ACTIVITIES OF THE LOCAL RED CROSS

[Editor's Note.—Through no fault of anyone, this article was received too late for publication last week. The letter was mailed at the postoffice on Wednesday night and in some way got out in the south bound mail Thursday morning and did not get back here until almost noon on the northbound mail].

The county judge has proffered the district court room to the Donley County Chapter of the Red Cross to use as their new headquarters and we have moved in and met there for work last Friday at 2:30 p. m. This is a most desirable place and we are very grateful indeed. There will be everything needed for the comfort and convenience given us that is in the power of those in authority, the judge assures us, which we appreciate thoroughly.

The Knights of Pythias also very kindly offered their room for our use, and we wish to thank them most sincerely for their kindness and courtesy.

All lady members of the Red Cross and all others who have old linen sheets, table cloths, pillow slips, etc., are asked to bring same to the work room the next meeting, Friday, the 14th.

A large supply of gauze has arrived, consequently there is enough material on hand to keep the workers busy for some time.

There are some workers for the Red Cross that many of us are apt to overlook, but who are doing their "bit" well and faithfully—the telephone staff, upon whom all of us call so continually. The sincere, hearty thanks of the Donley County Chapter is extended to them for their patient and unflinching courtesy and splendid help.

All workers are urged to come and work now, since our efforts at this time will count more than later on, as the supplies will be sent sooner and so reach their destination before winter sets in.

The entertainment committee will have a "sing-song and social" on the court house grounds, Thursday, Sept. 20th, beginning at 8 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. For particulars see article by chairman of the entertainment committee, R. D. Sore, in another column.

This committee has planned a series of entertainments which it is hoped everyone will regard as his or her part of the work of the Red Cross and patronize and otherwise assist in every way possible to make successful.

Anyone who wishes to enroll as a knitter please give her name to Mrs. J. C. Killough, chairman of the knitting committee.

Miss Helen Bugbee, chairman of the committee for the distribution of knitting materials to home knitters, will supply materials and instruction to these workers as soon as possible. She will also have her committee collect the finished articles when notified of their completion and be responsible for all materials given out by her.

There was a meeting of the executive committee on the regular day, the second Tuesday in the month (this month on the 11th), at 5 p. m. The date for the open session of the body will be announced later.

The Girls' National Honor Guard met with us last Friday, the 8th ult., and did splendid work. We understand they are to meet with us regularly and we are very glad to have their active co-operation. The captain announces that they have voted to give ten dollars to the Red Cross for supplies, for which we wish to express our appreciation.

The general propaganda committee is getting in touch with the various rural communities and hope to have auxiliaries established in each one of them before long.

The membership is at work and has secured a number of new members. They had a booth on the streets last Saturday and received very good patronage. This committee, in conjunction with the finance committee, hope to have booths every Saturday and Monday, to secure members and collect subscriptions to the Red Cross fund and receive donations.

The finance committee hopes to receive from National headquarters a refund of 25 per cent of the money raised during the Red Cross War Fund Week, June 18th to 25th. The National authorities wrote to the Donley County Chapter stating that it was their desire for the Chapter to have this 25 per cent, stating also what was necessary for securing same. This action the executive committee took at their meeting Tuesday last.

Your attention is called to the display of Red Cross sewing and needle work in the show window at the Rexall Drug Store. Drop by and see this work and join in the good work.

All ladies, whether members of the Chapter or not, who will join in making the hospital bed shirts will please telephone Mrs. Crockett Taylor, the chairman of that division.

The Red Cross work rooms at the court house are open for work three days each week, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, from 2:30 p. m. to 6 p. m. This was decided by a majority vote of the members present on Friday the 7th inst.

ATTENTION, RED CROSS MEMBERS

A mass meeting of the members of the Donley County Chapter of the A. N. R. C. is called by the executive committee for Tuesday, September 18th, at 5 p. m., for the purpose of adopting the constitution and by-laws of said Chapter.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPENED ON MONDAY

Clarendon public schools opened on Monday, September 10th. Although the night previous to the opening of school was stormy and the weather still threatening, on the morning following, the teachers, many of the patrons and a large attendance of pupils were on hand at the time appointed for school to start.

The heavy rains had so swollen the branches separating the high school building from the rest of town that nearly all of the teachers and pupils had to be carried across in vehicles. However, the enthusiasm of all these parties was not daunted by a small obstacle like this, and the high school auditorium was well filled at 9 o'clock.

After the singing of "America" by the audience and prayer by Prof. S. W. Lowe, some splendid speeches were made. The principal speakers were the Rev. G. E. Burton, pastor of the Baptist church, and W. A. SoRelle, mayor of Clarendon. Then followed short talks by Prof. Reeves and Prof. Lowe, and announcements by Supt. Silvey. Then began the classification and organization of the school, which has since been about perfected.

At the Grammar School building were a great many parents with their small children. The attendance at this building was strong. Since the opening of school the enrollment has gradually increased until some rooms in both buildings have reached their capacity and it has been necessary to divide some grades.

With the splendid faculty and the favorable conditions under which the school opens there is every prospect for a good school term.

EPISCOPAL GUILD

The ladies of the Episcopal guild resumed their regular meetings on Wednesday afternoon at the hospitable home of Mrs. C. J. Lewis as hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Chamberlain.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the rector, Mr. Rafter, after which the regular business matters before the guild for the coming year were discussed and decided upon.

This will be an unusually busy season for these industrious workers with Mrs. W. H. Patrick as president. About twenty-five ladies, including several guests, enjoyed a delicious salad afterwards.

Miss Millie Baker has resigned her position as teacher in the public schools and accepted a place with Martin & SoRelle. Miss Frances Cooke was appointed to fill the vacancy made by Miss Baker.

Leo Rippy was in Clarendon Monday, visiting his many friends. He was on his way to Atlanta, Ga., where he will be connected with the Army Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. M. S. Brazil and son have returned from Hot Springs, feeling much improved in health.

BURGLARIZE STOCKING'S STORE

Wednesday night the Stocking drug store was entered through the front door and robbed of a considerable amount of jewelry, consisting of lavalliers, brooches, bracelets, watches, and stick pins, the aggregate loss approximating $500.

Today, Thursday, no clue has been found as to who did the work.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Regular preaching service Sunday morning at eleven, and in the evening at eight.

Prayer meeting every Wednesday night at eight.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Donley County Teachers' Institute came to a close Friday, as announced by the program. Thursday two splendid addresses were given, one by the Rev. J. W. Story, the other by R. Deane Shure. The subject of the first was "The Public School System," in which the speaker found much to commend, pointing out in some cases features of the system that might be improved upon.

"The Importance of Public School Music" was the theme that engaged Mr. Shure's attention. He stressed the fact that music is just as important as any other branch of a pupil's education and should receive as much attention from school authorities. He also favored the teachers with a beautiful instrumental selection, which was heartily enjoyed.

The last public address was delivered by Rev. G. C. Rafter, his subject being "The Teacher's Moral and Civic Duties to the Community." This was given on Friday and proved to be one of the most interesting of the session.

It was finally determined by the Institute that both the county meet and county school fair should be held in Clarendon. The chairman, Prof. S. W. Reeves then announced the following committees to make all necessary preparations: Committee on arranging premium list and collecting, Mrs. John T. Sims, Mrs. A. L. Clark, Miss French, Miss Flack, Miss Mattie Helton, Mrs. Martin; committee to arrange the display, Misses Frances Roach, Iva Patching, Sallie Helm and Elizabeth Stevens.

"42" CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. H. Glascoe was hostess to the forty-two club last Thursday afternoon, September 6.

At the conclusion of a number of interesting games a salad course was served to the following: Mmes. A. R. Letts, Chas. McMurtry, F. C. Chamberlain, A. L. Chase, J. L. McMurtry, C. C. Powell, W. C. McDonald, C. W. Bennett, J. T. Sims, W. Knorpp, Whitfield Carhart, Chas. Bugbee.

DALLAS COUNTY VOTES DRY BY NEARLY 2,000

Dallas county has declared for the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors by a majority of 1,884 votes on the face of returns from Monday's local option election.

These returns, which include every voting precinct except three small boxes, gives a total of 10,381 for prohibition and 8,497 against.

The missing boxes have but a total of 272 qualified voters, so the returns from them cannot change the result. However, it is possible they will increase the prohibition lead to almost 2,000 votes.

Success of the fight to close the saloons in the city of Dallas is due to the votes in the rural sections. The county precincts gave prohibition a majority, outside the city, of 2,571. The vote in the county boxes was 4,123 for prohibition and 1,552 against. Of fifty-six rural boxes from which reports were received, only fifty-one were for prohibition, four against and one box, Western Heights, returned a tie vote. The rural boxes voting anti were Union Academy, Beeman's, Christian Valley and Lagrow.

The anti, figuring on a big majority in the city to overcome the expected pro lead in the county, were disappointed by the results in the urban precincts. The returns from all city boxes show the anti carried the city by a lead of 687. The vote was 6,258 for and 6,945 against.

An examination of the returns shows that the anti carried twenty-two out of thirty-five boxes in the city, while the pro carried but thirteen. However, some strong pro majorities were returned in the outlying city precincts, especially Oak Cliff and Oak Lawn. The downtown boxes, while heavily anti, did not give the overwhelming "wet" majority that had been expected.

County officials who will have to do with the enactment of such orders as are necessary to put local option into effect figure that the saloons will have to close by Oct. 20th at the latest. The county commissioners are required to meet within eleven days after the election and canvass the results, and enter the necessary orders. These orders will become effective within 30 days.

Attorney E. F. Ritchie is home from a visit to his parents at Breckenridge, and friends in that part of the state. He says it is very good to be back in Donley, where everything is so flourishing.

Eugene Hester is in Birmingham, Ala., visiting his mother.

MEETING OF CANNING CLUBS OF THE COUNTY

The canning clubs of the rural districts and the Clarendon canning club held a joint meeting of much interest and import Saturday afternoon at the court house for the purpose of forming a federation.

Most of the rural clubs were well represented, and much enthusiasm was shown over the work.

A splendid program had been arranged and very inspiring talks were made on the subject of food conservation and its vital importance at this time.

The clubs were most fortunate in having with them Mrs. Guillot, state demonstrator, of College, Station, Texas, who made a stirring, instructive address about the work of the clubs and woman's opportunity to serve her country, together with an earnest appeal to every householder to economize and conserve its every resource.

Mrs. Guillot is here for the purpose of showing how all work along these lines can best be done and she will go to any homes in the rural districts for one or even two days to demonstrate the newest and best methods of canning and conserving. Many have already availed themselves of this splendid opportunity and others are doing so as rapidly as possible. It was announced that a general demonstration would begin down town on Thursday for the benefit of all interested in the work.

The reports of the various rural canning clubs are inspiring, and show that a remarkable amount of work has been accomplished.

The Martin club reports having 37 members and having canned 2,253 quarts. The Chamberlain club, 40 members, 1,840 quarts canned up to August 10. The Goldston club, 30 members, 3,000 quarts canned.

Officers elected for the federation of the clubs are:

President—Mrs. J. D. Stocking.

Vice President—Mrs. C. A. Hightower.

Secretary—Mrs. N. E. McAdams.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Berry of Sunnyview.

Press Reporter (appointed by the president)—Miss Lila E. McClelland.

A committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. M. W. Clarke, Lelia Lake; Mrs. Y. E. McAdams, Goldston; Mrs. W. W. Moreland, Martin; Mrs. A. T. Robinson, Chamberlain, to confer with the chairman of the Donley County Chapter of the Red Cross, who had previously given an address on the Red Cross movement. The chairman conferred with this committee as to the organization of auxiliaries of branches of the Red Cross in the rural districts and it is hoped that this work may be started soon.

MRS. F. W. TAYLOR ENTERTAINS

Mrs. F. W. Taylor was hostess to the Needle Club Tuesday afternoon, September 11.

A pleasant afternoon was spent conversing and sewing.

A delicious ice course was served to Mmes. R. D. Shure, W. W. Taylor, Paul Shelton, E. Noland, P. L. Maricle, W. C. McDonald, Gruben, Mary B. Adams, C. C. Powell, J. L. McMurtry, and Miss Edith Royalty.

Childrens people are rejoicing over the recent rains in their section, as for the past several months it has been unusually dry. But these rains seem to have filled all ponds, creeks, and cisterns. For a little over a month a water train has been running from Clarendon daily to supply Childrens with drinking water, but the supply is now sufficient, and the train has been discontinued.

The News is in receipt of a card from two of our Clarendon girls, Misses Lelia Clifford and Iva Ballew, who are teaching in the Childrens public schools, in which they request that The Clarendon News be sent them, as they need its company. Thanks.

Lots of stuff in canned goods that we still sell for less than the other fellow buys them. You will only have to compare prices occasionally to learn that we sell groceries on an average cheaper than you can buy them elsewhere. We can usually sell you cheaper because we anticipate your wants in advance. For instance most of the canned goods we have on hand now were contracted for before the advance came on, and the canned goods that we expect to receive this fall; most of them were contracted for in January, before the last heavy advance came on. Remember that we sell everything, quality and price guaranteed to please or your money back.

RED CROSS BOOTH EVERY SATURDAY

Every Saturday the local Red Cross organization will maintain a booth at the Rexall Drug Store corner in Clarendon for the purpose of soliciting and accepting donations for the advancement of the work of the National organization. It must be remembered by our people that the hundred million dollars recently collected in the United States will not last much longer than the present year and will disappear very rapidly when our own armies are once engaged on the plains of France. It is a duty of every citizen to give of his means to this great humanitarian cause especially when it will directly benefit our own sons, and it would be a good plan for all of us to set aside a weekly donation to this cause and drop by the booth on Saturdays and pay it with the same degree of duty and willingness that we pay any other legitimate debt. There are few of us who cannot pay from 25c to $1.00 per week and NOW, right now, we ought to take inventory of our patriotism and love for humanity and cheerfully set aside an amount compatible with our resources. Go to the Red Cross booth at the Rexall corner next Saturday and make your first donation.

There is an Economy Wave Over the Land

American people are beginning to realize that they are living too fast, beyond their means. It has been the rule that the man with $20,000 a year as well as the man with $600 a year lives up to every penny of his income. Slowly but surely this order of things is changing. The era of extravagance and waste in business and personal expenses is nearing an end. Efficiency and economy is the order of the day. Bank deposits are growing.

It is up to one to economize. The best and surest way to do so is to place your surplus in the bank. If you already have a bank account make it a point from today to increase it. Add to it weekly; daily if possible.

FROM A SAILOR BOY

This interesting letter from a sailor boy is reprinted from the Hall County Herald, at Memphis, and is especially well written in detail:

U. S. Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I., Aug. 30, 1917.

Dear Herald:

A great deal can be said concerning the U. S. Navy on both the social and military side, however I will say what I can on all subjects that I have become acquainted with, for the benefit of other young men who may be thinking of joining the Navy.

After this week we will be the oldest Navy boys left here, since five or six weeks is about the length of the training here. The training station is constantly taking in new recruits and sending trained men aboard the various vessels. Last week about a thousand men were sent aboard the Oklahoma, Arkansas and Pennsylvania. Four hundred firemen will be sent across the States to San Francisco in the next few days. There is a possibility that we will be sent to some navy yard about the middle of September. If not, we will probably receive orders to go aboard some vessel.

Since we arrived here we have only had about three days' drilling. We would have had a great deal more, had they not seen fit to put us on guard and mess cook duty. I have been on mess cook duty seven days now, but my time is up tomorrow morning. My job is to help pour coffee and tea for several thousand men. The experience gained would get me a position in most any restaurant where politeness is not required. For instance, while pouring coffee for the men in line, there are always men who are afraid they will not get any coffee, and they run in front of the line, and in less than a minute from the time the first man shoves his cup under our nose the cups are so thick in front of your coffee pot that you could shut your eyes and pour the coffee out without spilling a drop on the floor. If you are not on your guard you will soon lose the extra coffee in the pots at your feet, but it is nothing for you to lose it, even when you are holding onto it, and a fist-fight sometimes follows.

The Y. M. C. A. is giving out cakes, candies, etc. I guess that I had better fall in line, for to get anything here you must always line up.

Well, I got some of the home-made cake and am wondering now how it could have disappeared so fast. When anything is to be passed out free there is always a scramble and somebody always has to be on the bottom, and a lot of hats are always lost, and fine white clothes soiled. We eat at tables or benches. If tables, we stand and eat. If benches, we sit straddle of them and eat. If we don't get enough at the first serving we line up again at the end of the string and get served again.

We have to go to bed at 9 o'clock, get up at 5 o'clock, take a shower bath, return, dress, roll up our tents and make up the cots and stack them on top of one another. Then we muster at 6:30 and eat breakfast at 7:00, returning to our tents at 8:00. We drill with guns, or as they are called here, "rifles," with two intervals of fifteen minutes each, the first at 11:30 when we stop for dinner and get our mail. The second at 4:00 we have a fifteen minute interval to get mail again. At 1:00 o'clock we go through flag signal drill, Swedish exercise and squad drill. We muster at 6:00, supper at 6:30, moving pictures at 7:00 and salute to the colors at 8:00.

Wednesday is visitors' day and we always have a large crowd to see us drill, and that being the case, we must all have on clean suits and do our best. We launder our clothes twice a week.

Friday is field day and we have fish every Friday for dinner.

Saturday evening we are free to do as we please as long as we do right.

Sunday morning we go to church at 9 and it lasts till 10:30. After that we are free for the day. The other Sunday I took a dip in the Atlantic and found that the shells along the shore are very rough on feet. I also learned that the water was bitter and salty. Of course I knew that sea water was salty, but didn't know it was bitter. Crabs and starfish were thick. I know, because a crab tried to eat one of my toes.

Our regiment, the Third, is the oldest here now, and it is thought that we will soon be on our way to a new location, but there is nothing certain about it.

There are more Southerners here than Northerners, and the former receive the most praise, being the quietest and most obedient.

A bunch of new recruits were received here today. 300 apprentice seamen have been sent from here to San Francisco, and the Norfolk station sent a company of musicians here. The station here is being enlarged and many new buildings are going up.

There is much more that I could write about, but it is supper time and I must close. I would certainly like to hear from some of my Memphis friends.

Sincerely,
JAMES McMILLAN.

600 DISTILLERIES CLOSE AS NEW U. S. ORDER IS EFFECTIVE

Uncle Sam at midnight Saturday took the barley and corn out of John Barleycorn. It was not an easy death, for Uncle Sam has been stuffing John with barley and corn since 1783 and he quite naturally had begun to expect them to stay with him always.

He died hard, therefore. Six hundred distilleries were with John to the last, doing what they could to ease his last moments. Some 8,000 of the distilleries' hired hands maintained a death watch.

Chief mourners to the number of 8,000,000 or more who used to go out with John frequently could not forbear calling Uncle Sam's attention to the fact that only last year he obtained no less than $192,112,138 as tribute from John's distillery friends.

John's distillery friends are scattered throughout the country, there being 292 to mourn him in Kentucky and 168 in California. Then there are 68 in Pennsylvania and 44 in Ohio, 28 each in Missouri and Maryland and 20 in New York, besides a number in Illinois.

Uncle Sam remarked that these friends who have to worry along without John, just as he, Uncle Sam, will scrape ahead somehow without their big annual tribute. He needs the corn, the fruits, etc., for other things.

Hall county's five per cent of her total quota of sixty-six left Thursday morning for Camp Travis at San Antonio. Only three men were called out, these being C. B. Cook, A. W. Waits and T. E. Another twenty-five will go October 3rd, and the remaining thirteen soon after that. HONOR GUARD REPORT

The Girls' National Honor Guard, after the heat of summer, is resuming its former activities and has numerous plans for the ensuing months. Due to the absence of many of the members from town, regular meetings have been discontinued for the past two months. However, as our financial statement shows, the work of the Guard has still been carried on.

Since the resignation of the former treasurer, Miss Dorinda Tatum, in June, the captain has been acting in that capacity until a new officer could be selected. In connection with our finances, we wish to say that a detailed account of every expenditure and of the names of every recipient of help, too lengthy to publish, is on record in our treasurer's book, and an inspection of same is earnestly invited at all times by the officers in charge.

The following is the financial statement submitted for the months of July and August, to date:

Receipts
Donated by Mrs. Adair	$190.00
Donated by Mr. and Mrs. T. Jones	100.00
Proceeds from minstrel show	29.15
Loan at encampment returned by honor delegate, Miss Edna Neal	1.50
Picture show benefit money	.20
Refund on an unused Pullman berth from encampment	2.25
Donated by Mr. and Mrs. T. Jones	4.65
Total	$237.75

In addition to the above, $24.00 was raised from a moving picture benefit and turned in direct to Capt. E. A. Simpson for Company B, 7th Texas Infantry.

Disbursements
To American Red Cross, (at Washington, D. C.)	$100.00
To Donley County Chapter, Red Cross	20.00
Red Cross	10.00
To Co. B, Nat. Guard	29.15
To Co. B, mess fund	25.00
To entertainment for Co. B, for ice cream	5.00
For local bills, telegrams, flag, blackboard, stationery, express on books and charts, bandage material etc.	6.70
To state manager for national expenses	9.00
Total	$204.85

Balance on hand in bank September 12, 1917, $32.90.

Total amount of money deposited by Honor Guard since organization in April, $198.00 plus $237.75, making a total of $435.75. In addition $47.00 has been raised, not deposited, applied direct to purchase of books by members as gift to Company B.

Miss Mae Lumpkin, having just been appointed treasurer, will take over this office at our next meeting.

It has been decided that the Guard meet regularly on Friday afternoons for at least an hour, any time from 2:30 to 6, in the Red Cross rooms at the court house, to assist with the work and to learn how to knit. A regular monthly business meeting will be held the first Monday in every month at five o'clock at the court house. In addition to these regular meetings, call meetings will be held as necessity arises. Later on we expect to have outdoor drill or exercises and to have a regular meeting for knitting. A relief committee of three has been chosen as follows: Miss Leta Warren, chairman; Miss Anne Davis, Miss D'Laurel Beville. This committee will take charge of any case of need or sickness that is reported to the Captain, and by directing the workers appointed by her. This is a vital part of Honor Guard work and one to which the members are expected to respond instantly.

The proceeds of the picture show benefit, showing pictures of the Honor Guard girls at camp, which Mr. Mulkey is generously giving us this week, will be donated partially to stamping magazines to be sent to the trenches. Members are asked to begin collecting magazines for this purpose immediately, so that as many as possible may be brought to a meeting, time and place to be announced later, where they may be stamped and sent on to the soldiers. Any and all magazines, old or new, are acceptable, as we are expecting to sell all that are not of interest to the soldiers, and so raise more funds for the treasury. Any citizen having any magazines to donate please notify any Honor Guard members that the same may be called for as soon as possible.

Capt. Panhandle Div.

Come to Donley County, where the sun shines brightest, where the crops are the finest and where life is one glad song.

Theodore Roosevelt is now a member of the editorial staff of the Kansas City Star. Some editor has been mean enough to say that the Star had better lay in a large supply of the letter "L."

Those exhibits from the farms of Donley county must go to the Amarillo and Dallas fairs. We've got the goods and it is the grandest opportunity to show the world just how superior old Donley is. Cheap land, good water, high prices, plenty of money and the finest citizenship in the world is enough inducement to cause the kaiser to slip out the back gate and move her for a "place in the sun."

The News is pleased to give passing notice that woman suffrage lost in the recent Maine election by the gratifying ratio of two to one. Sometimes we are prone to consider that chivalry and the proper regard for woman is restricted to the South and that people of the Northern states have lost that fine feeling of courtesy to women and have let mercenary motives plunge women into the common channels of business hurry and strife, but this election in Maine is refreshing. May New York duplicate with a double dose.

The indications at Austin are that the State University will open its doors with an attendance of around two thousand. This is not far from what it should be in these war times and gives evidence of the return of confidence in our chief institution of learning since we have a man in the governor's chair who is willing to carry out the state constitution. The removal of some of Ferguson's Man-Friday regents and putting in their places men of known integrity and love for education has put the final touches to the situation and the Texas University will move forward with added impulse to the goal of success which all good citizens earnestly hope for it.

The Informer editor was a visitor in Clarendon last Saturday evening and Sunday, and had the pleasure of paying a call at The News office, where he found the force up and doing, as usual. Editor Braswell says he likes the Clarendon country and people better every day, and judging from the amount of business he is getting, Clarendon people do not utterly abhor the new editor. Astounding as the announcement may prove, The News is doing fully as well since we left it as it did before.—Hedley Informer.

To read after Editor Boliver, one would think he was a very vain man, did he not know him personally. As a matter of fact, there isn't a bit of professional jealousy about Ed Boliver. Newspaper men love him because when they do well they know Ed Boliver is rooting for them and should they run around they know he is a brotherly sympathizer. We appreciate such neighbors as Bro. Boliver.

Reforms always come slowly, and those of us who long for the day when whisky cannot be sold in the borders of our state cannot refrain from taking occasion to openly rejoice over the victory for prohibition and clean government in Monday's election in Dallas county. Those who have been intimate with the trend of sentiment in Dallas and Dallas county were not at all surprised at the result of the election and don't hesitate to go a little further and predict that Tarrant county will roll up a majority of even larger proportions when their election is held early in October. There are many citizens in Fort Worth who have claimed that they would support prohibition except for the commercial advantage they assumed it would give Dallas. Booze is fast losing control of the steering wheel and will soon go into the ditch of sad recollection. Clean men everywhere are realizing more forcefully with the passing events of the present day that booze has no place in the commercial or economic program of any nation and its doom is already sealed. This great war has done much to shake loose the coils of this monster and if it can be the means of driving out the evil permanently, its cost will already be met.

INFLUENCE OF WAR ON EDUCATION

By William Bennett Bizzell, President Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

The war of nations has come as a test and challenge to our theories and practices. We had assumed that democracy, education and industrialism were the trinity of forces that had destroyed war and insured the peace of the world. Our theories of democracy assumed that the enlarged powers of the people had taken the power to declare war from the ruling classes; that education had destroyed the last vestige of bellicosity and international solidarity that would overcome militarism and would in time result in disarmament.

But the great war has disillusioned us with respect to many of our theories. We now know that imperialism and war are more intricate than our popular theories led us to suspect. Confronted with this new situation, the American people have been passing through a process of self-examination. This reappraisal has given us a new scale of values. It has caused us to re-examine the working forces of our national life, and there is no doubt that searching analysis will cause redirection of many of the social forces that we have relied upon to sustain our social order. We are not thinking the same thoughts, or thinking them in the same way, as we did in 1914. For example, we have seen public sentiment shift from pacifism to preparedness; from a laissez faire agricultural system to a system of centralized control of feed and food products. We have accepted a selective draft plan for enlistment with practically no protest. We now talk in terms of universal liability for military service with widespread approval of the plan. Universal military training has practically been promised us by our National Government, when only a few months ago military instruction in schools and colleges was condemned on the ground that it was militaristic and antagonistic to sound democracy. These are but illustrations of the change in public sentiment that has resulted from the war.

It is not to be expected that educational theories and practices would not be influenced by the same forces that are reacting in other activities of life. Incidentally, the war has stimulated our interest in the geography and history of Europe and Western Asia. The geography of that part of the world is not merely the subject of formal instruction, but it is now a matter of common information. The history of Europe, especially that of Germany, has become a subject of intense study in our endeavor to understand the background of the present world conflict. Comparative government has also become a topic of general conversation and common knowledge in our efforts to estimate institutional forces in the warring countries.

Influence on Languages and History
But the influence of the war on American education will not merely be incidental. It will be vital and constructive. It occurs to me that the teaching of modern languages, for example, will be greatly influenced by present world conditions. In the past the teaching of modern languages has been too much influenced by the methods used in giving instruction in Latin and Greek. Formal grammar has been emphasized at the expense of real interest and vital teaching. The Romanic and Germanic languages have been taught more from the standpoint of disciplinary subjects than for the purpose of disseminating a practical speaking and reading knowledge of them. Since we are now disillusioned with reference to our isolation, there is soon to be a larger appreciation of the importance of having a practical knowledge of the languages of the peoples of other countries. It occurs to me that this will tend to require French, Spanish, Italian and German to be taught in a more natural way and for a more practical purpose.

The subject matter of history will also be affected. This will not only apply to European history, but American history as well will feel the effect of this influence. In the first place, larger emphasis will be laid on the background of American history. The war periods in our history will be taught in an entirely different way. There has been a tendency on the part of the more recent text writers to reduce the amount of space devoted to the description of battles. The tendency of the future probably will be to lay less emphasis on the details of battles and more on the conditions of preparedness for war, defects of organization and elements of strategy. Treaty relations and international trade probably will be given a larger place than they have yet occupied in our textbooks.

It also seems a natural consequence of the present world situation that the social sciences, including economics, political science and sociology, will receive larger attention than they have received in the past. It seems to be natural to expect that the social sciences must find a larger place in the high school curriculum and a more secure place in the courses of college rank. If we are to realize "the partnership of democratic relations," using the fine phrase of President Wilson, we must give our students as much knowledge as possible of the other nations that are to share the partnership with us. The social sciences will be the means through which to convey a knowledge of intellectual comity, international solidarity, treaty relations and other common aspects in this larger social consciousness.

Universal Military Training
It seems obvious that military training also is to come as a result of the general belief in the necessity for preparedness. Military instruction in the past has been very much discredited in American schools and colleges. Previous to 1914 the only military instruction that was being offered was in our land-grant colleges and a few private academies, outside of the United States Military Academy and the Naval Academy. Many students were disinclined to attend land-grant colleges because of the military training that was required; but at this time military science and tactics are rapidly becoming incorporated in the courses of study of practically all of the state institutions and in many of the denominational and endowed colleges. Military instruction also is being offered in many of the high schools of the country. The Dallas high school was among the first to take this advance step, and while there is some opposition to military drill in high schools, it is rapidly disappearing as the benefits of this kind of instruction to the individual and to the Nation are becoming better understood and more appreciated.

ceive larger attention than they have received in the past. It seems to be natural to expect that the social sciences must find a larger place in the high school curriculum and a more secure place in the courses of college rank. If we are to realize "the partnership of democratic relations," using the fine phrase of President Wilson, we must give our students as much knowledge as possible of the other nations that are to share the partnership with us. The social sciences will be the means through which to convey a knowledge of intellectual comity, international solidarity, treaty relations and other common aspects in this larger social consciousness.

Increase Vocational Education
It seems certain that the influence of the war will give larger validity to the claims of industrial and vocational education. The necessity for increased agricultural products and the need for a greatly increased number of men for the skilled trades must make obvious the need for educational agencies for training men for these pursuits. We have learned at last that we can not ignore the principles of scientific production and supply ourselves with food and feed. We have learned that our economic supremacy will depend upon increasing the forces of skilled labor. The necessity for the correlation of the activities of production and manufacturing, in order to make our Nation as nearly self-sustaining as possible, is understood as never before. The consciousness of these facts must give significance to the schools of technology and applied arts and sciences.

Educational reconstruction will undoubtedly be a part of the program resulting from the reappraisal of our theories of social order. It is true that educational readjustment is only one aspect of the situation, but it is, nevertheless, very important. Our educational forces must not be indifferent or unconscious of the fact that this reconstruction is a reality. The teachers of the country must see, as one aspect of our international crisis, an opportunity to stimulate self-examination, and then determine to put forth an effort to use the lessons learned to reconstruct a world on a more peaceful and secure basis.

Engineer's Wife Lays Aside Her Crutches

P. G. Hooks Spent $2,000 Trying to Restore His Wife's Health—Gains 16 Pounds on Tanlac

Another wonderful endorsement for Tanlac that will be read with interest by thousands of frail, suffering women throughout the South was given recently by Mrs. Elizabeth Hooks, wife of a well-known Southern railway engineer. Mrs. Hooks made the remarkable statement that she had received more benefit from 4 bottles of Tanlac than from medical treatment that had cost her husband $2,000, which he had paid out in the past two years in an effort to restore her health.

"For about two years," said Mrs. Hooks, "I have been in very bad health and have suffered from stomach trouble, extreme nervousness and a bad form of rheumatism. For more than seven months I was confined to my bed and was almost a nervous and physical wreck. My digestion was so poor, I had to diet myself and rarely ate anything but soft boiled eggs and milk and things of that kind, and even the lightest of foods would nauseate me and lay heavily on my stomach.

"Any sudden noise would affect my nerves, and my husband had to quit setting the alarm clock and the door to my room had to be kept closed so I could not hear the ringing of the telephone. I have had the rheumatism in my left hip and shoulders so bad I could hardly bear anything to touch me.

"My condition became so bad, my husband took me to Hot Springs, Ark., where I remained for a month. I had to use crutches all the time. The treatment helped me there for a while, and I returned home. I soon relapsed into my old condition, and then I was taken to a specialist in Atlanta.

"I had fallen off from one hundred and twenty pounds until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds—just a shadow of my former self.

"The specialist prescribed a course of treatment, but before using the medicine I decided to give Tanlac a trial. I did this because of what I had read of Mr. Cooper's new medicine and because my husband had heard so many railroad men recommend it.

"That was the best resolution of my life. I am now on my fourth bottle and feel better than at any time since I became ill. I can now eat anything I want, and my food agrees with me besides, everything I eat tastes good and I enjoy my meals.

"I have set my crutches aside and actually feel so much better I told my husband a few days ago I believed I would turn off the cook, but he insisted that I wait a while.

"I now weigh one hundred and five pounds, which is a gain of sixteen pounds, and am improving right along every day. Before taking Tanlac I was so weak and frail I was greatly discouraged and could not persuade myself to believe that I would ever be able to enjoy another well day. But I don't feel that way now. I am not nervous like I was, and I can see and feel a great improvement. I sleep better and my strength is returning rapidly."

Tanlac is sold in Clarendon by Dr. J. D. Stocking, in Hedley by J. F. Tomlinson Drug Co., and in Jericho by O. C. Brown.

FROM ONE OF THE "REGULARS"

The News is pleased to reproduce the following letter from Sergt. Willard J. Thaxton, U. S. A., a nephew of Mrs. John Lemmon of the Giles community. It shows the "regulars" are just as patriotic and anxious to fight as any of the volunteers:

"Syracuse, N. Y., 9-1-17.
Mrs. Jno. A. Lemmon.
Dearest Aunt and Family: Received your letter and papers o. k. and was sure glad to get them. Every time I look at the picture it makes me wish I was back home again, although I guess it will be quite a while before I return if the war keeps going. I don't know when we will go to France. It is hard to tell; we never know when we are going to move or what we are going to do until we get there. We may be here tomorrow and we may not. There is little talk of leaving here for the winter, but we can't tell yet. The 23rd U. S. Infantry is leaving here soon for France; I think they will get away this next week.

As far as the Army is concerned, I am well pleased with it and have charge of the kitchen and buy everything the boys have to eat. In other words, I am the Mess Sergeant. There is only one man in the company that holds a higher rank than I. Just one more step and I will be the highest ranking non-commissioned officer in my company. It makes me feel good to hear of the boys of my home country and towns existing before they are drafted. I believe every young man of age should join us in this great war. Some of us have to go. Why not all and have it over with? The Kaiser is trying to rule the world; let's don't let him. Look at the poor women and children he has disgraced and murdered, and the poor Belgians he has made slaves, and the American lives and ships he has destroyed, and is still at the game. Can we stand back and let him continue this awful murder? NO; and we will not. I am willing to die for the poor little children and mothers of Europe and uphold the honor of our Nation, and I believe every loyal American will follow me. Thank God for the boys that have joined us in Clarendon and Donley county, and may we all return safely home again.

SGT. WM. J. THAXTON,

BELIEVES IN THE POWER OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

The press, I have found, is a prime factor in commercial activity of every kind. It is invaluable in broadening a market and in promoting understanding between industrial institutions and the public.

The press in a sense belongs to the public and enjoys its confidence and respect. That is fitting and proper, for I know of no greater and more unselfish force that is working for the interest of the public.

The unit of our National life is the community. On the prosperity of the community depends the prosperity of the nation. Fortunate is that community which has a good, live newspaper, for its editorial and advertising activities are second to no force in building up and developing its territory.

Our civilization is based on specialization and specialization is based on the finding of a market for the product of the specialist. The newspaper finds this market and develops it, thereby developing the home community, making it bigger and more prosperous and a more satisfying place in which to live.

Before a newspaper can make itself a power it has to absorb quantities of money and the best and untiring efforts of its many directors. Its founders had to show their faith in the community, because a newspaper more than any other commercial institution identifies itself with its locality and lives and grows only through that identification. It is time that we recognize what the founding and developing of the press required on the part of the newspaper pioneers and those now in charge.

The press has made itself a great economic factor in the commercial activity of this age. It has demonstrated its worth to a point where I can say without hesitancy that I believe in the power of newspaper advertising to create, intensify and broaden business.

To gain a full realization of the influence of newspaper advertising one has only to imagine the effect upon the business of this country of a sudden stoppage of all means of public announcements.—J. Ogden Armour.

THE CHANGE

By R. G. Foster:

In the course of human events as the evolution of time yields the scepter of destiny and holds within its grasp all things animate, it is no less than natural for human endeavor to reach a climax, and change existing method. Time, the tomb builder, touches the petal of the flower and its beauty is no more. O'er the monarch its melancholy dirge is cast; the haughty form has fallen; the superficial eye is dim—so with all things animate.

Man is but an insignificant fly upon the axis wheel of time and must yield in obedience to the cycles of its wake—so also, his hopes, his aspirations and desires must bow in contrition to the masterful builder of his architecture.

Be not discouraged, my friends, because civilization seemingly has been washed from its moorings by the waves of disaster that are adverse to the progress of refinement and culture. But renew thou thy hope, remembering there is a future and the time will come when the creeds and ideals men bow down to today will pass away and new creeds and ideals will claim their allegiance.

People change as generations come and go, and out of the decomposition of the old comes the new. Cling to hope with its attainment and beauties, remembering that through the dross of bitterness and deceit new empires will rise to emblazon the earth with their simplicity and justness.

Soon the war will all be over and from the battlefields of carnage will spring a solidarity of unity from which there will evolve a universal kinship.

Men will come and go; the rain will fall; the sun will shine and the flowers bloom with a sweeter profusion of fragrance rare when a universal democracy shall embellish the earth with its essential magnitude.

Be men; lend charity and benevolence to your fellow man; be generous to the needy; stand upon the oneness of friendship, love and truth, and wisdom and power shall be added unto the beauty of the unity; for God will not love thee less if men adore thee more.

CLARENDON COLLEGE HAPPENINGS

Brother Story of the Methodist church delivered some very helpful advice Friday morning to the students. We are pleased to have Bro. Story with us as his cheerful nature and cheering sayings are of much benefit to us.

Wm. S. Webb, one of last year's graduates, was back last Sunday seeing his old friends. He was greatly surprised at the great number of improvements that had taken place during his absence.

Among those late to come in were Frank Rainey, A. K. Young, Silas Dixon, Miss Colvin and Miss Carhart.

The football squad has begun its practice and is showing up nicely under the tutelage of Coaches Gribble and Boger. The ability of Mr. Gribble is well known to all those who saw the excellent team that he put out last year, while Mr. Boger has for the last four years been training the Alexander College team that has ruined the reputation of several would-be champions in that section of the state. With a good part of last year's team to build around and a number of the Clarendon High men with the others that have come from other schools, the new team that is rapidly developing promises much in the way of pulling down the championship of the Panhandle and New Mexico.

Mr. Oliver Busby, better known as "Pep," has been elected as manager of the football team. A more faithful roofer for the Green and White could not be found, nor could one better versed in the football lore and needs. We predict that things will be managed in an efficient way.

Last Saturday night a get-acquainted party was held at the Young Ladies' Home. A large number attended and enjoyed themselves exceedingly well. It is hoped that many another joyous occasion of like nature may come to pass before the year is ended. The Societies have been rushing the new students to the utmost during the last few days in an effort to surpass each other in membership.

Mr. Harper Scoggins left Saturday night for Paducah, where he will have a surgical operation made. All hope that he will be back before long with his happy smile and laugh.

The latter part of the chapel exercise on Tuesday morning was turned over to the Clarendon staff. After several speeches on the aims and hopes of the Clarendon work, subscriptions were taken. A large enough number was secured to make the publication of The Clarendon assured fact.

It seems that some domestic trouble might result the other evening from the appearance in the suite of rooms occupied by Prof. Boger and wife of an innocent looking horned frog of quite juvenile appearance. The mistress of the house rightly refused to be a co-habitant with the reptile. All was finally smoothed over by Mary Jane Elizabeth (the name given to the frog by the students) taking up her place of residence across the hall.

The Ministerial Association has elected its officers. Mr. P. E. Yarborough was elected president and Mr. J. E. Eldridge secretary.

A Dramatic Club has been founded under the leadership of Miss Chism. All plays in the College this year will be given under the direction of this club.

The choir has already been organized and did credit to its organizer, Mr. Shure, last Sunday.

The Epworth League, which is composed largely of College students, has begun to take on new life. Mr. P. E. Yarborough, the president, is working faithfully to make next Sunday the largest in the history of the Clarendon organization.

Mr. Leo Rippey, editor of the Clarendon College Magazine several years ago, and well known to the College circle, was with us Monday morning and delivered a fine talk. He leaves shortly to take up Army Y. M. C. A. work.

The enrollment of the College already exceeds the enrollment at this time last year. All things point to a record year for Clarendon and her College.

THE SECOND LIBERTY LOAN

Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury has issued a statement that the campaign to sell the second issue of Liberty Loan Bonds will close on the first of November, 1917, and the active campaign will begin not later than a month before that date.

The secretary explains that details of the second loan cannot be given out until final action has been taken by Congress upon the war bond bill now pending, but announces that as soon as a new law has been passed the details will be given out.

The secretary expresses a hope that all existing Liberty Loan committees will perfect their organizations and new organizations be effected in readiness for the next campaign.

As in the first campaign the campaign in each Federal Reserve District will be under the supervision of the Federal Reserve Bank, which will act as the fiscal agent of the Government.

HAYTER BROS. HAVE UNIQUE FALL OPENING

Friday afternoon and evening of last week Hayter Bros. kept open house to their many friends and patrons from the hour of 4 to 9 p. m. For a number of years the Hayter Bros. haberdashery has been one of the boasts of Clarendon and since the fire in June which damaged the stock they have been out of business until the second week in August, when the store was opened. True to Hayter Bros' principles of business the opening was delayed until the store was thoroughly overhauled and the stock up to its former excellent fullness, and the throngs who passed in for the review Friday afternoon and evening were in a measure prepared for what they saw. The store was tastefully decorated with pot flowers and plants and the season's noblest array of men's and boys' furnishings were displayed in each department, not with the mercenary motive of making sales, for nothing was on sale during the opening hours, but to give the visitors first-hand knowledge of what was correct in men's wear for fall.

Messrs. W. T. and J. S. Hayter with their wives received the guests and escorted them through the store to the serving table near the rear, where delicious fruit punch was served by Misses Mary Hallet and Grace Truman Benedict, Annie Lou Richards and Mary Lou Baldwin. Visiting ladies were the recipients of roses, the men were given pencils, while the children were given canvas school bags. Hundreds attended this gala affair of one of Clarendon's most popular business houses and those who did not attend were the losers.

WHY NOT HAVE AN EXHIBIT?

Why does not Donley county begin to make preparations to have an exhibit at the Dallas State Fair and Amarillo State Fair this year? With our bountiful crops we would easily win first prizes without a doubt. As heretofore, our products have won many of the blue ribbons.

The Kraker self-filling fountain pen is the best. They are selling rapidly at Stocking's Store.

GOODNIGHT NEWS

School opened Monday morning with prayer by Rev. Watts. There were several good talks made by the teachers. The enrollment was 131. The school was organized and arranged as follows: High school, including the 7th and 8th grades, B. H. Warren, Supt., history; E. W. Atkins, mathematics and science; Miss Myrtle Fair, English and Latin; Miss Floy Simmons, 5th and 6th grades; Miss Lela Watts, 3rd and 4th grades; Miss Susie Patterson, 1st and 2nd grades. Miss Elizabeth Mandrill will teach music in the building. All the necessary apparatus and library have been arranged for to make our school second to none in the country. There were a number of patrons present at the opening and all seemed very much enthused over the prospects for a good school.

Luma Kersey will leave for Duncan, Okla., this week. He has traded off his property and sold his interest in the garage to his brother.

Dick Cassel will leave for Dalhart this week. He has resigned his position as pumper.

Mr. Crawford is moving his family to town on account of the school.

J. Wirth Martin of Marietta, Okla., was here Tuesday looking after his property interest.

NEW FALL MILLINERY

LAND BARGAINS

Something That Should Go

640 acres grass with running water all the time. $13.00 bonus and the $17.00 patent section with good four room house, wind mill and other improvements, and 40 acre farm; plenty more good farm land is something to be appreciated and is a bargain. Owners do not live here. If they did the price would likely be higher.

The 5 passenger Ford car offered last week has only been run 17 months and does not look so bad; it's ready and raring to go. It is worth all and more than asked for.

100 acres sandy land, good house, wind mill, orchard and fenced, good crop on the place. Can be had only a few days at $21.00 per acre. This certainly is a bargain for some one who understands handling sandy land.

80 acres at $25.00 per, not over mile and half out, is something not to be grinned at either. No house, no water. Cash and terms will handle this. Only a short time.

100 acres, all in cultivation, extra good improvements, well, big mill and plenty out buildings. Can be had for $5,250 cash. Has heavy crop of cotton and corn and maize. Close to big country school house. Good neighborhood. Crop, land and all can be bought right. Owner not got room enough and wants bigger place.

240 acres at the edge of town for only $35.00 per acre. Worth fifty if Johnson grass was all killed. Some one with plenty help could make some good money on this place.

The eight dollar section sold; also the 160 two miles out from Lelia Lake sold. These places were advertised two weeks ago.

The right section of grass advertised in last week's paper—I have had several nibbles already and am expecting the cork to be pulled under any time.

R. W. TALLEY,
Clarendon, Texas.

WHAT MORE CAN YOU ASK?

The Shumate razors, sold at Stocking's Store, are sold under a guarantee that is not limited to a few months or a few years. It holds good for life. If they fail to give satisfaction at any time, bring them back and the guarantee will be made good.
