Muleshoe Mules Hold Hart Longhorns Off; Win 28-0

The Hart Longhorns faced a second consecutive loss of the season Friday night to the Muleshoe Mules by a score of 28-0.

Within minutes of the opening kickoff of the game, the Longhorns gave a strong indication of how the rest of the game would be played. Hart fumbled the ball three times during their first possession while recovering only two of the dropped balls.

Muleshoe was unable to capitalize on their first possession and quickly handed the ball back to Hart. Both sides remained scoreless, however, until Daniel Olivas made the first TD of the night with 0:25 left to play in the first quarter.

Mule Estevan Sandoval earned his recognition as he picked off a pass from Longhorn QB Steven Reyna with 7:48 to go in the

Perennial Weeds Can Be Controlled In Fall

Chemical control of perennial weeds, such as Silverleaf Nightshade (Whiteweed) and Blueweed, can be best accomplished in the fall when the weeds have attained full growth and the berries or seeds are formed, according to Dr. John Abernath, resident director of the Texas Agricultural Experimental Station (TAES) at Lubbock.

Timing of herbicide application is critical. In the fall, perennial weeds move sugars and starches into their root systems for the next year's growth. The correct chemical applied in proper amounts to weed leaves in the fall will be carried into the root systems and should be more effective, states Abernathy.

Roundup can be effective in controlling perennial Silverleaf Nightshade in cotton. Many farmers spot spray scattered weeds with Roundup. Some farmers may wish to treat their entire Whiteweed-infested cotton fields with Roundup before harvest, but Abernathy warns that they should not apply the chemical before at least 60 to 70 percent of the bolls are open. For this type of treatment, the label recommends two to four quarts per acre of Roundup. Abernathy notes that these applications of Roundup would produce a more than 80 percent chance of weed control for the next growing season, provided excellent coverage in low volumes is made.

He urges producers not to use Banvel or 2-4-D over cotton due to their carry-over properties.

"This is an illegal practice. We are very concerned about Banvel or 2-4-D carrying over. If either gets into the cotton seed, it will make the cotton oil unsuitable. Let's not ruin our market by careless use of these chemicals," Abernathy notes.

In a fallow ground situation for Whiteweed control, Abernathy recommends a rope application of Roundup since it is about Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Most agricultural accidents and work illnesses can be prevented, Tanksley says. Safety features on farm equipment and machinery should be maintained and repaired when needed, Tanksley adds. These precautions and the use of safe work procedures can reduce the needless suffering of rural accident victims and prevent the financial burden on productivity and family income, the agent concluded.

She also carried a lace handkerchief which had belonged to the groom's mother. Both articles represented something old. Something new was her hat and veil, something borrowed were her dress and cultured pearl necklace, and something blue was the traditional garter belt.

'Rural Revitalization' Church Conference Theme

Rural revitalization of Texas will be the major thrust for discussions at the 42nd Annual Town and Country Church Conference at Texas A&M University, Oct. 5-6.

Clergy and church lay leaders from across Texas will participate in the educational conference conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Also assisting will be Texas A&M's departments of agricultural economics and rural sociology.

Dr. Dave Ruesink, Extension sociologist and conference chairman, says the conference will focus on helping communities that have been experiencing economic difficulties.

"Many Texas communities have been hard hit by the downturn in the oil and agricultural industries, and often the church can play a key role in helping such communities through difficult times," Ruesink says.

The conference, Ruesink says, is designed to provide information to help clergy and church lay leaders be more effective in dealing with community concerns.

"Revitalization of rural communities is one of 12 key issues that were identified by a broad sector of Texas citizens last year, and those issues are currently being addressed by the Extension Service," notes Ruesink. Conference Center and the program will get under way there at 1 p.m. Discussions will deal with basic strategies and lessons in rural revitalization, models of churches and communities involved in rural revitalization, and implications of rural revitalization for the church.

Ministers will moderate the sessions which will feature key resource people from a broad range of subject matter disciplines.

Registration will begin at 10 a.m. Oct. 5 at the Rudder

Special workshops will deal with increasing economic competitiveness and economic development, income diversification possibilities, adjusting to family and community needs, and involving volunteers in community leadership.

A special feature of the conference will be the presentation of the Texas Rural Minister of the Year at a banquet on Oct. 5. This project is in cooperation with PROGRESSIVE FARMER Magazine.

A new program, Rural Social Science by Extension, also will be introduced, notes Ruesink.

Lakeweed is the toughest weed problem Plains producers face, and Abernathy asks producers to do everything they can to stop it from spreading. "All farmers should stop ripping and chiseling through patches of Lakeweed in their fields, since this practice only transplants the Lakeweed roots. The roots can dry up; but once the soil becomes moist, they will begin growing again," he warns.

Abernathy suggests Tordon for isolated Lakeweed spots. However, caution should be exercised when using any soil sterilant. "I would use Tordon only on isolated Lakeweed spots," he says. High rates of Banvel in the fall and MSMA in the spring will help keep Lakeweed in check.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's research with several experimental herbicides continues to look promising for the control of Lakeweed.

The Sudan Hornets served notice that their speed and talent can more than offset their lack of size this season as they opened the 1987 football wars with a 42-8 win at Sundown last Friday.

The young Hornets were excited this week as they prepared to play a Wilson Friday.

Anthony Williams, who led scoring with three touchdowns, said he was nervous before his first TD, a pass from QB Eddy Boyles. "I was really excited and felt good after my first touchdown," he said. Williams caught two passes for 65 yards and had total yardage of 94. Because of the loss of 18 seniors, Sudan was not favored in the game at Sundown, but this year's players are confident. "We're small this year, but we're quick," said Boyles, who was named the offensive player of the week. Williams was the top scorer, and he also was named the defensive player of the week, and Jimmy Kyle Glasscock was selected as "Hustling Hornet." Elliot King scored two touchdowns Friday and Boyles one. King had 100 yards total offense. The team ran up a whopping 439 yards total offense while holding Sundown to just 220 yards and the one touchdown. "No one can catch us," said

Eddie Salinas, who had 28 yards rushing.

Boyles had 89 yards rushing and hit on 6 of 9 passes for 88 yards. Kyle Maxfield gained 40 vards.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Cleta:

In behalf of everyone at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, I wish to extend sincere appreciation for the fine efforts of the Bailey County Journal in publicizing our 43rd annual rodeo.

Because of your help, one of the largest crowds in many years came to see the boys over the Labor Day weekend. While competing for top honors and recognition, the rodeo cowboys were rewarded with generous applause which they will long remember. This event was also attended by thirty-two girls from Girlstown, U.S.A. who share the feeling that so many people care about them, too.

Along with this year's attendance of about 11,000 people, a crowd of three hundred Boys Ranch alumni returned with their families to visit their former home and to enjoy reunion activities. I know that some of these men were reminded of this annual gathering through such me-

The Western Gift Stores are doing a tremendous service for the non profit organizations in this area. With their plan and the support of the people of this area, the kitchen of the depot is being equiped with much needed items to make it a functional kitchen for the Senior Citizen Groups who will be using it.

When you spend your stamps at Western Gift Store, for items you want . .then you are invited to give points to one of the selected organizations which will give them credit toward useful items they have selected for their use. Because of the generosity of the people of Muleshoe and the surrounding area, the Depot kitchen now has pots and pans, skillet and turkey roaster, step stool and clock; also spatulas, spoons and forks, strainer and cutting board and a tea kettle. We appreciate having this necessary equipment and want to take this means to thank all the people who have given their points to the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation and the Depot kitchen.

A NEW BIBLE

She really is delighted because her church is presenting her with a new Bible. She understands and appreciates this gift, because in earning it she has committed many verses to memory, and thus learned to value God's word. The churches desire that all would study and learn to love God. Plan to attend church and share in this knowledge and joy.

TOUCH OF HISTORY

Birth Of A City; Still Going Strong

By LELA BARRON Some cities have grown seven miles apart, so imaround seaports; some around natural resources such as oil and coal; some have started as way stations along natural trading routes, through a wilderness or seemingly waste country with nothing visible to indicate the possibility of a city.

Perhaps the city to be born and known as Muleshoe would he in the latter category since a wide expanse of sand, bare ground, hills and arrow heads from a tribe of lost people were all there was to be found.

In the year 1888 the State of Texas granted to Abner Taylor a wide expanse of seemingly useless land which was far removed from the City of Austin.

This land was granted by leagues to Abner Taylor who later passed title to a group known as Capitol Freehold Land and Cattle Company which in turn conveyed the land to R. D. Gage, W. D. and F. W. Johnson, a partnership known as Bovina Cattle Company. On April 18, 1903, the same year population of the community of Muleshoe began, 41,044 acres were conveyed to Bovina and in November, 1905, Gage conveyed his interest in the land to the Johnsons.

In November of the following year the Johnsons designated, along with other lands conveyed to them, the entire parcel as Block "Y" W. D. and F. W. Johnson Subdivision, and subdivided the tracts of land into sections numbered from 1 to 95 with each section containing 640 acres. Muleshoe lies in sections 39, 40, and 54 of the subdivision.

Titlewise this brings us to a conveyance from W. D. and F. W. Johnson to E.R. Warren on February 26, 1907.

The Pecos and Northern Texas Railway Company obtained a right-of-way from Warren

the county lines, some six or mediately a controversy began as to which would be the county seat.

On January 16, 1919 at a special session of the Bailey County commissioners court Muleshoe was designated as the temporary county seat of Bailey County and the room in the northwest corner of the Blackwater Valley State Bank building in Muleshoe, together with the use of the bank's vault, was designated as the temporary court house.

The called meeting of the commissioners court was attended by W.M. Wilterding, judge; T.L. Snyder, commissioner for precinct number 2; J.B. Diggs, precinct number 1 commissioner; C.C. Mardis, clerk, and H.A. Douglas, sheriff. At the meeting F. Davenport was appointed as commissioner for precinct number 4, C.E. Dotson, as commissioner for precinct number 3, and C.D. Gupton as justice of the peace in precinct

In a regular session of the commissioners court on April 14, 1919 in the returns from old Hurley school six votes cast for Joshua Blocher were thrown salary of $40. out because he did not live in precinct number 1.

for the election of county school the following elected: for county trustees the following were Judge R.J. Klump; County declared elected: Mrs. G.A. Attorney Max W. Miller, county Anderson, 47 votes for trustee and District Clerk, C.C. Mardis; at large; E.R. Hart, 18 votes for Sheriff and Tax Collector H.A. trustee for precinct number 1; Douglass; County Treasurer O.C. Snyder nine votes for Howard Carlyle; Assessor J.E. precinct number two trustee; Greenfield; Hide and Animal R.J. Klump 4 votes for precinct Inspector, Elmer G. Hoskins; number 3 trustee; and the court Commissioner precinct number appointed Pool Ernest county school trustee for precinct number 4.

MULESHOE WINS

The returns of the special election held on April 12, 1919 for the purpose of locating a county seat also were canvassed. There was a total of 111 votes cast with Muleshoe receiving 74, Hurley 36, and Bailey Center 1. The votes were canvassed in open session of the court and since Muleshoe received a two-thirds majority of all votes cast, Judge Wilterding declare Muleshoe the elected seat of Bailey County. On May 28, 1919 the commissioners met as a Board of Equalization to adjust and pass upon all matters relating to the equalization of tax assessment of all property in Bailey County. Among other action taken by the board it was ordered that the assessment on the lots in the townsite of Muleshoe be raised from $5,500 as rendered by the railroad company, to $25,000 as agreed upon by members of the Board.

At the meeting an ammended report by the Jury of View which was appointed to lay out a road on the Texas and New Mexico line was presented and after consideration was accepted and the road was ordered opened. It also was agreed that J.W. Parker be allowed $20 for moving his fence, J.B. Diggs was ordered to make a bill and estimate of a 24 x 60 foot with 10 foot studding court house building.

At a meeting the next month Judge Wilterding was appointed to draw plans and specifications for a court house to include a vault and on June 11, 1919 the plans were approved by the Commissioners Court. In a July meeting it was ordered by the commissioners that the plans and specifications for the court house building be changed from single board walls partitions to double Cornell board partitions. At the meeting a turnkey bid in the amount of $2,450 was awarded to H.E. Wilterding. All bids for the construction of a vault were rejected and new bids called for. The commissioners approved the purchase from R. Diebold Safe and Lock Company of a $145 F.O.B. Muleshoe vault door. Four months later the first meeting of the Commissioners Court was held in the completed court house.

During a September meeting of the commissioners in 1919 A.B. Crane was employed as county attorney at a monthly

On November 8, 1920, the Commissioners Court canvassed After canvassing the returns a county election and declared

3 C.E. Dotson: Justice of the Peace precinct number 1. E.E. Hagler; Justice of the Peace precinct number 3. C.M. West: Constable precinct number 1, G.R. Evans: Constable precinct number 2. Lester Hickox; for Constable precinct number 3 Will Robinson. On April 30, 1921 the first school bond referendum in the amount of $14,000 was passed with a vote of 20 for and none against.

A contract in the amount of $30,000 was awarded on January 6, 1923 to C.L. Haise for construction on Highway 7.

In April of that year it was ordered by the Commissioners Court that Ruba Plaze, the court house square, be fenced with netting wire with enough extra posts put in to make a good fence.

On November 17, 1924, a petition requesting an election for the purpose of voting bonds in the amount of $60,000 bearing six percent interest and to run for 40 years, with bond money to be used for building a new court house was presented the Commissioners Court. The petition was signed by the number of persons required by law and the commissioners called an election for December 27 of that year. The referendum carried and in April of the following year a contract for the construction of the building was awarded to Rice Construction Company of Dallas.

The difference of 38 votes cast in the 1919 election which established Muleshoe rather than Hurley as the seat of Bailey County might well be recognized as the factor which started the growing pains for Muleshoe.

Fall Memories

September brings with it (in most parts of the country) the first cool winds, school, football, burning leaves and nostalgia.

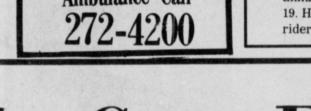

Why is it autumn produces such a tug on the memory? Perhaps it's because growth, and a summer, is dying and the end of a life cycle is visible. It's a beautiful death-red and yellow, in field and forest.

Colder weather is coming on, the end of a year as well as a season, and naturally one looks back.

ANOTHER ROTARY SPEAKER--Ray Day, coordinator of the St. Jude Children's Bike-A-Thon for Bailey County, spoke to the Muleshoe Rotary Tuesday at noon and discussed the annual fundraising event scheduled for Saturday, September 19. He encouraged the Rotarians to pledge funds to the bike riders.

for the purpose of constructing a railroad through the property which would tie-in with Lubbock and Farwell connecting with the track from Amarillo to Clovis and on west.

Several counties were served by the railroad along with Bailey which was an unorganized county, being attached at that time to Castro County for judicial purposes.

In the year 1918 Bailey County citizens began talking of organizing their county separately and apart from Castro. Immediately legal procedures were begun for the organization and in the fall of 1918 the organization was completed.

Then came the question of a county seat. Muleshoe and Hurley were both on the railroad, about halfway between
