There have been some changes made in the amount of cost-share the federal government will pay on temporary or seasonal practices. Included in these temporary practices are deep plowing, listing, chiseling, and summer and winter cover crops.

NEWS FROM

Congressman Bob Price

18th District, Texas

Dear Friends:

In an historic act, the House this week voted to abolish the Electoral College and substitute the direct popular vote to elect the President and Vice president of the United States.

This was the first time that the House has approved such a plan.

Of course, since this is a proposal to change the Constitution, the plan must also gain a two-thirds vote of the Senate and be approved by three-fourths of the states.

Although the vote in the House indicated a generally very favorable attitude on the part of the members, I foresee a much more searching examination on the part of the various state legislatures.

Constitutional changes are — as they should be — very rare and I believe there will be quite a bit of soul-searching on the part of state leaders before they acquiesce to change the Constitution and agree to permit the direct popular vote plan to stand.

There is little doubt that some reform of the system is necessary. I think all will agree that the certification by the Electoral College of a man who received the fewer amount of votes—a situation which is possible under the present system—rather than the man who receives the greater amount of popular votes is not good. It HAS happened though.

In the 46 presidential elections held to date under the electoral college system, three popular vote losers were elected President: John Quincy Adams, Rutherford B. Hayes, and William Henry Harrison. Two Presidents were selected by the House of Representatives: Jefferson and Adams, and one Vice President was chosen by the Senate: Richard Mentor Johnson in 1836.

In addition to the direct popular vote system which the House consented to, three other plans have been advanced. Briefly summarized they are:

(1) The District Plan, which would preserve the electoral college system but would require electors to be chosen from single member districts within each state, with two electors running at large.

(2) The Proportional Plan, which would allocate the electoral vote in each state in accordance with the popular vote

CHOPPER SPRINT — Troops of the 9th Infantry Division scramble toward waiting helicopters for swift air movement to another area of operation. While in the Republic of Vietnam, the 9th was awarded the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry in addition to many other citations. Five soldiers of the 9th received the Medal of Honor.

cast in the state, and

(3) the Automatic Electoral Vote Plan, which would abolish the office of elector but retain the electoral votes of each state. Under the plan, the electoral vote of each state would be automatically awarded to the candidate receiving the greatest number of votes for President in that state.

Of the four plans, I prefer the District Plan simple because this would provide a realistic and effective way of overhauling the electoral college system while retaining the traditional balance between the national government and the states.

I am hopeful that a meaningful Constitutional amendment can be enacted which will do away with the inequities of the present system, but I do not favor this at the expense of the autonomy of the states. The present system binds the residents of each state more closely and results in campaigns which focus on regional, which is to say STATE issues.

There is a community of interest expressed which is more readily understandable to the politician and more readily and easily expressed by the electorate. I think this is good.

If the direct plan is implemented by three quarters of the state legislatures, this unique feature of the American system will be lost. The question is now up to the Senate and the state legislatures to work their will on this amendment.

With food costs rising and the price of meat in the supermarkets escalating at a rate of nearly 12 percent a year, how is the farmer doing?

This question was asked by the financial columnist Sylvia Porter in one of her recent columns and her answer was: "Poorly."

Farmers and ranchers have known this for some time, but I was pleased to see that the fact is gaining recognition among the non-farm public. If this is understood, it could do a lot of harm to the farmer in the form of farm programs stripped to the bare bones.

Of every food dollar we spend, only 41 cents goes to the farmer. For every dollar spent on milk, the farmer gets only 50 cents; for bread, just 14 cents; for oranges, just 22 cents; for onions, 27 cents; for potatoes, 33 cents; and for corn flakes, only nine cents.

If the farmer isn't getting it, then who is???

According to the Department of Agriculture, labor costs have risen 53 percent since 1957-1959. Transportation is up 15 percent; advertising costs are up 67 percent; rent is up 55 percent; but MOST IMPORTANTLY, corporate after-tax profits are up 71 percent!!!

All war is costly. The one in Southeast Asia is no exception. There were men walking this earth yesterday who are not here today; the best of American men. There were whole men yesterday, robust and healthy, who are no longer whole, some not fit to take care of their own needs for the remaining five decades of their lives.

There are others, presumably alive in the stockades of the enemy, somewhere in North Vietnam. We know less than nothing about them. Their wives and families here in the safety of America do not know if they are alive or dead. Contrary to the Geneva Conventions, the enemy will tell their families nothing. At present there are more than 1,350 U. S. servicemen believed to be either prisoners of war or missing in action. More than 250 of them have been missing or prisoners more than 3 1/2 years. This is longer than any U. S. serviceman was held prisoner during World War II.

This situation is very personal to me. Three of the men I flew combat missions with in the Korean War are known prisoners of war; two others are officially listed as missing in action.

Believing that we must focus attention on this situation, I joined this week as a co-sponsor of a concurrent resolution on the inhumane treatment of prisoners of war of the North Vietnamese. Passage of the concurrent resolution may focus world attention on their action, and pressure the captors to provide news of their condition to their anxious families.

BRONCHO BAND

The Clarendon Broncho Band is out on the field and ready for their performances. These are what the spectators of a football game see.

What they don't see is all the hard work these students go thru to entertain them.

Band members come to school early each morning for practice marching and after school some stay to learn a new song or improve an old one. The band is active at all school functions. They play in the halls on Friday, at Pep Rallies, and at the football games. This group of students does a lot for the morale of the football boys as well as the fans.

Let us not forget this group who works to entertain and build school spirit. Let's support the Broncho Band and their director, Mr. Bowen, in all they do!

NEW TEACHER

Mrs. Pauline Heath, one of our new faculty members, is a very busy person. She teaches English II and all of the Speech classes. Included in her responsibilities are directing all plays and co-sponsoring the Sophomore Class.

Mrs. Heath and her husband, Hershel, have two sons, Mike and Kent. They also have two grandchildren, Tim and Christie.

Aside from her teaching profession, Mrs. Heath teaches a girls' Sunday School class and is librarian at the First Baptist Church. Her hobby is art, but her main ambition in life is to see the world and see a tourist trade started in Clarendon.

EARLY DESTRUCTION OF COTTON STALKS

The early destruction of cotton stalks as soon as possible after harvesting has been completed is strongly recommended by John Thomas, Extension entomologist. After the stalks have been shredded by a flail-type shredder, they should immediately be plowed under to a depth of at least six inches. Thomas says the practice will aid materially in controlling boll weevils and pink bollworms next year by depriving them of a major source of food. Area wide programs are most effective, he says.

New & Used Typewriters & Adders At The Leader Office

Gov. Preston Smith has signed into law a $5.8 billion 1970-71 state budget. This was after vetoing $4.4 million in miscellaneous spending items. Yet the expenditure set an all-time record.

Earlier, Smith approved a new record $348.6 million tax bill which takes effect October 1. (In addition to state revenue, cities will get an estimated $6 million a year due to extension of the sales tax to beer and liquor. Sales tax rate goes up from 3 to 3.25 per cent.)

Smith also signed other acts of the special session, including legislation creating 28 new Texas district courts. He will name all judges to serve until the next general election. This may be the largest single amount of judicial patronage assigned a Texas governor at one time in state history.

Tax bill as passed by the Legislature provided plenty of revenue to fill the State's needs, but Smith said his vetoes are "justified for the sake of economy perhaps more than anything else." Many of the items vetoed, he noted, were not part of the original House or Senate appropriations acts, and some were not even requested by agencies.

Governor Smith vetoed the following items as now "unjustified or non-essential": Construction funds totaling $2.9 million for the Dallas Neuropsychiatric Institute; $262,717 for the Department of Public Safety sub-district headquarters in McAllen; $250,000 for the Junction adjunct of Texas A&M; $160,000 for Texas Maritime Academy Pelican Island Development.

Lease Sales Set
A total of 338 tracts of University of Texas lands (111,812 acres) in West Texas will be placed on lease auction, December 16, November 4, some 768 tracts totaling 496,871 acres will be offered in a school land sale.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said 125 tracts of university land in Hudspeth County will be offered at bonuses of not less than $1,000 per half section and at annual lease rentals of $1.50 an acre. This was reduced from former requirements of $5,000 per quarter section and $2 per acre. Former requirements will govern other tract leases.

In school land sale, 37 tracts in El Paso County had acceptable bonus reduced to $5 an acre and annual rental to $2. Other upland and riverbed tracts will command a $20 per acre bonus and $5 per acre annual rental. Those lying under bays, inlets and Gulf of Mexico lands will go at $25 an acre and a $5 per acre annual rental. Most of school land is in Gulf Coast submerged areas.

Attorney General Speaks
University of Texas cannot strip Dr. James McCrocklin, former Southwest Texas State University president, of his PhD degree, and court action would be necessary to annul it Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:
Commercial feeding lots "finishing out" cattle for market must provide county tax collector a list showing the numbers of cattle they feed for each owner on January 1.

New type liquor wholesalers permit does not discriminate against other permit holders, and is constitutional.

Harris County commissioners may grant the county sheriff and his deputies the same authority DPS officers have, to remove vehicles from county roads.
Depository interest earned on special constitutional funds or federal trust funds created for specific purposes should be deposited to the credit of those specific funds rather than the general revenue fund.

Employees of the House and Senate are not part of the class of elected officials for purposes of membership in the state employees retirement system.

Therefore, they are not eligible to make contributions or receive benefits as elected personnel. Only officers of the two houses who are required to take the constitutional oath of office, can be so considered.

School Districts Warned
More than a dozen Texas school districts have drawn warning of deficiencies from the State Board of Education.

Crosby Independent School District lost its accreditation but can regain it when it meets state requirements.

After receiving final warnings it may lose accreditation if conditions are not approved.

Also warned were Antelope, Bertram, Brideport, Calvert, Hemphill, Masonic Home, Hewitt, Rains, Elizario, Spur, Timpson and Little Elm.

State Board decided to permit 16-year-olds to enroll in adult basic education programs. New department of special education and special schools organization was approved.

Short Snorts

Liquor Control Board will make new rules covering collection of taxes on mixed drink (in private club) before the levy goes into effect October 1.
Many Texas nursing homes are withdrawing from medicare program because of government red tape, according to an association spokesman.

Law enforcement leaders have scheduled meeting here for Sept. 27-28 for the 19th annual attorney general's law enforcement conference.

DPS is actively recruiting men (ages 20-35) for Texas Highway Patrol training.

A last-minute item in the appropriations bill was a $100,000 allotment to the Texas Water Quality Board to contract with the Sabine River Authority for a study of pollution in the Sabine.

Prunes are no longer "dried" — they are scientifically dehydrated and processed for a softer, moister, more flavorful prune. And they are tenderized, too, according to Extension consumer marketing specialist Gwendolyn Clyatt. The fruit is packed when it is moist and tender.

NEW BOAT REGISTRATION METHODS BEGAN SEPT. 1

Owners of new or unregistered boats may visit one of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's regional, district, or field offices and get a temporary 90-day certificate of number.

The new registration method means you can buy a boat and take it to the lake the same day, something that was heretofore legally impossible unless the boat was bought from a registered dealer.

The Department is making 290,000 boat numbers and certificates instantly available to new and unregistered boats.

Boat owners seeking renewals for boats already registered with the State must send their applications to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Teflon cookware should be reconditioned after a sudsy scrubbing with stiff sponge or plastic scrubber, or after washing in dishwasher, advises Extension Home Management Specialist Doris Myers. Recondition by rubbing coated pan with cooking oil or unsalted fat.

I would like to express my thanks for the flowers, cards, visits, and prayers of friends and neighbors, also to express my thanks to the doctors, nurses and hospital staff for their splendid care. I would like to give a special "thank you" to the staff at the A. S. C. office for the interest they have shown.

I am able to be at home now and appreciate calls since I will be some weeks in full recovery of my hands.

Marva Lee Mays.

HEDLEY NEWS

Mrs. Mabel Bridges

So many have inquired about the Rowe Cemetery, how it started, when, and by whom. Since my family have all passed on, there is no one left to give a true history. As my family were the pioneers who saw the need for a cemetery, I would like to write a brief history.

Isaac Smith, my great grandfather, an early-day pioneer, settled in Donley County in 1891 on the land, part of which he gave for the cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beedy, a pioneer family, lost three babies. The children were buried in the garden at the home as no cemetery was available. Later this family lost a fourth child, Uncle Ike, as he was called, saw the need for a burial ground and he and his grandson, my father, W. I. Rains, selected a plot of land in the pasture in 1898 to be used as a cemetery. It was fenced with a barbed wire fence. My father and grandfather, with a few other pioneers, helped the Beedy family move the children's bodies to the new burial ground, making the first graves in the cemetery. The name chosen for the burial ground was the Rowe Cemetery.

Alfred Rowe came from England. He was so favorably impressed with the country that he bought land and called it Rowe Ranch. Mr. Rowe later was on the Titanic when it sank, returning to this country, and he lost his life. The Post Office was then known as Rowe. The Cemetery still is known as Rowe Cemetery.

As the country was settled the cemetery grew and soon more land was needed. Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Rains gave three additions at different times when needed. The Board of Trustees was composed of Hugh Brown, W. T. White, and R. H. Jones in 1915 and this board bought the first land and later, as more acreage was needed, land was purchased to complete the present plot.

In 1939 trees were planted on the north and west sides which have added beauty to the well-kept cemetery. Visitors remark about the care and beauty which it always shows.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford Facts you may not know: If you have a sheath knife of carbon steel, it should be removed from its sheath for storage to avoid possible discolorations by chemicals in the leather.

When walleyes become prevalent enough in Texas for lifting restrictions on catching them, they will be ideal for the night fisherman. They like to chase minnows into the shallow water in the cool of the evening.

No antlered animal, like the Texas white-tailed deer, is native to Africa. Porcupines occasionally appear beside the road, or in the dwarf timber of West Texas. These little animals have more than 20,000 quills to protect their body.

Rabbit reproduction is joked about, but a healthy pair of rabbits, where plenty of food is available, can produce as many as 20 offspring per year.

A red fox can attain a speed of 30 miles an hour. But a rabbit can run as fast as 50 miles an hour. This gives it the edge when it comes to being chased by a fox.

One of the most interesting birds of Texas, or any other land, is the oriole. These birds have a pendant shaped nest that is a marvel of weaving. It is strong enough to support many times their weight.

Webster says the word goose sometimes means something silly. But many times geese will show unusual intelligence in the face of danger.

If you are fighting cutworms on tomato plants, keep in mind that they are not worms at all, but the larvae or caterpillar of a variety of moths. Also, ladybugs do not die at the end of the season like many other insects. They hibernate through the winter.

East Texas meadows and golf courses are continually fighting gophers. These animals can burrow at the rate of 12 to 15 feet per hour, using their forefeet that extend sideways. Migratory birds are smarter than the weather man. They usually are aware of changing weather conditions at least 12 hours in advance. This instinct is the chief reason for their safe arrival at destination points.

If it stays out of gun reach, the wild goose can become an old hand at traveling between Canada and Texas. Some are known to live to the ripe old age of three score and 10.

Not that it matters but baby skunks are born blind and hairless. They develop that black and white pattern of the fur as they grow older. Only animal of its species that climbs trees is the gray fox.

KEEPING HERBICIDES PUT A team of Texas A&M University scientists is working to improve brush and weed control by trying to find ways of making herbicides stay where they are put. A variety of substances is being tried in the herbicide carriers to overcome such problems of too rapid evaporation, or allowing sunlight to break down the herbicide before it can be completely effective or drift into areas where susceptible crops are growing. The project is being carried out under a grant from the U. S. Department of Agriculture and covers a four-year period.

The California Senate recently passed a bill, 26-5, to outlaw the sale of internal combustion engines by Jan. 1, 1975, in a move against air pollution. The bill was sent on to the California House of Representatives for their consideration. (Source: National Wildlife Federal Conservation News.)

the same warmth that we have in our own hearts.

If we love our country dearly, Our neighbor with all our heart, Take being a good citizen sincerely, Then we've made a real good start.

Dear Lord forgive our many sins Please make our bodies strong, Help us to think of worthwhile things And keep us from all wrong.

A good friend is one that thinks you are a good egg even after you are busted.

Our best friend may not be the one that pats us on the back when everything is going good. He may be the one who just stands by us when the going is bad.

If we are hungry there is the possibility that some charity would feed us. If we are sick there would be a place for us in a hospital. But, if we are without a good friend and find ourselves lonesome then we are in a most miserable condition.

To have lived most of our lifetime and never made any true friends is to find one's self in a real poverty stricken condition. To look forward to being broke is not a very hopeful condition but to face life friendless is about the most hopeless condition of all.

People cannot hunt us with their hate until they make us hate them in return.

Nothing will warm up a church sermon and make it reach deep into our hearts like our having love for those sitting with us in the pews. If the church is warm then one can be sure the sermon will be a good one, and the church will usually respond with the same warmth that we have in our own hearts.

If we love our country dearly, Our neighbor with all our heart, Take being a good citizen sincerely, Then we've made a real good start.

Postmistress Urges Use of Zip Code

Mrs. Pauline Roberts, Postmistress at Lelia Lake, issued the following statement this past week.

"Due to the extended use of the Zip Code in the distribution of mail the Post Office asks that postal patrons use it on each piece of mail they send out. Most Post Offices use this method of distribution and shortly all offices will use it. Postmasters need your assistance in this matter."

"All mail you receive that has the return address and Zip Code on it, jot it down and you will have it when you need it. All Post Offices have an index file available to you which enables you to have addresses and Zip Codes at your fingertips. They are free for the asking."

MORE PERMITS DUE FOR ACUDAD SHEEP PERMITS

Aoudad sheep permit issuance to landowners in the rough, boulder-cluttered Palo Duro Canyon area will be upped approximately 23, from the 93 of last season to 116 this year, says Dick DeArment, project leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Hunting the hefty exotics, originally from the Atlas Mountains of Africa and the only wild sheep on that continent, is for the intrepid and the stalwart, DeArment said, since the sheep range runs in two directions: straight up and straight down. Hunters have spent as much as 26 hours in bagging their trophy, and few of the big animals that may weigh as much as 300 pounds on the hoof are bagged with the well-known one-shot treatment. Even when the trophy is spotted and bagged, getting a 40-pound head and cape up a mountainside isn't easy, and other trips are necessary for the meat.

Since the Department made the initial 1957 sheep release of 44 animals, trucked from the McKnight Ranch near Picacho, New Mexico, offspring of Hearst Ranch stock from San Simeon, California, biologists have noted both the increase and spread of the herds. By 1961 the population was estimated at 200, and the toudad was declared a game animal under SB 171 on March 4, 1963. That same year landowners were issued 42 permits and 36 were utilized by hunters who tallied up 9 trophies, 6 rams and 3 ewes, for a 25 percent success.

Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor, said last year's hunt totaled 93 hunters who saw 278 sheep and harvested 33 of them after spending 2.5 shells per animal, and an average time for each animal of seven hours. Last year also produced the maximum ram horn length of 32 inches, a respectable size since the world's record head had 34 1/2-inch horns from an aoudad found dead in the home African mountains.

Biologists have kept a sharp eye on the sheep each year, in part by a hold-your-breath helicopter census, and spreading of the herds is an obvious thing. Records reveal one large ram bagged in Armstrong county during the 1964-65 hunt that field-dressed 270 pounds, a year when 49 of the 50 permits issued were used.

Permit issuance for Armstrong, Briscoe, Floyd and Randall Counties will be November 5 this year. Season will open January 3, 1970, for five consecutive days, closing on January 7.

ALERT SUGGESTED FOR SCREW-WORMS

Recent rains and cooler weather could change the screwworm picture in Texas. Officials of the eradication program caution livestock producers to keep a close check on their animals, and to treat all wounds and collect samples for positive identification.

Food buying trends show substantial shifts from canned to fresh juices and from fresh to processed potatoes. Extension Home Economics Specialist Gwendolyn Clyatt reports on recent research. Today's homemaker also buys more bakery products in advanced stages of preparation than she buys bakery mixes.

Mr. and Mrs. Starr Ozment of California visited Mrs. Edith Longan Monday morning enroute to South Dakota and other points.

G. A. Anderson returned home Monday after visiting relatives and friends in Dallas, Ellis, Van Zandt, and Craig counties.

Mrs. Carl Pittman attended funeral services for her cousin, Mrs. Swift Ingram, in Amarillo Monday morning. Burial was in Amarillo.
