Cotton Grade Good, Yield Down This Year

★★ Santa Sets 1985 Visit On Saturday

Saturday, December 7, will be a very special day in Muleshoe. The annual Christmas parade and bazaar is scheduled during the day, and Santa will be making his official appearance, both in the parade, and at the Civic Center following the parade.

At 10 a.m., the annual parade will be traveling down Main Street, to delight all the "Young at Heart." Toni Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, sponsors of the Christmas parade, said they need more entries for the parade, and suggest that you get your entry in right away.

"Christmas Is..." is the theme for the parade this year, and floats will be depicting their own particular interpretation of the theme.

Also expected to be participating in the parade will be riding clubs, mules, antique cars, Scouts and other entries.

Cash prizes and trophies will be presented for winners in the various divisions, said Mrs. Eagle.

Also, Santa Claus will be featured in the parade, then will be making an appearance at the bazaar at the Civic Center, to visit with children, and be photographed with them.

This year, as usual, the annual two-day bazaar opens on Friday, with handcrafted items of all types to provide Christmas joy for anyone on your Christmas list.

On Friday, December 6 and again on Saturday, December 7, Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Last year, the cotton ginning got off to a fast start, only to start lagging, because of adverse weather conditions. This year, the start of most cotton gins was delayed somewhat because of a rather late freeze, allowing the cotton stalks to start dying, and cotton plants to strip.

At this time, most gins are in full swing, and as good weather has been predominant, almost all cotton is now off the stalks and is either in trailers at the gins, or in modules in fields.

Some gins are hauling modules to the gins, and lining them up in rows just in case wet weather causes the fields to become soggy, preventing the trucks from picking up and moving the modules.

Generally, from five to seven bales of cotton are compressed in each module, making them very heavy to be picked up and transported to the cotton gins.

Even though cotton acreage is down this year, both the mike and grades are testing out from good to very good, report most gingers.

Yield is down in most areas, according to the gin operators, and combined with less cotton acreage, and good weather, the ginning season is expected to be much shorter than the ginning season that started in 1984 and concluded in February of this year.

Claunch Gin at Bula reported not nearly as many acres as in previous years, and said the yield is from one-half to three-quarters of an acre to each bale. They also reported high 'mikes' and good grades right now.

At the Farmer's Co-Op Gin at Enochs, it was reported that early heavy rains, combined with government cutbacks in the cotton allotment, left that area 'short' on cotton acres. This will result in a short season for the gin. If weather continues to hold, the gin, which is 40-50 percent through with their cotton, expect to be through by Christmas. They report a short yield, and grades that are holding 'fairly good.'

At Maple, the Maple Co-op Gin reports that they are well into the 1985 ginning season, and will possibly conclude the season by Christmas.

In the Maple area, the cotton acreage planted is also down, and the yield is also slightly down from past years.

The gin operator reports a 'fair' mike and grade.

Muleshoe Co-op Gin reports they are 'way ahead of last year' in ginning. In 1984, they were stopped numerous times because of adverse weather.

Cotton at the gin is reported as being 'real good' cotton that is ginning good, and an 'excellent' mike, with the grade reported as being real good.

Also, they report there is not as much cotton as last year, and this will result in a shorter season.

"We're just getting started good," said a spokeswoman at the Nickels and Nickels Gin at Goodland.

They report having ginned just over 1,000 bales, and said the gin will be through in two weeks, if good weather holds.

Most of the yield is reported as being rather low, but holding with a good grade and a good mike.

Bailey County Electric Names Lloyd Manager

Recently, the board of directors of Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association hired Duane Lloyd, assistant manager, to fill the position of manager, effective on January 19, 1986, at the retirement of the current manager, Connie Gupton.

Lloyd has been employed by the cooperative since May, 1973, when he began work as office manager.

Prior to his employment with Bailey County Electric Cooperative, he had worked in another related electrical work business. Since his employment, he has worked primarily in the engineering department until his appointment as administrative assistant in July, 1983.

"His experience and background from the engineering department gives him a sound understanding of the relationship of a rural cooperative to its member," said a spokesman for the board, "and his experience and education while serving as assistant manager will enable him to be beneficial to both the cooperative and to its member consumers whenever he assumes the new positions."

Lloyd says he plans to continue to administer the cooperative board's policies and decisions as established from time to time, and to further learn better ways and methods for assuring that Bailey County Electric Cooperative remains an effective utility for its members, and for this area.

He added that he further plans continual study in the area of rules and regulations which govern REA and the electric cooperative, and accepts any challenge that may arise regarding the cooperative and the REA program.

Lloyd stated "Bailey County

Electric Cooperative is committed to provide the most reliable electric service to its members at the lowest possible cost. Our members have always come first. If we really have to work at justifying our members' trust, then we haven't done our job to begin with. We want all of our members to be fully informed about the cooperative and its operations, because they are the owners of the organization.

"The thing that concerns us most at the cooperative at this time is the agricultural economy. Agriculture is the backbone of our nation, and it is very essential that not only the people in this area, but the people from all over the nation do everything within their power to get the agriculture industry back on a paying basis for the sake of our country. One of our main priorities at Bailey County Electric is to do everything we can in any way to turn the economic condition of agriculture around."

Lloyd is married to the former Loretta Stancell of Muleshoe. They are the parents of three children: Lavayne (Mrs. Tom) Pepper, Oklahoma City, Ok.; Nathan, who is a junior at Muleshoe High School and Lace, who is in the third grade at DeShazo Elementary.

The Lloyds are members of the Muleshoe Church of Christ.

Four Burglaries Are Reported

To City Police

Each year, the holiday season brings about a very 'unpleasant' side effect for local merchants, along with merchants and business people nationwide.

The side effects involve persons who wait to do their 'shopping' in the midnight and early morning hours, while the stores and businesses are closed.

During the past several days, this has proven to be true in this city. Friday morning, however, one such individual found out quickly that it just doesn't pay to enter a business when it is not open.

Shortly before 7 a.m. Friday, city police were summoned to A&M Farm and Ranch Supply where a burglary was reported.

After some checking, the officers had a suspect in custody within less than two hours, and stolen items were recovered. The officers also had a statement from the individual arrested concerning the Thanksgiving night burglary.

By presstime, the officers were still investigating the A&M burglary as well as several other recent burglaries in the city.

Early Thursday morning, officers were 'kept hopping' as three different service stations reported burglaries which had apparently occurred after their closing times on Wednesday night.

Although no suspects have been taken into custody, officers are still investigating the service station burglaries.

Around Muleshoe

Bailey County Commissioners Court will meet in special session at 10 a.m. on Monday, December 2, according to Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green.

Items on the agenda will include the payment of routine county bills; consider a contract with Muleshoe Meals on Wheels, Inc.; meeting with William H. Pope, District Engineer, State Department of Highways and Transportation and miscellaneous items.

As a part of National Home Care Week, December 1-7, West Plains Medical Center will present a free public lecture on Home Health Care and First Aid Measures for the Elderly, says Judy Jacobs, RN.

The lecture will be at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, December 3, in the hospital cafeteria. Nurse Jacobs said this will be the first in a series of monthly public educational programs.

Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District board of directors announced this week that they are donating trees for a windbreak to the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation.

The windbreak will consist of 90 Afghanistan pines and 100 Russian olive trees. A drip irrigation system to maintain the windbreak was also a part of the donation to the Foundation.

Board members include Carl Bamert, chairman; Thomas Terrell, vice chairman; Louis Wayne Shafer, secretary and Louis Dale and Ernest Ramm, members.

Blood Drive

Slated Here

Next Thursday

A goal of 200 units of blood has been set for the annual United Blood Services drive to be held here on Thursday, December 5, according to publicist Annette Bonds.

Mrs. Bonds said the drive will be conducted from 10 a.m.-8 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in the fellowship hall, and donors will be sought to help replenish blood supplies.

Last year, during the drive, Muleshoe and area residents donated 214 units of blood, which was the second largest amount ever contributed for one drive in the area served by United Blood Services of Lubbock.

The largest amount was contributed at Snyder, which is much larger than Muleshoe.

For more information, or to find out if you are eligible to contribute blood, contact Lana Bomer at 272-5175 or Kay Graves at 272-5846.

Fairview Gin 'Operating,' Is Not Closed

Last week The Journal reported the Fairview Gin had not opened this year. This information had been given to The Journal by a utility company, and the gin operators at Fairview Gin report this is incorrect information.

Fairview Gin operators said they are open and ginning and plan to continue to operate the same as they have since 1954, when the gin first opened.

Eagles End Football With 11-1 Record

Although the Three Way Eagles lost their first game of the year Friday night, they still can 'proudly point to their season record' as the best year for the Eagles since 1967.

This year marked the first year since '67 for the Eagles to make the playoffs.

Friday night, the Eagles failed to make it 12-in-a-row when they met up with the very powerful Weinert Bulldogs in quarterfinal football action.

Playing at Borden County High School's Coyote Stadium at Gail, the Eagles saw their dreams for a state championship slip away, 66-16.

Weinert quarterback Shannon Forehand, son of Weinert head coach Chet Forehand, passed for six touchdowns and ran for another as the Bulldogs passed the test on the way to a state championship.

Under six man football rules, if one team gets 45 points ahead of the other team, past the halfway point in the game, the game is "called on the 45-point rule." This happened Friday night at Gail, as the game was ended in the third quarter.

Three Way head coach C. W. Williams, who successfully built an excellent football program at Three Way, gave credit for Weinert's win to the quarterback, Shannon Forehand. "We couldn't contain him," he said.

Three Way drove to the first score of the game after taking the opening kickoff. TW quarterback Brett Stegall lobbed a 19 yard TD pass to Saul Guillen and Curtis Tucker kicked the extra points.

LOADING OUT THE BURRS--Ginning also has 'leavings.' Here, cotton burrs are being loaded onto a truck at the Muleshoe Co-op Gin. Huge piles of cotton burrs are mounded up to the east of the gin, waiting to be hauled out by the trucks. At this time, the gins expect to be through with most of the season by Christmas.

Angels Of Mercy Of West Plains Medical Center

MOZELL DURRETT Nurses Aide, has lived in Muleshoe for the last 24 years. For 23½ of those years she has worked at West Plains Medical Center. Years ago, in the early sixties, before enforcement of the Texas licensure laws was being conducted in the rural areas of Texas, she worked, as did many nurses, attending to patients by circulating OR cases, giving medications, and assisting in the Delivery Room by attending to the newborns. Unlike many of those early nurses, Mrs. Durrett did not go onto LVN school to obtain state licensure because she wanted to finish raising her family properly. Consequently, she felt being with her son, her youngest, was more important than going back to school. She had to be right because now he is a Registered Pharmacist. The devotion of a mother does alot for the confidence of her child. Currently she works in Sterile Supply making certain that all surgical instruments used in the OR, ER, and various other department and doctors' offices are ready for use. She is probably the only person in Muleshoe who knows by sight each and every piece of surgical instrument owned by West Plains Medical Center. Many times she has gone on an investigative search to find "mis-placed" instruments only to find those instruments lying on a shelf in the wrong department. She is our very own Sherlock Holmes! We are fortunate to be able to work with someone like Mrs. Durrett because she has so much to teach us, things she has learned from experience. She is special. She is an ANGEL OF MERCY. T. ABOUT YOUR HOME

By April Rhodes

Change your heating filters regularly. Dirty filters can rob your home of heat as well as increase your heating costs.

Thanksgiving through New Year's Day is busiest for those who love parties and entertaining. Keep it simple this year and don't overdo it.

Are your Christmas tree ornaments getting a little old looking? Add a bit of lace, rickrack, beads and glitter for a new and interesting effect.

Your birdfeeder needs to be kept filled this time of year—especially when the ground is covered with snow. Some birds need suet also.

Mail your Christmas packages early this year. To insure tightly tied packages wet the cord before tying up packages. It will tighten as it dries.

Now that daylight hours are shorter you can reduce fertilizer applications to house plants.

GOLDEN GLEAMS

NEW

Creative Living

with Sheryl Borden

Tradition is defined as "... the handing down of stories, beliefs, and customs from generation to generation." In light of that definition, we can see that what is considered traditional by some might be very different from what is considered traditional by others. The traditions of Christmas make the season special, regardless of where or how they began. As generations come and go, people will add to, delete from, change and create new customs that will in time become traditions.

We started a tradition several years ago: an hour-long live special based on "The Creative Woman" show. This year the special will be called "Creative Living Christmas Special" and it will air during our December pledge drive. The special will be on Saturday, December 7 from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. on KENW-TV.

Topics include creative gift wrapping ideas, holiday candies made in the microwave, holiday fashions for children, Christmas decorations and craft ideas and kitchen gadgets and gift ideas for the cook.

Barbara Miller, store manager for Quality Thrift Fabrics in Clovis, will present three quick easy-to-make decorations: a Christmas wreath, a ruffled doily centerpiece and a basket for holiday confections. Each would be good either for a gift or to keep for use during the holiday season.

She will utilize Gosling Tapes (polyester tapes from Europe), often used to make decorative curtain and drapery headings. The tapes are suitable for use with all fabrics and can be machine washed and dried or dry cleaned.

Joy Best, Roosevelt County Extension Home Economist in Portales, will present an exciting array of kitchen gadgets and gift ideas for the cook. Many of the ideas will be available from "On for the Cook" Kitchen Shoppe in Portales or from other specialty kitchen stores. These are all useful items as well as clever gift ideas and they range in price from .69 to $40.00-- so there's something for everyone.

Connie Moyers, Marketing Home Economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Clovis, will demonstrate an assortment of delicious holiday candies made in the microwave. Attractive packaging for candies will also be shown.

Millie Hillesheim, owner of Playmates in Clovis and Portales, will show some of the exciting holiday fashions for children. Models will be children from the viewing area.

Janette Pierce, County Extension Agent-Home Economist for Parmer County, Farwell, Texas, will present some interesting and very creative gift wrapping ideas. A gift is only a gift until it's wrapped--then it becomes special.

During the hour-long Christmas special, Sheryl Borden, Producer/Host of "Creative Living" will be joined by some of the guests who have taped the holiday segments for the show.

A special premium will be offered to viewers who call in their pledge during the show. Those making a pledge of $30.00 or more will receive, besides the monthly Q2-3 Magazine, a copy of the new "Creative Living - Volume II" booklet, containing 60 pages of recipes, instructions, craft ideas, helpful hints, time saving ideas and much more. The new booklet, offered for the first time during the Christmas special, is the fourth printed by Creative Living. Previous editions have been sold across the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico.

On December 3 the show will feature information on personal fashion career with designer, Jhane Barnes, making homemade butter: plain and fancy and herb and spice seasoners.

Jhane Barnes is on the county's leading designers of menswear--and for the first time this season, womenswear--and she has a unique way of combining fibers, fabrics and design to come up with her fashions. She will explain where and how she gets the ideas and inspirations for her designs and will show some fashions for both men and women.

Another guest, Jan Newquist, will demonstrate making homemade butter: plain and fancy. She has some tasty variations to share and the recipes will be available. Jan is a home economist and registered dietitian with the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in Albuquerque.

Eileen Runyan of the American Spice Trade Assn. will demonstrate her secret herb blends for bread crumbs and brushing sauce. Whatever the food goals-- cutting calories, cutting salt or cholesterol or simply stretching the food budget, spices and herbs are great allies.

On December 5 the topics will include microwave/household tips, cholesterol and nutrition and meat cuts under 200 calories per serving.

Helen Pruet is a home economist with the Milnot Co. form St. Louis, MO and she will talk about cholesterol--is it good or bad? She'll discuss what foods should be avoided in the diet and also tell about the foods to include. She also stresses the importance of exercise.

Another guest will be Dulcie Simonds, Public Relations Supervisor for Rubbermaid, Inc. from Wooster, Ohio. Surveys confirm that most people only use their microwave ovens for reheating and defrosting food. Dulcie will share some ideas for using the microwave oven and perhaps it will give viewers some new ways to make use of the microwave oven.

Elizabeth Wunderlick is with the Southwest Meat Packers Assn. in Dallas, Texas and she will tell about several different cuts of meat that are all under 200 calories per serving. She will tell where the cuts are located on the animal, and tell some suggestions for cooking and serving the different cuts.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on KENW-TV, Channel 3 in Portales on Tuesday and Thursday at 12 noon and on Saturday at 2:00 p.m. (All Times are Mountain Standard).

Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. In New Mexico, the number is 1-800-432-2361, out-of-state: 1-800-545-2359, and Portales and Roosevelt County: 562-2112.

Lubbock Art Association Honors

Pat Krahn

The Lubbock Council of Garden Clubs and the Lubbock Art Association have planned an exhibition of "Painting of Quilts and Quilts" created by Pat Krahn, PSA, a past president of the Lubbock Art Association, through Dec. 23 at the Municipal Garden and Arts Center, 4215 University Ave., during regular center hours.

Linda Christensen said "Ms. Krahn, P.S.A., an award winning artist and quiltmaker exhibits her love of pastel and her skill as an avid quiltmaker in an exhibition of her paintings of quilts and antiques along with her hand pieced quilts.

"Pat is recognized for her versatility as an artist and her sensitive approach to detail in her representational works. This approach carries into her work as a quiltmaker.

"She is an elected member of the Pastel Society of America, New York, as well as being a consistent award winner in local, state, and national shows. Her work is included in public and private collections throughout the country. Because of the demand of collectors for her paintings of quilts, she has prints and notecards of her latest paintings."

Ms. Krahn said "It is my desire to share the beauty of light and shadow on treasured old pieces as well as the feeling of nostalgia created by the quilts that I make. I feel the viewers of this show will remember people and events meaningful in their lives as captured in paintings and quilts."

WMU Weekly Meeting

Festive Foods Program Presented To Sudan FHA

Christy Coppage of SPS presented a program on "Festive Foods" to the Sudan FHA organization on Monday, Nov. 18. She prepared a meal for the holidays. The meal consisted of chicken and wild rice and spinach dip.

Gina McKillip said "most of the non spinach lovers enjoyed it just as well as the others. The dip was put into a Hawaiian bread mold that was made like a round dish. This was a new and interesting way to fix spinach and everybody liked it."

"The drink which was gone in no time was winter red punch. It consisted of cranberry juice and lemonade. The taste was tangy and refreshing compared to regular sweetened punches. There were many desserts and everybody had a little of everything."

Members present were Leanna Copley, Lorrie Gonzales, Donice Holley, Dalia Limon, Christina Martinez, Gina McKillip, Sylvia Ortega, Nicole Newsom, Brenda Testerman, Jannette Testerman, Karin Whitten, Tercsa Williams and Linda Wiseman.
