Buster Dunn Receives Broken Leg in Car-Scooter Accident

Buster Dunn, a nephew of Mrs. Don Wooten and who has been making his home with the Wootens, received a broken left leg late Monday afternoon at the stop-light intersection on main street when his motor scooter was struck by a car driven by L. H. Price of this city.

Constable R. C. Hill, who investigated the accident, reported young Dunn going east and Price traveling west but making a left hand turn at the light to go up main street. Buster was following close to another car in the intersection when Price made his turn. By the time that Price saw the youngster and applied his brakes it was too late.

Constable Hill reported that young Dunn did not have a driver's license and was too young to receive same. He said a license was required to operate a scooter just the same as an automobile and a youngster must be 14 years of age to receive a license.

Hill pointed out that regardless of who might be responsible for an accident, an operator without a license is in the wrong to begin with and all youngsters who operate a scooter should be qualified to do so and the same applies to driving an automobile.

LAST RED CHECK REMINDER FOR SOME

Due to the high cost of newsprint, low advertising lineage and production cost, we are going to have to reduce our subscription list to The Leader to those who are currently paid up to date. A number of subscribers names were dropped last week and more will join them this week end if renewals are not received promptly.

Since a large number of subscribers came in last week and paid up, errors can be made, so please check the date opposite your name and see if the figures correspond with your records. If they are not correct, please let us know immediately and corrections will be made. If you wait for several months to call a correction to our attention, it causes considerable trouble that could otherwise be omitted.

If a red check mark appears at the top of this page, it is a reminder that your subscription has expired or will expire this month.

Hedley-Lakeview Beat Cubs-Sox in All-Star Game Tuesday night

The Little League baseball season came to an end Tuesday night with an exciting all-star game being played on the local diamond as a climax.

Players were chosen from the four teams in the league with Hedley and Lakeview players making up one team and players from the Clarendon Cubs and Sox making up the other team.

The Hedley-Lakeview team came out victorious in the 8-inning game that lasted until 11:30 and was exciting all the way. The final score was 13 to 10 in favor of the visitors.

At the end of the first three innings, it looked really bad for the local team with the visitors leading 9-0 but the Cub-Sox combination came back and really put up a battle that put them within two runs of the visitors at one time.

A loud speaker system with Horace McClellan doing the announcing, made the game much more interesting as fans could keep up with the players much better as its hard to tell who's who sitting in a car a little distance away from the diamond.

Don Davis and Dub Tyler, managers of the Cubs will fet their team and any of their parents who wish to attend, with a swimming party etc. Thursday evening. Members of the Cub team are to be at the Little League diamond promptly at 5 o'clock for this event.

Broadcast of Methodist Services to Continue

Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor, announced yesterday that radio broadcast of Sunday services would continue indefinitely in the future. The Sunday broadcast has been tried the past two Sundays on a trial basis and proved quite successful before the broadcasting equipment was purchased by the church.

This new service was added by the church for the benefit of those who are unable to attend due to illness and other reasons.

Morning services will be broadcast at 10:50 a.m. and evening services at 7 p.m. You can turn your radio dial to 1100 k.c. to tune in the services. Reception is expected to be quite good from 5 to 10 mile radius as power lines pick up the signal. If you live near a power line within this radius you should be able to pick up a good reception.

"Cash In Advance" Policy A "Must"

This notice and reminder is directed to those forgetful people who insert advertisements in The Leader and conveniently or otherwise forget to come in and pay for their ad.

Our policy is "cash in advance" for all classified advertisements unless person inserting ad has a regular monthly open account with The Leader. Otherwise we would be spending half our time sending out statements for 50 cents or amounts less than a dollar . . . plus postage and possibly sending out statements two or three months before the money comes in.

A good portion of those who call in their advertisements, come by and pay for them promptly. The others may have good intentions but never get by which makes it hard on the ones who take care of their affairs in a business-like manner.

If you call in an ad and say that you will be by to pay for it, you had better do just that by mid-afternoon Tuesday or your ad will not appear in the classified column. We are going to stick to our "Cash in advance" policy. We want to do our best to render you a good service but we expect to receive our money just as other merchants do.

Crops Beginning to Need Moisture in Most Parts of Donley County

FARM NEWS

RIGHT NEIGHBOR!

Let's watch the FINAL DATE on your notice of excess acreage if you intend to destroy the excess and place the farm into compliance. The acreage must be deposited at the ASCS office on or before the expiration date as shown on the notice of excess.

PERFORMANCE

Your fine cooperation with reporters who are measuring crops is appreciated. We hope to have all measurements completed on all allotment, soil bank and feed grain crops on farms in the near future. We are about 85 percent complete on Feed Grain farms and 90 percent complete on cotton farms.

WOOL PAYMENTS FOR 1960

Payments under the 1960 national wool program have been made in Donley County. The payments are in connection with marketing of wool and unshorn lambs during the year from April 1, 1960 through March 31, 1961.

CONSERVATION RESERVE

Periodic checks of the C.R. acres will continue to be made. Please check to see that no grazing or harvesting is done and also that noxious weeds are controlled.

COMMUNITY AND COUNTY COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

The election for Community Committeemen and delegates to the county convention will be held by mail again this year. In accordance with our regulations anyone may petition the community committee to have the name of his candidate added to the slate of nominees. Any such petition must be signed by at least 10 eligible voters residing in the community before it can be accepted by the community committee.

1962 WHEAT REFERENDUM

The date for holding the 1962 Wheat Referendum is August 24, 1961. Most of you are probably well aware of the purpose of this election, but for those of you who may not be, we will get information to you between now and August 24.

FEED GRAIN PAYMENTS

The final payments will be made after Sept. 1, 1961 to eligible producers. Proper use of diverted acres is one of the conditions under the Feed Grain Program. As you receive your Notice of Acreage, be sure to watch the final date for adjustments.

Cotton and row crops are holding up fair under present warm weather conditions but farmers of tight land say they are going to need moisture soon or crops will be cut considerably. Crops on sandy soil are just the opposite and are just beginning to grow again after being water-logged for several weeks.

July rains caused a quick growth and made plants real tender and with the sun and wind doing their bit to draw out the top moisture, these plants will suffer fast. Farmers who have irrigation wells are running their pumps day and night on tight land in an effort to keep their crops from burning and cutting the yield.

Over a period of the last seven days, the temperature has ranged from 95 to 99 degrees and the mercury had a good start Wednesday toward the century mark. During the seven day period the mercury hit 98 two days, a 96 and a 97. Sunday and Monday nights the low temperature was 56 and a 58 was recorded Tuesday night. These cool nights help crops considerably.

The Amarillo weather forecast Wednesday indicated a good possibility of showers toward the week end. For those who want the moisture, we hope it comes in time to do their crops the most good.

Annual Country Club Chicken Barbecue Set for August 24

Bill Porter, president of the Clarendon Country Club, announced this week that the Club's annual chicken barbecue would be held the evening of Thursday, Aug. 24.

Members are allowed to bring as many guests as they like for this occasion. Order the chickens you will need for your group and bring your own trimmings.

The chickens will be 85 cents per half. Tickets for the number of chickens you will need may be purchased at Clarendon Food Store, Coca-Cola Bottling plant or Arvis Davis at Alderson Chevrolet. The deadline for purchasing tickets for chicken is Wednesday, Aug. 23 at 9 a.m. All chicken will be furnished by the club so the size of the fowl may be kept uniform and a better job of barbecuing can be performed by Flip Breedlove and his crew. Make your plans now to attend this annual affair and remember you can bring as many guests as you like, Porter concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. James of Dumas visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. James over the week end.

FOR ADDED MOBILITY. These U. S. Army "Rolling Liquid Transporters (RLTs)", being towed by a standard 2 1/2-ton Army truck, undergo tests by Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. technicians. Designed by the Transportation Corps, these transporters serve as refueling stations for military vehicles of combat units. An RLT consists of two tire-like containers with a capacity of 500 gallons of fuel in each container. The RLTS can transport petroleum products cross-country, over mud, sand, swamp, ice or snow. Capable of floating, they also can be shipped by airplane and dropped by parachute.

LIGHTNING RODS CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

A metal covered building without adequate grounding is not protected against lightning. W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer, says that proper grounding of such buildings, especially metal roofed structures, will prevent many fires.

Lightning protection is very inexpensive and easy to provide, Allen continues. All buildings with metal roofs or sides can be protected by grounding the roof at all four corners. This can be done by flattening the end of a piece of 1/2 or 3/4 inch galvanized iron or steel pipe and bending it so that it may be attached by bolts to the drip edge of the roof. For support, galvanized steel screw hooks should be placed on the side of the building and bent shut over the pipe.

After the pipe has been firmly attached to the roof, it may then be attached by galvanized wire rope clamps to a 1/2 or 3/4 inch pipe driven eight to ten feet into the ground. This ground pipe should be placed as close as possible to the building's foundation, Allen explains. The installation of these lightning rods can save you a great deal of money by preventing lightning damage.

FLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

Uncle Zeb

A Morning Prayer Thought
I love with love to last the day
ough to keep all hate away.

To have a feeling of love to-rd our fellowman is the ndest way to begin the day. To ish the day and still have that ne good attitude is to have ieved successful living.

It has been said that no one
i hurt us by their hate, but en they have caused us to hate return then we have really en damaged in our heart.

Another has said that love is e a giant magnet, drawing hun hearts closer together. A ndly smile and a cheerful llow are sure to bring the same sponse from those we meet.
ese are tokens of our love for e another.

The beautiful sunset, the glorious sunrise, and in-between essed sleep are said to be the idences of Divine Love. We uld add to these the flowers,
e mountains, along with the
ue sky and the bubbling brooks.
e love of loved ones, the smile
a baby, and the song of the rds are the most perfect re-inders of this Divine Love.

Nothing in the world can crowd e sunshine of happiness out of ur lives as can the clouds of
ate. By the same token the siler lining will begin to show rough when we can face the orld with love filling our heart.

The trouble is, it is not something we can turn on and off as a light switch. Actually, it is a personality which moves in with us, little at a time perhaps, until we both become one.

TIME is a most valuable gift.
The best way to save time is to spend it wisely. If we take time to live, life will find time to give.
There is an old saying which goes like this: "Nothing should be done in haste but catching flies."

We have heard that "Haste
makes waste," and that "Wasted
time is cut out for lazy folks."
At first glance some of these sayings may seem to conflict but not so if we put things in the proper place. It is easy to be so busy climbing the tree that we fail to gather any apples.

Today is the part of time that really counts. Tomorrow may be only speculation, and yesterday only a dream. Our future will be taken care of if we spend today wisely. Tomorrow's past will also be taken care of when we do the best we can today.

Another put it this way, "Yesterday is a cancelled check; tomorrow is a promissary note; today is red-ink cash—spend it wisely." If we spend our time dreaming about the past, our future
will be only a dream when today is gone. Our tomorrows will be brighter only when we make today better than yesterday.

If we are satisfied with yesterday, likely we haven't tried to do anything worthwhile today.

We can be so busy trying to do something that we forget to take time to be something. It is mighty good to be important, but it is more important to be good.
It is a good idea to stop and think,

just so long as we don't stop thinking.

Doing Right is a worthy goal,
but we have lost the battle if we reach the point that we will not admit we could be wrong.

There is an old Chinese Proverb which goes something like the following: "If there is righteousness in the heart, there will be beauty in the character. If there is beauty in the character,
there will be harmony in the home. If there is harmony in the home, there will be order in the nation. When there is order in the nation, there will be peace
in the world."

Doing Right is the only safe preventive for a guilty conscience.
The bad thing about this ailment caused by a guilty feeling is that there are few ways to get cured. We can't go to our doctor and get pills that will help.
Dieting won't do us any good either. This is one problem where the ounce of prevention is the only help for the cure.

Right living will help us to have good neighbors. The best way to have a good neighborhood

is to volunteer to help build one.
Someone has said that it is not enough to only be responsible for our responsibilities. We need to also be responsive to them.

There is no limit to how much good a fellow can do, if he doesn't care who gets the credit. Tootin'
our own horn makes us a "Road-
hog" on the highway of life.

The best way to improve our reputation is to start out trying to be on the inside what we want to appear on the outside.

If we stay on the right track,
we won't get switched on the side-track.

FOWL POX STILL AROUND

Fowl pox does not ordinarily cause significant death losses,
but is important from the economic viewpoint. An outbreak of the disease in a poultry flock
results in poor growth and feed utilization, reduced production and an increased number of cull birds. The earliest available history noted its presence in birds.

Dr. L. H. Carroll of the School of Veterinary Medicine at Texas
A&M College says there are actually two separate types of fowl pox. The one which affects the unfeathered portions of the bird's body is the most common.
In this form the lesions form on the comb, wattles, eyes and shanks. In the diptheritic or wet pox form, the lesions consist of a yellowish, raised, diptheritic
membrane found in the mouth and throat. This type is sometimes first noticed because the bird is unable to close its mouth or has difficulty breathing. When death losses occur, it is usually due to the diptheritic form.

Fowl pox is transmitted by direct and indirect contact, Dr.
Carroll continues. It can live in the dried scabs for months and for this reason, can survive on a premise for long periods of time. The primary means of transmission, however, is the mosquito, and the severity of the disease is directly proportional to the mosquito population.

Since the disease is transmitted by mosquitoes, it cannot be prevented by ordinary management and sanitation practices. For this reason, the best prevention is vaccination. There are two types of vaccine available — fowl pox and pigeon pox. The pigeon pox produces a low level of immunity of short duration, but the fowl pox vaccine is a virulent vaccine produced in chick embryos and will produce symptoms of the disease.

When considering a vaccination
program, one must keep in mind that vaccination should be on an area basis and a planned program is necessary for effective control. It is not usually necessary to vaccinate broilers except in some areas of the Gulf Coast, but if it is necessary, this should be done when the birds are between the ages of two and four weeks, Dr. Carroll explains. All chickens kept for egg production should be vaccinated between six and ten weeks of age.

In turkeys, the fowl pox vaccine does not produce a lasting immunity. Therefore, two vaccinations are necessary — one at four to ten weeks and one when the adult breeding flock has been selected.

FUND APPROPRIATION APPROVED BY HOUSE

AUSTIN, Tex. — House has given second reading approval to a bill appropriating $2,527,000 for the next two years.

It is slightly higher than the bill passed earlier by the Senate, and eventually differences will have to be worked out by a conference committee of the two houses.

A group of conservatives in the House were foiled — at least temporarily — in an effort to cut the bill by $27,000,000 through economy measures. Among items they felt could be deleted or put off were recarpentering the House chamber and refinishing members' desks for $250,000, adding an office for the governor to the Governor's Mansion for $50,000, installation of a sprinkler system on the Capitol lawn for $20,000 and several other expenses of that nature.

Economy group also wanted to trim back some increases in the bill for salaries and travel expenses for state personnel and eliminate paying legislators a salary for the period between November, 1960, when the annual pay amendment was approved, and the start of the session in January.

LOBBY BILL DEFEATED

AUSTIN, Tex. — A bill to provide additional lobby regulation attracted neither friends nor enemies to a hearing before the House State Affairs Committee.

Pro and con views were presented solely by members of the House before the measure was sent to subcommittee for study. Proposed bill would require lobbyists to file a report showing who received any amount above $50 spent to influence legislation. It would also prohibit a lobbyist's calling a member off the floor during session without advance permission.

Critics declared the legislators didn't need a law to enable them to stay put at their desks if they wanted to.

Texas Molehills

Texans often are accused of making mountains out of molehills. But, you have to admit, we have some pretty big molehills in Texas.

We have 15 mountain-molehills that rise over 7,000 feet above sea level. All of these are in our highly touristed western tip of Texas. Our tallest molehill is Guadalupe Peak. It is 8,751 feet high and is located near the New Mexico border in Culbertson County.

HIGHLIGHTS and sidelights

Amid the sound and fury of the tax battle in the Legislature, Texans — new to the idea of far-reaching sales taxes — could be heard trying to get to the bottom of things by calculating their effect upon such things as baby's diapers.

The key to many discussions, both in the Legislative chambers and in the Capitol corridors, was the term "outer wearing apparel," to be exempt from sales taxes.

It seemed simple enough at first when the proposal was to exempt such articles costing less than $10, the intention being to exempt work clothes. But many a question popped up when the tax writers went into details and spelled out that this exemption would not include accessories like "cuff links, belts, ties, scarves, billfolds, hand bags, canes, unattached buttons, ornamental jewelry of any type, bathing suits, sleeping garments, bathrobes, lingerie, negligee and lounging pajamas."

Clearly, baby's diapers are outer wearing apparel. But, do they remain in that status when covered with rubber or plastic pants? Nobody could readily answer the question. That was something to be decided later.

And what about bathing suits? These certainly are not undergarments — except, of course, when worn under street clothes. And who ever wears anything "outer" than a bathrobe?

Then there was the more serious talk about the definition of work clothes. The exemption was confined to those made of cotton, twill, poplin, denim, and chambray. Suppose, somebody questioned, a man ran across a pair of blue denims with nylon knees?

And why, a white collar worker asked, shouldn't his wool trousers be exempt, too, since he works in them?

During the Sales Tax debate, Senator Wardlow Lane of Center quipped, "I'm personally not for any kind of tax . . . just like I'm not for pneumonia, death or anything else bad . . ."

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — An Attorney General's opinion holds that the state's admission tax does not apply to tickets to baseball, football, and basketball games, but is applicable to horse races, dog races, motorcycle races, auto races, dance halls, night clubs, skating rinks, "and any and all like places of amusements, contests, and exhibitions."

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, who asked for the ruling, was advised that horse races are subject to the tax because they are specifically mentioned in the tax law, while baseball, football and basketball games are not.

HISTORIC DOCUMENT ON WATER PROBLEM — "If Texans cannot change the weather, they can at least, through sound, far-sighted planning, conserve and develop water resources to supply their needs."

So said the State Board of Water Engineers as it turned in to Gov. Price Daniel the state's first comprehensive, projected plan for meeting the industrial, municipal and other water needs in 1980.

Governor Daniel termed the 200-page document, which envisions the construction of 45 new reservoirs over the state, "one of the great things in the life of our state."

The board made the observation that the people of Texas have not yet been "aroused to the dire consequences of inaction or to the consequences of building projects which at best provide for only small increases in water needs . . . in relation to long term future needs in many areas, water is the least abundant of Texas' important natural resources; certainly it is the most indispensable."

The board said that through proper development, Texas has adequate water to meet its municipal and industrial needs in 1980 to sustain agriculture and other uses. A significant statement in the report was to the effect that such a program as outlined "appears to be within the financial capability of the state and local interests, with federal participation in projects containing flood control."

In short, the so-called "Master Plan" for development of the state's water resources is at least an outline of what can be done, and might be done, to meet one of the state's most crucial problems.

ATTACK ON "SOFTNESS" LAUNCHED — Physical education teachers from over the state at a meeting in Austin have come up with a plan to turn talk into action and do something about physical fitness in the schools.

The plan includes 15 minutes of strenuous body exercise in physical education periods; teaching the right way to walk, sit, climb, pull, push and all the other ways the body obeys the laws of physics; teaching games and sports people can use throughout their life including tennis, golf and swimming and other popular sports; teaching the history of games fitting activities such as folk dancing into social studies; emphasizing sportsmanship as part of social behavior; accomplishing social control through release of tension in athletics; and promoting a favorable attitude toward physical activity both as children and as adults.

BUS RATES GO UP — Bus travel in Texas is costing the passengers more. No one objected at a hearing which resulted in a general hike of five per cent in bus fare rates approved by the State Railroad Commission.

Operators testified expenses increased 8.9 per cent in 1960 over 1959, against a revenue of only 4.6 per cent. The last time bus fares were increased was in 1958. The increases will be in effect no later than September 1. There were some exceptions to the general five per cent increase, such as an approved boost of 10 per cent for Texas bus lines operating between Galveston-Beaumont and Port Arthur-High Island, and a 10 per cent increase for Texas Electric Bus lines.

S.S. LAW CHANGES HELP BENEFICIARY

"Recent changes in the Social Security Law mean that a beneficiary, generally speaking, can now get more in combined earnings and benefits than he could previously," Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, said today.

Beneficiaries who earn over $1200 will lose one dollar of benefits for each two dollars of earnings between $1200 and $1700, and a dollar of benefits for each dollar of earnings over $1700. Except that they are eligible for social security benefits for any month in which they do not earn over $100 in wages and have not worked in their own business.

"After age 72, there is no restriction on a person's earnings, although the limits apply to all months before the 72nd birthday," Geldon said.

If you or anyone in your family is receiving old-age and survivors insurance and expect to earn over $1200 during the year, it is important to notify the Social Security Office promptly of such earnings in order to avoid receiving an overpayment. All such overpayments must be repaid.

"This applies to all people receiving social security benefits," Geldon said, "including wives, widows, and dependent children under 18 as well as the retired person."

HOT BRINGS COLD

Hot water heaters are used to cool water in Smiley, Texas. Sounds outlandish to say the least, doesn't it.

This happy sounding town in Gonzales County, in the central part of South Texas, has a powerful artesian well that pours forth its own hot water.

The town of Smiley pipes this hot water right into the homes. These fortunate Texans have all the hot water they need. But the residents use hot water tanks, not connected for heating purposes, to store the water long enough for it to cool for drinking purposes.

So, when in Smiley, remember to turn on the hot water faucet for a cold shower.

Beatrice Beard spent 2 weeks in Amarillo with her step-brother M/Sgt. Billie Barker.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

ED's NOTE: Happenings that affect the future of every individual, national and international problems are inseparable from local welfare.

Western Europe, traditionally fragmented by national rivalries, is emerging as a giant among the power centers of the world. This new Europe could be a deciding factor in turning the tide against the advance of world communism. The new spirit of cooperation sparking this development is now spearheaded by the six nations joined together, in the European Economic Community or Common Market.

Tariff walls are being torn down and trade between the countries has risen to heights unimaginable in any previous time. Already the immense benefits of regional specialization, mass production and mass marketing are beginning to be felt.

Despite age-old barriers of distrust, language and custom, national borders are coming to mean less than they ever have before. Added to this political change has been an all-important shift in economic thinking by practically all of the governments of Europe. They have discovered that contrary to the teachings of liberal economists, cheap money is not in the long run, cheap. Following the pattern of West Germany, most of them have taken whatever steps necessary to make their money sound. Trust in the currencies of other countries has been a key factor in stimulating international investment and trade. Uncertainty of payment would kill both.

A recent issue of a knowledgeable magazine describes Western Europe as the world's sleeping giant, pointing out that, "Here—standing between the two other giants, the U.S. and the Soviet Union — is a group of nations with a potential strength which far exceeds that of Russia." The total population of these countries is 328 million, with a total output of $300 billion a year. This compares with a population of 214 million for Russia, with an output of $225 billion a year.

Western Europe spends the equivalent of $15 billion a year on defense, or an average of one out of each twenty dollars of total output. The United States, further away from the firing line, spends $46.5 billion, or one out of eleven dollars.

Why does the United States carry the major burden of the free world's defense? In the first place, European countries have been learning to work together toward common goals for only a decade. Unbelievable progress has been made, but there is far to go. Secondly, the United States by assuming most of the defense load has enabled them to ignore for awhile their own responsibilities and duties.

The reasons for Western Europe's apparent apathy toward defense and foreign aid are thoroughly human, and therefore thoroughly complex and subject to change.

Vermont Royster writing in The Wall Street Journal, after spending six weeks criss-crossing Europe this spring and summer, makes two observations which have a significant bearing. "One impression is of a Europe bursting with economic vitality, enjoying not only a prosperity it has not known since before World War I, but a confidence that it stands now on the threshold of a truly affluent society such as it has never known."

"The second is of a Europe weary, bone weary, of the wars, turmoils and political crises which have swept over it in the first half of this century. Here, everywhere, are a people who look longingly for anything that will give them surcease and a time to enjoy what seems now within their grasp."

The fear of war made possible the economic cooperation which is welding the countries together today. But as Mr. Royster points out the prosperity resulting from this cooperation has itself "intensified the despair with which the people of Europe contemplate the new dangers of war from outside." But even this is changing. As economic ties strengthen, political divisions weaken, and the necessity of concerted action in such matters as the defense of the common "national" interest will be more compelling. It's no longer too hard to imagine such a thing as a United States of Europe.

Mr. Royster sums it up this way: "The fact that a Frenchman is beginning to think of Europe as Europe means that he is also aware that what threatens Germany threatens him; it is no longer just a problem for distant people whom he doesn't like very well anyway. And the very existence of this new kind of prosperity, untasted before by the majority of the people of Europe, gives all the people of Europe a feeling that they are creating something worth preserving."

United States military and economic aid has helped an old Europe change into a vital force that may prove decisive in perpetuating a free world. If so, this would certainly be the biggest victory for free men in world history.

GEORGE'S WIFE

By "Sarah"

We have found an article in Reader's Digest, reprinted from April, 1941, that had advice contained therein been followed might have changed the course of history. Then, again, if it hadn't been followed, might have done the same, only we wouldn't have been in the mess we're in today.

"Obey That Impulse" is the title it carries, condensed from a CBS Radio broadcast, by William Moulton Martson.

Mr. Martson found something even way back in 1941, was a little out-dated; today it's almost non-existent. He found two things of prime importance in successful living. First was hard work, governed by cool, logical thoughtfulness. The other was sudden, warm, impulsive action.

Most of us, he says, actually stifle enough good impulses during a day to change the current of our lives. These inner flashes of impulse light up the mind for an instant; then, contented in their afterglow, we lapse back into routine, feeling vaguely that sometime we might do something about them or that at least our intentions were good.

In this we sin against the inner self, for impulses set up the lines of communication between the unconscious mind and daily action. Every time a resolve or fine glow of feeling evaporates without bearing fruit, it is worse than a chance lost; it works to hinder future emotions from taking the normal path of discharge. Thus we fail to build up the power to act in a firm and prompt and definite way upon the principal emergencies of life.

The people who are responsible for our foreign aid program seem to have been governed by sudden, warm impulsive action, when that cool, logical thoughtfulness would have been sufficient.

When Castro hi-jacked one of our planes, impulsive action, at least ours was, to go get it period, and no amount of cool logic has changed our minds. All these emergencies facing us as a nation and as individuals, shows our emotions have been hindered, that we have failed to build up the power to act firm and prompt, and stick by our guns.

Mrs. Odell Duggins and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and daughter of Houston spent a few days in Colorado the first of the week and returned Mrs. Jeff Talley to Clarendon mid-week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Whitman and children, Donald and Carol Lynn of Ocean Springs, Miss., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Clyde Gilbert and other relatives in Claude, Amarillo, and Canyon the past week.
