Growers Will Attend Fair

County agent H. M. Breedlove announced this morning that he would leave for Dallas and the State Fair of Texas on Thursday the ninth of this month to take a carload of 4-H club hogs to the state fair. Boys sending hogs are F. G. Crofford, Joe Wayne Dilli, H. C. Shaw, Jack Ballew and Travis Alexander. Breedlove stated that some of the boys will go with him to Dallas to show the hogs. These hogs are some of the best that we have ever shown. Breedlove said and the prospects are high to bring some of the top honors back to Donley county again this year.

The hogs are all one breed being Hampshires and are from sows that were originally bought from the E. S. Ballew herds. The hogs will be sold in Dallas at auction on Wednesday the sixteenth of this month. These hogs are entered in the competition and should be high for honors. Breedlove stated.

MRS. BLANTON BACK
After spending several months with relatives at White Pine West Virginia, Mrs. A. D. Blanton is again home since Saturday. She had the misfortune to fall and injure her hip while there, and is recovering slowly.

WEED CREATES BOB RIPLEY STORY

Nobody but Grover C. Heath is credited with the local Bob Ripley story of a "careless" weed showing two feet above a 20-foot brick wall in the alley just off the main street. There was an air of mystery in the mind of a Leader reporter Tuesday when Mr. Heath made the statement. In fact he showed the proof.

The weed is growing in the alley at the rear of the Thompson hardware store. It apparently is showing the two feet above the brick wall 20 feet high as claimed. All of which goes to prove the assertion that "Donley county leads in everything."

FOUR INDUCTEES TO FT. BLISS

Donley county has calls for four men for army service this call of October 15th. The young men going to Ft. Bliss next Wednesday will be Boyd Martin Allison, William Slaton Green, Royal Davis Price, Cecil Raymond Gaines beat them to it and volunteered in the naval service in Amarillo the first of the week, it is said.

H. L. Chaney and Doyle Harris are to continue in jail here in default of bond in the sum of $2,000 each. These men are charged with theft of milk cows from Bill Bales and John Thomas near Hedley about June of this year.

Three Hedley youths are charged with poultry theft, a felony in this state. The poultry is alleged to have been stolen from A. M. (Shorty) Saunders about May 5th of this year. J. D. Meeks, Leroy McAllister and Jack Blanks each made bond in the sum of $800.

Making Factory Out of Farm

With the best feed crop in several years now maturing in Donley County, the Farm Security Administration is encouraging its borrower-families to stabilize their business and increase their incomes by properly conserving and utilizing their crop resources.

John E. Burch, county FSA supervisor, believes that although farmers may expect increased incomes during the present period of national defense, they also face higher production costs.

"Farm families cooperating with this agency," Mr. Burch said, "are being assisted in increasing the net returns from each acre of land by using their feed crops so that the maximum pounds of butter-fat, beef, pork, wool and so forth are produced."

"The farmers who utilize their acreage to best advantage, who conserve their feed supplies by proper storage and feeding practices, and who manage their farm plants on a sound business basis are the farmers who will prosper most now and in the future."

"For example," he continued, "an acre of sorghums fed as silage will go approximately twice as far as when fed in the form of dry bundles. This is especially true with dairy cows. This fact, coupled with the comparatively low cost of trench silos, is expected to result in an additional number of these storage facilities here this year."

ALANREED SCHOOL SPONSORS GROUP OF SINGERS

Bronchos Defeat Wheeler, 32-0

Ring up four touchdowns during the first half and coasting the rest of the way, the Clarendon Bronchos defeated the Wheeler Mustangs here last Friday night, 32-0 for their first conference win and their second victory of the season.

Capt. Basil Smith made all four counters during the first half and added two extra points. Three of his jaunts were better than 25 yards. On one occasion he went through the entire Wheeler defense for 53 yards and a touchdown.

The Bronchos rung up their fifth counter during the last quarter with Allison carrying over from the 1 yard stripe.

The Clarendon boys made 10 first downs during the first half and did not have to punt during the first two quarters.

Wheeler stiffened their defense during the last half and the Bronchos, composed of several studs, made little headway. At one time during the last half the Mustangs made four first downs in succession before they were finally stopped.

Clarendon made 18 first downs to Wheeler's 7.

Walter Wilson Passes Today

Funeral services will be conducted for Walter Akin Wilson at 3 p. m. Friday, the 10th, at the First Methodist church. Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, Jr., the pastor, will conduct the services. Mr. Wilson passed away at 3:45 a. m. at his apartments here today. He was almost 54 years of age, and had been an active member of the Methodist church for the past sixteen years.

The Masonic lodge will conduct a grave-side service. A native of Keller, Texas where he was born November 15, 1887, he saw active service in the First World War in serving over seas fourteen months. He was a member of Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion.

He came to Clarendon in December of 1919, and has been conducting a steam laundry business here since that time. He was always held in highest esteem for his business integrity, and his family loyalty was such as to draw the admiration of all who knew him. His illness extended over a period of many months. Through a weak heart often compelled him to take to his bed, his indomitable energy took him back to his work at the first opportunity.

He is survived by his wife, a step daughter, Mrs. H. B. Settle Jr., and his mother, Mrs. C. A. Wilson of Blair, Oklahoma. His five brothers are David, Leonard and Virgil of Spur; Harvey of Wellington, and Billie Wilson of McLean.

His sisters are Mrs. R. Z. Taylor, Blair, Okla.; Mrs. G. D. Cason, Hereford; Mrs. O. S. Laughlin, Ada, Okla.; Mrs. J. A. Turner, Pampa; Mrs. C. C. Copeland, Mangum, Okla.; Mrs. Tom Helton of Clarendon.

Bronchos Will Play Phillips Blackhawks

This Friday night the Clarendon Bronchos journey over into the oil belt to play the Phillips Blackhawks in a non-conference engagement. The Phillips team is considered one of the strongest Class A teams in the Panhandle.

They have lost but one game and that being to the strong McLean Tigers, 6-7, in which the Tigers were hard pressed to win on a pass in the last minutes of the game. The Phillips boys have defeated a strong Chillicothe team this season, which is considered strong in its district. The Bronchos have lost only to the Lefors Pirates, having won over Claude and Wheeler.

The Bronchos are classed as the underdogs in this tussle, and the critics concede them but little chance in taking this one, since the Clarendon boys are new and have had little experience. However, the Bronchos are in good shape and have been improving wonderfully since the season began, and are likely to give a good account of themselves whether they win, lose or draw.

POULTRY WINNINGS TO COME LATER

A complete report on the poultry winnings of Donley county exhibitors at the Tri-State fair cannot be made in this issue due to the fact that the report came in at a late hour this morning—publication day. The report will be given in next issue.

Stamp Program Boosts Buying

Expenditures for food in Clarendon and Donley County were increased $2,457 during the month of September through the Government's food stamp program, it was revealed by L. J. Cappelman, Regional Director of the Surplus Marketing Administration for the thirteen Southern States.

This sum represented the amount of blue stamps issued by the Clarendon and Donley County Stamp Program office during the month. In addition, $2,928 of orange stamps were purchased from the Government during the period, bringing the total amount available for food purchases due to the stamp program to $5,385 for September.

Participating in the Clarendon and Donley County stamp program during the month were 224 cases, representing with their families, 887 persons. Those participating represented 75 percent of the 1,172 persons in the area eligible to receive stamps during September.

Since the stamp plan has been in operation, $10,214.50 in blue stamps have been issued in Clarendon and Donley County, augmenting regular food expenditure for the area by that amount.

Amount of blue stamps issued per person during September averaged $2.77.

A. C. Donnell is supervisor of the local stamp office in the City Hall.

Bill expects to beat the date and enlist in the naval service, he informed a Leader reporter. Bill formerly resided at Memphis.

Thieves Raid Dale Home

Again sneak thieves make a haul in Donley county. The latest raid was made on the Sam Dale home near Goldston some time between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. while the family was absent from home.

Clothing, bedding, canned goods and a Winchester pump shotgun and many other articles were taken.

A few nights before, a screen was pruned off at the Dale home, and a bed in a room seldom used indicated that some one had slept in the bed. Nothing was taken though drawers of the furniture were partly closed as if a search had been made.

Up in Armstrong county, two homes were entered the same day. Two men in a car inquired "if any one was at home" when a neighbor was met near one place that was robbed. The young man seeing the parties and car could give only a meager description of the thieves work out of Amarillo. Evidence to this effect was indicated when the Watt Hardin home was entered in the same manner near Ashtola about a month ago.

Donley Exhibit At State Fair

County agent H. M. Breedlove returned from Dallas Saturday morning where the county exhibit for Donley county was put on display by the county agent. There are approximately 200 exhibits from other counties at the State Fair Breedlove said. The theme of the Donley county display as well as agricultural products was the preservation of wildlife.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Following a fall at the Selden Bagby home near Ashtola some two weeks ago, in which her ankle was broken, Mrs. Lolla Bagby has not made the improvement expected. She was taken to an Amarillo hospital Wednesday in a Buntin ambulance for medical and surgical treatment.

LADY IS INJURED

While Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Haile were visiting their son, Byrom Haile, at Ada, Oklahoma last week, Mrs. Haile fell and broke her leg. She was returned to her ranch home in Hutchinson county Wednesday in an ambulance.

The controversy over the operation of Adair hospital was settled in one respect Tuesday when a hearing was had upon the temporary injunction of Dr. B. L. Jenkins some months back. The doctor, through his attorney, alleged that a certain contract made by and between the county commissioners and the hospital holding board in 1931, was void.

The decision of Judge Moss in part reads: "Injunction made permanent enjoining county commissioners from paying any moneys upon or by virtue of the contract of July 18, 1931 between Donley county and the Adair hospital, and that such contract is void, and that defendants, Donley county, and its commissioners court were without lawful authority to make."

County judge R. Y. King is of the opinion that the county can legally lease the Hospital for a year at a time. Since the granting of the injunction, the county authorities have been paying only for the care of indigent patients at Adair hospital. "Under the laws of Texas, the county must provide hospitalization for its indigent citizens," Judge King stated.

The Holding Board was in session Tuesday afternoon hearing statements of various ones interested in leasing the Hospital. The county commissioners, licensed physicians including both M. D. and D. O. practitioners, were each given a hearing.

According to rumor, there is a movement to vote bonds and construct a county hospital. Those who favor this plan stated Wednesday that "the issue will carry 4-to-1 to settle a controversy with which 90 percent of the citizens are disgusted."

The Holding Board has first authority in the management of Adair hospital as provided by the State Statute. The Adair who had the building constructed and delegated the use of the building by the county as a hospital under certain restrictions.

Mrs. W. A. Davis and Mrs. Bruce returned from Amarillo Saturday. They spent several days there visiting Mrs. John Black and Mrs. Ross Baker, daughters of Mrs. Davis.

Better Homes In Demand

Three sales of the better class of homes were reported to the Leader the past week. This indicates that there is a growing demand for the better and higher-priced homes in Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allmond are to occupy the "Texan", a beautiful residence being constructed by the Cameron company, through purchase this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shelton are the new owners of the J. H. Burson home next to the Wesley Knorrp home on the west side of town. The home will be remodeled, and other improvements made before occupancy begins.

A sale of one of the prettiest homes in town is that of the J. T. Patman brick home of English architecture. This home becomes the property of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McMurtry by purchase a few days ago.

Cork Trees To Be Planted

Texas may be chosen as the proving ground to test the feasibility of growing cork oak in the United States.

According to information, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service is planning a small experiment program during the coming year on the planting and cultivation of the species, provided the necessary supply of acorns can be obtained.

It is said that the climate of parts of Texas is very similar to that of the mountainous portions of Spain, Portugal and north Africa, the natural habitat of the cork oak. The bark is the portion of the tree processed for commercial cork products.

The United States has been importing about $10,000,000 worth of cork yearly from the Mediterranean area. Growing shortage to meet defense requirements has raised the question about the possibility of growing a backlog of the material in this country.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH

THE OLD SAGE.
Then there was the wise old man of the community who said "it is impossible to grasp opportunity when you have both hands in your pockets."

THIS WAR DOPE.
We are not supposed to believe battle reports until we hear both sides; and after we hear both sides, we don't know what to believe unless it is that the liars contest still is in full blast.

PRINTERS ONLY.
The new-fangled talking machine to hang on the Lino to broadcast trouble yelled out: "Tight line—bastard Z—grease gun buddy—and just then the clutch wheel 'froze' on the shaft and the demonstration was all off.

MONEY CONTEST.
We may expect some company to come out any day now and offer a $50,000 prize over the radio for the best title for the new war.

THE JOINER.
Some people are so anxious to be seen that they get into processions without finding out who are in front, or where they are going.

ONE CELL IDEA.
Most men never feel the urge of the brotherhood of man until they arrive at the point to where they feel like they must have help, and have it right now.

DO TELL!
A hick town is a place where the religious are easily recognized because the others have nothing to fight about.

SMART GUYS.
If you want a man to praise your judgment, all you have to do is to agree with him.

Highway Carries Danger to All

AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—The Texas Highway Department today appealed to motorists driving thru-out the State to be more careful when approaching or passing a long sections where highway repairs or construction is underway in an effort to halt a rising toll of serious injuries to flagmen and other highway workers.

Recently an increasing number of flagmen and workers have been struck and severely injured, and in one case a flagman was killed. With the approach of winter, wet weather, and the season when driving conditions are more hazardous, extra caution should be used to prevent even more such accidents, it was emphasized.

Snappy young wife: To be frank with you, if you were to die, I should certainly marry again.

Harassed husband: I have no objection. And I'm not going to worry about the troubles of a fellow I shall never know.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You No. 32 of a Series

"THIS BOOK ISN'T WORTH READING ... tear down the Library!"

One bad book doesn't make it a bad library. You wouldn't destroy the library to get rid of a few bad books.

A similar situation holds in the beer industry. The vast majority of beer retailers operate clean, decent law-abiding establishments. Now and then an occasional "black sheep" retailer turns up who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

The Beer Industry is now actively working to eliminate such retailers. We want to protect your right to drink good beer and our right to make it.

We also want to protect the economic benefits of beer. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from more than 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only the reputable places where beer is sold, and (2) reporting any law violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

CONSERVATION DISTRICT AND BENEFITS AND CONTROL

According to County Agent, H. M. Breedlove, many questions have been asked about the soil conservation district and one of the questions that has been asked is: "What are soil conservation districts?" Soil Conservation districts are farmer-formed and farmer-run, for farmers. They are established only upon the petition of the land owners and then not until the will of the majority has been expressed in a vote. The districts are controlled and operated by a board of 5 supervisors, 3 of whom are originally elected by the farmers and two are appointed by the State Board of Supervisors. At an election on the 1st Tuesday in October, 1943, the 5 supervisors will be elected by the farmers, and at the conclusion of their term, farmers will re-elect to fill these offices again. Every landowner has a voice in shaping the policies of the district in which he lives. The vote of the one-horse farmer is just as strong as that of the large-scale operator. The aims of the district and the soil and moisture conservation measures it recommends are set forth in a work plan which is drawn up by the local supervisors and approved or disapproved by the landowners. The districts are legally constituted units of local government set up under a State law. They are a new kind of government organization. They have no allegiance to any State or Federal bureau or agency, or to any local organization. They have no taxing power, no power to issue bonds or in any way to bring indebtedness against the district or county. The operating procedure represents democracy at its best since not a step is taken, not a plan is made, not an erosion-control measure is placed upon the land that does not first have the concurrence of the land owners affected.

In carrying out the work of conservation within a district, the farmer-controlled board of supervisors may call upon all local, state and federal agencies for such assistance, technical or otherwise, as the agency may be in a position to provide. At the present the Department of Agriculture is cooperating with over 300 districts throughout the country. In the districts now operating, agricultural, business and professional interests have allied themselves in a manner seldom duplicated in any interests or other types of cooperative activity. The principal aim behind all districts is to bring about the best possible use of every acre of land and at the same time to conserve and rebuild it so that the men, women and children on the land may live decently, securely, and happily. These districts probably provide the best possible instrument ever devised in this country for the establishment of permanent agriculture through the building of a conservation culture. In some districts the supervisors have made arrangements for the providing of machinery for doing conservation work and the CCC and WPA are doing large amounts of the labor. In many of the districts where the CCC is not available, farmers are receiving the assistance of the WPA in fighting erosion. These WPA projects are locally sponsored by the districts themselves.

Recently, much has been said about decentralization of the work of agricultural agencies and the turning over of agricultural programs to county, State or local organizations. Through the soil conservation districts, soil conservation activities have been decentralized to the greatest degree. Its operations are guided by farmers themselves, through the functioning of domestic processes at what is often called the grass root level. Through this approach the responsibility of soil and water conservation work is actually in the hands of the farmers themselves, and through district organizations the farmers are enabled to receive assistance from all federal and state agencies having assistance available; and without this district organization, farmers will not have this advantage.

The 5 supervisors for a district are, by law, land owners residing within a district who are actively engaged in farming or ranching. These men may be paid a salary of $4.00 a day for not more than 20 days a year, or a total of $80.00 for the year. This money is provided by the State Legislature, and taxpayers of all counties help to provide these funds whether or not a soil conservation district is operating within their home county.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker University of Texas Library

Goliad—Many Were Dead, But a Few Had Been Quick

When dawn broke on the historic Palm Sunday of 1836, March 27, Mexican soldiers lined up and shot down some 330 Texans, most of them newly-adopted, outside the old mission fort at Goliad and so piled a second fagot onto the pyre which a month later was to consume themselves at San Jacinto. It is well remembered by Texans of today, this tragic legend of Fannin and his men; but few recall that thirty-five lived to tell it.

The stories of the massacre which these survivors have left for historians to piece together—those, that is, which are to be found at all—turn up in many out-of-the-way volumes in the University of Texas Library's unequalled Texas Collection. One of them, for instance, appears in the voluminous "Personal Narrative" of John Russell Bartlett, director of the United States and Mexican Boundary Commission in the early 1850's. It doesn't jibe in every particular with the details of the event as historians have reconstructed it, but it's colorful and romantic and worth retelling.

Bartlett was making final preparations for his commission's long trek across the West to California in 1850 when, one Sunday, he was invited to Goliad and there met a certain "Judge H.," the hero of the episode which he contributed to the Fannin legend. It doesn't seem to have taken much persuasion to wheedle the judge into telling his tale.

Santa Anna's Orders

The Texans had surrendered to General Urrea on March 20th after their heroic stand in the Battle of the Coleta, at the close of which they were at the mercy of the Mexican forces, which outnumbered them overwhelmingly and had just been reinforced with artillery. They were to be treated as prisoners of war and sent to the United States on the first available boat. A week passed while they waited at Goliad, and then word came from Santa Anna that all were to be shot, the terms of their surrender notwithstanding. On the famous Palm Sunday morning, Bartlett wrote, "the prisoners were marched out of the fort in three divisions, full of high expectations that the time of their release had arrived, and were shot down almost simultaneously by the Mexican soldiery. The gentleman above referred to was in the second division, and owes his escape to the most wonderful presence of mind."

The Judge Wins Out

It was not so easy as just that, however, Bartlett relates; for "the soldiers stood within six feet of the prisoners, and fired with fixed bayonets. As soon as they had fired, they rushed upon the victims with their bayonets to complete the slaughter. Judge H. was pierced through the shoulder, bearing the wound without showing signs of life."

Then, too, "camp followers came to rob the dead" afterwards, and one of them, "in cutting away his hunting shirt to get at his coat which was beneath, wounded him in the neck, at which he let escape some expression of pain; whereupon the Mexican, finding him still alive, beat him upon the head—until he supposed life extinct." But the good judge lived and made a stumbling getaway in the dark.

In his monumental "History of Texas," H. Yoakum mentions twenty-seven men who were known to have escaped from Urrea that morning and eight others, doctors and hospital attendants, who were spared because they were needed to attend the Mexican wounded; but his list includes nothing which reveals conclusively the identity of Bartlett's ingenious "Judge H."

Buying Woolens Much Easier

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 8.—Making wise purchases of wool goods has never been an easy job for anyone not an expert, but this year it is easier than ever before because of a new law and new labels.

Under the Wool Products Labeling Act, which went into effect in July, all manufactured products containing wool, except rugs and upholstery fabrics, must bear a label telling what kind of fibers the product contains and how much of each kind.

Prices received by farmers have increased six points in the past month and are 131 per cent of the 1909-1914 parity average, the highest level in 11 years, says the Agricultural Marketing Service.

EARL LEA FUNERAL AT WILLS POINT

Funeral services for Earl Lea, 68, who died at Terrell Sunday, Sept. 28, were held at the First Baptist Church in Wills Point Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. Jack Merritt, pastor, conducted the services. Interment followed at White Rose cemetery with Williams funeral home in charge of arrangements.

An exceptionally large crowd of sympathizing friends and acquaintances attended the services both at the church and the committal at White Rose.

Outstanding and significant in the floral offering was the one made by the family—flowers arranged in design and color so as to simulate the American Flag, as the youngest son, Ray Erwin, is a member of the U. S. army.

Special songs at the services were rendered by Miss Mozelle Goodwin. A beautiful floral offering was in evidence and the most touching tribute was the one paid by the school children of both grade and high, who lined the campus across to Lea home and stood at attention for thirty minutes during the funeral procession from the house. Mr. Lea had served as a member and later as president of the school board for years in the past and his nine children attended and graduated from Wills Point high school.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mrs. O. L. Fink whom he married here September 2, and by three sons and six daughters and twenty grandchildren. He was a consistent member of the Baptist church of Wills Point for years.

The Wills Point Chronicle devoted a full column in paying tribute to Mr. Lea who was a retired business man of that city.

TRUCK DRIVERS COMPLYING WITH 38,000-LB. LAW

Texas truck drivers on the whole are complying with the new 38,000-pound weight law passed by the recent Legislature, State Police Director Homer Garrison reported last week.

From May through July, the first three full months after the old 7,000-pound load limit law was repealed, the License and Weight division filed 1,111 cases for violations, compared with 5,634 in the same period of 1940.

Most of the violations, Garrison said, are committed by out-of-state truckers.

TERPEZONE GENERATOR

What It Is.
The Terpezone Generator is an instrument to treat diseases of the respiratory system by breathing the vapor into that system.

The function of this generator is to produce an artificial mountain air-intensified; a pinene-ozonide, in a doctors office. OUT DOOR air is used constantly, to produce Terpezone. The calcium chloride lumps serve merely as a drying agent. The air stream is divided —part going to make ozone and the rest passes over liquid pinene. They are then combined to produce the vapor or fumes that you see coming out of the top globe. There is no "free" or excess ozone in Terpezone vapor.

The diseases successfully treated with the Terpezone Generator are those in the respiratory system such as colds, influenza, bronchial and lobar pneumonia, pulmonary tuberculosis, hay fever, whooping cough, bronchial or

Dearest Folks,
This finds me fairly well settled down and gradually getting acquainted with Puerto Rico and its customs.

The island is really beautiful, even more beautiful than I first realized. It is covered with beautiful vegetation, palms and other lovely trees. All of the hi-ways are under an arch formed of flamboyant trees which are full of large red blossoms. The climate here is ideal, always comfortable.

Now as to my life with the air corps. I'm going to advanced radio operators school in the mornings. When I finish this school I am in line to go to gunnery school. All radio operators must learn how to operate the guns on a plane.

I fly almost every day on a bombing mission. We fly out over a small island and drop practice bombs. I'm really enjoying the flying part of it.

We are getting 54 new bombers from California. They should be down here before long.

Our barracks are really nice down here in Puerto Rico. They are said to be the nicest the U. S. has, and I don't doubt it. They have all the comforts of a modern hotel. We have a nice library and three shows on the field. In our day room we have pool and ping pong tables, as well as other games.

I guess I'll close for this time. Hoping to hear from you all soon, I remain,

Truck Owners To Register

Truck owners, including farmers, are to be asked to help the War Department in its transportation planning for national defense, Director H. H. Williamson of the A&M College Extension Service stated today. M. L. Wilson, director of extension work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, recently asked the cooperation of all state extension services in the survey.

The inventory is being made at the request of the War Department and the National Defense Advisory Commission by units of the Federal Works Agency in cooperation with each of the state motor vehicle registration agencies.

Within the next few days each truckowner will receive a special national defense inventory card from the Texas highway traffic advisory committee to the War Department requesting information regarding the make of his truck, kind of body, capacity, time of year the vehicle is most urgently needed in its owner's business, and whether in an emergency he would be willing to hire or lease it to a government agency.

Similar facts also will be requested on all busses and on all freight trailers with a capacity of 3,000 pounds or more. Information given on the cards will be confidential.

They wouldn't be a match for the steel-clad super-dreadnaughts plying the seven seas today, but in the fight for Texas freedom and the period of the Republic of Texas they gave a worthy account of themselves—the 13 vessels of war which once flew the Lone Star flag, according to University of Texas Library records.

JOBS FOR TOMORROW

The chemical laboratories of the petroleum industry are now laying the foundation for industries of the future. Out of their research are being created new products and more efficient ways of making old ones. Synthetic rubber, plastics, explosives, basic chemicals and scores of other essentials developed in petroleum laboratories are already being made on a commercial scale. These scientific discoveries of materials vital to peace-time needs, as well as National defense, are opening up new fields of industrial activity.

Texas as the leading oil State is playing an important part in the creation of these new American enterprises. As a result, many young Texans now preparing themselves in our schools and colleges will find places in the industries resulting from this research.

Pastor's Statement

Dear Friends—

Last Wednesday night my resignation as pastor of the First Christian Church in this city was tendered to the Board. This action was entirely voluntary on my part. However we have had a few plans and desires for some time, and the Lord has opened the way seemingly for them to materialize.

I shall continue with post graduate work in Phillips University at Enid, Okla. for the next three years. We have also accepted an attractive offer from a church close to Enid in connection with our schooling.

This Sunday, Oct. 12th, will close my ministry with the local church. I have enjoyed the fellowship among the people of this church and community. The members of my church have treated me as well or better than any church I have served as yet. We love them one and all. Furthermore may I express my appreciation for those in Clarendon who have made our stay in this city so pleasant during the past two years. I cannot mention everyone however we shall never forget the spirit of co-operation and helpfulness manifested by the Donley County Leader and Clarendon News. It is not easy to leave dear friends every few years such as ministers are called upon to do. May God richly bless you all and keep you in His good care.
