Speaking of state parks reminds us that as yet Clarendon has made no provisions for recreational facilities for its citizenship. Clarendon's city park will probably be realized before the Paloduro Park, but one is just as important as the other.

All progress of real value comes slowly. The movement to promote a state park in the Paloduro Canyon has been before a small section of the public mind for a number of years, but the visit of the motorcade this week and the rallying of the forces of the Panhandle gives promise of bringing the project so sharply before the people of Texas that some feasible plan will likely follow which will bring the park into realization. Hundreds and thousands of dollars are flowing out of Texas into New Mexico, Arizona, California and Colorado for recreational purposes every year, which huge sum of money could be made to enrich and build Texas if facilities were provided at home. The proposed park in the Davis Mountains and our own Paloduro project can be developed to fill the need. We and Texas—all Texas—would profit immensely from such developments.

One feature of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce program at El Paso was the appearance of Governor Luis Leon of the State of Chihuahua, Mexico, accompanied by his secretary of state, his attorney-general and other prominent officials and business men of his city. There is increasing evidence of a better understanding between the people of United States and Mexico and Gov. Leon's address was of the most cordial tone. His secretary of state followed him and in a lucid manner outlined the resources of Mexico, inviting capital from this country to enter Mexico and aid in the development of that rich republic. The secretary pointed out, however, that capital with a human heart was needed; capital that would not exploit the ignorance of the peon class and capital that would be satisfied with the same rate of revenue to be expected from well-managed business anywhere in the civilized world. The Mexican people are courteous and hospitable and these increasing contacts will build mutual respect and friendship. Our attitude should be one of brotherly helpfulness.

NEWSPAPERS AND GOOD CITIZENSHIP

By Willis J. Abbot,

Contributing Editor, The Christian Monitor. The relationship between better newspapers and better citizenship has in it much of mutuality. It is easy to say that an improvement in the ethical and political character of the newspaper press will lead to a higher type of citizenship. It ought to be equally easy to understand the fact that a higher type of citizenship would compel the owners of newspapers seeking suitable circulation to adopt a higher moral and ethical standard of their own.

It would be interesting to organize and support a careful inquiry into the question as to whether the tone of a community is more affected by its newspapers than the newspapers are affected by it. Newspaper publishers, particularly in this day, are exceedingly responsive to the attitude of the community in which they are published. Curiously enough this fact is not very greatly affected by the increasing extent to which newspapers are coming to monopolize their individual fields. More and more it is coming to be a rule in the United States that a city the size of Milwaukee, Omaha, or ever bigger towns like St. Louis and Detroit have only one newspaper. That newspaper, nevertheless, strives to keep in touch with public sentiment, and to march shoulder to shoulder with that sentiment rather than to presume upon its unique position to attempt domination. The militant type of journalist like James E. Scripps, Wilbur F. Storey, or Joseph Medill, has disappeared. The editor no longer seems willing to undertake the task or dragging his community into a course of conduct which meets his august approval. Rather he strives to get a cross-section of the public opinion in the city which supports him, and to demean himself in accordance with this opinion.

Therefore a discussion of the extent to which newspapers control or are controlled by public opinion is really worth while. Undoubtedly there is a certain section of the citizenry of every town which follows the example and precepts of its favorite newspaper. A newspaper which maintains a high altitude of ethics and morals and which, without becoming a public scold, nevertheless seeks to inculcate elevation of thought, and rectitude of conduct, does contribute to the betterment of this section of the population. At the same time, and in the same town, there will be those who will look to a newspaper rather to echo their opinions and to keep in accord with their views. This section largely influences the publisher. This section too is apt to comprise the greater number of "better citizens." Perhaps those in the community who follow the newspapers' lead will, through its preachments and practices be led themselves into the ranks of these better citizens. To that extent, unquestionably, a newspaper, even when an echo of public sentiment, is serviceable. But it is essential that that sentiment should be of the kind that makes for high political and civic responsibility.

The above is one of a series of editorials by prominent Americans contributed to The Clarendon News, member of the National Editorial Association.

WE CANNOT FORGET

Clarendon and Donley County people cannot—will not—forget the World War and that unprecedented outburst of joy that characterized the first Armistice Day. We need to remember the World War to perpetuate our gratitude to the millions who sacrificed their lives.

Armistice Day reminds us that the war is not over for millions of men, who ten years ago were offering their fine young manhood. It is fitting that we show our appreciation of all disabled veterans and of all who served so heroically. There is no better way of honoring the men who served in the World War than by joining the Red Cross, the world's greatest service organization.

President Hoover has asked the American people to link the Red Cross with the observance of Armistice Day. That is a practical suggestion, for only by serving human need can we prove the genuineness of our praise and respect for those who served us.

COMMUNITY FAMILIARITY BREEDS CIVIC CONTEMPT

A lady wrote me a letter recently in which she asked, "What do you mean when you say of the monkey wrenches in community machinery is 'contemptuous familiarity?' I understand, "she continued, what you mean by 'monkey wrenches,' but I don't get this contemptuous familiarity."

"Contemptuous familiarity" is the opposite of "wide-awakefulness." It is the blindfold that keeps you from seeing, the ear muffs that keep you from hearing opportunity that is to the right, to the left above and below you, right in Clarendon.

Whenever the civic clubs of your community perform a task for the good of all, it causes you to say, "Well, they are supposed to do it, therefore they deserve no thanks for it."

And when your newspaper editor takes up an issue vital to your welfare and the welfare of your neighbors you are moved to say, "He is paid to do it—he has an axe to grind."

When local business men say, "All we ask is a chance to serve you," it causes you to say, "Why should we do the many favors; what have they ever done for us?"

It is that which puts the idea in your head that there is nothing for you in Clarendon, and to be something or do something you have to go elsewhere; that which causes you to feel that Clarendon is not big enough for you, when the truth of the matter is that Clarendon is just as big as you make it.

To be "contemptuously familiar" keeps you down, belittles you and belittles Clarendon, and causes all wide-awake people who know of you, and with whom you come in contact, to feel sorry for and pity you. "Contemptuous familiarity" is worse than a monkey wrench in the machinery—it is a disease, playing havoc with communities everywhere.

You know the story of the man who moved away because it was such a nuisance to pick up the stones full of black lumps that littered his field and hindered his plowing each spring. Today that field is the largest diamond mine in the world. Also the man who sold his farm because there was so much oily scum on the creek the stock could not drink—today one of the country's finest oil fields. Both of these men were infected with "contemptuous familiarity."

For years a pretty little stream of clear, pure water trickled from the side of a rock-walled hillside, within four blocks of the center of a community of some 5,000 people. Hundreds of local citizens saw it every day, many passing it by, some stopping to drink of it. A stranger came one day, saw and drank, but he did not pass. He is a millionaire today, through the sale of that water in bottles.

Several hundred acres of swamp land overgrown with "worthless" willows were joyfully unloaded by local people onto a "sucker" who now is worth his weight in gold, through resale of the self-same timber to a reed furniture manufacturer.

Look around you, see, hear and recognize the advantages of Clarendon. They are there if you will but take advantage of them.

SOCIETY

Forty-Two Club

The Forty-two club was entertained Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Kemp.

The reception rooms made a pretty setting for the occasion in the decorations of yellow chrysanthemums and suggestions of Halloween.

A number of games were enjoyed by Messrs. and Mmes. J. T. Patman, M. M. Noble, A. A. Mayes, C. C. Powell, U. J. Boston, J. W. Watts, H. B. Kerbow, Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Sherman, Mmes. B. G. Smith, Eva Rhodes, Mr. S. M. Braswell. At the conclusion of the games a delightful refreshment course was served with a favor on each plate.

Halloween Party Given by First Christian Church

The basement of the First Christian Church was converted into a room of spooks, black cats, clowns and fairies Halloween night. Goblins held sway, weird lights and music continued throughout the evening. A gypsy fortune telling booth was the scene of great activity. The gypsy was kept busy by those wanting to know from whence cometh and whither goeth. The small fairies and ghosts were in high glee at the fishing pond. The older ghosts seeing them having such a good time, also went fishing. The chamber of death drew a large number of Halloween spirits, for of course they were familiar with death.

The fat man booth was quite a huge attraction, none ever having seen him before.

Two little fairies presided over the candy booth and it was hard to decide which was the attraction of the fairies.

As the hour grew late and the Halloween spirits began to get restless, Mr. Butler, introduced the auctioneer, Mr. Frank Whitlock, who led the crowd to a table upon which the huge boxes, attractively decorated were placed. Mr. Whitlock in his persuasive way began his work and to say he made a success would be putting it mildly. Every box sold in a record breaking time for a good sum and each gentleman present opened his box and found his partners for dinner.

There was quite a merry mix up but at last all were seated and they told the world that they had their money's worth.

Mr. Mulkey, after having finished eating from four boxes stated he was thru, and invited the entire spooky bunch to the show. All accepted with pleasure.

Rebekahs Enjoy Halloween Party

About fifty Rebekahs and their families enjoyed a Halloween party Thursday night at the I. O. O. F. Hall.

Yellow and black jack O' lanterns and yellow and black cats and other decorations made a bright setting for all present. All came masked and after all had assembled, the parade over a very rough spooky road was led by Misses Alleen Parks and Lela Lamons, assisted by Roy Clappitt and Hugh Eldridge. Various games were played, fortunes told by witch and music was furnished by Miss Mazie Stewart. Games held sway until a late hour when the greatest surprise of all came, when the Brothers took the sisters and guests on surprise by serving them fried oysters, hot coffee and pumpkin pies, the oysters being prepared at the Day & Night Cafe. All departed declaring it was their most enjoyable Halloween party.

Master Ronald Keener Honored

Master Ronald Keener was honored with a Halloween party, Thursday evening at 6 o'clock by his mother, Mrs. Floyd Keener. Witches, spooks, bats, owls and cats held sway in the rooms.

A variety of games, such as youngsters thoroughly enjoy, occupied the evening and a spook came in person and assisted in the amusements.

Each little guest was presented with a Halloween favor and delightful refreshments were served to the following: Dan and Bob Boston, Frances Sanford, Katherine and T. C. Keener, Clyde Benton Douglas, Bettie Jo Caraway, Billie and James Headrick, Billie Lowe, Jo Ann Smith, Basil Kirtley, Jr., Jennie Gene Thompson, Edith Shelton, L. B. Loomis, Lawrence Hickman and Paula Joe Roberson of Amarillo.

Miss Pauline Sanford assisted with the games.

Home Economics Club Meets

Mrs. C. R. Skinner was hostess to the Home Economics Club Friday afternoon.

Beautiful pot plants and chrysanthemums adorned the rooms where the session was held.

Mrs. W. L. Crane resigned as president of the club as she is moving to Amarillo right away. Her resignation was accepted with regret and the Vice President, Mrs. M. T. Crabtree, automatically took the chair and Mrs. S. B. Arnold was elected Vice president.

Miss Harvey Thompson, Home Demonstration agent, gave valuable suggestions on the requirements in the living room contest. She also gave suggestions on attractive hand made Christmas gifts.

At the close of the program Mrs. Crane was presented with a lovely parting gift by the club.

Elaborate refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour to Mmes. M. I. Crabtree, O. L. Fink, J. D. Stocking, J. C. Estlack, W. M. Spitzer, Hudson, Tombs, G. A. Anderson, O. D. Leisburg, J. W. Watts, C. L. Benson, W. L. Crane, S. B. Arnold, W. D. Van Eaton, Misses Katie Meadors, Harvey Thompson, and the special guest of the Club, Mrs. Burnam.

Mother's Study Club

The Mother's Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Will C. McDonald, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Buntin, leader, gave the paper, "Earning and Saving" as factors in the development of character. There was a general discussion of the subject, including allowances and paying children for their services.

Mrs. Buntin was assisted by Mrs. Floyd Keener, who gave "What are you worth?" "Making a Life," and "Save while you can." Mrs. U. J. Boston gave "Peter Cooper" "Maxims and Proverbs."

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served to fifteen members.

George Wayne Estlack Celebrates with Halloween Party

Last Thursday evening the spooks and goblins held sway in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Estlack, where Mrs. Estlack gave a Halloween party in honor of her son, George Wayne Estlack. This being the eighth annual event of the kind in this young man's honor.

The rooms were elaborately decorated with skeletons, cats, owls, etc., for the occasion. The guests arrived promptly in costume and the merriment began. At 9 o'clock a refreshment course in keeping with the season was served and afterward the games continued conducted by Mrs. Cousins and Miss Helen Smith.

Those enjoying this delightful occasion were: Alene Ballew, Joyce, Smith, Dolly Waters, Vivian Reavis, Lee Christine Cousins, Helda Jo and Ruth Cauthen, Reba Shoffit, Beatrice Gorman, Neva Riley, Rosa Lee and Nellie Grady, Frank and Truitt Holtzclaw, Robt. Halloween Barn Party Enjoyed

Another Halloween come-and-gone.

Perhaps in the wee, small hours the witches came forth to ride the inky night, and ghosts danced lonely steps thru the wind.

But in early evening all was color and gaiety. Jack O' lanterns with crooked smiles, weird skeletons and other Halloween suggestions were used to decorate the barn on Mr. M. W. Montgomery's place, where Miss Edna Montgomery entertained with a dance, Thursday evening. Punch was served thruout the evening and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour when the entire party went out "spooking."

Foot Ball Boys Entertained

The Halloween season gaiest of the entire year, where cares are flung to the wind to be carried on to a more serious time, was ushered in and out this year in a bigger way.

Never before has there been more enjoyable parties and entertainments than at this time and one of these was given by Miss Kitty Speed Thursday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Speed, honoring the football boys.

Orange and black streamers, witches and arched black cats made a weird setting for the occasion and a live black cat with a yellow bow on his neck was an interesting addition to the party.

A white-robed spectre greeted the guests as they entered the yard. A witches pot in the fortune telling room added much to the occasion. Games and dancing were enjoyed until twelve o'clock.

Refreshments carrying out the Halloween scheme were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Barnes, Misses Ada Mae Owens, Lucille Andis, Bernice Andis, Josephine Murphy, Nora Lee O'Neal, Nell Butler, Ruth Hartzog, Esmer Keener, Ruth Nichols, La Verne Orny, Willie Vineyard, Viola Jones, Josie Mae Davis, Jeanette Parks, Roberta LaFon.

The Ladies Aid of the First Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. J. N. Wood Wednesday afternoon with ten members present.

Having married into one of the old families of Salem, Mr. Rush carries his wife with him on his tour of installation, and with their friendly attitude and warmth of character, they make friends wherever they go. Mr. and Mrs. Mulkey of this city enjoyed having them here and a friendship between the two couples was formed that will not soon be forgotten.

"Clarendon is a beautiful and attractive town," said Mr. Rush, "and I have enjoyed her people and my stay here and Mrs. Rush and I will be happy to visit here again." "The Pastime Theatre is an exceptional show house for a town no larger than Clarendon" continued the engineer, "and the community is to be congratulated on having people like Mr. and Mrs. Mulkey in charge of local amusements; and with the installation of sound no city can offer more."

Building permits in thirty-three Texas cities for August were nearly $10,000,000, according to Texas Business Review, against $7,834,000 in July. Abilene, Galveston and Wichita Falls showed unusual gains.

WHO WRITES THE PRESIDENT'S PAPERS?

Almost every President has had his "ghost writer." Hamilton wrote most of Washington's state papers; Roger B. Taney wrote Andrew Jackson's; the historian Bancroft and the great lawyer, Jeremiah S. Black, wrote Andrew Johnson's. That is to say, these understudies polished into brilliant language the vigorous thoughts that the presidents themselves supplied.

Exceptions to this custom were made by Jefferson, Lincoln, Cleveland, Roosevelt and Wilson, who opened their own papers, though they sometimes had the Secretary of State formulate some important document. Lincoln's second inaugural address is regarded as one of the most nearly perfect literary structures that has come from the White House. It would be interesting, however, to know definitely the author of Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation.

A President's literary style is rarely thought of apart from political and state declaration. In Calvin Coolidge's magazine articles we have a striking exception, and judging from the interest and comment on the part of readers, a pleasant one.

President Hoover has developed a homely style that makes his addresses noteworthy. It is so foreign to the scientific mind that some are led to believe that there is a writer of unusual ability on the staff of our engineer president. Nothing like these papers has ever come from a President. They have the sort of charm that one finds in the best of Goldsmith's Chinese Letters.

EVERYONE IS TRAFFIC—COP IN ENGLAND

An American traffic expert has been visiting England as a "chile takin' notes," and made the astounding discovery that, while the difficulties of the roads are much greater, "English traffic is far advanced in cooperation. Everybody is a traffic man," and that "more responsibility is placed with each driver, and there is consequent development of self-reliance."

It would seem that this fundamental difference is the same difference found in law-breaking, criminal procedure, and various other matters of moment to the people in general, as carried out in the two nations. It looks as if the difference boils down to the fact that England is truly democratic, and in the United States every man is his own czar.

A WOMAN ON THE JOB

If public interest in Ruth Bryan Owen formerly revolved around "a woman in Congress and the daughter of the great William Jennings Bryan," it has undergone considerable change since her election, thanks to Mrs. Owen herself. As an individual, not as a woman, and as a person who is doing things, not the who bears a famous name and heritage, this congresswoman from Florida is attracting attention.

In the first place, Mrs. Owen is a hard worker. She might have chosen to make her mark in legislation by the force of personality and speaking ability; for she has had long experience on the platform. Instead, she selected a method that lies nearer her heart because it is productive of more practical accomplishments. She is doing things for her constituents. First, she studies to find out their needs; then she plans a way to supply those needs; and then she winds up the job by doing everything she can to complete the circle. One of her hobbies is educating her people in the affairs of government and demonstrating to them the value of organization.

Old Washington newspaper men say that Mrs. Owen is going to prove a great stimulating influence in Congress. She is so energetic and so intelligent that her influence is sure to broaden the longer she remains in Congress. She is being closely observed, and her methods are studied. That in itself is a great compliment to her and to her sex.

OUR GOVERNMENT GOES HOLLYWOOD

"If you want to know how we work, just watch us in the movies," staff members of the Women's Bureau at Washington can truthfully say. In a film entitled "The Story of the Women's Bureau," now ready for circulation, these women workers are turned into film actresses for the purpose of showing the ins and outs of the bureau.

Brief as the movie is, a fairly comprehensive picture of the history, origin and activities of the Women's Bureau is shown, and there are some excellent close-ups. A typical bureau survey in the making is realistically filmed, from the time it is planned in conference until the findings are published and distributed.

This is not the first time the Women's Bureau has taken a lesson from Hollywood in making its exhibits. Another recent project was the movie, "The Woman Worker Past and Present," showing women at their various occupations in the field and in the professions. The exhibits, which include also miniature stage models, panels, graphic wall features and books, are used by women's clubs, schools, colleges and social civic, industrial and labor organizations in this country and abroad.

POLITICS THIS WEEK

Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania, has publicly announced his opinion that the tariff bill is doomed. His statement was duly given front page honors, but it could scarcely have been "big news" to close observers of Senate procedure. It is, however, the first admission by a majority member of the Senate Finance Committee that the tariff revision for which a special session was called seems headed for a complete fiasco.

Exception to Senator Reed's honest opinion was immediately taken by Senator Smoot, who says that these individual sentiments do not reflect the intention of the Senate Finance Committee. More significant, however, is the statement of Senator Borah of Idaho, who remarks, "My opinion is that the tariff bill is not going to die. I believe it is going to be made into a good bill and that it will be passed." Perhaps Senator Reed means only that the tariff bill that emerged from the Finance Committee is doomed. Perhaps Senator Borah is right in assuming that the tariff bill revised into a "good bill" will be passed. Consumers will do well to analyze carefully the implications underlying the two apparently conflicting statements.

POLITICO-PERSONAL TRAGEDIES

Washington is filled with illustrations of the queer, tragic tricks, that political activity can play upon personal life. Here is one that has been most recently talked about.

During the World War the Czechoslovakians had a large propaganda bureau here. Attached to it was a Slovak, who had been a thorn in the side of the Austrian government. Highly educated, a leader among the students, he was a natural born revolutionist and agitator. As an orator he had few equals among his own people. He was sent to this country to stir up the Bohemians and Slovaks over here, and in his capacity as a spell binder he was in great demand in the West; where most of the Czechs live.

His work done, his people freed, his health broken down from excessive labors in the cause of Liberty, this remarkable man, a year or two ago, died by his own hand in sight of the very flag of Liberty itself. The shock put his childless widow in a sanitarium where she has slowly regained her health.

Another evidence of the value of aviation to big business is found in the trans-continental tour of the Continental Oil Company's six-place Travelair cabin monoplane, "Conoco No. 2," leaving Denver on October 25 on a trip that carries it through the Rocky Mountain states, across the middle-west to the Atlantic seaboard and back to Denver—a total of over 8,000 miles.

TRAFFIC COMMANDMENTS

An Abilene traffic officer hands us a clipping that contains some valuable pointers. It is called Ten Commandments for Driving:

1. Drive on the right side of the road. It's just as good as the left.
2. Slow down when approaching a cross-road; it is nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.
3. Look out for children. You can never tell what they will do, and you are always in the wrong if you hit one.
4. Try to help instead of hinder the traffic officer; he is there for your good, and he's got a tough job.
5. Be sure that your "dimers" really dim; it's no joke driving into blinding glare, as you probably know.
6. Read and obey the warning signs; they are not put up as ornaments.
7. If you feel you've got to speed—do it where it won't kill anybody but yourself.
8. When making repairs, stop they laid the tired man's body to rest in an unmarked grave. His widow, as her bodily strength came back to her, turned her thoughts to the little mountain valley in which her man was born and where they were married. She sent there for a particular boulder which had been part of their trysting place, and the other day it came overseas, even with the green moons on it, and now it rests on top of his grave, and on it is a small bronze tablet giving his name, his activity, and the fact that he was her loved one.

9. Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped street car. Some day a jury may call it manslaughter.

10. Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way doesn't bring anybody back to life, least of all yourself.—Abilene Reporter.

CLUB GIRLS MAKE MONEY

Seymour—Total profits of $205.75 have been made this year by Zuleka Wilson, 4-H club girl of Baylor county, working under the supervision of Miss Beulah E. Bradley, home agent. Besides having fresh vegetables since May 7th she has realized $38.15 from her garden; canned fruits and jellies worth $96.10; and has done sewing valued at $71.50. In addition to all this she has raised 150 chickens for table use.

Try this: Place an unopened can of salmon in a saucepan surrounded by boiling water, to heat for 10 or 15 minutes. While this is cooking, prepare a boiled salad dressing. When opening the fish place a cloth over most of the can make a small hole in the top to allow the steam to escape and cut around the entire edge so that the fish can slide out without breaking, onto a hot platter. Pour the hot dressing over the salmon, sprinkle with finely chopped parsley, and serve at once. Fresh salmon may also be simmered and served in the same way.

A cream-colored collar is often more becoming on a wool dress than a white one, unless the background of the dress material requires white. Cream and ecru are often used because they blend well with other colors. Plain colors are better for collars on figured material, because they emphasize the face which is the natural center of interest.

EDUCATION WEEK BEGINS NOV. 11

SECOND SERIES OF WARRANTS ARE MAILED TO SCHOOL OFFICIALS.

A statement from the State department of education reports that the second series of warrants have been mailed school officials bringing the amount per scholar up to $4.00 for the current school year. The last series of warrants called for $1.50 per capita. The bulletin calls attention to the fact that school children are molesting the highway signs along the road. The state highway department has recently spent over $100,000 in placing the signs along the roads and the board of education in the counties are being asked to co-operate with the teachers in keeping the children from molesting the signs.

The following program has been announced for education week:

Monday, November 11—Armistice Day: Education for faithful citizenship. American education week for 1923 begins with a celebration of Armistice Day. On Armistice Day magnify faithful citizenship.

Tuesday, November 12—Home and school day: Education for worthy home membership. Show what schools do to improve homes and what homes do to improve schools.

Thursday, November 14—School opportunity day: Education for vocational and economic effectiveness. Show what the schools do to help the young people discover and train their talents.

Sam Houston's Home in Danger

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 4th—A plan for preserving the old homestead of General Sam Houston against ravages of time and fire is under consideration by the officials of the Texas Historical Society, Judge Tom L. McCullough, well known Texas jurist and member of the Board of directors of the Historical Society, said here this week.

Houston's home at Huntsville, one of the state's most cherished shrines and model of early Texas architecture, is now owned by the State. To protect this structure, which has played such an important part in Texas History, it must be guarded day and night, Judge McCullough said.

"And even then it is not safe," he pointed out. "A small spark fanned into a flame and one of our most invaluable contacts with the early life of the state would go up in smoke."

Judge McCullough said that few, if any, of the old landmarks of Texas are safe from fire. Most of them are constructed of wood which has dried out with years of use. Fear has been expressed by historians in various parts of the state over and over that these shrines might be consumed by fire because they are tinder dry.

"It is my opinion," Judge McCullough said, "that steps should be taken to fire proof General Houston's homestead with an effective fire proofing material. The cost would be small and this historically valuable structure would be preserved for all time."

"We owe it to our children to protect these glorious reminders of our history."

General Washington's home at Mount Vernon, also, is being eternally guarded against conflagration. The old mansion is heavily guarded and by night the watchmen make their rounds. No smoking is permitted near Washington's home nor Houston's.

TERRACES WORTH $5.91 PER ACRE

Abilene—Milo maize on terraced land produced 1825 pounds per acre this year for P. G. Self of Tuscola in Taylor county, while milo on unterraced land made only 1234 pounds an acre. He gives as a reason that a quick rain in July stayed on the protected land but ran off in 20 minutes' time on the unterraced land. Mr. Self says terracing was worth $5.91 per acre to him this year on this crop.

October Proves Busy Month For County Home Demonstration Agent

MISS THOMPSON SPENDS BUSY MONTH SPECIALIZING ON EMERGENCY PANTRY AND HEALTH AND NUTRITION DEMONSTRATIONS. MANY CLUB GIRLS ABIDING BY RULES IN PREPARATION OF SCHOOL LUNCHEONS.

Eleven communities of Donley County were reached during the month of October just past by Miss Harvey Thompson in her Home Demonstration work. Especial emphasis was put this past month on the work of emergency pantry, with more than special effort being put forth on the demonstrations leading to a better understanding of health and nutrition work in planning the contents of the pantry.

A quick resume of the work done in the past month will see that 73 office calls were held and completed, 90 telephone calls were made with special reference to the Home Demonstration work. 57 letters were written, 32 home visits were made, 22 club meetings were held with a total attendance of 317 persons. Three and one third days were spent in the office in the City Hall and twenty-three and two-thirds days were spent in the field. In order to accomplish this amount of work it became necessary for the agent to travel 826 miles, all within the confines of the county.

The effect of the demonstrations on the girls of the county may be seen in the fact that sixty per cent of them have promised to abide by the rules of nutrition and health that have been set forth in the demonstrations on this subject. Twenty-five girls have enrolled in the yard improvement contest, this indicating that there will be twenty-five yards in the county during the season of 1930 that will be much improved.

Poultry problems of the month were met with demonstrations on their care, culling flocks and vaccinating against various diseases.

A new living room contest for the next year was opened and the foundation has been laid for the work that will start on this shortly following the first of this year. Cheese making, meat cooking, beef canning, fruit cake baking and basket weaving filled the other demonstrations that were held during the days of the month spent in the field.

LIONS MEET IN BUSY SESSION

ENTIRE HOUR TAKEN WITH TRANSACTION OF CLUB AFFAIRS.

The Lions luncheon Tuesday of this week was filled to the brim with interesting items, much to the satisfaction of those who had some part in the working out of the plans in hand. Lion Rathjen first reported that Tuesday of last week was the first hundred per cent meeting since the opening of the attendance contest on the second Tuesday in September. The two Lions who were out of their places last Tuesday made up their attendance at the Memphis club last week and were not asked to wear their caps during this meal.

Lion A. L. Chase was then introduced and reported that the matter of sponsorship of the lighting equipment for the Home Economics department of the Clarendon high school was one of the most successful matters that had ever been attempted by the Lions Club. The directors of the club voted on last Wednesday evening to put this matter over and the case with which the fund were raised made it a work of great pleasure. Report was made that the lighting fixtures were installed and paid for, including some changes that were made at the request of the head of the department, Miss Helen Beck.

When this work had been completed there remained a surplus in the fund and a piece of linoleum was laid in the bathroom of the department. Even then, the fund had not been exhausted and at the present time, there is an amount on hand that assures that the shades for the windows will be installed in the very near future, or as soon as they can be ordered and put in place.

Announcement was made of the Father and Sons banquet committee, this being made up of Lions Patman, Mayes, Edington, Boston, and Burton. This committee is to work in conjunction with Lions Kemp and Stewart in completing plans for the affair that will be held here on next Monday evening.

The matter of the Little Theatre movement was presented on last Wednesday evening to the woman and child eligible to be included in this census." Mr. Smith said yesterday. "Our aim is a good full count for every county, city and district."

The directory in Washington, through which he received word of his appointment, will allot the number of enumerators to each county and they will be selected by him. These appointments will be made from time to time until April 1 when the official numbering will begin. It will be completed during that month.

directors and a committee was authorized to meet with representatives of the various ladies clubs of the city in putting this program over for this year. This committee is: Sam M. Braswell, H. T. Burton, Tom F. Connally, G. L. Boykin and Holman Kennedy.

Lion Boykin announced the meeting of the Park Board in Amarillo this week and asked that as many as possible attend this affair. The city of Amarillo is furnishing a banquet on the evening before the event and are giving a big barbecue in the canyon on Thursday, to allow a slight inspection of the canyon at first hand. The Lions were urged to attend, it being thought that a movement to make this a state park would grow out of the meeting.

The secretary of the club announced the November 11th services in the Presbyterian church and asked for as full an attendance from the Lions as possible.

Lion W. C. Stewart announced that plans for the Father and Sons Banquet were progressing nicely although the entire program had not been completed. Further plans on this will be made public in another part of the News.

Lion O. C. Watson made report for the Resolutions Committee named some time past, the resolution being adopted as read. The resolution was written to the bereaved families of Lion O. L. Fink and the Lion Sam M. Braswell.

Lion Burton announced the lightweight football game for Tuesday afternoon and the championship game for Wednesday afternoon.

Lion Patman asked for a meeting of his committee immediately after the luncheon and Lion President Douglas asked for a meeting of the Directors for a short time after the conclusion of the luncheon.

POPULAR CLARENDON COUPLE WED AT PAMPA

The marriage of Clyde, (Doc) Naylor and Miss Adaline Atteberry was solemnized on last Saturday evening at 9:40 a. m. in the Baptist Parsonage at Pampa. The Baptist pastor, Rev. CITY OFFICIALS PLEASED IN HALLOWEEN BEHAVIOR

According to City Marshal Pyle, the mayor and other city officials are much pleased with the way Halloween passed off here last Thursday night. In former years many of the pranks indulged in by the boys and girls were not specially serious in intent, but often expensive to the city, to clear away and replace property after the annual frolic of goblins, etc.

Early last week Mayor Taylor issued orders that all young people under eighteen years of age were to be off the streets by midnight under penalty of arrest and spending the remainder of the night in jail. To back this up a number of special deputy marshals were provided City Marshal Pyle and the city was divided into zones with an officer to each zone.

Came Halloween and after an evening of wholesome fun, the city had not been captured, very little evidence remained of the frolic and everybody was happy. True, the boys did put a "Ladies Rest Room" sign on the Postoffice, but in the main no expense was incurred in setting things aright.

CLUB NOTES

In the morning of Thursday of last week, the Home Demonstrator met for a canning demonstration in the home of Mrs. M. G. Cottingham at Lelia Lake, this being a special project, not on the schedule. During the morning 120 pounds of beef were canned in the form of steaks, roasts, chili and soup. This left quite an amount of bones that will be ground and fed to the chickens on the place as bone meal. Three quarters of a beef were used in the canning.

In the afternoon, an eight pound fruit cake was made in the home of Mrs. M. G. Cottingham, this being the regularly scheduled demonstration for the club.

Mrs. Shaw

Our community was made sad last Thursday by the report of the sudden death of Mrs. A. H. Shaw. Mrs. Shaw had sprained her foot and been in bed for several days, but was improving and able to sit up the morning of her death. The doctor pronounced that her death resulted from heart failure.

Mrs. Jettie Bell Deut Shaw was born Oct. 8, 1884, in Parker County, Texas, and died October 31, 1920 at Lelia Lake, Texas.

She joined the Methodist church at the age of twelve and has been deeply interested in church affairs since she joined. She was devoted to her family and ever worked in their and the community's interest.

She was married May 31, 1903 to A. H. Shaw and is survived by her husband, seven sons, three daughters, other relatives and a host of friends.

Her body was laid to rest last Saturday in the cemetery at Jestine, Ok., amid a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives.

CLARENCE MILLER HOME DAMAGED SUNDAY NIGHT

Fire supposedly caused by a defective connection on a gas stove, was responsible for a blaze in the Clarence Miller home on last Sunday evening. The stove had been left burning for a very short time while Mrs. Miller was gone and the fire would have gained more than it did had not two small boys seen the smoke as they passed the house. The alarm was turned in and the department answered with their usual speed. The damage from the flames was confined to one room, a floor being burned in the room and the partition wall being scorched. Some other items in the home were damaged by the smoke and attendant water. The loss was covered by insurance.

I WANT TO TELL THE WORLD ABOUT IT SAYS RICKMAN

"I'M A GLAD MAN TODAY BECAUSE OF ORGATONE, IT HAS MADE ME A NEW MAN," SAYS AMARILLO MECHANIST.

"I would like to speak personally with every body in the whole world and tell them about Orgatone," said Mr. J. C. Rickman, of 1506 E. 14th Ave., Amarillo, Texas, a mechanist at the Santa Fe Shops, while talking with the Orgatone representative.

"My health gave way about ten years ago," he continued, "and I had long since despaired of ever getting any better. I was very weak and worn out, suffering from my general condition, and I had a chronic base of stomach and liver trouble. I was extremely nervous. My appetite went back on me and my stomach got in such bad fix that nothing I ate seemed to do me any good. My food would sour soon after meals and kept me belching up sour gas afterwards, I suffered terrible pains, at times and I could hardly retain a thing I had eaten. There seemed to be a hard lump that formed in my stomach at times. I had to get up three or four times during the night and could not get any rest at all. I had a chronic case of constipation and was forced to take strong laxatives most all the time. I had dull, draggy, headaches.

"I read about Orgatone, and now I want the world to know how good I have received from it, my kidney trouble is a thing of the past now, my appetite is better, and my stomach doesn't bother me any more. All of my dull headaches are gone, and I have more energy and am stronger than I have been for a long time. My constipation is entirely relieved, and gas does not form on my stomach any more. I wish I could do more for this wonderful Orgatone than only recommend it, for I tell you, I am a glad man and I have been relieved of many years of suffering. I am certainly grateful for what it did for me."

Genuine Orgatone is sold at Clarendon by Stocking's Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents.

Childress Bobcats Defeat Estelline Cubs 13 to 0

The Estelline Cubs met their second defeat Friday on the Childress gridiron. This was one of the biggest upsets of the season, this was partly due to the absence of "Whitey" Bacaus from the Estelline lineup. Both teams took to the air more or less on the attack. Childress outweighed Estelline at nearly every position. Despite the fact that the main clog to their was out of the game the Cubs fought with dogged determination.

Taylor, Davis and Johnson starred for the Bobcats, while Curtis, E. McCollum, and Bruce were the outstanding players for the Estelline club. Estelline completed five passes out of 13 attempts. Childress completed two out of five tries. Childress made seven first downs to six for Estelline. Both teams fumbled often. The Cubs drew two 15 yards penalties.

Childress is now tied with Memphis and Shamrock for second place in the sectional standing, Memphis and Childress playing next Friday at Memphis. This should be one of the best games of the season, Memphis having a slight edge on their opponents by playing on their home field. The Clarendon Bronchos are still on top in the district and as yet undefeated.

The Memphis Cyclones Down Irishmen 12-8

Too much Martindale and Walker spelled an early defeat for the Shamrock Irishmen. Early in the first quarter Memphis took the ball in the middle of the field; Martindale and Walker made several brilliant runs to advance the ball over the goal. Memphis scored again in the second quarter. They failed to kick either goal. The second half opened with the Irishmen coming back with the determination to score.

Close and Black hit the line continually for consistent gains. They took the ball down to the Cyclone's 25 yard line and on the fourth down Blake faked a kick and tosses a pass to his left end, who galloped five yards over the goal. The Irishmen failed to kick goal. Just before the third quarter ended Memphis was backed on her own 3 yard line. Hammonds was called back to punt but due to a bad pass from center the ball went over the end zone past the goal post, a Shamrock man recovering for a safety. All through the last quarter the Irishmen made a heart breaking attempt to score. They opened up with as dangerous a passing machine as there is in the Panhandle. Blake and Close were constant threats to the Cyclone goal. Memphis was on the defense the majority of the second half. Phillips the stellar half for the Cyclones clicked off some pretty runs when he substituted during the last quarter.

The 3,850 gins in Texas represent an investment of $71,000,000, according to the Texas Cotton Ginners Association.

One Texas pecan tree in San Saba County has yielded as high as 1,053 pounds of nuts in one season and has furnished 5,000,000 buds for improving other trees.

Local conditions have been such in the past week that little has been done in this county. A part of the county is suffering from the early hails and other parts are making little progress after the hails of recent weeks. Estimates have it that the cotton in this county is probably a little less than half in. The great majority of the crop has been of very short staple and has met with few bids for that length cotton.

Utilities Quartet Named Last Week

The quartet of the West Texas Utilities Company has received a name, according to advices of Mr. Nored of this city, a member that body. Messrs. Nored and Cope of the Clarendon office were in Childress last Friday, where the quartet appeared at one of the meetings. The other two members of this body are: Bee Hedley of Wellington and Russell Christian.

The name chosen for the quartet is one which seems most fitting, according to a member of the body. "Wattless Current" was the name chosen, the same being one of the nemesis of the electrical world. This current is that which banks up on the line, causing troubles of all sorts, principally among those being the coronas which may be seen along high voltage lines on dark nights. The current is absolutely useless and is most troublesome at times, so the naming of the group of singers was taken to be especially appropriate in the face of the knowledge of the name chosen.

INCREASE SHOWN IN GINNINGS FOR 1929

Cotton ginning report for the period ending October 18th shows that Donley County has ginned more cotton to this date than they had for the same period of 1928. The counties neighboring on Donley all show a gain with the exception of Hall and Childress Counties, which each one shows a loss. Briscoe County comes in with a report of 3,104 bales for the year 1929 as against 2,643 for 1928. Childress shows to have ginned 11,133 bales for the present year and had reported 13,040 for the same period of 1928. Collingsworth County shows a gain with 15,522 bales for the year 1928 and had only ginned 12,609 bales for the year 1928. Hall County shows a loss along with Childress, having ginned 20,918 in 1928 and reporting 18,675 for the current year. Donley County had reported 6,734 bales for this year and had only accounted for 6,140 bales for 1928.

The state as a whole has lost little more than half a million bales for two years, with 2,817,414 bales ginned during the present season as against 3,339,807 for the same time in 1928.

Local conditions have been such in the past week that little has been done in this county. A part of the county is suffering from the early hails and other parts are making little progress after the hails of recent weeks. Estimates have it that the cotton in this county is probably a little less than half in. The great majority of the crop has been of very short staple and has met with few bids for that length cotton.

LELIA LAKE IS ADDED TO CLARENDON OFFICE

For administrative reasons, the distribution plant of the West Texas Utilities Company at Lelia Lake has been added to the Clarendon office.

Clarendon office. The change became effective on November first and will result in the addition of some 100 customers to the local office for handling. The telephone connections made it imperative that the calls be handled through Clarendon to Hedley, forcing unnecessary work on the local force and at the same time increasing the overhead of the Hedley office by so many telephone calls to locate trouble. Letters will be mailed out this week from the office of the West Texas Utilities Company explaining the reasons for the change and making the users of lights and power in that city cognizant to the facts in the case. In the past few weeks, the line from Hedley to Lelia Lake has been raised from a 2,300 volt line to a 6,000 volt line, thereby assuring the people in this little city service that will be much better than it has been in the past.

For a good sandwich spread mix peanut butter and strained honey. Another good honey spread is equal parts of thick honey and grated orange rind, slightly salted.

HAS BEST HEALTH IN 25 LONG YEARS

"I am now in good health for the first time in twenty-five years and Sargon deserves all the credit."

"My stomach was badly disordered, blisters were continually breaking out in my mouth. My nerves were upset, I never slept well, and there was an awful pain in my side near my gall bladder. I was habitually constipated and had one headache after another. "I had no idea any medicine could do for me what Sargon did. There isn't an ache or pain in my body now! My stomach is in fine condition and the blisters in my mouth are gone. I'm no longer nervous, but sleep fine and since the Sargon Pills put my liver in working order, I've been entirely free of constipation and headaches. I think Sargon is the grandest medicine on earth."

MARKET DECLINES SLIGHTLY—DEMAND FAIR TO GOOD

The cotton market during the period October 26th to November 1st was rather quiet with quotations however on November 1st about 5-16c per pound lower than October 25th. A moderate demand was said to prevail for spot cotton in both domestic and European markets with the volume of business for the week rather light. Interest continued to be centered on cottons from 7-8 in. to 1-1-8 inch in length of staple in the medium to higher grades. Some reports said that merchants continued to accumulate stocks in the better grades and medium staple lengths from 7-8 up to 1-1-32 inches. According to the Weather Bureau there was some delay by rain to cotton picking in the northeastern portion of the belt early in the week, and rather general interruption over central and western portions of the belt during the latter part, but otherwise picking and ginning made good advance. On November 8th the Crop Reporting Board of the Department of Agriculture, will issue a report as to the probable size of the 1929 cotton crop, based on conditions as of November 1st. In addition, the Bureau of the Census will report ginnings to November 1st which figures will compare with 10,162,432 running bales ginned from last year's growth to November 1st 1928. Exports to November 1st this season about 2,200,000 bales compared with about 2,400,000 for the corresponding period last season. Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy have taken more American cotton so far this season than they took for the like period last season, but Russia and Japan have taken less. Quotations for Middling spot cotton November 1st, Norfolk 17-8 1/2c, Augusta 17-5 1/2c, Savannah 17-4 1/2c, Montgomery 6-80c, Memphis 15-5 1/2c, Little Rock 16-5 1/2c, Dallas 16-60c, Houston 17-5 1/2c, and Galveston 17-6 1/2c. Average for these markets November 1st 17-1 1/2c per pound compared with 17-5 1/2c October 25th.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restlessness, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at Douglas & Goldston Drug Co.

Protein for Poultry

The poultry raiser has no control over the price of feed and eggs, but he can control the rate of egg production at different times of the year. Eggs are scarce on most general farms during the fall and winter, when egg prices are highest, mainly because the hens don't get enough protein during the winter for good egg production. An egg, inside from the shell, contains 13.4 per cent protein, while poultry flesh contains 21.5 per cent protein. A mixture of corn, wheat, and other grains contains only about 10 per cent protein and should be supplemented with a mash containing high-protein feeds, such as meat scraps, fish meal, milk, soybean meal, peanut meal, cottonseed meal, and gluten meal.

Hard-cooked eggs are excellent with Finnan Haddie or other smoked fish served in cream sauce or scalloped.

It takes about 50 per cent more corn to fatten young hogs when corn alone is used than when corn is balanced by some feed rich in protein such as soybean meal or tankage.
