THIS WEEK

- 2 The Texas Legislature takes time out of its busy schedule to vote on cheerleading.
- 3 Emergency farm loan applications are being taken.
- 6 The Lady Broncos are bound for the regional quarterfinals in Big Spring.
- 8 And the Broncos ruin Claude's chance to be district champions.

All this and much more as The Enterprise reports in this week's summertime edition!

Ambulance Authority celebrates EMS Week

The Associated Ambulance Authority will be visiting the Clarendon Elementary, First Baptist Church Pre-K class, and Hedley Elementary during EMS Week, May 15-21.

Their goal is to educate the HeadStart, Pre-K, first, second, and third graders about summer safety and injury prevention. They will have a special guest there for the children.

Although they are going to the schools, they want to invite all children and adults to come by the Associated Ambulance Authority at #3 Medical Center Drive to answer any questions or to take a tour of the station. Hours of operation are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Ambulance Authority would like to recognize all the their volunteers and staff for their dedication and commitment to this community.

Awards Day to be held at Clarendon Schools

Clarendon Jr. High and Clarendon High School would like to invite all family and friends of local students to the annual Awards Day to be held at the Clarendon High School Auditorium on Monday, May 23.

The junior high presentation will begin at 8:10 and the high school will begin at 9:30.

Academic and attendance awards will be given during these assemblies.

Project Graduation is accepting donations

The Clarendon High School Class of 2005 is making preparations for their Alcohol-Free, Drug-Free All Night Graduation Party that will be held May 27 after graduation.

This class of 34 students is anxiously waiting for their graduation day; and in hopes of making it a memorable evening for the students, donations of monetary value and prizes are being accepted and appreciated.

If you would like to give to this cause, you may donate to "Project Graduation 2005" in care of the Donley County State Bank. Your donation is very much appreciated by everyone involved.

CHS Student Council planning Talent Show

The Clarendon High School Student Council has announced it will be sponsoring its fourth annual St. Jude Talent Show Tuesday, May 17, at 6:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Students in grades pre-K through 12 will sing, dance, recite, and perform skits.

Clarendon, Hedley name top students

The Clarendon and Hedley school districts have named Shanna Shelton, Stephen Howard, Robert Shelton, and Allison Hill as the top students in Donley County for 2005.

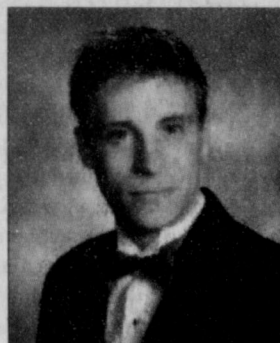

With a grade average of 97.45, Shanna Shelton has been named the valedictorian at Clarendon High School. She is the daughter of Stan and Melanie Shelton of Clarendon.

During her high school career, Shanna was involved in cross country, basketball, softball, track, band, UIL Literary Criticism, UIL Mathematics, UIL Calculator Applications, Student Council, National Honor Society, Texas Association of Future Educators, and Spanish Club.

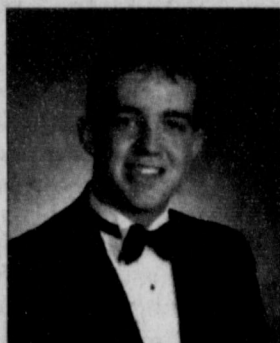

She has received the BWXT Pantex and Ascension Academy Award of Excellence in Math and Science, the Daughters of the American Revolution American History Award, US Naval Academy Scholastic Excellence Award, US Army Reserve National Scholar/Athlete Award, and the Donley County Chamber of Commerce Young Woman of the Year Award.

Shanna volunteers her time with the Clarendon Little League as a coach and umpire and with the Clarendon Little Dribblers as a coach. She is a member of the First Baptist Church.

Shanna will be attending West Texas A&M University in the fall.

Stephen Howard is the valedictorian at Hedley High School. He is the son of Bruce and Gwynne Howard of Hedley. He was a two-way starter in football the last three years and is a four-year letterman in basketball, starting at point guard the last three years. He earned All-District and All-Region honors in both sports. As a junior, he was named Hedley's Male Athlete of the Year. This year he also qualified for the regional tennis meet in doubles and last year was part of the cross-country district championship team.

In UIL Academic Competition, Howard won four straight District

Number Sense titles and qualified for the state Number Sense contest both his sophomore and senior years. In Science competition, he won the district Chemistry championship for the past three years, was overall Science district champion this year, and won the Regional Science Championship and Chemistry section of the regional test this year as well. He qualified for the State UIL Academic Meet in Math recently, becoming only the second Hedley student to qualify for the state in three events.

He was also a member of the One Act Play cast last year and the OAP crew this year. He qualified the past two years for the state BPA contest in Financial Math and Analysis.

Stephen was named valedictorian this year with a cumulative GPA of 3.847. He will attend Texas Tech University to major in biochemistry.

Landowners may miss out on funds

Local farmers and ranchers could miss out on payments from a lucrative government conservation program if they don't sign up before the May 27 deadline.

The Conservation Security Program (CSP), which is administered by the USDA-NRCS, rewards topnotch conservation farmers and ranchers who already act as model conservationists. It also pays qualified producers to do further environmental enhancements, such as additional conservation treatments, and evaluations.

Weldon Sears with the local NRCS office told the ENTERPRISE last week that incentive payments to landowners could be from $5,000 to $45,000 per year for conservation that most people are already doing.

But of the 750 landowners eligible in Donley County, none had applied for the program as of last week. Sears said the deadline is fast approaching; and once it closes, the program will not return to Donley County for eight to ten years.

CSP is a three-tiered program with different requirements for each tier. All CSP producers, regardless of the tier at which they participate, must ultimately address minimum treatment criteria for soil quality and water quality.

Techniques to achieve these soil and water criteria will vary depending on your ranch's slope, climate, soil texture, and other characteristics. Typically, sound resource management will include activities such as those shown below and will result in fertile soil with valuable organic matter that is protected from erosion. Additionally, pesticides and nutrients will be managed to help keep surface and groundwater clean to protect human and environmental health.

Producers who may be eligible for CSP do all of the following: Use a grazing plan allowing for periods of rest; Keep records of livestock/grazing production; Maintain a proper forage/livestock balance; Have adequate water and proper water distribution; Manage livestock access to water; Actively control weeds and invasive plant species; Monitor rangeland health; and are willing to pursue additional conservation enhancements.

For more information and to find out if you qualify, contact the NRCS at 806-874-3561 ext. 3 or come by 321 S. Sully in Clarendon.

USDA Rural Development plans meeting

USDA Rural Development representatives will meet at the Burton Memorial Library's Meeting Room in Clarendon on Wednesday, May 18, 2005, from 10:00 a.m. until noon to provide information about USDA Rural Development's Housing, Community, and Business and Cooperative Programs.

USDA Rural Development's housing programs offer loans and grants to applicants in towns and cities meeting certain population requirements. Programs offered assist qualified persons to buy, build, repair, or maintain a home.

USDA Rural Development's community programs to enlarge, improve, or construct schools, libraries, medical clinics, assisted living centers, public buildings, and community centers.

USDA Rural Development's business programs provide capital to expand economic development in rural areas. There is no minimum loan size.

For more information, contact the Amarillo office at 806-468-8600, ext. 4.

Clarendon College wins Intercollegiate Horse Judging Spring Sweepstakes

The Clarendon College Horse Judging Team placed first out of the ten teams that participated in the Intercollegiate Horse Judging Spring Sweepstakes, sponsored by the American Paint Horse Association, Tuesday, April 26, in Fort Worth.

Team members included Lacey Isbell of Hobbs, New Mexico; Caitlin Mize of Hempstead, Texas; Amy Northcutt of Hereford; Jonathan Spreng of Milliken, Colorado; and Elizabeth Voskamp of Thompson, Texas. These students were among the 46 competing contestants and placed in the top 10 in different categories such as halter, performance and reasons.

"I am very proud of these students," said Leslie Stoker, Clarendon College horse judging coach.

"This team consisted of all freshmen, and they really stepped up. We're looking forward to these students competing again next year as sophomores."

Top five teams in the contest included Clarendon College, Black Hawk College (team A), NEO A&M, Morrisville State College and Black Hawk College (team B).

The Clarendon College horse judging program provides students with valuable skills such as critical thinking, public speaking, and working in a team atmosphere.

For more information, contact Leslie Stoker at 806-874-3571, ext. 145.

Amarillo voters reject banning public smoking

Amarillo voters narrowly rejected an overreaching ban on smoking in public places Saturday, but the Health Nazis aren't about to just roll over after their defeat.

The ban was defeated by a margin of 14,718 to 15,274; and even though her side got beaten, the chairwoman of Amarillo Clean Air Now (CAN) thinks she sees a mandate to protect people from the evils of second-hand smoke.

"Almost 50 percent of Amarillo citizens want the right to breathe smoke-free," Casey McCann told the AMARILLO GLOBE-NEWS.

Unfortunately for McCann, "almost" doesn't count in elections.

The fact of the matter is that more than 50 percent of Amarillo voters correctly realized that smoking is a personal issue and more importantly that allowing – or not allowing – smoking in a restaurant or other establishments is a private property right that belongs exclusively to the property owner. No one should have that right taken away – not even by a vote of the people.

As far as the right to breathe smoke-free goes, no one has put a gun to anyone's head and made them work in or patronize an establishment where smoking is allowed. If that's a big deal to you, then quit or go eat somewhere else. But whether or not someone smokes in a place of business ought to be left entirely up to the owner of that business.

McCann's group doesn't see it that way though, and it is already considering organizing another petition to force the issue to another vote.

But if CAN wants to really accomplish something, it could utilize the power of the free market by recognizing and promoting businesses who voluntarily prohibit smoking. That way health-conscious restaurants could cater to non-smokers, other establishments could welcome smokers or have separate sections for smokers and non-smokers, and the rights of everybody would be protected.

Legislature gets priorities mixed up

With end of the Legislative session drawing to a close in the coming weeks, state representatives got serious about taking care of Texas' affairs last week and voted to crack down on high school cheerleaders.

By a vote of 65-56, the House of Representatives voted to ban "suggestive cheerleading" performances and acted to give the Texas Education Agency (TEA) the authority to monitor such performances if it receives complaints and to take action to make school districts sorry if they allow too much bumping and grinding to be going on down on the sidelines.

You might expect such a bill would be proposed by an ultra-conservative, Bible-thumping Republican. But actually it was sponsored by a self-righteous Democrat, Rep. Al Edwards of Houston, who claims that raunchy cheerleading leads to teen pregnancy, dropping out of school, and the spread of sexually transmitted diseases – although not necessarily in that order.

Edwards' bill doesn't define "suggestive cheerleading," but he has told reporters, "Any adult that's been involved with sex in their lives, they know it when they see it," he said.

Sounds like a dirty-minded old man with a thing for high school girls to me.

Critics have suggested that maybe – just maybe – Legislators ought to be more concerned with things like financing public education and overhauling the state's broken down Child Protective Services before regulating cheerleading routines. Besides, the TEA has better things to do with its time – like giving ulcers to fourth graders who now live in fear of the TAKS test.

So far Edwards' bill hasn't gotten any traction in the Senate, and at least one of his Democratic House colleagues has shown more sense than he has.

"This is a ridiculous bill. I don't know how it got to the floor," Rep. Senfronia Thompson (D-Houston) told the HOUSTON CHRONICLE. "We don't have any business mandating anything. We are spending time on '2-3-4, we can't shake it anymore.' It's an embarrassment."

Meanwhile...

Congratulations to our neighbors in Memphis. Publisher Chris Blackburn of Childress took over THE MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT last week and, based on his first issue at the helm, is working to give Hall County something it's needed for a long time – a real newspaper.

Blackburn, who carries the newspaper legacy of the Higley family, has renamed the DEMOCRAT with its 19th century moniker, THE HALL COUNTY HERALD, and is looking to cover news from all over that section of the Panhandle. Already the paper is printing more ads and has jumped from a low point of four pages a week to ten pages last week.

Anyone who has dropped their subscription to the Memphis paper might want to consider giving the new guy a chance.

Pansy pal bleeds a pint in record time

Editor's Note: Carrie is wrapping up her semester this week. The Enterprise presents to you a Best of Helms classic with this Life's Lessons flashback to April 8, 2004.

I saved a life Friday afternoon. I gave blood.

I was a first time donor. I tried to give blood last year, but I had to force myself to stay holed up in the library until I finished a research paper the day that the drive was going on. Trust me, I'd rather give blood everyday than write research papers.

Friday afternoon they had a blood drive on campus. I was at work. Since there is a show open this weekend, there wasn't much work for us to do. The sets were all built, and we couldn't really start on the next show until this one was over. So my boss, Mr. Wheeler, rounded up the whole crew; and we all went to give blood.

I realized just how landlocked I was when half the crew couldn't donate because they had traveled in Europe or spent time in Singapore and Malaysia. My globetrotting crew went back to work. It was just Mr. Wheeler, my "brother," and I.

Brother Will and I have a strange relationship. Now I think we really are a lot like brother and sister. We compete mercilessly, even at giving blood. Will is a regular blood donor. He is type O negative, a universal donor, and the blood banks love him. People who donate blood that often are just crazy. They have stories of all the different times they gave, who has the best cookies and juice, how many times they passed out, etc.

First timers like myself, naturally get a little nervous. They design the whole system to freak people out. I've never had a nurse ask me so many personal questions about my love life, my drug habits, and my piercings. It was incredible how she was asking these long detailed questions without even looking at the paper while testing my blood sugar and taking my blood pressure and remembering my responses. That's some serious multi-tasking.

At any rate, both Will and I passed the test and were seated. The technicians came and started setting us up.

"Hey," William says to me. "Let's race. The one to fill the bag fastest wins. Loser buys Dr Pepper for the whole crew."

"Game on," I say. Then I whisper to the tech, "How do you make yourself bleed faster?" She just laughed.

I set my stopwatch and waited. Most people don't like the sight of their own blood running out of their bodies through tubes. Unfortunately, I'm a little desensitized.

life's lessons
by carrie helms

I watched my dad do dialysis three times a week at home. Blood doesn't really bother me.

I feel fine. The needle didn't even bother me going in. I'm feeling good, but the technicians worry me. They keep asking me if I feel okay, and then I start to worry. Do I really feel okay? I don't know! Should I not? Do I not look like I feel okay?

Then I notice Will starting to get a little pale. They rush him some juice and cookies. The pansy almost passed out. Six minutes. The freak of nature gave a whole pint of blood in six minutes.

I took seven and a half. Will starts gloating about how he's a better bleeder, his blood is more useful than mine, girls can't bleed as well as boys, ha ha ha.

I said he's not better at bleeding; he just can't control himself like a girl can. I had complete mental control over my circulatory system the whole time. I was holding back because I didn't want to look like a dork and pass out.

We ask the nurse to settle it for us. Who has better veins, Captain Unconscious or me? I have a bigger vein. The nurse said so.

After ten or fifteen minutes more of arguing, we decided to call it a draw. Well, Mr. Wheeler did. He bought the Dr Pepper.

Help small business provide insurance

According to a recent study, 27 percent of working adults in Texas have no medical insurance coverage – the highest rate in the country. Many of them have no health coverage because they work for small business owners who want to offer their employees insurance but are unable to provide this benefit.

People who work for large corporations often have a variety of health plans from which to choose. With thousands of employees in different states and other countries, big businesses are able to negotiate a cost effective plan that enables them to offer affordable health benefits to their employees.

Health care and insurance costs are increasing across the board with rate increases of up to 30 percent during the last year alone. This hits small businesses particularly hard since they pay more for health insurance already and often operate on razor-thin profit margins.

Nationwide, 60 percent of uninsured Americans are employed by small businesses that cannot afford to offer health benefits.

There is a light at the end of the tunnel. I am co-sponsoring The Small Business Health Fairness Act, which would allow the creation of Association Health Plans (AHPs). AHPs would permit members of bona fide associations to pool their resources to get affordable health coverage packages from insurance companies.

AHPs would have to meet rigorous standards – even more stringent than those followed by large national corporations and labor unions. Uniform federal regulation of AHPs will help businesses lower their administrative costs. The Congressional Budget Office estimates small businesses participating in AHPs will receive insurance premium reductions ranging from 13-25 percent.

Small business provides the bulk of jobs in the United States. They also represent the entrepreneurship and innovation which creates the industries of the future. Congress should help rather than create barriers to their success.

By promoting AHPs, we will encourage more small businesses to offer this benefit, which is not only good for workers and their employers but good for Texas and our healthcare.

Free, low-cost drug offers not so great

By Kimberley Dickinson, RHIT, Patient Assistance, Clarendon Family Medical Center

Perhaps you have seen the infomercials or received offers like these: "Let us help you find free medicines! No Insurance? No Money to pay for expensive medications?"

As we all know, prescription medicine can be a very expensive part of an individual's healthcare. If your health care provider has prescribed a medicine and you can't afford to pay for it, you may be able to get the medicine for free or for a reduced cost. There are several kinds of assistance programs that may be helpful to you.

Ads like those mentioned above abound. Some marketers and businesses are offering information on free or low-cost prescription drug programs for a fee. According to federal officials, consumers have been asked to pay as much as $195 for assistance in finding free drug programs. In other cases the consumer is asked to pay a monthly membership fee and sign a contract. Consumers are urged to think twice before paying for information on how to find these types of programs.

A Federal Trade Commission alert tells consumers that free information on discounted or free prescription drugs is available from physicians, pharmacists, and a new Web site, www.pparx.org. The web site provides information on patient assistance programs for consumers who lack prescription drug coverage. Consumers can apply for free or low-cost prescription programs or medicines on the Web site or ask their health care provider to help them apply. This newly launched initiative by PhRMA called Partnership for Prescription Assistance has recently gained national momentum.

According to the American Academy of Family Physician website, Mary E. Frank, M.D., president of the American Academy of Family Physicians, states, "Millions of Americans already benefit from patient assistance programs, but we know that millions more who may be eligible have not yet enrolled." In addition, she states "Because of this effort on the part of the pharmaceutical industry to simplify and broaden their assistance programs, each patient's personal physician will find it easier to help them get the medications they need. That's why the American Academy of Family Physicians recommends this program to those we serve."

Patient assistance programs (also called PAPs) are sponsored by companies that make prescription medicines. Each company has its own rules about who qualifies for its PAP. In many cases, you will need to show that you don't qualify for private or public health insurance for prescription drugs. You also need to prove that your income is below a certain level. Each program has its own application process and health care providers must approve and sign most applications for these assistance programs.

Many physicians' offices offer help with patient assistance programs and obtaining affordable, reduced cost medications. In fact, many medical offices are committed to helping their patients receive necessary medications. They see it as an extension of the medical treatment they provide. If you are finding it difficult to afford your medications, you are encouraged to speak with your pharmacist or your health care provider.

Robert Shelton has been named salutatorian at CHS with a grade point average of 96.19. He is the son of Myles and Gail Shelton of Clarendon.

During his high school career, Robert was involved in Bronco Band where he was Drum Major for two years; French Club; National Honor Society; UIL One Act Play where he was a regional qualifier for two years and an area qualifier for two years; UIL Persuasive Speaking; and UIL Regional Qualifier Lincoln Douglas Debate.

He has received the rank of Eagle Scout and the National Youth Leadership Forum Achievement Award. He was a State Qualifying Soloist (Band-Euphonium) for three years and received awards in the UIL One-Act play including five All-Star Cast awards, one honorable mention, and two Best Actor awards.

He will attend Baylor University in the fall, and he has received the President's Scholarship.

Hedley's salutatorian is Allison Hill, the daughter of Bryan and Debbie Hill of Hedley. She has attended Hedley High School all four years of high school. She participated in basketball all four years and qualified for regional tennis three years. She ran on the cross-country team as a sophomore and has been part of the One Act Play for two years.

She has also been a member of the Hedley High School Choir for three years. She was inducted into the National Honor Society her sophomore year and has been the vice president the past two years. She also participated in the area FFA talent show after winning the district division.

Allison was named salutatorian this year with a cumulative GPA of 3.791. She will attend Clarendon College.

State medalists

Three CHS students medaled at the UIL Academic State Meet. Junior Samantha Myatt placed first in Editorials. Senior Tim Sears placed sixth in Ready Writing. Senior Stephanie Fowler competed in News Writing. Junior Carmen Hamilton placed fifth in Headlines. The meet was held at the University of Texas in Austin on May 5 - 7 and marked the 95th year of interscholastic competition. Digital photo courtesy of CHS Yearbook.

Hedley aldermen meet

The Hedley Board of Aldermen met in regular session May 5.

The board discussed nominating someone to fill a vacancy on the Donley Appraisal District's Board of Directors. No nominations were made.

The aldermen considered and approved repairing the roof of City Hall and authorized the City Secretary to enter into an agreement with a roofing company of his choice.

FSA taking applications for emergency farm loans

Applications for emergency farm loans for damages and losses caused by excessive rain that occurred on November 25, 2004, and continuing and excessive temperatures and freeze that occurred November 1, 2004, and continuing are being accepted at the Farm Services Agency (FSA) office located at 321 Sully Street in Clarendon, Larry Goetze said today.

Donley County is one of eight recently named by the Secretary of Agriculture eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the excessive rain.

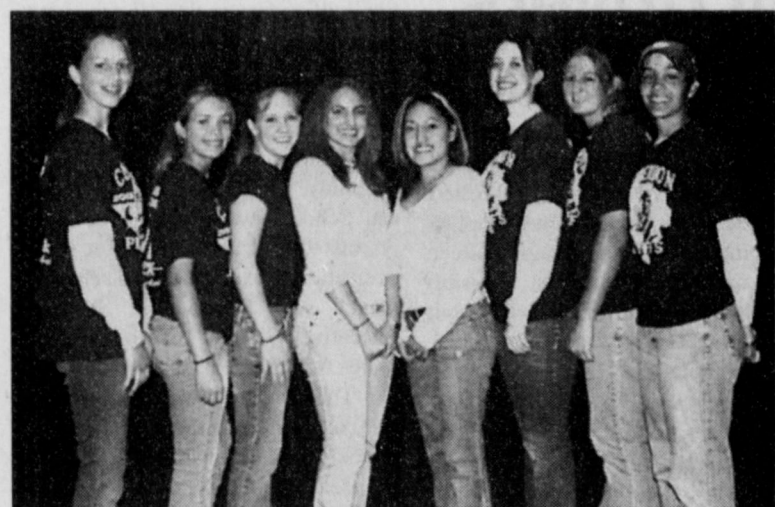

FSA Farm Loan Manager Larry Goetze said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 100 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue the agriculture business, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 3.75 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FSA emergency loan," Goetze said. Farmers participating in the Federal Crop Insurance program will have to consider proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until October 3, 2005, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing, with possible delays into the new farming season," Goetze said.

The FSA offices in Clarendon are open from 7:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Academic All District

Howardwick citizens preparing to clean up

I was right, the irises are in bloom and are beautiful. The park clean up is planned by the Beautification Club in conjunction with the city wide clean up May 13 and 14. We are looking for some strong backs to help these old ladies, so please come out and donate a little time to make our park a little gem.

The City of Howardwick is helping the citizens clean up by offering free dumping on May 13 and 14 with a designated area near the trash dumpsters. The limb dump will be unlocked those two days. Remember to empty all plastic bags and take them out with you.

Let's take advantage of this generous offer and get our community cleaned up.

The month of May is brag month when we get to tell everyone how smart someone in our family is. Our list begins with Charles and Nancy Davis whose grandson, Sean Usleton, received his master's degree from WTAMU in Canyon on May 7. Nancy has been ill for the past few weeks, but this was one party she didn't miss. Congratulations, Sean.

Michelle McGrew, daughter of Dianna and Ellis Knight, is graduating May 13 from the Texas Career's Institute/Lubbock Campus as a Medical Assistant. Congratulations, Michelle. If you have a graduate, please call me at 874-2886, and we will put it in the paper and brag.

'wick picks

by Peggy Cockerham
Howardwick • 874-2886

The mothers attending Howardwick Baptist Church Sunday helped create a nice day for everyone because the men cooked and served dinner then cleaned it all up. What a nice Mother's Day gift!

Our condolences go to Harold Pinion and the rest of the family on the death of Jean Pinion. Condolences also go to new residents Bob and Sharon Staiger on the death of their daughter. Our thoughts and prayers are with both these families in their grief.

The Beautification Club meets Monday, May 16, at noon with a brown bag lunch. We are always looking for new members so please come.

If you work in the school system and have some time off, come join us for the summer. We can promise to give you something to do.

City Hall will be open until noon each Friday; and the fire department meets Thursday, May 12, at 7 p.m.

Courtney Ellerbrook and Sean Sanchez

Ellerbrook, Sanchez announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Ellerbrook of Clarendon are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Courtney Dawn Ellerbrook, to Sean Ray Sanchez. Sean is the son of Richard and Cynthia Sanchez of Clarendon.

The couple plans to wed on June 4, 2005, at 2:00 p.m. at the Clarendon Church of the Nazarene.

Academy names Dwight All-American Scholar

The United State Achievement Academy announced recently that Kristen Dwight from Hedley has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Kristen, who attends Hedley High School, was nominated for this national award by Bruce Howard. She will appear in the All-American Scholar Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Scholar Award should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation by teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Kristen is the daughter of Kirk and Linda Dwight of Hedley. Her grandparents are Ann Kennedy of Hedley and Betty Dwight of Hedley.

State Bar recognizes attorneys in Ft. Worth

Attorneys Stuart Messer of Memphis, Randall Sims of Amarillo, and Broadus Spivey of Austin were recognized at the annual Awards Luncheon of the College of the State Bar of Texas during the College's Spring Training educational program held March 10 in Fort Worth.

The Bar College is an honorary society made up of lawyers who complete twice the minimum continuing hours of legal education as set by the State Supreme Court to keep their legal knowledge and skills at peak levels. Less than six percent of Texas lawyers qualify to be members of the College.

PPHM will celebrate Wills' 100th birthday

CANYON, TX - Celebrate the centennial of Bob Wills' birth with the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum on May 14 from 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. Charles R. Townsend, Ph.D., will talk about Bob Wills, the legendary musician from Turkey Texas.

Dr. Townsend wrote what many consider to be the definitive biography, San Antonio Rose: The Life and Music of Bob Wills.

Cost of the program is $5 for museum members and $8 for non-members. Reservations are not required, and tickets will be sold at the door.

For information, call Mary Ann Ruelas at 806-651-2242.

County agents kiss pigs during May 4-H meeting

By Ashlyn Tubbs

The May Donley County 4-H meeting was called to order on May 3 by President Danielle Ford.

Reporter Ashlyn Tubbs led the club member in the 4-H prayer while game leader Annie Patten led everybody in the US pledge and Paul Goetze led everyone in the 4-H motto and pledge.

4-H greeter Danielle Smith conducted roll call followed by Secretary Ty Tubbs reading the minutes of the last meeting.

County Agent Leonard Haynes talked to the members about officer elections. He handed out papers with people's names on it that were nominated for that office and all the members voted on them. The votes were counted, and the new officers are: Paul Goetze - president, Annie Patten - vice president, Danielle Ford - secretary, Ashlyn Tubbs - reporter, and Austin Adams - game leader.

Haynes also talked to us about the geranium sales and announced that he would be kissing a pig since we had reached our goal of 700. He and County Agent MaryRuth Bishop both kissed a pig. He also discussed with the club about the summer camps coming up.

Announcements were done by president Danielle Ford, followed by game leader Annie Patten, who drew for the door prizes. Austin Adams and Tres Hommel both won a 4-H cup, and Calvin Edwards won a 4-H T-shirt.

Danielle Ford adjourned the meeting to a game by Annie Patten. Refreshments were provided by Jerah and Jordan Luna and Cole Ward.

4-H Member Dustin Willard holds a pig while Donley County Extension Agent Leonard Haynes kisses it last week during the monthly 4-H meeting. Haynes issued a challenge to the members to sell 700 geraniums during the fundraiser drive and he would kiss a pig. County Agent MaryRuth Bishop also participated in the fun by kissing the pig.

Burton Library offers book on trail drivers

Among numerous varieties of selections contained in Burton Memorial Library's outstanding Texas collection, readers will discover a true Texas literature treasure, The Trail Drivers of Texas, compiled and edited by J. Marvin Hunter.

Organization of the Old Time Trail Drivers' Association in 1915, founded by cattle trail veteran, George W. Saunders, is described in the book's beginning. Following this introduction, 1044 pages offer hundreds of unforgettable experiences related by those who encountered drudgery and hardships of raging rivers, unpredictable stampedes, and other difficulties common to cattle trail life during the late 1800s. Yet, these cowboy trailblazers would not have relished any other life. Their true stories, no doubt, will stir nostalgia in hearts of readers who are still engaged in a Western life style. Others will be intrigued by this important colorful era of American history. A index assists in locating names and favorite stories you may want to read more than once.

LZ Cowboy, Western writer John Erickson's daily journal from 1979-1981, presents a different aspect of the working cowboy. With his usual humor and from his obvious love for ranching, Erickson relates a cowboy's daily work with the style that has made his writings a favorite of western fans. From this book, it is interesting to discover sources for several characters in his entertaining Hank The Cow Dog fictional series. LZ Cowboy can be appreciated by readers of various ages.

Only one kind of barbed wire? Not so. Robert T. Clifton's Barbs, Prongs, Points, Prickers, and Stick- ers makes evident that barbed wire influenced settlement of the West equally as much as the revolver, repeating rifle, and the windmill. This wonderfully illustrated catalogue of antique barbed wire not only educates those of us not as well informed on this subject, but also serves as a marvelous guide for the increasing number of American collector enthusiasts. Mr. Clifton provides a well-organized system to identify and classify many styles. He has listed 18 types under which as many as 66 variations are included in one category. Almost 1,000 barbed wire designs from as early as 1853

by Mary Beth Nelson

are comprised. Their inventors are also identified.

The author gives readers new insight to barbed wire's valuable contribution to taming the Western frontier. Its protection in range land fencing, as well as damaging effects to unwanted intruders, possibly inspired the following cowboy song in Clifton's book:

"They sang that Heaven is a free range land

Good-by, Good-by, Oh fare you well. But it's barbed wire fence for the devil's habdand

And barbed wire blankets down in Hell!"

Associated Press described Clifton's book as "invaluable for the collector or for those simply interested in being amazed by inventiveness of the human mind."

Specialist says age can cause sleep disorders

By Andrew B. Crocker,
Gerontology Health Specialist

Humans devote about one-third of their lives to one activity but think little about it - until they cannot do it. This activity has a calming effect, often leaves one feeling refreshed, and promotes overall wellness. What is this activity? Sleep.

Along with the physical changes that occur as we get older, changes to our sleep patterns may also occur. As people age, they tend to have a harder time falling asleep and more trouble staying asleep. It is a common misconception that sleep needs decline with age; but, our sleep needs remain constant throughout life. Sleep occurs in multiple stages including dreamless periods of light and deep sleep and occasional periods of active dreaming. The sleep cycle is repeated several times during the night. Older people spend more time in the lighter stages of sleep than in deep sleep.

Insomnia is the inability to sleep and occurs more frequently among older adults. Insomnia may create serious effects, complicating other conditions or making a person too tired to function normally during his waking hours. People with insomnia can experience excessive daytime sleepiness, difficulty concentrating, and increased risk for accidents and illness. If you experience insomnia at least a few nights per week or more, it is worthwhile to speak to your health provider about your trouble sleeping and any effects your insomnia may have on your body.

Snoring, a condition that gets worse with age, is the primary cause of sleep disruption for many adults. Snoring is most commonly associated with persons who are overweight. Loud snoring is particularly serious as it can be a symptom of sleep apnea. In sleep apnea, breathing stops, and the amount of oxygen in the blood drops. This alerts the brain, causing you to wake-up and resume breathing. These stoppages of breathing can occur repeatedly, causing multiple sleep disruptions throughout the night and result in excessive daytime sleepiness and impaired daytime function. Untreated sleep apnea puts a person at risk for cardiovascular disease, headaches, memory loss, and depression. If you experience snoring on a regular basis and it can be heard from another room or you have been told you stop breathing during your sleep, these are signs that you might have sleep apnea, and it should be discussed with your health provider.

Certain conditions are related to increased sleep problems:

- Hypertension is associated with both snoring and sleep apnea.

- The hot flashes, changes in breathing, and decreasing hormonal levels associated with menopause may lead to trouble sleeping.

- Many cancer patients experience sleep problems.

- Acid reflux may cause difficulty falling and staying asleep. Heartburn sufferers experience nighttime burn, causing discomfort and awakenings. This is more likely to occur while resting your back.

- Depression is most closely associated with insomnia and is a risk factor for having difficulty sleeping. This is especially true for those who have chronic insomnia.

- The pain and discomfort of arthritis may make it difficult to sleep through the night.

In addition, the medications used to treat these conditions and other medical conditions may adversely affect your ability to sleep.

If you experience sleep problems, think about whether your difficulty sleeping may be caused by an event or particular stress. If so, the problem may resolve in time, and you need not seek treatment. Also, you may try the following to improve your sleep:

- Use your bed and bedroom for sleep only. It is best to take work materials, computers, and televisions out of the sleeping environment.

- Maintain a regular bed and wake time schedule, including weekends.

- Create a good sleep environment that is dark, quiet, comfortable, and cool.

- Sleep on a comfortable mattress and pillows.

- Finish eating at least two to three hours before your regular bedtime.

- Exercise regularly, completing your workout at least two hours before bedtime.

- Avoid alcohol, nicotine and caffeine - used close to bedtime, they can lead to poor sleep.

If sleep problems persist, they may be a sign of a larger issue that could adversely affect your health. See your health provider and discuss your sleep problems with him or her to try to determine the cause of your sleep issues. Your body and mind work very hard for you, and you owe both the seven to eight hours of sleep per night that they deserve.

For more information, go to The National Institute of Aging "Good Night's Sleep" webpage at <http://www.niapublications.org/engagpages/sleep.asp> or contact MaryRuth Bishop, Donley County Extension.

the lion's tale

The Clarendon Lions Club held their regular Tuesday noon meeting May 10, 2005, with Boss Lion Monty Hysinger in charge.

We had 18 members and no guests this week.

Lion Roger Estlack reported on attending the Amarillo Downtown Lions Club's 85th anniversary banquet last Tuesday. Also attending were Lion Allen Estlack and Ashlee Estlack. The Downtown club sponsored the organization of the Clarendon club in 1922.

The public school is having finals and other end of the year activities. They are moving all the furniture and supplies out of the elementary and junior high buildings so they can start the asbestos abatement as soon as school is out. The college is also busy with finals and is getting ready for summer projects.

Lion Jerry Woodard informed the members of a small business incubator economic development meeting that was scheduled for Wednesday night at the Burton Library.

There being no further business, we were adjourned.

Rotary Club honors Every Nook & Cranny

The Clarendon Rotary honored Every Nook and Cranny as the April Business of the Month during their Wednesday meeting. Markeeta Howard accepted the award.

On April 20, Clarendon Chairperson for Relay for Life, Hillary McAnear, and Kenna Sluder, Field Representative for the American Cancer Society, presented the program for the Rotary. Relay for Life raises money for people suffering from cancer. On June 24th, from 6 p.m. until 2 a.m., teams will meet at the Clarendon College track and field to raise funds for the American Cancer Society. If you are not on a team and would like to join this event, contact Hillary at 874-3556.

Other Rotary news includes the addition of two new members, Janet Carter and Stephen Hall. Induction of the new members will take place on May 4. The painting by James Ivy Edwards is on display at the Herring National Bank. Tickets are available by contacting Madeleine Black or any Rotarian. Funds from the ticket sales will go toward a scholarship for a local student. Caribbean Cruise tickets are also still available, and the drawing for the cruise will be held during the District Conference May 13-16 in Midland.

Collection boxes are located in both the Burton Library and the Dickey Library for the "Book and a Buck" drive now under way. All books are welcomed and will be sent to students in Gauna who do not have books. The Rotary appreciates the support of the community in these efforts.

Drugs in the News

Impressive Test Results for Weight Loss Drug

Two-year data from test results of a drug aimed at helping people lose weight and quit smoking were presented recently at a meeting of the American College of Cardiology Scientific Sessions. The drug, called Acomplia (rimonabant), is a member of a new class or type of drugs researchers refer to cannabinoid receptor blockers. Drugs that work this way are thought to play a role in obesity, glucose metabolism, and smoking habits. Data presented at the session indicated that over 40% of the 1,507 persons in the trial who took Acomplia for 12 months experienced an approximate 10% loss in body weight. Data from the trial indicates that waist size decreased by 7.5 centimeters in those who got Acomplia compared to a waist size reduction in the placebo group of 3.4 centimeters. Another positive result from the trial was the tendency by those who got the drug to experience an increase in HDL cholesterol ("good cholesterol").

Acomplia has not been approved for prescribing by physicians. However, reports indicate that the manufacturer hopes to license the drug as an oral tablet (pill) in the US sometime in 2006.

Lady Broncos earn second playoff game

By Sandy Anderberg

The past five years have belonged to the Lady Broncos as they have successfully earned the District Championship since their maiden year. Previously, the playoffs have been cold for the five-time champs, but last week the ladies broke the spell that held them winless in post-season play by defeating the New Deal Lady Lions, 13-11, on a cold, rainy day.

The Lady Broncos came up with the big hits and big plays when they needed to and convincingly defeated their opponent to gain the Bi-District title and are 15-4 for the season. They will take on Marfa May 13 in the Regional quarterfinals.

Pitcher Haley Shelton blasted a triple as she led off the hitting order in the Lady Broncos' first time at bat. Shelton's big hit came when Clarendon was two runs down in the game, and she was able to score from third after Destiny Weatherton got an infield hit.

The second inning proved to be the first momentum boost for the Lady Broncos as they scored five runs to take the lead. Hits by Laura Dziedzic, Kaitlyn Howard, and Jamie Simmons were crucial; and Sarah Depew's single turned triple drove in the three runners on base. The ladies also were able to score on stolen bases from walks.

"They scored two runs in the first inning due to mistakes for us," Head Coach Gary Jack said. "But we had a huge second inning as we scored five runs. We scored on a couple of stolen bases from walks. When they made the play against us on the walks, we sent the runners in for a score. I'll trade runs for outs any day."

The Lady Broncos hit well during the game, and several players made sacrifice outs to knock their teammates in for a score.

The Lady Broncos held their opponent scoreless in the top of the fifth as Shelton threw only five pitches to get out of the inning. At their turn at bat, the ladies busted the game open again as they took a 13-6 lead.

"We had several players walk, and then we got big hits to bring them home," Jack said.

The Lady Lions scored one run in the sixth inning and staged a small comeback in the seventh.

The Lady Broncos will face off against Marfa on Friday, May 13, at Howard College in Big Spring at 2 p.m. They are confident about their chances to advance to the next level.

CHS Athlete signs with SPC

Clarendon Senior League begins season

Clarendon Senior League had their season opener on Saturday evening against the Pampa Lions.

Coach Danny Askew said the team battled back at the end, but they still fell short with a 5 to 3 loss to the Lions.

The Clarendon boys hit the ball 16 times, but the Lions fielded the ball well with only three errors in the game. Clarendon had six errors.

Clarendon stats for the game were: Austin Howard, 2 singles, a double, and scored one run; Trevor Leeper, 1 single and scored one run; David Roberts, one single; Stephen Fowler, scored one run; Dalton Askew, hit with bases loaded, double with three RBIs.

Game two was held Monday, May 9, in Pampa.

Clarendon Senior League will compete in a three-day tournament this weekend, May 13-15, at the 2005 Slug Fest at the Randall Baseball Complex.

The first game on Saturday will begin at 9:00 a.m.

Friday night scramble carries over another week

By Sandy Anderberg

Three teams participated in the weekly nine-hole scramble Friday night, but there wasn't a winner, so it will carry over to the next week.

The team of Sandy Anderberg, Colt Floyd, and Virgil and Pat Eddleman finished at five under par; and Sherol Johnston, Al Ramsey, and Bruce and Lea Ferguson came in at four under. The team of Kelly Linquist, Bobbie Kidd, Bobby Dodson, Steve Nurek, and Vernon Byars completed the round at three under.

Six players participated in the weekly women's game on Thursday, May 5; and Quida Gage took the number one spot with a 68. Sherol Johnston finished second with a 70, and Pat Eddleman was third with 73.

The Clarendon Ladies' Golf Association will be sponsoring a women's golf clinic to be held May 14 at 9:00 a.m. Call the Pro Shop at 874-2166 for more information. There will be a three-man scramble May 21-22, and the entry fee will be $210 plus the price of the cart. To enter, call the Pro Shop. The Friday night scrambles begin at 6:00 each Friday evening. You are encouraged to call the Pro Shop to enter before 5 p.m.

Broncos finish big with win over Claude

By Sandy Anderberg

The Broncos knew they had nothing to lose as they went up against Claude at home Friday, May 6.

The Mustangs were in a first place tie with Memphis for the district championship and had everything to gain by defeating the Broncos, but the maroon and black played hard and were determined to get the win over the Mustangs who are headed to the playoffs. The Broncos defeated their opponent 5-4 in a seventh inning come-from-behind win.

The Mustangs took the early two-run lead and held the Broncos scoreless into the fifth inning. They were able to put one run on the board before heading into their last at bat. That's when things changed for the Broncos.

"We struggled to hit the ball most of the game," Coach Brad Elam said. "We didn't have any hits until Trevor (Leeper) doubled in the sixth."

Elam also gave credit to his defense. "Our defense played really well. Trevor had a great game at shortstop, and Stephen (Ford) and Quentin (West) made diving catches. Tim (Sanchez) threw out a runner and threw a strike to second base from the outfield wall. Austin (Howard) pitched well enough to win, which made him 6-0 for the year, and he battled through some tough situations."

In the bottom of the seventh inning, the Broncos took control and put themselves in position to score and were soon trailing by only one run.

"With only two strikes on him and their infield playing in, Ladez (Captain) slapped a base hit to centerfield that scored Tyler (Lewis) and Dalton (Askew) to win the game," Elam said.

The Broncos finished at 13-8 overall and 6-4 in district play for third place behind Memphis and Claude.

Clarendon Junior High tennis players compete in Wellington meet

Brittany Sanchez and Kia Bryley walked away as the champion doubles team for seventh grade girls at the Wellington Jr. High Tournament Friday, May 6.

They defeated Dixon/Garcia (Memphis) 8-6 in the first round before serving up an 8-0 win over Arcola/Johnson (Wellington) to gain the championship.

Also playing doubles were Lauren Shelton and Jill Luna, who lost to Arcola/Johnson 7-9 in the first round. Nathan Judd and Edward Graham represented the seventh grade boys in doubles action and took on Brown/Williams (Memphis) in the first round and were defeated 4-8.

Another doubles team of Dalton Layton and Eli Short lost to Klink/Winn (Wellington) 1-8. Dominique Mason played singles and was narrowly defeated by Scuder (Wellington) at 8-6.

The eighth grade girls were represented by Macy Shadle and Cortnee Thornberry. Shadle lost to Allred (Wellington) 2-8. Thornberry won her first match by defeating Johnson (Wellington) 8-2, but she fell short in the semi-finals against Ashmore (Wellington) at 5-8.

Playing doubles were Abby Massingill and Bailey Starnes. The pair fought hard but lost to Kruger/Bohannon (Wellington) 7-9 in the first round. Leigh Ann Layton and Shequitta Shoelers played as well and lost 1-8 to Springer/Wilkes (Memphis).

Zack Rattan and Billy Cenicerros brought home second place as they took on Espinos/Worrell (Memphis) in the first round and defeated them 8-3 before falling to Warrick/Derr (Wellington) 6-8 in the Championship round.

"We didn't have a lot of wins, but we gained a great deal of experience," Coach Wade Callaway said. "Nearly all of our players are 'beginners,' and even after two practice meets versus Memphis and Hedley we still were pretty green. The kids acted great and represented CJHS well."

Obituaries

Glisson

Funeral services for James Arthur "JA" Glisson, Sr., age 59, were at 10:00 a.m. on Thursday, May 5, 2005, in Robertson Chapel of Memories, with Rev.
