Rev. Roger Gray New president for ministerial alliance

As newly elected president of the Donley County Ministerial Alliance, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation for the opportunity to serve in this capacity. I believe that much good and helpful ground work for a successful Ministerial Alliance has been laid by our previous President Pettigrew Hamilton and his staff.

Our newly elected officers are as follows: Rev. Roger Gray - President (Assembly of God); Rev. Roy Sullivan - vice-president (Calvary Baptist); and Rev. Paul Heil - Secretary/Treasurer (First Baptist).

Our previous meeting schedule has been the 1st or 2nd Wednesday of each month (as announced), at the Farmers State Bank, 10 a.m. This schedule may be revised somewhat.

We would like to extend an invitation to all of our area ministers to meet with us.

The main Community Services throughout the year are Easter (Good Friday), Thanksgiving, and Christmas. Some of our functions are: helping the needy transients with gas and food; helping with certain local emergency needs; and serving the residents of Donley County area in whatever way possible.

The financial support of our Alliance fund is an important item also. Offerings are received during scheduled Community Services. There are other contributions from interested parties, occasionally, which are directed to the Donley County Ministerial Alliance, c/o Farmers State Bank, Clarendon, TX 79226.

Some of our tentative goals for the year ahead include the possible adoption of Ministerial Alliance By-Laws, and possible plans for the development of a Community Center. We would also like to up-date the Church and Ministerial List of Donley County.

Dinner Theatre to have open house

Country Squire Dinner Theatre is opening its doors this coming Sunday, January 28, from 1-5 for their friends in Clarendon and the area for an open house.

Admission is free and there will be plenty of refreshments, music, live entertainment and drawings for various door prizes.

Among the door prizes will be a January birth stone, a garnet. Winners need not be present to win these prizes.

King Hill, publicity director, said Country Squire Dinner Theatre has a two fold reason for their open house. One is to say 'Thank You' to all the persons who attend the productions, and whose number outside Amarillo is a large percentage of their guests.

The other reason is to acquaint those who have asked "What is a dinner theatre?" with this delightful form of entertainment. There will be tours provided for those who desire to see these facilities.

Country Club to have dance

There will be a dance at the Clarendon Country Club on January 27, from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. Music will be provided by Wes Britten and his band 'Movin' On'.

Those who will be attending are asked to please make their reservations in advance. In case of inclement weather which may prevent the band from keeping their engagement, those with reservations will be notified.

A farm census proclamation

Because the economy of Donley County benefits greatly from farming, the county's presiding officials bring to the attention of all county residents the 1978 Census of Agriculture.

Whereas, the farm census is the source of accurate information on the number of farms and farm operators in our county;

Whereas, it is also the source of information about our basic agricultural assets;

Whereas, it also provides accurate data on farm sales as well as farm production costs in our county;

And whereas, many business decisions made by the county's farmers, as well as those who do business with them, depend heavily upon accurate benchmark data from the Census of Agriculture;

Now, therefore, be it resolved that the county's presiding officials urge all farm operators to fill out and return promptly the farm census questionnaires they have received in the mail and thus help to make the 1978 census the most successful in a series of 21 farm census counts which began in 1840.

Signed J.S. Hinds, County Judge

County proclamation supports 1978 Census of Agriculture

Officials of Donley County issued a proclamation today supporting the 1978 Census of Agriculture now being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Noting that the county benefits greatly from farming, the proclamation points out that "many business decisions made by the county's farmers, as well as those who do business with them, depend heavily upon accurate benchmark data from the Census of Agriculture."

The proclamation urges the county's farm operators to complete the census questionnaires accurately and return them promptly to the Census Bureau. Similar proclamations are being issued by officials of other counties and state governors in support of the census, the 21st in a series which began in 1840.

The current census will update the findings of the most recent farm census taken in 1974. Census figures are needed in making sound economic decisions. Many National and State programs affecting agriculture are designed or allocated on the basis of census data. For example, funds for extension work, research, soil conservation, and other services are based on census data. The more dependent a county is on agricultural income, the more vital census information becomes. Census Bureau officials point out.

Private industry uses the statistics from the agriculture census to provide a more effective production and distribution system for the farm community. A major railroad uses county-by-county data to allocate the proper number of boxcars to various locations throughout the Nation. One company may use the data to locate a feed mill and another to locate a tractor dealership in order to provide better service and competitive prices for farmers.

While surveys are made regularly by the U.S. Department of Agriculture conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, provides the needed benchmark or check point on which to develop other data.

Since the first farm census was conducted in 1840, the

with the Census Bureau's economic censuses.

Because a successful farm census depends upon farmers and ranchers completing their report forms accurately and quickly, the Census Bureau is seeking the cooperation of each county's agriculture and business leaders and local officials.

Public hearing on school textbooks for 1980-81

Texas will have an opportunity next month to make their views known concerning the proposed proclamation calling for textbooks before the annual process begins this year.

Henry Perry, Texas Education Agency textbook division director, this is the first time that one has been held in connection with the proclamation.

The proclamation calling for new materials to be considered for adoption for the 1980-81 school year will be issued by the Board at its March meeting.

The hearing will begin at 1 p.m. in the Board Room, Riverside North building of the office complex occupied by the Texas Education Agency at 150 E. Riverside Drive. Members of the Committee on Programs and Personnel Development and other members of the Board will be present.

Persons wishing to speak are asked to notify Dr. M.L. Brockette, Commissioner of Education, no later than February 2. Time allocations will be determined at the hearing.

Red meat outlook -- Cattle and hog prices will stay at current high levels at least through the first half of 1979, according to most predictions. This forecast is based on smaller supplies of red meat, less hog production than expected and continued strong consumer demand for beef and pork.

Beef -- Chuck cuts (roasts and steaks) are in the spotlight--and there are some features on ground beef with soy protein, sirloin steak, round and rib steaks and liver.

Pork -- Best buys are Boston butt roasts, end chops, liver, rib and loin-end roasts, bacon and frankfurters.

Consumer watchwords: Canned mushrooms add economical nutrition to menus.

Budget buys at Texas grocery markets

Poultry, root vegetables and some processed foods are among budget buys at Texas grocery markets this week, according to Gwendolyn Clyatt.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Current price and quality trends are the following:

Poultry--Attractive prices appear on fryer chickens (whole and parts) and chicken frankfurters. Turkeys, 10 pounds and up, are available.

Fresh vegetables-- Best values include carrots, turnips, rutabagas, dry onions, potatoes, cabbage and broccoli. All stocks of sweet potatoes now are kiln dried, making them better "keepers."

Fresh fruits -- For economy, fruits "by-the-bag" are usually the best values. Consider apples, oranges and tangelos--along with grapefruit. Check for values on bananas, pears and pineapples.

Along grocery market aisles -- Feature items include canned tomatoes and tomato products, canned peaches and fruit cocktail and canned tuna fish. Dry beans are a special feature in some markets.

Frozen foods -- Corn may be a feature.

News from the Capitol

By Foster Whaley

In the past I have been most critical of the fact that far too much legislation is introduced and far too much is being passed. Last year, over 4,000 bills were introduced and about 900 became law. Each year there seems to be an increase. Yesterday an effort was made to place some restrictions in the rules on the number of bills introduced by each Representative. I voted against the restriction because I believe every member should be heard without limitation but I'm sure I will vote "No" on many of the bills. To date there have been 378 bills introduced in the House and 125 in the Senate. Corrective legislation and new laws are essential in an expanding society but far too many laws are introduced for the purpose of giving certain special interest some undeserved advantage.

Representative Bob Close of Perryton asked me to cosponsor H.B. 370 which I did. The bill should not be controversial. It will do nothing more than permit County Commissioner Courts to authorize payments for the expense of an autopsy and cost of transporting a body from one point to another. It isn't difficult to see why legislation of this nature is needed.

We might mention that Representative Bob Close of Perryton is one of the most highly respected Legislators down here.

Curtailment not a concern to most Lone Star customers

Last year's cold weather broke temperature records in Texas and Oklahoma, and demand for natural gas was at an all-time high. Yet more than a million residential and commercial customers of Lone Star Gas Company enjoyed uninterrupted service.

To assure continuing service for these customers during this year's heating season, Lone Star has worked to be sure gas will be available when needed.

The pipeline system used to deliver natural gas to customer cities and towns is sized to provide for optimum operating conditions. During extremely cold weather, there is sometimes more demand than can be supplied for a period of time. Why not build bigger pipelines? That would be like building a church for the Easter or Christmas attendance, rather than the weekly congregation. The cost would be prohibitive and would cause gas rates to be much higher.

Instead of bigger pipelines, Lone Star developed a year's "curtailment" program many years ago. Industrial customers and electric generating plants sign contracts agreeing to "curtail" or reduce their use of natural gas during these times of very high demand. They also agree to make provision for other sources of fuel to use as a backup while being curtailed. Curtailment programs for industrial customers are now mandatory for the natural gas distribution companies of Texas.

Because of this program and an efficient gas storage operation, residential and commercial customers can be assured that the probability of having their natural gas service interrupted is very low. Lone Star has the natural gas and will continue to maintain its progressive supply program.

The cold days of the 1979 winter season are here and staying warm is a main concern. Lone Star Gas Co. wants its 1.1 million customers in Texas and Oklahoma to know the heat will be there when needed, thanks in a great part to the company's underground storage program.

Weather takes toll

Shipments of all oranges and grapefruit from the Texas Rio Grande Valley have been stopped for 12 days, Jan. 7-19, to allow inspectors time to see any freeze damage to fruit before it was shipped.

Consumers may buy with confidence now as the quality is good. Growers and processors have been careful about the picking and processing to cut costs and pay for the marketable produce only.

Late last week the embargo was lifted and some 248,880 40-lb. cartons of oranges and grapefruit were shipped Thursday and Friday.

Recent increased technology allows growers to send much of their fruit to juice plants, thereby greatly reducing the loss they once would have had to suffer.

Lettuce and cabbage crops were hard hit also as were other early crops which had been sown and were up, young and tender.

In our local area the cotton crop is still 15 to 20% away from completion. A real break in the severe weather would allow the growers to finish pulling the crop and prevent any further deterioration of grade.

What is dormant at this time, due to the cold but moisture amounts should be of much benefit when growing resumes a little later in the year.

Prospects for the coming growing season look very good at this stage with the beneficial moisture from the heavy wet

St. Andrews Area Council meets

The St. Andrews Area Council met Sunday, Jan. 14th, in the First Presbyterian Church of Memphis. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Montgomery and Mrs. Bill Leslie of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shaller, Mike McCully and Trey Chamberlain of Clarendon.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the moderator, the Rev. Owen McGarity, New officers were elected for 1979: Trey Chamberlain, Vice-Moderator; Velma Leslie, Secretary and Reporter; and Bill Cosby, Treasurer.

Other business of the Council was transacted and the meeting closed with prayer.

"D" is for dairy products, but remember the "C" that comes before "D."

It stands for clean, cool and covered, and that's what's needed to keep dairy products in top-notch condition, advises Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Operators, however, can regulate the discharge rate rather uniformly through the use of valves. This method helps insure that the gas flow will be constant during the winter heating months and will not leave the consumer without gas should cold weather be slow to leave. By April and May, Lone Star is again ready to inject gas into storage.

The larger storage plants have a 24-hour staff to keep the giant facilities in top-notch shape. Storage plant workers constantly check pressure gauges and other equipment for proper operation and safety.

Lone Star helped pioneer storage of gas in depleted oil and gas fields. As early as 1933, company leaders realized the need for natural gas conservation through storage. The first efforts in Clay County, Tex., were unsuccessful, but methods were improved until the first storage plant was opened near Cisco in June 1950.

Storages serve two purposes: to serve customers during peak demand, and to store gas purchased from suppliers during periods of low demand. The latter is necessary because large quantities of gas are purchased under "take or pay" contracts, where the buyer guarantees payment for the gas even if it is not needed for immediate usage. Efficient storage operations like Lone Star's enable the company to enter into such contracts which help hold down the cost of gas. At the same time, storage assures dependable, safe service to customers.

Drive at a steady speed and save gasoline, advises Pat Seaman, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Varying highway speeds by only five miles per hour can cost about 1.3 miles per gallon, Ms. Seaman explains.

News from the Texas Historical Commission

PRIVATE CITIZEN CAPTURES BUNCO GANG

Myra Hargrave Comiskey J. Frank Norfleet, son of a Texas Ranger, grew up poor, worked on ranches and received little formal education. He and his wife lived frugally for 20 years while he worked as foreman for Spade Ranch in Hale County. Finally they moved to their own land and their holdings eventually grew to 20,000 acres.

Norfleet was so respected that for a time in the early 1900s a town and a school were named for him. However, the railroad suffered financial losses and was abandoned and the town died.

While Norfleet was in Fort Worth in 1919 to buy land, five bunco artists swindled him out of $45,000. Using a scheme to buy stock, they were so convincing that he actually made two trips back to Hale County, drew out all his life savings and received support from Texas Governor Pat Neff and Florida's Governor Hardee. After the arrest of the bunco artists, he continued tracking down criminals. His investigations, which stretched over the next 20 years, helped in the arrest of many (some accounts say more than 100) lawbreakers.

He paid for his own travels, placing himself in a financial bind for which he never fully recovered. He wore various disguises and helped apprehend lawmen who were working with the confidence men. His skill at tracking down criminals gained him the nickname of "Little Tiger". After his retirement, he wrote a book, "Norfleet", about his adventures. The Texas Historical Commission has placed an OFFICIAL HISTORICAL MARKER honoring J. Frank Norfleet in the Hale Center City Park, 702 Main Street.

New name

A new name for "home demonstration" clubs - Extension Homemakers Clubs - will go into effect January 1, across Texas, and Donley County clubs will join the effort.

For their new names, Donley County clubs will change the words "Home Demonstration" to "Extension Homemakers".

These include the Early Bird Extension Homemakers Club, the Late Edition Extension Homemakers Club, the Young Homemakers Extension Homemakers Club, also the Lakers Extension Homemakers Club.

This change is affecting the statewide network of Extension Homemakers clubs at all organizational levels - including community, county, district and state, according to Mrs. Gary Harbert, Donley County Extension Homemakers Council chairman.

To create the new name, members of the statewide Texas Home Demonstration Association recently voted to change the state organization's name to Texas Extension Homemakers.

PLOWIN' OUT THE CORNERS

By Carl C. Wood [Uncle Zeb]

One of my friends used to say "This weather is getting pretty 'monotomous'..." It really is.

During one of the "Spells of Weather" on a Saturday night we lay listening to the radio the last half of the night. To tell the truth the station told it so terrible we nearly froze. In the morning we were afraid to go out before sun-up for breakfast and lo and behold it hadn't snow with us... Thank goodness for 30 miles...

Curtailment not a concern to most Lone Star customers

Last year's cold weather broke temperature records in Texas and Oklahoma, and demand for natural gas was at an all-time high. Yet more than a million residential and commercial customers of Lone Star Gas Company enjoyed uninterrupted service.

To assure continuing service for these customers during this year's heating season, Lone Star has worked to be sure gas will be available when needed.

The pipeline system used to deliver natural gas to customers and towns is sized to provide for optimum operation to conditions. During the winter months, there is more demand, which is supplied for a period of 109 days. Why not build a cost of 4 per cent that would be the cost of the church for system."

During low usage months in the late spring and fall when little heating or air conditioning is needed, Lone Star's nine active storage plants inject millions of cubic feet of gas per day into the ground for safe-keeping.

By winter every year, Lone Star works to have each storage area filled to capacity to keep your home warm.

Cemetery has strange tales to tell

by Myra Hargrave Comiskey

Once the largest town in Wise County, Aurora is now a small farming community, but its cemetery has a colorful history. Hundreds of the graves date from an 1891 epidemic of "spotted fever". The task of burying the dead became so great that grave diggers from Fort Worth were hired for "good wages and whiskey (to relieve their tensions)". Fearing they might contract the fever from all the corpses being brought in each day, they insisted on working at night. Medical experts have since diagnosed the fever as a form of meningitis.

There is a headstone in the cemetery for Nellis Burris who lived less than 18 months. Apparently the often-quoted epitaph was written by some grieving relative: "As I was soon done, I don't know why I was begun."

The Texas Historical Commission has marked the Aurora Cemetery, which is one mile west of Rhome and one quarter mile south of SH 114, with an OFFICIAL TEXAS HISTORICAL MARKER.

Billy the Kid's real name was William Bonney.

Fringe benefits are multibillion $$ expense

Employee benefits, once known as "fringes," now are a multibillion-dollar expense for U.S. employers. These expenditures more than tripled from 1967 to 1977, according to a new survey by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The Chamber has been making the biennial statistical study of benefits since 1947. The 16th in the biennial series has just been published.

Based on data from 748 companies and other information, the Chamber estimates that employee benefits cost employers $310 billion in 1977, or 36.7 percent of payroll and an average of $4,692 per employee per year. Total costs in 1967 were $100 billion.

The largest outlay continues to be for payments to workers for time not worked, such as vacations, holidays and sick leave but not paid rest or lunch periods. These payments account for 9.5 percent of payroll costs. But the next largest chunk is one that is causing some concern and double-think these days -- expenditures for employee benefits that are required under federal laws, such as Social Security taxes.

These account for 9 percent of payroll expenditures and include: Old age and survivors and disability insurance 37.6 billion; Hospital insurance 6.9 billion; Workmen's compensation 10.0 billion; Government employee retirement 19.2 billion; Unemployment compensation 11.5 billion.

These costs -- representing only amounts spent by employers -- have been growing into a larger and larger share of all payroll costs. They grew to 9 percent in 1977 from 6.3 percent in 1967, 3.7 in 1957 and 0.8 percent in 1929, when total benefits came to $1.5 billion. Dr. Jack Carlson, chief economist of the U.S. Chamber, observes that employee benefits of all kinds have "substantially improved worker well-being and also have increased the cost of doing business."

In these inflationary times, it is well for Americans to bear in mind that these additional costs are inflationary to the extent that they are not offset by higher worker productivity. Social Security taxes, as well as other government social programs, have their price. So do vacations, holidays, other time off and employee benefits generally.

It is a trade-off. Somewhere down the road these benefits are supposed to make us happier, healthier and a more productive nation.

Davis-Bacon Ripoff
For years the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has been asking Congress to repeal a depression-born law known as the Davis-Bacon Act because it is inflationary. The law, which once had an entirely different purpose, is still on the books.

Congress again is being asked by the Chamber to repeal it. Similar appeals are being made by other construction and business groups.

Only this time the Congress is hearing also from its watchdog agency, the General Accounting Office (GAO). A still-to-be-released GAO study reports that the Act adds an estimated $500 million yearly in inflated costs on federally funded or assisted construction projects.

The Act is supposed to regulate wages on such jobs to keep them in line with prevailing wages. In reality, it guarantees union scale wages, even when there are no unions in the locality.

THE ATTRACTIVE BLUE Spruce will provide excellent protection and beauty in a farmstead windbreak.

Do you need trees for wind breaks

The Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District will order trees for those interested in establishing a shelterbelt. Shelterbelts are of great value around farmsteads, headquarters, fields for windbreaks, and for livestock-wildlife shelters.

Costs are surprisingly small to establish an effective shelterbelt and the increase in land value as well as beauty will greatly offset the expense of planting.

Information on planning, ordering and planting an effective shelter is available at the SCS office on S. Kearney, phone 874-2339.

PRIVATE CITIZEN CAPTURES BUNCO GANG

by Myra Hargrave Comiskey
J. Frank Norfleet, son of a Texas Ranger, grew up poor, worked on ranches and received little formal education. He and his wife lived frugally for 20 years while he worked as foreman for Spade Ranch in Hale County. Finally they moved to their own land and their holdings eventually grew to 20,000 acres.

Norfleet was so respected that for a time in the early 1900s a town and a school were named for him. However, the railroad suffered financial losses and was abandoned and the town died.

While Norfleet was in Fort Worth in 1919 to buy land, five bunco artists swindled him out of $45,000. Using a scheme to buy stock, they were so convincing that he actually made two trips back to Hale County, drew out all his life savings and borrowed additional money for the "investment". When the mid-mannered rancher realized he had been "fleece", he became enraged.

Backed wholeheartedly by his wife, Norfleet vowed to catch all five con men. For the next four years he traveled over 30,000 miles: from coast-to-coast in the United States, from northern Mexico to Montreal, and to Cuba. During his relentless search, Norfleet gained the respect of many lawmen and he received support from Texas Governor Pat Neff and Florida's Governor Hardee. After the arrest of the bunco artists, he continued tracking down criminals. His investigations, which stretched over the next 20 years, helped in the arrest of many (some accounts say more than 100) lawbreakers.

He paid for his own travels, placing himself in a financial bind for which he never fully recovered. He wore various disguises and helped apprehend lawmen who were working with the confidence men. His skill at tracking down criminals gained him the nickname of "Little Tiger". After his retirement, he wrote a book, "Norfleet", about his adventures.

The Texas Historical Commission has placed an OFFICIAL HISTORICAL MARKER honoring J. Frank Norfleet in the Hale Center City Park, 702 Main Street.

THEN and NOW

THEN: The ancient Greeks realized that lemons have many uses. They recommended lemon leaves as an antidote for food poisoning and their rinds as a moth repellent. In the 12th century, peeled lemon pips became a treatment for wounds, and in the 17th and 18th centuries British doctors cleaned teeth with lemon peel and prescribed the juice, in which pearls had been dissolved, as a cure for epilepsy.

NOW: By the 20th century, lemonade had become America's most popular lemon drink. Children's lemonade stands became synonymous with the Fourth of July, and wherever youngsters sold thirst-quenching drinks at their summer stands, cold lemonade was always the favorite. You can prepare a good tasting, economical version at home with a convenient powdered drink, new Minute Maid Lemonade Crystals, made from lemon juice and containing no artificial flavors or colors.

NEWS OF ENERGY

The Eyes Have It: Protein

Geothermal researchers are convinced that heat from hot water deep inside the earth could be used to dry waste products from potato crop processings (such as the eyes and peelings) or dewater the end-of-process slurries, to convert these wastes into practical high protein food materials.

The resulting product would be suitable as a food for animals, fish or even humans in protein-deficient parts of the world.

But that's just a part of the newly emerging geothermal picture. With the technical and engineering support from the EG&G Idaho division of EG&G Inc., a private research and technical services organization, the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) is also exploring the geothermal potential for reducing U. S. dependence on foreign oil and gas.

Under construction at a DOE site in Idaho is a $6.68 million Thermal Loop Facility that will use geothermal water to drive a $970,500 turbine generator system.

In still another project, test equipment developed by the EG&G Energy Measurements Group's Los Alamos Operation is probing the feasibility of extracting energy from hot dry rock of the earth's crust, in a New Mexico demonstration program being conducted by DOE's Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory (LASL).

This program is based on the concept that man can create his own geothermal reservoirs by circulating water through hot dry rock whose energy would be used to generate electricity.

Scientists plan to start with a comparatively small thermal heat extraction experiment, then scale up to a larger system, and then possibly to a 100 Megawatt experiment requiring drilling to a depth of 12,500 feet where hot rock temperatures can rise to 250 degrees C. Such a system could conceivably generate about 10 million watts of electricity, or enough to meet the requirements of a medium-sized city.

As for the food wastes processing projects, EG&G says the process being implemented in Idaho would convert dried potato waste into a high-protein food for animals and fish. Later, the processing system will be used with sugar beet pulp and alfalfa.

Potato leftovers are now used to fertilize land and feed livestock, but the leftovers are too heavy to be transported far. Dried potato waste weighs only one-tenth of its liquid form, making it easier to ship and to market more profitably. Dried potato waste could sell for around $300 a ton.

The DOE/EG&G program is part of a concerted effort to find other profitable uses for moderate and low temperature geothermal resources.

The project has the potential for stimulating widespread use of geothermal energy. Geothermal waters and rocks have remained virtually untapped as an enormous source of energy beneath much of the

Lions Tale

By Gene Alderson
The Clarendon Lions Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday at the Lions Hall with 26 members and 2 guests present. We also met the two previous weeks but the reporter didn't get the article to the paper. We will try to do better in the future.

We are enjoying having our new club sweetheart, Cynthia Manning, with us. Our singing seems to sound much better when accompanied by a piano.

Following our regular opening ceremonies, Lion Bob Brown presented Boss Lion McGarity with an appropriately engraved desk set as a token of appreciation from our club for his service to us as our Boss Lion. Lion Courtney then presented him with a past-president's lapel pin.

Lion David Davidson introduced our program which was brought by one of our own members, Ronald Gooch, Donley County Agricultural Agent. Lion Gooch gave us a brief report on our county show, the Odessa show, the Amarillo show, and the upcoming Fort Worth show. It sounds like our 4-H'ers, with Ronnie's expert guidance, have our county well represented at these shows.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED, Wade Porter and Kim White.

By Karlen Cantrell

I can't decide whether or not the weather wants to be cold or hot and I really don't think the weather knows whether or not it wants to be cold or hot. But the weather man says it is going to be cold at least for a while.

Last week during the not-so-chilly days (Friday to be exact) White Deer came to Clarendon to play against us in basketball and here is what happened:

J.V. Girls Clarendon - 15
White Deer - 21

J.V. Boys Clarendon - 43
White Deer - 21

Varsity Girls Clarendon - 30
White Deer - 20

Varsity Boys Clarendon - 47
White Deer - 36

Tomorrow night (Jan. 26) the Bronchette and Broncho teams will be playing Panhandle there starting at 4:00. The Varsity Basketball teams voted on Basketball Queen and King. They are Janette Myers and Keith Floyd.

The Broncho Band voted on Band Queen and King. They are Kim White and Mickey McGuire.

February 10 is FHA's Sweetheart Banquet. All FHA members need to ask a date, because before too long, February 10 will be here.

Here is a little gossip... Lana D. and Rhonda B. Whistle if you lose it? What now...? Coach Slover. Posing for a "what" picture? Oh... annual picture. Rick H. Randy W. Is singing a lot funnier when you get to stand up in the bus and sing? Drew T. "Nobody sings like Drew, not even Rick!" Brent K. "Hung up?" Oh... on a fence! Wade P. ...and the next morning Brent would still be hanging on! Larry D. "Well...I wuz tired!" Kelli H. Jenny D. "An assassination plot?" Cutest Couple: Cynthia Har- dan and John Clifford.

This week I didn't have a "Thought of the Week" so I decided to use one of my Dad's poems. It is titled "Time Is"

Time is to slow for those that wait
Time is to swift for those that fear
Time is to long for those that grieve
Time is to short for those that rejoice
But, for those that love time is eternity.

House and apartments that are kept too hot and dry during winter parch the nose and throat. Experts believe this may lower resistance to germs. The right way to keep enough moisture in the air in winter is to keep room temperature down to about 70° F.

DO THE POOR OVERSEAS REALLY WANT TO HELP THEMSELVES?

There is a lot of talk these days about food shortages around the world. There is even some talk about what governments and voluntary agencies are doing about it.

But there is also the suspicion that a lot of people overseas are not doing much to help themselves.

This may be true in some cases but one American voluntary agency learned recently that this does not apply to the poor farmers living in drought-plagued Senegal in Africa.

Due to poor rains these farmers had harvests that were only 40 percent of their normal size. Catholic Relief Services which had been working in Senegal for 17 years faced a problem. It could obtain emergency food supplies to tide the people over the famine period but lacked the warehouse space needed to store the extra food.

The agency did have a nutrition and education program spread throughout northern Senegal where the drought was most damaging, even though there was not available money to build additional warehouses.

The government of Senegal had already supplied nurses for the village nutrition and health centers but could not come up with funds for the additional storage space. So Catholic Relief Services turned to the villagers themselves and asked them to step in. And they did. In less than five months, 63 abobe mud covered warehouses were built in the villages along a 600-mile stretch of the Senegal River.

The money for the building materials was contributed by the mothers enrolled in the CRS nutrition education program and the construction work was done by the villagers.

More than 140,000 preschool children and their mothers benefited from this one emergency program. Catholic Relief Services knows that the poor overseas really can and do help themselves.

1926 Book club meeting

The 1926 Book Club met in regular session at the Patching Clubhouse at 4:00 p.m. on January 16, 1979. The Hostesses, Mrs. Pauline Heath and Mrs. Billie Clinton, served the seventeen members present delicious date cake topped with cream, coffee, delicious hot punch, and nuts.

The president, Carolyn Hamilton, called the meeting to order and read a poem depicting the new year. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, corrected and approved.

Mrs. Molly Ritter was asked to report on the slate of officers for 1979-1980. The following names were put in nomination: President: Mrs. Oressa Delaney; Vice President: Mrs. Frieda Tucker; Recording Secretary: Mrs. Ethlyn Grady; Corresponding Secretary: Miss Betty Veach; Treasurer: Mrs. Mary Thornberry; Parliamentarian: Mrs. Mary Hazel Vandt.

Motion was made and seconded that the above officers be accepted as officers for 1979-80.

Mrs. Ethlyn Grady was asked to give a report on the Gentlemen's Party for the next meeting. It was decided that the event would be held at the Patching Clubhouse on February 6, at 6:30 p.m. and that each member would bring a dish (pot luck) for the occasion.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. Molly Ritter. She gave a book review on The Miracle of Domatna. This was a small town in Italy that Pete and Donna Standhope went to, the purpose of the trip being to renew their relationship. In this little town, a festival was being celebrated; but the Bishop said there would be no festival, but the town did anyhow. The Bishop excommunicated the people of the town. Events led to their reunion with the church. The miracle of the town being that money was raised for a little boy of the town for an operation on his legs, so he could walk. The book review was excellent.

The following members were present: Carolyn Hamilton, Pauline Heath, Dessa Day, Rachael Butler, Mary Hazel VanZandt, Hazel Brandon, Claudine Todd, Frieda Tucker, Verdine Herrington, Molly Ritter, Billie Clinton, Mary Thornberry, Jean Stavenhagen, Ethelyn Grady, Dorothy White, Katherine Green, and Betty Veach.

MOST HUMOROUS, Larry Davis and Teresa Hill.

Teeth

Tooth decay is actually a disease called dental caries. In fact, it is the most wide spread human disease, probably affecting 98 percent of the population.

Caries are produced by colonies of bacteria in the mouth. When we eat, small deposits of food accumulate between the teeth, in the grooves and on the chewing surfaces. Bacterial enzymes acting on food starches and sugars produce lactic acid. This acid dissolves tooth enamel and produces cavities. But by keeping your teeth smooth and polished, you can reduce the effect of the bacteria. A new home dental-care system, the ToothPro, cleans like a professional dental machine—safely and more effectively than a regular or electric toothbrush.

Water containing minute amounts of fluoride can reduce dental caries—but only in children during the years when their teeth are forming.

MOST STUDIOUS, Kathryn Perdue and Wade Porter.

Q. We are always hearing about how far we should or should not follow the car in front of us? What do you say?—Worried, Houston.

A. A standard answer is at least one car length for every 10 miles per hour. Recently, a major oil company has promoted the "two second rule"—which means you should allow a two second interval between your car and the car ahead of you. Select an object on the roadside and count the time it takes you to reach it after the car ahead of you has reached it. "One thousand and one, one thousand and two." If you reach the object before "one thousand and two" you are definitely following too closely. Alright for ideal conditions. At night or in bad weather, you should obviously allow more distance.

The first true skyscraper using a steel skeleton for support was the Home Insurance Company Building, built in Chicago in 1885.

DO YOU KNOW?

...that 25 percent of automobile owners, 98 percent of the world's airlines and millions of truck operators use retreaded tires? Retreaded tires are approved by the Federal Aviation Administration and the Air Force.

...that retreaded tires can be sold at about half of the price of a new tire because 70 percent of the cost of a tire is in its casing, which is recycled through retreading?

...that it takes seven gallons of crude oil to produce the average new automobile tire but only two and a half gallons to retread one? At that rate the more than 30 million retreaded tires sold in one recent year saved 135 million gallons of crude oil.

...that drivers in the Baja 500 and Pikes Peak auto races successfully used retreaded tires?

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

Age is a factor in getting common colds. Children between two and six usually get more colds, have them longer and develop more complications than older youngsters. After the age of six, the frequency and severity of colds lessen.

Although many believe colds result from exposure to cold weather or chilling, some studies suggest that the association with cold weather is probably due to children crowding together indoors at this time, causing more efficient transmission of cold viruses from child to child.

Perhaps the least-known of all inventions of great inventor Thomas Edison is the talking doll. The doll, built in 1888, had a small phonograph in its body enabling it to recite a dozen nursery rhymes. After being informed he had previously sold the rights to make phonograph toys, he stopped production and destroyed his dolls except those he had given to friends.

FACTS TO HELP YOU RETIREMENT

As life expectancy increases, so does the number of years you can expect to spend in retirement. While people frequently look to those years as the time when they will finally "have the freedom to do all the things I want to do," many retirees have found the reality radically different from their expectations.
 Some are dismayed at the difficulty of living on a reduced income. Others, startled to discover how much of their lives centered on their work, find the free time to be a burden rather than a blessing.

A new book is available that will help develop a creative plan of action to make retirement easier. Lee Butcher's book, Retirement Without Fear published by Dow Jones Books, examines the physical, emotional and financial problems of retirement and covers topics ranging from financial planning to devising social and emotional adjustment strategies.
 The right time to think about retirement is when you are in the pink of health and at the peak of life. You should start by analyzing your future resources and requirements. Then consider the opportunities, ideas and activities that could become your life-long avocations.
Retirement Without Fear, can be obtained at your local bookstore or by sending check or money order for $8.95 to Dow Jones Books, P.O. Box 300, Princeton, NJ 08540.
