Caution to tricksters

Tricksters planning activities for Halloween night are being cautioned to keep their fun below the malicious mischief level by local law enforcement officials.

Egg throwing at Halloween has been practiced in the past causing inconvenience to all parties involved. Insurance companies and automobile owners view the practice with less than humor.

The chemical content of the egg, if it is allowed to dry on the exterior of an automobile damages the paint surface and makes the metal susceptible to the elements. Expensive paint jobs are not viewed lightly by owners of egg-damaged autos.

If persons are aware of the damage which results the problem will be greatly reduced, officials believe.

Tim Brown Globe-News Player of the Week

TIM BROWN

Taken from an article in the Tuesday, October 16, 1979 issue of the Amarillo Daily News, the sports writer had this to say about Clarendon players.

By KENNETH W. TIDMORE
Globe-News Sports Writer
"He's a winner."

That's Clarendon football coach Ted Allen's summation of his tight end-linebacker Tim Brown. And Brown's winning attitude was a key as the Bronchos had to come from behind several times and overcome the loss of seven fumbles in claiming a 26-20 victory over Sanford-Fritch last Friday night.

Brown's efforts made him the second Clarendon player in a row to win the Globe-News-area honor as Class A player of the week.

Last week quarterback Lynn Thompson was the honoree for the Bronchos.

Brown, a 177-pounder, performed his feats with a broken thumb (suffered two weeks ago). The Clarendon standout was in on 12 tackles, intercepted a pass, broke up a PAT conversion pass, broke up a pair of fourth-down aerials, and caught a 33-yard toss on a fourth-and-two situation which led to the winning touchdown.

"Tim intercepted a pass late in the game and returned it 22 yards to kill their last drive," said Allen. "He broke up the extra-point pass when they had just gone ahead 20-19."

"His 33-yard reception got us down to the 5-yard line and we scored the go-ahead touchdown to win."

Allen also praised Thompson and Bobby Weatherton. Thompson rushed 15 times for 153 yards, including a 96-yard TD romp, and completed 3 of 4 aerials for 71 yards.

Weatherton, a sophomore tailback, carried nine times for 136 yards and touchdowns of 8 and 85 yards. He also had runs of 39 and 43 yards nullified because of penalties.

Challenging Brown for this week's G-N award were Phillip Newcomb of Phillips, Tony Clark of Hale Center and Danny Barton of Sunray.

County Committee Elections
Remember the final date to present a nominating petition is October 29, 1979.

Bank deposits up over 5 million

Total increased deposits of the three banks in Donley County, the Donley County State Bank, and the Farmers State Bank, both of Clarendon, with the Security State Bank of Hedley, amount to $5,259,869 over this same time last year.

Individually the increases are for the Donley County State Bank, $1,213,000 as compared to $9,148,000 for 1978 and up $2,065,000. This is for the period ending with the close of business September 28, 1979.

For the Security State Bank of Hedley the figure is $3,554,000 up $232,000 from the previous years $3,322. This was as of the close of business on September 28, 1979. For the Farmers State Bank the figure is $20,639,000 as compared with last year's figure of $17,445,637 an increase of $3,194,637.

This indicates a steady rate of growth without the profit of the fall crop, mostly cotton which comes in late in the year.

Bronchos at White Deer Friday

The Clarendon Bronchos will be looking for their initial District win Friday night in White Deer. Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m. The Bronchos will be looking to recover from a disappointing loss to Shamrock last week. After the first week of District play Panhandle, Shamrock, and Memphis are 1-0. The District seems closely matched, however, with each team capable of beating the other on any night.

Coach Allen's Comments on White Deer: White Deer has a new coach this year in Earl Bylerly, former asst. at Dumas. The Bucks return four offensive and five defensive regulars among a group of eight lettermen. They have yet to put a victory on the board this year. Their losses have been to Vega (28-0), Groom (30-20), Stinnett (16-13), Phillips (31-7), Memphis (19-0), and a (0-0) tie with Claude.

They will run various forms of the I formation with Ricky Swaney (Sr. 184) getting much of the duty. The offensive linemen do have some size, Grange (Sr. 185), Kalka (Sr. 195), McCown (Sr. 179), and Tollison (Sr. 210). They will probably use 9 players both ways.

LAWRENCE Z. WILLIAMS
Evangelist-Singer-Musician
(Oct. 28 - Oct. 31)

Revival to be held at Church of the Nazarene

Revival services will be held at the Church of the Nazarene, Third and Hawley St., starting at 7:30 each evening from October 28 thru November 4th.

Lawrence Z. Williams, evangelist, singer and musician will bring the services Oct. 28 thru Oct. 31. Rev. Bill Hodges, pastor of the church will conduct the services November 1 thru 4th.

Brother Williams is from Bethany, Okla., he has been busy in the field of evangelism for the past 17 years. Through his ministry many churches and hundreds of individuals have found new spiritual life.

As a child, Evangelist Williams lost his eyesight. In spite of this great handicap, God helped him to graduate with a master of arts degree in religion from Bethany Nazarene College.

Many spiritual battles were fought and won by Brother Williams which the average person never meets. Because of this, his ministry is very unique. You will find him to be a warm hearted, biblical preacher. He has committed lengthy portions of scripture to memory. He is a baritone singer and also plays the trombone.

Mr. Williams has recently obtained Caesar, a Labrador retriever from Guide Dogs for the Blind Inc. who travels with him. Caesar is used in object lessons and, as a special treat for the young at heart, performs while his master plays the trombone.

Everyone is welcome.

"A child is someone who passes through your life and disappears into an adult."

Last week's district results were: Panhandle 3, Wellington 0; Memphis 19, White Deer 0; and Shamrock 34, Clarendon 8.

This week's schedule is: Clarendon at White Deer; Shamrock at Wellington; and Memphis at Panhandle.

Clarendon loses first District game

The Clarendon Bronchos walked into Shamrock's El Paso Stadium cool and confident. They were flying as high as eagles, with wins over Sanford-Fritch, Quanah, and Stinnett, and even a close brush with Childress. So here they were ready to play Shamrock. Shamrock! "Where has Shamrock ever been?" most fans asked, "What has Shamrock ever done but lose?" Most fans, including this one, thought that Clarendon would hammer the Irish. Even though they have, some talent, I figured that even if Clarendon had a bad night, Shamrock would eventually roll over and take their trashing with dignity. I even went so far as to predict an 8 point win for the Bronchos. Clarendon held up their end of the pick. They scored 8. Shamrock had 34.

Overall, it was a nightmarish game. Interceptions, fumbles, and poor tackling blighted the Broncho attack like a running ink stain. In past Bronco victories a long run by Bobby Weatherton would untrack everything. That breakaway run never came about. Shamrock stymied the high powered maroon offense in every respect.

Clarendon kicked off to start the game. The Irish moved on the ground behind fullback Stacy Prather, and halfbacks Carl Bennett and Clark Pritchard. Bennett broke away for 25 yards and a first down on the third play from scrimmage, but Clarendon held and the Irish punted. On first and ten from their own 10, a bad handoff between quarterback Lynn Thompson and fullback Mark Jack resulted in a fumble which Shamrock fell on at the eight.

The Irish scored next play on a halfback pass. Alton Gaines had a good return of the ensuing kickoff, but once again, Clarendon fumbled. On the first play from scrimmage, Bennett broke loose for 27 yards but in the open field, the ball popped loose and Clarendon recovered. With the running game not working, Thompson faded back to pass and hit tight end Tim Brown over the middle. Brown lumbered to the 10. The reception covered 45 yards, and Clarendon seemed to be in business. From there, Thompson went to the air again, hitting split end Dean Hawkins for the touchdown. Mark Jack caught a Thompson pass at the flag for two points, and Clarendon led, 8-7. It would be the last time.

The Irish couldn't move on their next series of downs, but after a Shamrock punt, neither could the maroon. Shamrock held Clarendon on downs and then they began to move. Pritchard broke loose for 40 yards to the 10, where Shamrock's fullback Stacy Prather blasted over for the score. Russell Waters nailed the extra point. With a 14-8 lead the Irish held the Bronchos in check the rest of the half. A field goal attempt by Waters was wide and the Irish led 14-8 at the intermission.

Upon receiving the 2nd half kick, the Bronchos began running the football with a little success, however another Clarendon fumble thwarted the drive. An inspired defense halted the Irish at that point, and the maroon punted.

The Broncos gave it back with a punt of their own, but the ball popped out of Bennett's arms on a punning hip by Alpo Gaines. Bennett was toted from the field via ambulance, obviously with an injured arm. This was like an injection of enthusiasm for Shamrock. Their swarming defense stifled the Broncos and a third down Thompson pass was picked off by Irish safety Greg Biggers.

Behind Prather and Pritchard, Shamrock drove to the eight where they fumbled away. However, back out on the field came the Irish offense when the Broncos fumbled again. Pritchard scored on a reverse, and Waters' Pat made it 21-8.

The next Bronc series produced no more than a super open field jaunt by Mark Jack. Another fumble, and Shamrock had it.

Then came the play that probably broke the game wide open. Pritchard swept left and scampered 68 yards for an Irish TD.

There was no real offensive threat and no more scoring until the fourth quarter when Stuart Miller, Irish cornerback plucked off a Thompson pass and sprinted in unmolested. Waters' Pat attempt sailed wide. Finally, a long game was over.

Why were the Broncos unable to bet the big play? "Well we kept waiting on that," conceded Coach Ted Allen, "and it never did happen. We just fell apart." But why did the defense struggle so? Clark Pritchard gained well over 100 yards with two touchdowns.

"We didn't tackle," stated the head coach, "we got position, broke down, but didn't tackle him." It is probable that the Broncos simply had a bad night, and Shamrock could have been playing over their heads, but as Allen put it, "They were pretty good the other night." The loss puts the Broncos chances for a district championship in limbo.

"They've gotta win all of 'em, and we gotta win all of 'em. Could the Irish win the District? They're in better shape than we are," responded the head coach, "but they've never been real good competition for Clarendon, and we've never taken them seriously. This is a good example as far as winning district. I think we'll win it."

Coach Allen said of the Broncos loss, "Everybody has a ballgame like that. Ours just came in a district game." The Broncos are still very much in the district race. Wellington was beaten by Panhandle 3-0 last Friday. Memphis thumped White Deer, 19-0. Still, the Broncos-main challengers, in addition to Shamrock, are probably Panhandle and Wellington. Although all three are tough teams, Clarendon is still very much the team it was two and three weeks ago, personnel wise. This week it's White Deer. The Bucks are somewhat of a weak sister this year, but they almost beat Clarendon at home last year. I'll take Clarendon by 10 this week. Let's just hope that the Shamrock game is over for now and the maroon and white will begin their march, if a week late for the gold district trophy.

Bill Hill receives Red Cross certificate

Bill Hill, of Amarillo son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hill, of Clarendon, and a native of this city recently received the American Red Cross Certificate of Merit. This is the highest award given by the organization.

The award was made in a surprise presentation at a meeting of the Amarillo Independent School District Board of Trustees. Hill is principal of Puckett Elementary School in Amarillo.

The award was made "for selfless and humane action taken on June 10, 1979, when he rescued Rudi Montoya, victim of a near drowning, and saved his life."

Relating the events leading up to the award the story begins when Hill was notified at his summer employment site near Taos, N.M. of a person stranded in the center of Rio Pueblo. The driver of a truck had crashed into the river and was hanging onto the truck's cab. Later it was learned the man had been in the water for almost 18 hours.

After failing to make the rescue with a life line Hill lassoed the accident victim and pulled him to safety. State Police gave permission for the lasso rescue try.

According to reports documentation of the incident began immediately in hope the national committee would agree with the presentation of the award. Standards are very strict and other submitted incidents have not been accepted.

Hill's certificate bears the signature of Jimmy Carter, honorary chairman of the American Red Cross and Jerome H. Holland, chairman. He is an authorized instructor and has taught 49 courses in water safety since receiving his authorization in 1971.

65 million pounds of recycled cans and glass

Texas industry and individuals recycled more than 65 million pounds of glass, aluminum and steel during the first half of the year, according to figures compiled by the Texas Resources & Environmental Council from its membership.

This figure includes materials recycled by major industries, and independent recyclers are estimated to recycle an additional 5 to 10 percent of the total.

Aluminum cans, which are worth nearly one cent each when returned to recycle, form the largest part of the total of recycled materials. The beverage industry in Texas reported that 37.1 million pounds of aluminum were recycled during the first six months of 1979.

An additional 21 million pounds of glass were recycled, nearly equaling the 29 million pounds recycled during all of 1978.

Steel and other ferrous materials are currently being separated magnetically from processed solid waste at two locations in Texas. A Houston plant normally recovers 25 tons per day, and an Odessa facility recovers an additional 10-12 tons daily. These two locations have a combined capability of recovering nearly 200 million steel cans or approximately 14 million pounds annually. More ferrous materials will be able to be extracted when more municipal waste recovery facilities become operational.

"The response of individuals bringing in materials to be recycled has been tremendous in Texas," said Thomas R. Dunn, TREC chairman. "As technology increases to make recycling more economically desirable, we are sure that both individuals and industry will respond," he said.

"There is no reason that a package can not be further utilized after it's initial use. We can convert waste to everything from energy to fertilizer, or we can remanufacture it to make new containers. And all of this can be accomplished at reduced cost and energy consumption," Dunn said.

National Honor Society to collect for UNICEF

This is the year, 1979, for each of us to show our concern and caring for children everywhere. And there's no better way for us to act on our concern for children than by supporting UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund.

October 31st is National UNICEF Day, our day to help UNICEF help millions of sick and hungry children in more than 100 countries of Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

The theme of this year's national campaign is "Celebrate the Children of the World," and the national effort is chaired this year by television actor Edward Asner.

Whatever your talents, time, interests, and abilities, there's a way you can help UNICEF this Halloween. Involve your club or congregation in an activity to raise funds for UNICEF. And don't forget about the easiest way to do your part, by dropping coins and folding money into the orange and black UNICEF cartons carried by UNICEF volunteers this Halloween.

The funds raised this Halloween in our area will be used by UNICEF to supply food, medicines, and equipment to improve the health, education, and living conditions of the world's most deprived children.

More than 63% in favor of increased speed limit

More than 63% of the licensed Texas drivers surveyed in the latest Texas Crime Poll admitted that they drive faster than the 55 mile-per-hour legal speed limit.

Only 35% said their average highway speed is 55 or less.

The Texas Crime Poll is a survey of attitudes and opinions in the area of criminal justice conducted by the Criminal Justice Center at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. A total of 1,530 individuals representing 180 counties participated in the latest survey.

In answer to a question on average driving speed, the speed listed most frequently was 60 miles per hour (40.1%), followed by 55 (28.1%), and 65 (11.5%), for an average of 58.93.

Participants were also asked what they thought the legal speed should be. The most common responses were 55 miles per hour (32.1%), 60 miles per hour (25.8%), 65 miles per hour (23%), and 70 miles per hour (14.3%), for an average of 61.09.

In another area of concern, 56% of the respondents said they felt they may be the victim of at least one crime during the next year, and a similar number (55%) felt that the crime problem in their community is becoming worse.

"A comparison of these findings on the public's perception of the crime problem with those of earlier Crime Poll surveys suggests that a trend may be developing," said Dr. Raymond H. C. Teske, Jr., Crime Poll director. Only 46% of those surveyed in the fall of 1977 felt the crime problem was becoming worse.

The apparent growing concern with violent crime was also reflected in answers to questions concerning the concept of probation.

Four out of every five Texans answering the survey said they favored probation being considered for a least one crime category, but only one in 20 would agree to probation being considered for the most violent of crimes, murder.

The public's ranking of crimes by severity was also indicated by answers to a question on the crimes for which they would consider probation. After murder (5%), came rape (6%), robbery (9%), sale of illegal drugs other than marijuana (12%), aggravated assault (16%), burglary (20%), use of illegal drugs other than marijuana (24%), theft (32%), sale of marijuana (32%), auto theft (39%), use of marijuana (53%), and driving while intoxicated (60%).

Charles R. Jeffords, a Sam Houston graduate student who compiled data used in the survey, thought it significant that the public apparently feels that driving while intoxicated, with its accompanying risk to innocent motorists and pedestrians, is less reprehensible than use of marijuana.

A question on the death penalty provided another measure of the public's perception of the severity of crimes. Four out of every five participants favor the death penalty being available for a least one crime, with 77% naming murder, followed by rape (39%), kidnapping (31%), treason (25%), armed robbery (14%), arson (9%), and "other" crimes (7%).

October birthdays at Medical Center

Five birthdays were celebrated on Friday, Oct. 19, 1979. They were Blanche Smith 10-2-1892, Addie White 10-2-1880, Debra Edmondson 10-4-1899, Ruby Leach 10-17-1902, and Vira Floyd 10-18-1891.

Blanche's family celebrated her birthday earlier in the month, and Debra went out for her birthday to be with her family. Mrs. White's children were all together for her birthday. Vira Floyd celebrated her birthday in her room with her daughter Mrs. Linnie Martin and Mrs. Connie Henry. They spent the afternoon with their mother and passed out party favors to all the residents.

We had the dining room decorated with Halloween decorations. The table was laid with a white table cloth, and autumn flowers. A large streamer saying Happy Birthday ran down the table.

We played our rhythms band and sang happy birthday to each one. Everyone made a wish for them, and they blew out their candles. One for the past, present and future.

Ice cream and cake was served to all present. Twenty four enjoyed Sunday School and Church on Sunday. We are planning our Halloween party for October 31st at 4:00 p.m. just before our evening meal.

Regional library system will receive $178,420

Twenty libraries in the 25-county area served by the Texas Panhandle Library System have qualified for membership in the regional library system for the year that began September 1. Amarillo Public Library serves as the Major Resource Center for the system.

The system will receive a $178,420 grant to carry out cooperative activities to improve library service in the region. It is one of ten regional library systems organized under provisions of the Texas Library Systems Act of 1969 administered by the Texas State Library.

System programs are designed to increase the quantity of materials available as well as to make them more easily accessible. Throughout the year members of the system staff will be providing consultant service to member libraries and conducting workshops.

Among the programs to increase the range of materials available in libraries are one that will increase the number of books in individual libraries and another that will make films and cassette tapes available to member libraries from system headquarters.

Access to materials will be improved through a books-by-mail program for persons in Oldham County, which has no local public library. In addition most of the member libraries have signed reciprocal borrowing agreements to enable library users to borrow materials from neighboring libraries.

In addition to Amarillo Public Library, system members are Hutchinson County Library at Borger, Hemphill County Library at Canadian, Canyon Public Library, Gabie Betts Burton Memorial Library in Clarendon, Dallam County Library at Dalhart, Rhoads Memorial Library at Dimmitt, Killgore Memorial Library at Dumas, Friona Public Library, Deaf Smith County Library at Hereford, Lovett Memorial Library at Pampa, Carson County Public Library at Panhandle, Perryton Memorial Library, Shamrock Public Library, Hansford County Library at Spearman, Sherman County Public Library at Stratford, Swisher County Library at Tulia, Collingsworth County Library at Wellington, Wheeler Public Library.

Increasing mortgage interest

Recently the Secretary of the Treasury, G. William Miller, said that $1.00 in the hands of a college graduate today will be worth 5c by the time he retires, at the present rate of inflation.

A 13 percent rate of inflation -- which is even less than the current estimated rate -- is ruining the purchasing power of the American dollar.

After only five years of 13 percent inflation, your 1978 dollar will be worth less than 50c.

Ten years from now, its value will be less than 25c.

After only twenty-two years have elapsed its value will have deteriorated to less than 5c.

What if the inflation rates go higher? Increasing mortgage interest rates can only add to inflation. In fact, the press has often called attention to some of the dramatic increases in inflation rates as being the result, at least in part, from higher mortgage rates.

We would be far better off to hold the line and endure periods of severe scarcities of money, than to yield to the inflationary pressures and authorize and encourage higher rates of interest on home mortgages and other debts. California has yielded to the cries of the moneylenders. That state is experiencing some of the highest inflationary pressures of any state in the Union. The average value of existing homes around Los Angeles in May had reached $100,500 and was increasing at an annual rate of about 20 percent. The computed seven-county area average home price of $100,500 in April 1979 was up from the comparable figure of $51,300 in April of 1976.

Reddy's tips on electric safety

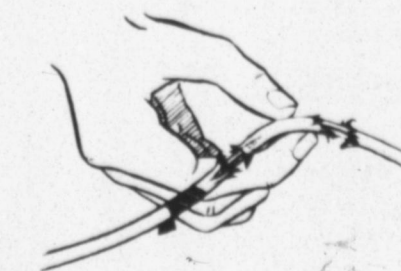

★ When disconnecting an appliance, don't pull cord, pull plug.

★ Be sure each appliance has the type of cord suited to the job it does -- heavy duty extension cords for power tools, moisture resistant cords and plugs for outdoor equipment.

★ Have frayed cords replaced promptly.

★ Water conducts electricity, never handle electric appliances or switches with wet hands or when standing on a wet surface.

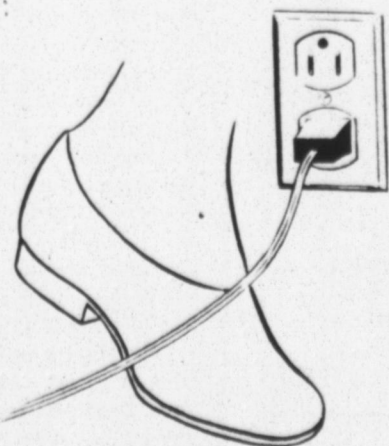

★ If an appliance has a separate cord, attach cord to appliance before plugging it into an outlet; disconnect cord from outlet before disconnecting it from appliance. Store cords away from cutlery, heat and dampness.

★ Don't place cords where they'll be tripped over or be subject to wear (under a well-travelled rug, through doorways).

★ Teach children not to play with or around electric sockets or equipment.

★ Don't use an electric lawn mower or hedge clippers when barefoot, or on wet grass or hedges.

Don Slaughter new assistant Scout executive

By DEBORAH BRIDGES
Of The Pampa News

"I've been in the Boy Scouts since I was nine years old," said Don Slaughter, new assistant executive for the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council.

"And I've been working with them, almost uninterrupted, ever since."

Slaughter has been helping the scouts in a professional capacity for about 10 years. He gained experience in councils in San Antonio and El Paso.

Having just moved to Pampa, Slaughter lives with his wife, Shirley and her two sons at 1101 Juniper. His son, Chuck, is the district executive for the Scouts in Amarillo.

At one time, Slaughter was the head of the social welfare department of the Yellowstone Boys Ranch in Billings, Mont. According to him, the boys home is "almost identical" to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.

He said many of the residents of the home were Indians from the neighboring reservations-Souix, Crow, Blackfeet and Cheyenne.

"Most people think boys at a boys ranch are criminals," Slaughter commented. "Most of these kids just need a group-living situation."

He added the boys probably had gotten in trouble at one time or another, but the reason for their stay at a Boys Ranch usually was caused by inability to cope with home life or a foster home.

He said the boys may have lived in as many as 20 foster homes before going to Boys Ranch.

"It's a fantastic operation," Slaughter said. "Not more than four or five percent ever got in trouble again."

Educationally as well as in experience, Slaughter has the background to work with Scouts. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Hardin-Simmons university at Abilene and a master of education degree from Southwestern University in Fort Worth. He received a master of special education degree from Idaho State University in Pocatello, Idaho.

Some of the duties Slaughter will perform as an assistant executive include heading the M.K. Brown Scout Camp and serving as staff advisor to the council camping committee. He will supervise and train the field staff, which includes 15 counties divided into four districts, and assist with fund-raising.

"As a professional you don't get to work with the boys as much as I like," Slaughter said, and added that he hopes to have a troop here in Pampa. He commented he had a troop in San Antonio and enjoyed it very much.

One of Slaughter's goals for the future includes building an Indian village at the M.K. Brown camp. He envisions the boys dressed in authentic Indian costumes, learning to cook off the land, building real teepees and learning to survive in the wilderness.

He said he hopes to use this plan to "dress up the two merit badges (Indian Lore and Wilderness Survival) and make it lots of fun."

1979 Texas Cotton Crop Largest in Three Decades

AUSTIN—Earlier predictions are still holding that the 1979 Texas cotton crop will be the largest in some three decades, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"Chances for the bumper cotton crop are still good, despite recent severe hailstorms on the High Plains which some area farmers termed the worst they'd ever seen," Brown explained.

Recent reports issued by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimate the Texas Upland cotton production for the year at 5.6 million bales, 48 percent above the 1978 crop and two percent above 1977. If realized, the 1979 production will be the largest crop since the 1949 crop of 6,040,000 bales.

Predictions for the bumper crop appeared to be in jeopardy in August due to a period of frequent and severe hailstorms which hit the High Plains area during August 19-25. Commissioner Brown noted, "But except for this period, cotton benefited from a very favorable August with days generally clear and warm and timely rains providing needed moisture in most areas."

"Of course, the cotton crop on the High Plains still has a long way to go and if this cooler than normal early fall weather turns into an early cold snap, we may find the total Texas production for the year diminished greatly," he added.

Ranchers Get Their Penny's Worth In Grasshopper Fight

AUSTIN—Who says a penny won't buy anything anymore? Not the ranchers up in the Panhandle region, at any rate, where every cent recently spent managed to account for the deaths of some 1,815 grasshoppers.

When it was all over, billions of the critters were gone, and the Panhandle ranchers whose land had been infested were crossing their fingers in hopes that the great grasshopper invasions of the past two summers were finally over.

The hoppers, which infested range at the rate of 20-80 a square yard or 242,000 an acre, were treated in 13 Panhandle counties under a cost-sharing program of the state and federal government.

Agriculture Commissioner Reavan V. Brown reported that 1.4 million acres of range had been sprayed at a cost of $1.7 million or $1.20 per acre. The Texas Department of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Agriculture and the ranchers whose land was treated each paid one-third.

Spraying began June 21 and ended in late July when the grasshoppers had matured and were laying eggs. Brown said 90-99 percent control had been achieved.

"Federal guidelines require that treatment be made before eggs are laid," said the Commissioner. "This reduces the size of next year's hatch and may eliminate the need for further treatment."

This summer's treatment covered four times as many acres in Texas as last year's though the per acre rate of infestation was about the same. Around 7 million acres in 17 states were treated.

Counties sprayed in Texas were Childress, Roberts, Carson, Hutchinson, Dallam, Lipscomb, Moore, Armstrong, Sherman, Potter, Hall, Collingsworth, and Gray.

Only range was treated. Though cropland was also infested, it was not covered under the control program.

PATSY HILL

Patsy Hill Clarendon artist of the week

With amusement, Patsy Hill recalls a time when she had thought she needed a beautiful area to live in from which she could draw inspiration for her paintings. From her home vantage point north east of Clarendon, near the Salt Fork of the Red River, she now marvels at the everchanging colors of the Texas earth and sand and sky as they are reflected in all their glory.

The urge to try her hand at painting had been a small quiet voice for many many years but with small children and the happy and satisfying life she led there was no place, or need, for a creative hobby. However the children grew up and when their son Tony was a high school student and their daughter Teresa was in junior high Patsy got around to the painting.

For her it was a work of sheer joy, she loved painting. With the encouragement of her husband and children and the patient instruction of her good friend Dolores Crump, it took little time to decide it was the thing she wanted to do.

In addition to a few lessons Mrs. Hill has had workshops under Margaret Smith, James Ivey Edwards, Lenora Wood and Rose Johnston. At this time she is working to establish a style all her own.

It is a family custom to take several trips each year beginning with the Texas coastal area at Easter time and ending the season with a foliage tour in the fall. These trips have provided a wealth of ideas for Mrs. Hill's paintings.

She has an especially deep feeling for the Piney Woods region of Texas with beautiful lakes, huge trees draped with Spanish moss and countless back roads to explore. Every bend in the lane presents a view for the artist to put on canvas.

Another reason the area is especially dear to Patsy is the fact that her sister, Mrs. Jim Traylor, and her family live there. Her sister is also an artist and they are privileged to paint together.

Painting, Mrs. Hill says, has become an important part of her life and there are days when she is able to spend five or six uninterrupted hours at her easel. Being an artist has broadened her horizons developing an awareness for many things she might otherwise miss. With her husband she visits numerous art galleries on their trips and meets many interesting persons who share the interest of art. One of the most pleasant things about her art pursuits is the 100% support she receives from her husband.

Although her choice of subjects is varied, Patsy particularly enjoys doing old windmills, barns and buildings, western type landscapes and anything that has the appeal of the past. The nostalgia, the Hills have in common about the past is extended to their home.

The Hill home was built in 1914, with large rooms, beautiful high ceilings and is a perfect setting for the antiques they collect. Each year they undertake a major project on the house the latest of which is a bar, built in one section of the full basement. No matter what the occasion or how many persons are present there is always enough room to accommodate them. Hospitality must exude from a home whose owner can always make room for one extra.

This year has just ended for a term as president of the Artist Studio for Patsy. She was proud to be an officer in this organization which promotes art and artists in and around Clarendon. She watched the membership during her year as president go from eight to 23 members, all of whom actively paint, sell and show.

About the time Mrs. Hill really began to concentrate on her paintings she, after several years of work, she decided she needed the Piney Woods or the mountains, or the foliage trail for inspiration. Today her sentiments are quite different. "I am very fortunate that we live in the country and we have closeness of nature where much small wildlife can be observed by just staying outside. I love the quiet serenity of country living and I think this helps me considerably with my painting. I believe," she continues, "that what could become some of our best paintings tends to be overlooked because of the simplicity of the subject."

She believes if the artist really looks around the most familiar and everyday things could be put on canvas. There is no limit, she thinks to the appeal of an old post with a piece of rusted barbed wire still clinging, the soft greenish blue of the sage brush or an old, sagging wire gate with the backdrop of pasture stretching to infinity. She is just one of the persons who feel the poignant beauty of the blooming yucca, or baregrass as it is more familiarly known, in the spring is unrivaled in nature.

She explained her belief that many artists try to find things to paint on a larger scale when many times subjects nearest to them would be the most pleasing and reflect the area.

P.J. Hill, is the signature on most of her paintings which are displayed in Nacodoches, at East Texas Art & Frame Supply and Gallery, and the Gallery in Clarendon. By this coming spring she hopes to have some of her work in a small gallery in Red River N.M. where she has been invited to hang her work.

She is a dues paying member of the Amarillo Fine Arts Association and the Texas Fine Arts Association and plans to participate in their "starving artist" shows each year.

Support from her family, in addition to her husband, Billy, comes from her daughter Teresa, who is a art major, currently attending Clarendon College and her son Tony and wife, Marianne who are always making suggestions and are an immense help to her. Teresa is studying under James Ivey Edwards and she and her mother discuss Patsy's work and she values Teresa's constructive criticism.

There is a lot of talent in the Clarendon Artists Studio membership says Patsy, and she believes an exchange of ideas used by these artists would constitute workshops of worthy information within the organization.

Clarendon 4-H'ers win top honors

Donley County 4-H'ers won some top honors at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas last week according to County Extension Agent, Ronald Gooch. Both Jamie McAnear and Melody Moreman exhibited Champion heifers.

Melody exhibited the Champion Hereford heifer which was also the 1st place junior yearling. Jamie exhibited the Champion Shorthorn which also won the junior yearling Short-horn heifer class.

Jamie was selected as runner-up in the showmanship contest in the junior beef heifer show. There were approximately 600 junior exhibitors showing heifers of 10 different breeds that were competing in the showmanship contest.

Other placing in th Short-horn heifer show were: Lisa McAnear, 2nd place spring yearling and 2nd place winter heifer; Rodney McAnear, 4th place spring yearling; and Jamie McAnear, 3rd place senior heifer. In the Hereford heifer show Phillip Moreman placed 3rd with his junior heifer and 3rd with a spring yearling. Melody Moreman also placed 3rd with her winter heifer calf.

The Bronco Buster

by COLLEEN COCKERHAM & DEBBIE JOHNSTON

This past week was quite a busy one for the seniors. Wednesday the seniors ordered graduation invitations and Monday they got their senior pictures back.

The Y.A.C. Group sponsored a dance last Monday at the College Cafeteria. Z-93 provided the music and everyone had a good time. All profits go to the American Cancer Society. Thanks to all of you who went. The Maranatha's car wash last Saturday turned out well. The members would like to thank everyone for bringing their cars and pickups to be washed.

All of the classes voted on class favorites Friday. The seniors selected Medina McAnear and Dean Hawkins; juniors Theresa Shields and Steve Nance; sophomores, Rhonda Butler and Spencer Hayes; and freshmen, Pam Jack and Todd Muse.

Last Friday our Broncos traveled to Shamrock, losing to the Irish 8 to 35. This Friday they travel to White Deer to challenge the Bucks in another district game. Good luck, Broncos! We're behind you!

Classes keep your spirit up! Remember, our spirit plays a very important part in all our activities!

Congratulations to Tim Brown for being selected Amarillo Globe News Class A Player of you messed it up better than you cleaned it up!

Sherilyn W. - Is there a catch to all the milk in the front seat?

This week's cutest couple is: Lennie Salmon and Keenan Shields.

The thought of the week: BRONCS. DE-HORN THE BUCKS!!

the week.

Everyone needs to remember to buy his annual before October 31. The class salesmen are Pat Cocker for the seniors, Taffie Williams for the juniors, Karen Alderson for the sophomores, and Rosie Arias for the freshmen. Remember, also to talk to Miss Veach if you would like to get your name put on your annual.

This is the last week the junior class will be selling tapes and magazines. Be sure to get them while you still have the chance!

The junior class will also order senior rings next Monday, October 29. Be sure and bring your $20.00 deposit.

Now for the "Gossip Column" Leslie F. - Are you really 18? Adrienne Y. - Brenda D. and Colleen C. - Not afraid of a little spider are ya?

Carlene B. - The moon sure does seem to come out earlier!

Tim B. - Mrs. Timothy Frank Brown?

Charla C. - Can't you catch Jay?

Patrice S. - Did you have to get such a big chunk?

Kathy W. - We're sorry to hear about your "Little Brother"!

Dorothy B. - Now you're in it!

Ron Slover announces for Hightowers job

An Amarillo man today stated he would be a candidate in the Republican primary of Congress. Former television news director, Ron Slover, today announced that he would seek the office of United States House of Representatives, District 13, a position now held by Jack Hightower of Vernon.

Slover said the lack of a dedicated, outspoken representative in Washington, is one of the major reasons for so much bad legislation, excess taxation, and abundance of government today.

Slover refers to himself as a level-headed conservative, who would make only one campaign promise. He said people would not have to guess his position on important issues, since he'd gladly answer specific questions with specific answers.

A native of the Texas Panhandle since 1951, Slover stated his background has revolved around the "real" world, and he's come in contact with people from all walks of life, and income levels. His background includes that of being a stock broker, commodities broker, insurance agent.

real estate broker, and specialist in money management. His degree is in Mid-management. He said when you take a realistic look at what's happening in government and the economy, it's evident that this area needs a dedicated leader in Washington, to ride herd on those guilty of money mis-management.

He said that just some of the many problems facing America today include the growing deficit in the budget, lack of confidence in the American system, and the growth of government and taxes, caused mainly by unnecessary give-away programs, which the people who work, operate businesses, and pay taxes, should not be required to support.

Martin Quilting Club

The Martin Quilting Club met with Melba Risley on October 18, 1979. Everyone stitched on a beautiful quilt, but it wasn't quite finished.

Members present were Hazel Edens, Eunice Land, Gail Hill, Melba Risley, Mary Lee Noble, Anna Belle Blasingame, Carmine Wright, Mary Lee Noble, Velma Hearn and Lana and Brendan Moffett.

Everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch and a full day of quilting and visiting.

Artists Studio meets

Members of the Artists Studio Club met Monday, Oct. 1, 1979 in Tillie Anglin's studio for a regular monthly meeting.

In other than routine business a new slate of officers was elected to office for the ensuing year. They were: Dolores Crump, pres., Edie Robertson, v-pres., Virginia James, sec-treas., Shirley Osburn, historian and Jeanice Weatherly, reporter.

A gift of a pendant on a chain was presented to Patsy Hill, the retiring president, by Tillie Anglin from the club members for her fine year of service.

A discussion about club members taking their paintings to Hedley to show at the Security State Bank during the Cotton Festival was on the agenda and some of the members did take pictures.

The club appreciated the invitation from the bank to show the paintings at their facility.

Present at the meeting were Mary Martin, Juanita McAnear, Tillie Anglin, Dolores Crump, Shirley Osburn, Edie Robertson, LuNetta Stubblefield, Helen Woody, Jeanice Weatherly, Patsy Hill, Virginia James, Dessa Day, Kathi Holland, Lura Helms, and Robbie Hill.

Reports needed from farmers

From mid-November to early January, many Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. All of the estimates published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service are based on the data provided by Texas farmers and ranchers, County Extension Agents, ASCA offices, and many others in agriculture. This cooperation provides the necessary data which, in turn, returned to farmers and ranchers and others in the form of accurate estimates, which are so essential in making the wisest production and marketing decisions. Each farmer or rancher receiving a questionnaire is urged to fill it out carefully and return it promptly to the Agricultural Statistician in Austin. Individual reports are confidential and used only for state and county estimates.

VA telephone service

Jack Coker, Director of the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Waco, announces a change in the toll-free telephone number for the Waco Regional Office, effective November 1, 1979. The new telephone number is: 1-800-79-3271. Veterans and their beneficiaries can dial this number at no cost for information and assistance on a wide range of veterans' benefits. Remember, the new telephone number is 1-800-792-3271.

Court rulings may hinder police

Four out of every five Texans feel that rulings by courts in the area of law enforcement have hindered police in their efforts to control crime.

This was one of the findings of the latest Texas Crime Poll, a survey of opinions and attitudes in the area of Criminal Justice conducted by the Criminal Justice Center at Sam Houston State University.

A total of 1,530 Texans from 180 counties participated in the survey. Thirty-four percent said court rulings have "severely hindered" police and 45% said such rulings have "somewhat hindered" police.

Dr. Victor G. Stretcher, dean and director of the Criminal Justice Center, agreed that courts have made it extremely tough for police by limiting the practicality of obtaining admissions of guilt and by overestimating the availability of scientific aids.

After committing a serious offense, most humans feel guilt and some compulsion to confess, said Stretcher.

"We shouldn't carry the (rights) warning to such a level that we virtually dissuade him or her from talking at all," he said. "Protecting a person from that person's own impulse to confess should not be part of the law."

Courts have also assumed that police have scientific evidence-gathering capabilities that they may not have, he said. "It's still basically detective leg work, statements and eyewitness identifications that we use in our trade, much more than physical evidence scientifically prepared for presentation. We're moving in that direction, but we're not there yet."

Another Crime Poll question concerned the use of deadly force by policemen. Almost all of the respondents (92%) indicated that police should be allowed to use deadly force to protect themselves from serious injury or death.

Moreover, almost three-fourths (74%) indicated that police should be allowed to use deadly force "to stop someone who is running away from a violent crime and 69% said to prevent crimes of violence."

Forty-one percent indicated that police should be allowed to use deadly force "to stop someone who is running away from a major crime against property," and 34% indicated that its use should be allowed "to prevent major crimes against property (for example, burglary or auto theft)."

Stretcher said it is obvious that people want deadly force used to protect them, but do not consider that it might be used against them. He is also concerned that police not be forced to make split-second judgments on the risk of life and its relation to property value.

"In the judgment of most police executives at this time, unless you know you have a serious offense, and unless you know that a person is likely to remain dangerous if left to escape and be a large, you really shouldn't use deadly force," said Stretcher.

"The problem is that policemen don't get these situations with big signs on them, and cue cards to read from saying 'This is a serious offense,'" he said.

IT'S A FACT!

To help your child develop healthy self-esteem, it's important for you to recognize his efforts and accomplishments—and to encourage him to take pride in them, too.

The senior year of high school is usually memorable. Thus, the high school yearbook may be even more treasured in later years. Express your interest in his yearbook—the memories it contains will far outweigh its initial cost. For many, the yearbook becomes a family "heirloom"; a link between generations as parents, grandparents and children compare their lives and pictures.

Personal Home Care

Plans are underway and application is being made for the opening of a personal care home here in Clarendon. The concept of the personal care home is relatively new and the services provided are of a protective nature. Some of the services provided in the personal care setting are as follows: 1) ambulation assistance, 2) hygienic assistance, 3) supervision of self-treatment or self-carrying out of physician's orders, 4) supervision of meal regimen, and 5) supervision of activities. Residents are encouraged to exercise as much freedom and independence as they possibly can, and restrictive rules are kept to a minimum. The facility is located at 819 Gorst Street. Prospective residents or anyone interested in knowing more about the personal care home should contact Larry White at 874-3711. Persons interested in employment should also call the same telephone number.

Devotion to Aloe Vera Boosts Texas Acres

AUSTIN--Devotion to the gel of the ancient aloe vera plant may eventually make what is now a specialty crop in Texas a full-scale agricultural enterprise.

Some 300 acres of Rio Grande Valley land are now in commercial production of aloe vera, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown. And while the aloe vera plant, which looks like a cactus but is actually a member of the lily genus, is currently in abundance, continuing research by pharmaceutical and cosmetic firms may soon spell tight supplies until more acreage is planted, Brown added.

Users of aloe vera can be almost fanatical in their praises for the plant's gel. Modern salesmen are quick to point out that they can make no medicinal claims for the gel, but for some 3,500 years aloe vera has been used to treat burns and minor skin problems.

Scientific evidence is slowly building to support many of the curative testimonies of advocates of aloe vera. U.S. Atomic Energy Commission studies, for example, showed a rapid healing rate for radiation burn ulcers when aloe vera was used while respected scientific journals have reported success in using the gel to treat peptic ulcers and to inhibit bacteria growth.

For many years, persons kept an aloe vera potted, on the windowsill and merely clipped off a portion of a leaf and applied the juice to the skin. Now, a stabilizing agent has been developed and the gel is sold either in combination with other ingredients or by itself.

Bill Mangum, one Valley aloe vera farmer, now harvests 25 acres on U.S. 83 between La Feria and Harlingen. His business has grown steadily to annual sales approaching $200,000, a fourth of which go toward harvesting and care of the crop.

Aloe vera takes about three to five years to grow to maturity. When the leaves are about two feet long, they are ready for harvesting. Just the outer leaves are snipped for shipment, with new ones sprouting from the center of the plant for future harvests.

The number of manufacturers and products using aloe vera is increasing in Texas, mainly in Dallas. One of the older cosmetics firms, carries a line of 168 items using aloe vera, including those for facial and hair care, bath oil, foot creams, and a muscle balm.

According to company head James Swope, "The value of aloe vera lies in its penetrating qualities." Swope advised those interested in using aloe vera products to check the ingredients on the label and choose those which list aloe vera at the top. He also advised buyers to get their products from a reputable company because the gel starts spoiling as soon as it comes out of the leaf and must be stabilized quickly to retain its effectiveness.

That "effectiveness" may be questioned by the scientific community but not by the growing number of aloe devotees. And with fans as ardent as the ones for this ancient plant, the future of aloe vera farming in Texas looks bright.

Howardwick Partyline

BY NORMA CORGILL

Visiting in the home of Walden and Aileen Moore this week end were Earl and Harriet Cosner, of Milam, Michigan. They have been friends since Walden and Earl were in service together and have kept in touch all these many years. It is their first trip to Texas, wouldn't you know, that we would have some typical weather for them.

The Howardwick Friendship Club met Friday night Oct. 19, with 23 present. We enjoyed a delicious meal of fried chicken and salads. So all you Howardwick people, come out and join in fellowship, good eats and games, or just visit. Our regular meeting time is the 3rd Friday in each month. We will have our Thanksgiving dinner the next meeting.

Mel and Ruth Mills have been on vacation this week. Don't know if they count it a vacation or not. They have been catching up on some work at home.

John and Polly Sarich left Thursday morning for New Mexico, to attend the funeral of Polly's sister. They didn't know when they would be back home. Our sympathy goes with you "John and Polly".

Sharon Mills is kinda out of things this weekend. She has a virus.

Hegry and Cora Bland are in Vera, Texas, this week working and getting in some visiting also.

Those who did not attend the showing of "Corrie, Behind the Scenes of the Hiding Place" at Howardwick First Baptist Church Sunday night missed a great blessing. We will be showing "The Hiding Place" next month. So watch for the date and come and bring someone with you.

Look who's new

Congratulations to Mrs. Dora Rippetoe of Clarendon on the arrival of a new great-grandson. Nicholas Dee Rushing was born October 3 in McKinney, Texas. He weighed seven pounds, seven ounces and was 20 1/2 inches long.

Proud parents are Dee and Ilene Rushing of Desert, Texas. The Rushings have two other sons, Jason, 4, and Shannon, 3.

Grand parents of the new arrival are Mr. and Mrs. John E. McCrary of McKinney, Texas, and Mrs. Mary Rushing of Blue Ridge, Texas.

Nicholas Dee wants his great grandmother to know that he is healthy and growing fast, and will see her soon.

Karlin, M.D., Asst. Professor of Medicine/Gastro-enterology Section, M. D. Anderson Hospital, Houston; Jeanne Beck, R. D. Research Dietician, Research Dietetic Services, University of Texas System Cancer Center, M. D. Anderson Hospital, Houston; and Nancy L. Fong, R. D., Nutrition Clinic Dietician, University of Texas System Cancer Center, M. D. Anderson Hospital, Houston.

This will be the first of a three part series of material covered during the seminar. Cancer occurs in many families - yet nutritional needs of the patients are often forgotten. The nutritional consequences of cancer are as follows: Anorexia, pain, lack of motivation, and diet modification.

Anorexia occurs when a person loses a great deal of weight over a certain period of time and never gains it back. Most anorexia patients do not eat protein, so the body uses itself for energy breaking down muscle tissue and other protein in the body to prevent death.

Cancer patients lost their appetites. The emotional state of a person may affect the hunger center. One fear after treatment is that cancer will return - a condition when survival is a source of concern. The normal daily pattern of activity is disrupted and the central nervous system reduces appetite in relation to the energy being used by worrying.

The psychological effects of therapy is associated with pain and lack of motivation to eat. Many patients are afraid of sickness and become nauseated before the drug is injected. Some patients claim they can smell chemotherapy when they walk in the door. If you know someone with this problem, suggest they take something to smell that is pleasant to them. Dr. Fong suggested putting a favorite fragrance on a handkerchief to smell before going in and during the treatment.

Anxiety is another problem of patients involving their mind and the disease. Dr. Fong suggested making mealtime as pleasant as possible and trying to plan social interaction. Remember - the taste of food affects the digestibility of food and food changes in taste to the cancer patient. Cancer causes a change in taste buds. There's a reduction in the number of taste bud cells, a decrease in sensitivity to sweet or salt, and more changes among men than women. This makes the smell and appearance of food more important. When the tumor goes down, most taste buds return to normal. Dr. Fong suggested eating a regular diet.

A diet should be high in protein and calories. Patients should eat 5-6 meals a day - not necessarily all large - the stress increases caloric needs 25%. The diet of a cancer patient needs 16% protein a day. When working with cancer patients who don't want to eat, help them by making them feel proud of what they do eat instead of nagging. It was suggested to serve 2-3 oz food every 1 1/2 hours in order to keep the patients weight up. Encourage them to keep their weight up. Help them by arranging an attractive table, a pleasant atmosphere, and cooking foods with a delightful aroma.

Social Security news

The Social Security Administration has available several services which aid in cutting energy costs and offer convenience to its beneficiaries.

Teleservice is an important aspect of Social Security's services. Many claims can be processed from start to finish by a phone contact with a social security representative. Once the claim is taken the forms and proofs necessary for completion of the file can be mailed to the office. A person can file for retirement, disability, survivors, or Medicare payments at his convenience from the comfort of his own home.

In addition to claims processing by telephone, answers to questions about both Social Security and Supplemental Security Income checks, and inquiries about Medicare coverage and Medicare claims can usually be resolved by a simple phone call to the local social security office. Most people can quickly and easily conduct their social security business by telephone without leaving the comfort and convenience of their home and without the expenses for gasoline to travel to and from a social security office.

Another important service available to social security beneficiaries is a direct deposit of their social security checks to their bank accounts. Once a beneficiary notifies his bank to request direct deposit of his checks, the check goes automatically to his bank account. The savings and conveniences of this arrangement are numerous. No time nor gasoline need be spent in transporting the check to the bank for deposit. If a check is deposited directly, the chances of its being stolen are minimal. In areas of high risk where mail theft occurs at residences, there is no delay because of the necessity of requesting a replacement social security check - the check is already in the bank account because it was automatically deposited on a timely basis. Inquire at your bank about direct deposit arrangements.

Any questions regarding any social security matter should be addressed to your local social security office. The Amarillo Social Security Office is located at 3119 S.W. 27th. The teleservice Number is 376-2231. Try Teleservice, you will like it!

Texas natural resources

Americans have become quite familiar with the repeated shock and resulting discomfort of one shortage after another. As a nation we are learning there are limits to each of our finite resources.

What the current energy crisis means to consumers in terms of the economy, personal lifestyles and doubts about the future, could well be true about food and fiber in the decades to come. In fact, a food crisis could conceivably cause more havoc than an energy shortage.

Proposition 3 which appears on a statewide ballot November 6, would allow our state to implement a policy to protect one of our most precious natural resources and its use in the future: our land. It is an opportunity for voters to protect and promote the future of the family farm.

Prime agricultural land is a finite resource. There is only so much soil in Texas that will grow food and fiber. And as cities continue to expand, as water supplies are depleted, as developers use arable land for non-farm uses, there is a constant disappearance of acres used for agriculture. As farm land disappears, the capability of our states' farmers and ranchers to produce diminishes. Furthermore, when prime farm land becomes a target for investment and speculation rather than production, our bountiful supplies of food and fiber could someday shrink to a point of scarcity and shortage.

The 66th Legislature overwhelmingly adopted a policy which, if approved by voters, would protect the use of farm land for the production of food and fiber. It is a program that allows the state to guarantee loans to young, qualified farmers who would use Texas farm land not only for production, but who would also protect and preserve those resources for the future.

For the sake of our economy, for the sake of international trade, for the sake of adequate domestic food supplies, we must act now to protect the future of the family farm. Farming and ranching in Texas is one of the last free enterprise systems that provides a competitive, efficient system of food production. Seeing to it that we keep our finite land resources in the hands of producers is a worthwhile cause for every Texan.

Vote Yes on proposition 3, November 6.

Deep Basins:

AMERICA'S NEXT GREAT SOURCE OF NATURAL GAS?

Producers are finding a lot of "super" gas wells in Oklahoma's and Texas' deep basins. A super well produces enough gas in a year to equal the energy in a million barrels of oil. This is enough gas to heat 1,000 homes for almost 56 years!

Exploration of these ultra-deep basins is gaining momentum now that producers have the technology to drill below 20,000 feet. In fact, many industry experts believe the deep basins will be America's next great source of gas.

The average gas well costs about $300,000 to complete. A deep well can cost up to $10 million, which explains why it's often necessary to pay higher prices for the gas we buy.

Lone Star has been buying gas from shallower production in the deep-basin areas for years. Our pipeline network will help us buy new gas selectively, negotiate hard for terms favorable to you, and deliver the gas efficiently and economically.

Producers now have the technology to tap enormous, previously unreachable gas reserves in this area's ultra-deep basins.

Gas. It's plentiful, efficient and right for the times.

Veterans Q & A news

Q- I have moved to a new address. I have informed the post office of the change and have assurance mail will be forwarded. Is there any additional action I must take to make sure I receive my VA checks at my new address?

A- Yes. Divorce does not affect an individual's right to insurance benefits. Whoever is properly listed as beneficiary by the insured veteran will be paid the insurance benefits.

A- You must also notify your VA regional office of your change of address as soon as possible.

Q- I have a service connected disability and was discharged prior to World War II. Does service during this period qualify me for an automobile grant?

Q- I have a disability rating of 30 percent and receive $121 a month. A friend has 60 percent rating and receives $292. Why don't I receive half as much as he does?

A- The VA automobile grant is available to veterans who are entitled to VA compensation for loss or loss of use of a hand or foot, or who are blind, regardless of the period of service.

A- The amount to be paid a veteran for a particular disability rating is set by law. These rates do not relate in an exact pro rata way to the 100 percent disability rate. The more disabled a veteran is, the heavier the impact on his employability. So the law provides proportionately more compensation to those with the most severe impairments.

Q- I am being transferred to Australia because of my job. I have a home I purchased with a VA guaranteed loan. If I sell my present home, may I get a loan to buy a home in Australia?

Q- I bought a home with a GI loan after World War II and paid the loan off several years ago. I am now considering another loan and wonder if the old regulations limiting you to the purchase of conventional houses still apply.

A- No. GI loans are granted only for property in the United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands or Guam.

Q- I retired last year at age 62 because of illness. I served in World War II but suffered no disability in service. Is there a veteran's pension available to me?

A- To qualify for non-service connected pension before age 65, a veteran must be rated permanently and totally disabled by the Veterans Administration. Over age 65, there is no such requirement. In both cases there are strict limitations on income from non-VA sources.

Q- My friend received claims forms for collecting the GI life insurance based on her former husband's death. She was reluctant to apply because she thinks she lost the right to the insurance due to divorce. However, I persuaded her to fill out and return the forms. Was I correct in persuading her to do this?

A- Four years of active military service entitles a veteran to 45 months of educational assistance. It must be used within 10 years after discharge or release from service.

Q- I have been honorably discharged after four years of active military service. What is my GI Bill educational entitlement?

A- The veteran must maintain satisfactory conduct and progress in accordance with standards and policies of the educational institution he attends.

Q- I am a Vietnam Era veteran who is unable to find employment. Am I eligible for unemployment compensation?

A- Generally, a veteran with 90 days or more continuous active service is entitled to unemployment benefits under federal law. Contact your local state employment service for specific eligibility requirements.

Q- What is the required standard of school conduct and progress required of a veteran receiving GI Bill educational assistance?

A- The veteran must maintain satisfactory conduct and progress in accordance with standards and policies of the educational institution he attends.

Country Club news

Seems like it's been a while. Activities recently have included a basket party like the way Billie arranged those for the club on the wall and a delicious Mexican supper last Saturday night.

Duplicate Bridge has met a couple of times. Mable Dean Porter was hostess and Medline Slavlin and Mable Dean tied for first, and Margaret Knorrp and Maxine Hardin tied for second. Last week Polly Sarich was hostess and winners were: Frances Skelton first, Peggy Minkley second and Anid Benson, Nell Barnhill and Polly Sarich tied for third.

I understand there was quite a good crowd at Shriners last week. There's lots of good weather for golfing and the course is in real good shape thanks to Jerry. Let's hope the weather lets us enjoy it all winter.

Youth Group meets

The Cooperative Youth Group of Clarendon met October 21. We had a discussion, then decided that we are going to go roller skating in Amarillo. We will go this Sunday, October 28, any members who want to go be at the Mission Hall of the Episcopal Church at 1:15. After skating we plan to eat out and then come home, so we should be home fairly early.

Also, any members who plan to go skiing in February get your deposit of $10.00 to one of the sponsors. We have to have your deposit by November 1 or you won't be able to go skiing.
