DEMOCRATS of Missouri are working every scheme they can to fuse with the populists again.

THE Greenville Sun is a new paper from Greenville, Texas. It is a bright newsy paper of the straight populist stripe.

Intend to Win.

Chairman Bradley, in conversation with a Waco reporter, said: "Those who have assumed that the populist party is dead have acted upon a ganization come forth this year as metal from the melting pot, brighter than ever, by having the dross extracted. Our people were demoralized in 1896 by the action of the party convention in St. Louis. The democrats promised to take Sewall off the presidential ticket and put on a man acceptable to us, but they fail ed to keep their promise, yet our national convention nominated Bryan. This action disgusted our workers, and more than half of our campaign speakers quit in despair. This left the fight for our ticket mainly in the hands of the local, or county campaign committees, and in trying to carry the national ticket along with that its provisions be carried into their own we lost control in a number of counties where we had the county offices before. This year we have no national ticket to confuse our people, and we will put a man in the race for

The farmers of Gregg county are showing an increased interest in stock raising instead of raising only cotton as in previous years. be fed in the irrigated regions if al-time of the year for stock is the months of March, April and May, when the stock, already weakened by wintering on scant rations, are turned off the stubble fields onto the summer ranges. The new grass is not yet sufficient to supply their wants, and late storms often do enormous damage. A stack or two of hay carried over until this time is often the most profitable crop of the year. Many farmers carry hay to the range, and the cattle soon learn where to go for fodder during storms. The most economical winter feeding is that where the summer range is near the winter range, so that the cattle can be left as long as possible on the summer range and, when brought to the winter range, they are then near the place where the hay was cut. Under these conditions they can gather their own living, except in case of storms or deep snows. Hay is then fed without moving them from the range.

The usual amount is ten pounds of is fed scattered on the ground, cattlemen having found by experience that but little is thus wasted and there is a saving of the cost of racks and the considerable danger of accidents that come from the crowding and pushing

ADVICE TO MINISTERS.

Preachers who practise it will preach better.

No class of people is so liable to throat trouble as the great class who make up the Gospel ministry. The strain put upon the vocal organs by constant exercise; the sudden change from a heated building to the cool air when the vocal organs are in a state of complete relaxation; the fact that a minister feels impelled to use his voice when actors and lecturers would take the needed rest; these are among the reasons why "Clergymen's sore throat" is known as a special disease. The Rev. E. M. Brawley, D. Stock Growing .- Usually it is no good for farmers to change from one kind of stock growing to another. Generally it is the man who keeps right on growing the same kind of stock who makes the most money in the end. To every rule there are exceptions, and where hog cholera or other diseases manifest themselves, they furnish the exceptions. The question then becomes one of a choice of growing live stock under conditions of extreme hazard, and growing it under conditions of but little hazard. It is plain as day therefore where the choice should lay. Ex,

Trees are better able to tide over the August drouth than plants with roots near the surface.
