DONLEY COUNTY PROGRESSIVE CLUB LAUNCHED IN MEETING LAST FRIDAY WILL BE COUNTY-WIDE IN ACTIVITY

INITIAL MEETING HAD REPRESENTATIVE ATTENDANCE FROM OVER THE COUNTY—CLARENDON MAN ELECTED PRESIDENT—NEXT MEETING TOMORROW AFTERNOON AT ONE O'CLOCK—PASTIME THEATRE—LARGE ATTENDANCE ANTICIPATED

In spite of the bad roads over the county there was a fair representative body of citizens present at the Pastime Theatre last Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Joe J. Goldston as temporary chairman, called the house to order and stated the object of the meeting, that of making a permanent organization looking to the development of every line of industry in Donley County.

T. J. Patman made the report of the committee appointed to nominate suitable officers and directors for the body and out of the list submitted the following officers were elected: President, O. C. Watson.

Vice president, Fred Story. Temporary secretary, Claude McAllister. Directors: J. C. Christal, Lelia Lake; Oscar Smith, Goldston; John Potter, Sunnyview; Edwin Bailey, Martin; G. C. Grant, Goldston; R. O. McFarling, Hedley; J. T. Bain, Bray; F. M. Clark, Hedley; J. B. Stogner, Windy Valley; M. M. McCracken, Hudgins; T. C. Johnson, Giles; J. D. Swift, Hedley.

J. E. Walker, H. H. Stiner, Chas. Baldwin, Jim Headrick, Fred Chamberlain, W. W. Taylor, Odos Caraway, Henry Williams, T. M. Little, Sr., S. W. Lowe, C. W. Bennett, James Trent, all of Clarendon.

A motion to empower the board of directors to select an executive committee from among their number to co-operate with the officers in the work of the organization, with duly specified powers, was unanimously adopted. This will make it possible for action to be taken between the meetings of the directors, when it may be impractical to get a quorum together and will greatly assist in cutting out delays waiting for authority to act.

It was decided to leave the matter of dues for the board of directors to be worked out for presentation at the meeting tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock.

Several interesting addresses were listened to and none more appreciated than the snappy talks of Revs. Wade and Wright of Hedley, the Baptist and Methodist preachers of that bustling little city to the east of us. J. K. Short of the agriculture department of the A. & M. College was present and made an appeal for special work to be done along the line of development of the hog and stock farming, saying that there is no county with better natural advantages than our own.

R. O. McFarling, a prominent hog raiser of the Hedley country made an effective speech on the necessity for co-operation with the hog raiser and said he was in the club with his whole soul. The News is publishing a splendid article in this issue from Mr. McFarling, who is certain to carry off many state honors with his fine hogs. Another fine stock raiser in the person of Frank M. Clark, addressed the meeting saying that if the club was to be for Clarendon's interests alone he wasn't interested in it, but if it was for the entire county, he was in strong.

This statement was cheered as the sentiment of the whole gathering was for the banding together of the whole county in the work of development.

The president and vice-president, Messrs. Watson and Story, both made short talks full of pep and pledged their utmost co-operation in the work of the club.

The general feeling was one of pride in the work begun and of genuine co-operation in the plans. Every man present was made a committee of one to secure members and when the meeting adjourns tomorrow afternoon it is hoped that the membership will exceed five hundred, and that every part of the county is well represented.

The News feels that this is the most important step made in Donley County in the past five years and with the proper selection of a salar-

PANHANDLE MAN HERE FRIDAY NIGHT ON LYCEUM PLATFORM

When A. Mather Hilburn is introduced Friday night on the Lyceum platform at Clarendon College, the expectant public will not greet a character born, bred and come to fame in some more aristocratic section of these United States than our own. Hilburn is a Texas man and his home is in Wheeler County at Shamrock, proving the latter-day falsity of the old proverb that a "prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

The editor of The Clarendon News knows a little of this Hilburn boy. He knows that he is one of the best entertainers on the platform today. He knows that he is probably the cleverest make-up man lyceum goers have the pleasure of seeing, and he does it all on the stage in plain sight of everybody. He knows that this same Hilburn really thinks that he is just as clever and just as handsome as he really is. (Don't say anything to him about it, it might make him mad.) He knows that anybody that stays away from the Lyceum Friday night will miss a most delightfully entertaining evening.

How does the editor know these things? Very simple. He suffered the excruciating pleasure of rooming with him in college, running with him in vacation and mixing with him promiscuously for a period of nearly ten years. Here's another little secret, his nickname is "Ape." He'll answer to it anywhere, any-when.

FRESHMAN PARTY

A very pretty affair of the week was a party given by Miss Sybil Johnson to her classmates, the freshman class of Clarendon High School, on last Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

A variety of games were immensely enjoyed by the youngsters, after which dainty refreshments were served to Misses Ella Clark, Katherine Davis, Fannie Mae Granger, Genoa Doshier, Annie Pearl Morrison, Mildred Crane, Marie Thornton, Katherine Cole, and Evelyn Patman; Messrs Clifford Dyer, Estill Smith, Carl Tyre, Buel Davis, Jake Chamberlain, Rhea Couch, Robert Tatum, and Floyd Little.

PATHFINDER CLUB

On November 22, 1918, the club met at Mrs. Paul Shelton's with Mrs. Shelton and Miss Mamie McLean as hostesses. H. G. Wells' story, "Mr. Birtling Sees It Through" was the study for that afternoon. A number of very interesting papers were read. The hostesses served refreshments to about twenty guests. The next meeting of the club was with Mrs. Dr. Gray and Margaret Deland's story, "Old Chester Tales," caused a lively discussion among the members.

After refreshments the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Gentry on January 24, 1919.

He says he has traveled eighty thousand miles on the sea, and has made eleven trips across. His ship was attacked many times by subs which resulted in much excitement, but no losses to them, however. He has seen a few of the subs sunk. Guy tells us he has traveled enough on the big pond and is glad to get back home.

For best in groceries, see us. Our goods are bought right is why we can save you money. Be loyal. Be fair in dealing out your free advertising in the grocery line, for the stores that never did anything for you nor never will. Some grocery stores in Clarendon have dealt out groceries and free service in more than one way to people who appreciated it and to people who did not appreciate it.

There might come another time when there might be people, who, that just a week or 30 days on a little bill of groceries would look good to them.

You know the class you are in and we do too. Come let us sell you the groceries and feed.

What are you doing with them? Are you letting them dribble out, a little here and a little there, for things that will be of little if any benefit to you?

Or are you keeping them intact so they may grow into a respectable sum that will count when you see the chance for a good investment? Put your money in our bank.

PARENTS AND TEACHERS ARE ASSOCIATED

ORGANIZATION IS EFFECTED LAST THURSDAY AFTERNOON AT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING AFTER PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT.

Over one hundred parents responded to the very cordial invitation extended by the teachers of Clarendon High School to meet them at the High School building on last Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a Parent-Teachers' Association.

On entering the building the guests were most pleasantly greeted and welcomed by the teachers, and before being ushered into the room especially decorated for the occasion they were asked to register.

The pupils of Miss Myrta Houk rendered a very entertaining program, which consisted of piano and reading numbers, and was thoroughly enjoyed. Each performer demonstrated careful preparation and a poise rarely found in those so young.

Immediately following the program Superintendent Stocking in a brief but pleasing manner presented the object of the meeting which is to promote the welfare of the child in home and in the school, and telling of the necessity and advantages of a parent-teachers association.

After his splendid talk it was unanimously voted to go into a permanent organization, having for its membership all those who registered, and to include in its sphere of activities all branches of the school work from the first grade through the High school.

Mrs. J. T. Sims was elected as president; Mrs. J. T. Warren, vice president; Miss Lena Miller, secretary and treasurer; George Stocking, Miss Myrta Houk and Miss Elizabeth Stevens, program committee; Mrs. Whitfield Carhart, Miss Lena Miller and Mrs. Crockett Taylor, by-laws and constitution committee. Meetings are to be held regularly every first and third Thursday afternoons at the High School.

Just before adjourning they were invited into an adjoining room which was very beautifully decorated with a variety and a profusion of lovely flowers. In this beautiful setting were arranged tables at which the guests were seated and served with delicious hot tea and wafers.

This is a worthy and commendable move and should result in much good for the child and student, also bringing into closer relation the teacher and parent where such things for the common good of the school and community may be intelligently discussed.

Every parent and guardian are earnestly urged to become members of this organization.

CORP. HERMAN PERCVIAL RETURNS FROM OVER SEAS

Corporal Herman Percvial is one among the first Donley County boys to reach Clarendon from overseas. He left France the twenty-first of November and shortly after landing was sent to Camp McArthur to await his discharge which he received a few days ago, making his appearance in Clarendon Wednesday morning.

He left here with the boys of H company, which were trained at Camp Bowie. In their fight with "Fritz" October eighth he was shot in the right hand and the right chest, the latter being a flesh wound. He has a coin which he took from the German machine gunner who injured him.

Corporal Percvial looks fine and says he is feeling well. And of course, is delighted to be back in the States, especially the Panhandle.

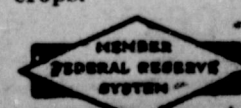

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Atteberry returned Tuesday night from Amarillo where they have made their home for the past several weeks. Our people will be mighty glad to have them here again. Their two grandchildren of Amarillo will make their home here with them.

J. A. Kirby, genial and affable Goodnight citizen, was shopping in Clarendon Wednesday morning.

Farmers and the New Banking System

The Federal Reserve Banking System with its thousand million dollars of resources stands back of its member banks and assists them in taking care of the needs of their depositors.

Our membership in this system gives us special facilities for enabling farmers to plant, gather and store their crops.

The next time you come to town come in and let us tell you how this new system enables us to help you.

The paving of the principal streets of Clarendon is a very necessary improvement. Ask any farmer who drives heavy loads of feed into our city if it isn't true. Ask any traveling man who makes our town—he'll tell you. Most of us agree that it ought to be done, but somehow we don't do much to bring it pass. We ought not to forget the story of the old negro who answered his own prayer.

The Clarendon News, carrying out its policy of keeping its plant and product abreast of the best equipment and most modern facilities practical to be had, has ordered a new family of job type to be added to our already well-equipped job department. This new face of type is the latest in printer's art and can only be duplicated in the most progressive city shops. When we fail to give service, just let us know.

Don't get the idea that the Donley County Progressive Club is for the benefit of Clarendon, solely. The organization has to have a central office and Clarendon being the county capital has that office, but The News is boosting this organization because it is for every industry in the county and when it fails to do that it must change its name. The fellow that is too narrow to perceive that whatever helps Donley County helps every citizen in it, has no business with his name on the membership rolls of the Donley County Progressive Club.

The Fifth and Last Liberty Loan is coming on us in a few weeks. We believe the government would have done better to have raised the need of five billion dollars through some other channel as our people have responded nobly to the calls of the past two years. Their property and business is now in sad need of repairs and extensions and the floating of the loan will likely operate in the flooding of the market with this and former bonds with the inevitable sinking of their value to even lower levels. Liberty Bonds ought not to sell for less than par.

A Parent-Teachers Association with over one hundred charter members has been organized at the Clarendon High School and will no doubt grow until there are several hundred members. The impulse that prompts an organization of this sort will bring about just that co-operation that will assure the success of this year's work of the splendid faculty that our schools now enjoy. Every patron of the school should be a member and take earnest part in the work of the body. Sometimes people take more interest in the improvement of cattle and hogs than they do in their own children. Let no such accusation be brought against the good people of Clarendon.

The Panhandle Press Association meets in Vernon sometime in April. The News editor, as secretary of the association, is in correspondence with President Satterwhite, now in the legislature at Austin, and hopes soon to give out the dates and the official program. Vernon is busy arranging to entertain the heavy and light artillery of the Panhandle Press bunch and a "hot time" is assured in advance. At this meeting we expect to bring Jess Adams and Ben Smith into court for the alleged disrespect to President Satterwhite in impugning the sanctity of the said Satterwhite's pink pajamas. We understand that Claude Wells has some very important and overbearing evidence to offer in the case. No doubt Hon. Satterwhite's mustache is already spiraling furiously upward in the meditation of the injury done and the necessity of a penalty meet for the offense.

The News has received several letters from varied sources who insist that we give of our space in urging that returning soldier boys be given back their old jobs and that none shall be left without employment. Such a bunch of propaganda might be necessary in some localities but right here and now we want to "rare up" and say that there is not the least suspicion of a need for it in this end of the country. Our people are the most jactant and the most grateful people in the nation and places will be made for every returning soldier or sailor. Not only can he have his old job again, but if he don't happen to like it he don't have to take it for there is ample call for his services in other lines. The people of Donley County are going into an era of progress that will absorb every soldier that left here and we welcome others here to assist in the grand march of development, contentment and happiness.

Out of the many tales of Dame Fortune's franks in the Ranger oil field comes the story of the little Baptist church at Meriman, three miles from Ranger, where the oily fluid has literally swamped the organization with wealth. To prove their faith by their works the church has divided their profits of $600 to $400 per day among the various institutions and claims of their state organization which act stands as a monument to the unselfishness and Christian liberality of that church. Most people who suddenly become rich through no effort of their own seldom ever turn in gratitude to the Giver of all good gifts, much less pay a part back into the treasury of the Lord. To further show the magnificent spirit of the Meriman Baptists they emphatically turned down a proposition to lease their adjoining graveyard for drilling sites, although a well there would surely be just as remunerative as their other well. There are certain sacred precincts into which the glutinous hand of greed may not penetrate.

The News is always glad to see honor done to those to whom honor is due. In this issue we are carrying a story of the naming of a literary society in the Clarendon High School for ex-Superintendent W. R. Silvey, who recently resigned after two decades of efficient service as head of our splendid school system. The unanimity with which the name "Sylvanian" was adopted in a popular voting contest makes the tribute to Mr. Silvey's work still more emphatic. There is an age-old adage that "school teachers never accumulate any money," which has just enough exceptions to prove the rule, but few professions can show as numerous instances of self-sacrificing labor and absolute investment of self for the good of the rising generations. May the Sylvanian Society have that success which the tradition of the name and the spirit of its founders so richly deserves.

While we do not countenance mob violence in the least, yet the good people of Hill county could hardly contain themselves after giving the courts a chance at the negro murderer, when the sentence of the court seemed likely to be deferred by the appeal of the defense. Mob violence is barbarous, but court delays are destructive to the respect due the law. Our criminal procedure needs radical revision.

Every Farmer and every stockman should be a member of the Donley County Progressive Club.

THE BIBLE

The Bible contains the word of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of the impenitent, the happiness of the believer. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, practice it to be holy.

It contains light to direct you, food to support you, comfort to cheer you, it's the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's compass, the soldier's sword, the Christian's charter. In it is paradise restored, heaven opened, hell disclosed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, God's glory its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart and guide the feet. It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory, a river of pleasure. It is given you in life, will be opened at the judgment and be remembered forever. It involves the highest responsibilities, rewards the greatest labor and condemns all who trifle with its holy contents.

It is a book of laws to show the right from the wrong, a book of wisdom to make the foolish wise, a book of truth which reveals all human errors, a book of life which shows how to avoid everlasting death. It is the most authentic and entertaining history ever published, an unequalled narrative, a perfect book of divinity, a book of biography, a book of travels, the best covenant ever made, the best testament ever signed, the best will ever executed, the best deed ever written.

It is the learned man's masterpiece, the young man's best companion, the ignorant man's dictionary, and everybody's directory. But that which crowns it all is its author, Christ. These facts tell us something of the greatness, power, and wisdom of the Bible. But, after the most learned has searched his vocabulary and even strained the English language for words to express the greatness, power and wisdom of the Bible, yet, in the language of the queen of Sheba, "The half has never yet been told." For His ways are higher than our ways and His thoughts than our thoughts as the heavens are above the earth. Let us be wise and take warning from his word.—L. E. Carpenter.

UP THE LINE

We have slept in barns and barracks
In the mud and in the rain;
We have slept in broken buildings,
Everywhere in each campaign.

We have bunked with cooties rampant,
We have slept on lousy straw,
And we have slept where shells have whistled
In dugouts, but, oh, pshaw.

Well, we have hit a new place
Since we've wiggled up the line.
We are sleeping in a hen house,
And say, the sleepin' fine—
That is, yet sleep when all is quiet,
And shells arn't overhead.
Be it known we'll nap or slumber,
When the cooties arn't in bed.

For no matter where you travel
And no matter where you roam,
The doughboy's got a partner—
There's a cooty in his home.

The Reason
For This Sale
There's a Reason

Our friends have enabled us to sell a highly satisfactory quantity of merchandise the past year, for which we are truly grateful. But there are, naturally, various items over the store still unsold, that we would rather not carry over to another winter season. These items we are going to sell in the next few days, at truly money-saving prices. You will see items mentioned in almost every department of the store. Buy for next fall, if you do not need them now. The savings possible make it worth while to do so.

STRICKLAND-STORY'S

THE DEPENDABLE STORE

CLARENDON, TEXAS

EDWIN HOUSTON GIVES INTERESTING VIEWS ON SWINE BREEDING

Since leaving Donley County I have thought a good deal about the condition of the hog industry there and have come to the conclusion that many of your farmers are losing a great deal of money by selling their maise in the head instead of in the hog.

It seems unreasonable to me that people in other sections of the state can buy your feed, pay the freight on it, pay the dealers at each end for handling it and then make good money feeding it, while the man that raises it believes that he can not afford to feed it to his own hogs on his own farm. One of two things are certain: either the parties buying this feed are crazy or else your people are overlooking a mighty good bet.

Your section of the Panhandle seems to be the most certain in its sureness to raise good feed crops every year and it is my confident belief that in the near future your county will develop into one of the best swine feeding and breeding parts of the south.

If after discussing this with your farmers you find that you can get five of them to agree to keep books on their own feeding and feed their own feed in the way we will advise, I would be willing to come back up there and start them off and then try to visit them each month and make that one of the centers of my work. All that I would want is that they keep careful account of their operations and see if I am right or not.

I would want to work out a pasture for them for the greater part of the year. It would be something like a mixture of rape and rye for fall, winter and early spring and oats and sudan for later spring and summer pasture. This has proven very good where it is both cold in the winter and hot in the summer and more or less dry all the time. The rye makes very little pasture until it has been in the ground for a couple of months while the rape will make the quickest fall pasture imaginable. On the other hand the rape will stand up under the most severe weather. For summer pasture you can just reverse this for heat by using oats and Sudan Grass. It also seems to me that the manure from grazing hogs would be worth a lot to your sandy land and would not only increase the water holding capacity of your soil but would double the yields of later crops of maize and cotton.

As you know I have been in the hog business all of my life and I can honestly say that I don't know of a county in Texas that can do itself more financial good by getting into the hog business on a rational basis than yours. I believe this so strong that I will be willing and glad to spend a lot of time up there working out a system that will pay and pay big.

If you can find a few men that are hard headed and from Missouri, but at the same time are broad minded enough to want to improve their farms and make more money on them let me know and I will come back up there and get them started out. If there is a place where a hog feeding demonstration is in order in Texas, it is Donley County.

Yours very truly,
EDWIN HOUSTON.

GRAND JURY TURNS IN ITS FINAL REPORT

RECOMMENDS STEAM HEATING FOR COURT HOUSE AND SAYS COURT HOUSE PARK SHOULD BE KEPT UP CREDITABLY.

Clarendon, Texas, January 21, 1919

Honorable Henry S. Bishop, Judge of the 47th Judicial District of Texas.

We the grand jurors, empanelled at the January term of said court, after making diligent inquiry into all infractions of the law that have come to our knowledge, report to you herewith that five bills of indictment have been found.

We find the county reasonably free from law violations with the exception of seemingly disregard of the mortgage law and the passing of bad checks.

We desire to make some recommendations to the commissioner's court as follows: We think they should provide a better heating system for the court house and jail. We believe that the same could be steam heated at less cost than the present expense to say nothing of the added comfort to all who have business at the court house; also that they require the court yard lawn to be mowed regularly during the summer months and be made a beauty spot instead of the unsightly appearance that it now has. This is county property and we believe should be kept in a condition that would reflect credit to the county. The county or city is judged by the appearance of its public buildings and as the Ozark trail passes right by our court yard we are afraid the visitors carry away a very poor impression of us. With thanks to the court and to the various officers who have rendered us valuable assistance during our labors we beg to be discharged.

J. T. PATMAN, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

CLARENDON COLLEGE CONSERVATORY ITEMS

The first recital of the term will be given on Monday night, Feb. 3. It will be given by students in the fine arts department.

SERVICE NEXT SUNDAY MORNING AT METHODIST CHURCH FOR SOLDIER BOYS

Special music by our splendid choir, an appropriate sermon by the pastor, a good pew in a comfortable house and a warm welcome extended to all, especially to our victorious soldiers. We have missed many sad Sabbaths on account of sickness and deaths of loved ones. Health is returning, the weather is pleasant and our God is gracious. Let us redeem the time, renew our covenant, return to the House of God with thanksgiving and enter fully into the noble sentiment of the Psalmist, "I was glad when they said unto me, 'Let us go into the House of God.'" Come and enjoy this special service.

C. N. N. FERGUSON, Pastor.

MRS. HOMER GLASCOE PATHFINDER HOSTESS

Last Friday afternoon the members of the Pathfinder Club celebrated the eighth anniversary of the founding of the club by spending several pleasant hours with invited friends at the hospitable home of Mrs. Homer Glascoe.

All things, in-doors and out-doors, seemed to unite in making the occasion a delightful one. The guests were assembled in the reception hall where cut flowers, distant music, and incessant chatting attracted eye and ear.

Delicious refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served to a hundred guests, who declare that the afternoon of January 17, 1919 marks a social oasis in a "flu" desert.

LITERARY SOCIETY IS NAMED IN HONOR OF PROF. W. R. SILVEY

By ballot, one of the literary societies of Clarendon High school was named The Silvanian Literary Society, in honor of Prof. W. R. Silvey, who served this school so faithfully for twenty-four years. There were five names suggested by different members of the society. Silvanian received fifty-two votes, against a total of five for the other four names suggested.

It is evident to all who know the work done by Mr. Silvey for the Clarendon schools, that in attempting to honor him, the society bestowed a much greater honor upon itself.

NEXT LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE WILL BE THE LAST

VICTORY LOAN EXPECTED TO BE FLOATED IN APRIL FOR FIVE OR SIX BILLIONS—TO BE MADE MORE ATTRACTIVE

Washington, Jan. 19—Only one more big war loan drive is planned by the treasury department. Secretary Glass said today. It will be the Victory Liberty Loan to be floated probably the last three weeks in April. The amount will not be more than $5,000,000,000 and may be $7,000,000,000.

"I expect the Victory Liberty Loan to be the last intensive campaign for the sale of government bonds," said Mr. Glass. "Reports that there would be two more bond issues this year aggregating $12,000,000,000 are entirely without foundation, not only as to amount, but also as regards the number of campaigns."

More bonds probably will be issued by the government even after the next campaign, but it is planned to market these quietly through banks and other financial institutions, without the usual campaign of advertising and soliciting. The amount of securities to be sold in this manner will not be determined for months, until the treasurer gets a more definite idea of the volume of expense growing out of the liquidating of war contracts, the Allies needs for further loans and the demands arising from the continuing the policy of making loans to railroads, financing the next wheat crop, continuing ship building and other internal obligations.

The misrepresentation regarding the number and amount of remaining loans may arise, treasury officials explained today over the fact that the treasury had planned to float two loan issues aggregating about $12,000,000,000 this fiscal year. The fiscal year began last July 1, however, and ends next June 30, and the Fourth Liberty Loan of nearly $7,000,000,000 has been floated in that period.

Most treasury officials believe that the terms of the fifth, or Victory loan, will have to be made more attractive than those of the past, either by raising the interest rate above 4½ per cent, or by some other means.

SCHOOL NEWS

(By Bessie Alexander)

Last Friday afternoon, January 17, the two societies of the High School enjoyed an entertaining program rendered by their own members. Recitations, songs, piano solos and debates were the chief features of the program.

Monday morning Mrs. Barnes and Miss Chitwood talked to the girls on the subject of canning clubs. All girls from the ages of 10 to 18 will be given an opportunity to learn cooking and sewing provided they raise a small garden. A large number of girls will probably take up this wonderful opportunity of becoming efficient housewives.

A basketball game between the College and High School boys has been fixed for Thursday afternoon at the College Park.

The girls of the High School have become very enthusiastic over basketball. There are four teams in progress with Muffett Sims as captain. The picked team will soon be ready to challenge any in the Panhandle.

The students demonstrated great enthusiasm at chapel exercises on Thursday morning in giving yells and songs.

Mr. Stocking has a class of fifteen pupils from 7:30 to 8:00 who are studying debating for the interscholastic debate. The pupils have already produced four enlightening debates on the subject of Militarism in the United States.

Miss Marsh, who has been sick with the influenza, has returned to her position as history teacher of the High School.

THE K. O. RECEPTION

The K. O. Club of Clarendon College held their first reception for this year last Saturday night at the home of Miss Merle Benedict. It is customary for the club to have at least two receptions each year but owing to the sickness and other unfavorable conditions the one that was to be held before Christmas was postponed until the beginning of the present term of college. However, for four hours the coterie and their guests enjoyed themselves with music, dominoes, friendliness and refreshments. Especially did the last come at the right time for all were beginning to feel the effect of their indulgence. All too soon did the fateful hour of parting come. Then all went to the hostess and proclaimed their gladness and thanked her for the efforts she put forth in interest of the club and guests.

The ones present are as follows: Misses Weatherly, Porter, Ruth and Mary Helen Bain, Wyatt, Martin, Stone, Enoch, Teague, Kemp, Avery, Young and Andrews; Messrs Noble, Dean, Stennett, Earl and Ray Loftis, Wells, Sessions, Young Burnett, Smith, Pope, Stevens and Keen. The honorary guests were Miss Loeffler and Messrs Condon and Burton.

TEN GOOD REASONS FOR SWEARING HARD

In connection with Rev. P. R. Knickerbocker's discussion of swearing and following the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday cards were distributed bearing "Ten good reasons why every respectable thinking man in El Paso should swear just as often and as hard as he can." The reasons follow:

- 1—Because it is such an elegant way of expressing one's thoughts.
- 2—Because it is such a conclusive proof of taste and good breeding.
- 3—Because it is such a sure way of making one's self agreeable to his friends.

- 4—Because it is a positive evidence of acquaintance with good literature.
- 5—Because it furnishes such a good example and training for boys.
- 6—Because it is just what a man's mother enjoys having her boy do.
- 7—Because it would look so nice in print.
- 8—Because it is such a good way of increasing one's self-respect.
- 9—Because it is such a help to manhood and virtue in many ways.
- 10—Because it is such an infallible way of improving one's chances in the hereafter.—El Paso Times.

WHAT THE PIG CLUB MEANS TO THE BREEDER OF PURE BRED HOGS

The profits of the breeder of pure-bred hogs depend upon the demand for pure bred hogs and the popularity of his herd and his breed. To that end he buys advertising. Sixty-three per cent of the 1917 pig-club members of Nebraska raised pure-bred hogs, and why can't we? This was not an accident either. It was the result of the club policy—a scrub pig and a good boy make a poor partnership.

Breeders dislike to sell good hogs to men who are stingy or injudicious with the scoop shovel. A good hog in good hands is an advertisement of the herd which bred him. In poor hands it returns nothing more than the original purchase price. Many of these pigs have gone to farms that have never kept pure breeds. They grew better than "dad's." Part of this was due to breeding and part to the boy who fed them. "Dad" generally laid the difference to the pig rather than to the boy.

The boy was a convert to better hogs as soon as he borrowed the money to buy the pig. The father and the neighbors have been won over, more slowly, but in most cases just as completely.

The pig-club work is a pig raising rather than a pig fattening project. Members are encouraged to start with pure-bred weanling pigs, weighing them and keeping complete records for at least four months. Members of the pig club are given definite and sound instruction relative to the management of the pigs.

Many of the members, especially those who have selected gilts, have become so interested in the work, that, instead of selling out with the completion of the project, they have kept the sow as a beginning of a herd.

Pig-club work teaches more than reading and writing and arithmetic. It reaches a field of work untouched by the common school. It is not something that the boy reads or hears about, it is something that he actually does—right on his own farm.

It gives the boy an incentive to take a new interest in farming and to work at home and in school. The average boy likes live stock, and good live stock will bring out the best that is in the boy. The pig club work is the opening wedge, so to speak. It often serves as a demonstration in a community.

It is not an experiment done at this or that experiment station, that people may read about, but something they can see right in their community, with their feed and equipment.

The boy and his pig could not do it all, but they started that which older men had given up.

The starting of a pig club does not mean success. Germany started the war, but that does not mean that she was successful. The boy needs help and encouragement. Too often the home folks give opposition and ridicule.

Leadership is essential. Without it the boy is apt to become discouraged and drop out. To start and fail is harder on both the boy and the pig than never to have begun at all. Leaders can be selected from any walk of life, but the best ones are those men interested in the same line as the boy. Though there may be a junior leader to make the rounds and handle the details, the "father confessor," if you will, or the god-father of these new business men, should be a breeder. It is from him they must get their pigs. It is through him they find their market. It is to him they will gladly go for advice. Sympathetic co-operation from older men means much to a youngster, and both boy and pig grow and broaden under its influence. The breeders who have fostered the boys' beginnings find themselves accepted by the boys as friends; find themselves called upon to supply not only hogs, but also advice and suggestions to an ever widening circle of breeders; find themselves finally approaching that long looked for time when buyers will know both their farms and their communities as a source of good breeding stock.

It is a long road, oftentimes a hard one, but it leads to profits both financially and otherwise. Ho much comes out of club work depends entirely upon how much is put into it. The breeder is in a position to give the most, and, except for the boy, to gain more than anyone else.

Hedley, Texas.

ONE OF INTEREST TO OUR READERS
Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Clarendon man is confirmed after four years.

I, W. Carhart, Third and Jefferson streets, Clarendon, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have always found them fine for lameness across my loins and kidney trouble. I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at McKillop's Drug Store, for uric acid in the system, rheumatic and bladder trouble."

Over four years later, Mr. Carhart said: "I haven't had to use Doan's Kidney Pills since I endorsed them before. I think just as highly of them now as ever."

FROM JERICHO BOY WITH ARMY OF OCCUPATION

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Osborn of Jericho are in receipt of a very interesting letter from their son, Sgt. Ashley G. Osborn, who is with the Army of Occupation, now at Luxembourg, and below we are reproducing the same:

Strassen, Luxembourg, Dec. 1, 1918.

Dear Mama, Dad, Sis and Brother:

Alright, mama, the censor has lifted the ban on all but one thing and that is giving out casualty lists, so here goes. I think I can comply with that, without the least bit of trouble. Will start in and tell you all about the trip from start to finish as near as I can remember, maybe you will enjoy it and will serve as a Xmas present.

I left Hoboken or New York harbor on August 16th, 1918, A. D., on his majesty's good ship Karoa, an ancient old bark but very sea worthy. We were in a convoy of seventeen ships. The U. S. Warship St. Louis conveyed us all the way, was the only armed ship we had for protection.

Of course all the transports were armed and there was one auxiliary cruiser that carried ten guns. We pulled out and all was lovely for about six days, we took the northerly course and at one time was only about two hundred miles off the coast of Iceland. We had boat drill regularly, two and three times a day with sixteen hundred troops on board, that was a pretty big job, but as I was saying all went well for about six days and then that night I was awakened by the siren's sound boat call and the four point sevens were talking to beat the devil. There I was in the middle of the Atlantic and only about five miles from land, (the bottom of the ocean) and two submarines off the port side, about three miles. I had a good berth and hated like the devil to leave it, for the atmosphere was rather cool but from the sound of things business was about to pick up so out I came and made for my raft. Now, just imagine me floating around in the Atlantic on a raft and the weather was almost freezing. I got out all O. K. with little or no clothing on and believe me it was one H of a predicament. I wasn't scared or excited in the least but I will admit that I had visions of you drawing the monthly installment of my insurance each month. The gun crew scored three hits out of four or that was the report of the cruiser, that went back some shooting at four thousand yards. We were not torpedoed but might just as well have been there for we were scared to death.

Well, we rolled on into Liverpool and hiked about four miles out to Knotly Ash (a rest camp) these rest camps are sure great places (nit.) We stayed there about ten days and then pulled out for South Hampton one night. That was when I mailed the king's message. We stayed in S. H. two days and then pulled out for LeHavre, crossed the channel in the night in an old side wheeler. Got into Le Havre and hit another rest camp (another swell place) with nothing to eat. You see all this time, ever since we got on the Karoa, we were being rationed on England's basis and they were certainly nearly on starvation rations; stayed there two days, mud and rain all the time and then got in a French train and started for "Somewhere." We were packed in those cars, box cars ("mind youse") just like sardines. We couldn't lay down at night and there was four days of that with salmon and bread for rations. We all smelled like salmon for two weeks and I think my mess kit has a faint odor yet. We landed in Remiremont, in the Dept. of the Vosges. Had a swell camp, got cleaned up and fed up on American rations, plenty of them. That was a nice little town of about three thousand inhabitants and was well back of the lines. We were subject to air raids occasionally but not many and I really had an enjoyable time while we were there for we would go to town and promenade with the madamoiselles. Prices were reasonable, too, on nearly everything. We pulled out of there one night and landed in Bannencourt and hiked about ten miles to Camp Chanois up on the hill side. That country was all shot to thunder and they were still shooting.

I worked day and night there and it was certainly one muddy place. It was near Verdun and the Germans had just been forced back. Well, we hung around up there a week or so and then one night loaded out on trucks for another trip. In the mean time the armistice had been signed, and landed at Dun-Sur-Meuse. We came down through Verdun Souilly and several other places and there was not a building left standing. We stayed at Dum four or five days and believe me people, the old 90th Div. certainly cleaned that place up. You can't have any idea of what that place looked like. We got in there two days after the Germans had left or after the Armistice had been signed. There were dead Germans, horses and equipment scattered around just as it was left on the battle field. There were buildings there that were riddled with machine gun bullets. One couldn't place his hand on any part of it without covering up a bullet hole. Believe me it was awful.

We worked there day and night constructing lines, put in forty-eight hours in one stretch without a rest. We certainly had a hard looking bunch after that job. We pulled out of there and came over to Languyon, stayed there several days, did some construction work and then moved over here where we are now.

We are of the army of occupation now and are camping right on the heels of the square heads, move in just as fast as they can evacuate; in some cases their fires are still burning.

Luxemburg is a neutral country and has not been wrecked but the people certainly have suffered for food. Many of the inhabitants speak English. It is taught in the schools and they are all highly educated. Fine people, and they are certainly glad to see the Americans. They can't do enough for us.

General Pershing took over the city of Luxemburg the day we arrived here, and it was a day to be remembered.

I am billited over a cafe. The family that lives here consists of a man and his wife, two boys and two girls. One of the boys runs a barber shop and I get all of my barber work done for nothing. He won't take a cent. The old lady always has a cup of coffee and something to eat for me when I come in off a trip, no matter what time it is.

I want to tell you about the Thanksgiving I had. I had a real Thanksgiving, even if I was in Luxembourg. I went to town several times and became fairly well acquainted with a young man. He invited Kinney and I up for Thanksgiving dinner (supper,) at his home. We didn't get away from there until late. I really didn't expect very much and didn't want to go for I was tired, I had been out all day but rather than spoil the party I went and believe me, I had the sweetest feed I've had in some time.

It was a regular banquet. They are very refined people. The old man and lady, boy and girl, and a friend, an Italian and he certainly could sing. He had a fine voice. The young lady played the piano and had several American pieces. We enjoyed it very much.

I was surprised at the supper. The table was set in finest style, a twig of mistletoe at each plate, a small U. S. flag on each twig and the old lady made a large flag for the occasion that day. It hung in the center of the room. We had a course of soup to start on, then roast beef and mashed potatoes, next rabbit fixed up some way with French fried potatoes, three eggs—omelet—several kinds of salads, kraut, two pieces of cherry pie and pudding of whipped cream, of some kind and all the wine and coffee one could drink.

Well, this is a pretty good letter, folks, so think I'll quit and get to bed—need all the sleep I can get for we have a lot of night driving ahead of us. Will write again soon and tell some more of the war.

With love to all,

ASHLEY G. OSBORN, Sgt. Ashley G. Osborn, Hdqrs. 51st Teleg. Bn., Sig. C., 3rd Army Troops, A. E. F., France.

SUFFERED MORE THAN SHE CAN TELL

HAD ALMOST GIVEN UP HOPE AFTER EIGHTEEN YEARS OF TROUBLE—GAINS TWENTY-TWO POUNDS TAKING TAN-LAC.

"I only weighed ninety pounds and had suffered for eighteen years when I began using Tanlac, and now I am well again and weigh one hundred and twelve pounds." said Mrs. J. W. Kinkley, 5104 Illinois avenue, Nashville, Tennessee.

"My sufferings were more than I could possible describe, and had lasted for eighteen long years. I had to live on the very lightest of foods and even milk would sour on my stomach and form gas that would keep me in misery for hours. I had no strength left hardly and although I tried the best treatments I could find, I kept going down hill and suffering agonies until I was finally told I would have to be operated on and there wasn't much hope."

"My husband got a bottle of Tanlac for me and I started taking it and began to improve. I have taken eight bottles, have gained twenty-two pounds and can just eat anything I want, country ham, onions, just anything and am just feeling fine. I just want everybody to know what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Clarendon by Stocking's Store; in Hedley by J. F. Tomlinson Drug Co.; and in Jericho by O. C. Brown.

Clarendon Laundry

Is Now Prepared To Do First-Class Work

BUSINESS IS NOW SOLICITED FOR THE FIRST TIME—IT WILL REQUIRE ALL THE BUSINESS CLARENDON CAN PRODUCE TO KEEP THIS FIRST CLASS ESTABLISHMENT RUNNING.

Any worthy cause or institution should be backed to the limit, and along this train of thought we are going to put the Clarendon Steam Laundry before the public and the readers of The News.

We have had charge of the Clarendon Steam Laundry for two months and have not come out flat-footed before and said "We are now ready to handle all the work you can give us and not only that, but do it right, and send your work back the way you want it—'CLEAN.' So now, we kindly ask you for your your business—as we are prepared and equipped to handle it—don't send it out of town until you give us a trial! We spend our money at home. Why don't you?"

We now have a complete equipment and a full force to keep the same in operation and under their skillful hands we will be able to live up to our motto of keeping all the dirt—we like dirt; we live on dirt; just wallow in it; dirt is worth money to us, yes sir, if it was not for dirt there would be no need for the Laundry, that is why

YOU SEND US YOUR DIRTY CLOTHES; WE WILL SEND YOU BACK THE CLOTHES AND KEEP THE DIRT.

Just call 75 and—that will bring our driver, Ralph Andis; and not only that but promptness of return is as valuable to us as is "DIRT."

Be careful not to let Ralph see any dirty clothes or garments or anything that needs cleaning lying around for they will sure find their way to the Laundry, or he won't sleep good that night. Thanking you in advance for the patronage we know you are going to give us, we are happy over the joy we know you are going to express over the work you are going to get, we are,

Very truly,
