Societies, Societies, and Societies.

"There are in existence so many of these 'ere hawk-billed, double-chinned societies for the prevention of this, that and the other," grimly said the Old Codger, "that it strikes me 'twould be a pretty good idea to start a few societies for the prevention of societies for the prevention of things, and—er—ah! well—then, by George, why not carry it right on?—and start a society for the prevention of societies for the prevention of societies for the prevention of this, that and the other; something on the idea of torpedo-boats and torpedo-boat destroyers and torpedo boat destroyer destroyers, or the old story of the train running away downhill so fast that the engineer would have had his hair blown off if the fireman hadn't held it on, and the fireman would have had his hair blown off if the brakeman hadn't held it on, and so forth, clear along back to the bald-headed man on the rear platform of the last car who hadn't anything else on his mind. And after the last society had done its duty we could turn in and abolish it and have a little much-needed rest for the weary on this side o' Jordan!"

Where Lawson Obtained It.

Some people contend that Tom Lawson contributed something original to the discussion of political economy and finance, when the whole long story was simply the kindergarten essay of a schoolboy. Even his pet phrase, "the system" he stole from Tom Watson. On page 286, volume II, of the "Story of France," Watson says: "Specially favored by the system, the citizen will thrive, his class will thrive. Specially antagonized by 'The System,' the citizen will suffer and his class will decay." In those few words Watson said all that Tom Lawson printed in two years. That is all there is to it. On the next page Watson says: "Olden times saw the work of the marauder who wielded the sword, and the books are full of his doings; later generations see wealth and prosperity transferred from one class to another by the knave who wields the legislative pen, and the story of the nations will never be complete until the one form of robbery is as fully understood as the other."

Want Small Bills.

Secretary Shaw has issued an appeal to national banks to assist the government in supplying a pressing demand for notes of small denominations. He has sent to all national banks a letter requesting them to issue as much as possible to the aggregate of their circulating notes in $5 bills, indicating to them that there is more profit in the issuance of such notes than in putting out notes of a larger denomination.

Tom Lawson was utterly incapable of understanding the latter assertion, and, not understanding it, he found himself incapable of offering any solution the question which he undertook to discuss. The "remedy," which he so long promised, never was given to the public, because he had no remedy to offer.—Investigator, Omaha Neb.

S. H. Ammonette suicided near Hutchins Tuesday. He leaves a wife and three little girls.

Brewers and Joints Whipped.

KANSAS CITY Mo., July 9.—The brewers who control the joints in Kansas City, Kas., admitted defeat in the effort to keep their places open in defiance of the law, when they announced to-night that they will agree never to sell liquor to the joints in Kansas City, Kas., again, and promised to give bond as a guarantee of good faith.

The Heim, Rochester and Imperial brewing companies, which own and control 150 joints in Kansas City, Kas., will make application this week in the Court of Common Pleas for the release of their property.

Settling in West Texas.

It is estimated that more than 800 persons have made their homes on lands sold by the state during the last eight months. These home are all located in western Texas. The aggregate acreage during the period named is approximately 3,400,000 and an additional 500,000 acres which will be on the market through expiration of leases will probably be sold before the first of next year. In addition to this settling up of state lands many thousands of acres of private lands have been sold to actual settlers. Big ranges are being cut up and converted into farming tracts all over the western part of the state.

The gubernatorial race is fast growing warm and interesting, and most of our leading papers are falling into line for one or another of the four aspirants, and the game being played by these papers is sometimes amusing and very often disgusting. That the state democratic machine, headed by the present state administration, and much corporate influence, have singled out the Hon. C. K. Bell as successor to his flatulency, the Hon. S. W. T. Lanham, and that the oldtime hardshell anti-prohibitionists, from the largest manufacturers and dealers in intoxicants of all kinds to the lowest order of bar-room bum, have settled down on the Hon. O. B. Colquitt, is evident to all general readers and close observers, while the balance of the people very generally including the prohibitionists, local optionists and many labor organizations and producing laborers and ordinary business and professional men generally, not allied either with the state machine or liquor traffic in person or sympathy, seem divided in fealty between Judge M. M. Brooks and Hon. Tom M. Campbell, with the latter at present enjoying a pretty safe lead.—Uncle Zekiel in Bridgeport Index.

Bailiffs, sheriffs, prosecutors and governors, with processes, warrants and indictments, are waiting John D. Rockefeller's home-coming, each trusting for the luck to catch him first. Before long John will have to travel by pipe line to escape a "pinch" at every crossroads.—Republic.

Eighty British warships recently condemned as unfit for present duty in warfare were sold this week for $4,000,000. The vessels represented an outlay of $50,000,000.

A campaign is under way in Greer county Ok., for a division of the county by the state legislature.

Rebate Fines.

At Chicago Thursday Judge Landis in the United States district court sentenced the Chicago and Alton railroad, which was recently convicted of granting illegal rebates at Kansas City, to pay a fine of $20,000 on each of two counts, or a total of $40,000. John Faithorn and Fred A. Wann, former officials, who were also convicted, were sentenced to pay a fine of $5,000 each on two counts, or a total of $10,000 each.

Don't Want 'Em Bribed With An Office.

Congressman Champ Clark, orator of the day at the democratic demonstration held at Tulsa, I. T., Wednesday, declared in favor of holding the next democratic national convention in Oklahoma City as a compliment to the newest state in the union. He also said he was in favor of President Roosevelt turning out all democrats holding office that these same office holders might do valiant work for the success of the party ticket.

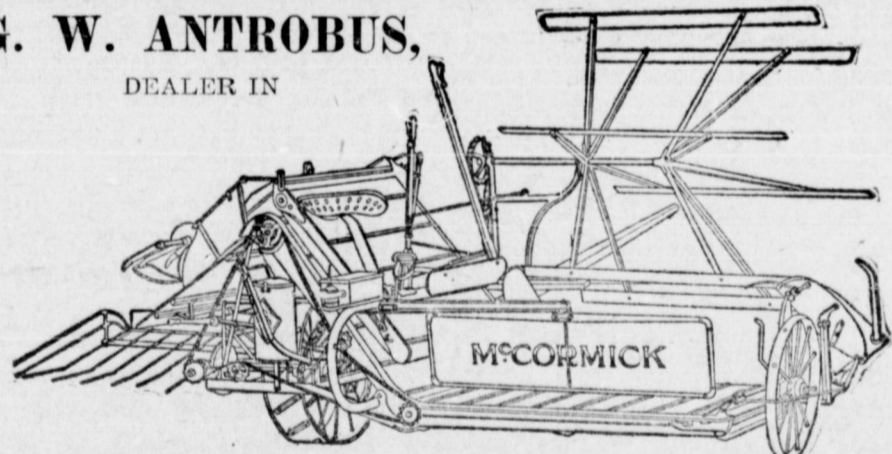

An effort may be made before the next legislature to pass a law abolishing capital punishment in Missouri. The agitation about hanging Aggie Myers, the Kansas City murderess, is the direct cause of the plan. Rev. Fred Loos, a member of the board of charities, who resides in Liberty, where Aggie Myers is confined, is having the bill prepared.

Even if John D. Rockefeller has not been active in the affairs of the Standard Oil company for twelve years, he has the satisfaction of knowing they have been managed just exactly the same as if he had been in direct control.—Cleveland Leader.

Quannah Parker, chief of the Comanches, was master of the ceremonies at a stage coach robbery exhibition at Mountain park July 4. The Lawton News-Republican says that 200 Comanches were present during the performance and all the men and boys, and some of the squaws took part in the same. They found a good place for that old ambulance which the War department gave Parker several years ago—the representation of the old time stage coach of the West. A few Indians represented the guards, the driver and the passengers of the coach, and the remainder of them made an attack upon it, fired it, scalped the pretending whites and gave a war dance as a climax. It was the greatest thing, in Parker's opinion, he ever did.—Ex.

CLARENDON, TEX., JULY 14 1906.

An "oil rebate" investigation is going on in Ohio and several of the Standard oil officials are in hiding.

A Chicago metal dog tag was found in a can of meat opened in Roxbury, Va., this week. The meat was from Chicago.

President Harrington of the A. and M. College will ask the legislature for $10,000 with which to assist in introducing the study of agriculture into the public schools.

Kansas City people are making a roar about paying $10 per ton for ice, which a manufacturer swore cost $1.30 per ton to make and sold to dealers at $2 per ton.

Reports from Havana to the Louisiana state board of health state two cases of fever, suspected to be yellow fever, found in Havana Tuesday, and that one case of yellow fever developed there on July 4.

At Hot Springs, Ark., Tuesday Chancellor Curl granted a temporary injunction against pool rooms on ground of harboring lawbreakers and being a public nuisance. The pool rooms have been closed a week on order of Sheriff Williams.

The first bale of this year's cotton crop was sold in New York at auction Monday, and brought 24 cents a pound. It was shipped from Falfurrias, Star county, Texas. The bale was knocked down to the highest bidder in front of the New York Cotton Exchange. It will be shipped to Liverpool.

WHEN a man really wants to suicide he can easily find a way. In New York this week a man drove his head against the thick plate glass front window of a saloon until the glass shattered. Then with a fragment of the broken pane he cut his throat. A policeman summoned an ambulance, but the man died before it reached the place.

State Feed Inspector, B. C. Pittuck, has issued during the year nearly eight million tax tags for pure stock feed. That means a movement of nearly four hundred thousand tons of concentrated feed stuffs. Three traveling inspectors are kept on the road continually and two chemists are required to analyze the samples of feeds sent in by the inspectors.

E. H. Harriman has become a large buyer of railroad ties in Japan and is having them delivered at Guayamas, Mex., for 56 cents in gold each. A contract for 1,500,000 ties has been left, and one shipment of $3,000 has already been delivered. Mr. Harriman and his New York associates are building 700 miles of railroad in the states of Sonora and Sinaloa to connect with the Southern Pacific on the southern border of Arizona.

Jim Hopkins and Claude Cox, of Gray county, were transacting business here this week.

R. W. Talley is confined to the house with inflamed eyes, but has begun to mend.

J. M. Smith and N. T. West, of Hunt county, are here prospecting for homes this week.

Mr. Charles Baldwin and his family, his parents and a brother moved here this week from Teneha, in southeast Texas. They are the family that bought the Cates place, mentioned last week.

Wellman Off For the North Pole.

Wellman left Tromsø, Norway last Friday for Spitzbergen. He sent the following back to a Chicago paper:

"We are just going aboard the Frithjof, which sails immediately. Everything is in excellent condition.

"In exactly six months we have secured the construction of the greatest airship ever built, organized the completest expedition on the largest scale ever recorded, and have assembled at Spitzbergen 600 tons of material and supplies in the hands of twenty-four engineers, aeronauts, mechanics and specialists in gas making and motor operation.

"This ends the first half of an arduous campaign. We have now a rest of four days at sea, and will then begin the other half of our campaign, the preparation of the airship, the preliminary trials and the final voyage.

"The people of Tromsø gave the expedition a rousing good-by, with hearty cheers and well wishes for a successful voyage and a safe return."

Tromsø is the last of the cable stations in the far north. In order that Wellman may keep in communication during the period of his outfitting at Dane's island and also when he undertakes his aerial flight to the pole, he has established wireless telegraph station along the route. There is a station at Dane's island, one at Hammerfest and a third at Tromsø. When the airship is ready for its journey it will have installed a wireless outfit which will enable the expedition to keep in touch with the outside world during the entire progress.

The balloon part of the airship is more than 164 feet in length, and its greatest diameter is 52½ feet. Its surface is 21,098 square feet, capable of containing 224,225 cubic feet of gas, with a lifting power of 16,000 pounds. The car, to be attached to the balloon, is constructed entirely of steel tubing and is 52 1-3 feet long. It contains the engine room and cabin for the crew, while attached to it will be the great basket, carrying the gasoline fuel for the motors. There are three of these; the first of seventy horse power, the second of twenty-five and the third of five. The large motor will drive the two propelling screws of the ship at a speed ranging from ten to nineteen miles an hour.

When the assembling and testing operations have been completed in the great shed at Spitzbergen the five men who are to make the perilous trip will step aboard and the ship will be pointed toward its final destination.

Three men will be constantly on duty during the flight to the pole—which it is now calculated will consume 100 hours' time—one in the navigation deck to handle the rudder and watch the instruments, one in the engine room and one to work the windlass operating the guide rope and drag anchor. Three or four hours a day of sleep will be as much as any man will secure.

It is the expectation of Mr. Wellman that the preparations for the final rise of the airship will be completed by August 1 and that he will be on his way to the farthest north by the middle of that month.

The southbound passenger train jumped the track near Harrold Wednesday delaying other trains about 14 hours. Two passenger trains of twenty coaches passed here next morning, loaded with tourists. There were six sleepers in the trains.

Blossom who was a Frisco passenger awaiting the arrival of the Denver to go to Giles. The democrats and Lincoln republicans of Pennsylvania have fused. They met in Philadelphia Wednesday and put out a ticket headed by Lewis Emry, jr., independent republican, for governor.

Oklahoma freighters must carry diving bells with them. The Beaver Herald says: "F. P. Madisen's freight wagons were buried in the Cimarron for a few hours last week. It seems that in a very short time a hole had washed in the sand at the ford, and when the driver, Austin Humphrey, started across, the wagons and six horses disappeared. Austin showed some grit and pluck in him when, without a word, he dived into the hole, remained under the water until the six horses were loosened so they could make their way out. The freight consisted of ten sacks of sugar, canned goods, shoes and dry goods. Total loss estimated at about $500."

Notice.

CHRONICLE Correspondence

Mr. Cravin, who bought the 600 Johnson steers, shipped them from Giles to Channing the 6th to put on pasture.

Everybody from Giles report a royal good time at Clarendon the Fourth, and are aloud in their praises of the hospitality and courtesy shown them by the citizens of that enterprising little city.

Mrs. Della Thomas and daughter, and Miss Dessa Young left the 6th, the former to visit relatives in Fort Worth, the latter to visit friends in Collin county.

Mrs. Chas. Crow returned home, after several days visit to friends in Clarendon, the 5th.

W. A. Wylie went down the road the 6th to look up a new location

Geo. Coursey now has the job of night pumper at the water station. It was necessary to put on an extra man to pump on account of the increased traffic on the railroad.

The Misses Alleys returned Friday after a few days visit at Rowe.

There were several family picnics in the groves around Giles the Fourth.

Frankes & Neeley shipped four cars of cows and calves from Giles to Kansas City the 8th.

Mrs. Lizzie Blossom, of the Indian Territory, came in Saturday to visit her grandparents and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. V. Coursey and Geo. Coursey, of this place.

Mr. W. A. Johnson of Roswell, N. M., came in Sunday to visit his brother, P. C. Johnson. He returned home the 9th.

Fire came very near destroying the pump house on the 10th. Caught from hot cinders thrown against it, but prompt action and plenty of water soon had it out.

A fine rain the night of the 10th put the farmers of this community in good spirits, though crops were not suffering for rain, except the early corn crop, which may be damaged some. Some of the new settlers got a little panicky and sold their crops for a song; however, it is an ill wind that does not blow somebody good and we most always depend on it raining in this part of the Panhandle just before it is too late.

Babylon Is Fallen.

Preached by pastor Wilson C. Rogers at the Baptist Church Sunday July 1.

Text: Rev. 18: 4, 7. "For she has said in her heart, I sit a Queen, I am no widow, and shall not see trouble.

"And I heard another voice from heaven, saying come out from among her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues."

This event was so prominent in the council and plans of God that He reveals it in a vision to John, and causes it to sit as a warning in the midst of His revelations to the Church.

Babylon was a great city. The Capital of the Persian empire. It was built on the banks of the river, Euphrates, the river flowing through its midst. It covered an area 14 miles square. A great commercial center.

As she said in her heart, "She sit a Queen." Yes, in commercial pursuits, in pride and in sin, she sit a queen. She had forgotten God in her mad rush after dollars, pleasure and sin. She had become so far carried away with worldly things as to feel secure in her ungodliness, hence her boast of being a queen, and no widow, and would see no sorrow.

She meant by this that she reigned; she ruled in commercial pursuits, was not like a widow, dependent, but was independent, able to take care of herself, therefore would not come to sorrow and trouble.

Her sin was not confined to herself. She had drawn many others into her web, not drawn them in only but she had entangled them in the meshes of the web, and they had fallen victims, like the fly to the spider, to be devoured by her avarice and greed. O, what a fatal mistake, when a christian thinks they can become a part of the world in her sin, pleasures and greed for gold, and not get hurt!

Even while the great Babylon boasted, her doom was being sealed: Ver. 5. "For her sins have searched unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities." Her destruction had been ordered and no hand could stay it.

Poor San Francisco! The City of the "Golden Gate." The Queen of the Pacific Coast. The city that boasted daily of her beauty and wealth. That pointed to hear greatness with hearts bursting with pride. But a city steeped in crime and immersed in iniquity. As she lies upon her couch dreaming of her security at the dawning of the morning, and feeling her independence and safety from sorrow, she was taught an awful lesson. In a few hours, hundreds stood before God in the judgment. Millionaires were made paupers. Her wealth, beauty and boasting had gone. Her people crushed, broken hearted and penitent remembered God once more.

II

BENEDICTION OF GOD'S WRATH.

Read for yourselves Rev. 18: 8-19. Babylon is fallen, crushed. Wealth, glory, pleasure and all, gone forever. God is permitting San Francisco to rise again. But Babylon, never. She is never to raise her proud head again. Ships will land at her wharves no more. No more exchanging of merchandise over her counters for gold.

The shuffle of the banking clerk's feet will be heard on her floors no more forever. Ver. 24: For in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints and of all that were slain upon the earth. Ver. 23: And the light of a candle shall shine no more in her. Ver. 2: Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird. This last verse describes her awful condition in sin before her destruction. Is it any wonder that God, who hates sin, destroyed her?

III

THE WORLD THE ANTOTYPE OF BABYLON.

Let us take a look over the world. Come see it as it is!

Our great cities, a teaming mass of humanity, men and women striving to pile up this world's goods unto themselves, regardless of how they acquire it. The hundreds of thousands of great massive buildings filled with every conceivable scheme for money-making. Men and women visiting with each other to take care of the business? No! they are straining every fiber of their bodies to create more business. Like the old farmer: He said he bought more mules to make more cotton, to have more money, to buy more mules, to make more cotton, etc. They are creating more business, to make more money to buy more lots, to build more houses to create more business, etc. A perfect, mad rush after the almighty dollar, in the place of the almighty God and his love.

Our land is one net work of railroads, telegraph and telephone wires. Nothing but steam and electricity is quick enough for us. Business must be done in a rush. Our seas are covered by a myriad of fast steamers like a great conveyer of ducks upon a pond of water. Our cable lines connect all countries and tie them together. This is the world's side, this is Babylon's idea.

And as Babylon by her craftiness and cunning drew many others into her coils, our hearts are made to bleed at the success of the world over christians. She has many good men and women entangled in her meshes, and they are forgetting everything but the glory of Babylon. The houses of their Lord, his services, the support of the church, and the preaching of the gospel are all forgotten in the mad rush for money, pleasure and sin. Yes, sin. "That which is not of faith is sin," says the Apostle Paul.

What is the other side of the world? Modern Babylon! Revolution, war, debauchery and crime on every side. The cry of the widow and orphans. The haggard faces of the starving, etc.

IV

COME OUT OF HER MY PEOPLE.

Here is the cry of him who hung upon the cross. Of him who suffered the ignominy and shame. Of him who poured out his precious blood. Of him who had the cruel nails driven through his hands and feet and the spear thrust in his side. Of him who offered himself a "ransom for many," and who, in that awful hour of suffering, cried to God and said: Father forgive them!

I ask the question; Christian do you love him? If you do you will come out of Babylon as he has called upon you to do? And if his cries have no affect upon you, and you persist in remaining in Babylon, being a partaker of her sins, and preparing to be sharer in her plagues, you should examine yourself; for surely you are yet in your sins and are lost. God help you.

The co-adjutors of Babylon were willing to share her prosperity and glory. But when it came to sharing her sufferings, they stood afar off and exclaimed: Alas, alas, Babylon, that mighty city is fallen! O, christian, christian! If you are not willing to remain and share the sufferings and shame of the world when it falls under the hand of a sin avenging God. Won't you hear His gentle, pleading voice as he calls upon you to come out from among them? Won't you come now? For when we in the judgment stand in that mighty company, and the Judge will question us O, what shall our answers be? What for every trifling tho't and each idle word we speak? What for every sinful act we may do from day to day.

When that awful day we see, O, what shall our answers be?

Come out of her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

May the benedictions of a merciful and loving heavenly father be upon you all. Amen.

The Blind and Deaf.

One person in every 1,200 was blind and one in every 850 persons was deaf in the United States in 1900, according to a special report just issued by the census bureau. The inquiry was conducted under the directions of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell.

The total number of blind in the United States in 1900 was 67,763, of whom 35,305 were totally blind and 29,118 partly blind.

These figures, however, the report says, can be considered only as the minimum, as an unknown proportion of the blind were not located by the enumerators of the total blind. Of the total number 37,054 were men and 27,709 women. The blindness is chiefly a defect of adult life, about 65 per cent of the blind becoming so after 20 years old. About one-tenth of the total number of blind were born so.

The number of blind to the 1,000 population was greater among the negroes than among whites, and greater among the foreign born whites than among the native whites.

In about 5 per cent of the cases of blindness reported the parents of the blind were cousins. Of the blind whose parents were so related 25 per cent were congenitally blind, while among the blind whose parents were not cousins the proportion congenitally blind was only 6.8 per cent.

Deafness on the whole, the report says, is more common in the northern part of the United States than in the southern and there are more deaf men than women. The total number of deaf in the United States is given as 89,287, of whom 37,426 were totally deaf and 51,861 partly deaf. From the latter class are estimated those merely "hard of hearing." The census report of 1890 gave the number of persons as deaf as 121,178 and opinion is expressed that the returns of 1890 are undoubtedly excessive, while those for 1900 are deficient.

Negroes constitute 11.6 per cent of the general population and only 5.2 per cent of the deaf. That the negroes seem less susceptible to deafness than the whites, the report says, is probably due in part to less complete returns from the negro deaf.

Of the totally deaf 91 per cent were so from childhood (under twenty years of age) and 35 per cent from birth.

Watson's Magazine

The leading exponent of Jeffersonian Democracy, Edited by Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, the Father of Rural Free Delivery; author of "The Story of France," "Life of Napoleon," "The Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," "Bethany" and other books. Mr. Watson was the People's Party nominee for Vice-President in 1896, and for President in 1904. He is today heading a middle-class reform movement which is bound to sweep the country in a short time.

WATSON'S MAGAZINE is not a Socialist publication. It does not stand for collective ownership of all means of production. Mr. Watson believes in public or government ownership of railroads, telegraphs and telephones; in municipal ownership of street railroads, gas, electric lights, water works, etc.; and he believes in private ownership of all industries not natural monopolies.

The middle class—the home owners, farmers, small business men and property owners—won Jefferson's victory in 1800; won Jackson's victory over Nick Biddle's money power in 1832; won Lincoln's victory in 1860. But each time after the flush of victory had died away, they became careless of their rights and went to sleep. They have slept a good portion of the time since 1865, but—

Watson's Magazine is waking them up. Another great victory is in the air. Keep in touch with the movement. Fifteen cents a copy at newsstands; $1.50 a year by mail. Sample copy for 4 two-cent stamps and four names of reading friends. Address TOM WATSON'S MAGAZINE, 121 W. 42nd St., New York, N. Y.
