Salt Fork Water Group Meets With Federal Representatives

W. Carroll Knorpp, one of the committee named by the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority to meet with officials of the Regional Federal Reclamation Service in Amarillo last Thursday, reported this week that the committee received additional encouragement for Federal aid in connection with the construction of a dam across Salt Fork of Red River but stated that no definite commitments could be made until they received an engineers report.

Knorpp said the engineers report would probably be ready around the first of the year which will include geographical data along with other facts and figures on the project. Requests have been made for bids for coring the river bed at the proposed dam site. This coring of the river bed will be included in the engineers report. The estimated cost of this project, according to engineers Freese and Nichols of Ft. Worth, will be $5,000. The funds for this project will be obtained from the seven cities in the authority.

Bronchos Lose To Lefors Pirates, 20-0

The tough Lefors Pirates, led by their great quarterback Tommy Johnson, ace fullback Junior Taylor and a host of strong and beefy linemen, handed the Clarendon Bronchos their seventh defeat of the season at Lefors last Friday night by a score of 20 to 0.

After a scoreless first quarter the Pirates struck pay-dirt on the first play of the second period. The Pirates had the ball on the Clarendon one-yard line after a march of 53 yards. Johnson went through the line, crossed the goal line, fumbled and the ball was recovered by Taylor in the end zone for the touchdown. Johnson added the two points on a left end run to put Lefors ahead 8 to 0. The Pirates added their second score late in the first half when Tex Nolan intercepted a pass from Broncho Quarterback Neel Carter and raced 30 yards for the touchdown. Lefors counted their last touchdown midway of the third quarter when Johnson made the last three yards of a 78 yard drive.

The undermanned Bronchos fought hard throughout the game and one time got down to the Pirate 11-yard line but couldn't put the ball across the double stripe. The Pirates dominated the game from an offensive standpoint through the entire game. They rolled up 23 first downs to the Bronchos' five and gained 274 yards from scrimmage to Clarendon's 99. Lefors tried six passes with no success while the Bronchos completed one of two attempts for 22 yards.

On the defensive side of the ledger, John Morrow, Dewey Wilson, John Richerson, Milton Mann, Lynn Spier, Ronnie Tyra and Dennis Bradshaw turned in good performances. Both the Broncho offense and defense was possibly hurt by the loss of Darrell Lefew, who has been a steller performer all season. Lefew injured a leg in workouts during the week and was unable to play.

The Bronchos will enjoy an off week this week and will resume play against the Canadian Wildcats at Broncho Stadium on November 7th.

Clarendon Jr. College Issues Urgent Call

The annual scholarship drive for Clarendon Junior College is underway and all interested parties are urged to contribute. A few business men and other interested individuals have supported the scholarship fund for the past several years. This year, the officials of the college and the board of trustees would like to invite anyone interested in the college to support this fund.

The purpose of the scholarship fund is to pay tuition of a number of students who are attending school on a tuition-paid basis. These students are the basketball players, both boys and girls, and laboratory assistants for the science department. Tuition must be paid for these students in order for the college to collect state funds.

Many letters have been mailed to business men and other persons in the college district explaining the need for these funds and many contacts have been made. However, it is impossible to personally contact every person who might possibly be interested.

Friday, October 31, is the last day for this drive. Anyone who reads this and might be interested in helping, please drop by the school tax office in the Kelly Chamberlain Insurance building and leave your donation with either Mrs. Naomi Phelan or Mrs. Joan Davis.

Tuesday—November 4th Is General Election Day

Qualified voters of Donley County will go to the polls next Tuesday, November 4th to cast their ballots in the general election which will be the final balloting for public officials in an official election this year.

The Democratic candidates listed on the ballot have some opposition by the Republican and Constitution parties. In the Governor's race, Price Daniel is opposed by Republican Edwin S. Mayer; for United States Senator, Ralph Yarborough is opposed by Roy Whittenburg, Republican of Amarillo. From all reports, Whittenburg has gained considerable support the past few weeks, especially in the Panhandle area.

On the county and District level there is no opposition to the Democratic candidates listed.

At the bottom of the ballot there are nine constitutional Amendments listed to be voted on. Each voter should give these amendments full consideration before voting for or against. A summary of these amendments, good points and bad, was published in the "State Capital Highlights & Sidelights" column in the Leader last week.

The November 4th general election is vitally important in another respect also. We have been informed that the representation of Donley County at the state convention in 1960 will be determined by how many people vote for the democratic nominee for governor NOW in this election. Donley County will be allowed one delegate at the 1960 State Democratic Convention for each 300 votes cast in this election. 1960 is the year that the next president of the United States will be elected so the votes cast in next Tuesday's election will govern the voice we have here at home in the election of the next president.

You will also note that the ballot has a column for write-in candidates. It is important that you go vote in this election and be sure your candidate listed receives your vote. The main important thing is to go vote.

Your reporter has been in Amarillo visiting; returning home I had the bad luck of blowing out a tire—really gave me a scare by the time I got stopped. A car stopped and a nice young man offered assistance. He changed my tire. When I offered to pay him he would not accept it. He said I may need help some time. When I thanked him and asked him his name he said my name is Denton. I'm going home for the week end. My parents are the Dentons at Lelia Lake. He said, why we are neighbors; I'm glad to be of help to you. And I was grateful to him. I stopped and asked my self, Do I help my neighbors? Maybe we should all try a little more to help our neighbors. Thanks Mr. Denton—a fine young man who helped me.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

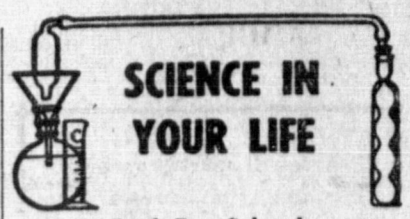

This week we have "Deep in the Hearts of Texans" by Perry Wampler Nichols that was given in memory of Mr. Claud Darden. Also have "Cowboy Lore" given in memory of Mr. Thornberry. It was given by the 1949 Sewing Club. Both books are a part of Texas. You surely have some excellent Texas material in this Library.

We have a copy of "The Ghosts of the Chisos" by J. T. H. Bickley. There has been some research writers who have asked for these stories told in poetry. It is really quite readable.

In memory of Mr. T. J. Perkins, the father of Thomas Perkins and Mrs. Parker, two children's books were given by friends of Pat and Pam. These are Terhune's "Lad A Dog", a revised edition for small children, and "Twin Kittens" by Inez Hogan who wrote a series of true animal stories.

Troop 3—with sponsors, Mrs. Bourland and Mrs. Gilbreth gave "The Middle East, Its Religion and Culture" written by Edward J. Jurji in memory of the four relatives of Mr. Davis, pastor of the Church of Christ. You recall these relatives were killed recently in a car wreck.

Miss Loula Grace Erdman was selected by Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism group, of one of the 23 writers from more than 100 Texas writers whose books were published between Oct. 1, 1957 and Sept. 30, 1958. Her book released this fall was "The Short Summer." It is the one for which she is honored. We have this book on the Library shelf. Did you realize Texas writers of note were publishing

Fuel For School

School days ahead: Little Sue and young Johnny are going back to their 30-hour work week. How will their on-the-job performance be? Most people realize how important good nutrition is for the working man if he's to do his job well. Yet few people connect a youngster's performance at school with his state of nutrition.

People in the know—the teachers—often report that the child with little or no breakfast is likely to be tired, cross, inattentive or poor at his lessons.

A recent survey made by the Ohio Experiment Station revealed that of 341 school children studied, only 20 ate breakfasts which rated "good" by modern nutrition standards. The children, ranging from 9 to 12 years old, attended city, village and rural schools.

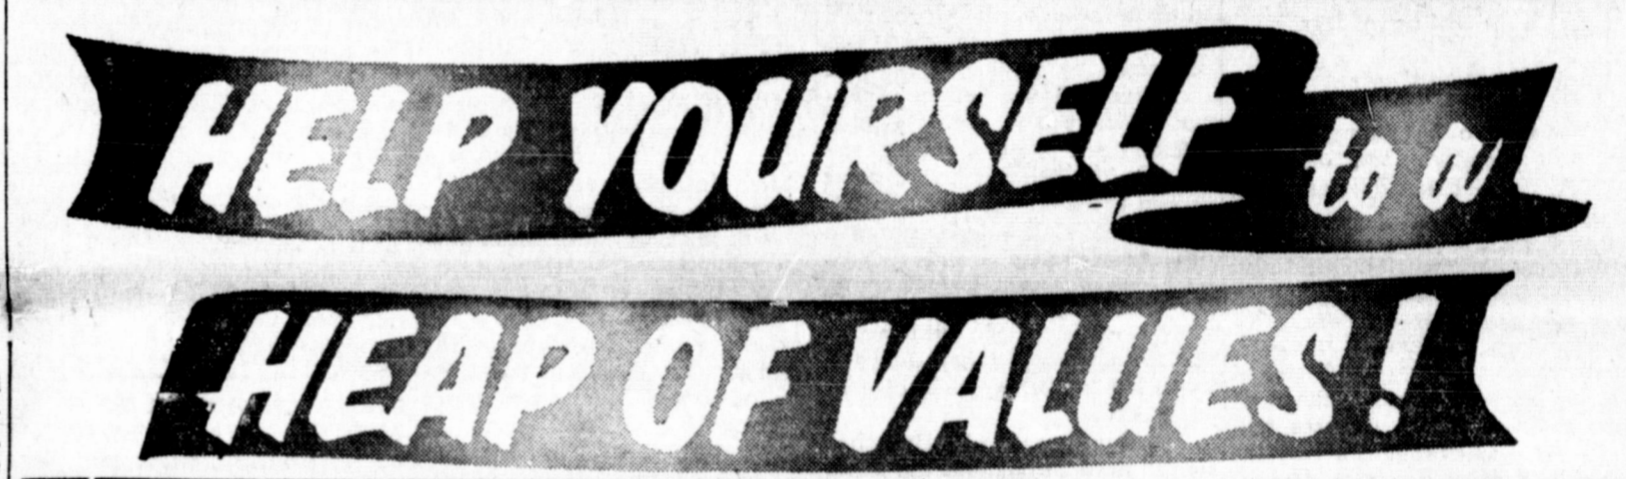

Nutritionists say breakfast should supply at least a fourth, preferably a third, of the day's food needs, including protein, calcium and vitamins. To make sure your child is getting the vitamins and minerals he needs for growth and activity, you can make a vitamin tablet part of the daily breakfast routine. One such supplement, Viterra Tastitabs, is fruit-flavored to please youngsters. If you have a problem eater in your house, a candy-flavored Stimavite tablet will step up his appetite for all his food, not only at breakfast time, but also for the other meals of the day.

The most common excuse for a poor breakfast—lack of time or hurried atmosphere—are poor reasons for sending young scholars off to school in a poor state of nutrition.

Wildlife Area Improvement is becoming a very popular practice this season in the Donley County Soil Conservation District. Several cooperators in the District are planning to fence the dam and spillway locations to new ponds that are under construction on their farms and ranches. Joe Leonard and T. C. D'Spain of Alanreed, Cal Sugg of Hedley and the Hill Brothers of Clarendon are planning to fence areas to be converted to the use of wildlife.

Wildlife Area Improvement is the practice of treating or devoting land to wildlife production. Such lands include severely eroded gullies, pond sites, marshes, borders of fields, odd areas, streambanks, and fence rows. This practice will be greatly benefited by planting or seeding of the areas, by fencing, by controlling grazing livestock, and by protecting from fire. Food and cover for wildlife are the basic purposes for devoting land to the wildlife cause. It has been estimated that about sixty to seventy

Now is the most ideal time to plan that special area for wildlife production. Your Donley County Soil Conservation District urges you to give this practice some serious thought. The local Soil Conservation Service technicians who assist your District will be glad to help you plan the practice.

Everything we eat seems to agree with us, for this we are so thankful. Only trouble is, then it turns to extra weight and we have to think about that.

"Life is 10% what you make it, and 90% how you take it."

"Half of our troubles come from wanting our own way and the other half from getting it."

"It's nice to have both ends meet, but it would be much better to have them overlap a little."

The above sayings we swiped from Party Lines, a little publication sent out by the Mid-Plains Rural Tel. Coop. Thanks to force for sending it to us.

"About the time we learn to make the most out of life, most of it is gone."

Not long ago we heard a wonderful talk on the subject of selfishness and many of the thoughts have been dangling in our minds ever since. It was said that because of selfishness in the heart of Hitler 50 million people died either a sudden or a lingering death. The more we think about it, just about all of troubles down the history of the past can be charged against this beast called Selfishness. Bringing it nearer home probably most of our personal and family problems are due to the same cause.

Then by the same token, if we would say that selfishness caused just about all of our troubles, then we could turn the thing around and on the positive side say that unselfishness has caused about all of the good that has been our lot down through the ages.

The Hitlers, and the other demons of destruction and sorrow have destroyed the human lives of millions. They have broken the hearts of thousands times thousands of mothers, wives and sweethearts. But, on the other side we naturally think first of the Spirit of Unselfishness itself in the form of the Man of Nazareth who gave His life that a number which no man can number would not only be helped in this life but who would live again in a new life where there will be no such thing as selfishness.

In addition to Christ, who was and is the true spirit of all things good we can think of many natural men down through our history books who have lived lives of unselfishness. Men and women who thought first of the thing that was good and right, and of that which was good for others.

We shudder as we think about man reaching out to master space; even the moon and other planets, when he has not as yet mastered his own spirit of selfishness. He has within his grasp the atomic bomb with the power to destroy or cripple every human on the earth. Man invented it, but does he have the unselfishness to use it wisely. Selfishness vs Unselfishness we could go on and on. Where will it end? Where will we wind up??

"Our country is hilly and we have been in the habit of ploughing in straight rows whether up and down hill, in oblique lines, or however they lead; and our soil was all running into the rivers. We now plough horizontally, following the curvatures of the hills and hollows, on the dead level, however crooked the lines may be. Every furrow thus acts as a reservoir to receive and retain the waters, all of which go to the benefit of the growing plant, instead of running off into the streams. In a farm horizontally and deeply ploughed, scarcely an ounce of soil is now carried off from it."—Thomas Jefferson, in a letter written in 1813 to Charles Peale.

Oct. 26 - Nov. 1, 1858
Israel B. Biglow writes to the Brownsville Civilian, giving an account of the great battle recently fought on the other side of the river - On the 28th ult., Gen. Miramon with about 8,000 men, attacked Vidaurri's army containing the same number.

(The Letter:) "As the attacking array advanced, Vidaurri's gunners were distinctly seen holding in their hands lighted port-fires awaiting the orders of their commanders, but the army of Mexico steadily advanced. When within two yards of Vidaurri's lines, the order to 'fire' was given, and sixty pieces of cannon and eight thousand small arms belched forth their murderous hail upon the assailants.

In an instant, and before the troops had time to waver, the order to 'charge' rang down the line from the sharp voices of General Miramon; the order was obeyed, and before the artillery men could reload their pieces, a large portion of them were lanced at their guns, and the batteries were taken.

The Weatherford News says that the grass hoppers are swarming through the northern counties, and the farmers have deferred sowing their wheat, until they leave.

THE CAMELS HAVE COME

(From the Galveston News)
The ship Thomas Wattson and the bark Lucerne, from the Canary Islands, have arrived at our port, consigned to Isaac G. Williams & Co., having on board eighty-nine camels, in good order and condition. But two of the animals were lost on the passage. Mist of them will carry fifteen hundred pounds weight, or, in other words, three bales of cotton or seven barrels of flour, or three gentlemen with their usual traveling baggage. About one-fourth of the animals are females. They are private property, having been imported on account for Mr. Wattson, of Washington City, under the care of Mr. J. A. Machado.

"Just as with bodily diseases such as cancer or tuberculosis which can be cured only in the early stages, so it is with soils built up through the ages. Once ravished beyond a certain point, they are incapable of restoration except by nature's slow processes, which are measured not in tens, but in thousands of years. Leaving out all 'ifs, and's, and but's, running the risk of being precise in an area where precision may have no place, I believe that at our present rate of soil erosion, this country of ours has left to it less than century of virile existence - - We have two decades at the most to plan our campaign." —Morris L. TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

EDUCATIONAL TV

All over the country steps are being taken in various forms to implement the medium of television for educational purposes. This is, I believe, a grand significant move forward and is certainly a wonderful use of the medium. Educational television is gaining prominence and growing for two primary reasons—the almost unlimited audience which can utilize a televised classroom, and the growing realization of the people of an ever-increasing need for a broader education.

The television industry has advanced to the stature of a giant in a shorter time than any other comparable new facet of our economy on the American scene throughout history. The possibilities of its utilization for disseminating education have been recognized for a long time, but the actual establishment of specific television classrooms has met with considerable obstacles, prime of which have been the financing of construction and maintenance facilities. Unlike commercial television, few were able or willing to foot the bill for educational television.

When the Federal Communications Commission issued the original television allocations plan in 1952, it set aside 242 (256 today) television channels for the exclusive use of non-commercial, educational stations. Today 12.7 percent of the VHF channels and 11.3 percent of the UHF channels are reserved for non-commercial, educational purposes. Of these, 18 are reserved for Texas, one of which is for Amarillo, and one for Lubbock. In the six years since FCC reserved approximately 12 percent of all television channels for this purpose, only 56 educational stations are today serving an area of more than 50 million people, from Massachusetts to California, and from Minnesota to Texas.

The failure to use these reserved channels is not the result of lack of interest. Numerous problems must be met in activating the channels, and it has been necessary in most local situations to organize different segments of the community — civic, cultural and educational — to bring about operation of these educational stations. In many cases the problems of fund-raising resulted in long delays.

The big problem facing American educators who would certainly like to utilize television for educational purposes is the lack of funds to pay for the basic installation of the television facilities and stations. Experience has demonstrated that once a television station has been built, state legislatures, local educational systems, and local communities at large have raised funds to produce the programs over these stations. Outstanding program service has been provided in many communities with relatively limited funds. The one main problem, then, is to secure the basic funds to build the station in the first place.

Remarkable progress has been made in establishing the stations now operating and current experimentation reveals unlimited potentialities for the future of educational television. A division of the Ford Foundation—the Fund for Advancement of Education—has instituted a nationwide course on television in conjunction with one of the networks which, as many of you know, is being televised in the Panhandle. This course deals with nuclear physics and has, I understand, the benefit of some of the best teaching talent available on the subject. In Washington, D. C., metropolitan area, educational television commenced last month on the elementary school level and some 30,000 pupils in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades now attend television science class twice a week right in their own classrooms.

Colleges, secondary schools, communities and organizations of every kind all over the United States are realizing, and beginning to take advantage of the great use which can be made of this medium. I believe it is a good new step and one which will bring inestimable benefits to our society.

States are realizing, and beginning to take advantage of the great use which can be made of this medium. I believe it is a good new step and one which will bring inestimable benefits to our society.

LELIA LAKE SCHOOL NEWS

Students, parents, teachers, and the public in general around Lelia Lake were looking forward to a good time on Oct. 30 at their Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the PTA, as the week began.

There were four new elementary pupils and one new high school student as school sessions resumed on Oct. 26. Freshmen are tasting the atmosphere of Latin-American culture in Spanish I. A number of repeating jobs around the school served the purpose of delighting the eye, as well as increased usefulness in other ways.

And for those who are interested in reading, and not many skip this, there are new library books. Fall, or to be poetical, autumn, is supposed to be the best reading time of the year. Adventures in faraway lands and in strange modes of thought and custom are yours, when most of the sound is stilled and you are swept away in the wonder of word-magic. Schools need not apologize for dealing with learning.

—M. R. Mathis.

"The more I am acquainted with agricultural affairs the better I am pleased with them, inasmuch, that I can nowhere find so great satisfaction as in those innocent and useful pursuits. In indulging these feelings I am led to reflect how much more delightful to an undebauched mind is the task of making improvements on the earth than all the vain glory which can be acquired from ravaging it, by the most uninterrupted career of conquest."

—George Washington.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Austin is up to its ears in opinions and pronouncements as the pre-legislative debate of state issues blows through the city.

Taxes and schools are leading topics.

Committees, study groups and associations, both public and private, come to town, hold a meeting, hear speakers and, usually, pass some recommendations. They are part of the sifting, thinking out and solidifying of thought that precedes a legislative session.

ON SECOND THOUGHT, YES

Hale-Aikin Committee reconsidered and reversed its previous stand that Texas schools should not take federal aid for lunch rooms and vocational education.

New statement, passed 11 to 8, was offered by Ed Ray, San Antonio Express-News editor. It affirmed the committee's belief in state control of education but said it did not feel this would be lost by accepting federal aid for lunches, vocational education and for large numbers of children brought into a district by federal activities. It also endorsed the desirability of the federally-financed activities covered by the National Defense Education Act.

Hale-Aikin Committee of 24 lawmakers, educators and other citizens was set up by the Legislature to advise it on public school needs and problems. Some six weeks ago it stirred up a hornet's nest by recommending that Texas quit accepting several million dollars a year in federal school aid. Arguments, pro and con, flared over the state, and many legislators were rendered uncomfortable by the necessity to take a stand. In many cases, the lawmakers disapprove federal centralization in principal but were hesitant to get in a position where they might be accused of taking milk from the school kids.

Hale-Aikin Committee also gave final approval to a recommended program of public school improvements. It would raise school costs by about $112,000,000 a year—mostly for teacher salary raises, sick leave, building upkeep and transportation.

CALLS FOR BIG TAX

A meeting of the Texas Association of School Boards was the sounding board for more ideas on school financing.

Only a state income tax or general sales tax can produce enough revenue to cover school program improvements, a spokesman for the Texas State Teachers Association told the meeting.

TSTA-man L. P. Sturgeon said other taxes proposed thus far would hardly get the state treasury out of the hole, let alone cover new needs.

School Board members also heard Dr. B. F. Pittenger, one-time dean of the University of Texas College of Education, say he had felt for 30 years that public schools need "a considerable amount of federal aid."

Also urged by Dr. Pittenger: more discipline in schools, more attention to students "most highly endowed with brains."

NOT FAT, THEY SAY

Gov. Price Daniel's request that

KFDA-TV Group To Visit Here

A real old-fashioned bandwagon from KFDA-TV, star-spangled with personalities well-known to area viewers, will reach Clarendon at approximately 9:45 a. m., Saturday, November 1, to stage a scintillating street spectacle, cavorting at curbside in the heart of Clarendon.

The purpose of the Bandwagon Brigade of KFDA-TV is to take the folks from the station through the screen direct to the folks in the living room, den, or kitchen, and Ed Moore, general manager, stated that it is the sincere desire of the KFDA personnel that they may be able to express their gratitude to their many loyal watchers and listeners in person.

Among those KFDA-TV personalities who will be on the caravan are Warren Anderson, Billy Briggs and his Band, Ralph Wayne, Doug Raines and many others.

The KFDA-TV Bandwagon Brigade is making 15 stops in Panhandle towns on successive Saturdays beginning on October 25, and is looking forward to its visit in Clarendon.

Education By Television Application Deadline Is November 15th

One hundred and forty college graduates have enrolled in the 1958-59 Project for Teacher Recruitment and Education by Television, J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education, reported today.

The deadline for applications to be received by the 47 participating Texas colleges and universities is November 15, by which time the enrollment is expected to compare favorably with the 543 who enrolled last year.

Any graduate of a 4-year accredited college is eligible to enroll. Each participant is required to complete a telecourse, which includes viewing 26 "Texas Curriculum Studies" programs, reading a textbook, and taking a mid-term and final examination.

The television programs are presented as a public service by 18 Texas television stations, fourteen of which have already opened the series. Stations at Abilene, El Paso, San Angelo, and Weslaco will present the first program on Saturday, October 25.

"Texas Curriculum Studies" is the same series of programs which will be viewed throughout the year by more than 16,000 experienced teachers and superintendents in a state-wide project aimed at curriculum study and school improvement.

After completing the telecourse, the participant will be issued a Texas teaching permit valid for the year 1959-60 and renewable for two additional years. A participant in this Project also may teach during the present school year if a position is offered to him.

Full information about program schedules and procedures for enrollment is available from Lee Wilborn, Texas Education Agency, Austin 11, Texas.
