MEMORY LANE

(10 years ago in Donley county.)

A. M. Beville, 68, resident of Clarendon 37 years, passed away at the family home here Monday after being ill some three years. He established the first insurance agency here which he conducted until his death. He was one of the first board of stewards of the first Methodist church of which Rev. Sam J. Barcus was the first pastor, and who officiated at the burial service at 3 p. m. Wednesday.

The Camp Fire girls are putting on a drive to build a mess hall. Mrs. S. J. Erskine of Malone, sister of Mrs. B. F. Kirtley here, was instantly killed at the first Denver crossing just west of Memphis early Monday thirty minutes after they had called the Kirtley home here informing them of their coming. The husband and parents of the deceased were slightly injured when the car turned over.

The Goldston baseball players won the $50 prize in the all-county ball contest here the Fourth. Showers Wednesday failed to cover Donley's drought area, but did cool the atmosphere somewhat.

People from all over the Panhandle attended the 2-day celebration July 3-4, bringing the attendance up to an estimated five thousand.

The Legion Post purchased 18 rifles from the government at $3.50 each which they state will be used at funerals and in drill practice.

Off to Even Start

A fair start for every entrant in the 1941 All-American Soap Box Derby, at Derby Downs in Pampa on Thursday and Friday night, July 17 and 18, is assured by the automatic starting device, that drops each contestant from the ramp at the same time. As the starter's flag falls, and the timer's watch starts ticking off the seconds, the ramp falls and the speedy little cars are off to an even start.

GRAFT CHARGES HURLED BY LEGISLATURE

Hints that graft, immorality, and lavish living were present in the state's eleemosynary institutions were made in a recent report of a House of Representatives committee investigating those institutions. At one institution the committee reported, a woman employee charged that "there is an undue amount of graft, etc., on the part of "one of the male employees. The committee did not elaborate in its report to the House on what "etc." included.

At another institution it was charged that the inmates used one of the buildings at night for "immoral conduct." This was partly due to the fact, the committee implied, that "the majority of matrons (who look like they are over sixty-five years of age) no longer care what takes place."

The committee found fault with one of the institutions because "the meat vault had a strong meaty smell to it. Everything was clean except the appearance."

One of the main things that worried the committee was the lack of respect it commanded from the heads of the institutions. "Indignant"

One superintendent "seemed rather indignant regarding the committee's visit;" another was "polite enough, but not overly polite;" but the climax was a lavish dinner that left the committee cold: "Do not ask your committee to put in writing or do not ask your committee to dictate to the lady what they think of this situation."

At one institution the committee ran against a pressing social problem. The superintendent wanted a passenger car for his own use and a station wagon for everybody else to use. "He seemed to think it would be unbecoming for him to use such station wagon. However, the committee feels that station wagons are becoming quite popular."

"The hardest blow of all was the fact that there was no Indian life on the state's Indian reservation. "The committee suggests that some program should be worked out whereby there will be some type of Indian life or evidence of Indian life at the Indian village."

One of the hospitals asked for a replastering and fireproofing job to be done on one of the buildings. The replastering was all right, the committee said, but it saw no use for fireproofing the building, "inasmuch as this building is occupied mostly by paid employes of the State."

An ominous note crept in: a superintendent was stingy with his information, and the committee report wondered "if that is not due to the fact that his days are numbered and he did not desire to give any more information than he deemed necessary."

One of the hospitals reminded the committee of an Austin hotel or "some old banquet hall." In another asylum for the insane the committee found the patients to be "very noisy and demented."

"Somebody had "two chicken roosters" for which the state paid $20 each for them;" another had a stallion he claimed was his own; and at one institution the head man over the livestock had "made the mules pay their way and put money in the bank..." -State Observer.

ANCIENT COIN OWNED BY LOCAL MAN

A large sized one cent piece dated 1848 is owned by A. Pittman who found it near the Fitzgerald gin in 1927. The front side bears the usual head, but the back side has been planed off and a moon and crescent design worked into the metal.

Mr. Pittman stated that a jeweler informed him that the coin was gold, and the lone stone remaining in the back was a $50 diamond. He was informed by another party that the coin represented a treaty date between the Nation and Oklahoma Indians, in that the treaty should not be violated so long as the "moon and stars continued to shine."

Adair To Head Centennial Of 1945

Just what sort of a celebration do Texans want in 1945-46 when the State will commemorate its centenary of statehood? That is a question which the Senate and the House of Representatives would like to have answered by the people.

Initial steps leading to a decision on this important subject were taken in April when the Legislature, by a resolution adopted unanimously, named A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits at the Texas Memorial Museum at Austin, as Commissioner of Centennial of Statehood. His duties, according to the resolution, are to appoint associate commissioners; to sound out public opinion; to cooperate with fairs and festivals, patriotic organizations, historic societies, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, educational institutions, the press, radio, religious bodies, labor, industry, and agriculture; and to formulate plans, coordinate programs, and invite proposals for the consideration of the Commission by which their suggestions may be incorporated into a report to the Texas delegation in the Congress of the United States and to the 48th session of the Texas Legislature in 1943.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH

By the Apostle

CONTEST OF LIARS.

If you have been keeping up with the Russo-German war reports, you have likely come to the conclusion that two of the biggest liars on the globe have a real contest going on. They appear to be telling everything except the truth. As a matter of fact, don't you really think the rest of the people are lucky that these two nations are fighting? May they continue until only two are left—Hitler and Stalin. Then each kill the other.

ALUMINUM WANTED.

Each county judge is expected to head the drive in his county to induce the folks to bring in all the aluminum possible with which to make planes. It is barely possible that our nation is scarce on this metal, but since it is a poison, and many are poisoned by eating food cooked in aluminum ware, why not donate it. Purge people of poison pans, as it were.

PLANT MORE BEANS.

A fine old farmer friend suggests that food will be needed down the line. He suggests that more and more beans be grown this year. He says there is yet plenty of time to grow them, and that they will be a good price. We got caught short of food in the other war. Why not play safe this time, he says. He is a hundred percent right.

HILARITY.

During the celebration, dances were in full swing at the City Park, the opera house, and the largest crowd of all on the main street. The younger folks danced while old folks talked over old days when pioneering was not such a swell affair. Very few people over 73 danced. That fellow was "Bally" Bingham from Spurr. Some are only as old as they feel. Then there is Buster Culwell, and he modestly took his place in the class "above 40." And what a time those "above 40" had! Every one stayed in a good frame of mind. There was plenty of "homey" courtesy and the folks left in a good humor.

MISSING.

And if the Hon. Ernest Kent doesn't bring his dance report around, there won't be much said about it. All the other departmental managers have reported.

POURING IT IN.

Tractors have been going 24 hours a day for the past few days in taking advantage of the planting period between showers. More than ten thousand acres of feed stuff, and several hundred acres of cotton, are said to have been planted since Monday morning.

VOTED BONDS DOWN.

You are lucky to live in a county that voted down that last highway bond issue. Counties like Floyd, Briscoe and several other West Texas counties that voted bonds and got busy with their road building, are now to pay the bill. The law was not extended. That means much higher taxes, too, at a time when taxes will be plenty high otherwise. The gas tax should build the highways. The federal funds will be used to construct military highways.

BEST RODEO YET.

The fellows who got that rodeo over here the 3-4th are credited with using expert judgment. They did a fine job. Not a single complaint. All the folks say it was a grand affair. And those ladies who put over the sponsor girls are due a whole lot of credit, too.

SPEEDING.

Thirty days hath April, June and September, and a lot of fellows should have the same for speeding. Three were picked up on that charge here the 4th.

ECONOMY.

Men used to buy two-pant suits because the pants wore our first. Now they buy that kind so the wife can wear one pair.

CANNING FRUIT.

The ladies spoke of canning fruit a lot around the picnic grounds. Look in the classified column of this issue of your Donley County Leader, then go to that advertiser and get your fruit. No delay. Fair price. Fruit comes in mighty handy when cold weather comes. Splitting a hot biscuit and half-soling it with good old yellow Jersey butter and a layer of fruit is a happy event on a cold morning with snow on the ground. You don't even have to wait for snow. It's good any old time.

5,047 NEW NAMES ON PENSION ROLLS

One bill would allow state-supported colleges to use five dollars per student fees for the purpose of constructing buildings, and the other bill provided that independent school districts could issue bonds to finance gymnasium construction.

ARCHAEOLOGY HIT BY DEFENSE

The national program and the need for money in the interest of national defense, has caused the statewide University of Texas-WPA archaeological program to close, Dr. J. Gilbert McAllister, University anthropology head and program director, has announced.

A total of 476 sites have been excavated, resulting in the recovery of 166,789 specimens of flint artifacts, 500,000 specimens of pottery. Field crews took 4,078 photographs and produced 14,760 pages of field notes. In the laboratories, 161,276 specimens have been catalogued, including 947 skeletal specimens. A number of publications will be forthcoming, McAllister said.

Residents of the Panhandle will have an opportunity to get their minds off the more serious things of life on the nights of July 17 and 18th when the third annual All-American Soap Box Derby is staged at Pampa under sponsorship of the Pampa Lions Club and The Pampa News.

The derby this year has upward of 75 entrants and the derby sponsors promise some real thrills at illuminated Derby Downs, three miles north of Pampa on the old Miami highway.

The natural amphitheater at the Downs provides oceans of parking space where the races can be watched from cars or from the grandstand seats.

Each year this great amateur racing event for boys draws more thousands of people to Derby Downs and it is believed that all attendance records will be broken on the nights of July 17 and 18.

Oak Creek Canyon

No artist has yet done justice with either brush or pen to the gorgeous beauty and quiet sublimity of Oak Creek Canyon nor has there yet risen a silver tongue to tell the true story of this drive. Oak Creek Canyon is traversed in its entirety by State Highway 79 connecting with U. S. 66 at Flagstaff and U. S. 89 at Prescott. From the rim of the canyon four separate views of the highway may be encountered as it winds its way through a veritable island of pines to the bed of Oak Creek. One writer has said: "Oak Creek Canyon possesses more spiritual vitamin, more of wealth and food for thought, rest, recreation and inspiration as nature built, without being polished by human hands than any other drive of twice its length." Every sign seems to be pointing to the Supreme Architect or the Divine Artist.

BOOST FOR NO LENGTH LIMIT

Texans who have long been advocating the lifting of the length limit on all species of fish can find encouragement in the recent report of the Virginia Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. After a three season's trial the Commission has found its ruling abolishing a length limit on trout and providing a daily bag limit regardless of the length of the fish has met with the universal approval of anglers in that state.

When a length limit was in vogue, it was a common occurrence to observe dead undersized trout floating down the streams, these having been killed when caught and returned to the streams. It is believed by the Commission that a saving of at least 50 per cent has been accomplished.

The Commission met considerable opposition when it inaugurated the rule. However, it was given a fair trial and today no opposition is registered and many anglers are urging the Commission to let a non-length limit apply to all species of fish. They believe, as do biologists of the Texas Game Department, that there is greater waste of fish than is generally thought in returning under-sized fish to the water.

Several states have recently adopted the no length rule.

Mrs. D. P. Ross of Amarillo, former resident of many years, spent the Fourth here and appeared to be enjoying her stay immensely.

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

"When the hours are so still that time forgets them and lets them lie
Neath petals pink till night stars wink
At the sunset in the sky—
It is July."
Susan Swett.

The roads leading out of our town in all directions have much to offer. The drive that meander about our schools present hills of gold and white, for the mere looking. One of the most attractive yards is the Gentry's daisies and vari-colored phlox seem doubly bright against the green of the luxuriant shrubbery. The home of the Parsons' certainly show the care of real flower lovers; all the tints and colors of the rainbow are there.

The lawn of the City Hall is very restful with its velvety grass and lovely canna bed. The Wadsworth's and Huffman's are other gardeners who are carrying the standard for prettier yards.

The L. L. Taylor's lawn has very colorful flower beds and numerous shrubs and trees. The Dawkins' yard not only boast a cape jasmine shrub, but it is in bloom. At the Douglas' a vitex with its long spikes of lavender bloom is making a marvelous garden display.

CONFORMITY BILL FINALLY PASSED

By a vote of 119 to 7, enough to put it effective immediately on being signed by the Governor, the House last week concurred in Senate amendments to a bill making state social security law conform with federal regulations. The bill was written to conform with new federal regulations going into effect July 1.

The Senate had amended the bill slightly; a provision was added that the merit council which will control the merit system for selecting welfare department employees be confirmed by the Senate, and a minor technicality concerning child support of old age pensioners was added.

The bill provides that resources of the child cannot be considered resources of the old age pension applicant.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

Dr. James Long Goes To Texas

The Spanish-American treaty of February, 1819, which set the Sabine River as the border between the United States and Mexico, was expected to prevent further Anglo-American invasions of Texas such as Magee's in 1812; yet, ironically, records in the University of Texas Library's Texas Collection show, the treaty directly caused the last and possibly the most famous of them all—that of Dr. James Long of Tennessee.

The United States relinquished its sixteen-year-old claim to Texas, arising out of the Louisiana Purchase, in order to get Florida from Spain. But the abandonment of Texas brought forth a storm of protest. In Natchez, Miss., a public meeting raised a company of volunteers, with Dr. Long, formerly of the U. S. Army, at its head, which was to set out to take Texas back from Mexico. The expedition is perhaps as well-remembered as it is because no one can say just why it turned out as it did.

When Long's company, grown from seventy-five to 300 men, reached Nacogdoches, they set up a provisional government in the control of a supreme council, which immediately declared Texas a free and independent republic and proceeded to organize it as one. It passed land laws, set up a printing shop, and established trading posts throughout the nearby territory.

No Help From Lafitte
Now it was Long's plan to enlist the aid of the notorious Jean Lafitte, who at the time was raiding Spanish shipping from headquarters on Galveston Island; so he sent a representative to wheedle the pirate chieftain into the service of the new republic. But Lafitte, already having seen several such filibustering campaigns sputter out, politely declined to be wheedled. Then Long, determined to have his help, set out for Galveston himself. He not only failed in his turn, however, but almost at the same time got word that Spanish royalist troops were at last marching on his outposts at the Brazos River.

One by one the scattered trading posts and settlements fell before the advance of the government troops, until all but one, a village on the Trinity held by seventy-five republicans, had been smashed. Rather than attack it first, the Spaniards turned on Nacogdoches, and Long reached the town just in time to evacuate his men safely across the Sabine into Louisiana.

While one part of the royalist army lingered about Nacogdoches to watch for more trouble from Long himself, the other now turned to the garrison on the Trinity. There was a long and hard fight just outside the village, but eventually the defenders, who were vastly outnumbered, were routed. Some of the survivors crossed the river to Bolivar Point and secured themselves there in a fortress, where Long finally joined them.

The Goliad Mystery
As the Spanish army soon left the territory, thinking the republicans effectively dispersed, Long took advantage of the lull to go to New Orleans for recruits and supplies. It was late in 1820 when he returned to Texas; and he landed on Galveston Island on the same day that Lafitte left it at the request of the U. S. government. So he and his recruits—James Bowie among them—took over Lafitte's old stamping ground, where they eventually gathered together all the scattered forces of the Texas republic.

This time Long set off on a new tack. He loaded his men into transports and sailed down the coast to the mouth of the San Antonio River. From there they advanced on and took Goliad without difficulty.

Meanwhile the Republic of Mexico had been successfully established in the interior; and now, for some reason still not known, Mexican troops fell on Goliad, breaking up the volunteer force once and for all and taking Long and a few followers prisoner. After a short time in a Mexico City jail, Long was released—but only to be shot down in the street by a soldier—again, for an unknown reason; and the last invasion of Texas was suddenly and definitely a thing of the past.

no longer be used for servicing county bond debts, an obligation which would have to be assumed by the counties probably at the cost of increased local taxes for sinking fund purposes. Neither would there be any surplus.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Couch of Electra visited relatives here and enjoyed the events 3-4th.

Mrs. Lena Antrobus left Tuesday for Oklahoma City for a week's visit with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tren Stargel and family.

Legislature To Let Road Bond Issue Die

A few months ago, Donley county, along with a number of other counties, was given the opportunity to "vote road bonds and get a highway for nothing." The promise was based on a law in effect that would temporarily help pay such indebtedness. The law will expire August 1st. Lawmakers refused to continue the law. Donley county was asked to bond herself for over a half million dollars at the time the drive was on.

Financed From Tax
The road bond fund is financed from one cent of the four-cent state gasoline tax. The money is used first to pay debt service on bonds for county built roads that became a part of the state highway system up to Jan. 2, 1939. The remaining revenue, after deduction of $3,000,000 for a revolving fund, is allotted to counties on a formula basis.
After Aug. 31 the money could

Changes In 1942 Range Program

COLLEGE STATION, July 10. —Except for additional grazing practices and more local adaptation of practices designed to eradicate undesirable plants, recommendations drafted by delegates to the national AAA range conference and tour indicate no major changes in the 1942 Range Conservation Program of the AAA.

That's the word Howard T. Kingsby, state AAA committeeman and ranchman from Santa Anna, brought back from the conference which was held in Idaho, June 23-27. The conference last year was held in West Texas.

Recommendations of the conference included proposals for many detailed changes, a number of which are aimed at giving assistance to small ranchmen and farmers, Kingsby said. Two important changes recommended were the revision of the present

FURNITURE DEALER SAYS PRICES TO ADVANCE

According to a telegram received from J. Frank Heath, who with his family, are attending the summer furniture market in Chicago, prices are advancing on furniture almost daily.

J. Marvin Warren, manager of the local store, informed the Leader reporter that stock bought before the rise in price would be sold accordingly until the present supply is exhausted.

W. P. Cagle III of San Pedro, California is taking vacation here with his aunts, Mrs. Van Kennedy and Mrs. John M. Bass and families.

deferred grazing practice to include limited and rotational grazing on the basis of range management plans approved by the county AAA committee and the broadening of eradication practices for undesirable plants to make possible more local adaptation of such measures.

LITTLE BRASS BOX RECALLS HALCYON DAYS OF YOUTH

A small, round brass box was brought to the Leader office by Sam Darden Tuesday. He found it many years ago in an abandoned dugout on the south end of the Matador ranch where he was working at the time. The box contains caps used on the old-time muzzle loading shotgun.

Many a man will recall as a youth he slipped out "Ole Betsy" and went on a hunt. The gun was a bit heavy and he had to rest it on something while he sighted the game and pulled the trigger. He will recall that he put in a small measure of powder for a short distance shot. He took the ramrod from the holders on the under side of the gun and rammed down a bit of newspaper, perhaps, on top of the powder. It had to be tamped tightly. Next, if he wanted to shoot small game, he put in a small amount of No. 8 shot, then tamped in a bit more of newspaper. He will further recall that if he got too much shot for the amount of powder, the gun kicked something awful.

When the geese flew over going south in the fall, the lad knew that he had to use quite a bit of powder, and more shot than usual and double 00 size at that. He had great expectations as he rammed down wadding on powder and then on the shot while eyeing the game overhead. But when he leveled Ole Betsy over a wire fence or a bush, or perhaps a post, and pulled the trigger on a dead bee-line on a goose, it was a difficult matter to determine who got the worst end of the deal. Old Betsy had a habit, under a heavy load, of stomping the lad behind the gun. His chin generally came up minus any skid, coupled with a sore shoulder.

Often the lad trudged home with a goose. The sight of the game dispated any thought, on the part of Pa that his son might shoot a mule while out playing with the "family weapon," and the whole family joined in joyous acclaim relative to the merits of the marksmanship of the "pride of the family" so long as the goose meat held out. "Them wuz the days!"

The box of caps will be loaned the Museum to be placed along side some of the "Ole Betsies" of Indian days. That's where they belong.

College Grads Aid Defense

NEW ORLEANS — Over 600 college graduates from throughout the Eighth Naval District have applied for enlistment in Class V-7 of the Naval Reserve and future duties as commissioned officers in the Reserve, Captain T. A. Thomson, Jr., Acting Commandant of the District, said today.

Of this number that have volunteered their services since the summer closing of colleges and universities, 198 already have been enlisted and a remaining 428 are anxiously awaiting action on their applications which are now being reviewed by Naval Reserve recruiting officers in the District.

"This is a fine response by the young men of the country to their country's call for defenders," Captain Thomson said, "and it shows they value and cherish the ideals for which their country stands and that they are ready to see that those ideals continue in use."

Other college graduates who desire to enlist in Class V-7 are urged to make application at their nearest Navy Recruiting Station in order that they may be considered for enlistment in time to enter the next training schools for this class in September. Upon successful completion of the four-months' course of training, commissions as Ensigns in the Naval Reserve will be the reward.

Aluminum Will Be Collected For Defense

An appeal to rural people to contribute aluminum, in a drive announced recently by the Office of Civilian Defense, has been made by Director H. H. Williamson of the Texas Extension Service. Governor W. Lee O'Daniel has called upon county judges to assume leadership of the campaign.

County Extension agents have been asked to assist with this work as it relates to rural areas. Gathering of aluminum is to begin during the week of July 21, and according to the plan, local committee of 4-H Club members, home demonstration clubs, land use planning committees and other groups will call on farm homes in the community to collect the aluminum scrap.

Anything which is made of aluminum will do. Among the items suggested for donation are pots and pans, radio parts, toys, shakers, screening, old washing machine parts, picture frames, book ends, ice trays, measuring cups, camera equipment, kettles and double boilers, bottle and jar caps, refrigerator plates and electric appliances of all sorts.

Earlier the Office of Production Management had asked the citizens to defer collecting scrap aluminum until the week of July 14th and warned against "sharpshooters" posing as legitimate government purchasers buying up scrap. It is estimated that the campaign to collect secondary aluminum will result in obtaining 20 million pounds throughout the nation. This would result in the release of 20 million pounds of first-class metal for use in 2,000 fighter plants.

The metal collected will be sold to smelters at a special uniform price fixed by the government. Entire net proceeds will be available to the Office of Civilian Defense for expenditures required in the proper defense of the civilian population.
