Hedley Cotton Festival Friday & Saturday

Bronchos Travel to Lefors Friday for First Conference Game: 7:30 p.m.

The non-conference games are over for the Clarendon Bronchos and it looks like it may be a long season from here on in. The Bronchos meet their first conference competition this Friday night when they engage the fast Lefors Pirates at Lefors. Game time has been set for 7:30.

The Clarendon team ended their non-conference season last Friday night with a 6-0 victory over Claude to bring their record to four wins and two defeats as they enter conference play. They hold wins over Silverton, Panhandle, Wellington and Claude and have lost to Stinnett and Groom. It appears that the Bronchos are as strong if not a little stronger than they were last year. Last fall they lost all four conference games by close margins. However, this year, every team in the conference is much stronger than last year with the possible exception of Canadian. Both Lefors and McLean have come up with powerhouse teams this year and Memphis is greatly improved over last year.

This week's opponent, the Lefors Pirates, feature a strong line and a lightning-fast backfield. Last week they were leading the Stinnett Rattlers by a score of 12 to 7 late in the fourth quarter when Stinnett scored and took a narrow 14 to 12 win. The Pirates played strong White Deer to a 6-6 tie earlier in the season. They won easily over Panhandle, Shamrock, Sunray and Wellington. So, it looks like a long night for the Bronchos who will have to go in as two to three touchdown underdogs.

Coach Tom Jinks says that his team is in fairly good condition physically. Jerry Elmore, who did not play last week on account of a pulled muscle in his leg, is reported to be doing well and will probably be ready for Friday night's game. Otherwise the lineup will be about the same as last week which had Bill Hermesmyer and Leon Gibbs at ends, Charles Stout and David McBrayer at tackles, Frank Hermesmyer and Billy Hearn at guards and Mike Heath at center. Dwight McAnear will be at quarterback

Boll Weevil Control To Be Discussed at Hedley Meeting

Remember this Friday morning at 10:30 in the Lions Hall at Hedley there will be a big boll weevil meeting. County Agent Flip Breedlove is urging all cotton farmers interested to be present.

The reason for a boll weevil meeting at this time of year is because a certain amount of winter cultivation and practices will help to control the boll weevil. It is also in connection with the big Cotton Festival.

Mr. Garner, Extension entomologist from A&M College of College Station, Texas, will be the speaker for the meeting. Breedlove says that the meeting will start on time so be there early to get all the information.

AIRPORT RUNWAY BEING IMPROVED
The Clarendon Airport landing strip is being improved at the present time in order to accommodate planes arriving here at various times for special occasions as well as local use.
The air strip is located 3 miles southeast of town and the project at present calls for improvement and leveling of the run-way and the job is being done by R. A. Beverly.
The local Chamber of Commerce directors voted Tuesday night to contribute $100 toward the project. Other money for the project is being donated by various individuals interested in the air strip. At the same time, they voted a $100 scholarship for Clarendon Junior College.
A landing field is a valuable asset to our little city for there are many times that visitors choose to fly in for special events and visiting instead of driving.
with Jim Robinson and Gary Campbell at halfbacks. Elmore will start at fullback.

A CERTIFICATE OF MERIT

In an informal ceremony in the ASCS office on October 4, a Certificate of Merit and an award in the amount of $50.00 was presented to our Chief Clerk, Mrs. Anness R. Bennett for outstanding News Articles and Newsletters prepared through the entire year, July 1, 1960 through June 30, 1961, which provided information and interesting reading to all Donley County farmers and ranchers.

This Certificate of Merit and the cash award were approved on the recommendation of Mrs. Ritter, Office Manager, and Mr. Taylor, District Farmer Fieldman.

We hope you have been reading all the News Articles and Newsletters and that you will continue to do so. We know that you agree that Anness has done a noteworthy job and has earned the Certificate of Merit and the award. We are proud of her and her work.

FARMING OPERATIONS

Have you rented, leased or sold a farm recently? If so, notify our office so that we can make the necessary corrections on our farm record cards.

CONSERVATION USES APPROVED FOR CROPLAND DIVERTED UNDER '61 WHEAT STABILIZATION PROGRAM

The Texas ASCS Committee has approved the following conservation land uses on cropland for the purpose of conserving the 1959-60 normal conserving acreage on the farm and for meeting the conserving acreage requirement under the program in 1962.

1. Permanent or rotation cover of grasses and legumes.
2. Winter and Summer cover crops consisting of small grains, legumes, or grasses.
3. With permission of the County Committee—Summer fallowed or idle cropland may be approved if protective measures are carried out on these acres.
4. Corn, grain sorghum, wheat or barley used as green manure, providing that it's plowed down or clipped while still green. These covers may not be allowed to mature.

If you intend to participate in the 1962 Wheat Program, you must:

1. Divert at least the minimum acres required under this program.
2. Devote the acreage thus diverted to one or more of the above conservation uses.
3. Not permit grazing of the diverted acreage in 1962 after the spring sign-up period.
4. Not harvest crops from diverted acreage in 1962.
5. Check with the ASCS office if you intend to break out new cropland.

EXPLORER SCOUTS SEE WT-WICHITA GAME

As a part of their fall schedule, six members of the local Explorer Scout troop took in the football game between West Texas State and Wichita University at Canyon last Saturday night. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McAnear and Clyde Price Jr.

Explorers making the trip were Berry Hudson, John Grady, Bobby Cain, Jack Robinson, Freddie McAnear and Kenneth Price.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goldston were the Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Vandenburg and girls of Amarillo. Rev. Vandenburg preached at the First Baptist Church Sunday.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM By PRICE DANIEL Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

Cotton, which has played so vital a role in the development of Texas, remains one of the agricultural mainstays of its economy. Value of cotton produced in this State exceeds $20 billion, and this crop's service to mankind is beyond measure.

Ten years ago, Hedley Cotton Festival was launched under joint sponsorship of the local Lions Club and Booster Club to celebrate and give thanks for the bountiful cotton crops produced in the area.

Residents of the entire Texas Panhandle are invited to Hedley for the two day Festival, climaxed by the coronation of the Queen of Cotton. Seven thousand persons have attended each of the nine previous Cotton Festivals in Hedley, a town of 500 population.

The Festival is the only one of its kind and is sanctioned by the National Cotton Council. Festival committees promote improvement of the soil and the growing of better grades of cotton.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate October 13-14, 1961, date of the Tenth Annual Hedley Cotton Festival, as COTTON FESTIVAL DAYS in Texas, and urge all citizens to join in a tribute to the great cotton industry.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 5th day of October, 1961.

PRICE DANIEL
Governor of Texas

Hedley Old Settlers Reunion at Cotton Festival

The Hedley Old Settlers Reunion will be held Friday, October 13, at the Hedley Cotton Festival. This group met at Tate Grove in August for the annual Old Settlers Picnic. They voted to move the reunion into town and hold it along with the Hedley Festival.

Mrs. W. I. Rains, only living founder of this pioneer organization, has lived in Donley County longer than any of the pioneers living around Hedley. She came to Childress County with her father, W. H. Crawford, and sister and brother-in-law, the E. H. Watts, in 1890, moving to Donley County in 1895. She and the late W. I. Rains were married in 1898 and moved to the land he had homesteaded. Mrs. Rains is still living in the same place with her oldest son, Ike. She celebrated her 81st birthday August 30.

Mrs. Rains has only missed two picnics since the organization of the Old Settlers. She extends an invitation to all pioneer families to meet at the Hedley Cotton Festival. President Woodrow Farris is working with his committee to make this Old Settlers Day the best. Come to Hedley and meet your old friends.

Former Resident, News Writer, Visiting Here

Mrs. A. J. Williams of Vevay, Indiana, and former resident of Clarendon, is visiting here in the home of a friend, Mrs. H. C. Brumley. She plans to leave today for a visit at Iowa Park and other points in that area before returning home.

Mrs. Williams, 81 years young, was a resident of Clarendon forty years ago at which time her husband, Albert J. Williams, operated the Clarendon Mercantile here next door to the Donley County State Bank.

Mrs. Williams has been writing for newspapers since she was 16. For the past 12 years she has worked as correspondent for six newspapers and the Associated Press. At present she works as a correspondent for the Cincinnati Post and Times-Star, The Madison Courier and Weekly Herald, the Indianapolis News and Star, the Louisville, Kentucky, Courier Journal and the Reville at Vevay, Indiana.

Sunday School work is her hobby and she has written a book on Sunday School. She has been acclaimed the best Sunday School teacher in Indiana.

It certainly is a thrill to be back visiting with many of my old friends, Mrs. Williams stated.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The Donley County Soil Conservation District conducted their fall tour last Thursday, Oct. 5. A nice crowd was present for the tour.

The group visited the ranches of Joe McMurtry and T. C. D'Spain. Results of brush control, range seeding, pond construction, diversion construction, and erosion control dams were seen by the group. Refreshments were served to the group, courtesy of Joe McMurtry.

Supervisors of the Donley SCD have decided to make this tour an annual affair, to be held each fall. Cap Morris, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the SCD, says, "Folks that live in town as well as those that live on the land like to see the results of soil conservation work. We feel that as more people see the results of conservation work, more of the work will be done."

WHAT OTHERS ARE DOING

Pond Construction — Hag y Ranch, Charles Weaver, Joe Robinson

Diversions — T. C. D'Spain. Erosion Control Dams — Hag y Ranch, T. C. D'Spain.

Cover Crops — Jack Edens, Harold White.

Troy Broome and Ray Moreman are in the process of completing Great Plains Conservation Program Contracts. These contracts include grass seeding, brush control, cross-fencing, and windbreak planting. Cost-share will vary from 50 to 80 percent on the practices to be performed.

Grain sorghum harvest is in full swing. Yields are very good in most cases, and the residue is heavy. This residue is very valuable from the conservation standpoint, and should be protected. Residues should be left on the surface throughout the blow season. This will keep the land from blowing, and will help the land to absorb moisture as it falls.

Blowing snow is also trapped by a standing stubble, where on flat land it blows on across the field and piles up in roads and fence rows. This extra amount of moisture that is trapped might make the difference in a good crop the following year, or no crop at all.

Remember, crop residues that are left on the land are not wasted, but are very valuable.

LIBRARY NOTES

EDITH BARNES

It is about time someone gave us another book about the beloved Will Rogers; and his niece, Mrs. Paula McSpadden Love, has done just that. She has collected most of the never-before-sayings of America's well loved humorist.

Will Rogers was not only a humorist but actor, news commentator, goodwill ambassador, author, philosopher and humanitarian. There has never been a time when we needed someone of his caliber more than now. Some probably would say that he oversimplified any situation. Such was not the case. He could in a few words make a thing plain without a lot of fancy language.

Some of the following quotes will illustrate why you don't have to use big words and hundreds of words to get an idea over. "Everybody wants to hear accusations and nobody wants to hear denials."

"The Government has never been accused of being a business man."

No one is going to spoil the country, but the people. No one man can do it and all the people are not going to do it, so it's going to run in spite of all the mistakes that can happen to it."

"We killed more people celebrating our Independence Day than we lost fighting for it."

"Common sense is not an issue in politics; it's an affliction."

"You can't legislate intelligence and common sense into people."

"We got the most thorough training in every line of business but statesmanship, and that you just decide overnight, 'I am a statesman.'"

"Party politics is the most narrow-minded occupation in the world. A guy raised in a straight jacket is a corkscrew compared to a thick-headed politician."

"Diplomats are just as essential to starting a war as soldiers are for finishing it."

"There is nothing as stupid as an educated man if you get him off the things he was educated in."

"Russia is starving her own people to feed propaganda to the rest of the world."

"It seems the whole idea of Communism, or whatever they want to call it is based on propaganda and blood."

"The old Communist preaches his doctrines, but he wants to do it where he is enjoying the blessing of capitalistic surroundings. He preaches against the pie, but he sure eats it."

"What's the matter with the world? There ain't nothing but one word wrong with every one of us and that's selfishness."

These are but a small sample of the things Will Rogers not only preached but tried to live. He has been dead for 26 years but his comments are as applicable today as they were when he made them. Oh yes, the name of the book, "The Will Rogers Book."

"The Incredible Journey," by Sheila Burnford has been given to the library in memory of Miss Anna Moores.

First national presidential nomination convention in the U. S. was held in Baltimore in 1831.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS
by Uncle Zeb

Conformity to a pre-arranged pattern has become almost the habit of the American people. We assume that a thing must be good for us or our political fathers would not have planned it in their most recent political platform. We blindly follow blind leaders and we are continually falling into the ditch . . .

We trade a measure of freedom for a promise of security.

We surrender the hopes which could be born in uncertain conditions for the hopeless promises of a bankrupt future. We borrow from our children's future rather than ask them to sacrifice a few comforts for the present.

Nominations are made through hand-shaking and promises. Platforms are written behind closed doors and spoon-fed to the general public with the wild claims of a fake patent medicine. Whether we like the party planks we climb aboard the platform for fear of insecurity or financial loss.

Lately we have felt encouraged that a few were speaking up and crying out against the evils of complacency and conformity. It seems that among our young folks we find a desire to return to a greater freedom. Many large businesses have paid for radio time and newspaper space to bring to the public's attention the danger of our losing everything. Editorials have spoken out.

So long as we have one more day of freedom and one more free election there is still hope for the future. Most of the nations who have fallen to Communism had little to lose. Surely, we that have so much to cherish will not trade it away for a mess of pottage.

Old Sayings have always held a fascination to me. There is one which says in effect that, "What one doesn't know, won't hurt you." In this connection we heard of what is supposed to have been an actual experience which makes us smile out loud every time we think about it. The story came from a friend, and was told to him for the truth by a cross-roads grocery store owner with whom he often visited.

One day I walked one of the store owner's regular customers with a neatly wrapped pound of fresh country butter. She did not normally sell butter so she began the conversation by explaining her unusual situation.

"I want to trade you this pound of fresh butter for another one. It is good butter, but after taking it up I found a mouse in the buttermilk. There is no part of the mouse in the butter but knowing that it was in the churn I just couldn't eat it. 'What one doesn't know doesn't hurt,' so if you could exchange it for me the other person wouldn't mind eating it at all.

Knowing that this required careful thinking or he would lose a customer the storekeeper took her pound of butter and disappeared into his refrigeration locker. Taking another pound of country butter he carefully removed the wrappers and placed a different one on her pound and gave her the same contents. She was happy and he never heard any further complaint from her.

"You know," he said, "She was right. What one doesn't know won't hurt you." . . . It didn't work though with our old dog when he didn't know the difference between a skunk and a stray house cat.

An Humble Heart can be the key that will open the door to a great strength for our life . . . To be aware of our dependence for help upon a greater power is never a sign of weakness. If we know that our leaders truly pray for help from the Higher Power it can give us greater faith in their leadership.

The following food for thought speaks for many of us as we think about the experience of life. The author is unknown but he must have discovered some of the great secrets which help make life happier.

"I asked God for strength, that I might achieve — I was made weak that I might learn humbly to obey . . .

I asked God for help that I might do greater things — I was given infirmity that I might do better things. . .

I asked for riches that I might be happy — I was given poverty that I might be wise . . .

I asked for power that I might have the praise of men — I was given weakness that I might feel the need of God . . .

I asked for all things that I might enjoy life — I was given life that I might enjoy all things. . .

I got nothing I asked for — but everything I hoped for . . .

Almost despite myself my unspoken prayers were answered. . . I am among all men, most richly blessed. . .

The above contains some mighty good thinking and will be good for our scrap books. We feel honored that so many of you remind us that you include some things from this column in your collection.

"Sometimes folks imagine they are thinking when they are only re-arranging their prejudices."

A LESSON FROM RUSSIA

"It appears that the Soviet Union may be gravitating away from a free economy and adopting a government-planned economy and adopting some of the ways of a free economy while we are gravitating away from a free economy and adopting a government-planned economy."

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Mayo and children of Amarillo, Mrs. Dolie Mayo and Mrs. George Fowler of Clarendon visited Mrs. James Smith Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mooring and boys and Phil Hart of Clarendon attended the football game in Canyon Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinch Leathers were in Amarillo Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lee Butler and David left Thursday to spend several days with relatives in Wichita, Kansas.

That significant observation was made by Edwin Vennard, managing director of the Edison Electric Institute. He based it on a recent article in Barron's magazine, written by Paul Wohl, which dealt at length with "creeping capitalism" in the Soviet Union. For example, Mr. Wohl pointed out that the Soviet government now officially tolerates free collective farm markets — and these are a very important part of the economy indeed, as they supply the bulk of the fresh fruit, vegetables, dairy products, eggs, poultry and meat consumed by Russian city dwellers. As another example, he observes that close to a third of all the new housing which went up in the cities between 1957 and 1959 was privately built.

Actually, the Soviets have long been moving away from what might be called pure communism — simply because it didn't work. They have had to offer incentives — and any incentive system is capitalistic in nature.

It's ironic that while this is going on in Russia, we give more and more authority to government, and move closer and closer to a planned economy.

POULTRY INSPECTION REGULATIONS AMENDED

Regulations governing poultry inspection to minimize water absorption by processed poultry have been announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The amendment became effective on August 1, 1961, and will give consumers added protection in buying Federally inspected poultry by reducing the maximum amount of water absorption permitted and by extending this control to all types of packaging, says F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist.

Specifically, the amendment will provide the following limits on water absorption for poultry that is to be consumer packaged or frozen, or both: turkeys under 20 pounds and over, 4.5 percent; turkeys 10-20 pounds, 6 percent and those under 10 pounds, 8 percent; chickens 5 pounds or less, 8 percent and all other kinds and weights of poultry, 6 percent.

For ice packed poultry, the limit will be 12 percent at the processing plant. This amount, studies have shown, will be reduced through drainage during the normal marketing process to the moisture level set for consumer-packaged and frozen products by the time it is weighed for sale.

The problem of water absorption has been studied since January 1959 when the Poultry Products Inspection Act went into effect to determine the normal moisture level resulting from good processing and chilling techniques.

He added that under Federal inspection, processors must provide consumers with scrupulously clean, ready-for-the-pan poultry. Good sanitation requires that birds be thoroughly washed at various stages of processing, thus making some water absorption inevitable. Too, since chilling the poultry promptly after evisceration by using ice and water or refrigerated water is the best means of preserving wholesomeness and good eating quality, further water pick-up is certain.

Beamblossom said a high percent of the poultry processing plants in Texas operate under Federal inspection.

NO NEED FOR MOTH BALLS

Bigger central government means more state control and planning of everything from business activity to what children are taught in local schools. Its record throughout the world is destruction of individual liberty and opportunity. Yet the federal government in its proposed legislation would create a national wilderness system of 55 million acres, within which there could be no disturbing of either the face or the processes of nature. No timber harvesting would be allowed; no roads could be constructed; recreational value would be restricted and exploration for minerals or oil would be seriously hampered.

Every citizen has the right to expect that wild areas will be retained for the enjoyment of future generations, free from the intrusion of four-lane freeways, hot dog stands and litterbugs. This is part of our heritage and should never be destroyed. But moth-balling 55 million acres is not necessary for this purpose, and would have serious economic effect.

Forest, mineral and oil resources in wilderness areas can be adequately developed without detracting from the wild beauty of the land where they are located—and often such development is of real benefit. Experience has shown that a well managed forest protects watersheds, and increases the opportunities for hunting and fishing. Managed forests also sustain a minimum of economic loss, due to fire, insects and disease. Unmanaged forest areas without access roads are a danger to other timber lands adjacent to them, and are of little recreational value, since very few people have the time or means for traveling through them.

In developing a national program, a fact to be remembered is that conservation and productive use of land, in no way conflicts with the goal of establishing more wilderness parks and recreational areas.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Bad Boys

It seems that the House of Representatives of the United States Congress adjourned on a sour note with both the United States Senate and the District of Columbia. The House seems to be in equal bad repute with both. Newspaper accounts here, both news stories and editorials, refer to the House adjournment activities as a "slick maneuver," "arbitrariness," "stubborn insensitivity to the national welfare," "double crossed the Senate," "writing offensive provisions into catch-all appropriations bills," "legislation by trickery," etc.

One editorial says, "It was stubborn insensitivity to the national welfare on the part of the House that killed the aid to education bill, cut deeply into the foreign aid program and doomed vital legislation for the District of Columbia." The offensive provisions charged to have been written into an appropriations bill by the House, no doubt, refers to some language put into the bill by the House which prevented some additional back door spending. The vital legislation for the District of Columbia referred to was a District of Columbia tax bill increasing the sales tax in the district of Columbia, among other things. One of the other things that was so abhorrent to the House was the inclusion in the bill of an amendment which would have permitted the District of Columbia to have participated in the funds originally appropriated to aid school districts which were unduly burdened by Federal installations. This is commonly called the impacted school areas bill. The amendment to which was included in the District tax bill would have meant that the District of Columbia would have profited to the tune of about $5 million out of the Federal Treasury. The District of Columbia, because of the great amount of Federal property within its confines and not subject to taxation, receives an annual grant each year in lieu of Federal taxes. This year it will receive approximately $30 million. It originally came to the Congress with a request for approximately $36 million. This request was, of course, reduced by the House, as it should have been. The grant annually made to the District of Columbia takes into consideration all of the circumstances involved, including the school children. The Federal government does not make such a grant to other cities. It does make grants to other cities in limited amounts because of impacted conditions in schools created by the children of Federal employees working in installations and projects that are not on the tax rolls. The House knew that if the District of Columbia was included in the impacted areas legislation and also given the annual Federal grant, it would be a case of doing indirectly what the House had refused to do directly, that is, pay to the District of Columbia the sum of approximately $36 million. This matter was presented to the House on two separate occasions. On the first occasion, by a Roll Call vote, the House refused to accept such an amendment by a vote of 142 to 159. Four days later the matter was again brought before the House and on another Roll Call vote, the proposition lost to the tune of 173 nays to 97 yeas. It was an excellent example of a gimmick to by-pass the Appropriations Committee and the appropriations procedures of the House.

Many of the advocates of Federal aid to education supported the amendment and argued that it would be a breakthrough into the field of Federal aid to education. This argument did not help the cause of those trying to insert the amendment, because it will be remembered the Federal aid to education bill failed in the House earlier in the year.

The Congress came in for some bitter criticism on other measures concerning the District of Columbia. One of these had to do with the fact that the Senate had voted $2,550,000 in connection with the National Capital Transportation Agency. A conference between the House and Senate resulted in this amount being cut to $1,085,000. We were also criticized because the House refused to yield concerning disqualification requirements having to do with benefits for the unemployed. The result was the bill is still pending. Another item drawing criticism was the failure of the House to go along with certain proposals designed to "improve" the urban renewal and redevelopment procedures. The House was taken to task not only in the newspapers but also on television and radio, and was accused of being irresponsible for failure to do things for the District of Columbia.

I bring you this story because I think the people all over the country should know that the House of Representatives, in my opinion, has proven the strength of representative government. The Members of the House, elected for two-year terms so they would and could remain close to the people, have by their action in these matters proven that the "voice of the people" is still being heard in loud and clear tones in the Nation's Capital.

At various times in history counterfeiting has been punishable by death.

CHECK ROOFING FOR RUST SIGNS

Galvanized roofing on all farm buildings should be checked each year for signs of rust, warns W. S. Allen, Extension Agricultural Engineer.

A delay in painting rusty roofs adds to the cost when the job is finally done. More paint is needed for a given area of rusty roof than on a roof with little or no rust.

Extra labor is also required to brush off loose rust particles prior to repainting. Rusty roofs will probably need repairs also.

Select a primer paint which will give adherence to the zinc surface. Paints with 80 percent metallic zinc dust and 20 percent zinc oxide in an oil vehicle, have a long history of good performance both as a prime coat and as a finish coat, says Allen.

Serviceable primers for galvanized steel are also available. Among these are formulas with other pigments in addition to zinc dust and zinc oxide. It is always important to check the paint manufacturer's recommendations to make certain the primer selected is intended for use over galvanized steel, points out Allen.

If a color different from the prime coat is used, be sure the finish coat is compatible with the primer coat, he warns.

To prepare new galvanized roofing, gutters, and downspouts for painting, wash thoroughly with a detergent and then with clear water. Then apply the primer coat. The use of vinegar is no longer recommended for removing the inhibitor usually found on new galvanized roofing.

The use of aluminum, asphalt aluminum, and ordinary red, green, or gray house paint for rusty roofs is not recommended. They will not stop the rust and will peel after several years.

Allen says the use of the proper paint for the particular job is your best assurance of an attractive, economical and long-lasting paint job.

BRONCHOS EDGE CLAUDE IN 6-0 DEFENSIVE BATTLE

The Clarendon High School Bronchos barely got by the Claude Mustangs last Friday night, coming out on top of a 6-0 score in a game played at Claude.

The lone score of the game came late in the second quarter when Gary Campbell swept left end on a reverse play that covered 18 yards and the touchdown. The play climaxed a 63 yard drive.

The Mustangs threatened the Broncho goal line on numerous occasions during the game. Once in the early moments of the second quarter, the Bronchos fumbled and Claude recovered on the Broncho eight yard line, but the Broncho line tightened and stopped the Mustangs on the four. Again in the same period the Mustangs got down to the Clarendon three before being stopped. They were stopped on the Broncho eight in the third quarter and again inside the 15 in the fourth quarter.

The Bronchos never threatened except on their scoring play. However, they were headed toward the Mustang goal when the game ended and they had a first-and-ten on the Claude 20.

Although the Bronchos did not show much offensive power, they did put up a good defense against the surprisingly strong Mustangs. The Mustangs outweighed the Bronchos and were making a strong bid for a victory on their home field.

Clarendon made ten first downs as compared to Claude's eight, but the Mustangs made four penetrations to Clarendon's one.

COLTS DEFEATED BY CANADIAN 20-12

The Jr. High Colts saw their first possible victory of the season fade away in the last moments of the game here last Thursday night when the Canadian Kittens came to life to erase a zero at halftime and add three touchdowns to win over the Colts 20-12.

The Colts dominated the entire first half and had built up a 12-0 lead at the end of the first two periods but were unable to score during the last half with the visitors stacking up 20 points on the scoreboard. Their last two counters came in the waning seconds of the game. Pushing the pigskin over for the Colts were Ray Pinkerton and Phil Hart.

The Colts showed considerable improvement over previous encounters which was very pleasing to coaches Fred Hedgecock and Jack Hall.

The Colts will journey to Wellington tonight for games with the Wellington A and B squads. The first game will begin at 6:30. They were successful in adding another game to the schedule which will be played here in Broncho stadium next Thursday night, October 19th with Panhandle. They will close out the season against Lefors on October 26th.

Week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. James were Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Heier and children Lauriel, Karen and Lorna of Biloxi, Miss. and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. James of Dumas.

Local Area Receives Good Moisture Monday

From all reports, the Clarendon area received from 1.50 to 2.50 inches of rain Monday in a good soaker that was considered more beneficial than harmful at this particular time when harvest is getting under way. The wheat farmers were more appreciative than the cotton farmers.

Here in town, we received 1.52 inches while the area between Ashtola and Goodnight and to the north reported 2.50 inches and above. The best measurements were recorded below the caprock.

The Amarillo weather station is predicting a possible freeze for Saturday morning which is the very opposite from what we need at this time as late cotton and feed need all the warm growing weather they can get for the best turn-out. October 20th is the average date for a killing frost in this area so there is a good possibility that the weatherman may be right in his predictions.

Economic Highlights

How strong is the United States and its allies compared to Russia? No question has been subjected to more discussion and more controversy. For it is a question involving the very existence of civilization as we know it.

The ordinary man has every right to be confused. We have heard that the Soviet is far ahead of us in both conventional and nuclear-type weapons — and we have heard also that the United States possesses at least equal strength. We have heard that Russia is overtaking us in the various economic fields — and we have heard also that our lead is so great, coupled with current and expected expansion, that we have little to worry about in this sphere.

This bit of background gives significance to an article in a late issue of U.S. News & World Report. Its title: "Khrushchev's Big Fear." Its opening sentences: "Nikita Khrushchev, in his latest warlike moves, is seen as leading from fear—not from confidence. This is the way high Western officials now size up the Soviet dictator."

AT MAYO'S CLINIC

Mrs. L. M. Putman, Jr. is at Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. and according to recent reports will not enter surgery but will be there some twelve more days for treatment. Cards may be sent her in care of Hotel Brown, Room 215, Corner 1st Ave. and 3rd St. S.W., Rochester, Minn.

U. S. News observes, "Here, facing the communist empire, is a group of nations that, as a whole, is far more powerful than Soviet Russia. Now those nations are beginning to combine their power."

Therefore — if appraisals of this nature are correct—time may be running out for Khrushchev. His power, today, is greater than it can be expected to be in the years that lie ahead.

European economic unification is making swift and enormous strides. The decision of Great Britain to join the Common Market, despite all her long historical disassociations from such Continental alliances, shows the way the winds of change are blowing. So does the participation of small countries with ancient traditions of neutralism and isolationism—Norway and Ireland, for example.

Economic cooperation of this nature, with a gradual undercutting of tariff walls and other such barriers, must result in greater political and military cooperation. The point, as U. S. News regards it, is that Soviet military strength is near its peak. The Kremlin must deal with shortages of food and just about everything else, and with an inadequate supply of skilled labor. The arms drain on the Russian economy is enormous, and everything else suffers heavily because of it. On the other hand, the strength of the West — in the economic sphere which is the rock on which military strength ultimately rests—grows apace.

There is great hope in this situation, but there is also a great danger—the danger that Khrushchev and the other Soviet leaders may come to believe that they must strike soon, or lose their chance of success. In U. S. News' words: "A Khrushchev afraid of the future must also be made afraid of the present — so he will not go too far."
