

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

We keep hearing, "I'll be glad when it's over" beginning with the U.N. Spectacle, then the World Series, and now the political speeches and debates.

The first two complaints we would have never believed had we not seen them with our own two eyes. The last one is something else, this wooing the American people with every means possible. Like it or not it's going to be with us a while yet, and we hope come November the 8th, it still will not be over.

Who ever is the victor, public sentiment can still play a big roll in the shape of things to come. That is if we stay alert, and not get back into that apathetic state we were in, during those innocent years. We can let Congress in both State and National bodies know how we want our country run, or fire them right soon.

Abraham Lincoln had this to say about it. "Public sentiment is everything. With public sentiment nothing can fail; without it nothing can succeed; consequently he who molds public sentiment goes deeper than he who enacts statutes." It is no different now than then, just more so, and as long as there is a public to woo, there will be a politician to woo us.

Donley County Soil Conservation District News

W. P. Doherty
T. C. D'Spain

Frank Hommel

Clarence Reynolds, Martin Community farmer, was recently elected to the Donley County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors by farmers and ranchers of zone two of this district. The District expresses its sincere appreciation to Mr. Frank

The old divide and conquer tactics may work too well in this election though. For an example: it's hard to find any one expressing an opinion to which you can say, those are my sentiments exactly. . . . There is more caution in conversations, and we hope more thought than ever before being given to this election.

There is good news for the family size farmers. Farm Journal in the latest issue gives the figures on the 1960 census.

A small gain in large farm of 500-1000 acres. A sharp decline in small "marginal" farms. A modest increase in millions of middle-size family-type farms.

Now George can't figure out which class he is in, so he can conform to statistics.

Hommel, outgoing supervisor of zone two, for services rendered.

The first Tuesday in October each year landowners from one zone in each of the Soil Conservation Districts over the state assemble in "conventions" and elect their representative on the District's Board of Supervisors. Supervisors are elected for a five year term. By rotating the elections by zones, one supervisor's term expires each year. Only residing landowners may vote or qualify as supervisors.

Mr. Reynolds will receive no salary, however, he will receive four dollars for expenses in attending meetings plus car mileage. Normally, the supervisors meet once a month, but outside of these meetings they have numerous other duties for which they receive no pay.

You, as landowners, are encouraged to support and cooperate with your supervisor in carrying out effective and continuous action in controlling soil erosion and in making the land permanently productive.

"Kidney pad" or "kindney plaster" was the contemptuous name the cowboy gave the small riding saddle often used by Easterners.

IN TEXAS YOU PAY 90¢ TAX ON TEN GALLONS OF GASOLINE!

HOW DID YOU VOTE?

No matter how you voted, these facts on gasoline taxes are important to you:

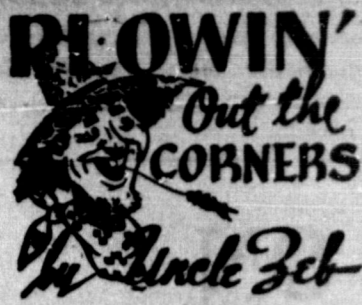

- Everywhere in Texas, car owners pay 90¢ tax on every 10 gallons of gasoline they buy!
- Gasoline taxes across the nation amount to a 50% sales tax—and that's five times as high as the tax rate on luxuries like diamonds and mink coats!
- Since World War II, there have been three increases in the Federal gasoline tax alone. This brought the Federal tax to 4 cents a gallon, in addition to the State tax of 5 cents a gallon!
- In the last ten years gasoline taxes have skyrocketed 51%—yet the price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period!
- Each year the average motor vehicle owner in this state pays $78 for gasoline taxes alone. That's just a few dollars less than the average week's pay for most people!

HIGHWAYS AND GASOLINE TAXES

Your gasoline retailer, naturally, favors construction of the roads that the motoring public needs. He believes in fair and reasonable taxation for this purpose but feels that taxes on gasoline have now reached unreasonably high levels. He also believes that all special taxes on the motorist should be used only for highway purposes. Yet last year, out of every automobile tax dollar collected by the Federal Government from highway users, more than 40 cents went for non-highway purposes. If these automotive tax revenues were dedicated for highway purposes, there would be no need for the latest increase in the federal gasoline tax.

The Gasoline You Buy Is Taxed Too HIGH!

Presented in public interest by the Gasoline Tax Education Committee, 575 Lexington Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Riding our highways we always find it interesting to read the signs along the way. Everything from the Burma Shave signs to names of people in business. In Iowa Park we noticed a business whose owner was named Nick Demas. We passed by too fast to see if there was a sycamore tree. A sign near McKinney which advertised a funeral home had for its slogan "First in Service." Undoubtedly their service is good but we just wouldn't want it first.

Banner over the street in Greenville reads; "Welcome to Greenville. The whitest people and the blackest land." The friendliness of the people was wonderful, and we know that on the inside all of them must be the best, but right off we did notice almost as much contrast in color as had been in the beautiful foliage along the highway. At Denton we noticed an eating place with this sign; Pat Boone's Country Inn. It was beautiful but nothing about it looked like it would match our old country boy's pocketbook.

The banker at Point, Texas, as far as we know would not swear at all, but he does have the following sign on his bank; The First State Bank—the best bank in Texas by a dam site. The explanation being that the bank was located right by the site of the Iron Bridge Dam.

We believe that Farmersville would hold the record of having its city limit sign the farthest from the edge of town. This would be looking to the future. We see towns that seem to be mostly gas stations, but Edgewood northeast of Dallas has roadside stands by the dozens. The folks we asked didn't know why. Perhaps one made good and the others just entered into the competition.

The Fair at Big D. Everyone should attend it once in awhile, not only because it is a good fair as fairs go, but just to prove they can still take it. It is either much bigger than ever or we can't make it as far.

We attended our Rural Youth Day and we have never seen as many youngsters anywhere at any one given time. Miracle of the age was the way the businessmen of Dallas and the Fair Association fed every last one of them, including their sponsors and thousands of relatives. Hot dogs that should they have been placed end to end would have reached miles an miles. Soda pop by the barrels, even cookies and potato chips. It looked like an impossibility. Boys went through the 20 odd lines until they had to drop the last one in the dirt.

To us the most interesting building was the one with exhibits and items from most of the countries of the world. We could spend hours and hours with this one exhibit. It was a miniature world fair.

The women would take us to the art building. We could spend hours here too, but not looking at this think called modern art. Honestly, following through on the theory that the worse it is the better it is, there was plenty one could call terrible. One lone consolation; whatever it is that our modern American Art doesn't have, the Italian brand of modern art doesn't have it even more abundantly. Not only was it impossible to tell what was on the canvas but without the explanation one couldn't have told what the artist had on his mind.

Tired physically, poorer financially, but some wiser mentally we leaves the Fair in Big D and head for deep East Texas and Louisiana.

Marshall, Texas—One can't go much farther east and stay in Texas than Marshall. At least we can't and still stay with our brother-in-law. Wonderful as he and his wife were to us we just couldn't think of missing this opportunity.

From this point we drove to Tyler for the famous Rose Festival. We have never in all our life seen so many beautiful roses. Nature gave this place the soil and climate to grow gorgeous roses and these forward looking folks took advantage of the opportunity to make their town known around the world because of their Rose Festival.

Speaking of Marshall we found out several things which to us were very interesting. For instance, we didn't know that at one time this town was the capitol of Missouri. We were told that during the Civil War for safety's sake this early Texas town did actually house the capitol of this great battle ground state.

We attend Sunday services along with our folks in the First Methodist Church. On the program we noticed that this church was organized in 1845. We found out later that a large part of the framework of the original building is still in use. It has been redone in beautiful modern style and built on to in most every direction. But, the framework of a large part of the auditorium is still in use and looks good for another hundred years. The original building was built by slave labor.

As Pastor Harold Fagan spoke on using our abilities we could but think how this historic old building had been used. He said; That which we refuse to use. We will eventually lose.

Note; Next we head for Arkansas looking to the beautiful foliage, and Festival time.

A horse that bucks high or stands on his hind feet and paws the air is said to be "chinning the moon."

Don't just drive; drive just right.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

Conservation Reserve Contracts Require Control of Weeds

Any farmer who fails to take steps to prevent his Conservation Reserve acreage from becoming a source of spreading noxious weeds violates his contract, Chairman Cooke of the Donley County ASC said this month.

"The Conservation Reserve contract specifically requires the farmer to keep noxious weeds under control," Mr. Cooke said. "Failure to do so may result in the forfeiture or refund of the total annual payments for the farm plus the amount of cost-sharing for carrying out the conservation use on the particular field."

Commenting on questions received about the Conservation Reserve as a source of weeds, the chairman said that false impressions may result at times from weeds growing on land not connected with the program. In any farming area, he points out, there are areas of idle land, fallow land, roadways, and similar tracts that provide places for the development of weed growth. "Actually," Mr. Cooke said, "very few weed violations of Conservation Reserve contracts are being found, either in Texas or elsewhere in the country. The ASC county office makes yearly inspections of Conservation Reserve acreage, plus such additional spot checks as are necessary. We will appreciate it if anyone who believes he knows of cases where noxious weeds are not being properly controlled on Conservation Reserve acreage will notify the county ASC office so that corrective action can be taken."

Designated as noxious weeds in Texas for purposes of the Conservation Reserve are:

1. Sunflowers
2. Russian thistles
3. Cockleburrs

Announcing The 1961 ACP

Donley County ACP Program has been under way since September, 1960, according to Mr. Cooke, Chairman of the Donley County ASC Committee. Mr. Cooke points out that the 1961 ACP will be substantially the same as that for the 1960 program. County and community ASC Committeemen will administer the ACP as in the past years.

The ACP Program is designed to help farmers establish needed conservation practices on the land. Donley County received an allocation of $65,640.00 for the 1961 program.

Farmers who are interested in carrying out some of the following ACP practices with cost-sharing should contact the County ASC office:

- A- 2 Permanent Pasture
- A- 3 Increase Rotation Pasture
- B- 1 Pasture Improvement
- B- 2 Deferred Grazing
- B- 3 Controlling Competitive Shrubs
- B- 5 Stockwater Well
- B- 7 Stockwater Dam
- C- 1 Sod Waterway
- C- 4 Standard Terraces
- C- 5 Diversion Terraces
- C- 6 Erosion Control Dam
- C- 7 Drop Structure
- C-12 Reorganizing Irrig. System
- C-13 Land Leveling
- D-1a Winter Legumes
- D- 2 Summer Legumes
- E- 1 Stubble Mulching
- E-3a Deep Plowing
- E-3b Listing and Chiseling
- E-3c Bindweed Control
- F-1a Seeding Rye
- F-1d Applying Cotton Burs
- F-1g Shore Protection

ACP Emergency Flood Damage Program

Donley County has received an allocation to assist farmers and ranchers in repairing the damage done to terraces and dams by the flood rains that occurred last spring in our county. Cost-sharing assistance will be based on a percentage of the actual cost of carrying out the work. For this reason, if the work is not done by a contractor, it will be necessary for the farmer or rancher to furnish written statements of the actual cost on each practice carried out.

Wheat Program For 1961

The wheat program for 1961 will be essentially the same as for 1960. Farmers who have a wheat allotment of less than 15 acres or no allotment at all may plant up to 15 acres of wheat on the farm and market the total production without penalty. The minimum price support for the 1961 crop has been announced at $1.78 per bushel on a national average.

SOCIETY MEETING HELD IN CLARENDON

A meeting of the Eastern District of the Plains Presbyterian Society was held Tuesday, October 18, at the Clarendon Presbyterian Church. The Eastern District is made up of nine churches and eight of this number were represented. These included churches of Pampa, White Deer, Canadian, Memphis, Childress, Borger, McLean, and Clarendon. Perryton, the other member church, had no representatives in attendance.

Chairman for the day was Mrs. Ronald E. Hubbard of Pampa. Mrs. Edgar Hubbard of White Deer was program chairman. Scripture for the day was "Brace up your minds as men who know what they are doing."

Registration and a coffee began at 8:45 a.m. with the meeting called to order at 9:25 a.m. Guest speaker was Mrs. Ned Edwards of Kansas City, Missouri. "Dedication and Challenge" was her message of the morning. Lunch was served during the noon hour to about one hundred church people.

Sectional and committee meetings were held in the afternoon with the following leaders: Administration, Mrs. J. T. Nichols of Tulsa; Fellowship, Mrs. Louis Reed of Lamesa; Program, Mrs. Edgar Hubbard of White Deer; Circle, Mrs. John B. McCrery of Pampa; and Bible Study, Mrs. Ronald Hubbard of Pampa.

Offering and dedication of the "Least Coin" was made. This offering is taken during the month of October by Presbyterians the world over.

This meeting was an interpretation of the Presbyterian program agencies: Christian Education, Mrs. Wayland Trimble of Plainview; National Missions, Mrs. Ned Edwards of Kansas City. Literature for 1961 was on display.

The Clarendon church was the host church and the interest shown in this meeting was most gratifying.

John Jones took his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George McKee, to San Antonio Monday where they will visit the McKee's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McKee and Craig.

Cub Scout News

The monthly pack meeting of the Clarendon Cub Scouts will be a Halloween Party for Cub Scouts and their families only tonight. We will meet in the basement of the First Christian Church at 7:30. All Cubs and their brothers and sisters must come dressed as Halloween spooks of their choice.

We now have 3 new dens, one at Goodnight, one at Ashtola, and one at Martin. We wish to extend welcome to these new boys and their families.

All Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers will meet Saturday morning at 9:30 in front of the City Hall. This will be a combined effort to go from door to door and place doorknob cards urging citizens to make a record vote in the November 8th election.

"GOOD CITIZENS VOTE!"

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Behrens and Elaine, Joan Woods, and Delores Bohannon of Childress attended the West Texas-Hardin Simmons football game at Abilene Saturday afternoon.

Angus Wins Third At State Fair

Gene Floyd, Donley County 4-H Club boy from Hedley, took third place in the middleweight Angus division at the State Fair of Texas. County Agent H. M. Breedlove said that Gene's steer weighed 1,030 and sold for thirty-five cents per pound. Gene has five steers on feed for the spring shows this coming year.

ATTENDS STATE MEET

Miss Ruth Richerson, County School Superintendent, was in Corpus Christi last week where she attended a meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association as a delegate from this county.
