Fourth of July at Clarendon.

Clarendon celebrated the Fourth of July with one of the largest crowds ever in attendance. A large delegation of several hundred went from Memphis and enjoyen the day's ures of entertainment were well attended and especially the races in the afternoon.

Clarendon is always doing things, and among the latest is the installment of what they call "The Miniature White Way." On each side of Main street in front of each business house is suspended a large electric light from a cable. There are about forty-six of these lights and Main street is as bright as day when the lights are turned on at dark. In connection with this, we were informed that the city was mak. ing preparations to install eighty-three street lights in different parts of the city. This will indeed be a great improve. ment over the dark streets as they now are and we congratulate Miss Clarendon in her thrift and enterprise. Clarendon promises us a big crowd during the Old Soldiers reunion in August.-Memphis Democrat.

Thanks for the nice compliments. Clarendon appreciates the large attendance from Memphis which helped to make the affair a success, and the assistance of Memphis band boys who helped to make the music good. You can depend Reunion.
