And now the wicked Republicans are threatening to repeal the presidential order leaving postmasters of certain classifications under the civil service system. For pie they are worse than Bruin after honey.

This issue of The News carries quite a bit of matter relating to the poultry, hog and dairying business. It is carried for a purpose and even a dense reader will agree that Donley County needs some remedy for the situation which she now confronts. Read the articles. Get the good out of them and apply some part of the suggestions to your own case. Donley County should be known all over the world as the wealthiest per capita county. We have the natural resources. It is our's for the labor of developing and that sort of labor is more interesting and less sordid than ordinary routine work.

A better Stock

—We will be located at the Ozier stand after the first of the month. The stocks will be combined thus affording our patrons a much larger stock from which to make selections.

—The same courtesies will be extended you. The best prices will be made and the best quality of goods sold that money can buy. At the same time we all know that the best is the cheapest in the long run.

—We will meet all competition in our new place of business and invite you to inspect our bigger, better stock.

—We appreciate your business.

show this state of mind is passing. Our people know that the country is in good condition. They know that we don't have to raise any cotton here, at all. They know that their merchants and bankers will treat them fairly and that with all facing the future with courage that everything will turn out for the best of the country. No section is in better shape to stand low prices than is Donley County. That fact don't make us like it a bit, but Donley County and Clarendon are going ahead and will make progress as usual. The spirit of "never say die" built this country and is saving it again now.

The annual occasion of Thanksgiving has failed in its purpose in so far as we are individually concerned unless we are brought to a realization of good fortunes that have come our way and considered just how much more fortunate than others we are. True it is that our people are passing thru the fire of adversity, just now, in regard to the unsettled financial conditions and low priced farm products, and as every farmer is effected, just as are we all effected since we are so dependent upon the good or ill fortunes of the farmer. But facing that situation with our faces to the future we are still of all peoples the most blessed. A kind Providence has enabled us to make progress thus far along the paths of reconstruction since the awful cataclysm of war. Our peoples are not suffering and dying in any appreciable numbers from the scourge of disease. There is as little want and privation abroad in the land as there has been since the lowering days following the Civil war. There is more per capita competence in the hands of the average citizen than at any period in our national existence. God has dealt generously with America and our people are in His debt more than we can ever repay. Thanksgiving is here. Thanksgiving calls us to sober consideration to all our obligations to God and man. Thanksgiving is the time of moral inventory. Then let us be thankful—even joyous—over the good fortunes of life. Let us turn our faces from the ill that has befallen us and with firm step and smiling mien, take our places in the march of progress and life's daily grind with a determination to do more for our fellows and ourselves—thus, we may serve God according to His will.

The birth pains of reconstruction are now upon us and the more sober minded are united in their opinions that the depression we are now facing, the crisis which we are now passing, is well worth the inconvenience and strain in that it is the only way in which we may reach a safe and sane level. "The flurry is over." Yes, the flurry of high wages and low production is passing. Not that wages will not continue to be higher than they were before the war, for they should and will be. But every day it is becoming more evident that workers who earn the high wages must deliver more production than they have been turning out. They must do it or else their positions will be filled with men who will deliver the full measure of production for the same price. The flurry of reckless buying is over. For some weeks there has been an unmistakable tendency to buying carefully and sparingly. As one writer has expressed it, "the silk shirt era" in American history is passed—and well it should. The calamity howler and the bolshevik are finding themselves approaching the bread-line and the free soup-kitchen. We have come upon another good old American era of intense labor. Labor for the brain worker as well as for the man of brawn. There are wonderful advantages and possibilities in the new conditions and the ones that see the situation as it is and plunge full-talented into the contest—and it is a contest—are the ones who will profit largely and honestly. It's a good old American era. Let's face it like good Americans.

MORE OIL, BRETHREN, POUR ON MORE OIL.

After taking a careful survey of conditions in the Panhandle last week, our bosom swelled with pride. Yea, we dipped our trusty quill deep into inky depths and proceeded to tell it to the world, only to be called down by two different apostles of the profession, neither of whom ever dared tell the glad tidings to the world on their own hooks; not even as to the development in their respective sections. Now comes these devout pencil pushers calling our attention to the report of the last census returns. We have never been satisfied with our local census, and judging from the noise made in other sections along the same line, we naturally did not expect either of our esteemed contemporaries to use census figures as a mallet upon our defoliated pate. Brother Smith of the Pampa News takes us severely to task for praising the quality of the roads in his county. As a matter of fact, the roads around McLean are as a pavement as compared to our roads in Donley county. In fact we have speeded our old buzz wagon up to fifteen miles on Gray County roads near McLean without a mishap. We dare any man to bore a hole thru space at that rate on a Donley county road in broad open daylight on a cloudless day. In the final windup, Bro. Smith has the temerity to state that "We believe the article in question is all warm ozone." If that be the case, we are frank to say that we are pleased to learn that some hot air at least penetrated the frigid atmosphere of the "ballies." Summing the matter all up, we are glad even yet that we gave space to the article since we woke up two editors to a realization of the many valuable resources of their home sections. We appreciate the fact that Smith and Moody are both good newspaper men, each have a good paper and live in sections endowed with a wonderful lot of natural resources. May they continue to reap a harvest of appreciation from their patrons in a form that counts for something.

MAIL ORDER HOUSES ARE HIGHER THAN LOCAL FIRMS

That better bargains may be obtained of local merchants than from mail order houses was proven to one man at least the past week. A prominent farmer of the Brice country had made out an order for drygoods to a mail order firm. He was liberal enough to allow a local merchant to figure on the bill before mailing it, etc. The order as taken from the catalogue amounted to $17.40. The local merchant put up the same order at present prices for exactly $14.90. The farmer was well pleased with the saving and went home to tell his neighbors that the day of low prices and real bargains had again arrived in Clarendon.

PROTECTION FOR BALED COTTON

Properly Constructed, Efficiently Operated Warehouses Found to Afford Best Protection.

A series of experiments to determine the extent to which, under various conditions, baled cotton is destroyed by weather was recently conducted by the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, at Jefferson, Georgia. The results are striking. In one instance, a bale of cotton placed out in the open, flat on the ground with no covering, was damaged to the extent of 370 pounds at the end of eight months. Another bale, placed on edge, with no further attention, lost 167 pounds. A bale on edge and turned over once a week, lost 110 pounds. A bale placed on end and not turned lost 78 pounds. A bale placed on timbers off the ground and turned once a week lost 49 pounds, and a bale placed on timbers and covered with tarpaulin lost but 14 pounds. A warehouse bale of cotton during the same period lost only 1 pound. Other tests have been conducted from time to time that corroborate these results and prove that the ideal conditions under which cotton may be held by growers before marketing are afforded by properly constructed, efficiently operated, bonded warehouses.

Need for Protection Greater.

With an enormous over-supply of low-grade cotton in the South at the present time, the necessity for protecting the crop from weather, fire, and other loss is greater than ever before, say specialists of the Bureau of Markets. The potential weather damage and other risks to which exposed cotton is subject increase in direct proportion as the time that cotton remains in the hands of the growers lengthens, and if the cotton growers are not to lose millions of dollars every year against hazard of loss must be employed. In the matter of weather damage alone it has been estimated that in normal times $70,000,000 worth of baled cotton is lost annually as a result of permitting cotton to remain exposed to the weather months at a time without covering or attention of any kind.

When it is considered that in many instances the total cost of warehousing cotton, including insurance, is no greater than the fire insurance rate alone on exposed cotton, it would appear to be the utmost folly for a grower not to spend his money to a greater advantage, say the bureau's specialists. The insurance rate on exposed cotton is about $4 a hundred per annum. Every $100 worth of cotton stored in a properly constructed and protected warehouse can be insured for 25 cents per annum. The differential of $3.75 would in many cases pay all other warehouse charges.

Of fifty bales of cotton that a cotton grower of Maysville, Ga., sold to a local buyer a short time ago, 65 pounds in each bale was found to have been destroyed because of exposure to the weather. At 30 cents a pound the grower lost nearly $1,000. If this grower insured his exposed cotton it cost him at the rate of $300 a year for first insurance alone. He neither had protection from weather damage or theft nor was he in a favorable position to negotiate a loan upon his product. To have secured these advantages would have cost him at the maximum but little more than the cost of the fire insurance alone. By diverting his investment into a channel that would have given him the fullest value for his money, he would have saved the $1,000 that he lost through neglecting his product.

Growers Depend Upon Banks.

From a financial viewpoint, ability to make loans upon his crop is of paramount importance to the cotton grower. Almost all cotton growers must depend upon the banks to finance them. No banker is anxious to lend money for even a short period on cotton inadequately protected; he emphatically will not do so under such conditions on long-term loans. To be able to furnish gilt-edge security to the banks for loans it is necessary not only to warehouse cotton but to select a warehouse whose receipts are readily acceptable as collateral.

The governor of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, recently declared that, with the present wool, grain, and cotton situation in that district, the question of adequate, licensed warehouses and the vital necessity for valid and binding negotiable receipts for all warehouse commodities are of prime importance to banking and business interests. It was further stated that nonnegotiable warehouse receipts that do not carry with them the title to the stored goods, would not be accepted as security to notes offered for rediscount, and that therefore it was important that the banks immediately take up with local warehousemen the matter of arranging for the issuance of negotiable receipts after the form approved by the Federal Bureau of Markets under the provisions of the United States warehouse act.

FORMER CLARENDON MAN WRITES INTERESTINGLY

The editor of the News is in receipt of a letter this week from our old friend W. O. Woody, who is now making his home in California. The letter is brim full of peppy information and we are publishing it in full that his many friends may also enjoy it along with the News force. The letter is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Editor:

"I have not been out here long enough yet to know very much about the country, in a general way, but I thought it might be of interest to you to hear of some of the things I have seen and heard.

"From what I have seen and heard I have about concluded that the reports we read back home about the earthquake scare they had out here in Los Angeles and southern California, has been exaggerated more or less. With the exception of a few chimneys toppled over I have seen no signs of any great damage. People who have lived here almost 35 years, say that many slight quakes have been felt in that time, but the last to happen were the worst. These old-timers refuse to get excited, and won't cross a bridge until they come to it. I have heard also that the great earthquake in San Francisco in 1906 was not so bad itself, but the damage done, was due more to local conditions. I hear that up there they built a great sea-wall well out in the bay, to get proper anchorage. Then the space between the wall and the shore was filled in with "made earth" which of course is not so solid as mother earth. When the quake came, the greatest damage was done in this made earth district. The gas-mains were broken and then the fire did the rest. The old-timers argue that down here in Los Angeles and southern California they have no "made-earth" districts, and for that reason can never have a disaster like that even if much harder quake should ever come. There may be some truth in this, but I surely don't know. Los Angeles lies inland about 20 miles from the beach, although the city limits extend to and include the harbor at San Pedro in shoe-string fashion. I have not seen the harbor, but I understand it is very well improved. It seems to me the climate here ought to suit most anybody. I believe also that this country would be pretty good for anybody who wanted to make a new start in life. It seems to me that there are people here from all over the world, so that a new comer don't mind doing any kind of honest labor, that he might care to do back in his home town where he is better known, because out here he is almost a stranger in a strange land, and he don't care so much. Then he begins to find out he can do things he never thought he could do. In a way I think he becomes more self-reliant, and really independent. He learns to depend more on himself, and less on others. There is considerable manufacturing here and I learn they figure to build up a big export trade with the Far East and South America. It seems a lack of fuel has been the greatest drawback in time past. They have lately brought in a big gas well and the Standard Oil Co., plans to develop oil and gas on a big scale. If this should come to pass I guess the fuel question would be settled. I liked the flowers in full bloom in winter time also the fruits and vegetables, etc. People in bathing suits in the surf on the beach. There is lots to see and learn that is different and it has been more or less of a picnic for me, but after all it seems to me that if a person is contented where he is and with what he has he has much to be thankful for. Such a person will surely be contented any where, but I guess there are not many such.

Speaking of fuel oil I may say there is considerable doing in that line already. Seems to me the average man stands as good a chance here to get along as most places, and maybe better than some. Wages are fair and work is fairly plentiful. It seems though that during the winter or tourist season, so many people come in from the East, who are willing to work for less, just for the fun of living in this climate. On that account they say labor is more plentiful at times than others. Speaking of climate, I heard a story the other day, which shows how things may be stretched. A tourist who had gone back East, after a time spent in Los Angeles told of a very tall flag pole that they had here, and were able to raise and

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dizziness, headache; no hawking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

"THINK AND THANK" SUGGESTED AS NATION'S MOTTO

"Think and Thank" was the motto upon the family crest of the great Hebrew philanthropist, Sir Moses Montefiore. It would be an appropriate armorial for America today. These two little English words, differing in a single vowel, were originally identical. In the Anglo-Saxon tongue, a "think" was "thank." Thanking comes from thinking, and thankfulness and thanks giving from thought-giving. This will be a season of unusual thanksgiving—for we are made to think as we have not been wont to think. It will be a very selfish soul that this season fails to think of the sorrows and the sufferings of others.

Look back at that first American Thanksgiving. Strange skies, sparse settlements, sparse larder, savage enemy, but thankful spirit. What makes the memory of the Pilgrims so precious? His thankfulness! As Howell put it: "It is no longer improper comparison that a thankful heart is like a box of precious ointment which keeps the smell long after the things is spent."

The Pilgrim and the Puritan have passed on, but they have left us a precious possession—a Thanksgiving day and the Thanksgiving spirit. Theirs was the indomitable spirit because they thanked God and took courage. They landed undesignedly on a "rock-bound wintry strand," but they thanked God and took courage. They found no gold but they did find the golden grain of a first harvest and they thanked God and took courage. They found a rude wilderness, but they thanked God and took courage, and the furrows were turned and towns were built and cities grew and factories flourished and cultures developed and instead of a wilderness a garden blossomed and the fragrance of their memory still survives and the spirit of their grace still inspires.

Carver, deceased, and the unknown heirs and claimants to certain lands described below, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Forty-Eighth Judicial District; to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Donley County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Clarendon, Texas, on the third Monday in January, A. D. 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 23rd day of November, A. D. 1920, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 1112, wherein Walter Darlington is Plaintiff, and Mattie L. Means, Della Means, Hobart I. Carver, Grace Mackey, E. W. Carver, Mrs. H. A. Carver, and Leora and Virgil Carver, Minors, children of H. A. Carver, deceased, and known heirs of Austin Carver, and Kate I. Carver, deceased, and the unknown heirs and unknown claimants, or owners of lands described below, all the above named parties, being defendants, the nature of plaintiff's demand being as follows: Suit upon two notes for the sum of $800.00 and $1200.00, principal, together with interest and attorney's fees, being Real Estate First Mortgage Compton Notes, dated at Kansas City, Mo., of date February 1st, 1915, and due on February 1st, 1920, payable to Walter Darlington or order, with interest at 6 per cent per annum, and signed by Austin Carver and Kate I. Carver, both of said notes having the same description as above stated, except in amount of $800.00 and $1200.00, and secured by Deeds of Trust, follows: The South one-half and the North-west one-fourth both of the North-west one-fourth of Section No. 31, in Block No. 120 and lettered C2, and containing 120 acres of land in Donley County, Texas; the $1200.00 note being secured by Dood of Trust on The North-east one-fourth of Section No. 31 in Block numbered and lettered C2, and containing 160 acres of land, in Donley County, Texas, to J. S. Ulm as Trustee in both Deeds of Trust. Amount due upon property described being a total sum of $2416.93, including principal, interest and attorney's fees, plaintiff asking for judgment of said sum, together with foreclosure of his mortgage lien described in said Deeds of Trust above referred to, and which are of record in the Deed Records of Donley County, Texas.

Herein Fail Not. But have you before said Court, on the first day of the Next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. PURINA COW CHOW FEED
MAKES A FULL BAG

Two or three pounds more milk in every cow's bag every day means a big extra profit at present milk prices.

This increase is possible by the use of Purina Cow Chow Feed, which costs only about a cent a cow more per day than the average ration.

The reason Purina Cow Chow Feed produces such heavy increase is that it contains 20% digestible protein (24% crude), the maximum amount a cow can assimilate and keep in the best condition.

Every ingredient used in Purina Cow Chow is a feed of recognized value. There is no cheap filler. Every pound yields more milk in the pail.

Try a ton and you will understand why dairymen insist on Purina Cow Chow.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

The State of Texas. In the District Court, Donley County, Texas, January Term, A. D. 1921.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, That, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Donley four weeks previous to the return day thereof, you summon: Mary Waller Rea and husband B. M. Rea and Charles Molter who are alleged to be non-residents of the State of Texas to be and appear before the District Court, to be holden in and for the County of Donley, at the Court House thereof, in the City of Clarendon, on the Second Monday in January A. D. 1921, the same being the 10th day of said month, then and there to answer the petition of Kimbrough, Underwood & Jackson, a partnership firm composed of W. H. Kimbrough, R. E. Underwood and M. J. R. Jackson as plaintiffs, filed in said Court on the 29th day of October A. D. 1920, against Mary Waller Rea and husband B. M. Rea, John A. Rea, Henry Holmes, T. M. Dickey, Mrs. P. L. Luce and husband R. G. Luce, A. F. Luce and Charles Molter as defendants, said suit being numbered 1106, the nature of which demand is as follows, to-wit: Suit on promissory note for $1500.00, dated October 30, 1917, executed by Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea, payable to the order of Kimbrough, Underwood & Jackson one day after date, and to foreclose deed of trust on Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, Block 19, and Lot 7, Block 18, Original town of Shamrock, Wheeler County, Texas, and Lots Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 1, Grant Addition to Original Town of Clarendon, Donley County, Texas, securing said note, that on September 14, 1917, Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea executed a deed to John A. Rea conveying the property in Wheeler County, Texas, to him for the sole and only purpose of placing same beyond the reach of their creditors; that in Suit No. 1094 in District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, Mrs. P. L. Luce, R. G. Luce and A. F. Luce, plaintiffs vs. Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea, et al defendants a writ or attachment issued and placed in the hands of the sheriffs of Wheeler and Donley counties, Texas, and was served on the property above described; that when said cause went to trial it resulted in judgment for the defendants Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea; that in Cause No. 2656 in the District Court of Potter County, Texas, defendant Charles Molter secured judgment against Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea for $527.85; that writ of attachment issued out of said cause to the sheriffs of Donley and Wheeler counties, Texas, and was levied upon the property above described except that no levy was made on Lot No. 7, in Block No. 18, in Shamrock, Wheeler County, Texas; that in the County Court of Potter County, Texas, F. R. Carl secured judgment against Mary Waller Rea and B. M. Rea for $205.68; that writ of attachment issued to the Sheriff of Wheeler County and was by him levied upon all of the property in Wheeler County above described.

Plaintiffs pray for judgment against defendants for their debt, principal, interest at the rate of 6 per cent from October 30, 1917, to date of payment of same, and attorney's fees, for foreclosure of their deed of trust lien against the above described property; that said property be decreed to be sold in satisfaction of said debt, principal, interest and attorney's fees; that the deed to John A. Rea be cancelled and held for naught; that the writs of attachment in favor of Mrs. P. L. Luce, R. G. Luce, A. F. Luce, and F. R. Carl be cancelled, set aside and held for naught, and declared secondary to their deed of trust lien; that the deed to the defendant Henry Holmes be declared void and of no effect; that the sheriffs deed and attachment lien in favor of Charles Molter be declared void, and no effect, cancelled, and set aside; that the claim of T. M. Dickey (who is asserting some sort of claim to said property, in Wheeler County) be declared to be inferior to their deed of trust lien; that the claims of all the defendants be declared to be inferior to their deed of trust lien; that said lien be declared to be a first and valid lien against said property; that in case the court may determine plaintiff's mistaken saying that the sheriff's deed to Charles Molter and Henry Holmes are void, then plaintiffs say they have a right to have their deeds of trust lien foreclosed and tender to Charles Molter and Henry Holmes the amount which they paid for said property, and of their loss and expenses from the claims of Molter and Holmes, for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said Court, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness W. E. Bray, Clerk of the District Court of Donley County, Texas.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court in Clarendon, Texas, this 29th day of October, 1920.

The Clarendon boys passed thru teass m mwfwmwf hrdlufytaoi Claude Tuesday at 11:30 a. m. aboard the northbound Denver train. While the train was stopped at Claude the boys got off for a short visit and gave us an exhibition of how they would defeat the Wayland bunch later in the day. One of the boys was dressed in a clown suit and acted a complete clown to the satisfaction of the Claude folk. Another black-eyed, bunjo-backed, bowlegged, cripple-footed boy had a large placard on his back on which was inscribed the words: "This is the way the Wayland boys will look after the game is over." Quite a crowd met the train at Claude and was very much amused at the show put on by the Clarendon boys, who had horns, some whistles and a drum with which they made things lively for a while.—Claude News.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Well, this is the end of a perfect day.

Near the end of a journey, too; But it leaves a thought that is big—and strong.

With a wish that is kind and true. For Menry has painted this perfect day.

With colors that never fade. And we find, at the end of a perfect day.

"The soul of a friend we've made." Something of this feeling was what was in the hearts of men and women at the Presbyterian Manse, last Monday evening, when the membership of the church and their friends met there for an informal evening fellowship, at least that is what the pastor and his wife thought it was, to their joy.

A mysterious change commenced to take place, like the waves of sunlight in the atmosphere on a spring day, which finally revealed a long held secret in a display of things for the "inner man" brought forth the occupants of the Manse,—a real glorious "pounding."

Realizing what these expressions mean, it was with mingled feelings of joy and gratitude that those beautiful packages were opened up. Simply, we had never seen anything like it before in all our young lives.

Glorious, that's all!

And, Our services will be conducted as usual next Sabbath.

Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Morning service at 11 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor. Evening service at 6:30 o'clock. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 6:30.

W. H. FOSTER.

IMMENSE POUNDING GIVEN PREACHER MONDAY NIGHT

We have all heard of pounding preachers. Pounding in more than one way. The pounding given the family of W. H. Foster, pastor of the Presbyterian church Monday night, was in the manner becoming the standing of the family. Mr. Foster is rejoicing over the affair, not altogether for the immense quantity of packages left at the home, but all the more for the spirit in which it was given and the esteem in which he is held by the donors. No pastor in Clarendon is better liked or more able to fill a pulpit than he. His friends are legion and what about a hundred did Monday night, is but the expression of a few as compared to the number of his well-wishers in the Panhandle.

to double the yield of cotton and cut the acreage half in two? That very thing can be done and is done in Peard County, but it's not general. With less risk, and a revenue in the cow, the sow and the hen can be more safely relied upon than can the cotton patch, for with the proper attention these will pay 100 per cent profit, and that beats cotton.

The remarks of the Paris News on the subject calls forth these words from State Press of the Dallas News:

"Cow, Sow & Hen compose a firm that can make any Texas farm owner rich if he will give them a fair chance to thrive. The trouble with that firm's popularity in most parts of the South is that the members of it require a good deal of waiting on and considerable care and patience in handling. This is objectionable to many of our very best people. They prefer to give their land to a hit or miss tenant to raise a crop of cotton on. There is no use in quarreling with this condition. It was inherited and is all but ineradicable. Meat and bread and butter crops are grown throughout the world by high-class labor accustomed to good-living standards. Cotton is grown throughout the world by Hindus in India, fellahs in Egypt, coolies in China—and Americans in the United States. This means precisely that American cotton farmers, producing a world staple, have to compete with the cheapest labor on earth, whereas meat and bread and butter farmers compete with the higher priced labor of earth. Is it any wonder that very often our cotton raisers are reduced to poverty? Can our cotton growers, competing with the pauper labor of Asia, afford to buy their foodstuffs? They can not. And that's all there is to it."

REBEKAH LODGE TO BE REORGANIZED

A meeting for Friday night is announced at which time the reorganization of the Rebekah lodge will have attention. All former members and visiting members have been requested to be present. The local I. O. O. F. lodge is taking an added interest, a very interesting meeting having been held at the hall Monday night when the third degree was exemplified. Over thirty members of the local lodge were at the art studio Sunday for the purpose of having a photo made for publication in the state journal showing the progress being made here. Visitors are frequent and many new members are being initiated into the mysteries of the fraternity each meeting night.
