Old Landmark Razed By Fire Thurs. Night

One of Clarendon's oldest landmarks, the home built by the late Thomas Bugbee in 1898 and now owned by a daughter, Mrs. Stella Hearn, was completely destroyed by fire about 11 p.m. Thursday night. It was located on the hill near the highway at the west edge of Clarendon.

The fire, of undetermined origin, was well in progress when local volunteer firemen answered the call. Forty to fifty mile an hour winds blew sparks as far as business section of town and the home of Walter B. Knorrpp was in danger for quite some time as large cinders were falling like a big display of fireworks on the Knorrpp residence as well as that of Lloyd Shelton and Mrs. C. T. McMurtry. The Bugbee house was located several hundred yards west of the Knorrpp home and had it been closer, Clarendon might have had a terrible loss.

Firemen concentrated their efforts in keeping close check on the sparks and holding the prairie fire in check that had been ignited by the extreme heat from the burning house.

No one was at home at the time of the fire as Mrs. Hearn left March 15th on a South American tour.

Survey Order Issued For 4 Lane Highway West Of Town

The State Highway Commission passed an order last week authorizing the surveys and preparation of plans for the construction of grading structures and surfacing or two additional lanes of traffic from Armstrong County line to Clarendon, in the vicinity of the State maintenance warehouse. These proposed lanes will be south of the present lanes and divided similar to that in Armstrong county.

This order does not provide for the construction but permits the engineering organization to proceed with the necessary surveys and plans at this time, anticipating the construction funds authorization to be made later as the money becomes available and the necessary additional right of way is secured. It is estimated that the construction cost of this project will amount to $726,000. This amount does not include any of the cost incurred in the buying of the necessary right of way.

C. B. Hudson of Clarendon will supervise the preliminary survey work and the ultimate construction. The time that the construction will get under way is indefinite since it will depend upon a clearance of the necessary right of way purchase and the availability of funds. The surveys and plan work will start immediately. Some preliminary survey work has already been done that involves the right of way purchase, stated R. L. Nabers, Ass't. Dist. Engineer.

The insurance for our building totals $144.68 per three years. To date the premium has been paid, mostly by money earned during the summer and fall of 1959 from money-raising campaigns. A bake sale was held in September which netted $21.50, following a bake sale held during the 4th of July celebration in Clarendon, netting $61.00. The third was in November, 1959 and brought $19.70. In addition to earned funds through the bake sales, the ladies of the Community Center, in cooperation with members of the Ashtola Needle Club, entered two booths at the Donley County Fair, which placed fifth and won $20.00. The Community does a lot of hard work, but also finds time to play. We enjoyed an ice cream supper and chicken barbecue last summer. A Thanksgiving dinner was well attended in November, as were two movies during the winter. A "tacky" party created a lot of fun, and we have had numerous forty-two parties. We are making plans for more varied entertainment for both the adults and youth of our Community, as well as several summer projects that will be of interest and benefit to all concerned. We are grateful to all those who have contributed work, time, encouragement, and information regarding our Community projects. Especially do we appreciate the assistance given us by our County Agent, Flip Breedlove.

Lane-Hall Vows Exchanged Sunday

Miss Joanna Beth Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lane of Ashtola, became the bride of Carlton Lowell Hall, son of Mrs. Joe Hall and the late Joe Hall of Clarendon, in a single ring ceremony in the Calvary Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. The Rev. Earnest Phillips, minister of the church, officiated. Wedding music was presented by Miss Diane Phillips of Pampa.

Mrs. Glen Hall, sister-in-law of the groom served as matron of honor. She wore a dress of lavender decorated with black and white accessories. Glen Hall, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride's dress was powder blue faille. It had a stand up collar, fitted bodice and full gored skirt. Her veil-hat of blue net was attached to a blue nylon bow. Her accessories were white. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lane wore a dress of yellow linen with black accessories. Mrs. Hall, mother of the groom, wore a dress of turquoise linen with black accessories.

Approximately 22 guests attended the ceremony. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Phillips and daughter, Diane.

The couple will make their home in Ashtola.

Guests through the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hodges were Mrs. Jean Scott and children and Eunice Cockerham of Fort Worth, Mrs. George Bain of Sunray, Mrs. Bushanna and family, Mrs. J. D. Woods, and Mrs. Buck Roberts.

Mrs. Lloyd Benson and Mrs. Carroll Knorpp were hostesses to the Les Beaux Art Club on Friday, April 1st, at the Patching Club House. Spring bulbs and Easter decorations were artistically arranged throughout the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. C. T. McMurtry, President, called the meeting to order and roll call was given and minutes read.

She then gave a report of the Federation meeting held in Lubbock last week and announced our club had won an award for 100% subscription to the magazine "The Texas Clubwoman." She had the award framed and it will be hung in the art club room in the club house.

Our next meeting will be a luncheon at the Amarillo Club followed by a tour of the Panhandle-Plains Museum in Canyon. It was decided to meet at the Patching Club house at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, May 6th.

For the program for the afternoon Mrs. W. K. Hardin first gave a history of our songs of the month, "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "America the Beautiful."

Following this, Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr., introduced Mrs. Heckle Stark, Mrs. Frank Phelan, Jr., and Mrs. Roy Clappitt who discussed the art and technique of china painting and displayed many lovely pieces of china painted by them and other members of the china painting class.

BOOK CLUB GUEST DAY PROGRAM

The social committee composed of Mesdames L. N. Cox, J. N. Weaver, Bill Poole, J. R. Porter, and Otis Naylor were hostesses to the 1926 Book Club Guest Day program, Tuesday, April 5, at 4 p.m. in Patching Club House.

Mrs. Ballew very capably reviewed "Love Is A Wild Assault" by Elithe Hamilton Kirkland. The story was an authentic biographical novel of a Texas woman who lived in the Caddo region about 1835. Tales of this beautiful and accomplished woman are handed down from one generation to another in this East Texas area.

After the review guests were invited into the dining room and were served fruit punch, assorted cookies, pastel mints, and nuts.

The spring motif was carried out in table decorations. Colorful garden flowers formed the centerpiece, and an arrangement of violets flanked the base of the punch bowl.

Junior-Senior Banquet And Prom Highlight Saturday Evening

The junior class of Clarendon High School was host Saturday evening, April 2, when members of the senior class of Clarendon High School were honored at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet held at Lions Club Hall.

The setting was that of a Japanese Tea House. The outline of the hall was decorated as a rock wall. Wind chimes and lanterns hung from the ceiling. The head table was marked by a dainty umbrella and floral arrangement of iris and sweet peas. Miniature umbrellas extended down the center of the table. Other tables were decorated with colorful umbrellas in two sizes and sprigs of spring flowers. Programs and place cards bore the letters "Sayonara" in red and favors were chopsticks.

Howard Talley, president of the junior class was master of ceremonies. "Chopstick Melodies" (Tea for Two) was presented by a quartet composed of Sandra Pinkerton, Wanda Ryan, Dennis Bradshaw, and Philip Abel. "Soo Happee" (the welcome) was given by Howard Talley. "Thankee Honorable Ones" (the response) was given by Lynn Spier. Janie Smith delighted the group with "I Talkee Muchee," jokes on seniors, and Sandra Pinkerton responded with "Confucius Say," jokes on juniors. "Japanese Sandman" by the quartet concluded the program. Mrs. Dee Williams provided the accompaniment at the piano.

Before adjournment and the prom, Howard Talley presented Mrs. Bill Todd and Jerry Hawkins each with a gift from the class in appreciation for their help as sponsors of the junior class.

The prom was held at the Legion Hall. Silver lettering on the bandstand pointed out the "Oriental Gardens." Centering the room was a fish pond filled with lillies and artificial frogs. Surrounding the pond was greenery and roses. A red light lighted the pond and cast reflections ceilingward. Japanese lanterns lighted with candles, wind chimes, streamers inscribed in Japanese, and red and black wrapped railings provided an enchanting background for festivities. Red punch was served throughout the evening from an oaken bucket and dipper at the famous "Wishing Well." Oveta Garman, Kay Lemons, and Nancy Huff dispensed punch.

The Sultans of Swing from Lubbock provided music for dancing. Band members, in keeping with the decor, wore red and black coats.

There were 103 juniors, seniors, and teachers, and one guest, Mrs. Dee Williams, who attended. Everyone was very enthusiastic in commenting on both the banquet and prom and on the elaborate decorations. Needless to say, all had a wonderful time.

"Annual Signing" Party Held

Local high school students were entertained Friday evening with an "Annual-Signing" party. Sharon Smith and Connie McMurtry were hostesses for the event which was held at the McMurtry residence.

The high school yearbook, the "Broncho Corral," which was published in El Paso, came off the press last week and the book shipment arrived in Clarendon Friday.

The entire student body was invited, and the yearbooks delivered to their owners. The party was very well attended, and the guests worked feverishly for hours autographing each others books, and penning personal notes.

Snacks were available throughout the evening from two buffet tables. The party was chaperoned by the parents of the hostesses, and by Mr. Jame C. Childers, faculty sponsor of the annual.

QUAIL FOOD SUPPLY HELPED BY DISKING

College Station — The cheapest and most effective method for providing food for bobwhite quail is disking strips in old fields and along fence rows.

Disking, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, is often all that is needed to get a good stand of choice quail foods, such as doveweed and partridge peas, growing. This method of turning the soil can be done at little cost and it gives the quail food plants a chance to compete with more vigorous growing ones. An application of fertilizer, the same as used on pastures in the area will greatly increase the food produced, adds Cooper.

The disking strips should be near low-growing brushy cover to give the birds protection from natural enemies while feeding. The specialist emphasizes that quail may not use the choice foods if cover is not available nearby. And, he adds it's easier, cheaper and faster to grow food plants near cover than to develop cover plants near good food supplies.

Research has shown that long strips of disking land, at least 20 feet wide, are better than square blocks. In disking, the soil should be cut only deep enough to turn the grass, usually about 4 inches, says Cooper. And the best time for carrying out the practice is from now through April. The practice works best when the strips are disking in a three-year rotation, explains the conservationist.

Cooper says that livestock usually will not graze the type of plants which will grow on the disking strips, but if domestic food crops are planted for quail food, fencing is required. Too, the seeds of native plants usually last longer. That is important because quail need the food most in winter and early spring when domestic plant seeds have shattered or rotted.

And this final reminder from Cooper, if you like to have quail around the place, provide them food, cover and protection and they'll stay with you.

EATING INTO INCOME

There has been an interminable amount of talk and debate over the subject of inflation. But, it seems, multitudes of people don't relate the problem to their own financial situation.

If you're one of them, consider this item which appears in the March issue of Nation's Business: "Living standards — measured by income — are rising."

"A look ahead shows: "Total personal income soon will average $1,900 a year for every man, woman, child in the country. That's the highest ever. "But the rise is only half as much as it could be.

"Inflation eats heavily into income.

"Here are the facts: Total personal income now averages about $1,000 a year.

AUSTIN — It's nine months until the 57th Legislature comes to Austin to pass laws, appropriate money and, probably, enact new taxes. But the major decisions are being made now.

Whether it's the warmer weather or the twinning time — (first primary is only a little more than a month off) — the deciding process is now going full tilt.

Candidates have their literature off the presses and their campaign organizations in action. Challenges and promises are being made, mostly centered on one issue — meeting the States' in-the-red financial predicament.

In most areas legislators are being forced, if their announcement platforms aren't clear, to say pretty specifically what sort of new tax they would favor.

On the statewide level, it's the same. Jack Cox, with the backing of Former Gov. Allan Shivers, has come out for a 2 per cent sales - tax - for - education. Gov. Price Daniel has consistently maintained that the state's financial problems are not so great they cannot be solved by other means.

Jake Pickle is leaving his post as director of organization for the State Democratic Executive Committee and will work in Governor Daniel's campaign. Jake Jacobsen, former Daniel aide, will head the Daniel headquarters.

RANCHERS EXPECT GOOD YEAR — Reflecting the age-old Texas philosophy that everything depends on rain, most Texas ranchers are wearing a smile this spring.

Members of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association meeting in Austin said wet weather had put a "season" in the ground. Prolonged cold meant a lot of expensive feeding, but, in general, the cattlemen look to this year as one of the best ever.

Amidst the optimism, U.S. Sec'y of Agriculture Ezra Benson warned against too-rapid expansion of herds. It will almost certainly result in a sharp drop in prices, said Benson.

Benson noted that in the past two years cattle in the U.S. had increased by almost 4,000,000 head a year, double the rate he felt the consumer market can easily absorb.

He estimated there were a record-breaking 101,000,000 head of cattle in the country at the start of the year. This is "not yet excessive," said Benson, but he urged that future increases be "moderate."

Governor Daniel warned the cattlemen to watch the import situation. Governor's Exhibit A was the Texas oil industry which has suffered crippling setbacks from the competition of lower-priced imports.

Secretary Benson opposed raising import barriers. He suggested that losses would offset gains in that a $4,000,000,000 export business in hides and tallow would be choked off.

Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, former legislator, was elected president of the Cattle Raisers Association.

CATTLE MEASURES URGED — Cattlemen voted to seek governmental action in these areas:

1. State and federal agency help to enable railroads to operate more efficiently and economically.

2. Legislative enactment of a stronger trespass law to protect landowners.

3. Full authority for the Texas Animal Health Commission to direct the brucellosis eradication program begun under a law passed by the Legislature in 1959.

4. Confirmation by the U.S. Sec'y of Agriculture of the Association's right to carry out its brand registration and inspection program.

5. Launching by the USDA, as quickly as possible, of a screw-worm eradication program in the Southwest similar to the dramatically successful Florida program.

HIGHER COLLEGE COSTS — Next legislature probably will be asked to appropriate about 23 per cent more for support of Texas' state colleges and universities.

Ralph Geren, director of the Commission on Higher Education, said an estimated $31,400,000 more than present allocations would be needed for the 1961-63 biennium.

This is some $15,000,000 a year more than the $65,000,000 being spent this year. Green told a Legislative Economy Committee the extra funds would be needed to meet increased enrollments and improve faculty salaries.

Green reminded the lawmakers that part of increased cost results from the legislature's having made a junior college into a senior college — against the Commission's recommendation.

MORE YOUTH AID ASKED — Texas Youth Council has announced it will try again to get a paid parole supervision system for juveniles released from state training schools.

Legislature failed to enact this last session.

Council also outlined need for establishing a home for dependent and neglected Negro children and expanding other state schools for young people.

Other two members of the Council refused to add their support to a wide-scale delinquency prevention program proposed by Chairman W. C. Windsor Jr. of Dallas. It included such recommendations as making 12 years of schooling compulsory, keeping Louis Henna of Round Rock and Robert Kneebone of Houston said Windsor's program invaded the fields of other state agencies.

SAFETY LAWS OUTLINED — Brad Smith, director of the Texas Traffic Safety Commission, has proposed a four-plank platform for cutting Texas' traffic toll. Planks are:

- 1. Provide driver education for every public high school that wants it.
2. Revise the 20-year-old drivers license requirements.
3. Set up a statewide chemical test for suspected drunken drivers.
4. Set up a system of traffic courts.

BRIDGE WORK SET — Texas Highway Commission has announced plans to spend $5,216,500 in strengthening or rebuilding more than 100 bridges.

They are bridges regarded as not strong enough to take the increased 72,000 lb. load limit authorized by the last Legislature. At present these bridges are "zoned" to prevent use by trucks loaded to the limit.

Dean Announces College Honor Roll

Dean Abel reports more students are elected to honor roll this grade reporting period than in the preceding periods during this school term. He also announces that there is probably a good reason for this since at mid term two more honor students were enrolled for the second semester bringing the total number of valedictorians and salutatorians of high school classes which are attending Clarendon Junior College to nine. This number represents one of every 11 students enrolled in regular classes is an honor student of the high school from which they graduated.

Leading the list of honor roll students is four students who are graduates of Clarendon High School: Clifford Beard, sophomore, and Elaine Behrens, Joann Edens (Mrs.) and Pat Spurgeon of the Freshman class. Other students elected to the honor roll from the outlying schools in our area are Neal White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester White of the Quail School District who had the highest score for the immediate past grade reporting period; Gary Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Adams formerly of Estelline now living in Clarendon; Mary Helen Carter formerly of San Jon, New Mexico, but a graduate of Clarendon High School; Nettie Humphreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gilliam from the Ron Consolidated School in Harmon County, Hollis, Oklahoma; Alice Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Dozier Route, Shamrock, Texas, a graduate of Samnorwood School; Bill O'Laughlin, a rancher of Miami, Texas, graduated from Miami High School last spring as valedictorian of his class but did not enroll until mid term of this year; Lynda McGill daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glin McGill of the Quail community who enrolled last fall in the Clarendon Junior College on a scholarship which was offered by the Phi Theta Kappa Honorary Scholastic Fraternity of Clarendon Junior College; H. D. Yarbrough, sophomore from Claude who is living proof that an athlete may also be a scholar by having been elected to the Dean's Honor Roll every grade reporting period that he has attended college. H. D. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yarbrough, one of the Principals of the Claude Public Schools and Nancy Young, sophomore from Winters, Texas, the daughter of Fred C. Young, Route 1, Ovella, Texas. Nancy has also been elected to the Dean's Honor Roll each grade reporting period of her attendance at Clarendon Junior College.

BEHRENS PARTICIPATES IN WTSC FOOTBALL DRILLS

Canyon, Tex. (Special) — Jerry Behrens, a West Texas State sophomore from Clarendon, is participating in the Buffaloes' spring football drills, which started this week.

Behrens, a varsity letterman last year, is one of 62 footballers to greet the Buffs' new coaching staff, headed by Joe Kerbel. New assistants in the West Texas football rebuilding program are Joe Moss, Jack Harris and Billy Wiltingham.

Area football fans are invited to attend the Buffs' weekly Saturday afternoon scrimmages during spring training. They will start at 2 p.m. with the final wind-up game booked for April 22 or 23. All weekend scrimmages will be played in the Buffs' new 20,000-seat stadium.

Behrens, who is majoring in physical education, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Behrens, Clarendon.

A-2c and Mrs. James M. Edwards who are stationed in Germany with the Air Force announce the arrival of a baby girl March 25th. The baby was named Karen Lavonne. The grandmother here is Mrs. Tommy Edwards.

Clarendon Junior College; H. D. Yarbrough, sophomore from Claude who is living proof that an athlete may also be a scholar by having been elected to the Dean's Honor Roll every grade reporting period that he has attended college. H. D. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yarbrough, one of the Principals of the Claude Public Schools and Nancy Young, sophomore from Winters, Texas, the daughter of Fred C. Young, Route 1, Ovella, Texas. Nancy has also been elected to the Dean's Honor Roll each grade reporting period of her attendance at Clarendon Junior College.

The Dean reports that this is the first time during this school year that more than 10 per cent of the regular student enrollment has qualified for election to the honor roll by virtue of a grade average of 2.6 or above.

REV. and MRS. GENE MOORE

Rev. Moore will take over preaching duties at the First Methodist Church revival Saturday as Dr. Jordan Grooms, Evangelist, will leave after the service Friday night. Mrs. Moore is assisting her husband with the music.

Quail Exes Banquet Set For April 16th

This year's Quail alumni banquet will be held Saturday night, April 16, at the Quail school, with the traditional visiting and dinner. Registration and visiting will begin at 6:00 p.m. and the banquet at 8:00 p.m. All ex-students, past and present teachers, and past and present school board members are invited to attend.

Officers serving this year are John Carson, president; Ted Brock, vice president; Jack Neely, treasurer; and Mrs. Delbert White, secretary. The committees appointed for this year are: entertainment and program, Jack Neeley and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brock; publicity, Mrs. Mary Lee Gilbreth and Mrs. Delbert White; decorating, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilbreth, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Neeley, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerol

Morris. A catering service will serve the banquet this year and all who plan to attend are urged to send your reservations to Mrs. Delbert White, Quail, Texas, not later than April 9, as it is important that the officers know ahead of time how many plan to attend. The price of the tickets is $1.50 per person, as in the past, and they need not be paid for when sent in.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry LaGrone and family of Canyon visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Emmons and returned Phil home. Phil had visited the past several days in the Emmons home.

Mr. and Mrs. Evert Johnson and family visited the week end with her mother, Mrs. Carrie Thompson, at Plainview.

GIRL SCOUT COOKIE SALE STARTS APRIL 11th

The Quivira Girl Scout Council will have their first annual cookie sale beginning Monday, April 11th. Cookies will be sold by all registered Girl Scouts from that date until April 26th.

Who are the Girl Scouts? Here in Clarendon there are two Girl Scout Troops and two Brownie Troops. Around seventy girls belong to these troops. Girl Scout leaders and assistants are Mrs. Dalton Swinney, Mrs. Richard Gilkey, Mr. Naomi Gilbreath, and Mr. Fred Bourlani. Brownie leaders are Mrs. Bland Draper, Mrs. Kenneth Vaughn, Mrs. Wm. J. Lowe, Mrs. Harold Phelps and Mrs. Bill Mears.

They are the future women of our country — girls of ages 7 to 17. By having competent adult leadership the girls are able to participate in activities which help them grow morally, spiritually, physically, and emotionally. These activities include home-making, art and crafts, community service, camping, and many others. The girls sell cookies for the furtherance of this program. The proceeds of this sale go to troop funds and to the established camp fund.

Five kinds — assorted sandwich; cookie-mint; butter vanilla; fudge-filled vanilla sandwich; and the shortbread stand-up will be sold this year.

District Cookie Chairmen are as follows: District 1 — Mrs. Irma Hinds, Borger, Texas; District 2 — Mrs. Eugene Turner, Pampa, Texas; and District 3 — Mrs. Glenn Richerson, Shamrock, Texas.

This is the time when each member of the community has a chance to say thank you to the Girl Scouts for the work they have done this past year in making their community a better place in which to live by buying a box of Girl Scout Cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McKee of San Antonio are the proud parents of a son born March 10. The young man weighed 7 lbs., 10 oz. and has been named James Craig. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George McKee of Clarendon.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

Final Date Draws Near

Producers are reminded that April 30, 1960, is the final date for submitting sales receipts and making an application for the incentive payment for wool. Wool and unshorn lambs marketed during the period April 1, 1959, and March 31, 1960, are eligible under this program.

Agricultural Conservation Practices Now Being Approved

After the prolonged rains and snows in this county, did you find your land out of condition because you had failed to protect it with proper conservation practices? If so, don't wait another day to apply for land protection in the form of ACP practices designed to meet your land needs — "If you are good to the land, the land will be good to you." Cotton Allotment For 1960

If you do not intend to plant your cotton allotment this year, it would be to your advantage to release the allotment. The County Committee can reappportion the acreage to other farmers, but only to those who will come to this office on or before April 22nd and sign Form MQ-30 "Request for Additional Cotton Acreage."

Plow-Up Must Have Regular Shapes

This is just another reminder that when cotton is plowed-up, because too much was planted, adjustments credit shall be given only for acres of regular shape, with not more than four sides. One side or one end of the plow-up area shall be parallel with the rows or field boundary.

Mr. and Mrs. Landrum Stanford of Memphis visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shelton and family.

Those to enjoy dinner Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Mann and Camille at the J. A. Ranch were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hodges, Mrs. J. D. Wood, and Mrs. George Bain of Sunday

History Of Ashtola Community

The insurance for our building totals $144.68 per three years. To date the premium has been paid, mostly by money earned during the summer and fall of 1959 from money-raising campaigns. A bake sale was held in September which netted $21.50, following a bake sale held during the 4th of July celebration in Clarendon, netting $61.00. The third was in November, 1959 and brought $19.70. In addition to earned funds through the bake sales, the ladies of the Community Center, in cooperation with members of the Ashtola Needle Club, entered two booths at the Donley County Fair, which placed fifth and won

The Community does a lot of hard work, but also finds time to play. We enjoyed an ice cream supper and chicken barbecue last summer. A Thanksgiving dinner was well attended in November, as were two movies during the winter. A "tacky" party created a lot of fun, and we have had numerous forty-two parties.

We are making plans for more varied entertainment for both the adults and youth of our Community, as well as several summer projects that will be of interest and benefit to all concerned.

We are grateful to all those who have contributed work, time, encouragement, and information regarding our Community projects. Especially do we appreciate the assistance given us by our County Agent, Flip Breedlove.

Lane-Hall Vows Exchanged Sunday

Miss Joanna Beth Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lane of Ashtola, became the bride of Carlton Lowell Hall, son of Mrs. Joe Hall and the late Joe Hall of Clarendon, in a single ring ceremony in the Calvary Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. The Rev. Earnest Phillips, minister of the church, officiated. Wedding music was presented by Miss Diane Phillips of Pampa.

Mrs. Glen Hall, sister-in-law of the groom served as matron of honor. She wore a dress of lavender dicypled cotton with black accessories. Glen Hall, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride's dress was powder blue faille. It had a stand up collar, fitted bodice and full gored skirt. Her veil-hat of blue net was attached to a blue nylon bow. Her accessories were white. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lane wore a dress of yellow linen with black accessories. Mrs. Hall, mother of the groom, wore a dress of turquoise linen with black accessories.

Approximately 22 guests attended the ceremony. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Phillips and daughter, Diane.

The couple will make their home in Ashtola.

Guests through the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hodges were Mrs. Jean Scott and children and Eunice Cockerham of Fort Worth, Mrs. George Bain of Sunray, Mrs. Bushanna and family, Mrs. J. D. Woods, and Mrs. Buck Roberts.

LES BEAUX ART CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Lloyd Benson and Mrs. Carroll Knorpp were hostesses to the Les Beaux Art Club on Friday, April 1st, at the Patching Club House. Spring bulbs and Easter decorations were artistically arranged throughout the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. C. T. McMurtry, President, called the meeting to order and roll call was given and minutes read.

She then gave a report of the Federation meeting held in Lubbock last week and announced our club had won an award for 100% subscription to the magazine "The Texas Clubwoman." She had the award framed and it will be hung in the art club room in the club house.

Our next meeting will be a luncheon at the Amarillo Club followed by a tour of the Panhandle-Plains Museum in Canyon. It was decided to meet at the Patching Club house at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, May 6th.

For the program for the afternoon Mrs. W. K. Hardin first gave a history of our songs of the month, "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "America the Beautiful."

Following this, Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Jr., introduced Mrs. Hecke Stark, Mrs. Frank Phelan, Jr., and Mrs. Roy Clappitt who discussed the art and technique of china painting and displayed many lovely pieces of china painted by them and other members of the china painting class.

Each member of the Art Club brought a piece of hand-painted china and these were also on display. There were many old and unusual pieces.

Seventeen members were present and three guests.

BOOK CLUB GUEST DAY PROGRAM

The social committee composed of Mesdames L. N. Cox, J. N. Weaver, Bill Poole, J. R. Porter, and Otis Naylor were hostesses to the 1926 Book Club Guest Day program, Tuesday, April 5, at 4 p.m. in Patching Club House.

Miss Inez Blankenship, the president, presided. The business meeting was dispensed with. Mrs. C. B. Morris gave the opening prayer. Miss Blankenship then presented the reviewer for the afternoon, Mrs. Elba Ballew.

Mrs. Ballew very capably reviewed "Love Is A Wild Assault" by Elithe Hamilton Kirkland. The story was an authentic biographical novel of a Texas woman who lived in the Caddo region about 1835. Tales of this beautiful and accomplished woman are handed down from one generation to another in this East Texas area.

After the review guests were invited into the dining room and were served fruit punch, assorted cookies, pastel mints, and nuts.

The spring motif was carried out in table decorations. Colorful garden flowers formed the centerpiece, and an arrangement of violets flanked the base of the punch bowl.

Approximately 50 members and their guests attended. — Rep.

Junior-Senior Banquet And Prom Highlight Saturday Evening

The junior class of Clarendon High School was host Saturday evening, April 2, when members of the senior class of Clarendon High School were honored at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet held at Lions Club Hall.

The setting was that of a Japanese Tea House. The outline of the hall was decorated as a rock wall. Wind chimes and lanterns hung from the ceiling. The head table was marked by a dainty umbrella and floral arrangement of iris and sweet peas. Miniature umbrellas extended down the center of the table. Other tables were decorated with colorful umbrellas in two sizes and sprigs of spring flowers. Programs and place cards bore the letters "Sayonara" in red and favors were chopsticks.

Sophomore girls dressed in Japanese kimonoes and wearing flowers in their hair served the meal.

Howard Talley, president of the junior class was master of ceremonies. "Chopstick Melodies" (Tea for Two) was presented by a quartet composed of Sandra Pinkerton, Wanda Ryan, Dennis Bradshaw, and Philip Abel. "Soo Happee" (the welcome) was given by Howard Talley. "Thankee Honorable Ones" (the response) was given by Lynn Spier. Janie Smith delighted the group with "I Talkee Muchee," jokes on seniors, and Sandra Pinkerton responded with "Confucius Say," jokes on juniors. "Japanese Sandman" by the quartet concluded the program. Mrs. Dee Williams provided the accompaniment at the piano.

Before adjournment and the prom, Howard Talley presented Mrs. Bill Todd and Jerry Hawkins each with a gift from the class in appreciation for their help as sponsors of the junior class.

The prom was held at the Legion Hall. Silver lettering on the bandstand pointed out the "Oriental Gardens." Centering the room was a fish pond filled with lilies and artificial frogs. Surrounding the pond was greenery and roses. A red light lighted the pond and cast reflections ceilingward. Japanese lanterns lighted with candles, wind chimes, streamers inscribed in Japanese, and red and black wrapped railings provided an enchanting background for festivities. Red punch was served throughout the evening from an oaken bucket and dipper at the famous "Wishing Well." Oveta Garman, Kay Lemons, and Nancy Huff dispensed punch.

The Sultans of Swing from Lubbock provided music for dancing. Band members, in keeping with the decor, wore red and black coats.

There were 103 juniors, seniors, and teachers, and one guest, Mrs. Dee Williams, who attended. Everyone was very enthusiastic in commenting on both the banquet and prom and on the elaborate decorations. Needless to say, all had a wonderful time.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

dence as to the leadership and firmness our children and young adults are getting in our schools. A lecture such as that, did this oldster a lot of good also. This being the Lenten season our thoughts were; how well this applies to attaining the good life, if we would but listen to our Master's voice. Here is a part of the lecture as we remember it. I presume you all want to pass this course, otherwise you would not be here at this time. It will not be easy, if that thought is in your mind you may leave now. I will not tolerate just getting by, you must put in hours at home as well as your hours here. Your tuition has been paid, I am well paid and am at your service any time for help if you need me. The knowledge I have, which was expensive to get, will have been wasted unless you use it, and I will explain over and over again until you do understand. The key is here also for this adult class so there is no reason you cannot pass, if you apply yourself and follow the rules.

This was an accounting class, when the debits and credits were being explained our mind started to wandering . . . Just as had been pointed out here, our Master holds the key, our debt of sin has been paid. He is always near if we need Him. We cannot debit or credit one sin any where except where it belongs, else the book will not balance. It does take courage to enroll, and many leave because the course is too hard.

If you stay with it though, and have faith in your Master, all things fall into place in due time, just as he said it would. All we need to do is to be willing to listen, work at it as you would any job you tackle.

Others who have enrolled are eager to help also, we found out for ourselves, in both courses.

There sure are a lot of fellows who can't play the guitar — who do.

Uncovering the other fellows faults will not cover up our own.

Conservation of our soil and all our other natural and God-given resources is one of the greatest undertakings of our generation. Thirty years ago, and for many years before that time man thought only of clearing the land; it just seemed a natural thing that soil was made for the plow. Now, it gives us a thrill to see the waving grass growing again on some of our crop-land; especially the poor and sloping variety.

The following theme supposedly written by an Indian and submitted in a contest along this line sponsored by one of our newspapers gives a clever and thoughtful explanation of what happened. It was called; White Man Heap Loco.

"White man make big teepee, plow hill, water wash, wind blow, grass gone, land gone, door gone, window gone, whole place gone to pieces. Buck gone, squaw gone too, papoose gone also. No chuch-away, no pig, no corn, no cow, no hay, no pony. White man heap crazy."

"Indian no plow land, keep grass, buffalo eat grass, Indian eat buffalo, hide make teepee, also moccasin. Indian no make terrace, no build dam, no give a hoot. All time eat, no hunt job, no hitch hike, no ask relief, no shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass, Indian no waste anything Indian no work, White man heap loco."

It may be a bit on the extreme but so was the thing most of us did to our land in the not too long ago.

Recently a youngster from the city was visiting with his grandparents in the country. On returning home he gave this report; "Mom, Grandpa has an acre and a half of pigs and five hundred cobs of corn."

It is said that an optimist would say that a glass was half full, and that a pessimist looking at the same glass would say that it was half empty. By the same token, the sad one would see life as being full of many troubles, and the happy person would remember the times of joy and gladness.

The optimist would see the future as having many roses along the pathway of life. The pessimist would think of the thorns and briars. The optimist may be disappointed with today because it was not like his dreams, but will still have his hopes for the future. The pessimist can only be miserable in his correct predictions with no hope for a better tomorrow.

The optimist helps to light the candles along the pathway of life when about all the pessimist will do is to curse the darkness and complain about the troublesome road.

To those who must endure us day after day in the home or at our daily tasks we soon become either the spirit of cheerfulness and courage or we become the voice of gloom. We either give them that smile that means encouragement, or a frown to deepen their fears. We read the following little poem someplace and to us it proves the one we had rather be.

No matter how grouchy you're feeling, A smile is always quite healing. It grows like a wreath, all around the front teeth, Thus preserving the face from congealing.

By Keeping Quiet we can sometimes fool people into thinking that we are pretty wise. One of my friends put it this way; "I would rather keep quiet and have folks think that I am dumb than to speak up and save them know that it is true."

It may be bad manners to talk with your mouth full, but it is awfully boring for someone to talk with his mind empty.

It is said that the children of this day are given most every vitamin in the book except the one called B-Quiet. One good thing about children talking is that they seldom say anything bad about each other.

We all remember the little poem about; The wise old owl, that sat in an oak

Tht more he heard the less he spoke.

And the less he spoke the more he heard, Pity that more of us are not like this wise old bird.

Someone else has said that; "Silence is golden." This is surely true when someone is saying something we had rather not hear. It is not so golden when we are just busting to talk about our last operation or our grandchildren past, present or those to be.

About the worst competition in the talking field are those that talk by the mile and think by the foot . . .

AUSTIN — Texas Democrats have marked June 14 on their calendars. Austinites have circled

it in red. June 14 is the day some 5,000 Texas Democrats will converge on the Capital City for their state convention. It's expected to be many big days rolled into one. It will be the first time in recent memory that the huge colorful gathering has come to Austin. A large new city auditorium and convention center makes it possible. It's the day that comes only once every four years when Texans name delegates to a national presidential nominating convention. But most excitement centers on the fact that Texas Democrats will be assuming what is usually a once-in-a-lifetime role — that of sponsoring a major contender for the presidential nomination. Work is under way in every part of the state to insure that the delegates to Austin will give rousing support to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for favorite son nominee and chairman of the Texas delegation to Los Angeles. Senator Johnson's chances of becoming president were re-emphasized by Gov. Price Daniel and cheered by the State Democratic Executive Committee when the party leaders met to plan the June convention. Committee members selected Dallas for the second state Democratic convention on September 20. Their meeting also was made an occasion for honoring Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Seguin for a quarter century of loyal service to the Texas Democratic party. COURT REJECTS VOTE HAS- SLE — Texas Supreme Court refused to consider a direct appeal from the City of Austin that it order a complete recount of votes in a hotly contested urban renewal election. Issue has had Austinites in a stew for months. It was originally announced after the election in December that urban renewal had carried by a 52-vote margin. Eight property owners contested the election results on grounds that ballots were cast by persons not qualified to vote. After 9 of 18 contested boxes had been opened, District Judge James K. Everts of Belton declared the election void. He said there were so many disqualified voters and improperly marked ballots that it was impossible to determine the election outcome. Austin's city attorney petitioned the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Everts to open and examine all the ballot boxes. He contended the qualified voters had a right to have their votes counted. Having lost out on a direct plea to the Supreme Court, City Attorney Doren Eskew said he would go through the usual appeal route, going first to the Third Court of Civil Appeals. COLLEGE HOME DELAYED — Governor Daniel's office and the Legislative Budget Board are to make a "full review" before plans proceed to build an $87,000 home for the president of Sam Houston State Teachers College. A number of legislators hit the ceiling last session over similarly costly homes built for presidents of Southwest Texas State College and Stephen F. Austin State College. Restrictions were written into the current appropriations bill aimed at preventing further expenditures on such a scale. Rp. James M. Cotten, member of the House committee on savings taxes, wrote the governor to protest what he called a "tremendous waste." Governor Daniel said he had been assured by the chairman of the Board of Regents for State Teachers' Colleges that no action would be taken until everyone interested had had his say. He pointed out, however, that the home was to be built from constitutionally allocated funds to which the legislative appropriation restrictions "have been held not to apply." MORE JUDGES SUGGESTED — Larger metropolitan areas such as Houston, Dallas and San Antonio may soon need larger Courts of Civil Appeals. This observation was made by Associate Justice James R. Norvell of the Texas Supreme Court and others in a study made for the Texas Civil Judicial Council. Judge Norvell suggested that five judges, rather than three, may be needed soon for the courts in the city areas. Supreme Court, the study also noted, may also soon need some further restrictions on cases it will handle to prevent too heavy dockets. Civil Appeals Courts were created to keep everything from going to the Supreme Court, but the high court is flooded with appeals from these courts. Judge Norvell suggested limiting the Supreme Court to constitutional issues and cases where there is a conflict in judicial decisions. OIL ALLOWABLE CUT — Railroad Commission cut the state's oil production for April after testimony that both crude oil and gasoline were in oversupply. April allowable will be 2,814,252 barrels a day, a cut of 123,029 barrels a day from March. Number of producing days was cut from 10 to 9. Oilmen told the Commission that other states, such as Louisiana and Mississippi had not cut back production to offset the oversupply as Texas has. This state, said one Texas executive bitterly, is taking the "backlash" of the situation. TIGHTER DRIVING LAW — Legislation that would crack down on the driver who does not even have a drivers license has been proposed for the next session. Rep. Ben Lewis of Dallas said that under present law a person who drives without having a license can only be hauled before a city court and fined about $10. By contrast, he said, a license holder who gets three tickets and has his license suspended can, if he drives during the suspension, be put in jail and fined as much as $500. Lewis said he would propose a series of stiffer penalties for the people who cannot pass driver tests but drive anyway. The world is full of cactus but we don't have to sit on it. The only safe and sure way to destroy an enemy is to make him your friend.

Ask The Men Who Use It . . . They Say:

LIQUID FERTILIZER

Is the Best . . .

Dan and Don Day, identical twins, farm four sections of irrigated land — as well as overseeing nine sections of ranchland, 25 miles northwest of Brownfield. This is their second year to use Liquid Fertilizers. Between the two of them they have approximately 1,000 acres of cotton — with the balance of their land in Milo. In questioning them about their farm operations, they had this to say about Liquid Fertilizers:

Dan: "We have been farming long enough to know that we have to do everything possible to lower the cost of production. We compared the cost of Liquid Fertilizer to its equivalent in dry and we found that we could save about $2 per acre on the initial cost, plus the savings in labor, time required to put it down, and we like the easy way Liquid Fertilizers handle."

Don: We are using two 5-row applicators equipped with 12-hole John Blue squeeze pumps. With the addition of 1-row over the conventional 4-row equipment, we are getting more Liquid Fertilizer down (up to 80 acres per day) and at the same time we are cutting down on the pneumatic packing of our land. We do all of our planting and cultivating with 6-row equipment and we are satisfied to make about a bale-and-a-half per acre. We feel that we could possibly increase our production, but at the same time it would increase our cost, and maybe not increase our net profit."
(Don is the one in Levis and Dan has on khakis.)

Don and Dan said: "Last year we used Liquid Fertilizer, and at the end of the year the savings amazed us. This year we are applying (pre-planting) 40-lbs. of Nitrogen, 40-lbs of Phosphate and 20-lbs. of Potash. This will only be the starter — we will side-dress at least once and possibly twice. We are of the opinion that it is better to apply plant nutrients as the plants need or can use them, than it is to try and feed the plants all at one time," the twins added. "Liquid Fertilizers are one of the best things that has come along to help farmers increase their production and at the same time lower production costs. We're sold on them!"

Why Brush Control?
Brush takes about 7 times as much water as does grass to produce a pound of plant material. A very small percentage of brush plants is edible, but grass plants are almost wholly edible. Therefore it is obvious that where brush exists in notable amounts there is wholesale robbery of valuable, much needed moisture. Forage production by grasses is somewhat lessened even in wet years. In dry years grass production is cut drastically. Brush is a higher order of vegetation and not only has an advantage in competition for moisture but also for space and sunlight. Plants, like people, require a certain amount of "space" in which to live and derive much of their energy from sunlight.

It is true that many times it appears that the only grass a man has left has been "saved" by the brush or is growing in or around brush plants with the spaces between brush virtually bare. At first examination this situation is misleading. It has led some operators to presume that it would be foolish to get rid of brush. Their thinking was that the brush would "take care of them during droughts."

Of course the reasons for grass being left in and around the brush are easily determined. Some of them are these: (1) The brush presents a physical barrier against grazing the grass, (2) The pricking of thorns presents a mental discomfort against braving the brush plants, (3) With less sunlight and with chemical changes in the soil the grass is tough and less palatable for grazing. Therefore the grass between brush plants is more severely over grazed and trampled. This abuse coupled with its already low state of vigor because of the drought quickly puts the grass into a dormant state. Many grass plants actually die out and must be replaced as the stand recovers from the drought.

It follows then that if the brush were not present, there would be much more moisture available for the growth of grass. Droughts would not hurt nearly as bad and yearly returns from grazing would be increased. The returns from wet years would also be significantly increased.

Now is the time to be considering eliminating or controlling your brush. The effective time is generally when it first gets fully leafed out and is at its peak growing stage in spring and early summer.

For assistance in this operation feel free to call upon the SCS serving Donley County SCD in Clarendon.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

TEXAS GROWTH

It was heartening to learn one probability which will emerge from the 1960 Census figures. According to estimates released last week by the Texas Municipal League, many small towns in the Panhandle and in the State will hold their own or register a steady growth. It is good news that the typical Texas city is a small town — population wise — rather than a metropolis. The report indicates that, although over 50% of the State's population resides in metropolitan centers, Texas small towns have shown a generally consistently healthy growth during the 1950's, and that over 86% of the incorporated municipalities have under 10,000 population.

Certainly no one, least of all me, would be averse to the fact of the growth of any unit in our great State, but it has also been my contention the backbone of our democracy, our economy, and our society is the community life and progress evidenced by our small towns and rural areas.

One aspect which will almost certainly be revealed when the complete Census figures are tabulated is not a particularly happy one. I speak of the declining family farm population, which decline I have opposed at every opportunity, believing it will result in sociological and economic problems which we have not even yet foreseen. It would certainly be my hope that the observation of the League will be correct, to-wit:

"Growth begets growth. As metropolitan Texas grows during the 1960's, small town Texas will benefit with the re-awakening of local agriculture and resources supply activity, development of small manufacturing operations, and other supporting operations necessary to sustain the metropolitan populace."

Among those municipalities in the Panhandle with an estimated 1959 population under 10,000, showing a substantial growth in the 1950's are Hereford, Perryton, Dalhart, Canyon, Tulia, Wellington, Dimmitt, Clarendon, Stinnett, Canadian, Friona, Panhandle, McLean, Stratford, Bovina, and Spearman.

THE LOST BATTALION

It was my great honor and privilege last week to participate in dedication ceremonies of the new Blucher S. Sharp Army Reserve Training Center at Amarillo. The Center was named for Colonel Sharp, the brave and heroic commander of the equally brave and heroic men of the famous Lost Battalion in World War II. The story of the Lost Battalion is one that should be known to every American. Those of you who have not read it, please do. It will bring to your minds that in our day and time the immortal words of Thomas Paine in 1776 are as appropriate now as they were then. Here are those words:

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly; 'tis dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as Freedom should not be highly rated."

We, in the Panhandle, indeed Americans everywhere, are proud and humbly grateful for the magnificent example and sacrifice of the Lost Battalion, the Second Battery, 131st Field Artillery of the Texas National Guard.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

National Library week is almost over April 3-9. It is hoped that the memory will linger on for a long time, as this year's emphasis was on teen-age and young folks reading. It is hoped parents and teachers remember that this year's slogan was "Wake Up and Read," more important that they encourage their children to read for pleasure and not so much required stuff. Most of you have probably read John K. Lageman's, "We Made Reading a Family Affair," for those who haven't, I quote from that article: "A man ought to read as inclination leads him," said Samuel Johnson. Too much insistence on what is good for a child builds up resistance to books just as it does to spinach."

A memorial fund has been given to be dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Louise Butler Cowan. J. B. Priestly's "Literature and the Western Man" has been given in memory of Mrs. Allen Jefferies' brother, Mr. Collinson. The Mother's Study Club gave the library a nice check to buy children's books.

"The Innocent Ambassadors" by Philip Wylie is a companion book of "The Ugly American." Although one is fiction and the other is non-fiction. Mr. Wylie and his wife take us on a most enlightening trip around the world. They plan a trip to Hawaii to see their new grandson but end up going to Japan, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Turkey, Greece and Rome. He has to overcome a phobia, against travel that had its beginning over twenty years ago in a nightmare experience in Russia, to be able to go. You not only see a lot of the sights each country has to offer but meet some wonderful people. Mr. Wylie writes beautifully, a good example is the closing of his book and I quote: "When enough American approach mankind in liberty and brotherhood, we will dispel the gospel of men-as-animals. We will restore men to humanity and we will save liberty. Then our America will survive. Everyone who goes forth in that fashion nowadays or ever, will be welcome. For I have looked into a million brown, beehing eyes, and in all I saw the light of liberty, here dim but there radiant. And all those eyes implored me to tell you."

FRILLS AND FOLLIES

The Geneva, Ohio, Free Press, gives some reasons why government budgets are so incredibly huge: "We spend great sums of interest charges on our public debt, but we do not reduce the principle.

"We carry on massive federal programs which state and local governments could do better.

"We devote large amounts of money to benefit special groups at rates below those the government must pay to its own creditors.

"We perpetuate federal programs which have long since met the objectives for which they were created."

None of these programs, it is important to note, affect the national defense or any other fundamental duty of government. They add up to frills and follies, of the most expensive possible kind.

Know your traffic laws and obey them.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN...

Your electric service—the more you use it, the bigger the bargain—as you put more and more electricity to work in your home, you actually pay less per kilowatt hour.

While today, you are getting more work saving, time saving conveniences out of your electric service than before, your bill is likely to be higher than it used to be. But, remember while you are using so much more electric service, the cost per kilowatt hour is actually 18% less than it was in 1950.

"Annual Signing" Party Held

Local high school students were entertained Friday evening with an "Annual-Signing" party. Sharon Smith and Connie McMurry were hostesses for the event which was held at the McMurry residence.

The high school yearbook, the "Broncho Corral," which was published in El Paso, came off the press last week and the book shipment arrived in Clarendon Friday.

The entire student body was invited, and the yearbooks delivered to their owners. The party was very well attended, and the guests worked feverishly for hours autographing each others books, and penning personal notes.

Snacks were available throughout the evening from two buffet tables. The party was chaperoned by the parents of the hostesses, and by Mr. Jame C. Childers, faculty sponsor of the annual.

CUB FATHERS SEE MOVIE MONDAY NIGHT

A movie was shown to the fathers of Cub Scouts and guests Monday night at the First Christian Church. The movie, "The Outlaw of the Cameron" showed the tracking down and capture of a mountain lion in the heart of South Texas.

Plans for summer activities were discussed. Coffee and donuts were served to the men. The projector for the film was furnished by the Donley County Soil Conservation office.

QUAIL FOOD SUPPLY HELPED BY DISKING

College Station — The cheapest and most effective method for providing food for bobwhite quail is disking strips in old fields and along fence rows.

Disking, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, is often all that is needed to get a good stand of choice quail foods, such as doveweed and partridge peas, growing. This method of turning the soil can be done at little cost and it gives the quail food plants a chance to compete with more vigorous growing ones. An application of fertilizer, the same as used on pastures in the area will greatly increase the food produced, adds Cooper.

The disked strips should be near low-growing brushy cover to give the birds protection from natural enemies while feeding. The specialist emphasizes that quail may not use the choice foods if cover is not available nearby. And, he adds it's easier, cheaper and faster to grow food plants near cover than to develop cover plants near good food supplies.

Research has shown that long strips of disked land, at least 20 feet wide, are better than square blocks. In disking, the soil should be cut only deep enough to turn the grass, usually about 4 inches, says Cooper. And the best time for carrying out the practice is from now through April. The practice works best when the strips are disked in a three-year rotation, explains the conservationist.

Cooper says that livestock usually will not graze the type of plants which will grow on the disked strips, but if domestic food crops are planted for quail food, fencing is required. Too, the seeds of native plants usually last longer. That is important because quail need the food most in winter and early spring when domestic plant seeds have shattered or rotted.

And this final reminder from Cooper, if you like to have quail around the place, provide them food, cover and protection and they'll stay with you.

EATING INTO INCOME

There has been an interminable amount of talk and debate over the subject of inflation. But, it seems, multitudes of people don't relate the problem to their own financial situation.

If you're one of them, consider this item which appears in the March issue of Nation's Business: "Living standards — measured by income — are rising."

"A look ahead shows: Total personal income soon will average $1,900 a year for every man, woman, child in the country. That's the highest ever. But the rise is only half as much as it could be."

"Inflation eats heavily into income. Here are the facts: Total personal income now averages about $625 per person higher than it did 10 years ago. Adjust for loss due to price inflation and you'll find that real purchasing power has gone up only $325 per person."

"Without inflation, purchasing power of each person would have gone up the full $625."

It can be added that if and when inflation reaches the real "runaway" stage, the printing presses can't turn out enough currency to keep up, and any conceivable wage or income boost becomes meaningless. That has happened in country after country in the last 50 years. It could happen here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hefner and Holly of Amarillo visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hefner.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

dence as to the leadership and firmness our children and young adults are getting in our schools. A lecture such as that, did this oldster a lot of good also. This being the Lenten season our thoughts were; how well this applies to attaining the good life, if we would but listen to our Master's voice. Here is a part of the lecture as we remember it. I presume you all want to pass this course, otherwise you would not be here at this time. It will not be easy, if that thought is in your mind you may leave now. I will not tolerate just getting by, you must put in hours at home as well as your hours here. Your tuition has been paid, I am well paid and am at your service any time for help if you need me. The knowledge I have, which was expensive to get, will have been wasted unless you use it, and I will explain over and over again until you do understand. The key is here also for this adult class so there is no reason you cannot pass, if you apply yourself and follow the rules.

This was an accounting class, when the debits and credits were being explained our mind started to wandering . . . Just as had been pointed out here, our Master holds the key, our debt of sin has been paid. He is always near if we need Him. We cannot debit or credit one sin any where except where it belongs, else the book will not balance. It does take courage to enroll, and many leave because the course is too hard.

If you stay with it though, and have faith in your Master, all things fall into place in due time, just as he said it would. All we need to do is to be willing to listen, work at it as you would any job you tackle.

Others who have enrolled are eager to help also, we found out for ourselves, in both courses.

There sure are a lot of fellows who can't play the guitar — who do.

Uncovering the other fellows faults will not cover up our own.

Conservation of our soil and all our other natural and God-given resources is one of the greatest undertakings of our generation. Thirty years ago, and for many years before that time man thought only of clearing the land; it just seemed a natural thing that soil was made for the plow. Now, it gives us a thrill to see the waving grass growing again on some of our crop-land; especially the poor and sloping variety.

The following theme supposedly written by an Indian and submitted in a contest along this line sponsored by one of our newspapers gives a clever and thoughtful explanation of what happened. It was called; White Man Heap Loco.

"White man make big teepee, plow hill, water wash, wind blow, grass gone, land gone, door gone, window gone, whole place gone to pieces. Buck gone, squaw gone too, papoose gone also. No chuch-away, no pig, no corn, no cow, no hay, no pony. White man heap loco."

"Indian no plow land, keep grass, buffalo eat grass, Indian eat buffalo, hide make teepee, also moccasin. Indian no make terrace, no build dam, no give a hoot. All time eat, no hunt job, no hitch hike, no ask relief, no shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass, Indian no waste anything. Indian no work, White man heap loco."

It may be a bit on the extreme but so was the thing most of us did to our land in the not too long ago. Recently a youngster from the city was visiting with his grandparents in the country. On returning home he gave this report; "Mom, Grandpa has an acre and a half of pigs and five hundred cobs of corn."

It is said that an optimist would say that a glass was half full, and that a pessimist looking at the same glass would say that it was half empty. By the same token, the sad one would see life as being full of many troubles, and the happy person would remember the times of joy and gladness.

The optimist would see the future as having many roses along the pathway of life. The pessimist would think of the thorns and briars. The optimist may be disappointed with today because it was not like his dreams, but will still have his hopes for the future. The pessimist can only be miserable in his correct predictions with no hope for a better tomorrow.

The optimist helps to light the candles along the pathway of life when about all the pessimist will do is to curse the darkness and complain about the troublesome road.

To those who must endure us day after day in the home or at our daily tasks we soon become either the spirit of cheerfulness and courage or we become the voice of gloom. We either give them that smile that means encouragement, or a frown to deepen their fears. We read the following little poem someplace and to us it proves the one we had rather be.

No matter how grouchy you're feeling, A smile is always quite healing, It grows like a wreath, all around the front teeth, Thus preserving the face from congealing.

By Keeping Quiet we can sometimes fool people into thinking that we are pretty wise. One of my friends puts it this way; "I would rather keep quiet and have folks think that I am dumb than to speak up and save them know that it is true."

It may be bad manners to talk with your mouth full, but it is awfully boring for someone to talk with his mind empty.

It is said that the children of this day are given most every vitamin in the book except the one called B-Quiet. One good thing about children talking is that they seldom say anything bad about each other.

We all remember the little poem about;

The wise old owl, that sat in an oak
Tht more he heard the less he spoke.
And the less he spoke the more he heard,
Pity that more of us are not like this wise old bird.

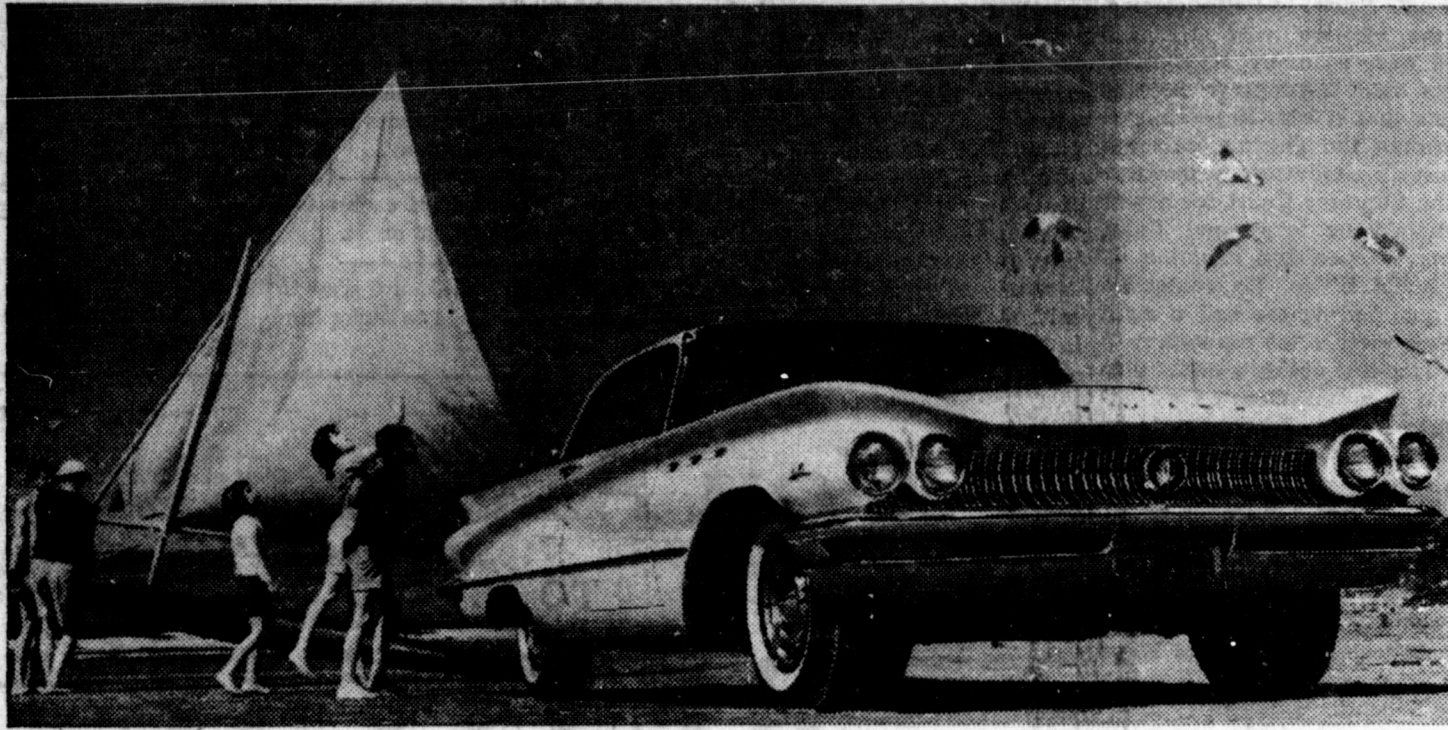

Someone else has said that; "Silence is golden." This is surely true when someone is saying something we had rather not hear. It is not so golden when we are just busting to talk about our last operation or our grandchildren past, present or those to be.

About the worst competition in the talking field are those that talk by the mile and think by the foot . . .

AUSTIN — Texas Democrats have marked June 14 on their calendars. Austinites have circled

it in red. June 14 is the day some 5,000 Texas Democrats will converge on the Capital City for their state convention. It's expected to be many big days rolled into one. It will be the first time in recent memory that the huge colorful gathering has come to Austin. A large new city auditorium and convention center makes it possible. It's the day that comes only once every four years when Texans name delegates to a national presidential nominating convention. But most excitement centers on the fact that Texas Democrats will be assuming what is usually a once-in-a-lifetime role — that of sponsoring a major contender for the presidential nomination. Work is under way in every part of the state to insure that the delegates to Austin will give rousing support to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for favorite son nominee and chairman of the Texas delegation to Los Angeles. Senator Johnson's chances of becoming president were re-emphasized by Gov. Price Daniel and cheered by the State Democratic Executive Committee when the party leaders met to plan the June convention. Committee members selected Dallas for the second state Democratic convention on September 20. Their meeting also was made an occasion for honoring Mrs. Hilda Weinert of Seguin for a quarter century of loyal service to the Texas Democratic party. COURT REJECTS VOTE HAS-SLE — Texas Supreme Court refused to consider a direct appeal from the City of Austin that it order a complete recount of votes in a hotly contested urban renewal election. Issue has had Austinites in a stew for months. It was originally announced after the election in December that urban renewal had carried by a 52-vote margin. Eight property owners contested the election results on grounds that ballots were cast by persons not qualified to vote. After 9 of 18 contested boxes had been opened, District Judge James K. Evetts of Belton declared the election void. He said there were so many disqualified voters and improperly marked ballots that it was impossible to determine the election outcome. Austin's city attorney petitioned the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Evetts to open and examine all the ballot boxes. He contended the qualified voters had a right to have their votes counted. Having lost out on a direct plea to the Supreme Court, City Attorney Doren Eskew said he would go through the usual appeal route, going first to the Third Court of Civil Appeals. COLLEGE HOME DELAYED — Governor Daniel's office and the Legislative Budget Board are to make a "full review" before plans proceed to build an $87,000 home for the president of Sam Houston State Teachers College. A number of legislators hit the ceiling last session over similarly costly homes built for presidents of Southwest Texas State College and Stephen F. Austin State College. Restrictions were written into the current appropriations bill aimed at preventing further expenditures on such a scale. Rp. James M. Cotten, member of the House committee on savings in taxes, wrote the governor to protest what he called a "tremendous waste." Governor Daniel said he had been assured by the chairman of the Board of Regents for State Teachers' Colleges that no action would be taken until everyone interested had had his say. He pointed out, however, that the home was to be built from constitutionally allocated funds to which the legislative appropriation restrictions "have been held not to apply."

MORE JUDGES SUGGESTED — Larger metropolitan areas such as Houston, Dallas and San Antonio may soon need larger Courts of Civil Appeals. This observation was made by Associate Justice James R. Norvell of the Texas Supreme Court and others in a study made for the Texas Civil Judicial Council. Judge Norvell suggested that five judges, rather than three, may be needed soon for the courts in the city areas. Supreme Court, the study also noted, may also soon need some further restrictions on cases it will handle to prevent too heavy dockets. Civil Appeals Courts were created to keep everything from going to the Supreme Court, but the high court is flooded with appeals from these courts. Judge Norvell suggested limiting the Supreme Court to constitutional issues and cases where there is a conflict in judicial decisions. OIL ALLOWABLE CUT — Railroad Commission cut the state's oil production for April after testimony that both crude oil and gasoline were in oversupply. April allowable will be 2,814,252 barrels a day, a cut of 123,029 barrels a day from March. Number of producing days was cut from 10 to 9. Oilmen told the Commission that other states, such as Louisiana and Mississippi had not cut back production to offset the oversupply as Texas has. This state, said one Texas executive bitterly, is taking the "backlash" of the situation. TIGHTER DRIVING LAW — Legislation that would crack down on the driver who does not even have a drivers license has been proposed for the next session. Rep. Ben Lewis of Dallas said that under present law a person who drives without having a license can only be hauled before a city court and fined about $10. By contrast, he said, a license holder who gets three tickets and has his license suspended can, if he drives during the suspension, be put in jail and fined as much as $500. Lewis said he would propose a series of stiffer penalties for the people who cannot pass driver tests but drive anyway. The world is full of cactus but we don't have to sit on it. The only safe and sure way to destroy an enemy is to make him your friend. —

Ask The Men Who Use It . . . They Say:

LIQUID FERTILIZER
Is the Best . . .

Dan and Don Day, identical twins, farm four sections of irrigated land — as well as overseeing nine sections of ranchland, 25 miles northwest of Brownfield. This is their second year to use Liquid Fertilizers. Between the two of them they have approximately 1,000 acres of cotton — with the balance of their land in Milo. In questioning them about their farm operations, they had this to say about Liquid Fertilizers:

Dan: "We have been farming long enough to know that we have to do everything possible to lower the cost of production. We compared the cost of Liquid Fertilizer to its equivalent in dry and we found that we could save about $2 per acre on the initial cost, plus the savings in labor, time required to put it down, and we like the easy way Liquid Fertilizers handle."

Don: "We are using two 5-row applicators equipped with 12-hole John Blue squeeze pumps. With the addition of 1-row over the conventional 4-row equipment, we are getting more Liquid Fertilizer down (up to 80 acres per day) and at the same time we are cutting down on the pneumatic packing of our land. We do all of our planting and cultivating with 6-row equipment and we are satisfied to make about a bale-and-a-half per acre. We feel that we could possibly increase our production, but at the same time it would increase our cost, and maybe not increase our net profit." (Don is the one in Levis and Dan has on khakis.)

Don and Dan said: "Last year we used Liquid Fertilizer, and at the end of the year the savings amazed us. This year we are applying (pre-planting) 40-lbs. of Nitrogen, 40-lbs of Phosphate and 20-lbs. of Potash. This will only be the starter — we will side-dress at least once and possibly twice. We are of the opinion that it is better to apply plant nutrients as the plants need or can use them, than it is to try and feed the plants all at one time," the twins added. "Liquid Fertilizers are one of the best things that has come along to help farmers increase their production and at the same time lower production costs. We're sold on them!"

are almost wholly edible. Therefore it is obvious that where brush exists in notable amounts there is wholesale robbery of valuable, much needed moisture. Forage production by grasses is somewhat lessened even in wet years. In dry years grass production is cut drastically. Brush is a higher order of vegetation and not only has an advantage in competition for moisture but also for space and sunlight. Plants, like people, require a certain amount of "space" in which to live and derive much of their energy from sunlight.

It is true that many times it appears that the only grass a man has left has been "saved" by the brush or is growing in or around brush plants with the spaces between brush virtually bare. At first examination this situation is misleading. It has led some operators to presume that it would be foolish to get rid of brush. Their thinking was that the brush would "take care of them during droughts."

Of course the reasons for grass being left in and around the brush are easily determined. Some of them are these: (1) The brush presents a physical barrier against grazing the grass, (2) The pricking of thorns presents a mental discomfort against braving the brush plants, (3) With less sunlight and with chemical changes in the soil the grass is tough and less palatable for grazing. Therefore the grass between brush plants is more severely over grazed and trampled. This abuse coupled with its already low state of vigor because of the drought quickly puts the grass into a dormant state. Many grass plants actually die out and must be replaced as the stand recovers from the drought.

would be much more moisture available for the growth of grass. Droughts would not hurt nearly as bad and yearly returns from grazing would be increased. The returns from wet years would also be significantly increased.

Now is the time to be considering eliminating or controlling your brush. The effective time is generally when it first gets fully leafed out and is at its peak growing stage in spring and early summer.

My husband and I put three children through high school and junior college here, but that's the first time I ever saw how beautiful and nice the school parties are. I think every parent should see them. You would be proud of your girls and boys. At the party at the Legion Hall they were trying to do their part to make it their night. Although some could not dance, they tried to get as much out of the party as they could. Some will never be there again. Thanks to Mrs. Bill Todd for inviting us. Other cars didn't even come close. The Motor Trend experts, who evaluated every make in the country, were unanimous in their decision, published in the April issue. TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

It was heartening to learn one probability which will emerge from the 1960 Census figures. According to estimates released last week by the Texas Municipal League, many small towns in the Panhandle and in the State will hold their own or register a steady growth. It is good news that the typical Texas city is a small town — population wise — rather than a metropolis. The report indicates that, although over 50% of the State's population resides in metropolitan centers, Texas small towns have shown a generally consistently healthy growth during the 1950's, and that over 86% of the incorporated municipalities have under 10,000 population.

Certainly no one, least of all me, would be averse to the fact of the growth of any unit in our great State, but it has also been my contention the backbone of our democracy, our economy, and our society is the community life and progress evidenced by our small towns and rural areas.

One aspect which will almost certainly be revealed when the complete Census figures are tabulated is not a particularly happy one. I speak of the declining family farm population, which decline I have opposed at every opportunity, believing it will result in sociological and economic problems which we have not even yet foreseen. It would certainly be my hope that the observation of the League will be correct, to-wit:

"Growth begets growth. As metropolitan Texas grows during the 1960's, small town Texas will benefit with the re-awakening of local agriculture and resources supply activity, development of small manufacturing operations, and other supporting operations necessary to sustain the metropolitan populace."

Among those municipalities in the Panhandle with an estimated 1959 population under 10,000, showing a substantial growth in the 1950's are Hereford, Perryton, Dalhart, Canyon, Tulia, Wellington, Dimmitt, Clarendon, Stinnett, Canadian, Friona, Panhandle, McLean, Stratford, Bovina, and Spearman.

THE LOST BATTALION
It was my great honor and

privilege last week to participate in dedication ceremonies of the new Blucher S. Sharp Army Reserve Training Center at Amarillo. The Center was named for Colonel Sharp, the brave and heroic commander of the equally brave and heroic men of the famous Lost Battalion in World War II. The story of the Lost Battalion is one that should be known to every American. Those of you who have not read it, please do. It will bring to your minds that in our day and time the immortal words of Thomas Paine in 1776 are as appropriate now as they were then. Here are those words:

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly; 'tis dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as Freedom should not be highly rated."

We, in the Panhandle, indeed Americans everywhere, are proud and humbly grateful for the magnificent example and sacrifice of the Lost Battalion, the Second Battery, 131st Field Artillery of the Texas National Guard.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

National Library week is almost over April 3-9. It is hoped that the memory will linger on for a long time, as this year's emphasis was on teen-age and young folks reading. It is hoped parents and teachers remember that this year's slogan was "Wake Up and Read," more important that they encourage their children to read for pleasure and not so much required stuff. Most of you have probably read John K. Lageman's, "We Made Reading a Family Affair," for those who haven't, I quote from that article: "A man ought to read as inclination leads him," said Samuel Johnson. Too much insistence on what is good for a child builds up resistance to books just as it does to spinach."

A memorial fund has been given to be dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Louise Butler Cowan. J. B. Priestly's "Literature and the Western Man" has been given in memory of Mrs. Allen Jefferies' brother, Mr. Collinson. The Mother's Study Club gave the library a nice check to buy children's books.

"The Innocent Ambassadors" by Philip Wylie is a companion book of "The Ugly American." Although one is fiction and the other is non-fiction. Mr. Wylie and his wife take us on a most enlightening trip around the world. They plan a trip to Hawaii to see their new grandson but end up going to Japan, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Turkey, Greece and Rome. He has to overcome a phobia, against travel that had its beginning over twenty years ago in a nightmare experience in Russia, to be able to go. You not only see a lot of the sights each country has to offer but meet some wonderful people. Mr. Wylie writes beautifully, a good example is the closing of his book and I quote: "When enough American approach mankind in liberty and brotherhood, we will dispel the gospel of men-as-animals. We will restore men to humanity and we will save liberty. Then our America will survive. Everyone who goes forth in that fashion nowadays or ever, will be welcome. For I have looked into a million brown, beehing eyes, and in all I saw, the light of liberty, here dim but there radiant. And all those eyes implored me to tell you."

FRILLS AND FOLLIES

The Geneva, Ohio, Free Press, gives some reasons why government budgets are so incredibly huge: "We spend great sums of interest charges on our public debt, but we do not reduce the principle."

"We carry on massive federal programs which state and local governments could do better. "We devote large amounts of money to benefit special groups at rates below those the government must pay to its own creditors."

"We perpetuate federal programs which have long since met the objectives for which they were created."

None of these programs, it is important to note, affect the national defense or any other fundamental duty of government. They add up to frills and follies, of the most expensive possible kind.

Know your traffic laws and obey them.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL WEEK

April 1-7

Texas Industry and Reddy Kilowatt are old friends. The West Texas Utilities Company, itself a growing West Texas industry, is starting the "Soaring Sixties" with construction of new power plants, transmission and distribution lines, and other facilities to provide more and more power to spark the industrial development of West Texas.

Industry in West Texas means more people, more jobs, and more payrolls, which mean more business and a better living for all of us. West Texas Utilities is building ahead to provide the power for a growing industrial West Texas.

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN...

Your electric service — the more you use it, the bigger the bargain — as you put more and more electricity to work in your home, you actually pay less per kilowatt hour.

While today, you are getting more work saving, time saving conveniences out of your electric service than before, your bill is likely to be higher than it used to be. But, remember while you are using so much more electric service, the cost per kilowatt hour is actually 18% less than it was in 1950.
