Bryan Pays Roosevelt a Tribute.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 31.—Wm. J. Bryan tonight issued a statement bearing on the president's message sent to congress today. In prefacing the statement he said he recognized the moral courage of Roosevelt in fighting against the opposition he has to contend with. Referring to the Wall street methods, he said it would be a safe bet that after the president's message of today, the financiers would see that they could place no dependence in Roosevelt as a friend of the system. His statement on the president's message follows:

"It is a brave message and needed at this time. All friends of reform have reason to rejoice that the president has used his high position to call attention to the wrongs that need to be remedied. He has discovered the running sore in our national life. He has pointed out the corrupting influences that flow from predatory wealth and from the monopolistic enterprises which have given unearned riches to the few, who by controlling the great industries of the nation have levied tribute upon the whole country.

"Its warnings are entirely in harmony with the warnings which democrats have been uttering for more than a decade and I hope that the democrats in the house will promptly challenge the issues that have been presented by the president.

"There ought to be enough Roosevelt republicans in the two houses to join with the democrats and insure some remedial legislation at this session. If there is none, the public ought to know it so that when the next republican national convention indorses the present administration, the hypocrisy of the indorsement will be understood.

"The president has discussed the relative spheres of the state and of the nation. I hope that in the measure which may be introduced in response to this appeal there will be no attempt to take from the states any power that they now have.

"The democrats are in favor of the fullest employment of the power vested in congress, but they want national remedy added to the state remedies, and not substituted for them. If the president's republican friends will join with the democrats in devising legislation which will be effective and yet within the recognized constitutional power of congress, great good may be accomplished before congress adjourns.

"The president has issued a call to arms. Now let the battle begin and we shall soon be able to pick out the purchased newspapers and the purchased legislators described by the president, but not specifically named."

It is estimated by a local physician that there are now no less than 30 cases of pneumonia in Wichita Falls, while the number of persons afflicted with the grippe will exceed 500. The worst epidemic of the grippe now prevails which has ever been known in this city and nearly every other person one meets is afflicted with the epidemic.—Wichita Falls Times.

How New York Gets the Money.

Once upon a time, those who put their money into a bank, for safe-keeping until they wanted it, were supposed to have some rights.

This may sound like a tough yarn, but it's a fact.

The depositor was once regarded as a right decent sort of fellow, and the law made motions as though it wanted to protect him from thieves, speculators, stock-gamblers, forcible borrowers, and other speckled varieties of latter-day financiers.

With an eye to the protection of the depositor—a weak, filmy, watery eye, I admit—the law solemnly requested the bankers to maintain a certain amount of money where they could lay hands on it, at any time, so that if a depositor wanted a few dollars of his own money, he could get cash, instead of soap-wrappers.

At that time, the rogues' device of Clearing House Certificate had not entered the head of those scoundrels of New York, who first forced that nasty stuff into circulation and set an evil example which others followed.

By the national bank act, each national bank is required to keep a reserve, in lawful money, to the extent of a certain per cent. of its deposits and circulation.

In some cities, named in the act, the reserve of actual money required to be kept on hand, is 25 per cent.; in all others, 15 per cent.

But the act further provides that three-fifths of this 15 per cent may consist of a balance due to these banks by the banks of St. Louis, Louisville, Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Albany, Leavenworth, San Francisco, Washington City.

See how cleverly these schemers go about getting all the available money of the country into a few big cities!

But that isn't the worst of it. After the money has been drawn into these various "reserve cities," it must then be drawn into one big pond—New York.

Section 32 of the National Bank act provides, that one-half of the reserves required to be kept by these banks of the big cities may consist of deposits in the New York banks.

There you have it—a cleverly devised net work of canals which convey the currency, first into many big cities, and then into one.

And yet we marvel that everybody should have to bow down to New York and go to her, on our knees, begging for some of our own money!

We are fools enough to vote our financial independence away, and then marvel at our chains.

We first say, by law, that the national banker shall be our financial master, and then we wonder at our slavery.

When these national banks came back to congress, in 1903, to have their charters renewed for another 20 years, not a single republican raised a voice of protest.

And not a single democrat had the spirit and the patriotism to remind the country that the democrats' party, as now organized, owed its first great victory to the fight which Andrew Jackson waged upon this very question of national banks.—Watson's Jeffersonian Magazine.

More of Amarillo's Saloon and Election Muddle.

County Judge Sam R. Merrill refused to grant the license to conduct the liquor business on the corner of First and Lincoln streets for which Savage & Bozeman were applicants.

District Attorney Henry C. Bishop contested the application on the part of the state and presented evidence to the court that one of the applicants, J. N. Bozeman, paid poll tax and voted in the primary in Clarendon in 1906. Under the state applicants of liquor licenses must have resided within the county in which they ask the license for at least two years previous to the time they make the application. On this ground the court rejected the application for Savage & Bozeman, neither of whom were present in the court room.

Savage & Bozeman composed the firm, which as partners in the Budweiser saloon opposite the union station, secured the injunction from Judge Fisher of Galveston restraining the publication of the order putting prohibition in effect. They are also the plaintiffs in a contest of the election filed for trial next May.

After the hearing the applicants' attorneys stated that the case would be carried further and a test would be made of the law giving the county judge exclusive jurisdiction over the granting of liquor license. He also stated that although the court had ruled.—Amarillo Panhandle

State Deal for Ellis Plantation is off.

Austin, Jan. 31.—It is learned that the deal by which the state was to have acquired the Ellis plantation in Fort Bend county has fallen through. The heirs to the Ellis estate claim they considered the proposition to the state only as an option, and they now announce they have withdrawn the proposition to the state. The Ellis plantation consisted of a tract of 5,437 acres, and adjoined the Riddick and Sugarland plantations. The state was to have bought the plantation for $160,000.

The failure of the state to secure this plantation will not affect the purchase of the Sugarland and Riddick plantations, as the contracts have been closed. The price for the Sugarland plantation was $450,000 and for the Riddick plantation, $40,000. Chairman Gill of the board of state penitentiaries was here in conference with Gov. Campbell about the matter. It is the general impression the state can do nothing, as no contracts have been signed.

The fact that Texas suffered least of all the states from the effect of the passing panic, with conditions practically undisturbed and with money to loan the east, has been an object lesson to the country that is sure to bear fruit if the situation be acted on properly. With the legitimate "invitation" and showings of national conditions sent abroad, people would flock to our state in numbers not seen before. And the "capital" we are supposed to have frightened away with un-republican sentiments crystallized into laws, has discovered that Texas resources are unbonded and that our state offers a field for investments along legitimate lines that cannot be ignored. Of course actual capital has remained just the same; but now coward money that ran away from law is sneaking back.—Peoples Review.

Portuguese King Assassinated.

Lisbon, Feb. 1.—King Carlos of Portugal and Crown Prince, Luiz Philippi, were assassinated today and the city is in a state of uproar.

The king's second son, Emanuel, was slightly wounded, but Queen Amelia, who strove to save the Crown Prince's life by throwing herself upon him, was unhurt.

A band of men waiting at a corner suddenly sprang toward the open carriage in which the royal family were driving to the palace and, leveling carbines which they had concealed upon their persons, fired.

The king and the Crown Prince, upon whom the attack was directed, were each shot three times, and they lived only long enough to be carried to the marine arsenal near by, where they expired.

Almost at the first shot the king fell back on the cushion dying, and at the same moment the Crown Prince was seen to half rise and then sink back on the seat.

Queen Amelia jumped up and threw herself toward the Crown Prince in an apparent effort to save his life at the cost of her own, but the prince already had received his death wound.

Guards sprang upon the regicides, the number of whom is somewhat uncertain, and killed three of them and captured three others. One of these committed suicide after being placed in prison. It is charged that one of the murderers was a Spaniard named Cordova.

The cold-blooded assassination has sent a thrill of horror throughout the country, even among those who have been working politically for the establishment eventually of a Republic, and sorrow is expressed on every hand at the dreadful end of the king and the Crown Prince.

At the first blush it would seem as though the assassination was the work of anarchists and not of republican sympathizers. Nevertheless, the stirring events of the last few weeks has prepared the people for some startling culmination. The discovery of plot after plot, as well as the discovery of many secret stores of weapons and ammunition, have demonstrated beyond peradventure the existence of a determination on the part of a large body of the Portuguese to overthrow the present conditions and proclaim a republic.

Carlos I was born Sept. 28, 1863. He succeeded to the throne Oct. 19, 1889. The Crown Prince, Luiz Philippe, Duke of Braganza, was born March 21, 1887.

Thaw Not Guilty.

"Not guilty on the grounds of insanity," was the verdict in the Thaw case by the New York jury Saturday.

Dowling committed Thaw to the Mattawan asylum subject to possible recovery. Littleton will seek to have Thaw committed to a private sanitarium and probably later will ask for a sanity commission before he will seek to prove Thaw's present sanity.

The jury was out 25 hours and is said to have taken 12 ballots. Next to the deciding ballot the jury is said to have stood nine for acquittal and three for murder in less than the first degree.

Thaw smiled when the verdict was read and turned and smiled to his wife and brother, Josiah. His mother remained at the hotel.

Dowling said the testimony indicates that Thaw had been and is now a sufferer from depressive insanity which had been explained to the court and jury as well nigh incurable and there was no way of telling when an outbreak would occur. In the interest of public safety the prisoner would be committed.

A special from Panama says the canal dirt has begun to fly. It is high time, as nothing but money has been flying over there for some time, except a few "high-flyer" officials.

In New York City, according to report, there is a pair divorced every eight and a half hours. The larger the city and where extreme poverty and extreme wealth prevail domestic misery is on every hand. The rural districts seem to be the places where marital affairs are least interfered with and home life the happiest. The allurements of fashion and the vain desire to outshine their fellow creatures do not corrode the better nature as is the case in the cities.

The idea of Editor Koch of the Quannah Tribune Chief being a member of a committee seeking a man to run for office upon the prohibition ticket. Koch has always been a strong anti in the fights heretofore, but we suppose he has seen the light and wants to get into the band wagon.—Childress Post.

Give the fellow a chance to change. It is men who get out of the ruts, men who listen to and act on evidence produced, men who can lay aside pre-conceived ideas when convinced to the contrary, that are worth most to the world. Otherwise there would have been no Columbus, (and he sought nobody's band wagon) no Edison, no Paul, the greatest of apostles, nor many of the great reformers who stepped out of their surroundings and environments and began teaching better things.

The entire western portion of Deaf Smith county has been sold to the Associated Land Company of Kansas City, which intends cutting up the big ranches into farms and selling them to farmers from the north central states. About 100,000 acres are involved. The new company succeeds the George G. Wright company, which accomplished a great deal in developing the Panhandle and Hereford country.

Thirty northern families have located in the Hereford, Tex., section the past few days.

Mesquite Valuable for Furniture.

Three carloads of mesquite wood passed through San Antonio consigned to Deshler & Babcock, large manufacturers of furniture in Grand Rapids, Mich. The wood was cut near Taft, on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad, and as only young timber is desired the logs were not large, but averaged four and five inches in diameter.

U. N. Halliday of Forest City, Ark., who has charge of the company's sawmill at that point, told of the new experiment in furniture making, which will probably add another valuable product to the list of Texas exports.

The attention of the firm was first attracted to the advantages of mesquite wood by the inspiration of a suite of furniture made of the wood and owned by a Chicago merchant. The furniture had been made in Texas and purchased by the Chicago man because of the beautiful appearance and attractive finish.

Experiments were then made by the Grand Rapids firm in the use of the wood and several small articles of furniture were constructed. These experiments were successful and now the firm has decided to use the mesquite wood on a large scale. Arrangements have been made by Mr. Halliday for the shipment of several more carloads of the wood in the near future.—San Antonio Express.

The Home Bank of Brooklyn, N. Y., failed to open its doors Saturday and the state examiner is in charge. The deposits are $400,000. A run had been in progress three days.

Farmers Union Officials Win.

Judge Nash in the district court at Dallas Monday sustained the demurrer asked in the injunction suit brought against President D. J. Neill of the Texas Farmers' Union and other officials.

The injunction was sued for by O. P. Pyle and George B. Latham, publishers of the National Co-operator of that city. The union thus wins the first part of the court fight. The libel suit has not been decided, altho Judge Nash has under consideration a demurrer to this effect offered by the defense.

Santa Fe Improvements.

A report from Amarillo says that nearly $300,000 has been appropriated for the building of an 18-stall round house, store house and sidings. Shops, freight and passenger stations and office buildings will be erected later this year. Fourteen miles of track has been laid in the yards. It is expected the Santa Fe will have expended $500,000 before completing all of the improvements. Amarillo will be greatly benefited as a division point and will handle the bulk of the traffic from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Ballasting the track between the Canadian river and Texico has commenced, sand being used that the road may be able to begin thru business sooner. Crushed stone will be added. The grade from Glazier to Hoover, just north of Panhandle, is finished. The cut-off between the main line and Texico, the Belen cut-off, the track is practically complete. The Cameo cut-off from Clovis to Cameo on the Pecos Valley line is ready for train service.

Success With Canning Outfits

A correspondent of Home and Farm says there is money in small canning outfits, and writes as follows:

"When winter comes, and we begin to open the vegetable and fruit cans, and enjoy the proceeds of our last summer's work, I have an inclination to tell others how good these things are. I did not can any for market myself the past season. Rented out my little plot of ground to a tenant, and he planted about one-quarter of an acre in string beans, and about one and one-half acres in tomatoes. He had no help but his wife and daughter, but is a good worker, and he he put up 7,000 three pound cans of vegetables and sold everyone in October for 10 cents each wholesale, which brought him just $700. He had other crops, such as corn, etc., and his entire work for the year after paying for all the help he hired amounted to nearly $1,500. Of course, this was gross, and expenses, such as empty cans, etc., had to come off. But he had enough left after paying all expenses to make a fine payment on a home he bought, and kept plenty of everything to live on. I think it a fine business for a farmer. The work is done, and the goods are sold, independent of all the trusts. We make a finished product and can sell to consumer if we desire to do so, and get all the profits there are in the entire business. But, the greatest beauty of the whole matter is that the farmer can put up the finest class of goods known, and the big canning factory can't help it.

"The work is very simple. The old glass jar should be put out of existence, and every farm should have its little canning outfit if it is only one large enough to work on one hole of cook stove. If our people could all know what they are missing in way of good living in winter, to say nothing of what they could save by marketing the surplus, the ladies would never let the "boss" alone till he furnished the necessary money to get an outfit. They would do the work, but they should not have it to do. Every man ought to help just as readily as he helps to eat his meals."

The officials empoounded 40 head of stock the first week of the stock law at Quanah.

During a thunderstorm at Weatherford Friday the barn of W. C. McFall was struck by lightning and destroyed by flames. About 200 bushels of corn and other feedstuff were destroyed.

Twelve thousand bushels of wheat which have been in the bins about Hereford since last spring sold last week to Texas millers at $1 per bushel. It required 10 cars to ship the grain. This has put $12,000 into circulation in the Hereford community.

Fire Friday night destroyed Seller's hotel, a one-story building, at Mineral Wells. Guests lost almost all of their belongings so rapidly did the flames spread. A stiff north wind was blowing at the time, and for a time adjoining property was endangered. The loss is between $4,000 and $5,000.

Fire originated in the Wright hotel at Gordon Sunday completely destroyed the hotel building and spreading to the Christian church soon reduced that structure to ashes. Most of the contents of the hotel were destroyed. The hotel was valued at $7,000, partially insured. The church at $2,000 with $800 insurance.

In Amarillo they have organized a citizens party and put out a ticket. They have commenced a vigorous campaign, representing Amarillo's interests only. There are antis, pros, democrats and republicans in the new organization. Heading the ticket is Lon D. Marrs for mayor and J. M. Neely, John S. McNight and B. C. Bynum for aldermen.

K. K. Leggett, aged 89 years, and his wife, 84, were laid to rest at Keller, Tarrant county, Monday, having died but one day apart, after nearly 65 years of married life. They probably were the oldest married couple in the county. Sunday a week before Mrs. Leggett, who was then in the first stages of illness, talked to the members of her family and said: "Next Sunday I am going home, I hope that my husband will go before me and that we will be buried in the same grave. I do not want the funerals held on Sunday."

The magnificent club house and adjoining buildings of the Dallas Golf and Country club were destroyed by fire Thursday night. The total loss is estimated at about $30,000, with insurance between $12,000 and $15,000, placed principally with agents who are members of the club. It is presumed the fire was caused by the explosion of an oil stove in the secretary's office on the first floor. It was first seen by a negro called Ed, who was coming from town, and the building was then emitting a big cloud of smoke.

If a man wants to get acquainted with human nature, let him edit a newspaper a while. Until he has served in that capacity he knows nothing of the ups and downs in life. He may be a preacher, a banker, a merchant, a horse trader or a farmer, or he may have practiced law, sawed wood, been a road overseer, or a school teacher or member of the school board, but he needs a brief experience as editor to complete his knowledge of the eccentricities of human nature.—Ft. There has been considerable street railroad talk this week of a railroad to come through Wellington from Oklahoma. Mr. Ray says he has nothing to give out yet as to plans or propositions, but as soon as he receives letters from St. Louis parties he will be ready to submit a tangible proposition that will be to Clarendon's advantage to take up.

Silverton's Railroad Question.

At a public meeting in Silverton a few days ago Major Gordon of Amarillo made a proposition to build a railroad into Silverton for a bonus of $50,000, $25,000 to be paid when the grade is completed, the remaining $25,000 to be paid when the road is completed. Thirty-six thousand dollars of this amount has already been subscribed and the soliciting committee consisting of Bruce Gerdes and Dr. M. C. Bell think they will have but little trouble in raising the required amount. Major Gordon is well known in the eastern and southern states as a successful railroad promoter and the citizens feel hopeful of securing the road. According to the terms set forth in the contract, Feb. 18, is named as the time for the next meeting, at which time the major is to pass on the list and if found satisfactory he will accept the bonus, sign the contract, and begin work in 60 days.

McLean is talking incorporation and a committee last week circulated a petition for an election on the subject.

War on Hats in Church.

Managers of opera houses have been so successful in persuading femininity to attend their places of amusement hatless, that a crusade has been encouraged to bring about a similar reform in churches in New York. A speaker at a meeting of Methodist ministers in Brooklyn, said: "The time will come when ministers must take a stand to abolish the custom of women wearing hats at worship. The ministers can preach better if they can look into the eyes of their people than when talking thru a hat." —Ex.

All the Difference.

Attorney General Hadley of Missouri condemned in an address at Topeka before the State Bar Association, certain trust methods. "I am sure," he said, "that we all want to see laws enacted that will give a square deal to everybody. We want, all over the world, as little as possible of that thing which is exemplified in the anecdote of the Syracuse widow. She lost every cent she possessed thru the speculations of some dishonest bank officials. In discussing the matter with her a minister said soothingly: 'The thieves will be punished, maybe. They're committed for trial.' 'Yes,' said the widow, 'they're committed for trial, it is true; and my child and I are condemned to hard labor for life.'"

Rev. Kendall Writes About Sugar Beets.

Boulder, Col., Jan. 31. Editor Chronicle.

I notice in the last few issues of your paper you have been agitating the subject of sugar beet culture in the Panhandle of Texas. Thinking I might be able to impart a little information on the subject for the benefit of your readers is my excuse for sending you this communication.

Boulder is a resident city in which the inhabitants have taken pride in their schools, churches and the State university, which is located here, but have never encouraged manufactures. We get a good trade from the gold mining towns located in the mountains at the base of which the city is located, which, in addition to the schools and university, makes the city prosperous enough to support its population of 12,000 in good style. Longmont, 14 miles distant, is a city of 8,000 inhabitants, and is located in the heart of one of the best agricultural sections of this part of the state. They have a large sugar factory there. The plant, I was told, cost over $2,000,000. The capacity of the factory is from 1,200 to 1,600 tons of beets every 24 hours (they run day and night), and the output of sugar is from 5,000 to 6,000 100-pound sacks of sugar for the same time. They just closed down the factory this week after a successful run of four months. One hundred and seventy thousand tons of beets were consumed during the four months run. While it was the writer's privilege to go through the factory and note the different processes through which the beets passed in going in at one end of the factory and coming out at the other beautiful white sugar sacked and ready for the market it would make this article too long to undertake a description of the different processes at this time. Suffice to say, everything was done by machinery, run by a 1,000-horse power engine. The farmers got $5 per ton for their beets. With proper cultivation the crop ranges from 20 to 30 tons per acre. One man on 18 acres made an average of 36 tons per acre last year. The farmers prepare their land plant the seed, then they pay $20 per acre to laborers to cultivate them, which is largely done by Japanese and Russians. The beet raisers often make a clear profit of $50 and upward on each acre of land. So you will not be surprised when I tell you farm land anywhere near a sugar factory is worth from $100 to $200 per acre. Of course, they irrigate here, but I believe if the farmers will learn how to prepare and cultivate their lands for a beet crop they can be successfully raised in the Panhandle without irrigation. It is not the size the manufacturers want but the quality. I notice the beets range here from two to four pounds. All that grows above the ground is cut off, as the per cent. of sugar in that part of the beet is so small it don't pay to run it through the mill. Deep plowing in the fall, so there will be plenty of moisture in the ground at planting time to bring the seed up, then with proper cultivation I feel sure there could be as fine beets raised in the Panhandle as here. Any man who has force enough of his own to raise and handle a cotton crop ought to be able to raise and handle a beet crop, and there is more in it.

P. S.—Wife and I went to Denver the 24th inst. and took in the stock show. We saw the best the country affords, and it was well worth seeing. The large bull (a short horn) weighed 2,660 pounds; the Angus and Herefords went as high as 2,200, the largest hog 900; the largest horse 2,340, and the largest sheep 275. We never saw pictures of stock any prettier than some of the horses, cattle, hogs and sheep we saw at the Denver stock show. J. N. K.

For a live paper try the CHRONICLE

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we would properly investigate them; and in possession of this conviction, he would not hesitate to recommend the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and depressing dejections, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unimpeachable testimonials contributed by careful patients who have been cured of catarrh of the bladder, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus, and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other hot or head-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Greatest Lumber Cut.

More lumber was cut in the United States last year than in any other year in its history. The enormous amount of 37,550,736 board feet was produced, and the mill value of this was $621,151,388. In addition, there were produced 11,858,260,000 shingles, valued at $24,155,555, and 3,812,807,000 lath, valued at $11,490,570. On the whole, it is safe to say that the present annual lumber cut in the United States approximates 40 billion feet, and that the total mill value of the lumber, lath, and shingles each year produced is not less than $700,000,000. These figures give some idea of how vast is the lumber industry and how great is the demand for its products.

A glance at the kinds of lumber produced shows very plainly the passing of white pine and oak, one the greatest softwood and the other the greatest hardwood which the forest has ever grown. Since 1899 the cut of white pine has fallen off more than 40 per cent, while that of white oak has fallen off more than 36 per cent. Today yellow pine leads all other woods in amount cut, while Douglas fir—and this will be a surprise to many—comes second. Since 1899 the cut of Douglas fir has increased 186 per cent. Louisiana the foremost yellow pine state, with Texas, Mississippi and Arkansas following in order. Washington produces by far the greatest amount of Douglas fir.

A comparison of the lumber-producing states shows that since 1899 there have been many changes in their relative rank. Washington, which in 1899 stood sixth, now leads, while Wisconsin, which eight years ago led all others, is now third. In the same period Oregon, Louisiana, Mississippi, Idaho and California made great strides as lumber-producing states, though on the other hand, the amount produced in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Georgia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Indiana and Ohio fell off anywhere from 29 to 54 per cent.

The highest-priced native woods are walnut, hickory and ash, and the cheapest are larch and white fir. From the fact, however, that since 1899 the average increase in the price of lumber has been 49 per cent, it will not be long before cheap woods are few and far between.

Figures upon the lumber cut of the United States in 1906 are contained in circular 122 of the Forest Service, which can be had upon application to the Forester, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

A Jumbo Steer.

A mammoth six-year-old steer, weighing 2110 pounds and selling at the lump price of $100, was an attraction of unusual interest in the cattle yards today. The big animal was shipped in by W. H. Stark of Johnson county, who has owned him since the steer was a yearling and who has kept him on a cake and hay feed as a barn-yard pet. The steer was bred by Mr. Carpenter of Plano and sired by a registered Shorthorn bull and from a grade Shorthorn cow. The animal was sold to Joe Payne, who will put him into a local feed lot and fatten him for exhibition at the coming fat stock show.

In accordance with custom when any animal of unusual size is received here, the talent in the cattle yards held a "betting bee" on his weight. Guesses were remarkably close considering the infrequent appearance of steers of this size, and not many missed the actual weight more than 50 pounds. Ed Wigglesworth was the champion guesser, notching the steer at 2110 pounds.—Ft. Worth Stock Reporter.

Before a man is married he can have pillow cushions tucked all around him in any girl's parlor, but after marriage the act of resting his weary head on a pillow calls forth from his wife, "Don't put your head on that! Want Difference Dropped.

In response to a call by N. C. Murray, former president, about 50 members of the Texas Farmers' union met at the Commercial club rooms in Dallas Thursday for the announced purpose of formulating some plan by which harmony can be restored to the ranks. Apparently the end sought was not reached. The conference resulted late in the afternoon in the drawing up of a document which it was hoped would meet the approval of the dissenting parties. It was submitted to O. P. Pyle and George B. Latham and is declared to have been satisfactory to both men.

A committee composed of "Buster" Biard of Lamar county, Mr. Seal of Bosque county, J. B. Young of Dallas county, A. P. Landers of Hopkins county and Mr. Michell of Smith county went to Ft. Worth for the purpose of submitting the document to President Neill at Ft. Worth.

Upon their return to Dallas it was announced that Mr. Neill did not sign the paper. Mr. Neill told the committee in substance that he would agree to let the matter stand as it is but that he would not put his signature to a document such as the one submitted to him. Mr. Neill told the committee that he had done no wrong and that he had no compromise to make.

It is understood that Jackson Collier, a large taxpayer in the Estelene district, has decided to contest the payment of the independent school tax in that town.

Mrs. Martha Brumley has brought suit in this county against the Denver road for $25,000 for personal injury damage on account of her falling from the train near Harrold.

Will McMicken, formerly of this city, is now Methodist pastor of the church at Lone Wolf, Ok. He went from here to Motley county, and was then transferred to the other work. We understand he is meeting with good success.

Childress.

Nearly everybody has planted a few trees this season. Nothing more can be done to improve one's property.

Postmaster Houssels says the receipts of the postoffice up to Jan. 15 were greater than any month of 1907.

C. B. Jones of this city and J. W. Holt of Kirkland have formed a partnership and will enter into the dry goods business at Kirkland.

During the financial panic the wholesale houses of Texas discovered that the Panhandle was a portion of the state and that it was also the most prosperous.

Childress received 29 immigrant cars in December. There are two other points in the county which received several, these being Kirkland and Carey.

Childress county farmers are making the necessary preparation to make 1908 the banner year in the history of the county. The land in cultivation will exceed that of last year by at least 75 per cent. It will not be in cotton, but more small grain will be sown and larger feed crops put in.

Winter overshoes will save leather and doctor's bills, and you can find the best articles, and rubbers for men, women and children, at Bryan & Land's.

Gets Seven Years.

Dan Greathouse, who caused such a furore on Decatur street Dec. 18 by engaging Marshal Helm and Constable Workman in a duel in which 20 shots were fired, has stood trial this week in two cases. In the first he was convicted of horse theft and given two years in the penitentiary. In the second case, tried Tuesday, he was given five years for stealing a mule.

The stock was stolen near Mineral Wells in Palo Pinto county, but was recovered in Decatur on Dec. 18.

Greathouse made a game fight for freedom when he was caught with the stock, and was only captured without trouble when Mineral Wells officers found him asleep. He has served a term before, but says he will not wear the stripes again.—Decatur Messenger.

Claude.

Judge Doak is again confined to his bed with bronchial troubles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones are spending the winter in Fort Worth.

Friday last Earl Blanton met with quite a painful and possibly serious accident. He uses in his barber shop Acetalene gas, and the machine not working right, he attempted to remedy it. While seeking the trouble the light he had in his hand came in contact with a leak in the generator and an explosion followed, throwing Mr. Blanton quite a distance and seriously burning his hair, eyes, face, hands and arms. Mr. Blanton went to his home and has since been confined to his bed.

A Farmer's Creed.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, while editor of the Indiana Farmer some 75 years ago, announced the following farmer's creed:

We believe in small farms and thorough cultivation.

We believe in large crops, which leave the land better than they found it—making the farmer and the farm both glad at once.

We believe in going to the bottom of things, and therefore, in deep plowing and enough of it. All the better with a subsoil plow.

We believe that every farm should own a good farmer.

We believe that the best fertilizer for any soil is a spirit of industry, enterdise and intelligence. Without this, lime and gypsum, bones and green manure, marl and guano, will be of little use.

We believe in good fences, good barns, good farmhouses, good stock, good orchards and children enough to gather the fruit.

We believe in a clean kitchen, a neat wife in it, a spinning wheel, a clean cupboard, a clean dairy and a clean conscience.

We firmly disbelieve in farmers that will not improve; in farms that grow poorer every year; in starving cattle; in farmers' boys turning into clerks and merchants; in farmers' daughters unwilling to work, and in all farmers ashamed of their vocation, or who drink whisky until honest people are ashamed of them.
