CLARENDON, DONLEY COUNTY TEXAS, SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 22, 1906

No. 75.

Getting After Bailey in Texas.
A. D. Jackson chairman of the democratic executive committee of Wood county, has issued a call for a mass meeting at Quitman, Sep. 29, "to ascertain and express our wishes in regard to instructing our state senator and our representative in voting against J. W. Bailey for United States senator from Texas."

Mr. Jackson states that the call is prompted by recent developments made in the testimony of H. Clay Pierce at St. Louis.

The call concludes as follows: "The chairman of each precinct will, where possible, call a mass meeting of the democrats of his precinct at some time between this and the said date, to select delegates to said meeting, but, for fear such meetings may not be practicable each and every democrat in the county is requested to be present, and have a voice in the meeting."

Wholesale Death by Russian Courtmartial.

WARSAW, Sept. 18.—Two hundred persons who were arrested for complicity in the Siedle massacres were condemned today. It was the greatest travesty on justice even in Russia for years. The prisoners' fate was foretold as soon as it was known that they would be tried by courtmartial. It is thought they were condemned for the purpose of making it appear to the world that Siedle was full of violent revolutionists. Those sentenced are mostly Jews, relatives and friends of the unfortunates massacred in the riots. The passing of the death sentence aroused a storm of indignation. It is believed the St. Petersburg authorities will commute the sentence.

Boll Weevil Spreading.

The eastward immigration of the cotton boll weevil, which is expected to cross the Mississippi river this year, is now proceeding rapidly, according to reports received by the state crop pest commission. Within the past month the pest has traveled a distance eastward averaging over forty miles. In central Louisiana during the past week migrating weevils are reported to have traveled about fifteen miles. The nearest point from Mississippi which the weevil has reached is Wilkinson county, thirty miles from Mississippi.

The New York Central forced the Bryan train from Missouri to remove their banners before the railroad authorities would allow the train to move out of the depot. The Missourians put up a stiff fight and it was not until the train had been held up four hours that they at last surrendered and removed their banners. That sort of action will not do the Vanderbilt roads any good. Every self-respecting citizen, whether republican, democrat or populist, in the west should go to New York over some other line and also bill all their goods by some other road.—The Investigator.

Friday of last week the mail hack between Childress and Paducah was washed away in an attempt to cross Shores Creek. It was recovered next day, with the mail badly damaged.

Attorney-General's Dickering in Trust Suits.

The "compromises" made by the Texas attorney-general comes up in rather a bad light, and the Live Stock reporter has this to say: "Reduced to its briefest terms, the outcome of the compromise is this: The defendants deny that they are guilty, but to avoid further harassment and expense, consent to pay $40,000. The Attorney-General accepts their denial of guilt—and their $40,000. This is in satisfaction of demands calling for millions of dollars. The Attorney-General and the County Attorney of Travis county get $8,450 of this $40,000, and the state gets what is left.

The course of the Attorney-General in this case is the same as was attempted in the prosecutions begun against the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange. In that case, penalties aggregating about $17,000,000 were asked for, but the Attorney-General was willing, after a good deal of dickering, to take $40,000 and call it square. His percentage would be the same in this case as he obtained from the express companies, and something over $8,000 of the $40,000 would have gone to the satisfaction of the Attorney General and the County Attorneys of Tarrant county and Travis county. The Exchange members, however, preferred to fight than to give up their money, and after the case was called for trial, new allegations were hastily introduced by the state that called for delay, and the trial was put off.

In each of the cases, as will be noted, the prosecutions were chiefly laid under the anti-trust act of 1899, which made an allowance of 25 per cent to the Attorney-General and County Attorneys of all sums recovered. The act of 1903 made an allowance of only 10 per cent for the first $1,000 and 5 per cent of all amounts above that. The act of 1903 repealed that of 1899, and one would suppose that prosecutions would be carried on under the law as it is; but there is more profit to the prosecutors (and less to the state) under the act of 1899, and that accounts for it.

The state of Texas pays its Attorney-General a good salary. It allows its county attorneys fees that make their offices highly profitable. It should demand of them that they conduct prosecutions for violations of the anti-trust act without further cost to the state. This $40,000 that the railroad and express companies have agreed to pay is a fine that belongs to the state, and it should be paid into the treasury whole, without the loss of almost a quarter of it, that goes to the enrichment of already paid officials.

STATE NEWS.

Leon county went anti by 21 votes.

Ed Bounds lost an arm in a gin in Williamson county Monday.

J. M. Mouldins lost his barn, surrey and wagon east of Sunset by fire Monday.

Quanah voted by a large majority Monday to issue $50,000 worth of bonds to build a new courthouse.

A child of Lee Nunnerly's hung itself in Williamson county while playing with trace chains in the barn Monday.

Tom Green county farmers say their cotton may go to waste before they will hire negroes. Negroes are not allowed in that county.

A party of 150 mutes left Fort Worth Tuesday morning in two full cars for the deaf and dumb institute at Austin, in charge of Prof. Beggs.

A 9-year-old son of M. A. Farmer at Port Arthur died two hours after eating some oysters Monday and others were made sick by eating them.

While walking with her husband in their field near Greenville Sunday, Mrs. Walter Burkhardt stepped on a corn cob, fell, ruptured a blood vessel and bled to death.

C. M. Hutchinson, city marshal of Plano, was shot while returning to his home by some unknown person Tuesday night. The bullet struck Mr. Hutchinson in the right arm and took an upward course and lodged in the shoulder.

Last Sunday a freight train from St. Louis was derailed at Price's switch, near Palestine. One of the cars was half filled with matches. These became ignited and the flames spread to fourteen of the twenty-three derailed cars. The cargo of merchandise was every valuable and the loss will be heavy.

Unlimited power in the hands of any one party is conducive to graft, corruption and loose conducting of public affairs. One of the greatest blessings that could happen to Texas today would be the building up of a strong, aggressive minority party. History has shown that the existence of such parties have been a wholesome check on the larger organization and force from their hands many important reforms that would not otherwise have been secured. The Prohibition party today is certainly the most logical bidder for the position of an aggressive minority party. The Republican party is open to the charge of office seeking and the "pie counter." The contest is on between two organizations in an effort to secure recognition at Washington as the real Republican party and thereby secure the Federal patronage. The Populist party has no ticket in the field, while the Socialists are too radical for the average voter.—The Advance.

Oil has been discovered seven miles east of Elida, N. M., in what is known as the Red Lake district. Great excitement prevails and something like seventy-five oil claims have already been taken. Encouraging reports of oil finds have been received from the Hawkeye Valley also, eight miles west of Elida.

T. H. ALLEN.

Jackson Had More Early Advantages Than Most.

Verily, we must abandon the belief that Andrew Jackson belongs to the class of American youths who rode to fame and fortune by their own efforts, unaided by the help of their family and friends.

Never did he taste the bitter cup of physical want, of hunger and cold, of helpless, spirit-breaking poverty. Never was he without a home and loyal friends and a sufficiency of the comforts of life. Never was it his lot to suffer that inward-bleeding wound which the proud nature writhes under when there is no money in the pocket, no change of clothing for the body, no welcoming light in any window in all the world as the harassed day draws to its end and the wretched night comes on.

Poverty! Why, Andrew Jackson never in his whole life had a genuine taste of what the cruel word really means.

Few men have been more greatly indebted to the intelligent affection of a self-sacrificing mother. Few sons of poor parents have had such advantages as were his lot; and few lads of poor parents ever did such a scanty amount of manual labor. Compared to the rugged, self-taught youth of Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, Sam Houston, Francis Marion and Nathaniel Greene, the boyhood of Andrew Jackson almost assumes the appearance of having been cast upon "flowry beds of ease."—Tom Watson, in his Magazine for September.

Digging Coal Under The Sea.

Up in Cape Berton Island, where there are a number of collieries, digging out coal from under the sea, the submarine area thus undermined now amounts to about sixteen ordinary farms of 100 acres each. The outer end of the hole is something over a mile from the shore. Strange as it may seem, the workings have never been invaded by sea water, although fresh water streams have been encountered flowing out in the strata under the ocean bed. The thickness of strata over the mines varies from 500 to 1140 feet. About 5,250,000 tons of coal have thus far been taken from these submarine workings and there is as yet no indication of failure of the beds.—New York Globe.

Miss Mary Nevins, of New York, worth $62,000, was arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct Wednesday. Her brother testified that she was a habitual drunkard.

Over one hundred dollars worth at wholesale of school tablets just received at Stocking's store.

Cimarron Bridge Wreck.

High water so weakened the Rock Island bridge over the Cimarron that the northbound passenger train, except two Pullmans, plunged into the river and were submerged Tuesday. Two were known to be killed and several were injured. The escapes of many were remarkable. The river continued to rise and the whole bridge was swept away.

The latest account is that Littlefield, a circus bill poster, Mail Clerk Gamell, a negro porter and a 3-year-old boy are known to be dead, and it is supposed that seven or eight are dead in the submerged smoker. Trains will not be able to cross before Sunday.

A northbound Frisco freight train went through a bridge on the South Canadian river near Carleton, Ok., Tuesday morning. The engineer, Paul Palmer, is dead, and Brake-man Priest is missing.

The Dallas News is now running in its Sunday and semi-weekly editions a series of eight articles on "Our State Constitutions." If you have a hankering for political history, they will be of interest to you.

It has been but a little while since farmers in Kansas were going to the jails and paying the fines of prisoners to get them to labor in the harvest fields. Now the cotton raisers in Texas are doing the same thing to obtain cotton pickers, or at least such report comes from Johnson county.

Senator Joseph Welden Bailey is going to be kept most too busy trying to rid himself of the charge of aiding the Standard oil monopoly to create much sentiment against Bryan because of the latter's advocacy of government ownership of railroads. For double dealing, Mr. Bailey has made off with the whole bakery.

The money market seems to be drawing in on its strings, at least that is given as the reason for not building the million dollar depot in Houston by the Yoakum lines, after buying twelve blocks for the purpose. On the same date it was announced that the Santa Fe had declared all negotiations off for building the Texico-Brownwood line. Right-of-way Agent Furry while in Abilene stated definitely that the Brownwood and Texico cut-off would not be built.

The Mormons have purchased 300,000 acres of land near Sinaloa and it is expected soon to be made the real headquarters of the Mormons in Mexico. The Mexican government has so far shown no tendency to interfere with their peculiar religious view. While it is publicly denied, it is well known that polygamy is countenanced and encouraged in all the Mexican Mormon colonies. This is the chief inducement that brings hundreds of Mormons to Mexico. They are thrifty and the country where they settle develops very rapidly. This is what the Mexican government most desires and is content to let them manage their own internal affairs to suit themselves.

The reports of tax assessors will show that the taxable values of Texas have increased about $75,000,000 over last year. The figures are enormous, but indicate that Texans are doing something.

Every person in the town or county who is building a new home should promptly set out shade and fruit trees. They add both comfort and beauty. A man from an adjoining county stood on one of our streets Friday and looked up and down at the long rows of trees on either side and remarked that it was a beautiful sight and reminded him of a Louisiana town. The cost and labor is very little and the returns large. It is a joy to the children to play in out of doors in the shade, in the heat of summer, and a shady back yard is a fine place for the housewife to churn, peel fruit, prepare her vegetables or for the old man to lounge. Plant trees.

Colorado Snow.

Monday night there was a fall of four feet of snow, the heaviest snow storm ever known on Pike's Peak during September. Snow plows were used to open up the cog railroad.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE CUBAN MUSS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16.—Palma is reported as very anxious to resign and is shedding tears of joy when a hundred and fifty blue jackets camp in the front yard. Palma it will be remembered taught school for twenty years on the Hudson before he assumed the Presidential role of a Latin-American Republic. No pedagogic business that. It is said he wishes to resign, but has agreed to hold on for five or six hours or until he can send another message to his quaking Congress advising it to call upon the United States for protection. This is probably the best thing to do and the cue for which the scrub Cabinet and the impulsive President at Oyster Bay is waiting. Any one even slightly acquainted with Cuba and Cubans on the ground must know that they are not fit for self-government. The most remarkable thing is that a semblance of government has so long been maintained there. The time has come for the United States to assume actual control. It looks as if the Isle of Pines question and many other questions in which Americans are interested, will be settled in a very satisfactory way to Americans and American property interests in Cuba. It will be morally and politically impossible to turn the American interests over to the Revolutionists. The timely landing of the troops from cruiser Denver, which had been dispatched to Havana, for protection of American citizens there, doubtless saved that city from an insurgent attack. Although Commander Colwell, of the Denver, acting with the charge of affairs of the United States, Mr. Sleeper, ordered the troops to land and surround the palace of the Cuban President they were later withdrawn by order of the Navy Department here. To have allowed the troops to remain, would have been to indicate that our Government was favoring the Palma Government, while it is the policy of the United States to preserve strict neutrality, until it may be necessary to intervene and take possession. The United States Consulate in Havana is under military protection, and the Denver is being held as a retreat for Americans, whose lives may be in danger. On the other hand the Navy acting under advices from the President is making all necessary preparations for sending a powerful force into Cuban waters. The opinion of Cubans is said to be generally in favor of intervention by the United States, but the responsibility of killing the Republic is one that no man in official or private life there would want to assume.

Never So Good As Now.

The above has reference to Campbell Bros. Big Shows now consolidated which will give two exhibitions at Clarendon Friday 28. Campbell Bros. have passed the point of competition and this sees their greatest, grandest effort. Their rise has been successful because they give the people what they want and are ever alert in securing features that are new and startling. This year's features are entirely new and entail the efforts of 250 artists in the equestrian, gymnastic, and aerial line, together with 25 clowns and 300 horses. The performance of the trained animals is in itself marvelous. A gorgeous street parade at ten o'clock a. m. over the principal streets. The only big show that will visit this vicinity this season.

Imperial Cossack Troopers From The Steppes Of Russia.

Campbell Bros. Consolidated Shows, in perusal of their ambition to enhance the attractiveness of the Grand National and International Educational Amusement Institution, has, after many months of tenacious persistence, immense outlay of capital, combined with the consent and co-operation of both governments, secured a detachment of Imperialist Cossack Troopers. This is the first appearance in America of a genuine contingent of Russia's Noted Light Horse Cavalry. These are natives of the vast steppes, stretching from the base of the Ural mountains, and universally acknowledged the Hardest and Most Expert Military Equestrians in the World. Of an individuality not characteristic of any other company of cavalymen; in entirely original Gymnastic feats of Horsemanship phenomenally unique and peculiar to themselves; mounted on the Light Horse of their Native Steppes, fierce and active as the riders; armed with the sword, their principal weapon, which they wield with an expertness that is marvelous; arraying in handsome and sombre uniforms; with other detachments from the armies of many nations, in material pageants, dazzling reviews, amongst whom are the master horsemen of the universe, vividly reproducing modern military movements, portraying realistic scenes from historic battle fields that eclipses in magnitude, intrinsic worth and instructive merit, all previous attempts of this unequalled exhibition. Will exhibit at Clarendon, Friday, Sept. 28.

I want and will fully appreciate your trade in fall millinery and general ladies' furnishings strictly up on the style, quality and price of the goods. Give me a chance is all I ask. MRS. BEVILLE.

The Farmer and Government Ownership.

If Mr. Bryan is a Nebraska farmer is it any wonder he advocates government ownership of railroads? The Farmer's Alliance and all other farmer's organizations in the prairie states of the West have been for years advocating the buying or building of trunk lines to the seaboard, that their wheat, corn and other raw and heavy products of the soil may have cheaper transportation to the centers of consumption, and that hard coal from the mines of Pennsylvania may be brought more cheaply to them.

These farmer's organizations are nonpartisan, comprising both Republicans and Democrats, as do the labor unions. The average Eastern man has no conception of what it now costs to transport these raw products of field and mine—more even than to produce them. When the writer lived in North Dakota he paid double the price for hard coal that New Yorkers do.

Give Mr. Bryan cheaper coal for the kitchen stove and maybe he will sit more in the chimney corner and not be so strenuous on the stump. The first great political party that puts government ownership in its national platform is going to get an enormous increase of farmer's votes in the prairie states. And Mr. Bryan knows it is the strongest argument he can use to carry such states as Nebraska, Kansas and the Dakotas.

The world is independent and usually fair. Oughtn't it to show how the poor of the East may get a cheaper loaf of bread and the producer of the West also be benefited? Let some of your space be devoted to giving figures and statistics on this side as well as showing obstacles to government ownership. Of course, obstacles confront all new projects.—E. N. Brann, to New York World.

World's Treatment of Women.

No less a scholar than Herbert Spencer said: "in the history of humanity the saddest part concerns itself with the treatment of women. Cannibalism, the torturing of prisoners, the sacrificing of victims to ghosts and gods—these have been but occasional, but the treatment of woman has been universal and constant. The amount of suffering she has borne is beyond the imagination."

One of His Gloomy Moods.
"Honesty is the best policy, to be sure," moralized the professor, "but in the case of too many men it is a policy that has a surrender value."

Used to Be So.
The average woman would rather have her husband pat her cheek than give her a thousand dollars.—San Francisco Bulletin.
