Anti-Trust Law Hits Express Monopoly.

The Supreme court at Austin holds that exclusive contracts made between railroad and express companies are in violation of the anti-trust act of 1903 and the state will recover penalties amounting to about $600,000.

The suits were filed in Travis county in the Twenty-sixth district court against the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway and the American Express Company, a joint stock company doing business in Texas. This was suit on which the test case was made. About thirty suits were filed altogether, including every railroad in the state and all four of the express companies operating over them. District Attorney Warren Moore instituted the suits with the consent of Judge C. K. Bell, who was attorney general at that time. The state alleged that the contracts made between the express companies and the railroads were exclusive and in restraint of trade, as no other express company could enter Texas and do business over the lines of railway in the state. The state sued for penalties provided for under the act of 1903, which is $50 per day from the date the law becomes effective (April 1, 1903,) amounting, in all, to $20,000 in this one suit.

Of the penalties to be paid under this decision, Attorney Moore will receive something like $150,000 getting one-fourth of all that is recovered. It can be stated with authority that the roads and express companies will take the case to the United States supreme court.

Desperate Law Breaker at Amarillo.

At Amarillo Saturday in an attempt of Deputy Sheriff Keeton to arrest John Fultz alias Brown, wanted on a charge of passing forged checks on a local bank, both emptied their pistols at close range. Keeton receiving a slight wound in the hip. Other officers joined in the chase, Brown taking refuge in an upper room of a lodging house, where he stood 100 people at bay.

The officers finally prevailed upon him to surrender, but not until they had assured him safety from mob violence.

He was given a preliminary hearing and placed under bond of $5,000 on a charge of assault with intent to kill, and $750 on three charges of forgery. Fultz came from Texico, N. M.

Elliott F. Sheppard, grandson of the late W. H. Vanderbilt, is under sentence to a jail punishment and fine for killing a child with his automobile in France last April, and W. K. Vanderbilt narrowly escaped the fury of a French mob Saturday for a like offense. It is very annoying for the French peasants to get in the way of our gasoline nobility. Seriously, we hope the French courts will stick them to the limit. If there is anything more insolent than an American millionaire in an automobile, it hasn't been discovered. Ft. Worth Record.

In setting an orchard it is a good plan to obtain from the local nursery-man a list of the fruits best adapted to that locality, and the order in which they bear. The aim should be to have them regular and sure bearers and of high quality.

C. K. Bell on Prohibition.

Judge Bell, of Fort Worth, candidate for governor, deploras the question of prohibition being made an issue, but comes out squarely against a constitutional amendment providing for state prohibition. He said to a Record reporter a few days ago, when asked the question: "As I have stated often in public addresses and through the press, I am opposed to the submission of a constitutional amendment providing for state prohibition. I do not believe that there is any such general demand for such action as would justify it, and I do not believe that any good would result, and I am sure that much bitterness and ill-will would follow from a canvass which a state prohibition campaign would bring on."

"What about the local option laws?"

"The constitution provides for local option laws and all officers have to take an oath to support that constitution. Under these circumstances it is little less than absurd to suppose that there can be any difference of opinion on this subject among those who aspire to be public officials. If I were in a position to enable me to do so, I would not spare any effort to see that the local option laws, as well as all other laws, were upheld and enforced. I would not willingly allow their efficiency to be impaired in any way, and wherever experience should show them to be defective I would have them strengthened until they are perfected. That is the position I have taken time and again on the stump, but, as correctly stated by the authors of the message referred to, I have refused to discuss this question. I have done so because I do not believe that local option ought to be an issue in a political campaign, and I fear that by continually discussing it, although I might disclaim any intention of trying to make it a political issue, I would more effectively produce that result than if I expressly stated that I was trying to make it such."

Legislature Meets March 26.

Gov. Lanham issued his call for the special session of the legislature Monday and places the date as March 26. The election law is the only subject named for action. The following is the brief proclamation:

"I, S. W. T. Lanham, governor of the state of Texas, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the constitution, do hereby call a special session of the Twenty-ninth legislature to convene in the city of Austin, Texas, beginning at 12 o'clock, meridian, Monday, March 26, A. D. 1906, for the following purpose, to-wit:

"To provide for definitely determining the votes which candidates for party nominations for state and district offices shall receive in state and district political conventions, based upon the results of the primary elections held in the different counties of the state or of the district, as the case may be.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of state to be affixed at Austin, Texas, this 26th day of February, A. D. 1906.

"S. W. T. LANHAM,
Governor of Texas."

Abe Lincoln's Log Cabin.

After being stored three years in the cellar of an old mansion in College Point, L. I., the logs that formed the cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born were removed last week to a storage house in New York. They were the property of David Creer, a New York builder, who bought them from A. W. Dennett. The latter owned the Lincoln farm, and the log cabin was taken apart and sent to Buffalo for exhibition during the Pan-American Exposition. There are over 200 logs and a door and one shutter of the cabin window, besides some pieces of boards.

The logs were purchased recently by the Lincoln Farm Association and will be stored until the association is ready to rebuild the cabin on its original site on the farm near Hodgenville, Ky. After the logs had been loaded they were covered with American flags and the truck moved away with every one present standing with uncovered heads. As the truck passed a public school in College Point the gathering assembled and sang the National hymn.

STATE NEWS.

R. C. Phansteel, of Deaf Smith county marketed a 700-pound hog last week that had grown and been fattened on kaffir corn, bringing him in the nice little sum of $41.15.

According to the report of the Fort Worth & Denver road to the railroad commission the gross earnings of the road for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1905 was $1,711,363, an increase of $361,944 over the same six months of 1904.

Roland Browne, one of the murderers of John M. Pinckney in south Texas some months ago, was acquitted Saturday by an Austin jury. Browne does not deny having killed both Congressman Pinckney and his brother, but he claims that he did so while trying to protect his father from their onslaught.

George Pipkins was stabbed at Keller Saturday and seriously but not fatally wounded, and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Walter Douglas, who is charged with the cutting. The affair is said to have taken place at the church in Keller while religious services were being held, the participants being on the outside of the building.

The Chillicothe plant of the Quanah Gin & Feed Mill company burned Saturday night, loss about $6,000 with small insurance. It is not known how the fire originated, but it is believed to have caught in the engine room. J. M. Strong and others of Quanah, were the owners. The two gins were both in operation that day. About 5,000 bales have been ginned there this year.

A report comes from Wichita Falls that the Fort Worth and Denver Railway will move the dispatchers office from Childress to Wichita Falls and also make $15,000 improvements to the company's roundhouse there. This has started a rumor that the company also contemplates moving the shops there also. The contractor to build the addition to the roundhouse is there ready to begin work.

He began to sink Friday afternoon, rallied Saturday morning; in the afternoon relapsed into unconsciousness and failed rapidly until the end came. All of his family except a son in California were at his bedside, but Colonel Henderson had been unable to recognize anyone but his wife since a week ago, except on Friday, when he partially regained his mental faculties.

SENATOR TILLMAN, who was placed in charge of the Hepburn rate bill through spite of republican members of the committee, says that as soon as possible he purposed to digest the testimony and submit a formal report on the bill. He said within two weeks he would move to make the rate bill unfinished business and displace the statehood bill if that measure was not disposed of before that time.

According to an order issued from the Department of Railway Mail Service, the fast mail train run by the Katy and Frisco from St. Louis receives a much larger portion of the mail business than it has hitherto had. The routing of the mail for Texas under the new order gives to the Katy-Frisco combination the handling of all mail in the territory bounded on the west by the Missouri, Kansas and Texas main line to Taylor, Tex., and on the south by the International and Great Northern. St. Louis and eastern papers now come into Clarendon fourteen hours sooner than heretofore.

District Judge Ira Webster granted a petition for injunction filed with him in chambers at Amarillo last week by the County Attorney of Dallam County against several alleged gaming houses in Dalhart. The petition is filed in accordance with provisions of the act of the Twenty-Ninth Legislature, which gives the States Attorney power and makes it his duty to file petitions for the writ. The defendants are cited to appear at the March term of the District court.

Frank M. Johnson, convicted of the killing of J. P. Robinson and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary last fall at Fort Worth, and who has been in jail there since, was pardoned by Governor Lanham Saturday, Feb. 24, on the recommendation of the board of pardons, the pardon restoring him to liberty and full citizenship.

College Debate.

The debate at the opera house Friday night between the Panhandle and Adkissonian societies drew a large crowd and the college students were all in high feather. The question was "Resolved that by the terms of the Portsmouth Treaty Japan received all she was entitled to," with W. P. McMicken, of Memphis and Clint Small, of Shamrock representing the affirmative for the Panhandle society; and George Palmer, of Canadian and George Harding, of Clarendon, representing the negative for the Adkissonian society. The negative won by four to one, the judges being Rev. Rogers, Prof. Silvey, Prof. Pile and Dr. Gray.

The boys did real well and favorable comment was general.

Another fire occurred Monday morning about 1:30 o'clock, when the residence occupied by G. A. Latimer's family and owned by Dr. Stocking burned. Mr. and Mrs. Latimer were not present. The supposition is that it caught from a candle left burning in the room of one of the girls. When she awoke the room was in a roaring blaze, from which she rushed and awoke the other children. Nothing was saved from the building except a sofa and a chair, all other furniture and clothing being burned. The wind was high and it was fortunate that no other buildings burned, or even that the children escaped with their lives. Dr. Stocking had $400 insurance on hand.

Postmaster Lewis has received a reappointment as postmaster here and the Senate has confirmed the appointment. Not many postmasters are as accommodating as Mr. Lewis and his office is kept entirely satisfactorily to Uncle Sam.

Excursion to Giles.

The Commercial Club has begun arrangements for an excursion to Giles on May 30. Last year the excursion was a complete success notwithstanding the very bad weather. This year the members of the club are expecting a record breaking crowd.

Negotiations are now under way with Mr. A. A. Glisson general passenger agent of the Denver road, for excursion trains.

The four candidates for governor. Messrs. H. C. Bell, T. M. Campbell, M. M. Brooks and O. B. Colquitt, have been invited to attend the celebration, and each have promised to be present if possible. Mr. Bell has given a definite promise to be on hand. If all come arrangements will be made for all to address the crowds. And if they do come the largest crowd ever got together in the Panhandle will be at Giles on May 30th.—Childress Index.

Printer's "Devil."

There is a reason for all the colloquialisms used in the trades, the expressions being generally used, while the explanations of origin is usually known to only a few. Next to the word "scab," which is now well enough known to be put in a dictionary, the one probably most familiar to the public is the "printer's devil." Ninety per cent of the printers do not know why he is so-called.

Aldus Manutius, the story goes, was a printer in Venice to the holy church and the doge, and employed a negro boy to help him in his office. The boy was believed to be an imp of Satan by superstitious people of Venice, and in order to protect him from persecution Manutius made a public exhibition of him and invited any who did not believe he was flesh and blood to come forward and pinch him. The people were satisfied, but the name, the "printer's devil," had come into too general use to be dropped; and to this day the young imps of Satan who go in a printing office to learn the trade are called printer's devils.—Ex.

Delinquent taxes are being paid up remarkably well. In fact, there never would have been much of a delinquent list if the law requiring the publication of such lists had been complied with in the past. Land, and especially school land, in many instances have changed hands several times and the present owners were unaware of delinquency, and now they are obliged to pay, in some cases, a heavy penalty for somebody else's negligence. Gus Jacques Married.

Gus Jacques, formerly in business here, married at Dalhart last week. The Texan of that place gives the following account:

On last Tuesday night at 8:30, at the house of W. T. Allen, county clerk, occurred the wedding of Hon. Gus Jacques, county treasurer and one of the most popular merchants of Dalhart, and Miss Effie Meadors, the charming daughter of Mrs. P. Meadors, of this city. Rev. Cartwright performed the impressive ceremony which united the happy couple in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The bride was gowned in a handsome brown tailor-made suit and the groom wore the conventional black.

There were only present besides the bride and groom and minister, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Allen, Mrs. J. E. Allen, Tom W. Smith and P. T. Frederick.

A little later in the evening a party of guests led by the celebrated Irish patriot, Jack Egan, came to inspect Mr. Allen's new home, and incidentally to see if they could find the newly married couple, and not finding them, departed to search the remainder of the town.

Notwithstanding the fact that some time ago Gus had announced to his friends that he was "going to break his gun over a post, give away his dog and get married," the wedding came as a surprise to his many friends who had long considered him a confirmed bachelor with a heart callous to the charms of the fair sex.

The entire community joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Jacques a long and happy life.

Pneumonia Cure.

Owing to the prevalence of pneumonia and the great mortality therefrom during the winter and spring, several boards of health in Northern New Jersey have been taking measures of protection. The Health Board of Washington, Warren county, has published a remedy which is said to be a sure cure for pneumonia, and other health boards are looking into the matter with a view of having the tidings spread broadcast for the good of the public. This is the remedy:

Take six or ten onions, according to size, and chop fine; put in a large spider over a hot fire; then add the same quantity of rye meal and vinegar enough to form a thick paste; stir thoroughly, letting it simmer five or ten minutes. Then put it in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs and apply to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. In about ten minutes apply another, and thus continue by reheating the poultices, and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger.

A writer, who has tried the remedy with the best of success says it is very important to dry the body thoroughly when ready to leave off the poultices, and rub with camphor oil, and to cover the chest with cotton batting, to be kept on till the cough is gone.

Royal Gorge High Bridge

The highest bridge in the world will be built across the top of the famous Royal Gorge, near Canyon City, Col. It will be 2,800 feet above the hanging bridge of the Denver and Rio Grande railroads—so high in the air that the roaring of the Arkansas river below will not be heard, and the powerful stream will look like a thread of silver running between the frowning cliffs.

The structure will be erected in connection with the plans of F. S. Granger of San Jose, Cal., to establish an interurban system of electric railways in Fremont county, from Canyon City to Florence, and the top of Royal Gorge. Construction will begin March 1, and it is expected that the line to the top of Royal Gorge will be in operation some time this summer.

The Pike's Peak road is now the highest and most wonderful railroad in the world, but the proposed line with its thrilling ride across the gorge will surpass even the wonderful cog road. The cost of the interurban system will be $500,000, and the suspension bridge spanning the chasm $100,000 additional.

It is six miles from Canyon City to the highest point the electric line will reach, but a tortuous road ten miles in length will be built for the electric cars.

John Decker and T. M. Berry of Canadian, who were before N. A. Dodge, United States commissioner, Monday at Fort Worth, waived hearing and were held to the Federal grand jury on a bond of $350 each, which they made. They were charged with illicit retail liquor dealing, alleged to have been committed about Dec. 1.

During a quarrel with his wife at Oklahoma City, Ok., Saturday, T. H. Dunn, a railroad man, shot and almost instantly killed her and then killed himself. The dead woman was formerly the wife of J. R. Mueller, a music teacher of some note and about four years ago he secured a divorce from her.

It takes no furniture, hardware, bric-a-brac or "premiums" to induce people to take THE CHRONICLE. It is unnecessary. Big value is given in the paper its self for a dollar, and well informed people appreciate the fact and are subscribing right along for its worth.

Five-Cent Steers.

Five cents a pound for steers, equal to the highest price paid this year, was again reached on the Fort Worth stock yards Monday morning, when a consignment of thirty-four head brought that price.

Seventeen of the steers averaged 1,424 pounds and the other seventeen, 1,464 pounds. Armour bought one lot and Swift the other, the price in each case being the same. The steers were shipped by J. R. Ryan of Chickasha, I. T., and were cake fed.—Ft. Worth Telegram.

No man can be brave who considers pain the greatest evil of life; or temperate who regards pleasure as the highest good.—Cicero.

The exports of oleomargarine from the United States for the twelve months of 1905 show an increase of 35.5 per cent over the exports for 1904. The exports of butter during the same period show an increase of only 17.7 per cent.
