The Clarendon boys realize that a win over the Tigers would indeed be a bright feather in their cap.

Bold, Daylight Rural Burglar Favored Pawn Shop Market

Working in conjunction with officers in Pampa, Sheriff Guy Wright located goods taken from the Sam Dale home in a daylight burglary. The goods were in a pawn shop. One fellow who had loaned money on an article given to him by the confessed burglar, kept a look-out for the man.

After several days, the stranger was located by the Pampa man, and officers there immediately notified Robert C. Luper of Elk City was arrested. In his car with him was his frail wife and a daughter of some 14 years.

Having the history of robberies of rural homes in Armstrong, Donley and Carson counties, the officers notified Sheriff Wright here and Sheriff Roy Burton of Claude. The hunt for stolen stuff was on in earnest.

Securing a confession at Pampa, made the recovery of stolen goods much easier. Wright and Burton accompanied by W. K. and Homer Hardin of Ashtola, and Ivan Chevaux of the same place, went to Albuquerque to identify goods taken from the Watt Hardin home.

In the Albuquerque pawn shop they found property belonging to the Hardin family as well as those of Armstrong county. Two suits, a typewriter and a shotgun were identified by the Hardin brothers as their property, and brought back Tuesday.

Suits, boots and radio and other materials, the property of Armstrong citizens, was recovered.

The goods taken from the Sam Dale home were located in Pampa, except for the valuable pump shotgun which was located in Borger.

THE NEW PALESTINE TO BE HEARD IN LECTURE HERE

Palestine has come to the front in recent years so rapidly that its marvelous prosperity is astonishing the world. The Holy Land is playing a very important role in the war news of today.

During the time of Christ the soil of Palestine was so fertile that it supported a dense population in a luxurious way.

Long ago Palestine ceased to be considered as an important country. The few who showed any interest in this almost forgotten little country, did so for sentimental reasons only.

E. H. Moseley will give an illustrated lecture in the Presbyterian Church, Nov. 21, at 7:30 p. m. on Modern Palestine, using seventy-two slides, many of them coming directly from Jerusalem, in which he will show Palestine as it is today and its place in history. The public is invited to hear this lecture.

E. H. MOSELEY who will lecture on "Modern Palestine" at the First Presbyterian church here Friday evening at 7:15, November 21st. No admission will be charged, but an offering will be taken.

Unbeaten Lefors To Meet 'Rockets'

The deceptive and speedy Lefors Pirates are still looting and plundering their way to the undisputed championship of District 3-A. Last week they disposed of Lakeview in easy style, 46 to 20. The two previous weeks they hurled McLean and Shamrock by the narrow margin of a field goal difference in each game. This week they wind up their conference schedule when they meet the Wellington Skyrockets, a team that held Shamrock to a scoreless tie last week. The 'Rockets' must not be counted out. They have the fighting spirit to pull an upset regardless of the strength of the opposing team. This game will be a headliner!

Lakeview and Memphis both take on non-conference opponents. The Pampa Gorillas move down to engage the Eagles while the Cyclone take on Canadian at Memphis.

Shamrock takes on their traditional rivals, the Wheeler Mustangs and should have little trouble in brushing them aside. However, it must be remembered, that last year a Wheeler team spoiled an otherwise perfect season for the Irish. Wheeler has yet to win a game this season, and are practically doomed as far as this game is concerned.

The Clarendon Bronchos go over to McLean this week to engage the Tigers who are holding down a second position in the district along with Shamrock Irishmen. Clarendon will have little chance in defeating this powerful aggregation that has lost only to the district leading Lefors Pirates.

Conference Standings

Team	G	W	L	T	Pct.
Lefors	6	6	0	0	1000
Shamrock	5	4	1	0	800
McLean	5	4	1	0	800

Clarendon	6	3	3	0	500
Lakeview	7	2	5	0	286
Memphis	7	1	6	0	143
Wheeler	6	0	6	0	000

Season Standings

Team	G	W	L	T	Pct.
Lefors	8	8	0	0	1000
McLean	8	7	1	0	875

Clarendon	8	4	4	0	500
Lakeview	8	2	5	1	313
Memphis	8	1	7	0	125
Wheeler	6	0	6	0	000

Last week's results:
 Clarendon 12, Memphis 6; McLean 48, Wheeler 8; Shamrock 0, Wellington 0 (Irish win on penetrations); Lefors 46, Lakeview 20.
 Games scheduled for this week:
 Clarendon at McLean, Lefors at Wellington, Pampa Gorillas at Lakeview, Canadian at Memphis, Shamrock at Wheeler.

SOLDIER COLUMN

I am First Sergeant in B Company of the 7th Engineer Battalion, one of the outstanding companies of engineers in the United States Army. This battalion was activated in October, 1939 at Fort Logan, Colorado. It joined the 5th Infantry Division at Fort McClellan, Alabama in November of the same year. Since that time the 7th Engineers have traveled over the country quite a bit, having been stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky, Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, and finally staying at Fort Custer, Michigan.

The battalion and especially B Company has established quite a record for itself in its short life. It holds the world's record in several engineering feats—one being the erection of the 90 foot ponton bridge in 32 minutes, and the erection of a steel H-10 bridge in 29 minutes. During the recent maneuver in Arkansas and Louisiana, the company again came to the front receiving several commendations for its achievements. One recognition of merit was received from Lieutenant General Ben Lear, the Commander of the 2nd Army.

I at one time lived in Donley county, Texas, and most of my relation still lives there. Therefore, I'm interested in the news of the county.

Yours truly,
 Robert L. Kerbow
 1st Sgt. Co. B,
 7th Engr. Bn.

PECOS COURT HEAVIEST IN ALL TEXAS

At the convention of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas held last week in San Antonio, it was proven visibly to all doubting Thomases that the biggest Commissioners court in Texas is that of Pecos County.

Living proof was Commissioner Frank Hinde, who scratches the rule at six feet eight inches; weighs about 250 pounds. Fellow giants on the same court are P. D. "Val" Gohmert, six feet two inches and Hal Burnett, six feet five inches. Another member of the court Buck Pyle, is a mere six feet one-inch.

Aggregate weight of the three big commissioners is 729 pounds, which makes his court the "biggest in beef if not in brains" says Hinde.

Mrs. Lola Coby was taken to a Pampa hospital in a Buntin ambulance Tuesday night.

Mrs. Winston L. Blaklock and babe, Carolyn Lee, returned from a Memphis hospital Sunday evening to their home in Clarendon in a Buntin ambulance.

DISCOVERY.
Some day we shall learn that the Palo Duro and other canyons extending back from the Cap Rock were caves until the huge meteor fell near Odessa. Perhaps we have a meteor pit nearer than that one. And what is more, if the Palo Duro canyon was formerly a cave, we shall find other caves over there some day. A number are to be found in the gypsum formation in the bottom of the Canyon and its tributaries in plain sight.

INVENTION.
Some smart person originated a head covering for the women folks this season that cannot be blown off. It is a turban with two tails. The tails are wound up and become the ornamental part of the headgear. The men will keep right on wearing hats that blow off, and cuss 'em and run after them right on as they have for a century.

WISE GUY.
"What is your steak like today?" asked an old boy as he flopped down at the counter of an Amarillo beanery Saturday. "Tender as a woman's heart," the waiter told Bachelor Bill. Then old Bill up and says, "just bring me some fish!"

INFORMATION.
Down in Jack county, a woman who had applied for relief, was asked the age of her four children, to which she promptly replied:

"Well sir, I have a lap youngun, a crawler, a porch tumbler and a rock thrower!"

OUT OF BOUNDS.
Back in the rushing days of '18 when mules were being shipped to Louisiana, a man from this section was called a very uncomplimentary name. "That's a fighter name where I cum from," he said. "Well, why don't you fight," said the brawny lumber axman. The West Texan looked the crowd over and explained, "just because I ain't where I cum from."

GOSSIP DID IT.
Adam was alright so long as he worked in the garden. It was when he stopped to gossip that his trouble started.

FLOOD TIME.
When news reporters hurried out to Ft. Smith, Arkansas during the recent flood to tell the world about the big water, one fellow asked a negro, "has any one been lost at this location?" The old darkey informed the reporter that "nosur, mah brother was drowned yesterday, but we-all found him this mawnin'."

"Yes Sir, She's My Baby"
The fresh young traveling salesman put on his most seductive smile as the pretty waitress glided up to his table in the hotel dining room.

"Nice day, little one," he remarked.
"Yes, it is," she replied. "And so was yesterday, and my name is Ella, and I know I'm a pretty girl and have lovely blue eyes, and I've been here quite a while and I like the place, and I don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working here. My wages are satisfactory and I don't think there's a show or dance in town tonight, and if there were I wouldn't go with you. I'm from the country and I'm a respectable girl, and my brother is the cook in this hotel, and he was a college football player and weights 300 pounds and last week he pretty nearly ruined a $25-a-week traveling man, who tried to make a date with me; now, what'll you have—roast beef, roast pork, Irish stew, hamburger or fried liver?"

FAST WORLD.
When grandpa, as a young man, missed the stage coach, he simply went back home and waited a week for the next one. He has a grandson today who becomes vexed if he misses one section of a revolving door.

Olds Adopts Improved Piston

The adoption of Armasteel pistons in all series of Oldsmobiles for 1942, both sixes and eights, was announced in Lansing yesterday by D. E. Ralston, general sales manager for the Oldsmobile division of General Motors. Adoption of these new type pistons signalizes the release by Oldsmobile of huge quantities of aluminum to national defense uses. It also dramatically illustrates how the development of an "alternate" material can result in improved quality and long life.

"Armasteel pistons have played an important part in the sensational records achieved by General Motors diesel-driven locomotives," said Ralston. "Designing and building a piston for these engines that offered extremely low wearing qualities, at the same time maintaining far greater tensile strength, was an achievement of the General Motors Research staff. Records show that as many as a million miles of continuous service was travelled by the General Motors diesel engines without need for Armasteel piston maintenance."

"Backed by General Motors Research and hundreds of thousands of miles at the proving grounds, Oldsmobile engineers adopted this new type piston for the 1942 cars. Because of the toughness and durability of Armasteel, it is possible to materially reduce the weight of the new Oldsmobile piston, thereby combining some of the most desirable characteristics of aluminum with the lasting qualities of steel."

"Because of its valuable contribution to improved quality, Oldsmobile is proud to list the Armasteel piston with its long list of automotive firsts, including Hydromatic Drive, the only drive to eliminate the conventional clutch mechanism, clutch pedal and all gear shifting."

...and do be careful!

"Five mornings a week, nine months a year, we mothers of Texas get our children ready for school. In our home and a million other Texas homes, that's one of the first and most important duties of a mother's day. Sometimes Dad finds out what a job it is when he has to do it by himself."

All of us want our children to have the best education possible. Most of us look to the public schools for this.

Fortunately, Texas has the best public schools in the South. Helping to build and operate them is the Texas petroleum industry which pays 24 million dollars a year in taxes for school purposes.

These petroleum taxes pay an average of one-fourth the cost of educating our children. Altogether, they meet the entire expense of schooling nearly 400,000 Texas boys and girls.

In addition, oil has contributed substantially to the 70 million dollar permanent school fund. Oil is also responsible for much of the 30 million dollar permanent university fund, which has made possible the expansion of the University of Texas and A. & M. College.

Furthermore, taxes on petroleum products add another 11½ million dollars a year for the schools of our State.

Our children get a better education today because of the Texas petroleum industry.

SIDE GLANCES ON TEXAS HISTORY

By Charles O. Hucker University of Texas Library

McIntire Goes After Adventure in Texas

In 1902 old Jim McIntire of Kansas City published the reminiscences of a man who, he wrote in the introduction, had "seen as much lawless life and had perhaps as many hair-raising adventures as any man living." He had chased Indians and outlaws, had himself been chased across three states, had run gambling-houses and saloons, had shot up towns, and had been marshal and deputy sheriff in frontier settlements.

And it all came from reading dime novels.

The reminiscences were McIntire's own and were entitled "Early Days in Texas." The volume is one of a score of valuable first-hand commentaries on old-time cowboy life available in the extensive Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library.

Early in life McIntire "developed an ambition to be a cowboy and see life on the plains as portrayed by the dime novels I had been reading," he wrote in his book. So he left his Ohio home, came to Texas, became a cowboy, and impatiently awaited adventures comparable to those related in the little yellow-backed books, which had meant as much in his early life as western movies often mean in the lives of boys today.

He Meets the Indians

McIntire came to Texas late in the 1860's and immediately got work on a ranch near Jacksboro—"right in the heart of the Indian country, surrounded by hostile Kiowas and Comanches." His boss was a man named J. C. Loving, and "Loving's ranch," he wrote, "was the outpost of civilization and was the first ranch the Indians had to pass in going from the Reservation to the settlements."

This he quickly discovered. On March 17, 1869, the men on the ranch gathered to eat dinner before going out on a general roundup, when suddenly, right in the midst of the meal, a shot rang out near the corral. Some thirty-five Indians had appeared. "In an instant everything was excitement," McIntire wrote; "here it was that I got my first taste of Indian fighting, and I plunged into the thickest of it."

The object of the attack, it turned out, was the herd of ranch horses, which the men managed to get into the corral just as the fighting began. Then, McIntire went on, "Mrs. White, Loving's sister-in-law, loaded guns for me, and I took a position under a big oak tree in the yard, firing at the approaching Indians as fast as she could load the guns—Bullets were flying thick and fast around me, as the greater part of their fire was directed at me and Mr. Loving, who were between the Indians and the corral where all the horses were."

party was Mrs. White, who loaded guns and handed them out to me just as if that were her regular business," he remembered in after years. "Her three little children were in the house, but not even a thought of the danger they were in affected her nerves."

Gradually the Indians lost ground, primarily because they were out-numbered; and at last only two remained within rifle range. Then Mrs. White, McIntire wrote, "thought they might be dislodged by a big old-fashioned foreign-made gun which shot a very large bullet. She handed this out to me saying, 'Here is a big gun; try them two setting on their horses.' I laid down, taking careful aim, and fired high." They got away.

Thus, after half an hour, McIntire's first Indian fight was ended. Though one of his comrades was fatally wounded, he himself was untouched. But he was off to a good and satisfying start on his dime-novel career.

Bombers Must Breathe

Today American-made bombers can fly at the unbelievable height of six miles. Here is the story of the small but all-important device that helps make stratosphere flying possible.

1. It started on Pike's Peak in 1918, where Army Air Corps engineers showed that an airplane engine could be made to run efficiently 2 1/4 miles above sea level

2. This amazing feat was possible because a "turbo-supercharger"—developed by the Army Air Corps and G-E engineers—pumps extra oxygen into the carburetors.

3. For 22 years these engineers have worked constantly to improve this vital device. As a result, U.S. bombers can fly above the reach of anti-aircraft fire.

4. Dr. S. A. Moss, G-E engineer who pioneered in this work, now at 69 has the thrill of watching the supercharger help carry our fliers higher than any others!

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas.

Memorable Passage—"It, of course, is everyone's duty to love his Country. But he must know his Country in order to love it as he should. Whether he be plumber, farmer, doctor, lawyer, teacher, merchant, or minister, he will be a better one and of greater honor to a free citizenship if he knows and loves his State and Nation."—Ben B. Hunt.

Q. Does Texas have a state museum?

A. Yes. The Texas Memorial Museum located on the campus of the University of Texas is a state museum and is maintained as such with funds appropriated by the legislature. Dr. E. H. Sellards is director.

CIVIC PRIDE—Rosebud, Texas, points with particular pride to the fact that there is a rosebush in every Rosebud yard.

Q. When did Elizabeth Ney, sculptor of renown, move to Austin?

A. In 1892.

Q. Are there any records of punishment or discipline being meted out to soldiers during the Texas Revolution?

A. Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, answers this question by referring to the muster rolls of the Army of the Republic. In one instance, Commissioner Giles points out, a soldier was sentenced to wear a ball and chain for three months. In another court martial a soldier was sentenced to death, but the penalty was commuted to imprisonment at hard labor, and the soldier forfeited any and all claims against the government.

Q. Who was the last Texas governor to wear whiskers.

A. Governor Tom Campbell who served from 1907-1911.

THE GREAT COMMONER—William Jennings Bryan resided on a ranch near Mission, Texas, at one time. When he ran for president he was accorded votes in every county in the United States except Hidalgo county. "I bought a ranch there so I could do some missionary work," he recalled jokingly at the San Francisco convention of the Democratic Party in 1920. Mrs. D. F. Strickland of Mission has a bust of Mr. Bryan made of him in the early part of the century by the most noted of all Texas sculptors, Elizabeth Ney.

Q. How many governors has Texas had since entering the Union?

A. Coke R. Stevenson is the 34th governor of the State of Texas. The pictures of all of Texas' governors hang in the rotunda of the capitol. There is, however, no picture of Governor Sam Houston. His picture is carried along with the presidents of the Republic. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's picture appears twice on the walls, once for each of her terms.

CENTER OF TEXAS—The geographical center of Texas is located about 15 or 20 miles northeast of Brady.

Donley County Leader, $2 a year.

PERSONAL DEDUCTIONS

I'm always telling somebody what I'm going to do when I go to Congress. Well, when I go to Congress I'm going to sponsor a law making it a treasonable offense for anyone to manage other people's business. The best job anybody ever did and the biggest one is to take care of his own affairs and give the other fellow credit for having enough sense to take care of his own business.

How many times have you heard some corner loafer without a dime in his pocket say to his equally rich and successful crony, "If I was in Old Man Jones' shoes, I'd fire every darn clerk in my store. They're stealing him out of house and home." Or: "Do you know Jim Smith's wife spends every dime he makes and old Jim has to borrow from the bank every month to pay his bills? I'd kick my woman out in the street if she even had a thought like givin' a bridge party every Tuesday—and servin' tea."

God help us to get so far behind with out work that every loafer in the country will be so busy with his hands that his mouth won't be spewing dirty gossip and his mind will be too busy watching his little used hands to try to manage the other fellows affairs!—Amarillo News.

George Vandergriff, a former school boy here some years ago, recently went to Biloxi, Miss. to enter the Air Corps school of Uncle Sam.

Texas To Meet High Food Demand

The largest percentage increase among the food production goals announced for Texas by the State USDA Defense Board under the 1942 "Food-For-Freedom" campaign, is 18 percent in cattle and calves for marketing and farm slaughter. Other goals include a 17 percent increase in hogs; 10 percent in eggs; 6 percent in sheep and lambs, and 3 percent in milk. The suggested increase in beef is sought for processing rather than enlargement of herds, and would represent 269,093,000 lbs. more than was placed on the market in 1941.

George W. Barnes, animal husbandman of the A&M College Extension Service, says there should be no difficulty in reaching the goal if current or better prices for livestock prevail. Ranchmen would cull their cows closer and sell off irregular breeders, and barren and over-age animals. There are very few herds of any size in Texas, he added, which do not have a selection of these types of animals, and on account of excellent pasturage and surplus feed older cows readily could be put into conditions to go to market at 900 to 1150 pounds live weight and sold at a profit.

Since the increase requested is a matter of pounds rather than units, the good pastures, trench silos and other home-grown feed reserves have made another contribution to the program. Calves are heavier this fall than for several years and the percentage of herd calf crops is larger. Furthermore, cattlemen will give closer attention to management and breeding.

"There will be no trouble whatever in reaching the goal in eggs, provided prices remain at the present level," says George P. McCarthy, Extension Service poultryman. Producers are being encouraged to buy protein concentrate to mix with home-produced grains in order to obtain a better balanced feeding program. A high percentage of farmers have not been using protein other than skim milk, but with prevailing prices for eggs producers are justified in making the additional expenditure to place this supplement in the ration, he believes.

With pullets coming into production, McCarthy estimates that the 1942 production of eggs in Texas will exceed that of 1941 by more than 12 percent. Some of the major poultry-growing counties will increase their output of eggs beyond the 10 percent goal, but no county, he added, would fall below it.

Clipping Bureau Is "Manned" By School Girls

AUSTIN — Thirty-eight girls who are "snipping" their way through the University of Texas are pretty close to everyday affairs.

They work in the Students' Clipping Bureau, which searches nearly 800 Texas papers for items of outstanding interest to individuals and groups.

Organized 24 years ago, the Bureau staff has grown from one girl who clipped University news only, to a trained corps who read and clip 125 dailies and 650 Texas weekly and semi-weekly newspapers.

The list of nearly 100 subscribers to the Bureau's services includes those interested in such items as all births in Texas, archaeological discoveries, amputations, fires, and city and county financial reports. Many state agencies and state officials and aspirants to state posts subscribe to the service.

SISTER OF HEDLEY WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Fannie Elizabeth Powell, 58, died late Saturday night at the family home in Texline. She was the wife of the Rev. J. G. Powell, pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness church.

The family moved to Texline from Lefors six weeks ago. Rev. Powell had been pastor of the Lefors Pentecostal Holiness church for five years before transferring to Texline.

Survivors are the husband, two sons, O. T. Lindsey, Sudan, and the Rev. T. T. Lindsey, High Point, N. C.; a sister, Mrs. Della Barber, Hedley; and four brothers, W. T. Sanderson, Ryan, Okla.; J. L. Sanderson, Henrietta, Texas; L. A. Sanderson, Cleburn, and A. L. Sanderson, Stephenville.

The family is well known in Donley county, Rev. Powell having preached for the local church a number of times.

Funeral services at Lefors Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Mollie E. Gray spent the first days of the week in North-west hospital in Amarillo. She was taken there Tuesday in a Buntin ambulance.

Common Names And Uncommon Teachers

AUSTIN—The Jones boys run numerically fourth on faculty rolls of the University of Texas, behind the Smiths, Browns and Williamses.

There are but five Joneses teaching in the University, while here are 14 Smiths, 10 Browns, and seven Williamses.

Listings of faculty members requires a prominent section of the 1941-42 directory of University students and teachers, recently released. The directory, which is the guide book to all parts of the University, both curricular and extra-curricular, is the campus's most popular book and early sales have set records.

This year there are listed 9,476 students, a short decline from last year's 10,310, although the student body is still by a large margin the largest in the South. The book includes 243 pages of addresses, telephone numbers and miscellaneous information of aid to students and teachers who are seeking to locate individuals connected with the University.

THE MAGIC LINE (To "Men Working" on the Highway)

Mile on mile, they paint the line
Without a hue or shade;
They make it white as virgin lime,
Or black as death's parade.

They hold it true to grade and rule
Over hilltop and decline,
That Youth and Age, that knave or fool
"Keep rendezvous with Time."

The stroke is deep at cross and curve
Where many feet may tread:
Where wheel may grind, or skid, or swerve
When signs are passed—unread.

A magic line—to guide the wheel
Subconscious in its rule
Of sight and sound, of nerveless feel
In sage, or drinking fool.

That line—a Damoclesian thread,
May hold the fatal knife
That sways above Progression's head—
Death's game with Human Life.

Paint on, O Workman, broad and deep,
In white, or midnight hue;
That few may need to groan, or weep,
Who heed the line you drew!
May Terry Gill,
Abilene, Texas.

ROY B. MEFFERD IS TO GET TRANSFER IN VOCATIONAL AG. WORK

Roy B. Mefferd, supervisor of vocational agriculture of Area 4 and professor of Agricultural Education at John Tarleton College, has received notice from his State Director that he can expect to be transferred to another location within the next two or three weeks.

Under the supervision of Mr. Mefferd, who has been Area 4 supervisor for the last seven years, the work in Vocational Agriculture and Future Farmers of America has shown a wholesome growth by the addition of 54 new departments with a total of more than 5,000 enrollment. From time to time adjustments have been made so that at the present Area 4 has 86 departments with approximately 4,000 boys carrying on their farming programs under Mr. Mefferd's supervision.

Mr. Mefferd thinks that he will probably draw some assignment with the new Farm Defense Program, but will announce these definite plans later.—Tribune.

Mr. Mefferd is the fellow who was "fired by wire" from Ft. Worth while serving Clarendon as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce more than a dozen years ago. The general public here regarded Mr. Mefferd as a gentleman whose services were most efficient. Many of his friends here will be glad to know that he continues to find appreciation of his talents and skill.
