Panhandle Stockmen at Roswell.

ROSWELL, N. M., April 16.—The Panhandle Stockmen's association convened here today in annual convention. The city is in gala attire, and the citizens of Roswell have made great preparations for the occasion, and to give the visiting stockmen and others who may attend the convention and come to the city during the convention a good time, and hospitable greeting and comfortable quarters.

Arches have been erected at intersections of several of the business streets, decorated with alfalfa and other green material. The leading stores of the city have decorated their show windows and interior for the occasion, with appropriate decorations, and several windows are to be seen. Handsome designs of welcome are displayed, the decorations containing steer heads, cowboys and other signs of the cattlemen. The stockmen are turning out fine, and a great many visitors are coming in, and the attendance promises to be large.

The citizens of Roswell are determined to be equal to the occasion, and see that all comers are properly cared for, and with that end in view a bureau of information has been organized to furnish every visitor with quarters during their stay in the city.

Ample amusements have been provided. The Amarillo baseball team play ball each day with the New Mexico Military institute team, Amarillo and Midland teams play polo, magaphone, minstrels hold forth at Auditorium rink, receptions and drives around the city are given to the visiting ladies, grand concerts at the Baptist church, theater every night, so that there will be plenty of amusements aside from the business sessions of the stockmen.

The convention was called to order this morning at 10 o'clock in the Baptist church, corner Fifth and Pennsylvania streets, and opened with prayer by Rev. H. F. Vermillion. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Gov. Hagerman, for New Mexico, and Hon. G. A. Richardson and Mayor Stockard, for Roswell. Response to addressees of welcome was by W. B. Slaughter. President Thomas S. Bugbee then delivered his annual address, after which the convention adjourned for dinner.

The afternoon session was opened at 2 o'clock and Secretary E. H. Brainard, of Canadian, made his annual report. Five minute speeches then followed, after which the convention adjourned for the day and the visitors took in the town and the amusements provided. There was polo, between Amarillo and Midland, at Military Heights, ladies' reception at Commercial club rooms from 3 to 5, and a baseball game between Amarillo and New Mexico Military institute at 4:30, corner Fifth and Main streets.—Amarillo Panhandle.

Yes, the cold snap is unusual, but not unprecedented. The Wichita Falls Times gives this bit of weather history: "According to the record kept Mr. J. A. Bradley, the heaviest snow ever known to have fallen in this city, fell on April 12, 1885—22 years ago. He says the snow drifted, and in some places was as much as 4 feet deep."

In nine years a piece of El Paso real estate has advanced in value 2,000 per cent. A piece of property 123 feet on North El Paso street, that sold for $750 in 1898, was sold last week by a local real estate firm for $30,000.

Arnold Weddington, a night telephone operator, formerly of Lamar county, fell between the cars and was killed at Augo, I. T., Monday night.

Another Reprehensible Trick.

It was discovered Monday in the governor's office by reference to the enrolled election bill that the provision in the general election law, which provides for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people, has been knifed. It is a coincidence that the error is in section 120. That same section was knifed two years ago, and it came to be known as "bleeding section 120."

As passed this year, it provided for the nomination of all state and district officers and United States senators by a plurality vote of the people. As it reaches the governor it provides only for the nomination of state and district officers, eliminating United States senators.

In the former instance Governor Lanham convened the legislature in extra session to correct the mistake. The legislature is now in extra session, and Gov. Campbell may submit the question for action.

Fourth of July Meeting.

The Confederate soldiers have voted to hold their annual reunion this year on July 4th in connection with Clarendon's Fourth of July celebration.

We want to make this the greatest event ever before of all the great events in Clarendon for the greatness of the occasion which we expect to make it. We should meet at once and perfect our plans, and to that end I take the authority to call a mass meeting of our business people to meet at Dubbs' store Tuesday afternoon, April 23, at 4:30. Let there be a representative there from every place of business.

Very truly,

A. M. BEVILLE, Mayor.

STATE NEWS.

Mrs. Mary Fry, a milliner, was seriously injured by a lightning stroke at Killeen Wednesday.

Dr. O. C. Buster, a prominent physician of Pilot Point, was thrown from his buggy and seriously injured by a horse Monday.

Two children of Joe Becker's, living in Cooke county, were poisoned by eating canned tomatoes, and after several days suffering, died.

At Corpus Christi Sunday Willy Wyatt, the 7-year old son of L. A. Wyatt, died from the effects of a fly bite in the mouth, which caused blood poisoning.

Seventy-five per cent. of the cotton crop around Denison will have to be re-planted, owing to the unseasonably cold weather. Many farmers have commenced to replant.

At Navasota last week J. L. Franklow mistook his eldest son, Ernest, for a burglar and fired at him twice, shooting him in the arm and thigh. The boy was walking around in his sleep.

At Brownwood Sunday fire destroyed the May Mercantile building, together with the stock of goods, entailing a loss of $17,000. The building was a stone one and situated on the west side of the public square, and a very large stock of general merchandise was carried. The amount of the insurance carried could not be learned.

The Gulf Land and Lumber company has secured 125,000 acres of pine lands in the west and southwest sections of Louisiana, and it is said that in addition to this investment, $1,000,000 will be expended in erecting the mill near Beaumont. Surveys have also been made for several short steam roads of standard gauge.

The government treasury officials have discovered that the Denver mint is turning out $20 gold pieces short in purity, and 5 cents short in value on each piece.

LEGISLATIVE.

When the legislature adjourned Friday after setting in on the extra session at $5 per day the members hiked out home on their free passes with the statement that they would reconvene on Monday and expedite business. But as late as 5 p. m. not as many as a half quorum could be mustered in the house and only nine senators could be found, so the first four days of the extra session are lost to the taxpayers. The few that were present adjourned to Tuesday, 2 p. m.

If the legislators were not busy making laws during the regular term, they must have been busy writing letters, as they used an average of $21.58 worth of stamps each. This would pay postage on 1,079 letters for each member.

The governor has signed the following bills:

To regulate the speed of automobiles, fixing the speed in cities and towns at eight miles and at 18 miles on country roads.

To provide for a board to calculate the ad valorem rate of taxes for state purposes each year, and to prescribe the duties of said board.

To require railroads to report to the comptroller under oath rolling stock operated by them under rental, hire, lease or other form of contracts.

Act placing certain counties under the operation of the general stock law.

Act incorporating the town of Estelline in Hall county into an independent school district.

Act creating an independent school district for Dalhart, in Dallam county.

Concurrent resolution granting a leave of absence from the state of a district judge.

Defining trusts and making more stringent the present anti-trust laws.

It has been discovered that the joint resolution providing an amendment to the constitution to increase the salary of the governor to $8,000 a year and the lieutenant governor to $2,500 a year, is by its provisions to be submitted to the people on a date different from all the other constitutional amendments.

As it would have to be submitted at an election called for that purpose and that alone, it may be the governor will run his pencil through it, so as to keep the people from being called from their labors for the one subject at an election and to save the state the heavy expense necessary to an election.

The house committee has reported favorably the following named bills: Intangible assets tax bill, gross receipts tax bill, peddlers' tax bill, inheritance tax bill, by Messrs. Mobley and Kennedy, providing a method of re-assessing property on which former assessments have been found to be invalid; McGregor's bill providing that no error, omission or formality shall be available in a tax suit unless it be shown that material injury resulted.

The senate finally convened Wednesday and passed the legislative per diem bill, carrying appropriation of $33,000 and the contingent expense bill carrying $10,000 for purpose of defraying the expenses of the extra session and adjourned to next day.

The Colorado anti-fusion bill which was to prevent the names of nominees appearing on more than one ticket was vetoed by the governor. This was intended to perpetuate in power either of the two old parties.

Equestrian Statues in Washington

In a few days another equestrian statue, that of Gen. McClellan ("Little Mac") will be erected and dedicated in Washington. There are now in the city equestrian statues of Washington, Jackson, Scott, Greene, Logan, McPherson, Thomas, Sherman, Hancock, with projected statues of Sheridan and Grant. The last is to have a statue surrounded by bronze groups representing the different arms of the service and designed to surpass all others in suggestion and impression. We are not a war-like country of people, but no country, not even France, can boast so many memorials to war. There is in the city a statue to Daniel Webster, the gift of a private citizen, Stilson Hutchins, also a statue of Benjamin Franklin by the same gentleman. It would be more to our credit if we should honor in a greater degree the many distinguished men, scientists, statesmen, philanthropists of the country. It is not to the men on horseback merely that America owes her distinction or to whom history will finally award its highest praise.

According to the latest available information from various points in southern Mexico, the death list as a result of the recent earthquake will aggregate 38 persons, and the list of wounded will total 93, although when complete reports are received it is expected that both the list of dead and wounded will be augmented.

The Texas Women's Press Association will hold its regular annual meeting in San Antonio May 7 and 8. Following the meeting there will be an excursion into Monterey, Mex.

Roswell people sumptuously fed the Panhandle stockmen Wednesday, fully 1,500 people being fed at the barbecue. The New Mexico Military Institute ball team defeated the Amarillo nine and Levi Joy, of Lakewood, N. M., won first prize, a $100 saddle, in the tournament riding.

President Roosevelt is said to have held a conference at the White House Wednesday with three negro leaders in reference to securing the negro vote in the next election. W. T. Vernon, the negro who holds the office of Register of the Treasury, is to manage the campaign among the negroes.

The wheat raisers of the northwest are now proposing a little combination of their own. In the five great wheat producing states of the country the minimum price of the cereal this year will be $1 a bushel. This at least is the plan of the American Society of Equity, the grain growers' department of which will hold its annual convention in Omaha June 5, 6 and 7. Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas will send large delegations to the convention. Oklahoma, Iowa and other states are also to be represented.

The negro Tyler recently appointed to the office of auditor of the navy department, will be the highest salaried negro in the service of the government, receiving $4,000 a year, and will be of three of his race who hold important posts in Washington. The others are: W. T. Vernon, of Kansas, recently appointed register of the treasury, and John C. Dancey, register of deeds in the District of Columbia. Washington now has a population of nearly 300,000, of which one third are negroes. This negro's chief deputy will be a white man, and under him there will be more than 100 clerks, practically all white. Among them there are 40 white women, who draw salaries ranging from $900 to $1,800. Many of the clerks will ask for transfers, as much dissatisfaction is being shown. Some day there may be a serious race war right in Washington.

Dr. Oxner, Missionary in China, Dead.

A message has been received at Memphis, his former home, of the death of Dr. J. M. Oxner at Ping Tu, China. Dr. Oxner left about three years ago as a medical missionary to China. He has written back a number of interesting letters for publication in the Panhandle Missionary and the Memphis Herald.

A parcel can be mailed from this country to the British colony of Bermuda for three fourths the postage charged between any two post-offices in the United States, and the parcel to Bermuda may go as high as 11 pounds, while the domestic parcel is restricted to four pounds. And now it is the turn of the express companies to be investigated. When the facts are known it will be found that they are owned by the railroad managers who turn a part of the railroad earnings into their own pockets by giving favorable terms to the express companies. Commoner.

New Governor for New Mexico

Capt. George Curry, U. S. A., at present governor of the province of Samar, P. I., has been named governor of the territory of New Mexico, to succeed Gov. Hagerman, whose resignation was accepted by President Roosevelt Thursday, following an investigation into certain alleged irregularities involving contracts given in the territory in which Hagerman it was charged was interested.

Politicians in New Mexico, with headquarters at Santa Fe, had their representatives in Washington, it is said, working in the interest of Morgan Llewellyn, son of United States Attorney Llewellyn, for the appointment, but were disappointed.

Morgan Llewellyn was a Rough Rider and was with Roosevelt in Cuba, while his father, W. H. H. Llewellyn, has long enjoyed the entire confidence of the president.

Changes may be expected in the official family, it is said.

Unknown Laborer Killed.

An unknown light complected man, about 40 years old, of medium size, was struck by a projecting crane of the work train at Rowe Thursday morning and he was instantly killed. The body was brought here and an inquest held by Squire Barnett, but nothing was learned as to his name, residence or where he had worked last. He was buried at the expense of the county yesterday.

Young men of today who are looking for "soft jobs" or figuring how they may get something for nothing should ponder well these words of Horace Greeley: "The darkest hour in the history of any young man is when he sits down to study how to get money without honestly earning it."

Professor Brander Matthews once told about an undergraduate student of science who was asked, "What would happen if an irresistible force met an immovable body?" The youth hesitated a moment and then responded, "The result would be some very interesting byproducts."

Nearly everybody knows that if part of the roots of a tree are cut off, part of the branches will surely die, but it is not generally known that the opposite likewise holds good and that if a limb be lopped off a corresponding part of the root is sure to perish.—Chicago Tribune.

Quannah Parker's Pride Touched.

Because the board of education of the town of Cackle recently ejected his 7-year-old son from the public school there, Quannah Parker, chief of the Comanches, has issued a bond against any future visitations to his mountain mansion, three miles north of Cache, by any citizens of the town and any other white people from other places except upon special invitation of Chief Parker's mother, Cynthia Ann Parker, who was captured by the Comanches in Texas when a small girl, having been white. Parker felt that his son was entitled to attend the school and his pride was injured when the ejection came. A wire fence 15 feet high surrounds the Parker mansion and its gardens and gates are always kept securely locked against trespassers.

Colorado Chautauqua and Summer School.

The tenth annual session of above will open at Boulder July 4 and continue for six weeks. Special efforts have been made to make a platform program of the very best talent in America, and to engage a faculty for the summer school which will attract teachers and students both at home and abroad.

Around this has been grouped such well known talent as the Kellogg-Haines Singing party, Dunbar Male quartette, Senators Tilman and La Follette, the magician, Slayton's Jubilee singers, Youna, the Juggler, the Pierces, Dr. Frank M. Bristol, and a large number of others.

The summer school faculty includes names of such educators as President G. Stanley Hall, Helen Barrett Montgomery, Prof. Newton N. Riddell, Prof. Edwin Mims, and many others. The school opens July 8 and continues five weeks. A 44-page booklet, full details, is mailed free to all who request it.

Quarantine.
The Lombardians were the first people to use effectual quarantine methods against the plague and other infectious diseases, and mention of a quarantine is made in Lombardy and Milan in the years 1374, 1383 and 1390. Beckham's gin, about eight miles northwest of Sulphur Springs, burned early Sunday morning. Insurance $1,350, in the Phoenix of London. Cause of fire unknown.

An electric storm Tuesday, in Sulphur Springs, struck a barn belonging to Reily Smith and burned it. Barn and contents, consisting of feed stuff, totally destroyed. No insurance.

In the oil mill at Vernon Wednesday W. W. Porterfield lost an arm. His clothing caught in the shaft and the limb was torn from the body at the shoulder and all his clothing was stripped in pieces.

In Hill county Thursday Frank Jennings, while preparing to frighten a friend who was passing his father's residence near Brandon by discharging his pistol, accidentally shot himself with the gun, inflicting a very serious wound.

T. H. Wilson, a farmer residing near Peaster, in Parker county, lost his house and contents by fire last Monday. The family were all away from home when it burned. Loss is estimated at $1,300, amount of insurance carried $750.

Wednesday at Atlanta, by the accidental discharge of his pistol, Ralph H. Brown, a prominent expert accountant, was killed in his home. A Silver Spoon.
To hear the music of sweet bells take a solid silver tablespoon and the two cords of equal length to the handle. Hold the end of the cords to each ear, at the same time closing the ears with the fingers. Then by a motion of the body swing the spoon, letting it strike the back of the chair or like wooden object. You have no idea what sweet music you will hear. Try it and see.—New York Telegram.

Sealing Wax.
Sealing wax in the present form was first noted in London in the middle of the sixteenth century. A sort of earth was used by the ancient Egyptians in sealing papers and documents. The Egyptians placed such earth on the horns of cattle, and upon it was stamped the seal of the priest. Thus were identified the cattle to be used in the various sacrifices.—London Saturday Review.

Planting a Garden.
God Almighty first planted a garden. And, indeed, it is the purest of human pleasures. It is the greatest refreshment to the spirits of man, without which buildings and palaces are but gross handicrafts, and a man shall ever see that when ages grow to civility and elegance men come to build stately sooner than to garden finely, as if gardening were the greater perfection.—Lord Bacon.

Richard Wagner, the composer, had his tomb made in the garden of his house, so that at any moment he could visit it. He sometimes insisted on having his guests inspect this sepulcher, and at the dinner table he took singular delight in decanting on the subject of death.

Four Brave Men.
The other day in England a woman was drowned in a pond in the presence of four men. One of them after shouting, "Come out of the water!" ran to find a rope and could not find one. He didn't go into the water because he had influenza. Another did not offer assistance because he had been riding and was hot. He might have gone in, but one of the others dissuaded him.—Indianapolis News.

How Gluck Wood Music.
Gluck often and his servants carry his piano out to the lawn. His finest inspirations came to him when playing in the garden. Several bottles of champagne were placed conveniently near him. His theory was that bright sunshine was favorable to inspiration, and he always worked in it when possible. Gluck was fifty years old before he wrote an opera of any renown.—New York Times.

Five of the public school teachers and Dr. Burkhead of the college left yesterday for the teachers' meeting at Amarillo.

Mrs. Frank Letts has returned from her visit in Iowa and that gentleman's face has changed from a lengthy one to a broad smile.

Miss Lizzie Collier, of Estelline, who attended the Roswell convention, stopped over here Thursday and visited Mrs. Ernest Wright.

The special sermon to the old Confederate soldiers to be delivered by Dr. Burkhead Sunday, May 5, will be at the Methodist church. The old veterans will meet in Odd Fellows' hall at 10 a. m., and then march to the church at 11 and be seated together. Reserved seats also for the wives and widows of veterans. All old veterans from the country are especially invited and all having to stay over in town will be provided with homes by a committee consisting of B. T. Lane, A. J. Barnett and J. R. Bourland.

Rev. Wilson C. Rogers and wife, who spent Monday and Tuesday at Goodnight, report a pleasant time. The school held a social and served refreshments in celebration of "Library Day" for the college. The program was interesting, and everybody enjoyed themselves. Sixty volumes were added to the school library and $30 cash contributed to buy a new Encyclopedia. The work on the college building is now progressing rapidly. The flooring, ceiling and laths for plastering are going on fast; the windows and doors are going in and the painter is ready to begin painting. The new furniture has been received and stored away, awaiting the completion of the building. Arrangements are being perfected for the Baptist annual encampment and Bible conference to be held there from July 30 to Aug. 10.

Resolutions of Respect.

To Capt. R. S. Kimberlin, Commander Camp Sam Lanham, No. 1383, U. C. V.:
 We, your committee, appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of this Camp on the death of Comrade Wm. H. Cooke, beg leave to submit the following:

Whereas, It has pleased the Commander-in-Chief of the Universe to transfer our comrade, Dr. Wm. H. Cooke, from the ranks of this Camp to the Grand Army of the Redeemed on High; therefore, be it

Resolved, By Camp Sam Lanham, No. 1383, U. C. V., that in the transfer of our comrade, Dr. Wm. H. Cooke, the Camp has lost one of its most active, sympathetic and useful members; one who was ever ready to do everything in his power for his comrades, in trouble or sickness; who was at all times a faithful member and a congenial comrade. That in the death of our revered comrade the state has lost an honorable, upright citizen, the community a sympathetic, loving friend, his family a noble, kind and loving husband and father. Be it further

Resolved, That we extend to his bereaved wife and children our tenderest sympathy, and assure them that this Camp mingles its tears with theirs and mourns deeply with them in their sad affliction. Be it further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of our comrade, and a copy furnished each of our town papers for publication.

Very respectfully submitted,
 W. H. MARTIN,
 W. R. BOURLAND,
 Committee.

FROM THE MASONS.

Whereas, Our very dear good brother, Dr. Wm. H. Cooke, has fallen asleep, never more to greet us in this life; a little while delayed, later or sooner to one seat we hasten, we all fare thither, 'tis the last long home; and,

Whereas, Vertly, our days of grief are many, and we are heart sore continually for the death of one after another of our brethren, his was a ripe and mellow old age. He had not become decrepit or superannuated or declining towards the dotage of senility. Until his death he was quick and alert in action and movement, of intellect unimpaired, a hale, hearty, cheerful old man, serenely content and at peace with all the world and himself. One of those fortunate men whose sunny tempers gild the edges of life's blackest cloud, a venerable patriarch who kept the noiseless tenor of his way along the quiet paths of homely life; and,

Whereas, The promise that God gave Abraham, "Thou shalt go to thy Fathers in peace, thou shalt be buried in a good old age," has been fulfilled to our brother, Dr. Wm. H. Cooke; and,

Whereas, He completed his mission here and has been called home, leaving his memory fragrant with the odor of good deeds. For such men it is but a little way from earth to heaven; and,

Whereas, We pause as we write and our thoughts go back to, and are busy with the past, and with those who are of the past, and whom our Brother Cooke has gone to meet again; and,

Whereas, We seem to stand alone upon the shore of a great sea, beyond which far out of sight lies a land unknown to us. We see the white sails less and less distinctly of the ships which bear away from us to that other land those who we have known so long and loved so well. There are no sails coming back with messages of remembrance and love out of the remote regions of that sea, but we know that the laud of promise is there beyond the waters, and we believe that when we, in our turn, go across them we shall there see and know again the dead, whose memories are dear, and the token of their affections precious to us. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That this lodge, as a body, extend to the family of our deceased brother our heart-felt sympathy in their bereavement.

Resolved, further, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, a copy handed to the family of our deceased brother, and a copy furnished to each of the local papers for publication.

How They Treat the Pastor.

A rightly gotten pastor is a New Testament officer. The office is one of dignity and mighty responsibility. The man who fills it is God's man. He stands at the point of destiny to a great institution and to many immortal souls. He should feel coursing his veins both the call of God to the work of ministry and to the special place where he labors. His choice should have been a matter of earnest prayer and evidently directed by the Divine Spirit. Men are not pastors by chance if God has anything to do with their work. It's no child's play to be a pastor of one of Christ's flocks in the world's redemption. He is a God called and selected man, and he should act as such.

This man gets all kinds of treatment by the churches. Churches are known among preachers by the way they treat pastors. That is not their only distinguishing feature, but it is one of them.

When he is installed the church takes him up and keeps him up. Some don't. Some churches take their pastor into their hearts, homes, confidence and prayers. They woo him into glorious service; they take him up by talking him up favorably to their friends; they take him up by faith and prayer to God for his constant victory in his ministry. Here many a pastor wins or fails as he has or has not the prayers of his people. They make his reputation go abroad by good words about him. A pastor can easily tell what his members think of him by what their friends say about him. Some churches and some members of all churches, more or less, do the opposite to this. They criticize him and speak slightly of him in home and out. They talk him down and take him down. Thus they make it impossible for him to succeed in that place. Don't take your pastor down, but keep him up.

The pay question is an important one in the life of a church. It bears vitally on the usefulness and happiness of the pastor. His honesty is at stake in the salary question. His whole usefulness depends on his financial standing in a community. If he is not strict and prompt in his money obligations he is crippled everywhere. Many a time the churches are to be blamed for criticisms on preachers along this line.

Some churches pay their pastors good salaries, pay every cent regularly and promptly. Some promise little, pay slowly, and some never pay all they promise. Some feel that a pastor's salary is a matter of charity or a matter of indifference. They can pay it if they want or not, and it's all right. Pastor's salary is not at all a matter of charity. He renders more and better service for less than most any man in a community. Every church can promise a definite amount, can say when they will pay it, and then they can pay it all, if only they will. It is a sin for a church to be negligent about its debts. Many country churches are coming to a good conscience on this matter in this section. The town churches in many places do very well on this matter, yet many of them are slow. Some man in every church should make it his solemn duty to see to it that his pastor gets promptly what his church is due him. No pay and slow pay will give a pastor a desire to change fields or be disgruntled very quickly. Take up, keep up and pay up your pastor if you want him to do his best.

The testing time in a pastorate often is the leaving time. It tests the church and pastor. If the church wants him to go, bad feeling is often engendered by bad conduct one way or another. He nags them or they slight him. If they do not want him to go often the churches cripple themselves by waiting and waiting to call another pastor until things run down, and then if the other man does not do like their former pastor they are off and out with him. It ought to be under God's will that the pastoral relation is severed in any case. If it be so both pastor and church should act as they did in beginning the relation. God says to the pastors. "Take heed unto yourselves and all the flock." This means we should take heed in our going as well as in our staying. Long pastorates where preacher and people fit and God blesses are best. The churches need to encourage long pastorates, and the preachers should do their part in making them possible. But long or short the churches and pastors should look carefully into this going question. Much in the kingdom depends on our terminal facilities. Pastors ought not to drag with churches nor ought churches to let preachers drag. If your work is done, go whether there is another place offered you or not. It is better for you to suffer than to cause the church to suffer. Pastors ought not to stay until a division is caused unless great principles are at stake. Go if you ought to go, but look out after the matter of your going. Remember that the world will know of your weaknesses in your going. The churches should look out after this going business also. The preachers will tell on you and your next pastor will know of your weaknesses. God is looking on, too, and that's weighty. There should be a holy co-operation of churches and preachers to make long pastorates the rule instead of the exception. Anyhow, see that God leads you at both ends of your pastorate.

Get you a good pastor and keep him. Your duty do in prayer, right living, in worship, in service, in paying and giving to God's cause will help greatly to keep him. Get you a good church, pastor, lead it, make it missionary, evangelistic, sound in faith, spiritual, and stay with it as long as God puts it in your soul to stay. Let the churches remember that their pastors are the only members in the churches who themselves have no pastors. So you pastor them. Treat them the best. Mainly they need and deserve it. They will do better by it.—L. R. Scarborough, in The Western Evangel, Abilene, Tex.
