

SWEET 'N' SOUR

By A. Dill

October is sliding by with her Bermuda shorts days and flannel shirts nights, and in one more week she'll be escorted out by her traditional retinue of goblins and gremlins. At our house, the trick or treat brigade is something special, and we love every lop-eared cat, bedraggled old witch and screeching ghost that raps on our door. A lighted Jack-o-lantern in a window is the time-honored signal to the prowling spooks that they'll find a welcome at that house, so light up your pumpkin lamps and have and enjoy your eerie visitors.

By far, the biggest news item to come out of the Baird community was released this week. Supt. L. B. Howard when he announced that Baird High School is now classed as an A school. Mr. Howard, his teachers, and administrative board are proud of this growth of the school, and since it is a healthy growth, it is very likely to continue steady and remain. What it means to your children will be more teachers, a better distribution of class loads, and (very likely) increased curriculum with more courses of study to choose from. In the field of athletics, it will place us in a higher bracket of competition, but you've already seen what Townsend's Bears can do with Class A schools and you have little to be concerned about there. We offer congratulations to Mr. Howard, the teachers, and executive board for the wise guidance they have given our school and wish for continued growth and prosperity of our school, which is so much the heart of our community.

Next week is Halloween Coronation time in the schools here. Candidates for school king and queen have been selected; attendants have been chosen and the stage is set for one of the most colorful pageants of the year -- be on hand next week to cheer for the winners, and, of course, the Senior class will just love you for your patronage since they are the sponsors.

Kittens anyone? The Lynn Aults have five perfectly beautiful Persian kittens -- two are white, two are blue and they are all cute as only a furry ball of a kitten can be. If you are looking for a pet, this offer should be ideal.

Yard of the month for October was awarded to Mrs. Sadie M. Bowdry. It is a lovely yard, well kept, and quite deserving of the honor. Mrs. Bowdry takes great pleasure in her lawn and gardens and she has seasonal blooms there all year long, some unusual ones too, so drive by and see this lady's handiwork.

This column is giving its own award to Mrs. Smedley of Spruce Street, for a culinary work par excellence -- a dish that rises above the ordinary and goes into the gourmet class of delicacies. Mrs. Smedley can make pomegranate jelly. The finished product is a clear winey red color and with the most exquisite taste we've ever encountered. All the time we thought pomegranates' only claim was beauty and now this artistic lady comes up with a jelly that excels all the rest. We call that a real achievement.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hamrick made a pleasant week end trip to Ft. Worth to visit friends and relatives there. They were accompanied by Mrs. Hamrick's mother.

Other week end trippers include Bill, Beulah and Patsy Work, who visited Virginia and Scot Russell and children in Hereford; also the John Work family in Amarillo.

Ben and Loulamea Russell went visiting this week -- out to see Dr. and Mrs. Ben L. Russell Jr., and son Rand in Clovis, N. M.

Wednesday was happy surprise time for Supt. and Mrs. L. B. Howard when the school faculty went trooping into their new home on Ross Drive for a house-warming. The Howards were taken completely unawares which made the informal party

Baird Cubs Win Third Straight

Coach Winfred Talley's crew, still on the comeback trail, scored the only TD of the game at Lueders Tuesday night, to win 6-0.

Neither team could change a digit on the scoreboard in the first half of play. The Cubs kept the ball in Lueders end of the field, but seemed unable to make that big step to the end zone.

Two big runs were called back in the first half; one a 70-yard TD by Steve Stanley was nullified for clipping; another an interception by Wayne Alexander, carried the Cubs to the Lueders 15 only to be called back for a holding penalty.

The winning touchdown was an 80-yard thriller by Steve Stanley, who took a handoff from Wayne Alexander and went right up the middle. The extra point try was unsuccessful.

The teams were pretty evenly matched, with each team punting only one time. Lueders defense was led by Dillard, Davis and Chambers. Offense strength was Hernandez and Holders.

Mention for yeoman service for the Cubs were: Stanley Alexander, Snyder, Windham Sutphen and Griggs.

Beatrice Deal Seeks County Office

TO THE VOTERS OF CALLAHAN COUNTY:

I wish to take this opportunity to humbly announce my candidacy for the office of County Clerk of Callahan County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries. After long and serious consideration, it is my decision to ask for this honor from you.

To those who are not personally acquainted with me, I was born in Baird and have spent most of my life here. I graduated from Baird High School in 1929, and completed a business course in a Business College in Abilene. I am a member of the Methodist Church. I have an eleven-year old daughter and since the death of my husband, we have resided with my Mother in Baird.

For the past 5 1/2 years, I have been a Deputy with the Callahan County Sheriff's Department and prior to that time, I was a Deputy Tax Assessor-Collector for Callahan County for two years. During World War II, I was a Civil Service employee for four years at Tye Air Base Abilene.

It is my intention to contact each and every voter of the county personally between this time and the Primary election. However, due to my duties in the Sheriff's office, I will be unable to campaign as often as I would like to do.

I earnestly ask that you consider my qualifications and hope you will then give me your support in the Democratic Primary in May.

Thank you,
Mrs. Beatrice Green Deal

Community Drive Near Completion

The first annual drive of the Clyde Community Fund appears to be an outstanding success, so far.

The goal, based on last year's needs, was approximately $1,825. This is to be used on a proportionate basis for Boy Scouts, Cancer, Polio, West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Heart and Salvation Army.

According to the Community Fund Treasurer, Gerry Bowman, a total received, up to October 13, was $1,978, which gives promise of attaining the full amount needed.

The Drive began Sept. 29th, with six groups serving as volunteer solicitors. Some fifty or sixty women from the various clubs and organizations made an intensive canvass of the town and outlying areas. The Garden Club and Thursday Club were assigned everything north of the railroad. The Clyde Study Club, The Helping Hand and Enterprise Clubs, as well as the Girl Scout leaders, were assigned everything south of the railroad.

If you still haven't been contacted, see any of the above members, or take it to Mr. Bowman at The Peoples State Bank. Your help is needed to make this drive a success.

A complete report will be made at the completion of the drive.

Mrs. R. A. Webster attended the State Fair in Dallas last week end. She was accompanied by Mrs. W. T. Sadler of Merkel and Mrs. W. T. Ramsey of Abilene.

Oplin Observations

By Daphne Floyd

The quilting party at the community center was in progress last Thursday. Virginia Mae Nobles was one of the honorees, having a lovely, large Friendship quilt in the frames. I said large Friendship quilt, for it took a large quilt to get in the names of all of Virginia Mae's friends. Then Mrs. Amelia Poindexter of Novice showed up with a quilt piece of the finest of blocks, called the Ocean Wave. With two large quilts in the frames, the ladies were quilting close to sundown, but after sharing the kind of luncheon they had at noon, they were capable of putting in long hours.

Mrs. Amelia Poindexter of Novice visited last week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Stella Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Betcher received word last Friday that her youngest brother, Ray McKinley of Pietown, N. M., had passed away suddenly. Mr. and Mrs. McKinley attended the funeral.

Lee Straley and Freida went to Lubbock last Thursday to visit Freida's uncle, John Atwood, who is seriously ill.

The best news of the week was to hear that Sam Windham stood his heart surgery last Tuesday with flying colors. He wasn't doing as well the last of the week as had been hoped for. He was a little more restless than he was the first few days.

There will be a guest speaker at the Baptist Church Sunday at the 11 o'clock hour from TANE, Texas Alcoholic and Narcotic Education organization. Everyone is invited to attend.

FAMILY GUIDE

Why not write out a personal record for those who must settle your estate after you are gone? This, over and above your will. One man sat down in front of a microphone and made a tape for the advice of his family.

Well, however you do it, list the names, addresses, birth dates of yourself, your wife or husband, your children, father and mother.

Tell them the names of your trusted friends who can advise them.

Write in clear detail where to find:

Your will, your executor's name and the banker who knows your business affairs;

Your certificate of birth, marriage, veterans' discharge and such papers;

Your deposit box and its key;

The amount and beneficiary of each of your insurance policies, your insurance agents and their addresses;

Details about your mortgage, papers, notes, contracts, financial agreements, plus any stock, bonds, and the like, and your broker's name and address;

Facts on your Social Security -- your card number, its location, and your employer's name and address;

Your tax records;

Your debtors, creditors, and what is owed;

Your lawyer's name, address, telephone, and papers in his safe-keeping;

The name and address of any one who has your power of attorney;

Your pension arrangements;

The names of organizations to which you belong and any benefits which may be coming to your family from them;

Funeral arrangements you prefer;

Names and addresses of relatives or friends you wish notified;

Facts about your children's health record, facts they might find hard to get without your help;

A list of your personal belongings;

Include other facts that seem important.

Then, having completed this guide for your family, put it in a safe place -- but not your safe deposit box. Tell your family or closest friend where to find the list.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gray, of Snyder, owner of Gray's Style Shop here and in Snyder, have been in Dallas the past week. Mr. Gray underwent eye surgery at Medical Arts Hospital Tuesday of last week, and is reported recovering nicely.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cash over the week end were their daughter, Mrs. W. B. David and daughters, Vicki and Lisa of Ft. Worth.

Friends of Mrs. Esther M. Greene, former Baird resident, will be pleased to hear that, in a letter to the Baird Star, she states that "I am very well, but cannot see, hear or speak very distinctly, but get around well, after having suffered a paralytic stroke two years ago. Holiday Hill is a very good and pleasant place to be." Mrs. Greene is in the Holiday Hill Rest Home in Coleman. She has the Star sent to her regularly there, so as to keep in touch with home and friends.

Get Acquainted With Your Newspaper . . .
 By BILL COLLYNS
 Midland Reporter-Telegram

"We must be informed . . . It is essential for us to know . . . The people have a right to know." These were comments stressed by United States Senator John Tower of Texas in addressing the 1961 convention of the West Texas Press Association in San Angelo.

"Indeed the whole success of democracy is predicated on an informed electorate," the senator added.

There is nothing particularly new in Senator Tower's declarations. The significant thing is they are just as important and just as essential today as they ever were. In fact, they may be even more noteworthy in today's fast-moving, ever-changing age of missiles and moon rockets, and in the face of stepped-up communications around the world.

Our very survival as a nation, if you please, rest with our right to know . . . and our desire to know and to be informed . . . and then upon our willingness to stand firmly and fearlessly for those principles upon which our great and free nation is founded.

All of this, of course, places a tremendous responsibility upon the press -- the newspapers, both large and small, both daily and weekly, of the United States of America.

We mention these things in opening this talk, because, in the first place, they are pertinent comments of direct interest to you and to me and to the safeguarding of the rights and freedoms we hold dear.

Secondly, this is National Newspaper Week, and frankly, we do not know a better way of approaching the assigned subject than by citing major responsibilities resting upon the shoulders of your American newspaper.

Newspapers publicize all kinds of special observances, from National Go-Fly-A-Kite Week to National Allergy Month -- yet they are modest to a degree of shyness when it comes to promoting themselves, even during National Newspaper Week.

This is an excellent time for newspapers in Texas and across the nation to interest citizens generally in becoming better acquainted with their newspaper, which is a leading force in the community, and which wants always to be a good neighbor, dedicated to community service.

"Get Acquainted With Your Friendly Newspaper" might be a fitting slogan for this particular observance.

National Newspaper Week affords a marvelous opportunity to visit your newspaper and meet and visit with its personnel. You are invited to do that very thing, too.

When you visit your newspaper plant, you likely will be amazed at what you see -- all the expensive equipment, the effort, the industry, the skill required and involved in the publishing of your newspaper, which reaches you daily or weekly -- and which most of us take for granted.

That is, we take it for granted until delivery is late or, on very infrequent occasion, missed altogether. It is then that a newspaper really learns just what it means to its readers, and how!

This is one of the satisfactions busy newspaper people get out of their day-in and day-out assignment. Yes, readers do miss their newspapers and they speak out in tones loud and clear -- when their newspaper isn't delivered in its regular place and at the usual time.

It is difficult to explain just what a newspaper is in all its varied aspects -- why it means so much -- what it represents -- the things for which it stands . . . yet, without newspapers, without freedom of the press, as it were, our communities, our states and our nation would not be what they are today. That is not bragging or boasting. That merely is intended to place the burden of responsibility on the newspaper profession and the loyal, dedicated men and women engaged in it. And that includes the Newspaper Boys who distribute the finished product.

Newspapers, of course, mean various things to various people. But uppermost perhaps in the overall evaluation is the newspaper's role as the principal guardian of our cherished freedoms.

We Americans are inclined also to take Freedom of the Press for granted, forgetting that that very freedom which is such a vital force among all our freedoms, didn't just happen. It was earned at tremendous sacrifice in this nation.

Our forefathers recognized the necessity of press freedom in a representative form of government, and this freedom is guaranteed, along with others, in the First Amendment to the great Constitution of the United States of America.

That guarantee of freedom was adopted in 1791, but Freedom of the Press actually was recognized in 1735 in New York by the acquittal of John Peter Zenger, editor of the New York Weekly Journal, on charges of libeling a British governor by criticizing his conduct of office. That was a glorious happening for the people of America.

America had to struggle to get and to keep the national freedom -- and a free press has been one of the chief weapons in the continuing struggle. Please remember, too, that there are no other freedoms as we know them in countries which do not have press freedom.

There is nothing mysterious or difficult to understand about a free press, even though some persons strive to make it a mystic sort of thing. A free press doesn't mean a newspaper is free to do anything it wants to do . . . rather a free press means YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW . . . the right of the people to know what is going on in the community, the state and the nation. Yes, your right to know is all-important.

It is the duty and obligation of a newspaper under a free press, then, to obtain that information and to present it accurately, factually, fairly and without fear or favor, for its readers.

Through the years, the American newspaper willingly has assumed its responsibilities, performing to the very best of its ability to assure that Americans are the best informed people in the world.

Actually, the American newspaper has been cast in the role of a fiduciary -- a trustee representing the people in meetings of public bodies concerned with public affairs, and keeping the public advised as to the conduct of public officials and agencies. The American newspaper typifies private enterprise at its highest, yet representing the man on the street and defending his individual rights.

Closed door meetings and sessions of governmental units cannot and must not be tolerated at any level if freedom of the press -- or rather the right of the people to know -- is to be maintained.

Recently, the matter of voluntary censorship on the part of newspapers has been very much in the news. It all started when President Kennedy asked the nation's newspaper to re-examine their positions from the standpoint of national security and in the light of serious situations confronting the nation. He suggested, more or less, the adoption of voluntary cold-war censorship and the use of self-restraint in the publication of news which could affect the nation's security.

Felix McKnight, executive editor of the Dallas Times-Herald and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, told the recent convention of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association, "If the urgency of the moment dictates it, the American newspaper can re-enter the World War II operation of voluntary censorship in the interest of the national security."

"However, the industry does not feel that it should be singled out and asked to conform to wartime restrictions unless all segments of the American society assume similar responsibility in a common fight against our enemy."

"The truth, and the free flow of it through newspapers and other media, is a weapon that has served us well since the birth of this free nation."

Someone else has said, "Freedom needs knowledge to live, and knowledge demands truth, not half of it, but all of it."

But a newspaper is much more than that. The newspaper is an indispensable part of our free society, as well as an integral part of the free community in which it lives. The newspaper actually helps create a community out of what otherwise would be simply a collection of people. Newspapers create a community image. The newspaper welds a community together, serving every man, woman and child. It offers information, features and advertisements of interest to every member of the family.

The newspaper is a definite, active part of the community.

A newspaper, then, cannot escape, and neither does it wish to escape, public service.

J. Montgomery Curtis, director of the American Press Institute of Columbia University, says "public service" are the two words which best represent a newspaper's responsibility to the community.

Public service, he says, is more than a newspaper reporting news. It's whatever a newspaper can do in addition to reporting news, such as: Campaign for good government, honest courts, economy, good fire prevention, adequate water supply, public utilities, fine schools, parks and playgrounds. This is all public service, and newspapers strive to do everything they can to improve a community.

And we certainly must not overlook advertising in this discussion. Advertising in the newspaper is as important to the average reader as is the information offered in the news column. Newspaper advertising has set the pace in developing our living standards, which are the world's highest.

Advertising informs, in addition to its function of creating desire. It is a basic part of our great and ever-expanding economy. It is vital to the life of the community.

It must be remembered, too, that advertising provides the newspaper's major source of revenue . . . and that a financially-unhealthy newspaper cannot meet today's challenge and responsibilities as cited previously.

Theodore M. Bernstein, assistant managing editor of the New York Times, said recently, "A newspaper presents through its advertisements a city-wide show window of general stores. And you can buy it all for the price of a daily newspaper."

He further likened a newspaper to a radar scope sweeping the skies to pick up what is going on in the community, state, nation and the world.

You can see that your newspaper is pretty big and important business . . . It is high time that you become better acquainted with your newspaper -- a friendly, cooperative fellow citizen.

The welcome news is out this week and every week.

Albany Lions Smother Bulldogs 40-6 in District 10-A Game Friday

The defending state champs, Albany's Lions, showed touches of last years greatness, and ripped a scrappy Bulldog eleven 40-6 in conference play at Clyde Friday night.

Clyde's defense, set to stop all-state Johnny Agan, let halfback Jimmy Wood loose and he carried the ball eight time for 163 yards rushing. Dennis Tucker picked up 61 yards and Roy Hogan 46. Agan was held to 78 yards in 15 carries.

Halfback Alton Brannan gave the Clyde fans a thrill when he returned the opening kickoff 62 yards to the Albany 28, but Albany's defense braced and held. In the second quarter guard Merton Fewell blocked an Albany punt and Edward Ramos picked up the ball and ran 20 yards for Clyde's only score.

Tucker scored Albany's first TD in the 1st quarter, going 17 yards through the line for the score. The try for extra point was blocked. In the 2nd quarter, Wood burst through the line for 36 yards and a TD. Also in the 2nd quarter, Wood burst through the same hole for 81 yards and a TD. The half ended with the score 26-6.

Albany scored twice in the 2nd half. Rock Hill, all state end scampered 22 yards on an end around play to wind up scoring for the night.

Albany gained 505 yards to Clyde's 42 and had 19 first downs to 2. The Lions completed 8 out of 16 pass tries for 114 yards. Clyde completed 1 out of 10 tries for 9 yards.

Sweet and Sour . . .

that much more of a success. Its nice to have a pleasant gathering of good friends and especially so when cause for celebration is a lovely new home.

October birthdays are still rolling around and on the 7th, Jean Lambert Evans celebrated one. Miss Jeffie Lambert (bless the dear sweet heart of that courageous and good one) will have a celebration on the 22nd. The 23rd is J. W. LaCour's day, and Buster Hatchett will have his special day on the 22nd. Rea Corn is going to be a whopping big nine years old on the 23rd, and come the 25th, Wilburn Carrioco blows out candles. Debbie Curtis is all set to celebrate on the 26th, and the 27th is Corrie Driskill's very own day. Back on October 13th, little Teddy Smith was king for the day at his house, because that's his celebrating time. Tiny Jan Higgins had a big important number one birthday this week and that young lady just grows prettier every day. October 27th will be a big day at the McGowen home because Carol Lynn will be 16 and to know Carol Lynn is to understand why they call it "sweet sixteen."

Don't know what "some people" are going to say about the Baird-Rule game this week, but good, dependable, bat-em-a-thousand-every-time Yogi Boyd has this prediction up his swami sleeve - Baird 22, Rule 6. Boyd has an uncanny ability to call 'em, so watch this one. Just when Baird Ag teacher, Mr. Barton and his family will say a fond good-bye to our school, we aren't certain, but this much we are sure of -- they will be sorely missed and will leave vacancies which can never really be filled. Both Mr. and Mrs. Barton are loved and respected by students and faculty alike -- they both serve well, not only as teachers, but in other capacities in the school. Mrs. Barton assists with the Grade School Pep Club and other organizations and Mr. Barton directs FFA activities and is co-sponsor of the Junior Class. Mr. Barton has military service to fulfill now, but we can all hope for an early return of this family who have proved themselves valuable assets to school, town and community.

Wednesday Club Hears Speaker

Mrs. Randall C. Jackson was hostess to the Wednesday Club on October 11th, for a program on "Arms Control." Guest speaker from Dyess Air Force Base was Colonel M. M. Stallings.

Following the invocation by Mrs. A. E. Dyer, Sr., Mrs. Jackson introduced the speaker, who, with his assistant, Airman C. E. Jones, showed a film designed to give the audience a basic concept of Control as practiced by the Strategic Air Command (SAC).

Col. Stallings stated that SAC is dedicated to maintaining the peace through strength; a system of watchful waiting is maintained at all times. He said that the United States has approximately 87 SAC bases, where some men are alerted for duty, and some planes are in the air, at all times. Hence no nuclear attack can come by accident to the United States.

Seventeen members and the following guests were present: Mmes. Lea Macdonald, Homer McIntosh, M. C. McGowen and Terrell Williams.

Mrs. Lee Ivey will be hostess to the Club on October 25th, for the annual Bible day program.

Mrs. Lynn Ault Hosts Club Monday

Mrs. Lynn Ault was hostess to the Corinne Blackburn Club at her home Monday night.

Mrs. D. C. Cox presided for the business meeting.

Mrs. Terrell Williams was elected Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Juanita Danielsen was elected Reporter, to fill unexpired terms.

Miss Burma Warren, Mrs. C. K. Meadows and Mrs. Archie Nichols gave very interesting talks on Names and Places in Latin America.

Others present were, Mmes. Irvin Corn, Margie Ray, Beatrice Deel, S. N. Dunlap Jr., Eddie Koneczak, A. A. Manion, H. W. Martin, Conley Pruitt, W. A. Robbins and Juanita Danielsen.

Mmes. W. L. Ivey, V. E. Hill and N. M. George of Baird, and Mrs. Tom Ivey of Big Spring were in Dallas Wednesday taking in the sights of the State Fair and attended the musical show, Sound of Music.

Another good reason for Confidence in a growing America

OUR SAVINGS JUST HIT A NEW HIGH!

—Even with inflation, we've put aside three times as much as in 1940

When the economy reaches a plateau after a long period of growth, there's a tendency to rest for a while before starting up again. Buyers do the same thing. They defer purchases and hold the money as savings.

But now we're all set for another climb, and the savings that have been piling up will help to keep it rising. The net savings of individuals now exceed $375 billion!

Discretionary income—surplus above what is needed for basic necessities—almost doubled during the Fifties and at the present rate, will grow nearly as much again by 1971.

All Americans have an interest in the country's productive capacity and real estate through money saved in banks, savings and loan associations and by ownership of life insurance policies.

These savings, plus our rising income and a big research program that is turning out scores of exciting new products, point to another upswing in the near future.

America has a brilliant future—but to realize it fully, we must all work together for the common good.

FREE—Write for illustrated booklet, "The Promise of America." Box 350, New York 18, N.Y.

GET READY FOR AN UPSWING!

MORE PRODUCTION—U.S. production doubles every 20 years. Our annual output is due to rise $300 billion by 1971!

MORE RESEARCH—We're now spending $12 billion a year—and that's expected to double during the Sixties!

MORE INCOME—Today's $6500 average per family represents an all-time high!

MORE JOBS—There are 15 million more jobs than in 1939—will be 22 million more by 1975!

MORE EDUCATION—By 1970 we'll have 20 million more high school graduates than today, and 8 million more college graduates. They'll earn more, live better.

MORE LEISURE—40 million Americans get paid vacations, and there are 16 million people over 65, many of them with retirement income to spend.

MORE MARKETS—U.S. exports, plus output of U.S.-owned plants overseas, already account for over $50 billion in sales!

MORE NEEDS—Schools, hospitals, highways, homes—we need billions in improvements right now!

Hi neighbor! We still having real pretty weather. The nights are cold, but gets hot up in the day.

Bill and Retha Brown of Abilene spent the week end with Retha's parents, Mark and Ollie Burnam and sister Gayle.

We are glad to say Mr. Enoch McCollum is doing pretty good now. I talked to Maurine Sunday afternoon.

Sorry to hear Ruth Mobley is still in the hospital, but glad she is better and will get to come home soon, we hope.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Bill Shirley of Putnam had a car wreck Saturday afternoon and is in serious condition in the hospital at Baird. There were three cars involved in the wreck.

Sorry Mrs. Homer Boatwright was taken to Hendrick Hospital Sunday. We hope she soon gets better. Walter Francisco is in bed too, and we hope he soon gets better.

I still have a cold and sore throat, seems like I can't get rid of it. Had to go back to the doctor today.

Burette and Johnny May Ramsey went to Fort Worth one day last week, and on to Burlington to buy some more Holstein milk cows. They bought two back by Jacksboro, and spent the night with their daughter, Joan Collingsworth and family.

My, did you know its just about two months till Christmas? Hope you have your shopping done. I don't have a bit of mine done.

Dick Yarbrough hauled off the first bale of his cotton Tuesday morning. Will have another bale out soon.

Soil Conservation District News

Progress in Standard Soil Survey work throughout the area can be attributed to cooperation of farmers and ranchers with the overall program of Soil Conservation Districts in making the first national land inventory. Soil surveys were made on 400,000 acres of land during the past 12 months within the five Soil Conservation Districts served by the Brownwood Area Office of the Soil Conservation Service, E. J. Hughes, Area Conservationist reports.

Field survey work has been essentially completed in all of the Menard Soil Conservation District, and is about one-fifth complete in Mills County of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District. The survey report of the Menard District will be written in 1962 by D. R. Coffee, Area Soil Scientist, for publication by not later than 1964, according to Audrey Baker, Work Unit Conservationist at Menard.

Soil Survey work in the Central Colorado, Concho, and San Saba-Brady Districts during the past year has been on a progressive basis as needed by Soil Conservation Service technicians when assisting farmers and ranchers in developing basic soil conservation plans on their land. It is planned that Standard Soil Surveys will be completed on all of the land in the United States by 1975. Present progress in the Brownwood Area indicates an earlier completion date is possible for the approximate five million acre area.

The objective of Soil Surveys is to record pertinent information needed for planning land use and treatment for which each acre of land is best suited. Information obtained from the field surveys is recorded on aerial photographs in standard legends for future use. The National Land Inventory is a step in the direction of planning for the anticipated need of a 30% increase in agricultural products by 1975 to meet the expected increase in population by that date, as well as absorbing the annual loss of an approximate one million acres of agricultural land to urban and industrial development.

News From Your County Agent

By TRAVIS ALLEN

Peanut harvest has begun in the county with reports of some good yields coming in. The bulk of the harvest is not yet underway, but if the good weather stays with us, it will pick up in a hurry. Some reports of 55 and 59 bushel yields have come in from the Cross Plains area. This is probably better than the average, but most everyone has indicated they expect a little above average production this year.

Tommy Harris, of the Rowden community, said the grass in his area is the best he has ever seen. This seems to be the general condition over the whole county as the late summer and fall rains have made conditions ideal for a good grass crop.

Volunteer small grains and early planted fields are making excellent growth. Some farmers who usually don't like volunteer small grains have left patches this year, as the ideal moisture conditions have given them such a head start that they already have a lot of grazing on them. Many farmers in the county are looking for a few days of clear weather so they can get their wheat and other small grains planted.

If you have been thinking of using fertilizer on some of your fields this should be a good year to use it. With the excellent moisture conditions, fertilizers should give a good return. Any commercial mix which includes nitrogen and phosphorus such as 16-20-0 or others should be good.

Watch for greenbug or armyworm infestations of your small grains. These pests can damage crops very quickly. Parathion is recommended for control of the greenbugs. Use a spray, when temperature is above 50 degrees and do not graze or harvest within fifteen days after application. Toxaphene or DDT in the form of dust or spray can be used for the control of the armyworm. When using DDT, fields should not be grazed; also the DDT should not be used after the head starts to form.

When using toxaphene, only cattle that will go back on the range can be grazed in it. Dairy cattle and cattle for slaughter cannot graze on it. It should not be grazed for 15 days after application, nor oats, rye or wheat harvested within 7 days and barley not harvested for 14 days.

Bulletin MP-339 gives recommendations for each crop and for each pest. This bulletin is available in the county agent's office.

Mrs. Ida Harper of Grove, Okla., and sister, Mrs. Rupert Keller of Medina, Okla., former residents of this area, have been visiting relatives in Putnam. They visited in Baird Monday, and each subscribed to The Star to keep up with news of friends and relatives in the county.

Texas Quail Hunters Get Early Start

Quail hunters in Texas will get a break, with an early season in a number of additional counties this year for a November 1 opening, according to Al Springs, wildlife coordinator of the Game and Fish Commission.

The Commission has approved November 1 to December 31 season in all of the counties of the trans-Pecos area, except Culberson, El Paso, and Hudspeth counties. The season on those counties will be November 1 to December 15 inclusive. The bag limit will be 12 per day or 24 in possession. Crockett County, which is in the Edwards Plateau regulatory area, is included in the trans-Pecos area for quail, with the November 1 opening date. The possession limit in Crockett, however, is 36.

In South-Central Texas, Dimmitt, Zavala, Frio, and Webb counties have been added to the November 1 opening date. The season will close there on January 16. McMullen and LaSalle counties are open November 1 to December 15, under a special law. The bag limit in that area will be 12 per day and 36 in possession.

In the Possum Kingdom area, which also will include Brown, Nolan and Taylor counties, the season will be November 24 to January 20 inclusive, with a 15 per day, 45 possession limit. In the counties in the Southeast Texas regulatory area, the open season will be November 15 to
