SERIAL NUMBER 158 CALLED JOHN BLOCKER FIRST IN DRAFT

Moving Picture Show Will Be Shown At Lelia School

Leathers Family In Leave Taking

LOCAL HISTORY PRESERVED FOR PERMANENT RECORD

The Geo. B. Bagby Travelogue picture and the moving picture of the Leathers family leave-taking here some two weeks ago will be combined in a presentation at the Lelia Lake school auditorium Friday night, November 1st.

Those appearing on the Leathers program will be shown in action. This picture records an achievement for a West Texas family that won in a national as well as a state contest. It is a typical "Home Folks Make History" picture.

The Bagby Travelogue is in technicolor and that picture alone requires more than two hours in showing scenes of Indian ceremonies, Boulder Dam, Zuni Pueblos said to be the largest group on the globe. Our only volcano, Mt. Lassen comes in for her share of attention as well as Grand Canyon, Lake Tahoe, Oregon's lumber industry, Crater Lake and Yosemite parks, Golden Gate exhibit and many other places visited by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Bagby in 1939.

The price of admission makes it possible for every one to see this double picture. Just 20 cents for adults and ten cents for children. The proceeds go toward boosting the basketball teams that will be ready for action within a week's time, according to coach McDaniel.

Panama Engineer Here On Visit

The Panama canal, great as it was when completed in 1904, does not come up to the requirements of the present day. Many of the largest ships find the channel too narrow for passage. Uncle Sam is widening that channel to permit passage of the largest battleships now under construction.

Draftsman engineer John L. King and his wife were here Tuesday visiting in the home of his uncle, Judge R. Y. King. They are on leave, taking the three months to visit relatives here and other states before going to Schenectady, N. Y. where Mr. King is to do post graduate work. He graduated from that celebrated school after completing the study requirements at Tech some years ago.

FLOYDADA PUBLISHERS VISIT KIN HERE

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cavanaugh, publishers of the Plainsman at Floydada, spent Sunday here in the R. O. Thomas home. Mrs. Cavanaugh and Mrs. Thomas are sisters.

Mr. Cavanaugh is probably the most efficient all-round printer in the Panhandle since he is an operator, mechanic, pressman and printer. Years ago he was schooled in the mechanics of the Linotype in New Orleans. This knowledge added to his years of close observance and experience, has eminently fitted him to cope with any emergency in a printing plant.

MULKEY SUCCEEDS LINK ON REGISTRATION

Home Mulkey was appointed to the local Registration Board by Gov. O'Daniel, the notification coming by wire Saturday. Judge Link resigned from that place because he could not serve as appeal attorney and on the registration board at the same time.

SCHOOL LUNCH ROOM NEEDS EQUIPMENT

In speaking of the opening of the school lunch room next Monday, Principal H. M. Lane of Junior High stated that there is great need of cup towels, knives and forks, cups, plates, muffin tins, large roaster, potato masher, large mixing pans and mixing spoons.

Anyone having any of these items which they can contribute to a worthy cause, are kindly requested to bring them to the Junior High School Friday.

The lunch room is designed to take the place of the soup kitchen. The noon lunch will be served the underprivileged free. Others will pay a nominal sum. The success of this worthy venture depends largely upon the generosity and civic pride of the local public.

FISHERMAN FALLS VICTIM TO LAW'S DRAG NET

Most fishermen are a good-natured lot. To be a success at it, dull care is thrown aside. Recently when homeward bound with his boat aboard a vehicle bearing a farm license tag, G. E. Clark of near Groom fell afoul of a net. But it had little to do with fishing. It was a drag net spread by a law enforcement officer in the person of a highway patrolman. He was picked up east of town and brought before Judge R. C. Weatherly and paid off.

According to law, a farm license vehicle of any kind must be loaded with farm products only—not a fishing boat, it is said. The letter of the law does not permit the vehicle to be used for any other purpose than hauling farm products to and from town, when operated on the highway. It may not be used to haul its owner—alone, for pleasure or errands.

DEER COUNTRY ATTRACTS MANY HUNTERS NOW

Going for their annual deer hunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sprinkles of Wichita Falls were accompanied by her sister, Mrs. T. Jones, leaving Wednesday afternoon. They expect to spend some three weeks in the San Mateo mountain country west of Hot Springs. That is the section where Mr. and Mrs. T. Jones had such good luck for a long number of years. Not least of the party was Laddie, the shepherd dog of Mrs. Sprinkles, who does everything but talk, and barks and makes signs when language is necessary.

Singers To Meet At McKnight

The Donley County Singing Convention will hold their next quarterly session at the McKnight school building next Sunday, November 3rd. This will be an all-day session, beginning at 10 a. m. A number of talented singers from other sections have signified their intention to be at the gathering.

The plan of quarterly sessions has been changed to three sessions during the year. This meeting at McKnight will be the last for four months.

Those attending are requested to bring well filled baskets for the noonday meal. The general public is invited to enjoy the excellent talent that is heard on these occasions, announces President Newt Waldron.

DICK COOKE ACCEPTS GOVERNMENT POSITION

Dick Cooke, long-time Clarendon newspaperman, has accepted a position with the United States Government and will be located in the Amarillo and Lubbock districts of the NYA.

Mr. Cooke will assume his duties next Monday.

FOOD STAMP PLAN BEING INVESTIGATED BY CLARENDON MEN

"Growing more popular the more it is being tried out," is the reason given by Mayor Tom F. Connally for going to Dallas Wednesday to make a personal investigation of the working plans of the Food Stamp plan that is displacing relief distribution by offering goods through store purchase.

A more comprehensive idea may be had if the reader will turn to page seven of this paper and read "Food Stamp is Workable Plan" in an explanation from the state headquarters. Accompanying the Mayor were county commissioner G. G. Reeves, director of vocational agriculture John R. Gillham, and U. J. Boston of the Piggly Wiggly store.

NEW CAR TAGS LETTERED IN ORANGE AND BLACK

Bill Riney of the Highway Department brought down from Amarillo the 1941 allotment of car and truck tags Friday. A dark orange letter on a field of black will take the place of the present blue letters on white background. The tags are numbered from 268,051 to 267,750, and may not be purchased until after March 1, 1941. The tags are manufactured in the state prison at Huntsville. The tags are being distributed this time by the Highway Department instead of by trustees from the state prison, as in former years.

Clarendon's Big Day Tuesday

Fifty years ago Tuesday, a monster crowd gathered in Clarendon. Cong. S. W. T. Lanham was the orator of the day. The band was out. Parades featured the big event. In after years, Cong. Lanham became Gov. Lanham in 1903 and served two terms. Older heads will recall that the famous Terrell election law became effective during the administration of Gov. Lanham. A son, Fritz Lanham of Ft. Worth, has long served Texas in the United States congress, but has never achieved the success of his celebrated sire in the service of his people.

HUNT DEER IN COLORADO

Fred Buntin, Brooks Chesshir and Don Matheson left Tuesday to get their quota of deer in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado. They had no luck in Gillespie county, Texas last season. They don't propose to get left out this time.

DONLEY COUNTY TEACHERS WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

The Donley County Teacher's Association will meet at the Chamberlain school the night of November 6th, at 7:30. Following an important business session, a program will be rendered.

The program remains a secret, but suffice it to say that it will be plenty interesting to the teachers, all of whom are urged to be present.

NO MORE CITIZENS' TRAINING CAMPS

No longer may John Citizen hie away to the Citizens' Military Training Camp. They are outlawed. In other words they are no longer exist, so states Col. E. A. Keys, colonel of the cavalry, Civilian Components Officer.

MRS. POWER'S BROTHER DIES

Courtney Denney, employee of the Federal Land Bank, and member of a pioneer Memphis family, died in a Ft. Worth hospital late Tuesday. Denney was a brother of Mrs. Forest Power of Clarendon.

Boards Have No Numbers

It's still useless to call your Registration Board about serial or order numbers.

Order numbers published in newspapers show only the rotation in which they were drawn and tell you nothing.

All numbers above the largest number held here will be discarded and the remainder will be numbered beginning with one, which will determine the official order numbers of registrants in this county.

Unless you want to volunteer for the first call there is nothing to do but mark time until you receive your questionnaire, which will be mailed to you.

Please remember that the service of the Board in the office is contributed as a patriotic service for which they receive no pay.

The five young ladies employed by the Board are Jo Ann Smith, Gussie Bullock, Frances Brister, Majorie Beverly and Estelle Thornberry.

HUGHINS PIE SUPPER WILL BE FRIDAY

The hour of beginning is around 7 p. m. when the pies baked by the good women of the Hughins community will be offered for sale. There will be a variety of that commodity for which Donley county cooks are famous. No matter what price you pay, you will get your money's worth. The funds so collected will go toward buying seats for the Sunday school bibles, which any one will admit is a mighty good cause. Don't overlook the date, Friday, November 1st, at 7 p. m. There will likely be music and other amusement thrown in for good measure, though our informant did not mention this fact.

THREE FIRMS WILL MOVE FROM SAME BUILDING

The fact that three firms are soon to move from the same building at the same time is quite unusual. The three firms are moving one door and into another building. Occupying the Stewart building, some of them for years, these firms, Upton shoe shop, Chunn & Clappitt electrical firm, and Dewey Herndon, will occupy a partitioned space in the spacious Fink building one door north of their present location.

Bronchos to Meet Lakeview Eagles Here Friday Nite

Seven-thirty will mark the new starting time when the Lakeview Eagles invade the local gridiron to engage the locals in a conference game that is expected to be rather interesting. The Eagles will be out to avenge their last week's defeat by the Shamrock Irishmen by a tune of 33-0. The Bronchos will be fighting hard to maintain their conference standing of only one defeat. If the McLean Tigers should happen to knock the Irishmen off the conference pinnacle, the Bronchos would still have a good chance to come out on top.

The Clarendon boys are in good shape after a week of hard training and are bolstered with the possibility of Summers being back in the lineup. The Eagles are a hustling team, and have shown no sign of giving up because of previous defeats.

SHALL CLARENDON HAVE STATE HOME GUARD?

Those interested in the organization of a State Home Guard for Clarendon are requested to meet with the American Legion at their Hall at 8 p. m., Tuesday, November 5th.

Secretary of War Stimson announces that the War Department is ready to turn over rifles and other available equipment to State home guard units, formation of which he describes as "of great importance to the development of the national defense."

Worthy Matron To OES Meet

Representing the Clarendon lodge of the Eastern Star at the 48th annual sunshine session of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star in Mineral Wells, is Miss Lucile Polk, Worthy Matron. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Bairfield, and former official of the OES.

The session opened with a dance and floor show Saturday night and an informal tea at the Baker Hotel Sunday. The visitors were welcomed by Mayor John C. Miller, and the invocation given by Rev. Bryan Keathley, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Monday and Tuesday were devoted to rehearsals conducted by the district deputies, deputy grand matrons, grand examiners and pages.

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO ON FELONY THEFT CHARGE

The Grand Jury adjourned Monday. During the day, two felony theft charges were returned against each of two men.

Ed Parmley and J. D. Shults were charged with breaking and entering the Hedley 66 Service Station operated by Pete Darnell on September 27th of this year. Bonds on each charge were set at $1000.

The accused men are said to be held in jail here at this time.

GROUP SPENDS VACATION ON PACIFIC COAST

A group of local people including Mrs. Richard Cannon, Wayne Morrow, Edna Lou Brock and Miss Nova Cook returned a few days ago from an interesting vacation taking them as far west as the Pacific coast. Miss Cook visited a cousin, Mrs. E. O. Herbert in Los Angeles.

Stops and side trips were made along the route through the intervening states. Naturally, the biggest things to be seen are the Boulder Dam and the Grand Canyon.

Duck Hunting Season Opens On Saturday

Hunters in this area have looked forward to the opening of the duck season. Guns are in readiness. The good women have looked up the favorite recipe for baking and otherwise preparing a toothsome dainty. The sunrise hour Saturday is exactly 6:46. That's when to begin shooting. But the shooting must stop at exactly 4 p. m.

All of which means that at sunset Saturday ducks and geese will become legal targets. And the experts claim that if the weather man will just call down a good cold snap, Mr. Hunter is going to enjoy one of the most satisfactory openings in 10 years.

The first good news arrived a number of weeks back from Canada where it was reported that there was a 20 to 30 per cent bigger hatch this year than in 1939. Word of early flights from the plains to the coast back up the Canada information.

The biggest reason, however, for optimism in Texas lies in the fact that the law makers have moved the opening date up 15 days. In the past few years migration has been almost completed by Nov. 15. Those extra 15 days are certain to help.

LAIRD REEVES AT SCOFIELD BARRACKS IN HAWAII

Joining up with Uncle Sam in March, Laird Reeves was sent to Frisco where he entered army training. He was later attached to the signal corps of the 13th Artillery unit and sent to Hawaii in June.

He writes of much defense preparation going on around Scofield barracks where he is located. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reeves of Lelia and likes army life very much.

First Showing Leathers Photos

AUXILIARY TO SPONSOR MOVING PICTURES

Through the generosity of Geo. B. Bagby, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion will sponsor the Bagby Travelogue and the recent Leathers Family series of pictures, for the first showing here, at the College Auditorium. The date is Thursday evening, November 7, at 7:30.

The interesting Travelogue series was made by him on the summer vacation trip of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Bagby, and is the same series as will be shown at the Lelia Lake school Friday evening of this week. All pictures are in technicolor.

The new series of moving pictures are those taken by Mr. Bagby on the occasion of the D. E. Leathers family leave-taking at the City Hall October 19th. In this series, you will see hundreds of local people whom you know right here at home.

More than two hours will be required to show the double series of pictures. The privilege is yours at the price of 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults.

TRAGEDY ENDS VISIT OF FORMER MEMPHIS LADY

Mrs. Clarence Stroele, the former Reba Fitzjarrald and her young daughter, Billy Jean, on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fitzjarrald of Memphis, Tennessee, a message Sunday informing her of the sudden death of her husband and his brother in a mine accident near the Stroele home in Idaho Springs. Mrs. Stroele and other relatives left immediately for Colorado.

As a girl, Mrs. Stroele often visited friends in Clarendon where the Fitzjarrald family is highly esteemed. The many friends of the family will learn of this tragedy with great sorrow.

Rathjen Rites Held Monday

RESIDENT OF CLARENDON 32 YEARS DIED IN CORPUS CHRISTI

Funeral rites for Mrs. Katie Rathjen, 88, were conducted at the Buntin mortuary here Monday afternoon, Rev. Frerking of Amarillo officiating. She was the widow of John H. Rathjen, a pioneer merchant of Clarendon, who passed away here in 1908.

Attending the casket were friends of the deceased over many years. They are C. C. Powell, J. T. Patman, A. L. Chase, Odos Caraway, J. R. Porter and W. W. Taylor. Mrs. Rathjen, a devout christian and a member of the Lutheran church, was born in northern Germany in 1852. She came to America in 1872 and married J. H. Rathjen at Hannibal, Missouri in 1887. They came to Clarendon in 1903.

She had made her home with a nephew, Fred W. Rathjen, for many years. More than a year ago, Corpus Christi became the family home of the nephew. It was there that she passed away October 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Rathjen and son Freddie accompanied the body here where it was laid beside that of her husband Monday afternoon. A large number of local friends attended the services, as well as many from a distance.

Friends from a distance here for the last rites included Mrs. A. L. Fimhold and Walter and Ruth of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Niemtselk and Mrs. Lehman of Vernon; Mrs. Gerner and Ernest Smith of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly and Mr. Dunwoody of Pampa.

HERE FROM HOUSTON

Mrs. P. H. Cronin of Houston, Texas, the former Julia K. Dillon, wife of Dr. P. H. Cronin, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. B. W. Chamberlain here at this time.

H. C. Reynolds Is Second Man

ONLY FIVE ELIGIBLES WILL BE CALLED IN FIRST DRAFT FROM DONLEY COUNTY

America's first peacetime selective service machinery was put in motion Tuesday in Washington when Secretary of War Stimson drew number 158 in the lottery that will place men in the army for a year's military training, and on the reserve list for ten years.

Number 158 in Donley county was that of John Blocker, Jr., aged 25. He is married and associated with his father, John Blocker, Sr. in ranching on an extensive scale.

Number 192, the second number drawn by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. This number in Donley county applies to Henry Clarence Reynolds, a married man, residing near Ashtola.

Other numbers drawn affecting Donley county men are:

- 105—Alva Dennis, aged 22, of Ashtola.
- 187—A. C. Pittman
- 167—R. A. Key
- 162—E. C. Immon
- 271—J. F. Stone
- 147—S. A. Eddings
- 689—F. B. Thomas
- 31—C. H. Hill
- 156—T. W. Eanes
- 126—Bill D. Cole
- 57—J. W. Byes
- 10—Henry Pace
- 184—Clyde D. Baker
- 191—J. T. Duke

14—Lydie H. Stevens. Before the group where the drawing took place in Washington, President Roosevelt made a short talk. Among other things, he said:

"We are mustering all our resources, manhood and industry and wealth to make our nation strong in defense. For recent history proves all too clearly, I am sorry to say, that only the strong may continue to live in freedom and peace."

"In the considered opinion of the congress of the United States," he said, "this selective service provides the most democratic as well as the most efficient means for the mustering of our manpower."

To the men who will be called for service under the draft, the president said: "You have the confidence, and the gratitude, and the love of your countrymen. We are all with you in the task which enlists the services of all Americans—the task of keeping the peace in this new world."

The local Registration Board members are Homer Mulkey, Geo. A. Ryan and C. T. McMurtry. A number of young ladies have volunteered their services to assist the Board, all of whom serve without pay.

Even though Donley county will have only approximately five men in the first draft, it is possible that the call for that amount will not come for several months. This is due to the large number of volunteers cutting down the Texas quota. The state's quota will be learned within a few days from the Eighth Corps Area headquarters, San Antonio.

Donley County Gets Big Rain

A drought period of more than three months was broken Wednesday afternoon when rain began falling around 4 p. m. and continued until near midnight. Hail showers fell over the county in places but did cotton no damage as the stones were small.

The official rain record as recorded by Joe Goldston shows a fall of 1.20 inches. The fall over the county varied. In some places the fall is estimated at two inches as in the Hedley country. Reports from various sections of the county shows that moisture was general.

The Texas Panhandle was fairly well covered, Conway reporting a fall of 3 inches Wednesday afternoon. The fall to the east was general as far as Wichita Falls.

Bronchos Down
 'Rockets 28-0

The Clarendon Broncho grid machine moved swiftly and smoothly Friday night when they smothered the helpless Wellington Skyrockets 28 to 0 on College Field.

Still smarting from their defeat of two weeks ago by the hands of the Shamrock Irishmen, the Broncs unleashed a driving attack that netted them two touchdowns before the first quarter was over. They again counted in the second quarter and once more in the third quarter to pile up a decisive margin before they were content to let down and coast through the fourth period.

Featuring little dynamic Hartzog, the Bronchos would not be stopped, and reeled off yard after yard as a bewildered 'Rocket team fought valiantly but for naught. Big Bud Hermesmeier was in there fighting every inch of the way, and first brought blood when he plunged from the five yard line across the double marker. Gordon, Smith and Johnson did themselves proud, although lack of experience took its toll. Lumpkin, Bulls, Peabody, McCrary and Goodman were outstanding in the line. As a matter of fact, the forward wall performed almost without fault. Wellington made only five first downs and two of them as a result of penalties, against 12 first downs for the Bronchos.

The fans received a real thrill during the second quarter when J. W. Goodman intercepted a 'Rocket pass on Wellington's 35 yard line and sprinted down the field for a touchdown. The second and fourth touchdowns were made by Hartzog. He also kicked three points after the counters, while Johnson booted the other point.

Miss Gladys Wallace spent the week end in Borger with relatives and friends.

Bill Johnson, Hedley landmark for 23 years, had business here Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mann announce the birth of a son, Milton Matthews Mann, at Adair hospital, October 25th.

Sol Lesser Presents "Our Town"
 With Cast of Hand-Picked Stars

With an impressive cast which includes William Holden, Martha Scott, Frank Craven, Fay Bainter, Thomas Mitchell, Guy Kibbee, Beulah Bondi and Stuart Erwin, Sol Lesser's screen production of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize play, "Our Town," will be given a gala premiere at the Pastime theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. This new picture was staged by Sam Wood, who directed the great international success, "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," and it is being released through United Artists.

As is well known, "Our Town" was presented without scenery or props on the stage. This, of course, was due to the fact that it was impossible to create the illusion of an entire town on a single stage. On the screen, of course, such an expedient was unnecessary, for the scope of the camera and the resources of a motion picture studio could easily materialize what was in the author's imagination.

Pictorial Drama

The whole pictorial element, as a matter of fact, received heavy emphasis from Mr. Lesser. Before "Our Town" went into production, William Cameron Menzies, the production designer who had just finished "Gone With The Wind," figured out every camera angle and made 1200 sketches. Each scene was sketched from every possible angle, and Director Wood rehearsed not only the principals in the picture but the camera as well, before each scene.

Exciting Data

Other interesting statistics concerned with the production of "Our Town" turn up the information that Frank Craven, who plays the narrator, walked eight miles in front of the camera. Craven only appeared in two shots with other players—one with Miss Scott and Holden, the other with a bit player. In the wedding scene, William Holden and Miss Scott were married 19 times. In this scene, Miss Scott received her first screen kiss. The wedding dress she wore was the one her mother was married in. It was so fragile she was unable to sit down during filming.

The transportation from one period of time to another was handled exactly as it was on the stage. Frank Craven effected the flashbacks with the help of the versatile camera. When, for instance, in his guise as the druggist, Craven was required to turn back the scene to twenty-five years before, he says: "At that time my drug store looked like this." and proceeds to replace the shining chromium fittings with the older trimmings of a pharmacy.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

TILLERS AND TOILERS.

Every church, club or civic organization is full of willing people. Half are willing to work, and the other half is willing to let them. This does not include that element always willing to "act as delegates," and spend the pot.

BIASED.

In commenting on human affairs, Bachelor Bill summed it up by saying that "when a woman falls, every man within reach is ready to help her up. When a man falls, every woman within sight swears he is drunk." (P. S. They got that way from personal experience with friend husband, perhaps.)

EUREKA!

Inventor Jim Heckman has invented a watermelon that will whistle when ripe. A small whistle is inserted in the melon when young. After it ripens, it forms a gas and blows the whistle. G. Milt Allen says his patch of forty acres has been whistling so much the past few nights that he can't sleep. Thus there is always a drawback to progress.

WEATHER BUREAU.

Predicting the weather ahead in the Texas Panhandle for more than 15 minutes is a hazardous guess, as most of readers will agree. The service was more accurate forty years ago. An old cowpuncher never spoke of the rain, but he did occasionally mention the velocity of the wind—with cuss words. That same fellow always knew the direction of the wind, and that is about all the modern weather bureau today can tell you about Panhandle meteorological conditions. The old cowpuncher had never heard of that word, but he knew wind direction. He merely looked at a cow. "A cow never grazes facing the wind," he would say. If her tail was brought up to a level with her back, it pointed directly the source of the wind. Men were sticklers for facts in those days before they became scientific.

PLUG FOR RADIO.

At least nowadays, an office seeker does not have to milk a cow or chew tobacco to prove that he was raised on a farm. He makes the claim over the radio where you can't see him.

BIOLOGICAL.

The reason you never see a mermaid photographed in the papers as the winner of a beauty contest, is that she has no legs to cross.

HANDICAPPED.

The reason that more men stutter than women is probably brought about by men trying to get a word in edgewise.

OUR WEEKLY POME.

Politics is warming up; Nearing the boiling point; If you fall for all you hear, Everything is out of joint.

Now they slap you on the back So you'll help them win the race, But when the thing's over They'll slap you in the face.

BROADMINDED EDITOR.

On Monday of last week, Editor Albert Cooper of the Shamrock Texan, devoted practically a column of his "Just Among Us Boys" in writing up the Leathers family. He was fair enough to put in a plug for the writer of this column. For many years, this gifted young man has been credited with being liberal in all matters of public interest. Thanks a lot, Albert. The article has become one of the "immortals" in my large scrapbook. Editor and publisher Albert Cooper went even farther by calling attention to the accomplishments of the many men in the Texas Panhandle newspaper industry who have achieved worth while objectives.

NUTS FOR NUTTY.

And from the deep east Texas comes a box of fine chinquapins embellished with leaves and burrs. A very fine gift for which the old Apostle is indebted to Mrs. Lazelle Chandler. She writes that I shall have a box of black haws just as soon as they ripen a bit more. Such a lucky break! This is my first bait of chinquapins since barefoot days in Benton county, Arkansas back in 1894. Many a time we boys failed to follow the dogs. Not because we found a nut tree, but because our barefeet found the burrs under the trees. The chinquapin is a double cousin of the chestnut that grows in the East, or did until the blight killed practically all the trees.

So long, folks. We are taking out to eat roasted chinquapins.

In a recent report as required by the Department of Insurance, the Womack Burial Association had over $1,000,000.00 Burial Insurance in force. This Association began operation with a permanent Charter last October in 1939. This association has served more families in Donley County the past year and the many services and merchandise offered by this association has accounted for the overwhelming preference of the Womack Burial Association in Donley County. This Burial Association is fast growing in strength each month, therefore, when buying burial protection, the policyholders are protected by being a member of a strong association as that of the Womack association. This Association has shown an increase in business each month since its beginning of operation, therefore, the public has not been misled as to the many benefits offered by this association and naturally the public has been well pleased with the services, or else this association would not be growing to the strength that it maintains. When contemplating burial protection, it will be wise to investigate the Womack Burial plan. (Adv.)

Thos. T. Waggoner, publisher of the Claude News, was in town Tuesday. He was accompanied by his younger son.

Hospital buyers ordinarily purchase mattresses with an 8 ounce ticking, which means that a yard of ticking 32 inches wide weighs 8 ounces. Home economics, too, urge consumers to insist on at least 8 ounce ticking, either when making or buying mattresses.

My First Vacation

By C. E. Griggs

Began Sept. 8, 1940 and ended two weeks later, (and I spent every minute of it too) when daughter Esther was returning home to Hot Springs, N. M. after a short visit with us. We were accompanied by Miss Emma Ayres. As we were driving west over the roads I had traveled in other days, the hum of the motor, the noise of the tires on the hard surfaced road was music to my ears.

West of Hereford we visited daughter's old friends, the Lawrence family. He showed us his farm. He waters from a well, and had as good feed and other crops as one would wish to see. Then to Melrose, N. M. and to bed at 9:30. The next morning every thing was new to me, as I had never been west of this town, and had breakfast at Ft. Sumner on the Pecos River. Land here is watered from the Alamogordo reservoir. The salt lakes was new to me. There is quite a few lakes that have salt several inches deep in places, and farther on we came to Mountainair they seem to grow extra well.

At East Vaughn, we picked up an old friend of daughter's, Mrs. Mae Miller, who proved to be interesting, lively and an intelligent person.

Then came to view the Rio Grande. Just why this river was called the Rio Grande no one seems to know, but the man who named it. Perhaps the discoverer came upon it on a rainy day in the wet season, surely not on such a day as I first saw it.

At this point we entered the main road, No. 85 from Albuquerque to El Paso. On this road you will see things you do not see in Texas, for passing us was an oil truck that was so long I could not keep from asking questions about it. I found that, as the driver explained, he could not drive it to El Paso, but had to stop at the state line, where another man brought the gas, in small loads, (the Texas way) and there he loads his truck with 4,647 gallons of gas, and back to Albuquerque. Then to Hot Springs at 5 p. m. This town seems to have been built about 12 inches too close to the ground, for when they get a "good" rain, the water will run in the houses, but it does not rain every day.

A trip to the great divide—went with Curtis to deliver a truck load of gas to one of Uncle Sam's CCC Camps, which was west of the Continental divide. The sun had disappeared when we arrived, and we found the men in their tents with fire in their stoves. I had gone up there to cool off, and believe me, I did; then I knew why they had the fire. Elevation here is about 9,000 feet. On the east side of the divide, there is quite a lot of rolling prairie, with good grass and fat cattle, few bear, lion, and deer, with a few antelope.

On Saturday the 14th, a party of us, Mr. and Mrs. Walker and son, Mrs. Miller, Jodie Young, Emma Ayres, Esther and Curtis and myself, went up into the mountains for the week end, and had a grand time. First, we went to the Empire lead mine. This mine, to me, was very interesting as I had never seen a mine before. The car is brought from a shaft several hundred feet deep, is ground very fine, put in a large vat with water and three kinds of chemicals. (I do not remember their names) The lead adheres to one, the zinc to another, and the copper to the other. The man in charge was very nice to us, and explained each operation. Then we drove back the way we came, cooked our supper. And on the same road, we came to a spring branch, and under a very large walnut tree, we spread our beds at about 12 midnight.

The next morning we were up before the sun. One reason, on the east of us is a real high mountain, and the sun does not shine there until about 9 or 10 in the morning.

After breakfast we went on up the mountain. After several miles we came to a very beautiful prairie, which was very high and rolling, with white faced cattle on every side. On the way up, from the car in front I heard Emma calling back to us, in a very excited voice saying, "see that deer." No I did not see it, only saw the brush moving where it had been. After following the road to a very high point we stopped, cooked our noon meal, and will say now, if you think of going on a hunting or fishing trip, you will make no mistake to have Emma go with you, for if I ever saw a good cook, she is the one. What I mean is, just give her a stick about three feet long, with a fork on the end of it, and if she does not make you the best pieces of toast you ever ate, will be because she does not have the bread.

I spent some time that day beneath the sheltering branches of the Pinon, that clothe desert mountain ranges of this part of New Mexico. The rays of the summer sun, and the heated desert wind wrest from these trees a perfume so fragrant that it is never forgotten by the traveler who has once enjoyed it. Like the taste of the roasted seed, it gives him a longing to return to their desert haunts again and again.

The Pinon trees have no commercial value for lumber, as their number being too few, and their trunks too small. Within the wide range of the single leaf pinon, lives many different tribes of Indians, and each year they gather the nuts for food. From this source, a few pine nuts are offered for sale on the counters of stores. The flavor is good, and when tasted, they do make one want more. Several methods are used in harvesting the nuts, although for eating the nuts are always roasted.

Knocking the green nuts from the trees with long poles, and then roasting them in small fires is not unusual, but a unique and resourceful procedure is to rob the stores made by the pack rats. As the pinos drop their seed the rats gather them from the ground and store them in their nests. These industrious little animals have an unfailing way of gathering only the full, ripe nuts. These are deposited in a granary, a place set aside for them, and if the crop is heavy, the rats work as long as the nuts are to be found.

It is these winter stores that are systematically pilloined by the Indians. In the process of roasting, glowing embers are placed in a flat wicker basket and the right amount of pinos are placed among them. Coals and nuts are kept continually agitated, or stirred, by either bouncing them up and down, in the basket, or by swift backward and forward movements. The least pause, before the nuts are properly cooked, will result in burning both the nuts and the basket. Considerable skill is necessary, and the Indian women are extremely adapted to the task.

Thus through the ages, the pinon trees have served primitive mankind.

Today, during the warm summer months when the weary traveler seeks shelter beneath their limbs the pinon cast upon him an irresistible spell. The solitude amid the desert mountains adds a charm all its own, and with it is a desire to return again to such surroundings. Desert wanderers call it the "magic of the pinons."

Leathers Family "Tickled Pink" On Meeting Edsel Ford, FDR

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"Tickled pink" over meeting two of their country's most famous men within 24 hours, the D. E. Leathers, National Typical American Family, garnered honors and awards here this week and returned every compliment promptly in their native Texas drawl.

They arrived at LaGuardia airport direct from Washington, where they met President Roosevelt this morning. Earlier in Dearborn, they met Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co.

"The President's mighty fine," Mr. Leathers reported, "mighty fine." He added that the President told them he'd look them up if he got down their way. He also asked the Leathers' son, John, how old he was. John told him 19—too young for the draft, the President noticed.

Margaret Jean, 16-year-old daughter of the family, excitedly confessed that she'd been so nervous in the White House that she forgot to give the President a present they had for him. She ran back afterward and left it with a secretary. It was an example of native Texas handicraft—a miniature sombrero made of leather.

Given New Car
"And Edsel Ford—such a fine, democratic man!" Mrs. Leathers put in.

"Exactly like one of us," agreed the typical father.

Margaret Jean didn't forget her souvenir for Edsel Ford, she said. She gave him a match-holder, also of leather. It was made by hand by her uncle.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia provided a motorcycle escort to speed the Leathers family from the airport to the Ford building at the Fair. There Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the Fair's board, and Fred L. Black, director of the Ford pavilion, headed the well-wishers. There too, the family received the first big present that goes with their honor—a 1941 harbor grey super deluxe Fordor sedan. Director Black presented the car on behalf of Henry Ford.

"It's a beauty!" the typical father said as he accepted the car. "It's a beauty—and it's my eighth Ford!"

"Now all we need is a trailer—so we could take everybody home with us to Texas," Mrs. Leathers said.

The national title-holders are proud Texas Panhandle natives. They live in an FHA-mortgaged house on a 200-acre stock farm which they own near Clarendon, Donley County. They won the title, West Texas' typical American family and also a week's expense-free vacation at the World's Fair, last May. Forty-seven local title-holders, similarly chosen in newspaper-sponsored contests, spent prize vacations at the Fair, living in FHA houses on the fair grounds. From them, the Leathers family was selected last week as the most representative of the nation. The national judges were a board representing seven New York newspapers.

As guest of honor at a typical American luncheon—the bill of fare for which the Texas family chose—the typical father tossed off a quip or two. On being presented by Ford Building Director Black to the luncheon guests, especially two of the national judges, Mr. Leathers rose in his high-heeled cowboy boots and drawled: "Of course we're 100 per cent for the judges."

"Then Margaret Jean rose and said, 'Ditto.'"

The judges present were Murray Braun of the New York Post and Margaret Jane Suydam of the New York Herald Tribune. They said they found it hard to pick a winner among the 47 fine, representative American families who formed a colorful and true American parade at the Fair.

Backbone of America
Director Black congratulated the winners and also the World's Fair upon the Typical American Family project.

"We've always thought of farmers and small community people as the backbone of America," said Mr. Black, "and this typical family exemplifies anew that America is still a country of farms and small towns."

The typical family are land-loving people, long rooted, and they're churchgoers. Mr. Leathers' mother "practically built the church we all go to." It is a Baptist church near their home.

The typical family have a gross income—"which is different from so much cash," Mr. Leathers pointed out—of $2,200 a year. They're steady readers of the newspapers and also of farm publications. They have a radio, and they're proud of their champion stock. Johnny has "fed out" three champion calves, and he said, "I've three more on full feed now—there's another champion among them, sure thing."

Johnny is a sophomore at Clarendon College. Margaret Jean, a senior at Clarendon High School, is musically talented. She wrote a piano composition which was published two years ago. All the family were enthusiastic about the hospitality of the city people they've met, and about the wonders of the far-flung sections of their country that they've seen since leaving home last Sunday week ago.

Here's Texas Menu
"Still," said Mr. Leathers loyally, "with all our maneuvering, I think Texas is one of the greatest states in the Union, and the best part of it is West Texas."

"And by the way," he added, spreading a little Texas hospitality, "we've got lots of room for people from outside, down home. We've just scarred the surface of our natural resources—if you'll work, you can make a living, down our way."

The typical meal, ordered by the Texans, was:

Texas beefsteak, well done, asparagus, candied Texas sweet yams, cornbread and hot rolls, vegetable salad and Texas pecan pie a la mode. The dessert was a combination of what father and son suggested—pie—and what mother and daughter wanted—ice cream. The meal was served in the handsome Executive Dining Room of the Ford building, where such notables as Mary Pickford, William K. Vanderbilt, and many titled Europeans have been entertained.

Traveling expenses of the National Typical American Family are being paid by the Ford Motor Company—as were those of all the 47 local winners who visited the Forty Fair. The Leathers family will spend the rest of this final week at the Fair on the fairgrounds.

Zackie Salmon, Jelly McGowan and Madelyn Taylor of West Texas College at Canyon, spent the week end with home folks.

HOUSEWIVES HAVE CHANCE TO WIN COFFEE CONTEST

Officials of the Admiration Coffee contest pointed out Monday that a housewife in the Southwest has a 16 to 1 better chance in the company's contest than in a national contest.

A housewife who competes in a national contest is up against a possible 132 million persons, while the population of the Southwest territory is only 8,000,000 persons.

The contest was sponsored in such a way as to make the chance of winning greater in the $3,000 contest.

Thus, the officials pointed out, a housewife competing in this contest would be on the same ratio as if competing in a $48,000 national contest.

Advertising in the Donley County Leader recently announced the opening of the first of 10 weekly contests with a first prize of $100 cash, a second prize of $40, third prize of $20 and 20 prizes of $2 each.

The contest is simple: you merely write in 25 words or less "why you prefer Admiration Coffee."

"You may also submit as many entries as you wish in each week's contest," officials said. Advertisements in the Donley County Leader throughout the fall and early winter will carry to the housewife the selling story of the deliciousness of Admiration Coffee.

Read the Admiration Coffee advertisement in this issue on page 2 and begin now to enter several letters. You might as well have the cash offered as any one.

BEST RECORD OF YEAR WAS THAT OF PAST WEEK PAYING SUBS

The majority of the subscriptions to your Donley County Leader expire in the fall of the year. Most of our readers made that arrangement for their convenience some three years ago when part year subs were paid. Money is more plentiful here during the fall and winter. The plan works wonderfully.

In view of the fact that the subscription cost will advance with the next print paper purchase, many new readers are being added to the list along with those who have been in the Leader family since before the first issue was printed. You will recall that 756 subscriptions were paid into the fund before the first issue of your Leader was printed on March 12, 1929. Practically all of those still are on the list. Some have died and others have moved away.

In addition, Hidalgo and Gregg counties are to begin operation within a few weeks, according to regional officials of the Surplus Marketing Administration.

All fresh cuts, including chilled, frozen, pickled, salted, cured or smoked pork may be secured with blue food order stamps. However, cooked pork or pork packed in metal or glass containers are not included in the design tion.

West Texas Chamber Fights Red River Co. Amendment

ABILENE—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce went on record Wednesday in opposition to one of four constitutional amendments coming before the Texas electorate in the Nov. 5 election. This is the so-called Red River County amendment which, if adopted, will waive for that county the constitutional limitation on tax rates and permit it to levy an additional 25 cent tax, and to issue bonds, to refund its present outstanding general fund debt.

The WTCC's position was set out in a news letter signed by President J. S. Bridwell, to its directors, affiliated chambers and the West Texas press. Through its public expenditure commission the WTCC contends that approval of the amendment would be a blow at efficiency, economy and better financial control in public affairs, and would violate the principle of equality.

"If this amendment is written into the constitution for Red River County, surely the Legislature and the voters will have no reason for denying the same privileges to every county, city and school district," Bridwell's letter asserted. "Any other Texas county could justly point out, and many would do so, that this amendment, if it is adopted, frees one county from obedience to the constitution itself while forcing the other 253 counties to adhere to it. Sheer chaos would result.

"The present need is for reduced public expenditures and for better financial planning, control and budget making. This amendment violates those principles and will greatly increase public expenditures and local taxation." Red River County's present total debt is said to be equal to $8.39 per $100 of the true value of its taxable property, and to $13.99 per $100 of its assessed value. A tax survey of the county is authority for the statement that $410,000 of this debt was never voted by the people.

New Mattresses In Many Homes

COLLEGE STATION—Members of more than 100,000 Texas farm families are sleeping on new mattresses this fall!

Late in October 100,286 new cotton mattresses had been made in the state under the Department of Agriculture's program for aiding low-income farm families and reducing the cotton surplus. This figure was compiled in the office of Mildred Horton, vice director and state home demonstration agent of the A&M College Extension Service.

The cooperative program provides that educational work and supervision of mattress making centers shall be furnished by the Extension Service, cotton and ticking shall be made available by the Surplus Marketing Administration, and certification of eligible families shall be the responsibility of county agricultural conservation committees of the Triple-A.

NEWSMASTER DISCUSSES HIGHLIGHTS OF NEWS

To date centers have been set up in 2,654 Texas communities, and mattresses are being made in 150 counties. Miss Horton reported. Voluntary leaders who supervise mattress making in the centers number 37,290—24,859 of them women and 12,431 men.
