Government provides regular services for which the citizens must pay. The extent of these services has increased tremendously during the past thirty years, with the result that each taxpayer has had to contribute a larger personal share to the costs of government. In the ten years from 1913 to 1923, per capita tax collections had almost tripled for each man, woman and child, rising from $22.66 had almost tripled for each man, wohan and child hang the start of $64.86. By the end of the next ten-year period per capita tax col-lections dropped slightly but, in 1937, tax collections had hit an ally time high of almost $100 for each individual in America. Expenditures for national defense boosted this amount to $126.28 by 1941. When the full impact of the war was felt this year, however, per capita tax collections had almost tripled the 1941 figure, reaching a total of $364.39. Business taxes paid to the federal government also have increased tremendously. In 1930, they amounted to a little less than $2.5 billion but they totaled $15.5 billion last year. With victory in sight, these burdensome taxes should soon de-crease. Citizens, who have been helping to pay the high cost of global warfare, have a right to demand lower governmental and war expenses

TAX COLLECTIONS

AMERICA, WHAT NOW?

The citizen whose share of the public debt was only $300 in 1925 now finds that he will have an obligation of $2000 next year as his quota of the indebtedness of local, state and federal government. Furthermore, every member of his family will owe the same amount. The chart above shows the way in which the gross government debt has increasingly submerged the individual. Even though most of the debt has been incurred since Pearl Harbor, it nevertheless will have to be paid back if we are to remain a solvent, independent nation. Those persons and business firms which have loaned money to carry on the war did so with the knowledge that some day this money would be returned to use in creating peacetime goods and jobs. To shrug off the obligation with the "we-owe-it-to-ourselves" argu-ment is to blind ourselves to the problems that will inevitably come when the war ends.

The crucial shortage of newsprint paper has forced a curtailment of the supply of copies of The Dallas Morning News to our dealers in this county. Only a small part of regular shipments is possible until we are permitted by Government Authority to increase our consumption of newsprint.

Distribution for the present will be made from drug stores and newsstands, unless your agent can arrange otherwise.

We realize, with deep regret, that some of our old-time readers are not able to get copies of The News. We trust they will understand and bear with us while we're making every effort to restore service.

In the meantime, although many patrons will not have The News delivered to them temporarily, their names are still on The Dallas News' Big Book and we look forward to serving them again.

Thank you.

The American system of enterprise is the best way I know to get a lot of practical men to help make prosperity in all sections of the United States.

In a little town in Indiana, a man starts and runs a rocking chair factory and employs 100 people. THAT is the right pattern for prosperity.

He has studied rocking chairs all his life. Maybe he has failed at it a few times, lost a lot of money, learned the hard way. But he has become an expert in the rocking chair business, a specialist.

It's better for thousands of men like that to be left pretty much alone to make chairs and make a reasonable profit and pay fair wages than it is for a lot of professors and amateurs in Washington to try to make everybody artificially prosperous from THERE by taxing everybody and dividing the taxes. And much cheaper.

of military life-and not run into the same sort of regimentation back home.

They want to set out for themselves, as Americans always have ... to use their own heads and hands in fashioning their own destiny.

A job and an opportunity-in the American system of free enterprise. This is the post-war plan of men in uniform.

Government can't be expected to carry out these plans. It's up to every one of us at home to see that they're fulfilled-eleven million times.

We will do our part.

RUIN YOUR FURNISHINGS Vent Heaters

Spectacular improvements in gas heating equipment are in the making for postwar living. The new designs stress VENTING for better heat, better health. So if you are planning to modernize or build a new home, be sure you build in enough flues to VENT all heating appliances. VENT for even heat. VENT to end wall sweating. VENT to avoid stuffy rooms.

Note: A selection, limited by war requirements, of VENTED heating appliances is available now in most sections.
