PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL COMMITTEE REPORTS MORE INTEREST BEING TAKEN

Wide interest throughout the entire county is being displayed in plans for celebrating the President's Birthday. Chairman George Norwood said this morning that he believed this year's observance would outshine any ever held in Donley County. Miss Lavene McMurtry has been put in charge of ticket sales and expenses. Invitations are being sent to surrounding towns where no observance will be made.

Mrs. Barcus Antrobus has set a goal of twelve tables for the Bridge and 42 Tournament to be held at the Antro Hotel on the night of the 30th beginning at eight o'clock. Many of those attending this tournament plan to go on to the Dance at the Opera House when the tournament is ended. The dance will begin at nine o'clock and last until one. Music will be furnished by record and records will be changed often throughout the evening. An effort was made to secure a band for this occasion but the committee finally came to the conclusion that the dancers had rather have good recordings than poor band music. Mr. Norwood stated so many musicians are now working for Uncle Sam that it was impossible to secure the services of a really good band without paying a terrific fee.

Prizes for the Bridge and 42 Tournament will go on display at Norwood's Pharmacy on Friday, and will include a pair of Roseville vases and two decks of cards from Norwood's; a bed light from the West Texas Utilities; merchandise from the Clarendon Furniture, Breeze Powell, Rexall Drug, Wilson Service Station and Mellinger & Rosenwasser; a lovely pearl necklace from Greene's; a tie from Allen Bryan's; a beautiful Rumrill vase from Goldston Jewelry; theatre tickets from the Pastime; a box of cigars from Willard Skelton; a Gainsboro painting from the Ben Franklin; a pottery pitcher from Thompson's Hardware and a Pot Plant from Hoy's Flower Shop. The entire business district of Clarendon seems interested and optimistic over the celebration. Mr. Kinney Lane and his capable staff of teachers donated their time in making posters to advertise the Dance and Tournament.

Reservations for the Bridge and 42 Tournaments may be made by calling Mrs. Barcus Antrobus at the Antro Hotel. Tickets for the Dance may be secured from Bud Knorpp at the Donley County State Bank or from Norwood's Pharmacy.

Geo. E. Norwood is county chairman of the President's birthday celebrations. Mrs. Johnnie Blocker is vice chairman; Mrs. J. T. Hoy is vice chairman in charge of women's activities; Mrs. B. C. Antrobus is secretary, and Mrs. Harold Bugbee is treasurer.

ADAMSON TAKES APPEAL

Following his conviction in a district court at Childress last week on a charge of embezzling county funds of Donley county, the case of J. W. Adamson has been appealed to the court of Criminal Appeals.

Adamson was charged with embezzling funds from this county during the period that he was county assessor-collector, and was given a prison sentence of two years at Childress. In a hearing here last fall on the same charge, the jury failed to agree on a verdict.

Mr. Adamson was charged on eight counts of embezzlement instead of eleven as stated in the Leader last week.

Registration For Ages 20-44

The third registration, which will be held on February 16th and will include all unregistered males who were born between February 17, 1897, and December 31, 1921, will be handled by the local boards and their assistants in most sections of the State, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, announced today.

General Page added, however, that additional assistance will be required in some of the more densely populated sections, and that such local boards are authorized to call for sufficient volunteer registrars to handle the registration. Volunteer registrars, he said, will serve without pay and will be required to attend instruction classes held by the local board several days prior to registration.

In the metropolitan areas of the State, a special registration place will be arranged for transients. In establishments of substantial size, registration booths will be provided to prevent loss of time from important tasks. In the port cities of Corpus Christi, Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange, and Galveston special registration places will be set up at or near the docks so that seamen will not lose time in seeking a place to register.

"We are anxious that this wartime registration be conducted without interference with any production, and these arrangements are intended for the benefit of the Nation as well as the worker," General Page said.

FIRE AT ALLEN FARM SUNDAY

Fire, presumed to have originated by spontaneous combustion in the feed packed in the building, caused the complete loss of the feed and building on the Dick Allen farm west of town Sunday.

The Clarendon fire department kept the blaze from spreading to other buildings, confining it to the storage house alone. Mr. Allen is deeply appreciative of the quick work of the fire department boys, and effective results of their efforts.

MASTOID TROUBLE

Buster, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Bain is in Adair hospital suffering from mastoid trouble. The necessity for an operation is not definitely known at this time, it is said.

Two Markets For Scrap Iron

County agent H. M. Breedlove stated this morning that all preparations had been made for the selling of old scrap iron by farmers in Donley county. Charley Risley is buying scrap iron in Clarendon every day of the week and on Fridays of each week in Hedley.

Farmers and ranchmen wishing to sell their old scrap iron can bring it to Clarendon any day to the Campbell wrecking yard or to Hedley on Fridays and receive eight dollars per ton for the old iron.

Nolie Simmons, Chairman of the USDA war board said that the eight dollars per ton is the price set by the government for the scrap iron in Donley county, this figuring off the freight and the expense of cutting the iron.

Breedlove said that all farmers and ranchmen that have scrap iron on the farm and ranch are urged to bring it in and sell it as soon as possible and in this way the government will get the much needed scrap iron that much earlier.

AAA Office Will Help Cotton Loan Men

The Donley County AAA Office is in a position to help farmers by estimating the equity held in cotton placed in the 1941 Commodity Credit Corporation Loan. To help in the estimation of the value of these equities, the AAA office was sent tickets by the Commodity Credit Corp., showing, when interest and insurance began, and how to figure it, when warehouse charges began, original amount of the loan, and grade and staple of the cotton in the loan. Also three times per week the spot market reports are sent, showing the ten spot markets to help in computing the present value of the cotton.

If you intend to sell your equities in this cotton, and do not know what it is worth, the county office would be glad to help you in any way possible.

Donley county farmers should know that, before equities may be transferred to a purchaser, the section on the copy of the 1941 CCC Form A, "Cotton Loan Forms," must be completely filled out, and signed by a witness approved by the Donley County AAA Committee. These witnesses are placed at strategic points all over the county.

The following are witnesses which may sign the 1941 CCC Cotton Form A:

W. W. Taylor, First National Bank, Clarendon, Texas; R. S. White, First National Bank, Clarendon, Texas; Van Kennedy, Farmers State Bank, Clarendon, Texas; Thompson Wright, Farmers State Bank, Clarendon, Texas; W. Registration February 16

Approximately 56,000 male residents in Texas will be registered in the 20 and 21-year-old age groups on February 16th, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, announced today.

National Selective Service Headquarters anticipates a total registration in the Continental United States of about 9,000,000 men between the ages of 20 and 45 years, General Page has been advised, and of these about 1,650,000 will be in the 20 and 21-year-old group.

It is also estimated that around 444,000 in the 36 to 44-year-old group will be registered in Texas on February 16th, together with some in the 21 to 36-year-old group who were unable or for other reasons did not register at the two previous registrations.

The age groups to be registered on February 16th include all men not previously registered who have attained their twentieth birthday on December 31, 1941, and who have not reached their forty-fifth birthday on February 16, 1942; that is: All unregistered males resident in the United States who were born between February 17, 1897 and December 31, 1921.

KILLS PORCUPINE WEDNESDAY

For some days the dogs of E. S. Ballew have been disturbed by something on the Frank Hardin farm to the north. Early Wednesday, Charley Longan and Warren Hardin's dog found a porcupine. The dog retreated hurriedly after the first charge on the peculiar varmint.

Not to be outdone even though minus shooting irons, Charles Longan annihilated the porcupine with a trace chain.

This is said to be the first porcupine in these parts in a great many years. They are native to the mountainous regions of New Mexico and Colorado.

POPE GETS HIS POSSUM

It will be recalled that J. D. Pope went back to Arkansas some years ago after living here for many years. It was because he wanted his "possum and tater" in season.

For several months he has had his bid in for a possum. Tuesday, the fossil crew found an opossum near their pit on Carroll creek just west of Goldston, but on their way in, no one but J. D. Pope talked them out of the varmint and proposed to have native "possum and tater" right here in old Donley county.

Auto-Use Stamps Now On Sale

The new federal auto-use tax stickers—price $2.09 each—went on sale at the local postoffice Sunday, the 18th.

The deadline for purchasing and displaying these stickers was first set at February 1st. The latest announcement is that they may be purchased any time during February.

Charge for stamps purchased later than Feb. 28 will be graduated according to the number of months remaining in the fiscal year. Under that plan, cost of the stamp in March will be $1.67, in April $1.25, in May 84 cents, and in June, 42 cents.

Stamps must be obtained in June for the new fiscal year, cost of which will be $5 for the full year. Thereafter stamps will be sold on a prorated monthly fee, based on a cost of approximately 42 cents per month.

At the time of purchase of his stamp, the customer will receive a postal card which must be filled out and mailed to the nearest collector of internal revenue, after affixing a 1-cent stamp, to record the fact that he has purchased an automobile stamp.

The stamps are green, 1½ inches by 2 inches, and are to be displayed in "reasonably conspicuous" places on autos.

Price is to be the same for all motor vehicles.

TERRACE TIME HERE AGAIN

County agent H. M. Breedlove will do much terracing and contouring this year according to the list that he has in his office. Breedlove expects to contour and terrace over twelve thousand acres of land in the next few months. Terracing and contouring has also increased, Breedlove said, because the AAA farm program has become more conservation minded than in the past years. This will aid the farmers of the county in getting the maximum amount of the soil building payment possible for the coming year. The program is nuder way at the present time Breedlove said and he will do his best to get to every one in the county who is desiring the work on their farms.

Woman of 65 Is Boll Puller

Though 65 years of age, Mrs. Barton pulled 1,643 bolls during the week. The highest 'pull' in one day was 450 pounds.

If any one knows of a better record than that, your Donley County Leader would like to hear of it.

MEMBER OF Panhandle Press Association

Gene Worley Did The Only Thing He Could Do

A few people who are criticizing Congressman Gene Worley for joining the navy should reserve their opinion until all the facts are known. It is expected that Gene will soon make a statement regarding his duties as a lieutenant commander, and it is only fair that people await a statement on his future plans.

One of his critics said that he "was sorry that Gene felt he should enlist in the armed forces." Practically everybody agrees that Gene did the only thing he could do. While he was running for office he said in every speech that if he voted for war he felt that it would be his duty to join the armed forces. Everyone who heard him speak knew that he said that, and they apparently approved because they afterward elected him.

If Gene had not offered his services to his country he would have been in the unsavory position of repudiating a vital campaign promise which the people took seriously. As for his joining the navy as a lieutenant commander, he had nothing to do with the rank given him. They wouldn't take him in the army because he was a married man and because he was more than 28, and they turned him down for the air force.

A number of other members of congress were definitely rejected. Gene asked only for active service. The grade in the navy they gave him was neither requested nor expected. They just put him where they wanted him, and he did what they said, which is, one supposes, the way things should be run. When a doctor or a dentist enlists he is given a commission whether he wants it or not. A Pampa boy, Wilks Chapman, is a lieutenant in the army because he is a dentist. A physician may enlist as a captain because he is a doctor. Even a nurse is a lieutenant. Commissions and ratings are given on the basis of qualifications because the armed forces think they merit it. Dee Blythe another Pampa boy, is a junior lieutenant in the press relations department because he has a bachelor of journalism degree from the University of Missouri and a lawyer's degree from Georgetown university. A skilled mechanic or radio expert or electrician is also given a high grade when he enlists. That being so it is unreasonable to assume that the navy thought that Gene Worley who had two years of military training at Texas A&M, a lawyer's degree from the University of Texas and is congressman on top of all that, was qualified for his post and that the navy has a job which they believe he can fill ably and patriotically? You can put it down that there was no politics mixed up in that enlistment.

Besides that, Gene had a time-honored and popular precedent to go by: Marvin Jones who joined the army and continued to let his able office force run his office with remote control suggestions from Marvin. Knowing Gene as the Panhandle knows him one would be safe in saying that the post of lieutenant commander is a source of chagrin to Gene; he would by far prefer being a buck private, but if the army and navy thought otherwise, he did the only thing he could do.—Pampa News.

INCOME TAX DOPE

The Income Tax Regulations governing the filing of reports for 1941 have been radically changed. This fact will require many persons to file who have not done so heretofore.

Every person in the United States, if married, or who can qualify under Uncle Sam's laws as the head of a household, who had a GROSS income during 1941 of $1500 or over, or if single, $750 or more, must file a return. The fact that you have business and family deductions, has nothing to do with your requirements to file under the above instructions, but of course would have to do with whether or not you pay a tax.

All Partnerships, whether operated for the entire year, or any portion of the year, are required to file a return. There are no exceptions to this rule.

If, during the year 1941 you paid to any person, if married as much as $1500, or if single as much as $750, in salaries, rents, commissions, interest, or any like income, then you are required to file a report on this directly to Washington in order to reach there before Feb. 15th, 1942. And don't forget, that in computing these payments, to include not only cash paid to them, but food, rooms, utilities, commissions, or anything of value, must be included as income. Such items must be figured and reported at a reasonable figure.

You are entitled to claim as exemptions all necessary expenses incurred in your business. You are not entitled to claim exemption on any personal and home expense whatsoever, so don't get your home and your business expenses mixed up. Uncle allows you the $1500, if married; or $750 if single, to take care of home expenses.

You may claim credit on children under 18 years of age living at home, over that age if mentally or physically disabled, other persons, such as father or mother, if living with you and dependent mainly upon you for support. In this case, all income of such persons must be included in your GROSS income.

If you maintain a home for yourself, but are unmarried, and have no such dependents, then your status is that of a single person, and you are entitled to $750 exemption, and not $1500.

The rate of tax is much higher than heretofore. The normal tax remains the same, 4%. But the surtax is much higher. Instead of having the first $4000 taxable income exempted as in previous years, this tax applies on the first taxable dollar, making this almost 10% on the first taxable dollar, and increases rapidly, after the first $2000 as your income increases.

In preparing to file your income tax reports, there are many things you must do before this can be done. You must get up your figures and data of income and deductions, all itemized and broken down, where you can present them in an understandable manner. If you have the services of some one to assist you, this is still necessary, for remember, this person cannot make these figures for you or pull them out of the sky. He wants them to be as nearly correct as can be, for remember, whoever makes them for you must swear that he believes your report is true and correct to the best of his knowledge and belief, so do not ask any one to swear to something that he knows is wrong. It is a serious offense, so get up your data before asking one to complete your return. This same person will be glad, if you will ask him, to give you any information he can to assist you, but it is your business to furnish all information. Those desiring forms for reporting, may secure them at this office without cost. You will be under no obligation to me. J. A. Warren.

Hoarding Batteries Is Useless

DETROIT, Mich.—Because a car owner cannot carry around a "spare" battery, like a spare tire, it is of the utmost importance that he extend the life of his battery to its full capacity.

In getting the greatest use out of his battery today each driver likewise helps in the conservation of materials vitally needed for war production in addition to the personal saving accomplished.

Some few persons, without thinking the problem through, have purchased batteries for future use, and have stored them in basements or garages. But they will find to their sorrow, later, that while the battery has not vanished physically, its utility has.

The reason a battery cannot be stored away is that it must be

Ship Building Plants Need Workers

Due to considerable publicizing of the letting of additional ship-building contracts at Orange, Texas, there has been an increased migration of workers into that area, according to Martin W. Waldron, manager of the United States Employment Service in Childress.

These additional contracts are still in the planning and drafting stage, and will result in no substantial increase in employment in the near future. When workers are needed, the regular clearance machinery of the United States Employment Service will be used to send workers to Orange, Waldron said. Until such time as workers in Childress are notified by their local office of the United States Employment Service that job opportunities exist at Orange, they will be taking long chances by going there.

The Navy urges its men to write home at least once a week. Midshipmen at Annapolis are forbidden to chew gum.

Ship Building Plants Need Workers

Due to considerable publicizing of the letting of additional ship-building contracts at Orange, Texas, there has been an increased migration of workers into that area, according to Martin W. Waldron, manager of the United States Employment Service in Childress.

These additional contracts are still in the planning and drafting stage, and will result in no substantial increase in employment in the near future. When workers are needed, the regular clearance machinery of the United States Employment Service will be used to send workers to Orange, Waldron said. Until such time as workers in Childress are notified by their local office of the United States Employment Service that job opportunities exist at Orange, they will be taking long chances by going there.

THE GAP SUBJECT.

"FOUND: Lady's bag in our car containing red lounging robe, red slippers, bottle of perfume and other feminine articles. Owner can have same by calling at my residence. If her story checks with that of my husband."
INSTINCT.
 Some men's idea of a "heaven on earth" is to have Methuselah's life span and Solomon's wives.

WAR SLOGAN.
 One of the latest slogans being prominently displayed reads: "Better buy than wear bonds!"

OH, GOLLY!
 This is election year. There will be plenty of opportunity to exercise your wishes in the matter. But it all depends on a poll tax, provided you are not exempt from paying a poll tax. Get your poll tax before February first, folks. City, county, state and national elections are right ahead. Don't wait another day. (P. S. Did you never forget to pay your poll tax, then wish that you had?)

DEFENSE STUFF.
 The Red Cross surgical department has issued an appeal for corset stays, explaining that they are excellent for smoothing and folding gauze. Get busy ladies, and start shedding!

INVENTION.
 Why can't some mechanically-minded dentist invent a method of cutting out a lot of false teeth noise by inventing a method of shifting gears noiselessly.

POETIC.
 Little Miss Muffet decided to rough it, In a cabin quite old and medieval. A rounder espied her, And plied her with cider, And she became the forest's prime evil.

ITCH REMEDY.
 Next to B.O. and halitosis, there is nothing so aggravating in war time as the itch. You older folks know we had an epidemic after the Spanish-American war. Then another after World War No. 1 We sure did, folks, we sure did. Now that the period is rolling around again, would it be a violation of the pure food law, medical act or anything else to say that the most effective remedy they found in any of the above instances, was to rub plain lye soap on the affected parts? That is what they used in the camps and got the job done. Get your lye soap ready. Boys from the camps said one application a day for ten days cured the worst cases when the sulphur remedies failed.

DOLLAR STUFF.
 It won't be long now! When you have a blowout you will call a dollar-a-year man. He sends out a dollar-a-mile man to fix it. Then you will pay a dollar-a-week to the dollar-a-year man during the duration.

"Something's got to be done around here," said the cook as she smelled the beans scorching. See you next week.

Crop Insurance Notes Bear No Interest

COLLEGE STATION — Notes that don't bear interest should attract every Texas farmer, according to George Slaughter, chairman, state AAA committee.

Premium notes handled in this manner are only one of several outstanding features of cotton crop insurance being sold to Texas cotton farmers for the first time this year, he said.

Under the program, farmers may insure either 50 or 75 percent of their normal production against all unavoidable hazards. Insurance contracts also may be used as collateral security for money advanced in making a cotton crop, he said.

"Farmers should not ask: Can I afford to take it? Instead they should ask: Can I afford not to take it?" Slaughter said in pointing out that insurance guarantees a cash income for every cooperating farmer.

Realizing farmers want insurance as soon as it is applied for and not six or eight months later, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has eliminated much of the so-called red tape in an effort to speed up insurance work, the AAA official said.

"Cotton crop insurance begins when seed goes in the ground and stops when cotton is weighed in at the gin and farmers can't ask for much better insurance," Slaughter said.

Seaman petty officers of the Navy wear rating badges on the right arm, other petty officers wear them on the left.

A cabbage bought at a market may be expected to contain 60 percent of its original Vitamin C content. If many of the outside leaves are removed, the home maker likely loses another 20 percent.

Before the war only 37 percent of England's food was produced on the British Isles; today the figure is around 60 percent. Usually the Isles have around 12 million acres of land in cultivation; in 1941, some 16 million acres were put under the plow.

Wholewheat comprises only 3% of all the flour sold in the United States, notwithstanding that the whole grain contains three times more phosphorus, four times as much iron and eight times as much vitamin B. Both have the same number of calories.

The Victory Book Campaign

The radio and the daily press have carried news of the Victory Book Campaign which began officially on the 12th of this month. It is sponsored by The American Library Association, The American Red Cross and The National Service Organizations for National Defense, and headquarters for the campaign is in New York City.

The public library in every community has been designated as the normal collection center for the community. Therefore, the City Library will be glad to serve in that capacity, caring for all contributions of books and seeing that they are sent to the designated centers. Those having books which they are unable to bring to the library may notify the librarian, Mrs. Burton, and the books will be called for.

The statement is made that it is expected that this contribution of books will be larger than exists in any library in the world—the goal is 10,000,000 books. The purposes as stated are: To collect books for our soldiers, sailors, and marines as a supplement to the library services maintained by the Army and Navy in forts, camps, posts, stations and on ships; to provide reading matter for the U. S. O. houses outside the camps, and for the American Merchant Marine Library Association. If the supply is more than sufficient for these needs, to provide books for men, women and children in areas where industrial activities have increased populations, so that existing library resources are inadequate or nonexistent.

The Victory Book Campaign is under the supervision of an Executive Board made up of two representatives and one alternate from each of the three sponsoring organizations. A state director has been secured for each state.

The appeal is made to every type of organization as well as to individuals to assist in the campaign, and the directors as to the types of books called for include all the types of fiction enjoyed by men—adventure, aviation, humor, mystery, historical novels and westerns; text books, particularly in mathematics and science—but the caution is given that technical and scientific books earlier than 1935 are not useful. Travel of the last ten years is asked; texts in present use in law and medical schools are wanted by the large number of men who have left such schools to enter the service; accounting and shorthand books; and histories, particularly of Europe and North and South America. So varied is the list—these and many more—that we all may find something to contribute—and we will—V for Victory!

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Grantham of near Tell visited in the home of her brother, H. W. Adams and family at the Naylor schoolhouse Sunday.

Miss Lelia Clifford of the Pam-pa school faculty, spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. W. T. Clifford.

Brian Aherne Co-Stars With Claudette Colbert and Milland

To steal another man's wife right from under his nose takes plenty of doing especially when Claudette Colbert is the wife and Ray Milland the husky, six-foot husband. But Brian Aherne's the boy who does it in Paramount's gayest comedy of the season, "Skylark," which opens Wednesday at the Pastime Theatre.

Cast as a smooth-talking bachelor, Aherne convinces the depressed Claudette that her five years of married life have been as colorful as an empty picture frame and just about as lively. When a husband's business career becomes more important than paying attention to his wife, that's just too bad for the husband, says Aherne. And one thing leads to another until poor Claudette is torn between a deep affection for her first mate and a yen for her playmate.

In between laughs and comedy situations, Aherne manages to inject a few serious moments as a romantic suitor and hard-fighting rival which reflect flashes of his magnificent stage roles such as the one he portrayed opposite Katherine Cornell in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

He finally made his first appearance under the Paramount banner in "The Song of Songs" opposite Marlene Dietrich, scoring an even bigger hit than the studio executives had promised.

Oil Industry And Defense

DALLAS, Jan. 21.—The Texas oil industry was mobilizing today for any war-time emergency.

A Statewide organization to meet defense needs and effect co-ordination with civilian defense authorities was being set up under leadership of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. Co-operating in it are oil operators and companies, field superintendents and farm bosses, and petroleum engineers and technical experts.

First oil area to be organized is the Texas Gulf Coast, with East Texas next and others to follow soon, George Sawtelle, association president, said. Local field committees in the producing areas will work closely with civilian defense authorities to co-ordinate oil industry defense measures with all other defense activities.

"The function of the Texas Mid-Continent in this program is to assist the operators in meeting the requirements of defense precautions," Mr. Sawtelle explained. "Through our Statewide organization and plan, we hope to take the work off the backs of the oil producers and effect co-ordinated action in all the fields of the State."

Technical committees of the industry are developing the safest methods for effective blackouts, and studying ways to eliminate hazards and extra expense without interfering with production operations. The association will assemble this information from technical groups, oil operators and civilian defense authorities and keep the field committees advised.

The organization now being set up will extend from the operators down to the individual leases, to make complete and efficient working facilities available to civilian defense officials. The facilities in each area can be put into operation by the chairman of the field committee upon authorization by the proper defense authorities.

"The program has been planned to cause the least possible interruption of necessary industry activity," Mr. Sawtelle said. "Unity of action is highly essential, and as far as our industry is concerned, can be accomplished only through this character of organized effort. We know that every operator will co-operate to the fullest in meeting the demands of civilian defense."

Navy etiquette says that "a courtesy visit should last ten minutes, unless the caller is requested to stay longer."

Chiropractic

Q. Why do Chiropractors continually "harp" on spinal nerve pressure as the cause of disease?

A. Because we know that the spine is the keyboard of vitality to all organs, regulates their functions—and that when the nerves are pinched function in the organs they supply is diminished, thus proving our theory correct.

Because we know that the spinal column is the only place in the entire body structure where the trunk nerves pass between and through the joints, therefore the only place where the nerves can become pinched.

Because by Spinal Analysis we are enabled to detect the nerve interference to any organ which may be disordered.

Because we know that disordered function is the first symptom of disease sets in after functional disorder has been established—always after and not before.

Because we know that as yet a perfect spine has never been found—and that Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments remove the nerve pressure which is the primary cause of disease.

Many National Lawmakers In Service Now

It has been learned through private sources that Cong. Gene Worley has requested that his congressional salary be turned back into the Treasury from the date he enlisted in the naval service. Several others in the service have done likewise.

In the service at this time are several congressmen and a number of senators. Still others are going into the service as reserve officers, or by enlistment. Cong. Oamers of Pennsylvania is a mere buck private in the army.

Others enlisted recently. Representatives Lyndon Johnson and Worley of Texas held officers' commissions in the naval reserve and are on active duty. On temporary duty as a naval officer is Representative Van Zandt of Penn. Representatives Baldwin of New York, a captain in the army reserves, and Maas of Minnesota, a colonel in the Marine Corps reserve, expect to go into active service within the next month or two. Representative Vreeland of New Jersey, a captain in the military intelligence service, already is on active duty. Representative Weiss of Pennsylvania has enlisted in the naval reserve and expects to report for active duty soon.

At least two Senators are reserve officers — Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts and Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky.

During the last war, several members of Congress served in the armed forces but did not draw their congressional pay. Their status, however, differed from most of those in the present conflict, as they resigned from Congress during the war. Subsequently Congress passed a resolution making up for them the difference in their army pay and the pay they would have drawn had they stayed in Congress during the war.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

Of Conrad Rohrer, Houston and Mrs. M.

Conrad Rohrer, who seems never to have belonged to any organized company of fighting men but somehow managed to get in on most of the fun, isn't mentioned in any formal history of Texas and probably doesn't rightly deserve mention there. Yet in all probability he will be remembered for many, many years to come.

Like so many others, Rohrer owes his secure place in the folklore of Texas to Noah Smithwick, whose little volume of memoirs, "The Evolution of a State," has been referred to time and again in this column as one of the best-loved books in the extensive Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library. Smithwick devoted a total of about two pages to Rohrer, and they have made him immortal.

Though officially unattached most of the time, Rohrer had a knack for being at the right place at the right time to take part in many of the incidents now familiar to all students of the history of revolutionary Texas. And he has this one real distinction: He clambered up the church steeple in San Antonio just after its fall and unfurled the Texas flag there for the first time. Otherwise, however, the story of his career hangs on the outermost fringes of history.

Rohrer's Psychology
One of the anecdotes Smithwick told, for instance, lives on because of its psychological value, having no historical value at all. It was just before the Battle of Concepcion, and one of the Texans—"weak knees," Smithwick called him—was rather apprehensive about the outcome. "Boys," he whispered, "if that's a big force of them they'll whop us." Rohrer was quick to respond. "Shet up, d-n you," he growled; don't you say they'll whop us; you're whipped already."

Rohrer also saw action at San Jacinto, where he and a few friends swam the bayou beforehand and stole some of Santa Anna's horses. But what people remember best about him is the story of his encounter with the fabulous "Mrs. M.," who also had her trouble with General Houston.

"When the army was in retreat to San Jacinto," Smithwick related, "General Houston issued an order for work oxen to be taken wherever found." Now Rohrer—"General Rohrer," they called him—was wagon-master with the army at the time, and in his official capacity began rounding up all the oxen he could find. Among them were two belonging to this "Mrs. M.," "an old woman who had a farm on the Brazos." Mrs. M. and Her Oxen
"The teams were all hitched up ready to start," Smithwick continued, "when up rode Madame with knife and pistol belted on. Spurring up to Rohrer she commanded him to unhitch her oxen." But Rohrer wasn't to be outdone easily and explained that he had his orders, and orders were orders. That, however, calmed her not at all; so he referred her to General Houston.

"Houston attempted to explain the exigencies of the case," according to Smithwick, "but the Amazon swore she would have them, emphasizing her determination with oaths that took all the wind out of the General's sail, though he was accounted a proficient in the art of swearing. Throwing up his hands he exclaimed: 'Take them, my dear woman, take them. For God Almighty's sake take them.'" And so she did; but she had to unhitch them herself, for Rohrer was disgusted.

Thus Mrs. M. retrieved her precious oxen and rode off in triumph—"having vanquished both General Houston and General Rohrer," as Smithwick put it, "the only time either of them was ever whipped."

Worley on Leave of Absence Granted by House for Service

Local assertions that the 18th District congressional seat became vacant when Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock joined the navy led to a search of regulations covering such events.

The answer came in the Constitution of the United States. Article I, section 5 says that each house of Congress shall be the judge of elections, returns, qualifications of members, etc.

The House gave Rep. Worley a leave of absence to serve in the armed forces. The House gave Marvin Jones a similar leave in 1918.

Should the governor of Texas declare the House seat vacant and call a special election the people of the district could vote. When the man receiving the majority of votes arrived in Washington, the House would say there was no vacancy. And, according to the Constitution, the House is the sole judge.

The opinion of more than one Amarillo attorney is that Rep. Worley's joining the navy did not affect his standing in the House as the representative of his district.

At various times, particularly during wars, the House—and the Senate—have granted leaves to members for service in the fighting forces and for other purposes.

Representative Worley will not campaign for re-election this year, but his name will be on the ticket. Marvin Jones was re-elected in 1918 without a campaign. His name was put on the ticket by friends, and he had no opponent. He was serving in the army when he was notified of his re-election. He served until 1941 and was succeeded by Representative Worley. —Amarillo News.

Hatchery Begins Biggest Run

Authorities are urging poultry production on a big scale this season to help with the national food supply. The Clarendon hatchery has planned to help meet that emergency.

The first hatchery unit was set Monday with 6,150 pedigreed eggs imported from Oklahoma. They include White Rocks, Buff Orpington, Reds, White Wyandottes, White Leghorns and Barred Rocks.

As the season advances, 6,150 eggs will be added twice weekly. When the full capacity of the plant is reached, there will be 114,000 eggs on hatch to come off in rotation so that the chicks can receive proper attention to produce the best birds possible.

Eggs weigh approximately one and a half pounds to the dozen that are set. When the capacity is reached with 114,000 eggs in the huge incubators, the eggs will weigh 14,250 pounds.

Chicks hatched here not only supply the local demand, but are shipped into seven states, some going as far as Iowa. Clarendon Hatchery chicks are well known over a wide section. The demand this season is expected to be far greater than any for the past twelve years due to the meat shortage.

We are making our rounds again this Spring building TERRACES, and if everyone would see me within the next three weeks that wanted work done, even though they were not ready we could make a deal. Little jobs would be impossible to do unless it was on our route, due to having to move heavy equipment.

Anyone in Donley County wishing this kind of work should see me within Three Weeks whether you are ready to do the work or not. It might be possible that we can do all the jobs by using this method.

This work can be done by the hour or by contract, which will be some higher than in the past.
