the Canteen for a party and dance. Wagon wheels wired to light the room indirectly were decorated with pink roses and greenery as were the mantle and miniature white fence in the background. Confetti and streamers added a festive atmosphere to the entertainment.

Everyone enjoyed the affair and comments were many that the decorations were the loveliest and the banquet the best ever. Over 100 were in attendance.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pinkerton, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Stina Cain, Mrs. W. H. Edgett of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moss, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Estlack, and Rev. Paul Hancock.

Citizens Group

commendation, and are grateful for this service and hope nothing said by us tonight will cause the board to feel discouraged. "We have been for the school, the school board, and the administrative officials of the schools, and we want to continue to feel that we can and will support the administrative board of our school, but a number of things have come to our attention that we would like to bring before you. You can answer or not depending upon your pleasure, but the questions are on the mind of many of our citizens, in view of the fact that the top administrative officials of our school have submitted their resignations."

Next, Mr. Morris asked the group to present their questions which are listed below:

1. We understand that the board is composed of seven members and that it should be a body that works and cooperates as a group. Is the report true that it is minority dominated?
2. Does the School Board set up the policies for the operation of the School and leave it to the administrative officials to carry out such policies or do they retain this right for themselves?
3. Does our school stand behind its administrative officials on decisions that have to be made between board meetings, or are they often reversed for personal reasons, or in such a way as to show lack of confidence in the administrative officials?
4. Are personal matters magnified or are they looked upon from the viewpoint of the school and community as a whole?
5. Does a teacher have an opportunity to appear before the board and answer his critics?
6. Does the School Board know that it is the unanimous opinion of the teachers in the school system that we have the best qualified, most cooperative and most congenial staff of teachers, and that we have the best behavior in school, the highest standard of work and the school in general is the best we have had in years, and that they are unanimous in their support of the administrative officials of our school system?

7. Since we know and you know that trouble in our school hurts our children, our town, the value of property in our town and the general future of our community we ask you as a group, that you check your procedures and policies to give support to your school officials, so we may continue to move forward as much in the future as we have in the past few years.

Walter B. Knorpp, president of the board and speaking for the trustees, answered the questions as they were presented. No. 1. He said the board was not minority dominated as it takes a majority to rule in any instance. No. 2. He said that the board through members and committees had assumed more responsibility than they should. It was pointed out that a code of policies should be set up and carried out by school officials. 4. The majority of the board rules regardless of personal matters. 5. Teachers have opportunity to appear before the board any time but it was the contention of the board that teachers should present their problem to school heads who in turn would bring it before the board. No. 6 was more of a statement than a question but a side question was asked the board "Would the board back up the teachers they hired?" Each member of the board answered individually that they would. Board member Homer Estlack in turn asked the citizens group if they would back up the board on the teachers they hired but only about 75 percent of the citizens group held up their hand that they would. No. 7. All Board members answered this question in previous statements above.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Knorpp asked the group for their support in helping present and carry a bond issue that would be forthcoming in the near future regarding a building program for the local system. The meeting was orderly in every respect.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

Conservation Reserve Farms

Your CR farms will be visited 3 or 4 times during the year to see that you are carrying out the terms of your CR contract. You will be checked to see that the land is not being grazed, or harvested; that noxious weeds (cocklebur, Russian thistles, sunflowers) are being controlled, and that an eligible, adequate cover has been established.

All CR producers are again reminded that a cover MUST be established and maintained on this land. This year appears to be a good year to establish permanent grass. Make your plans before it is too late to seed or reseed your CR land.

Wheat Performance

Field work on wheat measurements is completed in this county, except for those who have not told us about the 15.0 acres of planted wheat without an allotment. We would appreciate your notifying this office immediately if you have some planted wheat without an allotment and it has not been measured. You have been notified by a notice giving the date excess wheat should be destroyed along with new instructions as to how excess wheat must be destroyed. If these instructions are not clear, please contact this office and let an employee explain it to you. The way you destroy excess wheat is very essential for 1960 plow up.

Remember This Date

April 1, 1960, is the last day to apply for cotton premeasurement.

Notices To Farmers Of Donley County

Due to new regulations concerning the issuing of cotton that we have to be given back to you, the County Committee, wishes to handle our allotment like we did last year, on an equal basis; but this year we must have your signature asking for it. So, please come in and sign up, and if you know of anybody that has an allotment and isn't going to plant it, please tell us so that we might be able to get it released for re-apportionment. We are losing considerable acreage each year, and it will never be returned to Donley County.

1961 Cotton Allotment Farm Base

1961 Cotton Base for a farm will be the regular allotment if as much as 75 per cent of the 1960 allotment is planted or regarded as planted. If less than 75 per cent of the farm cotton allotment is planted or regarded as planted, the base will be the average of the 1960 allotment and the 1960 planted acreage determined for the farm. So you can see how important it is to release or plant 75 per cent of your allotment. If you do not intend to plant, release the acreage, so that it can be reappportioned to farmers who have signed a request for additional acreage.

FORMER RESIDENT INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Doyle Leffew, a former resident of Clarendon and son of Mrs. Claris Leffew, was injured when the motorcycle he was riding overturned in an accident at Berger March 16. He has been steadily improving since Wednesday of last week and friends will be glad to know that after about 10 days he will be able to return home. He is a patient in Memorial Hospital in Dumas.

Doyle will be remembered here as "Cotton" and a star on the Broncho football team. He and his wife, the former Jo Ellen McGowan, also a Clarendon girl, with their three children make their home at Stinnett.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Washington, Iowa, Journal: "Gradually the Federal Government seems to be moving into the field of business, in direct competition with private enterprise . . ."

"It is a trend that should be strenuously opposed. The name of government ownership and management is Socialism. At its worst it becomes Communism. The perspiring candidate who says he favors government ownership only in cases where private ownership can't do the job, is seldom willing to give private enterprise a hearing."

Provisions Of The Nepotism Law

If an employee has been continuously employed by the School Board for two years he (or she) is exempt from the nepotism law and would not be affected should a relation by blood or marriage be elected to the school board.

All employees concerned with the nepotism law now employed by the school board are exempt in the event his (or her) relative were elected to the school board.

Paragraph one, Article 432, Penal Code, State of Texas, printed above is to clarify the question whether or not one of the Tax Office employees would be affected by the nepotism law. The answer is, SHE WOULD NOT BE AFFECTED NOR BE IN JEOPARDY OF HER JOB, in the event her relative were elected in this Saturday's school board election.

GEORGE W. SMITH, M.D.

CLARENDON, TEXAS

March 31, 1960

To School Patrons:

It seems proper that I should offer an explanation for my withdrawal as a candidate in the coming school board election.

The citizens who influenced me to run for trustee seemed sincere in the belief that I might be helpful in bringing about improvement in our public schools. I have four children, and nothing is more important to me than the educational facilities available to them. Our decision to move to Clarendon four years ago was motivated largely by the belief that this community was a good place to raise our family — the favorable influence of the junior college was pointed out to us along with plans for new buildings and additional facilities for all the schools.

We think the School System in general is fortunate in having quality teachers, and I am amazed that they can be retained on the existing salary schedules. We think there are some few apparent weaknesses in the teaching staffs and can't understand why genuine effort isn't made to try to procure more competent replacements. Everyone knows the condition of the old school buildings.

My decision to withdraw as a candidate was made after I learned of a mass meeting, held in the court house last Thursday and said to have been attended by nearly a hundred people. I am informed that the school board was present, and that various issues were discussed and that the group with no one dissenting, expressed approval of the present conduct of the schools with a statement that it was believed that Clarendon had a wonderful school program, and that efforts to offer changes would not be appreciated.

Since my only interest in seeking this office was in the spirit of accomplishing improvement, I think I would be wrong to try to be elected, if the majority of our people don't want changes.

This meeting at the court house was under the chairmanship of Mr. Cap Morris. He stated to me that the thing was planned and organized at the request of another person, but refused to identify that person. Mr. Morris told me that he served as moderator for the discussion of written questions and issues that were presented by persons in attendance, and that he purposely manipulated the discussion to exclude issues he did not want discussed. When I questioned such procedure, he stated that I must not have much knowledge about small town politics. I guess I don't. It's easy for me to understand how a meeting like this could be brought about, but the reason for me to withdraw from candidacy lies in the observation that community leaders were at the meeting, either a party to the thing or giving support by their silence. Mr. Morris is probably right about how things are done in small towns. I think probably this sort of goings on explains why a lot of things are not done in small towns — and some of you who started out being concerned about facilities of schools for your children are now concerned about the facilities for your grandchildren.

It is puzzling to me that there should be disagreement about the desire for the best buildings we can afford and the finest teachers we can induce to stay here or move here. It is disappointing that personalities more than issues seem to come into the controversy.

I hope that the candidates for the school board and the people who elect them will make a serious analysis of the needs of our schools and quit arguing. So far as I can see, it never has been possible for a town, a business, a farming operation, or a school to stand still for very long — either there has to be progress or things go downhill.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE W. SMITH, M. D. (Signature)

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

Politics and the weather both seem to be warming up. Some of the political promises even sound pretty hot. The month of May will now be both the time for the farmer to plant his cotton, and for the politician to bury his campaign promises.

It is said that, old politicians never die, they just run once too often. It is not that they get too old to run but rather that their running gets old to the voters. The bigger a man's head gets, the easier it is to fill his shoes. The more indispensable a politician feels the more urgent it is for the voters to dispense him.

A politician worries for fear the voters will make a mistake, while a statesman fears making one himself. Politicians make long speeches as to how the country is going to the dogs, when in reality they are just trying to keep ahead of the hounds.

When we hear a politician putting up a strong argument we ought to take a good look to be sure that he is not trying to put over a weak point.

The following advice was spoken by a real statesman: "The bigger we allow our government to become in its scope of influence in the running and regulating of our daily lives, the smaller the voice and the rights of the people will become."

—o—

Trouble Department — The trouble with absent minded people going on these low calorie diets is that one may forget whether he has eaten lately and have the meal all over again. The weight danger point is so easy to pass going up, and so tough to even reach on the way back down.

—o—

Most of us like to go shopping. Some people like to go window shopping; just looking without spending any money. The following tells us about one way to go shopping any day without using money at all. We do not know who wrote it but we do agree. It is called;

One of These Days I Must Go Shopping

"One of these days I must go shopping; I am completely out of self respect. I want to exchange some self-righteousness that I picked up the other day for some humility which they say is less expensive and wears longer. I want to look at some tolerance which is being used for wraps this season.

Someone showed me some pretty samples of peace; we are a little low on that and we can never have too much on hand. And by the way, I must match some patience that my neighbor wears; it is so very becoming on her, and I think it might look right well on me.

"I might try on that little garment of long-suffering that they are displaying; I never thought that I would want to wear it but I feel myself coming around to it.

"Also, I must not forget to have my sense of appreciation mended, and look around for some plain everyday inexpensive goodness; it is surprising how quickly one's stock of goodness is depleted. Yes, one of these days I must go shopping and it likely should be today."

All the above are on display in the windows of everyday life, and can be had without money. Neither does our joy of possession reward us in dollars and cents but in the deeper values of friendship and happiness.

—o—

Good Intentions are a wonderful thing — especially if they are backed up by at least a fair supply of good deeds. We remember living by a lady once who was always making excuses for her neglect, mistakes, and wrong doings by saying:

"Well, at least my intentions were good." We can get by for awhile with this excuse but pretty soon folks begin wondering.

Another friend of mine had almost developed a bitterness toward folks who used good intentions as an alibi in the place of admitting their mistake. He would say in his plain spoken way; "Hell is full of folks with good intentions."

A peck of service is better than a bushel of promises.

An ounce of understanding is worth more than a pound of flattery.

It's a good thing to chart our course, but its even better when we launch our boat.

Now and then we find a person who gives credit for his success to his burning the midnight oil. To hundreds of others success came because of daylight toil.

"It isn't the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog that determines the winner."

One of my uncles used to always sum up his philosophy along this line with this saying; "A loaded truck makes less noise than an empty one."

Pantech Farms —

Those of us who have been in the cattle business to some extent for several years are probably more amazed than anyone else as we visit the Pantech Performance Tested Bull Sale each year and listen to the progress that is being made in this field.

From the humble beginning some dozen years ago when Farm Manager J. P. Smith took two pens of fed cattle to Chicago and made a comparison there as the high gaining advantages of one pen over the other. Many cattlemen at the market asked the question; "How can we get started with cattle that have a proven ability to gain record?" Coming home, the Manager set about to get folks interested in the program that later developed into the greatest of its kind in the world.

In his talk, Farrington Carpenter, Hereford breeder of Hayden, Colorado, gave a picture of the stages that the cow business has passed through and into which this program becomes an important phase.

In the first stage ranchers were only interested in getting herds of cattle to the market. They were driven over long trails and once at the market contained mostly tail and horns.

In the second phase the cow man became interested in getting the meat where it belonged and in better quality. Registered cattle, and better cattle in general became the password. Good herds were built up on the basis of what one could see.

Then came stage three, ability to gain being transferred to the next generation. Something the eye could not see. Each year brings more conclusive proof that it does happen.

The next step for science might be the tenderness quality. Even this seems closely tied to fast gaining. Congratulations, Mr. Smith, it looks like you are long gone on the right track. Thanks.

All men judge . . . but few have judgment.

SIX-PASSENGER CAR OR STATION SEDAN ...CORVAIR IS BOTH!

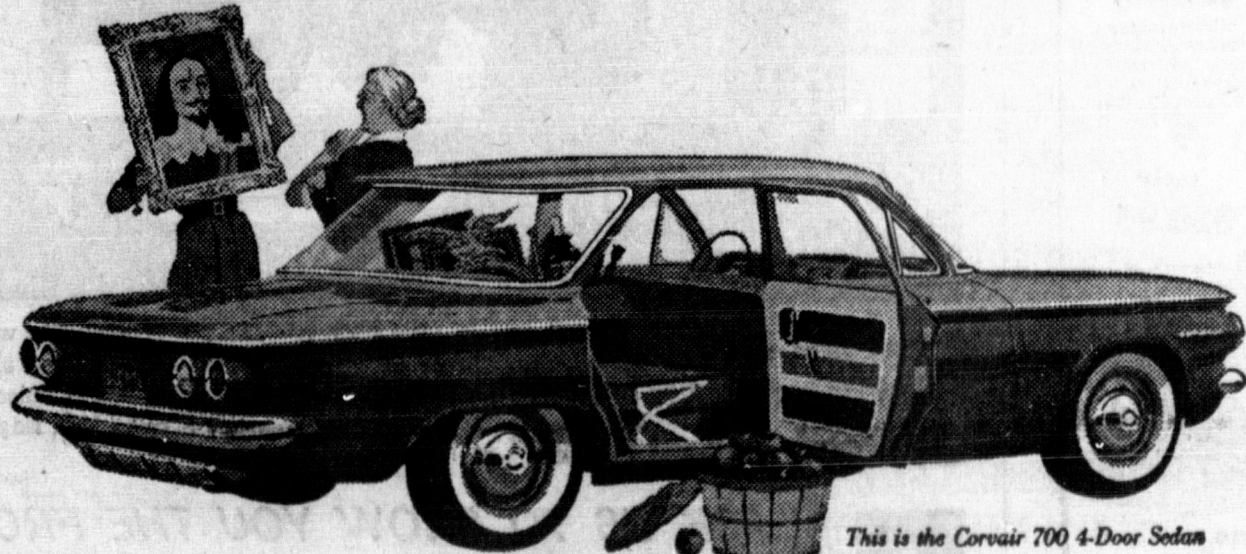

A wonderfully useful folding seat makes every Corvair two cars in one. Just one quick flip and you increase the luggage and parcel space to 28.9 cubic feet. And just as simply, you're back to comfortable six-passenger capacity. It's standard equipment . . . and extraordinarily practical.

Corvair does car-pool duty with the biggest and best of them. Going to work or school or out for the evening, you've got a genuine six-seater. As for carting around piles of stuff instead of people, just look at Corvair's station-sedan load space with the rear seat folded. And when that's full you can start on the trunk.

Corvair, you see, is no ordinary compact car. No others are so versatile, so ingeniously engineered—with independent suspension at all four wheels, an air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze. You just can't compare anything else coming out these days with a Corvair. Drive one . . . soon.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

If spring has not arrived by the time you read this, we may be talking to the little people by then.

Yesterday we saw George to the field with a shiny new plow, stayed long enough to get one intoxicating whiff of fresh turned earth, then rushed back to the house and uncovered our rose bushes and bulbs that were coming up. The plowing lasted just two hours, then another front came rushing through. We had forgotten our plants, of course they were bitten badly that night.

Another day we got busy on the roof, which has leaked for ages. The men set up the barrel with fire wood all around it for melting tar, right outside the back gate. It was sure to be warm enough that evening to pour tar. What do you think? It's still out there, they didn't even get to start a good fire, before another front came in.

We have a new hat to help us get the spring fever, somehow there is no pleasure in wearing it with the winter coat or old warm suits. If it isn't warm enough to really come out in spring clothes by Easter, we just might give the thing away.

And what about spring cleaning? We never could do a thorough job without hauling everything movable outside into the sunshine for a full day of airing. Now we have no confidence at all, when it comes to judging a full day of sunshine. There is no pleasure in getting out the spring clothes for mending and sorting either, when the day is dark and gloomy.

We have an idea though, we will dress up in our spring outfit, turn on all the lights and call George in to see the effects. I'll bet he will forget for a time, how late spring planting will be this year, and will clinch the idea we had in the first place to give this hat away.

History Of Ashtola Community

In the early 1900's the Fort Worth and Denver Railway erected a section house on their right-of-way nine miles west of Clarendon, Texas. The location was named Southard. There were only a few homes in the area at that time, but more and more people settled there as the years passed, attracted by the good farming land and grass land.

The population increased until, in 1908, a one-room school house was erected. The first teacher was Miss Hazel Clappitt. Other teachers during the early years of Southard were Miss Myrtle Curry and Mrs. Martin Fry.

The earliest residents, still living in the Community, were John and L. P. White who moved to Southard with their parents in 1909. The oldest living resident is Mr. H. W. (Grandad) Lovell who, with his family, settled in the Community to 1915, and is now 86 years old. Two of his children, Mr. Ben Lovell and Mrs. T. A. Nelson are also residents of the Community at the present time.

In 1916 Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Poovey moved to Southard and purchased a farm a few hundred yards from the section house, where they still live. That same year Mr. Poovey was instrumental in starting a petition for a post office.

The request was granted by the Postal Department in Washington D. C., but as there was a Post Office by the name of Southland not far from Southard, they asked that the name be changed to Ashtola to prevent confusion.

So in 1916 the Community now known as Ashtola was born. The first Postmaster was W. M. Shaw, and the first store was owned and operated by G. W. Guthrie. Ashtola grew rapidly. The same year, 1916, saw another room added to the one room school house and another teacher, Miss Florence Jones (now Mrs. Gene Hester) was hired. Mr. Poovey was elected to the Board of Trustees, which position he was to hold for many years.

In 1920 a new brick school building was erected, and the old two room building was converted to serve as a teacherage. Three teachers were employed to teach the eight grades.

In 1922 this building burned and was replaced that same year with another brick building. The new structure housed six class rooms, a superintendent office and a large auditorium. There were now ten grades and five teachers. The entire life of the Community, both civic and spiritual, centered around the school building in those early days. It provided a meeting place for all school and community functions during the week and for Church and Sunday School on Sunday.

In 1937 this building too was destroyed by fire. The classes were moved to the teacherage which had been enlarged by that time and there the students finished the school term. That same year the present brick building was erected, consisting of four class rooms and an auditorium. Three high school grades had been transferred to Clarendon, so that only three teachers were required; later only two teachers were needed. In 1958 the school was consolidated with the Clarendon Public School system.

The Community of Ashtola is located nine miles west of Clarendon on Highway 287 and is surrounded by good farming and ranch land. South of Ashtola lies the J. A. Ranch, southwest are the Jordan and Shtilton Ranches; northwest is the S. J. Ranch, and northeast is the T. L. Roach Ranch. Both the Jordan and S. J. Ranch Headquarters are within our school district, and the S. J. Ranch home, occupied by the Millard Word family, is one of the loveliest homes in our Community.

There are approximately 22,081 acres of farm land in our district with a population of 136. Thirteen irrigation wells are proving to be of considerable economic value in crop production. Our Community boasts of having one of the few Galloway herds in Texas, owned by Horace Green, and a race track with a stable of six horses owned by William J. Lewis. T. L. Roach and son constructed dams across running streams on their ranch, creating some lovely lakes. The Salt Fork of Red River lies just north of our Community about four miles.

The Ashtola School property was deeded to the Community by the Bugbee heirs in September, 1959. Prior to this time the Ashtola Needle Club had instigated most of the social activities in the Community. Then on February 18, 1960, the people voted to organize a Community Center and enter the contest sponsored by the Electric Utilities Companies for 1959-60. Officers elected were Van Knox, Chairman; Mrs. Van Knox, Assistant Chairman; Vance Gray, Secretary; and Mrs. Doyce Graham, Reporter. Trustees for the building are Van Knox, Chairman; Vance Gray, Secretary; John White, Hubert Rhoades, J. R. Brandon, Slaton Mahaffey and Leo Wallace.

The people of the Community have been very cooperative and enthusiastic as they have worked to improve the building and grounds of their Community Center. Mr. Hubert Rhoades, County Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 was instrumental in moving 400 yards of earth to fill in and raise the road bed leading to the Center. Previously the road lay under water during heavy rains. The level of the parking lot was also built up several inches. An outdoor playground has been equipped with swings, see-saws, basketball court and baseball diamond. Plans are underway to plant a lawn around the building this spring. Outside lights have been installed and a barbecue pit, built by men of our Community several years ago and paid for by the Ashtola Needle Club, is often in use during the summer months.

The inside walls of the building are brick and tile thirteen inches thick, and though it proved to be quite a chore, the men chiseled out a door connecting the kitchen and entertainment room. Then they tore out the wall between the two largest class rooms making one large room, twenty-four by sixty feet. All the walls were then repaired and painted, including the entrance hall and two rest rooms. The woodwork was washed and polished, as were the windows. There are four windows, each one ninety inches long and one hundred and four inches wide. We are now in the process of making curtains for them.

Work is now under way to furnish an indoor play room for the children in the auditorium. Some of the men of the Community made three ping pong tables out of the old church pews and three ping pong sets were contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Green, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lamber-

The men also made eight "forty-two" tables out of old church pews, using old black boards for table tops. The Center has four serving tables — two 5 1-4' tables and two 8 1-4' tables — and cloths for each of them. We have dishes and flatware to accommodate seventy-five to one-hundred people. Twenty-eight new metal folding chairs were purchased for the Center, which also has access to twenty-four chairs purchased by the Ashtola Needle Club several years ago.

The building is heated with butane gas from a five-hundred gallon tank. The indoor play room is heated with three circulating heaters, and the entertainment room has four large heaters.

The kitchen is furnished with a cook stove and refrigerator, donated by the Clarendon Household Supply Company. Ralph Decker made and contributed a sign for the Community Building. We also have a three burner hot plate, cabinets, table and a coffee urn bought by the Ashtola Needle Club along with several other utensils.

The people of the Community have access to a complete hospital room unit bought by the Ashtola Needle Club several years ago.

No less an authority than Maurice H. Stans, Director of the Budget Bureau, reports that the federal government's indebtedness now approaches $750 billion. Here's how that figure is reached: National debt, $290 billion; future obligations for past services, $350 billion; commitments for future spending, $98 billion.

Proper Range Use
Now is the time to be thinking about the proper use of range land. With the season's good moisture our grasses should get off to a good and early start. However this does not mean that it won't get dry in mid-summer and slow or stop its growth. Therefore heavier than usual stocking based on present moisture conditions is unwise. To explain this fact lets discuss proper range use.

Definition: grazing rangelands at an intensity which will maintain adequate cover for soil protection and maintain or improve the quantity and the quality of desirable vegetation.

Purpose: to maintain or improve the vigor and high production of the major forage species and to permit accumulation of mulch necessary for soil and water conservation.

How? Livestock numbers must be balanced with the available forage produced by seasons and preferred by seasons by the animals so that at the end of the grazing period enough leaf growth is present to feed the plant and maintain its root system for re-growth then or the following season. This will automatically leave enough stubble to protect the soil from strong winds and running water and enough mulch to protect the soil from beating raindrops and to absorb and hold rainfall so that excessive run off is prevented and more water is available for production of forage.

Proper Use has a "snowballing" effect once well begun and is very noticeable on the ranges of those who practice it. But the story does not stop there. It is also very profitable in many ways. More pounds of beef can be produced with the right number of animals and good grass than with more animals and the consequent suffering, low producing grassland. Soil fertility is built up and erosion checked—more moisture is held when and where it falls—thus producing still more and better forage. Droughts do not hurt nearly as badly as they do on even slightly overgrazed rangeland.

It follows naturally that the real estate value of this rangeland is raised through proper range use. Sale value of it is increased and many bankers recognize this added asset in figuring collateral for loans.

Proper use of rangeland and having better grass than your neighbors shows good management and pride of ownership.

How Much Use? It has been determined that approximately half of a grass plant's annual growth by weight should be left to provide the above results. This is generally just under 1/2 the height of the plant when seeded out and fully mature. Comparison may be made by observing the same grasses in a deferred pasture or roadside having about the same soil and amount of water.

A factor to consider in planning your grazing plan and stocking rates is the preferences by season of the different grasses present. Cattle prefer the grass most palatable at the time of consumption. This is an interesting study to watch especially on various different soils at the same time. It can help you.

For more information concerning any portion of the above discussion please feel free to consult with the SCS serving Donley County Soil Conservation District in Clarendon.

Antigo, Wis., Journal: "Although the committee on national education policies originally rejected a resolution advocating the use of force, when needed, to maintain classroom discipline, the American Federation of Teachers has now given its approval. The teachers said, however, that force was not a desirable thing in itself. They said it just sometimes could not be avoided."
