"THE LONG TRAIL"

Of The Cattle Range

has given prominence in history to the now world famous Texas Panhandie. But a few years ago the wonderful possibilities of this region as a wheat country became known, and great things were prophesied for "The Granary of the South," which subsequent harvests justified. Comparatively recent is the demand of good livers for "Vernon Cautaloupes," but it's come to stay. Those acquainted with this section and its wealth as a producer of feed stuffs, corn and cotton have long believed in it, nor have they been moving away. When Northwestern Texas remained conspicuous for its excellence in the face of almost universally discouraging crop conditions, people began to see reasons for the faith of those inviting them to enter and possess the land; and now, with farms and ranches being bought daily by new settlers coming in by wagon and rail, three new railroads now building and four more projected, seeking a share of the general prosperity, good reason is evident for the favor with which the territory along "THE DENVER ROAD" is regarded by prospectors.

The new dead sea discovered by Dr. Seven Hedin, in Thibet, is described as enormous in extent, but so shallow that to navigate it one must wade half a mile to reach the boat, and must drag the boat half a mile before it can be floated with a load. But the most remarkable characteristic at the almost markable characteristic is the all incredible amount of salt. Boats and oars quickly became as white as chalk; even dress of rowers soon becomes whitened, while drops of water sprinkled upon a dry surface leaves globules like candle drippings and having strange appearance.

Not Equal.

During the Civil war there was an Irishman of the Thirty-sixth Indiana. who, while on the skirmish line, saw a good chance to capture a Confederate. He availed himself of the chance, captured his man and was passing to the over to Gen. Gross, our brigade com-over the hill there. Go yourself and fetch one of the lads over and take him to Gen. Gross.'

A certain member of the legal profession, whose name is omitted for reasons which will appear obvious, was asked some years ago by a young negro to defend him on the charge of murder.

"How much money have you got?" "None, sah." "Any friend or relative who'll raise some for you?"

"None," despairingly replied the nero. 'I'se got nobody ter help me."
"Humph," muttered the attorney; "say, you don't want a lawyer. You want a minister."

Too Easily Angered. In answer to the summons of the telephone bell in the home of Capt. Bangs. of the Twenty-third regiment, Mrs. Bangs called "Hello!

"Well?" said the lady. The man (still more impatiently)-'Is this Dr. B.?"

"Can't you put some one at that telephone who has some intelligence? "There's intelligence enough at this end, but no doctor," came the reply, Then the smart man discovered he had called up the wrong number.

Cailed it Drivel. A Philadelphia lawyer was one of he guests at the annual dinner of the Episcopalion club in Boston the other evening, and bluntly told the assem bled ministers that too much of the preaching heard in the pulpit nowa days is "dreary drivel," and that too many of the preachers seem to be in he business because they are "paid to noller." He said it all so good natur edly that the assembled ministers, who perhaps thought they were not of tha-kind, applauded him, Doubtless he had some in mind, but it is not so recorded.

Politics and Prayer. Gen. Ballington Booth tells a story of a prayermeeting held in New Yorl during the recent mayoralty campaign In the midst of a prayer, one brothe said: "O Lord, we pray thee that the Democratic party may hang togethe in the coming election." "Amen, an swer prayer, Lord," put in a Republi can who was near. "But I do not nean it as the Republican brothe neans it. Lord. I pray that we ma hang together in concord and accord." continued the Democrat. "Amen. Lord," again said the Republican; 'any cord, so long as they hang."

The stage and ostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatist enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Peru-ma is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. Fo prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Peru-ma not only cures catarrh, but prevents. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.
