Counting All Our Blessings

After the meager (by today's standards) harvest had been gathered by the pilgrim families and they could foresee foodstuffs enough to get them through the winter, they paused in their labors to thank God in their chosen way for his mercy. This simple and devout ceremony in an as yet largely unknown land among a strange race of men, by an oppressed people who had braved death in a variety of ways, thousands of miles from their homeland to live and worship God in their way was the forerunner of Thanksgiving Day as we know it today.

Since that first Thanksgiving celebrated by the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth in 1621 changes in the celebration of the day have been many. In 1863 Lincoln declared a national Thanksgiving Day, which was observed on different dates in some states. By 1864 the Congress enacted a declaration of Thanksgiving Day to be celebrated on the last Thursday in November. From 1864 until 1939, 75 years, the last Thursday in November was the holiday of Thanksgiving.

It was changed during the administration of Franklin Delano Roosevelt to fall one week earlier on the Fourth Thursday of November for economic reasons. The argument was that the American worker had one more week of pay coming before Christmas and the additional strain on the family budget. Thus the day remains as set forty years ago. Those were the depression years and few families were untouched financially by the economy.

Turkey, cranberries, pumpkin and mince pie have long been traditional foods on the Thanksgiving menu according to legend. Family favorites have been incorporated with wild game, ham, goose and countless other foods the choice of some. The turkey (Meleagris) is the name of two American species, the largest of the game birds. The domesticated varieties occurred throughout the North American continent and was abundant in the United States. The wild birds are both larger and more ornate than the domesticated turkeys. However crossbreeding with wild birds has developed improved domestic varieties.

Through the years the pure strain of the wild bird has crossed with domesticated flocks and the days of wild fowl are different from those our Pilgrim Fathers hunted for the first Thanksgiving Day. The varieties available now are the American mommoth bronze, the white, buff, slate or lavender, and black. The American bronze is a handsome bird with plumage of dark bronze with red metallic luster.

Cranberries are native to the North American continent as well as Europe, and it is entirely possible that the women in the new world settlement of Plymouth recognized the bright wild berry, and knew how to prepare it. It has been widely used for vegetables and for dessert such as pies or many. It was not new to the early settlers. Other presently accepted activities and foods were, in the early days more seasonal than traditional. Such was the case with game hunts such as deer, elk, buffalo, bear and smaller game, fowl and fish. These were hunted when they could be preserved for later use. This method was not too effective if the weather was not cooperative for large game was

Lisa McAnear wins a national title

Excitement and thrills were the mode of the day in Louisville, Kentucky for a local girl last week, where the climax of the Annual American Shorthorn Association Banquet was the crowning of the 1980 National Shorthorn Lassic Queen.

After announcing the Ohio Lassic as Miss Congeniality and the Iowa Lassic as Alternate Queen, Lisa McAnear, Texas Lassic, was crowned the 1980 National Shorthorn Lassic Queen.

Lisa was chosen from a field of sixteen state queens by a personal interview with a panel of four judges. It was comprised of a representative of the American Shorthorn Association, the National Shorthorn Lassies, a past Lassic queen, and an agricultural journalist. The girls were judged on poise, personality, natural beauty, speaking ability, knowledge of the breed and agriculture, and involvement with the breed.

The week's events were a whirlwind of public appearances, tours and entertainments. Saturday the girls visited South-land Farm outside Louisville, viewing their top Shorthorn herd and watching a Jumping Clinic on a neighboring Arabian horse farm. Later that evening the girls were treated to a performance of "South Pacific" at a dinner playhouse.

Sunday and Monday were spent at the Livestock Exposition presenting trophies and ribbons for the Junior Shorthorn Heifer Show and the National Shorthorn Heifer Show. Watching the winners was a real lesson of "4-H in the working".

Champions of both shows were shown by junior exhibitors. Many of the top herds are exhibited on both the junior and open level with the whole family involved. Many of the top breeders are also 4-H leaders.

Sunday afternoon the girls attended the Shorthorn Sweepstakes Heifer Sale. Top breeders donated the pick of their pasture for this sale, with the proceeds of over $50,000.00 going for an extensive new advertising campaign for the promotion of the Shorthorn breed.

Corrie ten Boom-true story

The true-life story of Corrie ten Boom, a former Nazi prisoner, will be presented through the motion picture, "The Hiding Place" on Sunday, November 25 at 6:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church Howardwick. This remarkable story of tragedy and victory shares the experiences of a family who was willing to risk all for others. The ten Booms became involved in the Dutch Underground during the German occupation of World War II by hiding Jews in a secret room built in their house, thereby aiding them in their escape from the Nazis. As a result of a raid by soldiers, Corrie's family was taken prisoner and Corrie was sent to the dreaded concentration camp, "Ravensbruck."

"The Hiding Place" portrays the de-humanizing agonies of a concentration camp...the personal confusion and conflicts of both victors and vanquished...the confrontation of military might and gently ministry...and the costs of caring for others.

Millions of readers have cried, suffered and triumphed with Corrie ten Boom and her family through the book "The Hiding Place". Now a motion picture captures all the power, excitement and sheer dramatic force that sets this story apart from all others. See "The Hiding Place", a World Wide Pictures production, and share in a miracle of love.

Thanks - Giving

Americans have given themselves to an occasion such as this holiday with a joy and abandon that covers up the original idea.

I'm afraid too many have forgotten that the forefathers we try to emulate during this season had determined that the harvest fruits of a bountiful year were not the produce of their own labors alone, but were the blessings sent by a benevolent, even generous God. The recognition was, in 1620 and should be in this year including the care and keeping in daily situations all through the year.

The early pioneers cared what God could see in their lives that would benefit others. They lived in harmony because of common ideals and purpose. They were convinced that without God-given standards and the unity of purpose their existence would be cut short. Living within the confines of 'natural' laws and humane considerations was no chore for them. It had become a way of life all respected. They were considerate of others and yet intolerant when the common unity and harmony was at stake. They relied upon God as their Leader and Guide. They did not want to shame Him, but to glorify Him and see Him recognized in His fullest extent.

Man's existence and the purpose for it must again be recognized. We must renew our covenant and commitment for which Christ died and by which man lives. This must be what we appreciate and for which we offer thanksgiving. To live without God is to die without Him. To reject God and His Divine Will and Purpose is to be rejected by Him.

To all who love God, please, let us be truly thankful!

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

The holiday shopping season will be on us in little more than a week. Many of the gifts we purchase will be charged—we truly are a credit society. The problem with credit purchases, of course, is that the bill soon follows; and frequently, the bill we receive does not match the goods we purchased. The billing disputes which result are a major consumer problem.

In 1975 a federal law was enacted to insure that billing disputes are fairly resolved. This law does not apply to all credit purchases, however, but only to open-end credit plans such as credit cards and charge accounts.

Basically, the law provides that a creditor must respond to billing disputes brought to his attention by a consumer by correcting any errors on the bill or by explaining why the bill is correct. The creditor must also explain the dispute settlement procedure so the consumer can resolve the problem as quickly and efficiently as possible.

The billing dispute procedure mandated by the federal law is set in motion when a consumer sends a written notice to the creditor describing the error. This notice must be sent within sixty days of receipt of the billing statement. Any of the following are considered billing errors:

- Accounting errors
- Failing to credit payments or the return of goods
- Incomplete billings
- Unauthorized charges or charges not made
- Charges for goods not delivered as agreed or which were not accepted
- Incorrect dates, descriptions or amounts on bills
- Sending the bill to the wrong address provided that the creditor was given a change of address notice at least 10 days before the bill was sent.

A consumer's billing dispute must be acknowledged within 30 days and settled within 90 days. Before the dispute is settled, creditors cannot send harassing letters or close a consumer's account or take other steps to collect the bill. Bad credit reports cannot be issued unless the consumer is notified and credit bureaus are informed that the bill is in dispute. In such cases, the consumer must be furnished the names of all who received notice of the delinquent debt. If the bill is later determined to be in error, everyone who received the bad credit report must be notified that the bill was settled.

When a bill is disputed, it is important to remember that a consumer may withhold only that portion of the bill which is in dispute. And, once the bill is settled, a consumer may be required to pay finance charges which have accumulated on the disputed balance if the bill was correct. If the bill was incorrect, however, then the consumer must be given the usual amount of time to pay the corrected amount without finance charges or late payment fees.

If a creditor fails to follow these dispute settlement procedures, the first $50 of the disputed amount cannot be collected, even if the bill was correct. And, the creditor may be sued for violating the law and be held liable for minimum damages of $100, court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees.

Hopefully, your holiday credit shopping will go smoothly and you will be billed only for those items you purchased. If, however, you experience a billing problem and are unable to resolve the dispute, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division nearest you.

Note! The Library will be closed November 22, 23, 24 and 25 for Thanksgiving holiday. No fine charges will be made for these days. We will be open again on Monday, November 26 at 9:00 a.m.

We hope all of you have a good holiday with family and friends. We have much for which to be thankful. In spite of the high cost of living, high crime, and all the other problems besetting our country it is still the best one in the world. If you don't believe this read a daily paper or a weekly news magazine. We have them at the Library to loan. Remember it's cheaper to borrow than to buy.

After the holiday this column will tell you more about what it takes to get a Library off the ground and flying. Did you know there are three other groups of people besides the City and County government working on this community asset?

Start now on 1979 tax records

Be prepared--that's good advice for taxpayers who plan to itemize their 1979 tax returns. "By starting to gather records now, taxpayers can spend a little extra time organizing them and pay attention to deductible items they might overlook later," said A. W. McCannless, IRS Director of the Dallas District. "Sorting records into the categories--medical, interest, taxes, charitable contributions, employee expenses-- will also enable taxpayers to locate supporting evidence which IRS auditors may request during an examination."

When itemizing, taxpayers should keep track of interest paid on loans and mortgages, as well as payments for medical insurance which are documented on various financial statements. These amounts are often deductible and easily overlooked by the taxpayer.

Medical expenses, union dues and charitable contributions are a few other commonly-claimed deductions for which IRS auditors often request supporting evidence. Mr. McCannless noted that it's a good idea to keep both cancelled checks and bills when possible.

"Good recordkeeping is a fine start to filing an accurate tax return," McCannless said. "Gathering records now will enable taxpayers to file an early return, and, if a refund is due, get an early check from Uncle Sam."

For more information on recordkeeping and deductible items, ask IRS for a copy of Publication 17, "Your Federal Income Tax." It's free at any IRS office or by calling IRS toll free at 1-800-492-4830 or 372-3666 in Amarillo, 742-2440 in Dallas, 335-1370 in Fort Worth, 747-4361 in Lubbock, or 723-6702 in Wichita Falls.

Texas Game Warden profile

Sportsmen find a variety of hunting and fishing opportunities in the southeastern portion of the Texas Panhandle according to Warden Gary Hunt.

Hunt's assigned counties of Donley and Armstrong have ideal habitat for both upland game birds and big game such as deer and aoudad sheep. Hunt, a native of Clarendon, has been a warden for six years with the P&WD and is familiar with the region. Hunt graduated from the P&WD game warden academy in 1973.

The warden, his wife, Nena and son, Clint, and daughter, Kayla, reside in Clarendon. The warden asks that all game and fish violations be reported to him for investigation. The officer can be contacted by calling 806/874-2631.

CC cagers have victory

Clarendon College's men's basketball team broke the school's 23 game losing streak dating back to December 1978 with a heart pounding 105-102 overtime win against New Mexico Junior College Saturday.

The battle between the Bulldogs and NMJC was the third place game of the Great Plains Classic hosted by Western Oklahoma State College in Altus, Oklahoma.

In the opening game of the tournament on Friday, November 16 CC's Bulldogs found themselves trailing Cisco Junior College by 26 points, 60-34, with 13 minutes left in the game before rallying to lose a heartbreaker 87-85.

NMJC lost to the host Western Oklahoma team in the opening round 103-93.

"We learned alot at the tournament. The first night against Cisco we made a super come back and almost won. We should never have been behind by 26 points," stated Bulldog mentor Mark Nixon.

"It was great to win against NMJC Saturday. I am especially happy for our players. In the late stages of the game it was our discipline and attitude that won it for us. NMJC being in our conference made it a little extra special."

Lindsey Lewis continued on his scoring binge as he collected 22 points to lead the Bulldogs against Cisco and came back to pour in 30 before fouling out with four minutes left in regulation against NMJC.

Other scoring highlights for the Bulldogs in the tournament were Javier Marquez collecting 38 points in the two games, Phillip White dropping in 16 against Cisco and Barry Kirk coming off the bench to score 19 in the NMJC win.

The Bulldogs are back in action over the Thanksgiving holidays as they compete in the Amarillo Tournament which has 8 very good teams competing. CC opens against Nebraska Western, a team which played in the National Junior College Tournament last year, at 6:00 p.m. Thursday, November 22.

The Bulldog women were back in action Monday night as they hosted Western Oklahoma in Bulldog Gymnasium.

Western Oklahoma squeezed by the battlin' Bulldog ladies 79-76 in an exciting hard fought contest.

The estimated attendance for the Lady Bulldogs home opener was 200 enthusiastic fans.

"We're working hard, improving and being competitive every game," said Lady Bulldog Coach Joe Mondragon.

"One of our drawbacks right now is that we have too much time between games. It seems like we're starting a new season every game because it's such a long time between games."

Lisa Lamb led Clarendon College with 22 points while Lisa Morse had 18 and Jeani Lindsey of Hedley pumped in 15.

The next outing for the Bulldog Ladies will be November 29 in the Western Oklahoma Tournament.

hung out of doors to freeze and fish and some meat was salted down to preserve it.

The growing season provided fruit and fresh vegetables, and our forefathers stored root vegetables and fruit in a root cellar. The root cellar was usually adjacent to the house for easy access. Because it was beneath ground the temperature stayed above freezing and with a bit of luck the cellar was stocked with enough pumpkin, turnips, winter squash and fruit to last the winter.

The origin of mince meat is obscure. It had been known though that spices and sugar were preservatives used alone or in combination. In older recipes mince meat is made from freshmeat added to the fruit and spices and this may have been the answer to preserving meat for more than one country. It is known that the English considered the eating of mince pies at Christmas to be good luck.

Traditions of the old country have been deeply embedded into the American culture and cuisine but have been diluted with that 'Yankee Ingenuity' which has incorporated personal and regional tastes until they have become traditional.

So it is that an American Thanksgiving in the United States means football, a day of hunting, a ski trip to the mountains, a family gathering, a respite from the 'Madding Crowd' or maybe a chance to pursue a hobby and enjoy a dinner at McDonalds.

These are the things we are thankful for they mean we as Americans are free to choose our way of life in a country where there is an abundance of food, a chance for everyone to better his lot and the right to complain of injustice and oppression.

Have a Happy and Safe Thanksgiving!

PSYCHOLOGY

Perhaps more important than acquiring knowledge is learning principles and developing a philosophy of life, psychologists tell us. Basic principles are guides to judgment. They lead to a strength of personality that enables us to evaluate dispassionately and cope with all kinds of problems effectively.

It pays to pause occasionally to reassess our values and make sure we know just where we are headed—what our ultimate goals and purposes really are. Many find that getting away from it all, or going on a pilgrimage to a place of religious significance like the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, can be of real assistance. Some are also helping financially to maintain this magnificent contemporary shrine. For more information, write Rev. Msgr. John J. Murphy, Director, National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, Fourth and Michigan Avenues, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20017.

Monday afternoon the girls attended the National Lassie meeting entertaining with a cute song of welcome. In the evening the girls again entertained at the banquet with a song dedicated to the retiring Executive Secretary, C. D. Swaffer. A dance was held after the banquet with a square dance to the tune of "Deep in the Heart of Texas" dedicated to Lisa, their new National Queen.

Tuesday Lisa presided as the new queen at the National Shorthorn Bull Show presenting awards to a really top set of Shorthorn bulls. Judges of all three Shorthorn shows were very complimentary of the Shorthorn cattle, stating their belief that Shorthorns have improved their cattle more than any other breed over the last five years.

As National Shorthorn Lassie Queen, Lisa will be traveling to all National shows and sales and the national youth conference. She will also represent the American Shorthorn Association at the World Shorthorn Conference in Calgary, Canada in July. Ten member associations from all over the world will be represented at this conference.

Lisa will be working hard doing her part to promote Shorthorn cattle. Anyone wanting to know about Shorthorn cattle, please call on Lisa. She would love to visit with you or your group.

1926 Book Club meets

On November 16, 1979, the 1926 Book Club met in regular session. The hostesses, Claudine Todd and Ethlyn Grady, served delicious pumpkin bread cake, topped with whipped cream, coffee, spiced tea, mints and nuts from a table decorated with fall tablecloths and very pretty orange roses to the 17 members and 3 guests present.

President Oressa Delaney brought the meeting to order. Our guests were introduced. The minutes were read by Betty Veach and they were approved.

Mary Thornberry made a motion, seconded by Dorothy White that the State of officers presented by Betty Veach be elected by acclamation for 1980-81. They are Oressa Delaney - President, Norma Jones - Vice President, Betty Veach - Recording Sec., Gladys Blackburn - Corresponding Sec., Katherine Green - Treasurer, Mary Thornberry - Parliamentarian.

The business meeting was concluded. Our program was a book review by Oressa Delaney. The book, In the Presence of Mine Enemies, by Howard Rutledge, a captain prisoner of war, was a story of a soldier who became a prisoner of war in Hanoi, North Vietnam. She told of the torture and struggles Captain Rutledge went through and how the faith in God kept him going until he was released.

Everyone enjoyed the book review although it was a very sad story.

Attending were Verdine Herrington, Norma Jones, Pauline Heath, Oressa Delaney, Claudine Todd, Ethlyn Grady, Inez Blankenship, Janice Johnston, Gladys Blackburn, Mary Hazel Van Zandt, Rachael Butler, Dessa Day, Frieda Tucker, Evelyn Mann, Mary Thornberry, Betty Veach, Dorothy White, and 3 guests, Gloria Gage, Freddie Jo Moreman, and Gladys Sawyer.

Mu Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi meets

Sixteen members of the Mu Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Diane Chamberlain Monday evening, November 19. President Ann Luttrell presided over the business meeting. The ladies discussed plans for the Christmas party to be held at Ruby Bromley's Dining Room on Monday evening, December 3. ## SAY "PUDDING" FOR THIS PIE

When you're short on time and dessert belongs on the menu, it's remarkably easy to bring a Pudding Cheese Pie to the table. Whatever your selection of flavors, Jell-O instant pudding and pie filling combines deliciously in a mixture with cream cheese and milk. Pie filling mix is the start of this homemade pie, and you can vary this recipe with a variety of flavors. Plan ahead by having a packaged crumb crust on hand, too.

PUDDING CHEESE PIE

- 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 2 cups cold milk
- 1 package (4-serving size) lemon, coconut cream, vanilla, or pineapple cream flavor instant pudding and pie filling
- 1 baked 9-inch graham cracker crumb crust, cooled

Beat cream cheese until very soft. Gradually add 1/2 cup of the milk and blend until smooth. Add remaining milk and pie filling mix. Beat as directed on package. Pour immediately into crust. Chill until firm, at least 2 hours. Garnish with lemon slice, if desired.

Note: Filling may also be chilled in crumb-lined 8-inch square pan, using amount of crumbs as for 9-inch crust. Or omit crust and chill in individual dishes.

ARMENIAN THIN BREAD

Makes 4 thin breads

- 1 cup warm water (105°F - 115°F.)
- 1 package Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine, melted and cooled
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 3 1/4 - 3 3/4 cups unsifted flour

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add cooled margarine, salt, sugar, and 2 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Add enough additional flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; divide into 4 equal pieces. Roll and stretch each piece into a rectangle, 10 x 14 inches. Place on ungreased baking sheets.

Bake at 350°F. about 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from baking sheet and cool on wire racks.

If desired, bread may be softened by holding under running water. Serve with cheese or other appetizers.

Alcohol Fuels Stage a Comeback

The use of alcohol fuels in motor vehicles is as old as the Model T and as new as this year's Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Henry Ford, for example, designed the Model T to run on gasoline, alcohol, or any mixture in between. And all cars competing in the 1979 racing classic at "Indy" were powered by alcohol fuels.

During World War II the U.S. operated an ethyl alcohol (ethanol) plant in Omaha to produce fuel for the Army, and gas stations in Kansas, Nebraska, and Illinois sold an alcohol-gasoline blend called "Agrol."

Today, "gasohol" is rapidly becoming the universal term for a blend of 90 percent gasoline and 10 percent ethanol. It's currently being sold in more than 800 retail outlets in 28 states.

The alcohol that goes into the gasohol blend may be distilled from corn waste, sugar waste, cheese whey, and numerous other waste products from the food and fiber manufacturing processes. It sells for about $1.50 a gallon, but exemptions from Federal and, in some cases, state taxes make the pump price of the gasohol blend about two or three cents lower than unleaded premium. And the alcohol raises the octane of the gasoline by about two points.

Through 1985, according to the U.S. Department of Energy, the contribution of alcohol fuels is expected to be modest nationally—perhaps enough to reduce oil imports by as much as four-tenths of one percent. There just isn't enough distillation equipment available to produce more than that in the near future. The President's synthetic fuels program could overcome this bottleneck, however, and greatly increase alcohol production quickly, DOE officials believe.

However, the short-term regional impact is likely to be much greater. In agricultural states, alcohol fuels may become significant sources of local supply. And the potential beyond 1985 might be quite large—especially if major new production facilities are developed during the early 1980's.

Ethanol—made from food and fiber wastes—is the only alcohol fuel commercially available now, and the one likely to be available in quantity before 1985. Methanol (methyl alcohol) also is useful as a fuel and can be made from coal. Methanol could be used in large quantities in the mid-to-late 1980s when plants—if begun soon—could be completed and placed in operation.

Methanol contains less miles-per-gallon energy than ethanol, but it's cheaper to produce. The growing market for gasohol could well provide the incentive—with financial encouragement from the Department of Energy—for large-scale production of methanol.

The shortest opera ever written, The Deliverance of Thesus by Darius Milhaud, lasts only seven minutes, 27 seconds.

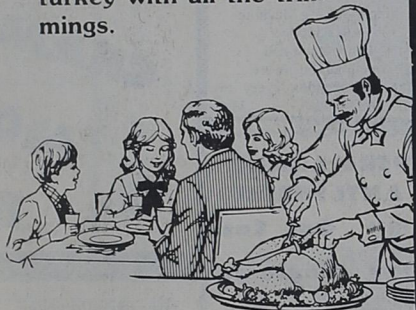

An attendant pumps gasohol at a service station in Ohio. Gasohol currently is being sold at more than 800 retail outlets in 28 states. Currently, farmers and persons involved in agriculture-related jobs are the biggest supporters of alcohol fuels. (DOE photo number 79-11547)

Rolling Plains PCA has new man

We are pleased to advise of the employment of Ken Eudy as loan officer in our Childress Office. In September he entered the training program of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Texas and was employed by our Association upon completion of that training. He recently purchased a home in Childress where he resides with his wife, Sheila, and his four-month-old son, John Lee. Many of you know his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Eudy.

Ken is a native of Van Horn, Texas, where he graduated from high school in 1975. He graduated from Texas Tech University in August, 1979, with a degree in agricultural economics.

We are also pleased to advise that Lisa McFarland joined our Childress Office staff November 5, 1979, as a clerk-typist. Lisa is a native of Childress and is a 1979 graduate of Childress High School. During the past four months, she worked at the Childress hospital. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don McFarland of Childress.

Mr. Hershel Timmons is manager of Childress Office. Other employees include Mark Williamson, Loan Officer; Mary Davis, Senior Clerk; and Laurie Evans, Clerk and Bookkeeper.
