Association with beauty can enlarge man's imagination and revive his spirit. Ugliness can demean the people who live among it. What a citizen sees every day is his America. If it is attractive it adds to the quality of his life. If it is ugly it can degrade his existence. —President Lyndon B. Johnson.

NEWS FROM Congressman
Bob Price
18th District, Texas

Dear Friends:

The Farm Program - Part I

The Secretary of Agriculture unveiled the Nixon Administration's long-anticipated agriculture proposals this week in hearings before the House-Agriculture Committee. Secretary Hardin revealed, in broad strokes, the thrust of the Department's thinking on such issues as commodity programs and long-range land retirement. Specifics will have to be spelled out in future messages to Congress.

The Secretary's testimony ran to 14 pages with six additional pages of appendix. In order to report to you as fully as possible, I am going to divide his recommendations into two sections and report this week on commodity programs, saving until next week the issue of resource adjustment through land retirement and other means.

As you are no doubt aware, the present farm program expires December 31, 1970. New legislation must be approved by April of 1970 at the latest, to afford wheat producers and others a chance to study the program and make necessary decisions before planting time. If new legislation is not passed by the time the present act expires, net farm income will decline about a billion dollars a year.

In trying to arrive at a workable farm program which farmers would support, Secretary Hardin and members of his staff traveled all over the country listening to farmers, commodity groups and farm organizations, weighed the testimony and conferred with House and Senate leaders of both parties. As the Secretary noted in his testimony "... It is clear to us that farmers want help to bring their incomes up to the level of the national average and that they want a bigger say in decision-making on their own farms."

It is also abundantly clear that neither the House Agriculture Committee, nor the Administration, nor the Republicans, nor the Democrats can pass a farm bill without the other's help.

Whatever program is decided upon, the Secretary reminded the Committee, there must be restraints on production that will permit satisfactory levels of price and income and will "neither inhibit the growth of markets nor place needless obstacles in the way of efficient farm operation." Neither should we concede world markets to our foreign competitors. He invited further comment and response by farm organizations, commodity and producer groups.

Programs for wheat, cotton, and feed grains are the ones that affect most farmers. In addition to proposals already made by various farm organizations, the Secretary proposed a "set-aside" program or, as an alternative, domestic allotment and diversion.

To quote from his testimony on the set-aside program, this would be "a domestic allotment of cotton and wheat and, in addition, a national feed grain base. The feed grain base would be similar to the present one. Price support loans would be offered participating producers who would be required to set-aside a crop acreage equivalent to perhaps 75 to 100 percent of the domestic cotton or wheat allotment and 30 to 50 percent of the feed grain base. No constraints on acreage or production would apply to any crop except the set-aside acreage, which would be in addition to the normal conserving base."

The program would be voluntary. Income support payments would be made to cotton and wheat producers on the normal production of their domestic allotment acreage and to feed grain producers on the normal production of half of their feed grain base. Rates of payment could vary over time and would affect the number of participants and, thus, the acreage in the set-aside. The amount of acreage to be allotted, size of the payment, and the level of the loan would all have to be determined. The allotment would serve only as the basis for calculating the size of the payment and the amount of land to be diverted. After he had diverted the necessary number of acres, he would have full freedom to use the remainder of this land in any way he wished.

The other possible approach is by domestic allotment and diversion. This grants somewhat more freedom to the farmer than present approaches.

As in the set-aside, there would be an acreage allotted to each wheat and cotton producer, equal to his computed share of the domestic market. On this allotment he would receive payments. There would be no diversion required for cotton or wheat.

To quote further from Secretary Hardin's testimony: "Feed grains and wheat would be aggregated into a total grain base. There would be no domestic allotment for feed grain. There would be diversion payments to take the desired amount of land out of feed grains. A price-stabilizing loan would be available for participants. Grain producers would be eligible for loans if they produced within their total allotment."

"As in the set-aside, this program dispenses with marketing quotas. Wheat and cotton growers, of whom no diversion would be required, could plant whatever they wished on their tilled acreage. Feed grain growers who choose to participate in the program would be required to limit their plantings of feed grains to an acreage equivalent to their base minus the feed grain acreage diverted. Substitution between feed grains, including wheat for feed, would be allowed. Ordinarily the Commodity Credit Corporation would not expect to acquire stocks.

"The domestic allotment approach differs from the set-aside in that it requires no diversion for cotton or wheat. For the feed grains the chief difference is that in the domestic allotment plan the wheat base and the feed grain base are added together to give the new grain base."

Next week I will be reporting on the second part of the Administration's suggested farm program which focuses on Class I Base Plan for Dairy, Payment Limitations, Resource Adjust Programs, Cropland Conversion, Town and Country Program, Easement Program, and Programs for Rural People. In the meantime, I would like to have your views on Secretary Hardin's proposals. It will be most helpful to me as your Representative and as a member of the House Agriculture Committee.

I was pleased to welcome to my office this week from the 18th District: Mr. Jake Hess, of McLean; Mr. Marshall Forby, Plainview; Mr. Vincent Harman, Canyon; Mr. Milton Morris, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilcox, Phillips; and Mr. W. B. Hooser, Memphis.

PLAN THAT MIXED-UP LOOK FOR FALL

For the carefully planned "mixed-up" look for fall, be inventive in combining plaids with prints, herringbones and tweeds with prints or stripes, suggests Fannie Brown Eaton, Extension clothing specialist.

She gives guidelines which may help with this difficult aspect of fashion:

—work with three basic colors.

—use one dominant patterned fabric - others in subdued designs.

—draw patterned fabrics together by using a solid fabric which repeats one color in each fabric.

—choose small designs in printed fabric when used with a plaid or stripe.

Flower beds frequently become infested with soil borne diseases when used for the same plants year after year. It's especially true of petunia beds. By rotating crops each year, the danger can be reduced. A good rotation—follow petunias with marigolds and for the third year use periwinkles.

Soil Conservation District News

This is the first series of articles describing the more prominent types of soils found in Donley County. At this time a standard soil survey is underway in the county. This survey is being made to learn what kinds of soils are in Donley County, where they are located, and how they can be used.

The Abilene soils are found mostly on the smooth upland terraces and planes of the central and east central part of the county paralleling highway 287. The areas of this particular soil are generally small, averaging about 40 acres in size. The reason for this is that Abilene soils occur only on level or concave type positions. Another large area of this soil can be found on the "flats" of the J.A. ranch in the very southwest corner of the county.

The Abilene soil consist of a very deep (50-80"), dark grayish brown, clam loam soils. They have firm loam topsoils with very firm, compact subsoil. The parent material is a clayey, calcareous, old washout material, and usually contains accumulations of lime.

The Abilene soils have good surface drainage. They have a slow permeability or downward movement of water within the soil and their water holding capacity is very high. They have a high natural fertility and are only slightly susceptible to erosion. These soils are droughty during periods of low rainfall such as we had this summer.

Most all of the Abilene soils in the county are cultivated. With irrigation the yields of most crops are above average for the county.

Those Texas families receiving commodity foods may soon receive a new form of corn meal, according to Extension Food Specialist Jimmie Kay Ullom. The extra fine meal can be used like flour in cookies, biscuits and corn meal.

Water—the forgotten nutrient. Sally Springer, Extension food and nutrition specialist, reminds people to drink at least six glasses of water a day. Coffee, tea or fruit juices may be substituted for water.

Will legislative redistricting force another special session of the legislature this year.

Nobody knows for sure, although rumors have been hot on the subject. Observers, including Gov. Preston Smith, have indicated they doubt reapportionment will demand emergency attention of the lawmakers.

Issue is before a three-judge federal court in Houston. Plaintiffs claim that population variance of 24.2 per cent between smallest and largest Texas legislative districts is discriminatory. They argue that big city House members should run by individual districts, not county-wide.

Court, in spite of some reports to the contrary, has not scheduled the case for hearing.

An Indiana case involving the validity of multi-member legislative districts is on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gov. Smith recently noted that 1970 census figures will be available in less than a year and that the new head count will provide a more reasonable basis for reapportionment than the 10-year-old census.

Filing deadline for legislative candidates is next February. So if the court is going to order immediate redistricting to affect 1970 elections, it is presumed that the decision would be handed down well before the end of this year.

Naturally the longer the court delays its decision, the closer comes the new census tabulation. Insurance Raise Likely A quick decision of the State Insurance Board is expected to jack up auto insurance premiums at least 9.9 per cent.

That, in effect, was the recommendation of the governor's study committee on rates. Board originally proposed an 11.4 per cent boost. Industry wanted 5.6 per cent more than that.

A last-minute flurry of controversy raised the question as to whether the committee had been misled by exaggerated statistics on auto accidents.

Also in controversy was insurance agents' commissions. Committee recommended 18 per cent, which Chairman Price Daniel specified as "average."

F. Darby Hammond, executive director of Southwestern Insurance Information Service, released a blistering attack on the committee's report. He called it not only an insult to auto insurance companies but a disservice to the insurance buying public. "There is no way," said Hammond, "that forcing companies to continue operations in the red will not eventually harm the public."

As to statistics, Hammond says that the Insurance Board does not use Department of Public Safety figures as the basis for determining costs. It uses claims paid. DPS doesn't get reports on all accidents.

Committee has no control over what the agents receive as their commission, Hammond pointed out.

School Money

Texas school board members have been hit hard in making budgets this fall, when the major part of the teacher pay raise package takes effect.

Local share of the teacher pay raises—20 per cent—must come out of local tax revenues on property, the only source of local school funds. Texas Association of School Boards, meeting in Austin, has asked for help.

A resolution adopted at the meeting requested the Texas Education Agency to make a study as to other ways in which school districts might raise money for the local share of school operations.

City Sales Tax

City sales tax allocations, made by State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, show substantial gains over the same quarter of a year ago. Cities with the tax including 185 new ones from a year ago, received $27.9 million compared to the $20.8 million for the period ending June 30, 1968.

Biggest receipts were by Houston ($1.8 million). Income to these four cities represents well over half the state's total.

Crime Fight Funds Allocated

Criminal Justice Council of the governor's office recommended allocation of $165,688 in Federal funds, to be matched by state and local agencies, to fight major crimes.

Total of $416,188 has now been disbursed from nearly $1.1 million granted Texas under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

Programs approved were proposed by the Texas Department of Public Safety (for updating criminal records); Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education and training; City of San Angelo (management, efficiency and manpower study); Concho Valley Council of Governments (for the San Angelo area law enforcement academy); Waco and the Heart of Texas Council of Governments and City of Dallas (for 90 walkie-talkie radios for patrolmen).

Council approved a fiscal 1970 planning budget of $356,900 for regional councils. Group recommended that Smith name an information task force to supervise the development of the Criminal Justice Information System.

Drink Tax Directives Out

Private club operators have received directives from Liquor Control Board as to how to go about collecting five-cent-a-drink tax on alcoholic beverages they serve effective October 1.

Holders of permits thereafter must execute a $1,000 bond to guarantee state collection of the service fee. Club operators must use dated customer service tickets to record each serving. A daily count of drinks will be required, and clubs must file monthly reports to LCB on the number of servings, along with payments of amount due the state.

Procedure is similar to that employed by state comptroller for collecting sales tax. Customers pay but merchants are responsible for collecting tax and turning it over to the state.

Finds Valuable Timepiece

Mrs. Preston Smith discovered an old clock wrapped in papers in the basement of the Mansion, and was amazed at its age.

Inside the 7-foot-tall timepiece was a paper identifying it as having been owned by Napoleon I. Its value has been set at $80,000 to $100,000.

It is now being restored by the Huntsville prison workshop.

DOUBLE-BARRELED HUNTING SAFETY URGED BY TSA

With duck, deer and many game bird seasons near at hand, Texas sportsmen are urged to take a "double-barreled" approach to hunting safety by the Texas Safety Association.

"Duck hunters in particular should be aware of the necessity for safe boating habits as well as proper gun handling," said George Wm. Perry, Dallas, president of the state-wide safety association.

Heavy hunting and hip boots can prove to be an anchor, making boating mishaps doubly dangerous. Some insulated hunting jackets quickly become saturated with water, hampering even the strongest swimmer. Hunters using small, unstable duck boats are urged to wear a life preserver. Hunters were also advised to know the capacity and performance characteristics of their boat. If waves are too high, stay ashore. Remember that besides passengers, you are carrying a heavier load in guns, ammunition and clothing," Perry said. "It would be better to leave a friend behind on the shore than leave him behind in the lake."

Boating safety rules should be combined with proper gun handling—the second "barrel" of hunting safety—to increase the sportsman's chances of not only bagging his limit this season, but bringing himself back alive.

Hunters, except duck hunters in blinds, should wear bright red or reflective orange caps and jackets to make identification easier for other hunters. Each year hunters are killed when mistaken for a deer, quail or even rabbit, Perry said.

All hunters are reminded to be sure of their line of fire. This is particularly true when hunting in underbrush, as bullets fired from high-powered rifles can travel great distances.

Shooting at sounds in deep underbrush is the sure sign of a "green-horn." A hunter should fire only when positively sure his target is legal game.

When the hunt is over, hunters should make sure their guns are unloaded. Loaded guns should never be carried in a moving vehicle, as rough riding, a playful dog or an accident can cause a gun to discharge.

All hunters—on land or the water—are advised to avoid drinking alcoholic beverages before and during the hunt, as well as afterwards on the road home.

Alcohol and gunpowder—just as alcohol and gasoline—do not mix safely, the safety official concluded.

BOAT REGISTRATION REQUESTS HANDLED BY PARKS, WILDLIFE

Although the responsibility for registering boats was transferred to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department effective Sept. 1, the Texas Highway Department continues to receive applications and registration fees.

All this leads to delays, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department.

All registration applications, applications for transfers, or requests for information on boat registration, numbering and safety requirements should be addressed to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Boat owners may also register their boats and receive their registration number at 29 regional, district, or field offices of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Registration numbers may also be transferred for $1 fee if the buyer can produce a current certificate or the transfer stub.

Registration services are available at Parks and Wildlife offices in the following cities: Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, Lubbock, El Paso, Mt. Pleasant, Abilene, Amarillo, Beaumont, Brownsville, Brownwood, Bryan, Edinburg, and Galveston.

Also Seabrook, Kerrville, Midland, La Porte, Palestine, Rockport, San Angelo, Temple, Victoria, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

BRONCHO COLUMN...

Sponsor: Mrs. Glen Bromley
Co-Editors: Debbie Lowry, Lee Ann Palmer, Beth Waldrop

Broncho of the Week

Clarendon High School acknowledges their football players each week with one team member as "Player of the Week."

The first game with Memphis, Jim Moore was named as "Player of the Week." Jim is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard L. Gilkey of Clarendon. As a senior quarterback, Jim is also a class officer and participates in many school projects. In the first four games of the '69 season, Jim has made 60 points.

Charles Louis, a senior half-back, was "Player of the Week" for outstanding play in the White Deer game. Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Louis of Clarendon. Charles ran two yards for one touchdown and returned an interception 95 yards for another tally.

Benny Reese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reese of Clarendon was "Player of the Week" against Paducah. Benny is a senior fullback for the Bronchos. He returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown and made two additional touchdowns. He also played an outstanding game on defense.

Frankie Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ellis of Clarendon was chosen "Player of the Week" during the Canadian-Clarendon game October 3, 1969. Frankie is a senior at CHS and plays guard for the Bronchos.

HAVE YOU HEARD-

Debbie Lowry sure is picking them young these days, isn't she Charles?

Does anyone know how much Danny, Kent and Nelda are charging for bus fare?

Jane, have you found anyone to block with yet?

This photo shows how the Wildcats were making those shoestring tackles at Canadian Friday night. Jim Moore, No. 12, ran for two scores and passed to Bobby Leeper, No. 26, for the two other touchdowns. —Photo by Saye's

The cheerleaders outdid themselves this week in decorating the halls for Homecoming.
The maroon horseshoe, the maroon and white streamers, the banners with the names of the Bronchos on each player's locker, the miniature decorated goal posts, and the big Broncho Homecoming, 1969, poster all seem to say "Welcome!" to the Exes and "Win a Victory" to the Bronchos.

BONFIRE
There will be a bonfire Thursday night at 8:15 to set the spirit for the big game Friday night against Stinnett. Meet in front of the Post Office and march to the bonfire. This will be the first bonfire and we hope to have a large turnout.

CHS HOMECOMING DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT
The CHS Homecoming dance will be held Friday evening, October 10, in the Clarendon High School Cafeteria.
The dance will begin after the football game and last until 12:30. Music for the dance will be provided by the Rioters.

The Homecoming dance has been an annual tradition at Clarendon High for many years. This dance promises to be one of the most successful of the year. It is given for all the high school students and their dates. The Homecoming dance is always sponsored by the senior class. Those attending the dance wear casual dress. We hope every member of the student body will be present to enjoy the fun. Of course parents are always welcome at our school-sponsored dances as well as all of our other school activities.

FOOTBALL SEEN IN A GIRL'S EYES

No boy could ever know what a girl goes through at a football game. Unless she has an older brother who has explained it all to her, she's completely in the dark. And no girl could be more confused than I am.

Here's what I know about football. It's played on grass and ever so often there are some white lines across this pasture which has great big hitching posts at each end. There are about two or three convicts running up and down the field blowing whistles, and a group of pretty girls in little bitty short dresses dancing around. The teams come out and jump around a lot. Then all the players stand in a circle and yell something nobody can understand. At the sound of a whistle, the teams line up on opposite sides of one of the little white lines. Then all at once they run at each other. They kick, stomp, and grind their feet into each other, and as soon as one gets hurt he is carried off and another player comes in to take his place. When everyone is knocked down, another whistle blows and they all get up and try it again.

All I know about scoring is that every once in awhile everybody in the stands start to yell. They all jump up and down, and we get about 6 points on the score-board. But I must say I do enjoy going to the games. It's so much fun to watch the drill team and band march around in formations. I have a lot of spirit, too! I always yell when everybody else does, even though I haven't the slightest idea what it is all about.

If you don't believe this is the way the game of football is played, come to Broncho Stadium Friday night and watch the Bronchos beat the Stinnett Rattlers. You'll see! You'll see!

— CHS —
Mr. Simmons is always busy with the Annual Staff Concession Stand. Each home football game preparations are made, popcorn is popped, and a busy crew prepares for the crowd. These students do their part by making and selling concessions: Rusty Bowling, Lynn Stark, Greg Pipes, Pat Hill, Rusty Vernon, Terry Elliott, Phyllis Barrow, Cindy Anglin, Vida Wallin, and Donna Windom. Our thanks to this busy, busy crew!

Soil Testing Can Give The Right Answer

There is something many farmers can do now to improve field crop production next year. Dr. C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University, suggests that farmers give consideration to outlining spots in their fields where production last year or over the years continues below average.

The cause for the lower yields, he adds, often is associated with plant food deficiencies. Close observation of plants growing on the spots will often give a strong hint as to what is wrong, but Welch believes there is a better way.

He suggests that soil samples be taken from the problem areas and submitted to a soil testing laboratory for analysis. In submitting the samples, the soil chemist reminds that it is most important to give on the sheet which goes in with the sample a description of what happens to plants during the growing season on the problem spots.

If plant food or foods are deficient, the analysis of the soil sample will show the extent. Suggestions will be made for overcoming the problem, explains Welch. He also notes that different types of soil even within the same field may require different management practices, and these will be considered by the testing laboratory.

But, concludes the soil chemist, soil testing is a most valuable method for determining soil-related production problems, and their solution.

Cotton Allotment Transfers
The provisions for transferring cotton allotments due to sale or lease remain in effect for 1970. There is one important change, however. Allotments may be transferred for 1970 to farms on which there are no old farm cotton allotments.

We may begin accepting applications for transfer anytime.

Classification of Triticale

Wheat-Rye Genetic Cross
The classification for Triticale for 1970 will be the same as in previous years. Triticale will be considered a feed grain not covered by the present feed grain program. Triticale, therefore, will not earn payments nor will it count against the feed grain base. Requirements applicable to other small grains on diverted and conserving acres will be applicable for Triticale.

Diverted Acres

Diverted acres may be grazed beginning October 15, 1969. No harvesting in any manner is allowed. Grazing of soil bank and CAP land is not permitted.

Crop Reports Needed From Farmers

During the last half of October, some 35,000 Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop questionnaire from Gary Palmer, State Statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. Reports are needed from farmers receiving questionnaires to provide estimates for Texas crops. We urge each farmer to fill out his questionnaire carefully and return it promptly. This will do much to provide the accurate data needed for the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kaiser, Mrs. Pat Hobbs and children and Mrs. Rachael Reiser of Eaton, Colo. visited Mrs. Edith Longan, Mrs. Reiser's mother and the ladies' grandmother, Saturday afternoon and night. They had attended funeral services for Clifford Stephens at Matador Wednesday. Other Saturday night visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Gale Fowler of Oakley, Kansas, a cousin, and Mrs. J. C. Estlack who was a supper guest. The Fowlers were enroute to Carlsbad, N. Mex. and California.

Here's a question for you: Did you know that litter is a bitter enemy of conservation farmers?

Social Security News

Q. I am receiving a widow's benefit. If I remarry, will my check be cut?

A. A widow will continue to receive a widow's benefit if she remarries after age 60; however, the amount of the benefit will be less in most cases. Call this office to find out how much, if any, your benefit would be reduced if you remarry.

Q. I filed for disability benefits, but was turned down. I am still disabled. What should I do?

A. You should get in touch with your social security representative. You have the right to have your claim reconsidered.

Q. I have the hospital insurance under social security. Do I pay a $4 deductible each time I go to the hospital?

A. No, only if you have been out of a hospital or skilled nursing home for 60 days or more at the time that you re-enter the hospital.

Q. I am receiving a retirement benefit from the Railroad Retirement Board. Having also worked under social security, can I receive both benefits?

A. Yes, if you are eligible for a social security benefit based on your work under social security, you can receive both benefits. Q. My accountant did not include in my gross earnings for 1968 the rental value of the parsonage and utilities furnished to me by the church. Is this optional? Minister.

A. No, it is not. The value of utilities and the rental value of the home furnished to the minister must be included as income in computing minister's net earnings for social security purposes. They are not included, however, in computing the amount subject to income tax.

Q. My brother, upon whom I was dependent, died in 1960. Can I get his social security?

A. No monthly benefits are payable to a dependent brother or sister. The Social Security Act provides survivor payments only for children, widows, dependent widowers and the dependent parents of a worker.

Q. My 20-year-old son was hurt in a car wreck and the doctor says he will be bedfast for 18 months. Can he be entitled to any social security benefits based on two years of work?

A. It's possible. Since he is under 24 years of age, he needs only one and one-half years of work in the past three years to meet the work requirements.
