Cross Country Flying In Machines Firmly Bolted to Floors, Gives Motions of The Real Thing

LUBBOCK, May 10—You needn't look up now, but there's a good chance that some aviation cadet from the Lubbock Army Flying School here is making a cross-country flight over your home town today.

You needn't look up because he hasn't left the post yet—and he probably won't.

It may sound strange, but cross country flying in machines firmly bolted to the floors of training buildings is an important part of the training of Air Corps aviation cadets learning to fly the Army's big twin-engine bombers and transport planes at the field here. Called "Link Trainers" after the inventor, the machines now have almost the complete burden of training cadets in instrument or "blind" flying.

Link Trainer is about half the size of a single-engine plane and looks something like one of the dummy planes youngsters ride in carnivals. It has a dummy fuselage, dummy wings, a dummy tail and a dummy cockpit. But in the cockpit is an authentic working instrument panel, by means of which the cadet, covered by a hood, guides his flight.

One of the amazing things about the Link Trainer is that it simulates actual flying conditions and can make a novice just as air-sick as any real plane. For, despite its bolted foundation, it is mounted on pivots and goes through all the motions of turning, banking, climbing and diving according to the pilot's will.

Meantime, while the cadet is "in the air", an operator sitting just outside the machine, keeping in constant touch with the pilot by telephone, checks the flight minutely with an automatic plotting device which records the flight on a chart.

Now and then, of course, somebody goes astray in the trainer. But, luckily, it's probably the only "flying machine" in the world in which a pilot can get lost without getting lost and can "crash" without getting scratched—and certainly, as cadets have found, the only one which can make a safe landing 300 feet underground.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS

By John Craddock

Perilous

Most notable quote of this week was this, by Senate Military Affairs committeeman after hearing seven high-ranking government officials, in closed session, spell out the rubber situation: "actual-ly perilous from a military standpoint!" These, the strongest words yet uttered on the subject, were given firm backing by the action of officials in urging the Senate committee to recommend the most drastic step that has been proposed in the U. S. toward commandeering private physical property and hurling it into the war drive, namely the legislation authorizing requisitioning of autos and tires. Admittedly it's the need for saving rubber that lies behind the car-requisitioning proposals. Some members said they expected "nothing drastic" in the way of requisitioning in the near future, but you can paste it in your hat that the threat of drastic measures is definitely here "from now on."

Tips on the Times

United Aircraft, which itself has passed back $26,000,000 in savings on government war jobs after achieving mass-production economies, reports further savings in voluntary kick-backs from its subcontractors, one of which is cutting the price $2,250,000 on one airplane engine part alone! "Production soldiers" of industry are leaping into action right along side "regulars" to help service equipment and keep motorized units rolling in high.

Remote Patrol

Far from the ocean-prowling U-boats whose extinction soon will be their assignment, Navy sub-chasers are to be turned out, ultimately at the rate of one a week, by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company's new shipyard now rising on the shore of Lake Michigan near Chicago. These will be the first all-steel anti-sub patrol craft built in the Midwest.

Things to Watch For

Clothes made from peanuts. W. B. Jester, president of the National Peanut Council, says they are a definite early future prospect, and that you won't be able to tell the difference between a "peanut wool" suit and one made of Scotch wools. Rubberless but nevertheless elastic topped socks for men. At least two new ideas in glass jars for home canning, requiring no rubber sealing rings. A gift candy box in large disc shape, the cover of which is, in effect, a phonograph record that can be played.

Mrs. C. R. Piercy and daughter Jean visited her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Richerson at Phillips the week end.

Jesse B. Gilmer New Area Director

The new Area Director of the Farm Security Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is Jesse B. Gilmer, a native West Texan. He succeeds Wilson Cowan, recently appointed Commissioner to the United States Court of Claims, Washington, D. C.

The Federal agency's rural rehabilitation program over which Gilmer has charge includes all of West Texas, the state of New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle. The Area Office is at Amarillo.

JESSE B. GILMER

Born in Edwards County, Gilmer attended schools in Texas and New Mexico. An employee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture since 1934, his rise in the department has been phenomenal. He began as a clerk in the department's land utilization program. He had served as assistant regional director in the Amarillo office since 1938.

The Farm Security Administration finances operations of low-income farm families and provides technical assistance and guidance in farm and home programs through its county office personnel.

Trained Radio Men Wanted In Air Corps

LUBBOCK, May 14—Trained radio men who are interested in the Army's Airways Communication System are being sought for possible enlistment in the Air Corps. Col. Thomas L. Gilbert, commanding officer of the Lubbock Army Flying School here, announced today.

With the Air Corps undergoing the most rapid expansion in its history, trained men able to work its important radio control system are needed badly. Col. Gilbert said.

Applications for enlistment are now being accepted from men who have had considerable experience in radio theory and maintenance and in code operation, he said. Knowledge of radio telephone procedure is also desirable.

If accepted by the War Department, candidates will be able to enlist in the Air Corps specifically for assignment to its Communication System.

Anyone interested in applying for enlistment of this sort should report at the entrance gate of the Lubbock field as soon as possible, he said. He will be directed to the proper authority on the field.

Mrs. Eva Atteberry is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Northcutt at Dallas.

The Bible Versus Evolution
There is no doubt in my mind that the earth and all things therein were created as set forth in the first book of the Bible; but for the benefit of the readers, I shall contrast the Bible account of man's origin with that of evolution.

Evolution's Account:
I quote from J. A. Richards, the author of twenty books on evolution. He says of the earth's beginning:

"We see a great bulk of chaotic matter, revolving at a dazzling speed, surrounded by dense clouds of steam; a continual down-pour of boiling rain, etc." After the earth had cooled off, then he discovers where man began. Hear him.

"Close your eyes, think of some muddy gutter or frog pond full of stagnant water, covered with green slime, which floats among the bullrushes and swamp weeds. These cesspools, geologists tell us, were the cradle of life on earth." One must needs close his eyes and mind also, to believe the above.

Where did man originate? In a cesspool of nasty, slimy, stagnant water, according to Mr. Richards and the geologists.

Bible Account:

Gen. 1:26 "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness." This shows the dignity of man above the beast of the field. In the same verse above God says of man, "And let them have dominion over every living creature." When we see the mighty locomotive approaching with its long string of freight cars, we do not think that it just happened. We know that there is a master mind back of it. When we look upon man and his dominion, and his inventive ability, we do not think of his beginning in a cesspool of nasty water; but we think of God in whose image he was created. "For in him (God) we live, move and have our being." Acts: 17:28.

Evolution lowers man to the standard of the beast; therefore if he commits murder, steals, lies, etc., what does it matter? Because according to this theory, he has no creator to whom he shall give account.

Mrs. Ben Howard and daughter Armitta of Sunray, Mrs. Golden Holland and son of Amarillo and Corp. Shelby Bell of Lubbock visited Mother's Day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bell.

THE QUIBLER.
As the highest authority in war defense efforts continues to quibble with strikers in defense plants, I cannot help but think of the many things that Senator W.

Lee O'Daniel has had to say about labor fuses the past eighteen months. He told the Senate that men working in defense plants should be drafted just as were the men uniformed in the service, and that they should be under similar restrictions. He appealed to lawmakers, to laborers telling them that the boys on Bataan peninsula were working night and day for less than thirty dollars a month and going on half rations while organized labor held out for a FORTY-HOUR week at $12 a day. Think of it! No matter what the reader may think about it, I want to tell this reader that any man who fails or refuses to help the boys in the service, any branch of it, by giving him everything known to science with which to combat the enemy, is a traitor to his nation, to humanity and a disgrace to the human race. Forty-hour-week! Ye gods, folks! Our men on the firing line know nothing about a forty-hour law. They know only the law of the survival of the fittest. They are in there with their all to defend our liberty and theirs. To fail to back them up with every ounce of national resource is to sink below the level of the brute family. Frankly, and you may be amused at this statement, I really think that mere man has little cause to grumble unless he works as many hours of the 24 as does the average mother in the average home. Forty hours a week? Not her schedule. The average farmer would laugh to think that he should be limited to 48 hours a week, while the average mother with two or more children puts in an average of 84 to 98 hours a week—subject to call any moment. And when duty calls her, she responds instantly regarding it a privilege rather than a duty. This is no time to quibble about hours. The pay in the defense factories, or rather the war production factories, is fabulous as compared with other wages paid. Russia purged herself of her enemies while the so-called civilized world stood aghast. We can understand now that they were merely cleaning out the traitors before the German invasion, having profited from the 5th column activities of other nations that fell victims to Hitler's greed. America might get a good lesson from the Russians. They must have something to fight for over there. They are fighting like the dickens, anyhow, and making a fine record to date. Only the laws of nature need no enforcement. Nature has nothing to do with starting this war. It has been unnatural from the beginning.

PERSONAL.
The old gentleman from the county who sells meat, lard, poultry, etc. to the residents of Amarillo lost his shell-rim glasses up there several days ago. He can get them where he lost them at the home of Mrs. Neil Clark, 1537 Lipscomb street. Could this be Cy Richerson or Milt Moseley? Anyhow, Mrs. Clark wrote me about it, and said the fellow knew me, and I'm passing it on. I know the big Leader family will be able to locate that fellow right quickly. Thanks to you, Mrs. Clark.

NOT AGIN' IT.
I'm not against organized labor so long as they act within the bounds of reason. But this is no time to quibble over hours and wages. Both labor and capital should be inducted into the service where either fails to get the job done towards winning this war.

NOT LONESOME.
Don't think your boy is lonesome in the service. I have a nice letter from Jack Rolf telling me about the boys from this section who are either in his company, or nearby camps near San Diego, Calif. He named Kenneth Lyle, J. A. Howard, Fred Lynn. Then they see our boys from Consolidated aircraft factory almost daily. Jack spoke of seeing Charley Murphy and Woody Spencer that day. Really, these fine young men are having a great time, and learning a lot of new worth-while ideas at the same time. Jack says it is a swell place to be.

BIGGER LIES.
Have just been reading an article in the Texas Citizen paper written by "A. Hope Wheeler." I don't know Wheeler, but he told a bunch of plain lies about Gov. Coke Stevenson. Among the lies, he says that the Governor is a "Roosevelt hater," and that the Governor "sold the old people down the river," and that he is "owned and controlled by Wall Street!" As a matter of fact the Governor has cooperated with the national administration as often as has Senators Connally and O'Daniel. He never forgot the interests of the old folks, and has done more in their behalf than any governor to date because he was fortunate in having both legislative bodies on his side, having served in both the State Senate and House of Representatives for several years. He does smoke a pipe, but Wheeler forgot to mention that fact. But Governor Stevenson does not drink hard liquors and has the utmost respect of all the good citizens who really know him in every-day life. The Governor is self-educated, studied law nights and made his own way because his parents did not have the means to school him in that day and time. Frankly, I know of few old country boys who have come up through the ranks and achieved victory who can take it as gracefully as Gov. Coke R. Stevenson. He is a real man. As a personal friend, I resent the implications of Wheeler in his article, and thousands of other Texans will do the same. There isn't a man in Texas today more worthy of the high office of Governor than Coke Stevenson.

THE WHOOPER.
The man who gets to the point to where he does not care a whoop what others think of him, has either reached the top or the bottom of the ladder.

THE SUGARITE.
A Clarendon youth calls his sweetie "Sugar." She is hard to find, quickly gone, makes food taste better, shows up once a week and it takes stamps to get her.

PLAINDEALING.
"Girlie, I have a confession to make. I am a married man."
"Good lord, man! You had me

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

RUMMAGING through my desk the other day, I came across some snapshots of friends of mine made back in 1933.

If you don't think time flies... if you don't think this world ever changes... you ought to look at the women's hats and dresses in those pictures taken 9 years ago! Wow!

It gave me quite a start... and then it set me to thinking... and rememberin'! Lots of things sure happened in 1933. A new administration in Washington... the turning point of the depression... and the coming of Repeal.

I remember the re-legalization of beer. It came before Repeal, when Congress amended the old Volstead Act to allow legal sale of "3.2" beer.

What talk and arguments they had in those days! One argument I remember well... was that beer would do a lot to help bring back prosperity. I wondered at the time whether that argument could be proved.

I thought about that again, the other day. I decided to check up and find out.

Well, I found out plenty. I found out that legal beer has paid more than 3 billion dollars in taxes since 1933. It has made more than a million new jobs.

According to one of the reports I've seen, beer has put more than 15 billion dollars into general business circulation. Goodness me, that's a lot of money.

Beer is sold today in every state in the Union. Every state benefits from beer's jobs and taxes. And I guess there's no denying that beer did do its share in bringing back better times.

I'm glad it did, too, because beer is such a pleasant, appetizing beverage. And it stands for moderation and moderate people... it's not likely to get you in trouble.

scared stiff for a moment. I thought you were going to say that you had stolen this car to take me riding!"

EXPERIENCE.
A burned kid avoids the fire. And a newly married man avoids his old flames—when his wife is along.

That's all for this week, except to say that you should write your postoffice box number under your name in every letter. If mail is sent in your care, be sure to tell the folks your box number. Hunting up a landing place for strange names in a postoffice often requires two days, during which time maybe the postal clerk asks fifty people if they know the party whose name is on the envelope. The "mail must go through," but it will go through a lot faster with a little cooperation.

Multigraph Operators Wanted

Multigraph operators will be appointed to Government war jobs in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States, it was announced by the United States Civil Service Commission today. Both men and women may apply under the new announcement. Pay is $1,440 a year, although some vacancies at $1,260 will be filled by qualified persons willing to accept the lower salary.

Within the past 5 years, applicants must have had at least 6 full months of paid experience operating a power-driven multigraph machine, of which 3 months must have been in setting and distributing type and in the composition of complex forms. In filing application, they must clearly show that they can operate the machine without further instruction. Appointees in Government jobs will be required to set and distribute type for and to operate a multigraph machine in the printing of circulars, letters, and forms, and to read proof and make corrections.

No written test is required. Filing application is all that is necessary to be considered. Eighteen years is the minimum age limit, but there is no maximum. Applications must be sent to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from Clarendon, Texas, Secretary of the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, at the post office or customhouse in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first or second-class post office.

Cotton Farmers Outsmart Insects And Weather

COLLEGE STATION—Insects and weather won't scare approximately 42,000 Texas cotton farmers this year regardless of the damage they do.

Reason is the new federal all-risk cotton crop insurance which protects either 50 or 75 per cent of the average yield on their farms.

"We have 331,694 cotton allotment farms in Texas and about 15 per cent of them went all-out against unavoidable hazards this year by taking out crop insurance," Donald L. Cothren, state crop insurance supervisor, has announced.

According to tabulations in the state AAA office, Mitchell County farmers led the state with 64 per cent participation. Concho County ranked second with 58 per cent coverage while one-half of the cotton farmers in McCulloch County signed up.

Collin County, with 1,593 applications covering 2,223 insurance units, led all other counties in total policies sold.

Other counties in the state reporting one-third or more sign-up include Donley, Floyd, Irion, Williamson, Archer, Reeves, Trinity, Coleman, Grayson, Runnels, Tarrant, Burnet, Delta, Coryell, Coke, Hamilton, Sterling and Limestone.

Crumpled Letter In Recruiting Office Sent On to Youth at Naval Station

A crumpled bit of paper was sent speeding to a lonely but determined youth in one of Uncle Sam's Naval Training stations today, and officers who read the hurried scrawl the paper bore, believe an American classic was penned in the parting moments of a father and son.

As noble as the advice Hamlet received from his father and as American as the flag was the crumpled letter which the boy lost in the Navy Recruiting Station in the Post Office at Wichita Falls.

The letter was from Jim H. Canon, Paducah, Texas, to his 19-year old son, Jimmy Henry Canon Jr., and written to the boy before he left Wichita Falls to come to Dallas for his final examination and to be sworn into service.

Brief and poignant was the letter of an American dad to an American son:

"Dear Son:
"I am sending you the papers which give my consent for you to join the Navy. I wish you the best of luck, and I want you to write your mother as often as you can. We both hate to see you go, but you go with our best wishes. We want you to try and be one of the best men in the Navy.

"Son, I would like for you to try and qualify as a gunner, then maybe you will have the privilege of firing a broadside right where it will do the most good—into a Jap ship.

"You are passing out of our hands now and will be under the care of the U. S. Navy. Always remember to obey your superior officers.

"Be honest, apply yourself one hundred percent to your job—and do that job well. It will be a long hard fight. We are counting on you and several million like you to do the job.

"Answer right back, we will be wanting to hear from you.

Love,
Dad"

Jimmie was transferred to a Naval Training Station on April 4, his letter turned up in the middle of Navy files at Wichita Falls today. How it got there, no one knows. But the letter is going on to Jimmie—it should be a big help in trying times to come.

"That letter," declared Lt. L. H. Ridout, Jr., officer in charge of the Dallas Recruiting Station, "is the type of encouragement boys need from home. America is just as strong as the number of dads and sons it has, like Jimmie senior and Jimmie Jr."

Jimmie and his father call Delvin, Texas, their home town and it is there the family reunion will be held when "Jimmie comes marchin' home."

GARDEN GLANCES

"America beautiful lies in the hands of the gardeners."

The garden glancer made a trip to the city park to look at the new evergreens that have recently been added. The evergreens are quite an asset to the landscape. The grassy turf covering the entire park is one of the nicest and freest of weeds and native grass in the town. Flowers are just being set on the rock steps and will soon be very colorful and attractive.

Have you seen the beautiful oriental poppies blooming so profusely in the yard of Mrs. Van Eaton? They are perfectly gorgeous.

The Joe Goldston home is very beautiful with its purple wisterias daintily draped over the trellis at the front of the house. Roses give bright splashes of color and iris are still blooming in the back of the garden.

Some very brilliant poppies are quite conspicuous in the yard of Mrs. Mulkey. The red roses enhance the fence, the lovely shrubs and the neat lawn all together present a very pleasing appearance.

One of the most noticeable places in the west part of town is that of M. P. Gentry. The lawn is always clipped just right, the evergreens in two shades of green, and the olive hedge all add to the beautiful surroundings. But all of this is not noticed when one sees the roses which are blooming so enchantingly on the fence. This is one of glories and beauties of early summer.

A very unusual flower is the columbine. There is a great deal of beauty displayed by this dainty flower in the garden of Frank Bourland.

The garden will be more noticeable every day now. Look for the beautiful and enjoy it. Clarendon is one of the prettiest towns in the Panhandle. Let us all make it more beautiful and we will all be more happy to live here.

Motley Girl Is District Winner In Radio Contest

MATADOR, May 12—Miss Jimmie Lee Speer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Speer of Flomot, has been announced winner of district three in a radio "Know Your School Contest" sponsored by a fresh fruit distributing company (the Ben E. Keith Fruit Company) over radio station KGKO.

Miss Speer, a high school senior, will appear again on the air Monday, May 18th, at 8:15 a. m. to contend for further honors. District three is composed of Childress, Motley, Hardeman, King, Collingsworth, Briscoe, Hall Cottle, Foard, Dickens, Floyd and Donley counties.

Her possibilities for final honors in the contest will depend 25% on "response", or the number of cards or letters received from listeners within one week after appearance, voting in her favor.

Fire Equipment Revealed In 510 Texas Towns

Equipment of Texas fire departments includes enough heavy hose, if placed in one line, it would extend from Dallas to within a few miles of San Antonio.

This is revealed by Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner and State Fire Defense Coordinator, following a statewide inventory of equipment of fire departments in the state. The inventory covered equipment of 510 departments.

Footage of all types of hose for fighting fires, if placed in one continuous line would extend for a distance of 337 miles.

Personnel of all fire departments totals 13,652 men. Of these, 2,916 are paid and 10,736 are volunteer firemen. Hall said these figures do not include the thousands of persons who have been trained, or now being trained, as auxiliary firemen in local Civilian Defense organizations.

Equipment for use in reviving persons overcome by smoke, heat and other causes, includes 99 inhalators owned by fire departments. Other information gleaned from the inventory shows Texas firemen have 573 gas masks; more than 3,000 fire extinguishers of various types; 2,936 nozzles for 2 1/2 inch hose, and 65,829 feet of ladders.

There are almost three thousand fire trucks of all types. More than a fourth of these are pumpers.

Hall added that further information revealed 841 ambulances are located in the 510 towns and cities included in the inventory.

Hay Fever Is Explained

The human organism, when healthy, has the power to adapt itself to ordinary varying conditions of environment. The temperature of the atmosphere varies daily and we adjust ourselves nicely. The same applies to humidity. Also, we are constantly meeting with air in which there are various types and quantities of germs. Usually the body is able to neutralize and destroy these germs without giving us any noticeable indications of their presence. In the summer time, most of us can sniff and "Ah" to our hearts' content, quite indifferent to the fact that the rose has pollen that blows off into the air. We can drive through the country and enjoy the fragrance of the new mowed hay or the sight of the goldenrod in the field. It is a pleasure to all of us, but pleasure with a penalty to some. And most of us would not know that ragweed exists if the newspaper did not mention it in the summer.

The body can adjust itself to the presence of these various pollens, except for those who pay the penalty for the pleasures which these plants give in summer. These people are said to be excessively sensitive, or hypersensitive to pollens.

All living tissue is sensitive to various kinds of stimulation. For example, smell is the result of chemical stimulation of certain tissues in the nose. The resulting reaction is registered for interpretation in the brain. This power to react to a stimulation is called irritability. When a tissue is too irritable, it is hypersensitive. To maintain normal irritability of tissue, four things are necessary: (1) normal supply of nutrition, (2) normal amount of moisture, (3) normal degree of temperature and (4) adequate removal of waste material. The terpezone helps to remove this waste material and soothe the tissue in side the nose. When the irritability varies from normal, it is because these necessary conditions are abnormal. In such a way can we account for the hypersensitivity of those who are subject to rose fever, hay fever, goldenrod fever, or ragweed fever.

40 - Acre Deposit Bentonite Located

AUSTIN, May 14.—A 40-acre deposit of bentonite—a clay used extensively in the refining of petroleum and for rotary drilling muds—has been located in Jasper County, near the old townsite of Brownell, and has been mapped by the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology, with aid of WPA field crews, Dr. E. H. Sellards, bureau director, has announced.

The deposit is approximately 20 feet thick, and is "very" conveniently located for shipment to market," Dr. Sellards said. "The latter feature," he added, "will undoubtedly influence the development of the material to a great extent, since nearness to rail transportation is one of the chief factors for successful exploitation of such resources."

In addition to use by the petroleum industry, bentonite clays are also used in the manufacture of soaps, insecticides, cosmetics, polishes, adhesives, ceramic glazes, absorbents, and in road, roofing and floor materials.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE

For the benefit of those who did not see this tribute to the Red Cross which appeared in the March issue of both the Reader's Digest and the Red Cross Courier, we are reprinting it. Written by Allan A. Michie, a correspondent for "Time" and "Life", and entitled "The Red Cross Was Ready."

"As one of the first war correspondents to reach Hawaii after Pearl Harbor Sunday, I was struck by one bright spot in all that tragedy. The Red Cross had been ready. I dread thinking how much worse the confusion and suffering would have been if the Red Cross workers hadn't been right on the job, organized for instant action.

"Within a few minutes after the first Jap bombs rained down on Pearl Harbor, Red Cross workers manned their prearranged posts. Many Red Cross volunteers were wives of officers and men stationed at the air fields and naval bases. They did not know what fate awaited their loved ones but they did not stand idly by. Jap planes strafed their cars on the road as they drove to their stations.

"From its emergency kitchens, the Red Cross promptly supplied food to rescue workers. Bombed-out families were supplied with lodging, clothing, and blankets as well as food. Emergency stores of medical supplies and surgical dressings were rushed to hospitals and schools which had been turned into temporary hospitals.

"Doctors struggling furiously to save the lives of soldiers and sailors blasted and burned in the attack soon used up the Red Cross reserve of blood plasma. The Red Cross issued a call for volunteer donors, and its workers gave their own blood until sufficient donors could be brought in.

"By 3 a. m. on December 8 the Red Cross Motor Corps, driving in a blackout blacker than London's and risking shots from jittery Territorial road guards, had removed 3,000 refugees from the danger areas around Pearl Harbor and the air fields. Many of the Red Cross's volunteer workers stayed at their posts for ten days with little sleep. Red Cross information centers were promptly organized to help anxious service men seeking the whereabouts of their families from whom they had become separated during the bombing.

"When we were ready to sail for San Francisco, 127 badly burned and wounded naval men were placed on board our ship. The Navy was short of nurses, so Red Cross officials scoured Hawaii, and then in two hours located 11 registered nurses who were vacationing on the island and who volunteered to take the dangerous freight voyage to San Francisco.

"At Pearl Harbor, the Red Cross was ready for this extraordinary emergency because it always stands ready—anywhere.

"Thus, with America's entry into the war the Red Cross has taken its place with the armed forces at home and abroad, where ever American troops are in action. It is holding front-line positions from Chungking to Cairo, from Los Angeles to London."

Knitting
Only one sweater was turned in last week by Mrs. J. H. Howze. However, several sweaters for the War Production Relief (those with sleeves) were taken out by Mrs. W. T. Clifford, Mrs. Hattie Palmer, Mrs. C. B. Morris, Jaunita Bingham, Shirley West, Leona McCraw, and Mrs. Ira Merchant and Mrs. P. B. Gentry of Amarillo.

Knitting instructors are still pleading for scrap yarn and they are also pleading for knitters. There are still more sweaters on hand than have been taken out and they would like to issue all the wool so that it will be ready for shipment by the first of July.

Sewing and Cutting
The women in the Martin Community are again receiving mention for their fine work. These women, under Mrs. Will Jordan, have been turning out a quilt for the Red Cross every two weeks. Mrs. George Norwood gave a very fine donation of quilt scraps this week and they will be given to the Martin women.

Mrs. J. C. Gibbs, also of Martin has taken the shirts that will be made into children's aprons and the Martin Garden Club will work on them this week. All these quilts and aprons are for the Donley County Home Emergency Chest.

Mrs. Doss Palmer gave six shirts to the production department last week but we are still in need of more.

Workers, under the direction of Mrs. U. J. Boston, will be cutting hospital bed shirts every day this week and these will be distribed to the different church circles. They, too, are of the Emergency Chest.

The Dorcas Alethean Sunday School class of the Baptist church cut fifty bandages at their meeting last Thursday afternoon. These, too, will go in the chest.

ASHTOLA
Mrs. W. B. Miller

Rev. R. L. Self, the Baptist pastor filled his regular appointment Sunday morning. There was no service at the evening hour, due to bad weather.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brandon spent Sunday in the home of Mrs. Brandon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cole, near Shamrock.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barrett and little son from Magenta spent the week end visiting in Ashtola community.

Mr. Keith Swinburn, who is a member of Uncle Sam's air corps, spent several days first of the week with his mother, Mrs. Mary Swinburn.

Mr. Lee Everett from Hedley spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Allen.

TO THE PRODUCERS OF DONLEY COUNTY.

By Walter J. Flynt
LOCAL AAA SUPERVISOR

(This is the second in a series of articles dealing with the work of the AAA as it applies to Donley County farmers.)

There seems to be quite a bit of confusion as to how much conserving acres or Government land will be on each farm, and why they have not been notified by the county office.

In the latter part of November and first part of December, Community Committees contacted farmers to sign up 1942 Farm Program Plan Sheet. This sheet contains, as well as a commodity report for defense purposes, the cotton allotment in Section I. Erosion resisting or soil conserving acres (Government land) in Section IV near center of page, and Soil Building Allowance in lower right corner. These were the official notices of allotments, but as some farmers seem to have misplaced these forms, I will try to explain how to arrive at the Government acres.

This year the Government land is determined on a percentage basis for all farms in the county. No matter how small or how large, 20% or 1/5 of the total crop land must be devoted to a non-depleting crop or land use throughout the year, if the operator expects to receive payment on the cotton allotment. In the amount a producer fails to plant this 20% the same percent will be deducted from his cotton payment.

On this Government land may be planted any of the following crops if used in accordance with the instructions herein stated.

1. Any biennial legume including new seeding (seeding qualifies the crop as Gov. land regardless of any other use of the crop). These crops are: alfalfa, sweet-clover and field peas.

2. Sudan grass and millet used for pasture regardless of height when stock are taken off. (Use qualifies these crops as part of Gov. Land).

FARM PROPERTY INSURANCE

3. Any Sweet Sorghum, sudan, millet, oats, rye, or barley, either left on land or plowed under will qualify as Gov. land. Barley, rye and oats plowed under early will count 2/3 acreage plowed under if replanted to a soil depleting crop, (cotton, maize, kaffir, corn, etc.) Counts full acreage of government land if replanted to conserving crops, (cane, sudan, and peas, etc.)

4. Summer fallowed acreage is government land if plowed before the 15th of June and clean tilled throughout the year.

5. Forest tree strips cultivated is government land.

6. The only time idle land is government acres is when new terraces are constructed on them in the 1942 crop year.

7. Sweet sorghums, oats, rye, barley, or millet cut green for hay is government acres provided a strip 1 rod wide (5 or 6 rows) left standing to all except 5 rod strip; (25 or 26 rows) harvested. This regulation applies to all except cane and in this crop the one rod strip may be planted to sudan late cane and left on land or can be cut provided there is a stubble left standing 12 inches high.

These uses of the crops explained above qualify them for government land but if no other uses will qualify.

If any producer has misplaced his allotment sheet or farm plan sheet, if you will drop us a card we will send a sheet with cotton allotment, Government acres and Soil-Building allowance.
