CHANGE OF HEAD NURSE AT ADAIR HOSPITAL

Miss Ellen J. Swenson who has been the head nurse at the Adair Hospital of this city for the past five years resigned her position a short time ago and left Wednesday night for her home in Olivia, Texas, accompanied by her assistant, Miss Ella A. Swenson, who also makes her home at Olivia. Miss Swenson and her assistant will be succeeded here by Mrs. Tony as head nurse and Miss Smithers as assistant, both of Amarillo.

The retiring ladies have been very successful in their work here and under their care, the patients have had the very best attention, as is attested by the very large per cent of recoveries at the Adair Hospital. Their successors come here with well established reputations and we are certain that the service at the Hospital will be in no wise diminished.

HARVEY SELLS TAILOR SHOP

R. W. Harvey sold his tailor shop the first of the week to Mr. J. F. O'Rourke of Byers, Texas. Harvey's Tailor Shop has been for some time one of the leading businesses of its kind in our city and with the ripe experience Mr. O'Rourke brings with him there is no doubt but what the business will continue to hold its rank. Mr. O'Rourke has moved his family here and comes recommended as a splendid citizen. That he is a hustler is attested by the fact that he believes in a liberal use of printer's ink in advertising his business, a trait that will make any man a success and put any town on the map, when its merchants become regular users of this great business tonic.

We welcome these new people to our town and bespeak for them the success which they will no doubt attain.

W. H. Morrison, of Cleora, returned last week from the great American Royal Sale at Kansas City, and the Southard's Monarch Hereford sale at Comisky, Kans., where he purchased 10 head of the finest registered Herefords ever owned in this part of the state.

Mr. Morrison paid $2000 for Brummel Monarch, a 11 month old bull. This bull has the highest breeding of any bull in the state of Kansas and there is no better strain of blood in the United States. Mr. Morrison also purchased nine head of registered heifers all bred to the best registered bulls. This is only the beginning of what is to be the highest class herd of registered Herefords, in this part of the state. Mr. Morrison already owns a herd of 232 high grade Herefords, and is one of the most up-to-date and progressive cattle men in the eastern part of the state. He owns over 1000 acres of land, which is generously watered by the finest springs, which furnish abundance of good pure water the year through for his cattle. —Oklahoma News.

The Mr. Morrison referred to in the above article is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Morrison of Clarendon, who recently moved here from Dalhart. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison are types of the old South and we are proud to have them among us.

BAYLESS WEATHERLY DEAD

Our little city was saddened last Sunday when news was received of the death of Bayless Weatherly, which occurred at his home at Dallas, Texas.

His illness was only of short duration, taking ill on Friday and passed to the great beyond on Sunday, October the twenty-eighth. He was hastened to the Baptist Sanitarium for an operation, but the skill of surgeons and physicians proved to no avail.

Bayless Weatherly was reared in Clarendon and was very popular with our people. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Weatherly still reside here. Up to the time of his illness he was employed as sub-boss at one of the aviation camps under construction at Dallas, and was rapidly gaining promotions of note.

The funeral services were held at the Tyler st. Methodist church, October 30, at Dallas, conducted by Rev. C. O. Shugart and assisted by Rev. W. A. Hewitt. He is survived by a wife and little daughter, Francis Mae, also his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Weatherly and three brothers and one sister.

The News extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved ones in this, their great sorrow.

FIRE DESTROYS THIRTY BALES.

Fire early Friday morning destroyed about thirty bales of cotton at the Farmers Union cotton yard. Watchman Trapp of the compress just south of the yard first discovered the flames and turned in the alarm at 4:30 a. m. The fire department made a quick run and soon had stream on the flames, which were soon under control. The bales involved were some that were ginned Thursday and were on the edge of the yard, thus accounting for the relatively small loss. It is believed that the cotton caught while being ginned. The department was called back to the yard at 8:30 the cotton having flared up but no additional damage was done. The majority of the cotton burned belonged to J. A. Whaley. All of the cotton was insured with the exception of two bales belonging to E. Weiver and D. S. Penden. Taking into consideration that the Farmers Union yard does not have a night watchman, it was a fortunate fire, in that not a great many more bales were destroyed.—Hall County Herald.

DONLEY COUNTY BOY WINS PROMOTION.

Camp Bowie, Nov. 5, 1917
Editor Clarendon News,
Dear Sir:

I have not received the Clarendon News the last two issues. I am sending you my address again to be sure you have it correct, however I am not blaming you for this, as there are so much mail to handle here in camp a person is lucky if he gets all his mail. Everything in camp is progressing nicely and all the boys seem to be in real earnest about what we are in for.

There is quite a number of drafted men in camp, most of them came in last week from Camp Travis.

There are so many aeroplanes soaring over the camp during the day, that we boys have stretched our necks and strained our eyes until they look like an ordinary attraction.

I have been promoted to a Sergeant since transferred to this branch, and continue to like the work. At daytime we signal as many different ways as possible to distinguish at daylight and night we practice with sky-rockets and other different lights. Trusting the Panhandle is still progressing.

Yours truly,
Sergeant Jas. W. Adams
Co. C, 111th Field Signal Battalion.

LOCAL RED CROSS NEWS

The chairman of the knitting committee reports a number of finished articles ready for shipment. All Red Cross knitters are requested to turn in all knitted articles as soon as finished so they can be shipped to Division Headquarters as soon as possible.

If any knitter, who is unable to bring these articles to the work-room will telephone Miss Helen Bugbee and she will call for them. All knitted articles are now being used in the cantonments and camps in this country and none are being shipped abroad.

The Red Cross booth, Saturday, October 27th, received donations and membership fees to the amount of $33.00 and on Saturday, November 3rd $24.00.

The Martin School House ladies have joined the Red Cross and came in on Tuesday to get work to do at home.

The Jericho ladies also came in on Tuesday last and asked for two dozen garments to take home and make as their share of the work.

The ladies of the Red Cross are very thankful to Mr. Guest for carpenter work done for the Red Cross and to Mr. Oller for his much appreciated work at the Court House.

The Chamberlain Neighborhood is doing its part of the R. C. work. They will send in this week 18 finished garments.

Arrangements are being made for an authorized instructor in the making of surgical dressings to give a course of instructions to this chapter. If the necessary arrangements can be made the course will begin on the morning of November 14, and continue for four days with two lessons per day.

Twelve dozen Hospital garments are now ready for shipment and it is hoped they can be sent to Division Headquarters this week.

Representatives from the Hedley branch and the GGeils Auxiliary and all the rural communities are also urged to take this course of instruction.

GIRLS NATIONAL HONOR GUARD

The Honor Guard girls met Wednesday afternoon at the Red Cross rooms with a good attendance, where the time was devoted to knitting. When the articles are finished they will be delivered to the boys through the Red Cross and the National League of Women's Service.

The distinction of Assistant State Manager of the Girl's National Honor Guard has recently been bestowed upon Captain Lila McClelland, and it is indeed an honor that Clarendon holds this responsible position.

We wish to thank Mr. C. E. Reed of Philadelphia for his generous gift of five dollars which was received this week. The money has been placed for the purchase of knitting yarn. There will be a sale of articles suitable for gifts for the soldier boys in the near future, but further announcements will be made soon in the News.

Meetings will be held regularly on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the Red Cross rooms, and it is desired each member shall feel an individual responsibility and attend these meetings. There is a work for everyone of us to perform.

If tin tags like these can be made for one-half of a cent each at a good profit, why was a bill proposed in the legislature to force the farmers to mark the 3,800,000 bales of Texas cotton with these tags at ten cents each? WHY?

"For the good of the farmer"—so said the legislator who introduced the bill. Do you believe it?

These tags at 1/2c each would have cost $19,000. At 10c each they would have cost $380,000. That would have made a minimum profit for somebody of $361,000! SOME profit!

Who do you believe would have benefited from this bill—the farmer or the man who made the tags?

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Three

How War Methods Have Changed
Everybody Must Help.

"Hello, Uncle Dan, Jimmie and I have been waiting for you."

"Sorry if I have kept you long," said Uncle Dan. "Your mother has been telling me how bashful I used to be. She said if a girl spoke to me I would blush to my hair roots. Well, I reminded her of the time your father first came to see her and the joke we played on them, so I guess that will hold her for a while."

Continuing, Uncle Dan said: "You want to talk more about the war, do you? Well, war methods have undergone many changes and they are still changing. No two wars are fought alike. In early times, the weapons were stones, clubs, spears, bows and arrows, swords, etc. In this kind of warfare, victory was with the strong right arm. Men of enormous size and strength were the great warriors. The invention of gunpowder, however, has changed all this. It has enabled men to kill one another at a considerable distance, and do it wholesale. The war, as we know it now, is a combination of chemicals, machinery, mathematical calculations and highly trained men. Just think of it! Airplanes, submarines, armored tanks, or caterpillars, poison gases, and curtains of fire are all used for the first time in this war; and they are destructive beyond anything heretofore known."

"The methods followed by the Kaiser and his allies are simply devilish. He must answer in history to the killing of thousands of innocent women and children. He has broken every international law and every rule of warfare; he has bombarded hospitals and undefended cities, sunk Red Cross ships on errands of mercy; he has destroyed cathedrals and priceless treasures of art that can never be replaced; he has made slaves of his prisoners; he has tried to get us into war with Japan; his emissaries have blown up our ships, burned our factories and fired our forests. He knows no mercy or honor. The most charitable view to take of this blood-thirsty tyrant is that he is crazy."

"One thing is certain," continued Uncle Dan, with great emphasis, "Our liberty, the safety of our homes and our country, and the security of the world demand the speedy and absolute overthrow of the Kaiser and crushing out once and forever the reign of Prussian brutality."

"How about the German people," said Billie.

Uncle Dan replied: "The splendid German people were happy, thrifty, prosperous and contented. They have been tricked into war and made to suffer the tortures of the damned; they have been cruelly and systematically deceived. God grant that the real facts may get to them, and if they do, Lord help the Kaiser!"

"Of course the allies will win," said Mrs. Graham.

"Probably so," said Uncle Dan. "But if we are to win, we must go the limit. We must check the awful destruction to shipping by the German submarines, or we may not be able to get food and supplies to our own men and to our allies; we must also put hundreds of thousands, and perhaps millions, of first-class soldiers in the battle line."

"Food is the first consideration," Uncle Dan continued. "No army can hold out against hunger. It has been said that food will win the war, and this is largely true. Hence the importance of the farm in the war plans of our country."

Mrs. Graham interrupted by saying: "In view of the importance of farming, don't you think, Daniel, that the farmers ought to be exempted from war service?"

"No, a thousand times no," said Uncle Dan, striking the table so hard to emphasize his protest that he tipped over a vase of flowers. "We must have no class legislation. The duty to serve is the common duty of all, and no class must be relieved of this obligation. The question of exemption must be a personal one and decided by the facts surrounding each case. In no other way can we have a square deal, and to insure this, it is the duty of congress to pass immediately the Chamberlain bill, or some such measure, which is fair to all classes. It would settle all these questions and do it fairly. Safety now and safety hereafter demands such legislation, and let me suggest that you and your friends get busy with your congressmen and senators and urge them to prompt action."

"It is time for us to realize that we are not living in a fool's paradise; that this great country of ours cost oceans of blood and treasure and it is only due to the loyalty, sacrifice and service of our forefathers that we have a country, and it is our highest duty to preserve it unimpaired and pass it on to posterity, no matter what the cost may be. Our citizenship and their ancestors came from all parts of the world to make this country a home and enjoy its blessings and opportunities; hence, in the crisis before us, it is the duty of everyone to stand squarely back of our country and be prepared to defend the flag. Everyone in this crisis is either pro-American or pro-German. Great as the country is, there is not room enough for two flags."

VALUE OF TERRACING

One of the grave problems that confronts the Texas farmer today, is soil erosion. In our section this movement of the soil is due to two causes, wind and water. In many sections that a few years past were fertile are now either washed or blown until the soil is no longer productive.

In the early day when Virgin land was cheap, and plentiful, fields were either sold or abandoned. At this time our dense population and high priced land makes it very imperative that we practice some method of conservation of the soil, and soil fertility.

There are three direct benefits to be derived from terracing: First, it prevents the land from washing, second, it makes the water from the land very slowly, consequently most of the water is absorbed and retained by the land, third, the slow movement of the water causes all vegetable matter to be retained in the land. All land that has a slope of six inches or more in one hundred feet should be terraced, or have contour lines run for the rows to follow.

It is the duty of every farmer, and most especially at this time to do every thing in his power to conserve the land, soil fertility, and soil water.

If you are interested in getting your land terraced see your County Demonstration Agent, or write the Agricultural agent of the F. W. & D. C. Ry. at Wichita Falls. The work of running the terrace lines is free.

HOW TO CLEAN GARMENTS FOR REMODELING

Worked out by Miss Cornelia L. Simpson, head of the Laundering and Dry Cleaning Division, Department of Textiles and Clothing, College of Industrial Arts. It was prepared to encourage the conservation of clothing during the war.

Patriotism can be expressed in no better way by the women of Texas than by the careful conservation of clothing. Textiles are high priced and hard to secure, and will be more so as the war progresses; our soldiers and our allies must be clothed and supplied first, since they are doing the "first line" work. It is therefore up to the women of the nation to do their bit by utilizing to the best possible advantage all such clothing materials as they have on hand. The following suggestions for preparing garments for remodeling are given in the hope that they will prove helpful.

Garments showing possibilities of reconstruction should be ripped, brushed and cleansed, then pressed ready for the remodeling process. In the cleansing it should be remembered that silk and wool are very sensitive to heat and strong alkalis, and in renovating these materials the use of hot water must be avoided, as it turns both wool and silk yellow, shrinks wool, weakens silk and injures the finish. Woolens should not be rubbed in the cleansing, as this felts together the wool fibers and results in a shrinkage or thickening of the material. Silk fabrics cannot be rubbed as a rule, either, without separating or breaking the fibres. Both silk and wool should be washed and rinsed in tepid water, all waters to be of the same temperature. Strong soaps should be avoided, a neutral soap only being used, neutral soap being one that does not contain alkali. The following solution has proved satisfactory for woolen materials:

- 1 large bar Ivory soap
- 3 quarts cold water
- 2 tablespoons borax
- 1-2 cup wood alcohol.

Shave the soap into the cold water and heat at a low temperature until dissolved. When cold, add borax and alcohol. Use one quart of this solution in the first tub of tepid water, one pint in the second, and then rinse in clear water, having all waters of the same temperature.

For colored woolens, where there is danger of fading or blending of color, a soap substitute should be used in the form of soap bark. This can be purchased at the drug store and should be used as follows:

- 1 cup soap bark
  - 1 quart water
- Cook together twenty minutes, strain and use in water like a soap solution.

Silk and wool scorch easily. Silk stiffens from the action of intense heat and breaks. These fabrics therefore should be pressed on the wrong side with a cloth between the garment and the iron.

Borax and dilute solutions of ammonia are the only alkalis which should be used on wool or silk to remove stains, or in laundering. Dilute acids, with the exception of nitric acid, may be used to remove stains from either of these fabrics.

Cotton and linens are stronger and give greater resistance to chemicals, friction and heat. Strong acids and alkalis will in time destroy either fibre, but dilute acids can be used to remove stains, if the chemicals are rendered neutral or inactive by adding borax and water or ammonia and water after the stain has disappeared, or by washing in soap and water thoroughly.

A medicine dropper is an excellent method of applying chemicals used to remove stains or spots, and many brief applications of acid with rinsing in water between each is better than one long continued application. The stained portion of material should be stretched over a bowl, cold water applied first to soften the fibres and help dissolve the stain, and the acid then applied.

Some of the most common stains and their method of removal are given as follows:

Ink—(a) Use lemon juice and salt, laying in the sun. (b) Use oxalic acid or hydrochloric acid, diluted, rinsing spot in borax and water to the strength of one teaspoon of borax to one quart of water. (c) For colored materials use ammonium sulphide first, then by hydrochloric acid, alternating them until spot is removed. Then rinse in borax and water to neutralize the acids.

Iron Rust—(a) Hydrochloric acid or oxalic acid drop by drop until the stain is brightened. Then dip in a bowl of hot borax and water—one teaspoonful of borax to one quart of water. If necessary repeat until the stain disappears. (b) Use lemon juice and salt. Lay in sun.

Iodine Stain—(a) Wash white fresh in warm water and soap. (b) Wash stain with alcohol. (c) Apply moistened starch, brushing off and repeating process until stain disappears.

Medicine Stains—(a) Soak in alcohol.

Shoe Polish or Black Paste—Use lard or grease well rubbed in. Then wash in warm water and soap.

Brease Paint—Use hydrochloric

THE DENVER STOCK SHOW.

Big January Event Will Have Cooperation of the Government.

Preparations for the annual National Western Stock Show at Denver are being pushed vigorously and there are indications that it will be the most important event held in the West this winter. That it will have an important bearing upon the war food situation is evidenced by the interest being taken by the government. The United States Experiment Station and the agricultural college at Fort Collins are planning a big educational exhibit, and there will be a large attendance of government experts to take up various livestock problems directly with the farmers and stockmen.

The date of the show is the week of January 19th to 26th, inclusive. The show will start on Saturday with a students' judging contest in which the principal agricultural colleges of the West will take part.

The railroads are planning the usual low rates from all parts of the West and a very large attendance is expected. Plans are being made for a big livestock conference during Stock Show week, at which representative stockmen from all parts of the West will meet and confer with Mr. Hoover.

IN MEMORIAM.

Written in memory of Mrs. Lillie Walls of Brice, Texas, who passed away October 29.

A golden chain is broken, a beautiful life has gone home to God. But we know she was born for a higher destiny than this earth.

Tho we shall miss her here, she has entered that home where no link in the Golden Chain will ever be missing.

Her place can never be filled. To know her, was to love her. But alas we know her no more. She stole away without warning. There were no goodbyes. [We miss her from our midst, yet we would not call her back to this cruel old world to again suffer death.

We may go to the place where she lays and silently stand by her tomb. But we know that in snowy white garments arrayed. Her soul is with Jesus at home.

One by one our friends are leaving. We are sad to see them go, but we know we soon shall follow. Change must come to all below.

Yes, she has gone to join the Angels leaving here a vacant chair.

But among the treasures left us is the memory of her there. Jesus claimed her as his jewel, now we will not hear her song any more until we meet to sing with Lillie on that Fair Celestial Shore.

How we miss her, sadly miss her, since her spirit soared away. But this thought will gladden our hearts that we shall meet again someday.

Jack Bills
Hedley, Texas.

New Mexico has voted for state-wide prohibition. Where are those who used to slur at the wild and woolly west, where whiskey and rattlesnakes abounded? Bar tenders will soon be jerking soda all over the nation.

David Harum said he once "cooked" a swell, high headed dame by grinning every time he met her. She soon lost her snobbishness and plainly worried as to what should cause him to smile when he met her. That kind makes people grin whether they mean to or not.

Hilburn and Hilburn have leased the Wheeler County Texan at Shamrock to Mr. J. W. Hardy, whose first issue gives evidence of his ability as a publisher. The senior Hilburn is an impersonator on the Dixie circuit, while the junior has been drafted for military service. Success to all three.

The Indiana Supreme Court last week upheld the ruling of the lower courts which held woman's suffrage unconstitutional in that state. Bully for Indiana! Another evidence that there are many states yet in which common sense and not sentiment is the ruling power. The poor deluded women who are tearing their hair for something less than they already possess must be saved from themselves.

It seemed almost like a meeting of the Texas Press Association last Sunday at Memphis when James Dow of the Lubbock Avalanche, Senator Johnson of the Hall County Herald, J. M. Warren former editor of The Clarendon News, and its present editor met for a few minutes chat. We appreciate our brethren of the press, and we are glad to learn that Senator Johnson is preparing to enter the lieutenant-governor's race next year. He is a strong, clean man and will have the support of the press generally.

The editor of the News is in receipt of a letter from the Deputy Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas thanking him for what he terms "his able assistance in giving publicity to the Second Liberty Loan campaign" just closed. The letter further says that special mention will be made of The News' services in the official report to Washington. Thank you, Gov. Hoopes. Being mentioned for services in the next best for a civilian since he is barred from wearing the khaki by physical defect. Your letter will be proudly preserved.

In the death of "Private John Allen" of Tupelo, Miss., the old south lost one of its typical characters. Allen came out of the war a private, having served his country with bravery and fidelity. Soon afterward he entered politics and being a humorist he joked his opponents who were "Captains," "Majors," "Colonels," etc., and called himself "Private John Allen." His quaint democracy took with the people and he ascended the ladder of public service until he finally was elected to congress where he served for a number of years. He was a lecturer of note and the entire south mourns his loss.

The Austin American has proclaimed itself for local option and while the campaign rages in the county the prohibition forces will find an able ally in the American. Men of large affairs, who have heretofore bowed down at the shrine of what they thought was "business interests" have decided that the big business in which this nation is now engaged is of the greater importance, the scales have fallen from their eyes revealing to them the awful drain the liquor business is upon the man power of the nation to say nothing of blighting success and taking the rose of hope from the cheeks of women and children.

Jeanette Rankin has made such a failure as congresswoman that even ardent suffragists are admitting that she is a failure. She has let her sympathies get tangled with the I. W. W. in her state, which has thrown her somewhat opposed to sound American principals. One has remarked that she lost her supporters and that no woman can make a race without her supporters. Well, well, well.

American society is due to receive great levelling and purifying before the close of this great war. Snobbishness of every kind is to be ostracised. Rank cannot be held except with sterling worth and what you claim to be must be proven by your deeds. The really great of tomorrow will be those who have sacrificed and suffered that this nation may be victorious and that humanity be succored.

Ad. Like A Fog Bell.

Printing Art says of persistency in advertising:

One stroke of a bell in a thick fog does not give any lasting impression of its location, but when followed by repeated strokes at regular intervals the densest fog or the darkest night cannot long conceal its whereabouts. Likewise a single insertion of an advertisement—compared with regular and systematic advertising—is in its effect not unlike a sound which, heard but faintly once, is lost in space and soon forgot.

WHERE ARE THE POOR?

People should not find consolation in the expression: "We are poor farmers." Farmers are seldom what would be called rich men, but there are perhaps fewer "poor" among them than any other occupation.

(While the amount of cash on hand or on deposit among farmers might not compare very favorably with the cash available among people of other occupations, most farmers have land, livestock, farm equipment, crops, food and other things that it takes money to obtain. They can live and prosper in war or no war, high taxes, politicians to the contrary notwithstanding.)

Poverty is less among farmers than any class that we know of, but prosperity, contentment and exalted citizenship are everywhere notable and commendable. And the wealth of farmers as a general rule benefits society, for it is invested mostly as productive capital to bring larger crops, better homes and better people.

Surely few farmers could be called "poor." But they keep up the poor as well as the state and national governments and are proud of it. Most of the poor farmers have changed their occupation for they are not found on farms.—Farm & Ranch.

A. Williams, Clara Austin, Mariam Austin, Thirsa Austin Henderson and husband, Fred Henderson, in cause No. 991 pending in said court wherein the said petitioners are plaintiffs, and the unknown heirs are defendants, then and there to make answer, if any they have to plaintiffs' demands; for cause of action petitioners say as follows:

C-8 in said county and state, and all of the north half of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section No. 2 Blk. C. 3, C. D. Ferris, in said county: that Frank Austin, Caroline Wheeler, Thirsa Gardiner and Angeline Douglas during their lifetime, for a valuable consideration, conveyed to the said Ralph and Frank, their interest in said lands: that said Ralph and Frank and plaintiffs claiming under them have controlled and used said premises exclusively for more than twenty-five years: that all the immediate heirs of Albert Austin are dead save Caroline Wheeler. ### ODETTE LE FONTENAY.

To create a role in the premiere of a great opera, to receive the unstinted praise of Massenet, Charpentier and Jean de Reszke, to be a favorite at the Paris Opera Comique as well as at Covent Garden, and then, within a year of arriving in America, to reach the pinnacle of the Metropolitan Opera Company,—such a combination of achievements is remarkable one for a young singer. Yet this is only a part of the short career of Odette Le Fontenay, who will be heard in this city at the Methodist Church Thursday, November 22nd.

It was Oscar Hammerstein who brought Mlle. Le Fontenay to America. Having heard her at the Opera Comique he at once engaged her for three years. (Mlle. Le Fontenay was already in New York when Hammerstein's project was abandoned.) She turned her attention immediately to concert singing and with such success that before the season closed she had been placed under contract by the Metropolitan Opera Company, of which she has become a valued member.

Mlle. Le Fontenay has created a splendid impression at the Metropolitan Opera House. On her appearance in Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" she was called by the New York Morning Telegraph "a new, brilliant and splendid recruit of this season." After a performance of "Haensel and Gretel" the New York Tribune referred to her "fresh and youthful voice of considerable power and richness." On the same occasion the New York World commented upon her "personality."

Aside from the impressive beauty of her voice, the indefinable atmosphere of French art makes the singing of Odette Le Fontenay consistently delightful. She is not merely a vocalist, but an interpreter in the highest sense of the term. The unqualified distinction of her performance both in opera and in concert has already assured the brilliance of her American career. Invitation to the recital November 22nd is by card only which will be sent to those most prominent in musical circles here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wise and baby of Inay, New Mexico, stopped for a short stay with his sister, Mrs. John Watters, and also his mother, who makes her home with Mrs. Watters. They visited the Dallas Fair while there Mr. Wise purchased a tractor engine as he owns a large ranch and farm.

N. C. Duggins of Brady has been visiting his two sons, Jesse and Ray of Co. H, 142 Texas Infantry, stationed at Camp Bowie. Both of the boys have been on the hospital list, having undergone operations for appendicitis. N. C. Duggins and family formerly lived here. The boys are both getting along fine.

J. M. Warren and family motored to Memphis Sunday morning to hear Bishop McCoy preach and visited with Editor Ed C. Boliver and family on their return in the afternoon.

See our line of diamonds. We can save you money. Liberty Bonds taken at par. Goldston the jeweler.

A few choice places cheap. Worth your consideration. See me. G. C. Davis.

This advertisement is addressed to men who farm

When you buy machinery for the farm, you figure just how much it is going to do for you in dollars and cents. It's a cold business proposition and it ought to be.

When you buy clothes for yourself, you ought to make it just as much a business transaction. "How much can I get out of these clothes?" should be your question.

On such a basis you'll buy Hart Schaffner & Marx or Style Plus clothes every time, because they will give you the most for your money--- more wear, better style, better fabrics, better fit, and better workmanship.

The first cost of these clothes is a little more than some others, but the final cost is considerably lower than any others.

The fall goods are here; suits, overcoats, good shirts' hats and hosiery; ready whenever you are.

PLUMBING

Has advanced out of proportion to other necessities owing to the great war demands made on brass, copper, lead and iron. Anticipating prices would advance so we bought heavy sometime ago, and are still able to quote you reasonable prices. Do not put off having that job done expecting cheaper prices next year or the next. Europe will have to be reconstructed after the war. The United States will be the chief factor in doing so. Your auto proved to be a necessity, instead of a luxury, yet it's a cost to maintain. Your plumbing will prove a necessity and costs you practically nothing to maintain. A last word—take notice of the number of steps your wife makes each day carrying fresh water and also the waste-water. The total will surprise you.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Ben S. Merrill of Wichita Falls, traveling representative of the John V. Farwell Company of Chicago, has received a letter from an American soldier in France in response to one sent by Mr. Merrill about two months ago as the part of a movement started by a Chicago paper to have at least one correspondent in this country for every soldier in France. The newspaper furnished the soldier's name to Mr. Merrill who will keep up the correspondence, send reading matter and otherwise contribute to the comfort of his soldier friend, whom he has never seen. The letter follows:

"With the American Expeditionary Force, Somewhere in France.—Mr. Ben S. Merrill, Wichita Falls, Texas. My dear friend and backer: I was both surprised and pleased to receive your letter and believe me, it was appreciated all the more as coming from the whom I know would be here with us in France if the opportunity offered. It does us boys good, however, to know that we are not forgotten by those true blue-Americans we have left behind in God's country. I doubt if you know what a letter means to us boys so far from friends and relatives. Our mail is irregular and when it arrives for distribution, and you discover that you are not among those favored with a letter from home the disappointment is great. Address any mail you wish to send me to Private Daniel E. McMunigle, Company C, 17th Regiment, U. S. Engineers Railway, American Expeditionary Force in France, via New York.

"I am sorry that I cannot at present tell you anything about our location, or, in fact, write of any military matters, owing to censorship regulations. But this may be changed later and I can send a more interesting letter. I am a great reader and anything you can send in the line of newspapers or magazines will be welcomed.

"Hoping to hear from you again, I beg to remain,

Yours,
D. E. McM."

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN
Number Four

Military Training Necessary for Safety and Defense.

"Say, Uncle Dan," said Billie, "Jimmie and I have been looking up about war in the encyclopedia at school. We found that in the war between Germany and France in 1870-71, Germany lost in killed and wounded 28,000 soldiers while France lost about six times as many, and besides that, she lost every battle. We asked Professor Slocum why this was. He said that the German army was highly trained and ably commanded, while the French soldiers were poorly trained; and that their war department was honey-combed with jealousy and politics; that the officers were not much good, and that's why France lost the war and so many men. What do you think about it, Uncle Dan?"

"Well," said Uncle Dan, "Professor Slocum is right. By inefficiency France lost that war, together with two of her best provinces—Alsace and Lorraine—and had to pay a billion dollars indemnity money. France today learned her lesson by that sad experience, so she put in universal military training, and as a result, her soldiers now know how to fight and how to protect themselves. They are losing less men in the war than the Germans. France also put politics out of her war department, so that expert authority, instead of bureaucratic stupidity, now directs the army. The result is, France has one of the best and most efficient armies ever assembled, and this shows what thorough training and good leadership means in warfare. This saved France in this crisis, as well as the liberties of the world."

"As war is now conducted, there is no place for an untrained man. A body of 10,000 well trained soldiers properly handled could defeat five times their number of raw recruits and do it every time with comparatively small loss to themselves. Proper training alone will reduce the death and casualty rate one-third of what it otherwise would be, and right here is an unanswerable argument for universal military training."

"Our government has no moral right to force her men into war service without properly training them for it. To do so is simply murder, hence the frantic effort that is now being made to give her soldiers some training before they are sent to the front. If we are to win this war, it will take trained men to do it, and it will take trained men to win any other war that may come upon us in the future. If we must fight, let us fight, to win and not to lose."

"That's the stuff," said Billie.

Continuing, Uncle Dan said: "Our government has expended about $300,000,000 to put up cantonments and training stations in order to train the men called by the selective draft. When these men are trained the training stations should be immediately filled with younger men, say those in their nineteenth year, to receive six months of intensive military training along the lines of the Chamberlain bill. This will be of immeasurable benefit to them individually. It will do them more good than any other two years of their whole life; it will make them strong, manly, self-reliant, quick to see and quick to act; it will equip them for a successful life. In short, it will rebuild American manhood and will also give the government a body of trained men to draw from in case it is necessary to defend our flag and country. We must settle this question of universal military training immediately, otherwise these training camps may be demolished. The adoption of universal military training will be notice to the world that from then on we will be prepared to defend ourselves promptly and efficiently, and this will do more to keep us out of war in the future than anything else we could do."

"Do you think, brother," said Mrs. Graham, "that there will ever be another war?"

"I have no doubt about it," said Uncle Dan. "So long as men are selfish, so long as nations are ambitious to acquire territory, so long as population presses and demands more room, so long as there remains a scramble for world trade—so long wars will be. When the time comes that we reach the high plane for which we hope and dream, when all will recognize the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, then, and then only, will wars cease. When that day comes doors will need no locks, banks will need no vaults to protect their treasures, but that day is a long way off."

"The only safe and sane plan is to be able to defend ourselves at all times. Therefore, every citizen should insist that senators and congressmen shall provide for universal military training, so that never again shall the country be caught so completely unready as this war found us. Fortunately, in this case, our enemy has been held back, so we have had a few months in which to prepare. This advantage probably will never come again. It is however our salvation today."

"Because she was ready, Switzerland is an island of peace in a sea of war. Safety first is good, but safety always is better. In strength there is safety. You never saw a tin can tied to the tail of a bulldog. There is a reason."

BISHOP J. H. MCCOY MADE APPOINTMENTS LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

The Northwest Texas Methodist Conference met in annual session at Memphis Wednesday of last week with Bishop James H. McCoy presiding. #### Mrs. Wyatt Spent Three-Fourths Of Time in Bed

Declares there Wasn't a Day for 8 Long Years that She was Free of Suffering—Now Well and Happy.

"If you had known the dreadful condition I was in before I began taking Tanlac you would be surprised to see me in this store now," said Mrs. Emma Wyatt, 116 Trinidad St., Houston, Texas, in an interesting interview with the Tanlac representative in Kiesling's Drug Store, a few days ago.

"For over eight years," continued Mrs. Wyatt, "There was never a day that I was free from suffering with rheumatism, stomach trouble and indigestion, and before I took Tanlac I certainly was in an awful fix. For years I had no use of my right arm at all. I couldn't do any of my house work and was confined to my bed three-fourths of the time. For weeks at a time I was flat on my back unable to move without help, and the little time I did manage to stay out of bed my daughter had to dress and undress me.

"I suffered so terribly from indigestion and gas on my stomach at times I felt like I would die and my back ached and hurt me so bad I couldn't walk. I had such miserable headaches I could hardly sleep at all and I was all the time taking medicine for the headaches and indigestion and nothing did me any good. I took about every kind of medicine I ever heard of and used all the liniments I knew of for the rheumatism but I just kept on suffering. I got so I couldn't eat anything scarcely and I wouldn't dare to touch coffee. It was simply terrible the way I suffered. I just can't describe it, and I hardly had a minutes ease or comfort day or night. Life was truly a burden to me and I often felt that I would rather not live if I had to keep on suffering so.

"Well, some wonderful things happen in this world and my recovery since I began taking Tanlac is almost like a merical. Oh! the good it has done me, and of all the people that have been helped by it none could be happier than I am, I can use my right arm and hand now as well as I ever could and every bit of headache and backache and all my other pains are gone entirely. I eat hearty, sleep like a baby and can do all my housework without a single bit of trouble. My appetite is just fine, I have gained ten pounds in weight and feel like I had been made over into a new woman. Just to show you how well I can use my right arm and hand, I have written to all my relatives and lots of other people and told them about my wonderful recovery and advised them if they need medicine of any kind to take Tanlac. I'm telling everybody I see who are suffering if they want to get rid of their troubles, eat hearty and sleep good and feel strong and well, to take Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Clarendon by Stocking's Store, in Hedley by J. F. Tomlinson Drug Co., and in Jericho by O. C. Brown.

This should certainly settle the question in everyone's mind as to whether or not surgical dressings are being made in excess of requirements and it should stimulate and increase all Red Cross work in all chapters throughout the United States.

Chapters are urged most earnestly to increase their output of surgical dressings. In doing this they are asked not to discontinue other work, but to get more and more surgical dressings workers and increase the activities in that department.

GENERAL RED CROSS NEWS.

The American Red Cross has purchased a million pounds of condensed milk for the babies in Russia. Shipment will be made immediately. The money for this milk was appropriated on the receipt of urgent cables from the Red Cross commission to Russia. Another million pounds is to be shipped next month. It is probable that further supplies will be made to the limit of transportation facilities. The shipments hereafter will bear a label in Russian, reading "From Free America to Free Russia."

Fifteen thousand nurses have already been enrolled by the American Red Cross, many of whom have volunteered for war service. About two thousand have already been sent to Europe. It is estimated that the present registered force is sufficient to care for an army of a million and a half and approximately a thousand nurses are being added monthly.

It is of the greatest importance that able and educated young women should be urged to enter the regular training schools and take the usual course in order to fit themselves fully for nursing, for while our present needs are being met the burden of war will increase rapidly. It is very desirable that the ablest, most experienced nurses should be released for service behind the lines and a constant supply of young nurses will allow this.

The Red Cross requirements for nurses have been somewhat modified in order that, if needed, thousands of additional nurses may be made eligible for enrollment with the Red Cross and available for call should the necessity arise.

A cable was received from Major Grayson, M. P. Murphy, dated Oct. 14th to the following effect:

The Red Cross has the direct responsibility of supplying us with surgical dressings and nothing in the whole situation here is equally important. Red Cross standard dressings in millions must be sent over with all possible speed. If this is not done and done immediately a serious calamity and national disgrace is inevitable. The American women who compose the Red Cross Chapter should prepare with all enthusiasm and speed possible the dressings that are going to mean life or death to our men. This whole question deals with the most vital thing that the women of America can do for the soldiers in this war.
