VOLUME 61 BROWNWOOD, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1936 NUMBER 43

Farmers Will Receive Aid Under A. A. A.

About $200,000 To Be Spent In Brown County Alone In First Payments

Brown county farmers will receive approximately $200,000 in initial payments under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration during 1936. Payment of the sums will soon start to producers in Texas and other southern states.

According to A. L. Smith, College Station, secretary of the State Conservation committee, there are two classes of the payments, class 1 to be made on acreage diverted from soil depleting crops, and class 2 to be made on self building crops.

The estimated total of the payments in Texas is $37,322,435. Final payments may vary from that amount, however, as official completion is not complete. Between 70 and 80 per cent of the farm land in Brown county is signed up under the administration.

Basis of Payments

Producers in the southern region will receive 90 per cent of the Class 1 payments and 100 per cent of the Class 2 payments. H. R. Tolley, A. A. A. administrator, states. An additional payment will be made after the exact extent of participation is determined.

"Complete information on participation will not be available for several weeks," Mr. Tolley said, "although it is known that the number of farmers taking part in the program is in the neighborhood of 4,000,000. This is substantially in excess of participation for any one year under the old crop reduction.

"From the standpoint of sound business procedure, therefore, it was deemed advisable to take advantage of the safeguards, provided by the program, in order to avoid possible deficits, and at the same time, avoid holding up a large share of the applications for payments until all of them are completed."

S. M. U. PRESIDENT WILL PREACH SUNDAY AT FIRST METHODIST

The Rev. C. C. Selemann, D. D., President of Southern Methodist University at Dallas, will preach next Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

Dr. Selemann is entering upon his fourteenth year as head of the University, and during that time, the school has seen much progress and enlargement.

A general and cordial invitation to the people of Brownwood to hear Dr. Selemann preach is extended by the Rev. W. T. Whiteside, pastor of the church.

COLORED LODGES IN CONVENTION HERE

San Angelo District of the Colored Knights of Pythias Courts of Calanth held a session in Brownwood Tuesday with representatives of lodge officers and approximately 20 other visitors attending. The Brownwood chapter was host for the convention.

The meeting was formally opened Tuesday morning in Little Zion Baptist church with addresses by Mrs. Aray Ransome of the Calanthes and M. E. Ransome, district deputy grand chancellor for the Knights. L. B. Kinchion, Jr., son of the grand chancellor, responded to the welcome for his father, who was unable to attend. Richard Hester of Dallas presided for the business meeting which followed.

Cecil Holman is chancellor commander of the Mt. View Lodge No. 53, and H. M. Allen is Keeper of Records and Seal.

ENLARGED EXTENSION DEPARTMENT AT HPC IS BEGUN THIS YEAR

Howard Payne College has announced the completion of plans for an enlarged Department of Extension.

The new work will be under the direction of Mr. Joseph T. Fielder, for several years a teacher in the Shanghai Baptist College in China and more recently professor of English in the Plainview High School.

Classes have been organized in Cisco, Rising Star, and Coleman and in all of the smaller towns in the surrounding territory. Residents of Brownwood that are unable to attend the regular session may obtain work in the Extension Department which has classes all day Saturday in the administration building of the college. The local department also includes business classes in shorthand, typing, book-keeping, and commercial law which meet every Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

Mr. Fielder succeeds Mr. T. R. Havins, for several years in charge of the extension work of the college, who resigned his duties to accept a more responsible place in the regular college activities.

CLEMENT HICKS KILLED IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT; THREE OTHERS INJURED

One person was killed and three others were badly injured in a head-on collision Saturday night between a truck and a car on the San Saba-Goldthwaite highway.

Clement Hicks, 20, was killed instantly, while his brother, Marzell Hicks, 14, received severe head lacerations. Leslie Davee, 22, was also critically injured. S. L. (Speck) Phillips, employe on the Buchanan dam at Burnet, was brought to a local hospital for treatment for a badly shattered elbow. At first, it was believed necessary to amputate his arm, but physicians believe now it will not be necessary.

The vehicle in which the Hicks brothers and Davee were riding and the truck driven by Phillips, collided head-on. Faulty steering gear on the Hicks car was blamed for the accident. The gear caused it to swerve directly into the path of the truck.

Funeral services for Clement Hicks were held at the Rock Springs cemetery six miles from Goldthwaite Sunday afternoon.

CITY COUNCIL HIKES TAX RATE FIVE CENTS

A hike of five cents in the city and school tax rate for 1936 was voted by members of the City Council at a called meeting Monday night. The new rate is $1.80 on the $100 valuation instead of the 1935 rate of $1.75.

The new ordinance allows an increased allotment for maintenance of Carnegie Library and Greenleaf cemetery, raising the quota of each from one cent to two and one-half cents.

The tax rate is divided in order to give 70 cents to the general fund, 70 cents to the schools, and 40 cents to the special fund.

An allotment of $900 will be set aside from the water works earnings in order to add to the fund for discharging water works bonds, and $4,825 has been allotted from sewer earnings to pay bonds.

Ten per cent penalty and six per cent interest will be charged on delinquent taxes. First half of taxes may be paid between Oct. 1, 1936 and January 31, 1937, and the last half may be paid any time up to July 31, 1937.

CONSERVATION TO BE THEME OF W. T. C. C. CONVENTION IN MAY

"Water and soil conservation and Centennial publicity Follow-up" will be the theme of the 1937 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to be held in Brownwood, May 10, 11 and 12.

Announcement of the convention theme was made Thursday by D. A. Bandeen, WTCC manager, who was here last week with J. A. Rix, assistant manager. The two officials conferred with Chester Harrison, secretary of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

"The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is now making an effort to secure part of the $300,000-000 recently set aside by President Roosevelt for flood control work," said Mr. Bandeen. "Water and soil conservation will be one of the most important problems facing West Texas for the next thirty years. We hope to work out a unified constructive program."

Mr. Bandeen further pointed to the fact that it is fitting that Brownwood should be the site for launching the program of conservation. The city was in the first water fight in which the West Texas Chamber of Commerce took part against the Insull interests of Chicago when they questioned Brownwood's right to build a dam on Pecan Bayou, a tributary of the Colorado river.

"Plan of the WTCC is to organize group conferences at the convention of representatives of every West Texas river watershed. Out of these conferences the general conservation program of West Texas will come," Bandeen stated.

NEW CCC CONTINGENT TO CONTINUE WORK AT LAKE BROWNWOOD

Lake Brownwood State Park is again occupied by a CCC company and a new program of construction and improvement is underway. The CCC company is under command of Lieut. James W. Gorman. Lieut. Walter F. Badinger is second in command.

A special train bringing the 153 CCC enrollees from a camp near Caspar, Wyoming, arrived in Brownwood Saturday night. The men were conveyed to the camp in seven large equipment trucks. Repair on buildings is to be completed late last week, and everything was in readiness for the new company.

Captain E. L. Modlin, Fort Worth, commander of subdivision 4 of the Fort Worth CCC district, and Captain Thomas D. Martin, commander of subdivision 1 with headquarters in Sherman, directed the repair work.

CCC company 872, now stationed at Tucuman, N. M., occupied the 528-acre park until about a year ago, when they were transferred to the New Mexico park.

National Park Service officials are now drawing plans for improvements to be made by the new company, and a definite work program is expected to get underway soon.

N. H. Lee, assigned to the camp as superintendent in charge of construction, has been granted a vacation leave. He was in Brownwood this week, and will return in time to take charge of construction work. H. C. Cogdell, transferred to Brownwood from the Kerrville State Park, is acting superintendent. Cogdell will be retained here as foreman after Lee returns. Other assignments to the Brownwood park that have been announced include Engineer Williams from the Bonham State Park and Paul Pressler, landscape architect, from MacKenzie State Park. Lubbock, Pressler did much of the landscape work when the camp was here before.

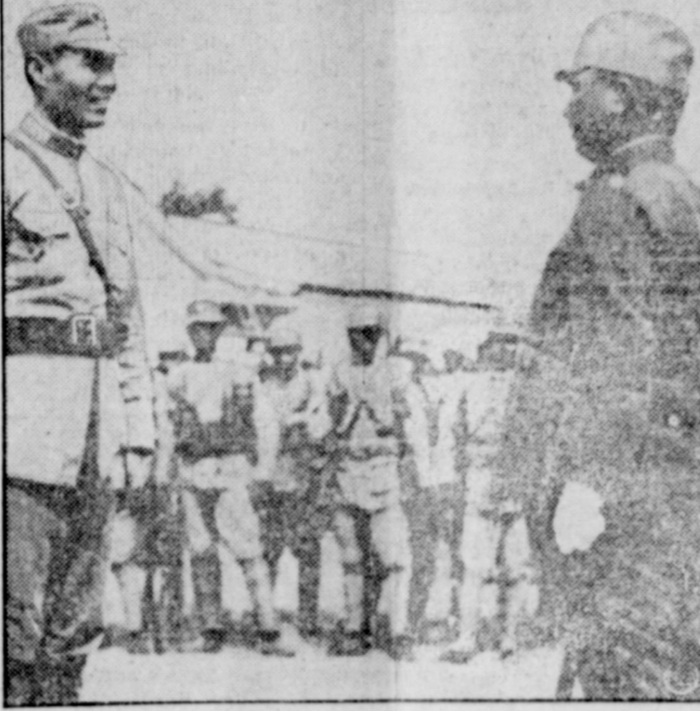

W. F. Ayres, chief inspector for the National Park Service, was in Brownwood Monday inspecting plans being prepared here by NPS architects.

Man Awaiting Trial For Luggage Theft

Charged with the theft of a suitcase and clothing from E. E. Duzan, Brownwood, William Matson was arraigned in Justice court Wednesday morning and is bound under $1,000 bond awaiting action of the grand jury.

Matson was arrested near Abilene Tuesday night by Sheriff Jack Hallmark, while Matson was trying to thumb a ride.

Leaders Avert Conflict in China

Danger of conflict as result of a Sino-Japanese "incident" was averted at this meeting of commanders in Fengtai, China, after their troops had clashed. Gen. Hsu Chang-in, left in uniform, assistant commander of the Chinese 37th division, is shown as he agreed to withdraw his soldiers to Siyuan, on Fengtai's western border. At the right is Colonel Mutaguchi, of the Japanese army, with troops drawn up in the background.

PARENT-TEACHER WEEK OF OCTOBER 19-25 TO STRESS WELFARE OF CHILDREN, STATES GOVERNOR ALLRED IN ISSUING PROCLAMATION

Urging that attention be especially centered on child welfare during the next week, Governor James V. Allred has declared the week of October 19-25 Texas Parent-Teacher Week, honoring the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers which celebrated its 27th birthday on October 19.

Mrs. M. A. Taylor, of Bonham, state president, also stated: "Nearly two thousand Congress units will observe the birthday of the Texas branch of the National Congress and pay tribute to its founder, Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter, and to these splendid women, who rallied to her assistance."

The Governor's message proclaiming the celebration follows: "To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come: "On October 9th the Parent-Teacher Associations will celebrate their twenty-seventh anniversary in Texas.

"The State of Texas is fortunate to have such an organization whose purpose it is to promote child welfare through cooperative efforts of parents and teachers.

"Because of the necessity for proper coordination between the home and school in the life of our future citizenship, the continued advancement of the Parent-Teacher Associations is of great importance to the state as a whole.

"In recognition of the splendid work of this organization throughout its existence in Texas; now, therefore,

"I, James V. Allred, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and proclaim the week of October 19 to 26 of this year as Parent-Teacher Week in Texas, and I call upon our citizens to aid and encourage the Parent-Teacher Associations in the splendid work they are doing for the welfare of our school children, who will soon be called upon to assume the responsibilities of citizenship.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of the State to be impressed hereon at Austin, this 11th day of September, A. D., 1936.

"JAMES V. ALLRED, Governor of Texas."

Paving Totals 94.07 Miles in This County

Bringing the total of highway paving in Brown county to 94.07 miles, the asphalt surfacing on seven miles of the Brownwood-Cross Cut road, north from Brownwood, has been completed and is open to traffic.

The Cross Cut road and the Flat Rock crossing cut-off are now the principal routes to the Brownwood dam. According to county officials, the remainder of the Brownwood-Cross Cut road to Callahan county line will eventually be paved. The road connects with Highway 206 at Cross Plains and will connect there with the proposed Highway 36 to Abilene.

Additional paving projects in the Brownwood-Lake Brownwood road and the Trickham-Bangs-Thriftly road are being scheduled by the WPA.

490 MASONS ATTEND MEETING OF ZONE 11 HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Fifty-three Masonic lodges, including one in Louisiana and one in Oklahoma, were represented by more than 400 Masons at the Zone 11 meeting held here Thursday night. W. Marcus Weathered, of Coleman, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, addressed the group on "Rededication to the Masonic Principles."

A barbecue supper, at which Brownwood lodge No. 279 was host, was held on the Howard Payne campus prior to the regular business meeting. John T. Yantis, Brownwood, presided at the meeting held in the auditorium of the college.

Lamar, Cross Plains; Goodner Bedford, Coleman; J. L. Cross Brownwood; John Harlin, Gordon, and W. D. Clements, Goldthwaite. Mr. Bedford, who is secretary to the Grand Master, introduced the other district deputies. The Grand Master was presented by William C. Chilton of Comanche.

Counties in Zone 11, all of which were represented at the meeting, are: Brown, Comanche, Mills, Coleman, Erath, Eastland, Callahan, Palo Pinto, Stephens and Shackelford.

CITY CLEAN-UP DRIVE ENDS SUCCESSFULLY; PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

Working under a campaign slogan, "The Cleanest Town in Texas," chairman of the three ward school districts have brought to a close the city-wide Centennial clean-up and beautification campaign. Mrs. Carl A. Blasig is general chairman of the project.

Chairmen of the three ward school districts are Mrs. Monroe Clayton, South Ward; Mrs. John Blake, Coggin Ward; and Mrs. William Day, Brownwood Heights.

A monthly check-up since June on Brownwood homes and business district has been conducted by the workers. Clean-up of the business district was carried on under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's Club, under the general chairmanship of Dr. Mollie Armstrong.

Brownwood has entered the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Clean-up and Beautification contest. In the local contest, the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce is awarding the following prizes: First, $20, second, $12, and third, $5.

The points upon which the basis of judging will be as follows: 1. Keeping the front and back yards clean. 2. Keeping vacant property clean or planted. 3. Caring for shrubs, flowers, and hedges already planted. 4. Planting and developing new lawns. 5. Planting flowers. 6. Building painted and repair work.

FEDERAL ASSISTANCE TO CONTROL FLOOD WATERS IS LIKELY

"It seems very likely that the Brown County Water Improvement District can qualify for Federal assistance and the control of flood waters," stated Chester Harrison, Chamber of Commerce secretary who has recently returned from a hearing held in Austin Tuesday at which interested persons presented their views concerning control of floods on the Colorado river. Lieutenant-Colonel E. H. Marks, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., conducted the hearing.

Nearly every county along the Colorado river was represented by delegations. The Central Texas Conservation and Flood Control Association, composed of 10 counties in this immediate section, sent representatives from each county, who presented briefs showing that the total damage caused by the recent Colorado flood is almost $5,000,000.

Herman Bettis appeared on behalf of the Water Board of Brown County, and was given leave to file a brief within 10 days. While in Austin, Bettis gathered some important data relative to the brief.

The New Deal has fostered unity, not division. Its sin has been not that it has arrayed class against class, but that it has consistently refused to serve the advantage of any one class.

JOINT CONVENTION OF PRESS ORGANIZATIONS PLANNED HERE IN JUNE

Heart of Texas Press Association, which held its fall convention October 16 and 17 in Kerrville, will meet next in Brownwood on June 10, 11 and 12, at which time the Texas Press Association will also convene here.

Brownwood delegates to the Kerrville convention were Wendell Mayes, president of the association; J. Hervey Mayes, Tom Fowden, John Gorman, and Ben Jackson.

Principal speaker at the meeting which was attended by about 75 visitors, was Attorney General William McCraw. Others appearing on the program were Rev. F. M. Braiser, rector of Kerrville Episcopal Church; Dr. L. H. Webb, president of the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce; Joe Cowan, editor of the San Saba Star; Rufus Higgs, editor of the Stephenville Empire-Tribune; J. Marvin Hunter, editor of Frontier Times, Bandera; H. H. Jackson, Coleman, president of the Texas Press Association; and J. E. Grinstead, Kerrville.

Included in the entertainment program was a dance, luncheon, golf tournament, and a football game between St. Edwards and Schreiner Institute.

Attending the meeting were six past presidents of the Texas Press Association. They were: Sam Fore, Floresville; Denver Chestnut, Kennedy; Sam Harbin, Dallas; W. H. Mayes, Austin; Harry Schwenker, Brady; and Rufus Higgs, Stephenville.

ALLRED URGES VOTERS TO FAVOR REMOVAL OF PARDON POWERS

A plea to Texas voters to adopt Amendment Number Four on the November 3rd ballot, was made this week by Governor James V. Allred.

This proposed Constitutional Amendment would remove pardoning power from the hands of the Governor to those of a non-political, non-partisan board. At the present time the Governor has absolute power in clemency matters.

"It is not fair to the convicts nor to the public," Gov. Allred said, "and no governor has the time to give the proper attention to each case. It is a full-time job and every convict's case should be subject to review without the necessity of bringing influence to bear. Prior to my election as Governor I advocated this change in our basic law and since I have been in office I am more convinced than ever that it should be adopted."

The Governor pointed out that during his administration criticism had greatly diminished but that the system inaugurated of having a board pass on meritorious cases could be better insured by adoption of Amendment No. Four on the ballot.

"In my opinion," the Governor continued, "the case of each inmate in the penitentiary should be subject to review automatically at the proper time. This would be possible if this Amendment is adopted. I appeal to the people of Texas to give this proposal their most earnest consideration and vote for its adoption. In so doing, this State will take a long step forward."

Young Democrats To Hold Barbecue Thurs.

Honored guest at the barbecue to be given by Brown County Young Democrats Thursday night will be Congressman Charles L. South. The public is invited to attend the affair, to be held in the Memorial Hall. Tickets are on sale at Renfro-McMinn Drug Store and Armstrong Jewelry Store.

New Highway Projects To Get Underway

No Outstanding Changes Expected In Proposed Programs, Say Officials

Texas' program for federal aid roads for 1937 has been submitted to Washington, with no outstanding changes expected. Several projects for the Brownwood area are included in the plans, according to Chester Harrison, Brownwood Chamber of Commerce secretary, who received his information from State highway officials this week in Austin.

Included in the projects are the paving of highway 10 from Dublin to Stephenville, which was made the No. 1 project for the Ft. Worth division. Surfacing of highway 7 from Brown county line to Goldthwaite and 12 miles of highway 23 from Brown county line to Rochelle in McCulloch county are also included in the schedule.

A paving project was also submitted for Highway 23 in McCulloch county from Brady west to Menard, as is a program for the grading and drainage structures on highway 7 from Goldthwaite to the Hamilton county line, through Hamilton county.

Contract for the highway 23 project from Brown county line to Rochelle is expected to be let next month. Plans and specifications for the highway 7 pavement from Brown county line to Goldthwaite are being prepared now in the Brownwood division office and this contract probably will be let in a short time.

"For early completion of paving of our cardinal highways, Brownwood is greatly indebted to Division Engineer Leo Ehlinger and his staff and the State Highway Commission," Mr. Harrison said. "Chamber of Commerce representatives have appeared many times before the Commission on every one of the projects and it is gratifying to know they soon will be completed."

GRID WEEK MARKED BY SURPRISING UPSET OF MIGHTY EAGLES BY BROWNWOOD'S LIONS

Still tingling with last week's victories, Brownwood's three larger football clubs face the week-end with confidence. All three teams will see action, but the chances for three new wins are not good, as all three face strong teams.

Daniel Baker plays Joe Bailey Cheaney's San Marcos Bobcats in Brownwood Friday night. Howard Payne goes to Abilene to play at a very tough bunch of McMurry Indians Saturday afternoon, while the Brownwood Lions tackle San Angelo's Bobcats in Angelo Friday night.

DBC vs. San Marcos

The Daniel Baker boys will face a team much changed from the bunch of Bobcats that Coach Keaton's men trounced 44 to 0 in the early stages of the season.

Since that defeat, San Marcos has played winning ball against some good teams. They beat the famed North Texas Teachers by a score of 12 to 7 the week following the North Texas 6-0 stand against S. M. U. Last week they ran up a 13 to 0 count against Southwestern U.'s Pirates. If Cheaney's boys are clicking, the Billies will be hard put to win by even a small margin.

Coach Taylor has spent much of the past week in an effort to perfect a running play to capitalize on the extraordinary passing ability of Skipper Howard. Should he do so the San Marcos game could have a very different ending.

Lions Will Be Well Backed

Followed by upwards of 300 loyal fans, Brownwood Lions go to San Angelo for a tough game Friday night. The Lions, who last week, beat the heaviest team in the Oil Belt, Abilene, still have an outside chance at the conference crown. Even without that chance the Brownwood team would be hard to stop Friday night after the taste of blood they got last week.

Interest in the Brownwood team has reached the highest point in years among the business men and local fans. The student body and the business men have bought enough tickets to insure running of a special train. This train will be the first to run to a high school game since 1925 when the school followed the Lions to Comanche.

The Lions have been given very little chance to take San Angelo, but many of the fans believe the local boys will come through with a win.

HPC-McMurry

Saturday, Howard Payne moves on Abilene, where the Jackets meet their favorite conference enemy, the McMurry Indians. Most of the student body will follow the Jackets to Abilene via the special train the Santa Fe is running to the game. Always a highlight in the Jacket-Indian tilt will mean much in this year's conference history.

Commodities Project To Continue Till July

Operation of the Commodities distributing project in district 14, WPA, will continue until July 1, 1937, according to announcement by H. C. Hess and John Allen, commodities field representative and district supervisor.

The officials made inspection of storerooms in the district last week, instructing workers on regulations for the new period, beginning November 1.

Headquarters for the WPA commodities distribution project are in Brownwood.

While neither of the colleges came up to the expected standards, Brownwood High completely upset all dope with their surprise victory over Abilene.

57 FAMILIES, VICTIMS OF COLORADO FLOODS, AIDED BY RED CROSS

Relief to 57 families who faced dire need when raging flood waters of the Colorado river swept away their livestock, crops, household articles, and in some cases their houses, was administered by the Red Cross during the past three weeks.

Under the direction of Mrs. Claude B. McCartney, Red Cross emergency relief administrator from national headquarters, offices were set up in Brownwood, and $2,506 was spent in the rehabilitation project. Nearly every dollar spent was used for food, clothing and other necessities of life. Mrs. McCartney's report shows.

Major portion of the money spent in administering the Red Cross assistance was received from the national relief fund. A small percentage of the amount was made up of contributions by citizens of Brown and Mills counties.

Brownwood offices were closed Monday afternoon. Mrs. McCartney is now in San Angelo, where she is assisting in final activities of the Red Cross flood relief project there.

Annual Roll Call of the Red Cross will be held November 11-26, and memberships will be sold for $1 or more. Half of the membership fund is sent to the national headquarters, and the remainder is deposited in the treasury of the county chapters.

Of unusual interest to the visitors at the Fair was a terracing plow that is used by SCS Cooperator in constructing pasture ridges. Many farmers inquired the price of the plow and stated that it could be used to advantage in their pastures.

Soil profiles arranged by Z. C. Dameron, Jr., Agricultural Aide, illustrated forcibly the soil losses resulting from erosion on Win-horst fine sandy loam, a predominating soil of the Blanket section.

Two Mexicans pleaded guilty to charges and were fined in county court Monday morning. Thomas Santos was arrested on charge of assault and battery, and was fined $25 and costs. The other Mexican, Torivo Coronado, was fined $100 and costs for carrying a pistol.

Nine farmers terraced 1,097 acres of land in Precinct 2, Crosby county, during August. County agricultural agent R. W. Howe, estimates that the work was done at a cost of 32 cents per acre with the use of the county grader secured by the cooperation of the county commissioner. Howe supervised the terracing of 500 other acres without the use of the county equipment, and reports the cost a little less per acre, but the terraces not quite so good as where the heavy county equipment was used.

Farmers of Brown county who had certificates in the 1935 national surplus tax exemption cotton certificates pool received checks totaling $171,12 Saturday through County Agent C. W. Lehmburg's office.

Notices are being mailed to farmers who received checks, and only those receiving notices need call at his office, said Lehmburg. Additional checks will be received later.

Soil, Grass Exhibit Attracts Attention Of Farmers at Fair

A soil conservation and pasture improvement exhibit arranged by members of the Brownwood Soil Conservation staff attracted a great deal of interest at the annual Blanket Fair, October 17. Included in the exhibit was a collection of the various grasses and plants that are being used by cooperators with the Soil Conservation Service in controlling erosion and improving pastures. Specimens of seed which are being used in seed multiplication plots were also on display.

Of unusual interest to the visitors at the Fair was a terracing plow that is used by SCS Cooperator in constructing pasture ridges. Many farmers inquired the price of the plow and stated that it could be used to advantage in their pastures.

IT? No!—'UMPH' Now

Hollywood has a new name for IT. It's "umph," and here's lots of it—in the highly personable person of Shirley Ross of the films. "Umph" is personality plus, and what plus takes, Shirley's got. SODDED TERRACES IN WACO AREA PROVE OF VALUE DURING FLOOD Inspection trips made after a recent 8.01 inch rain revealed that on farms near Waco under cooperative agreement with the Soil Conservation Service, sodded terrace outlet channels suffered no damage from excessive run-off waters, according to Frank Moore, technician in charge.

"All of the 11,448 linear feet of channel protected with Bermuda sod was in excellent condition after carrying the run-off from terraces. No repair work will be necessary on any of these channels," Mr. Moore's report says.

Despite some of the channels having been sodded for a little more than a month, there was no damage from the rain water. In one case where sod had been placed in an outlet channel with a drainage of 42 acres there was no washing or scouring whatever, although the sod had been there only three or four weeks, proving that with solid sodding almost immediate protection can be secured.

The more expensive outlet channels, protected by mechanical structures, will require some maintenance work, the report stated. Damage to mechanically controlled channels was due to the water following dry weather cracks around the wing walls of the structures.

Erosion on farm lands in the Waco area which were unprotected by erosion control measures was very severe following the recent heavy rains, Moore says. Gullies and deposits of topsoil in low places were evident on every hand. In comparison with this heavy damage, land on which the complete erosion control program of the Soil Conservation Service had been placed suffered practically no damage.

Which Woman Did Landon Kiss? BABY BEEVES SHOWN AT BLANKET FAIR

Twenty-one 4-H Baby Beeves were shown at the Blanket Community fair held Saturday, Oct. 17. The following were the winners in the Senior Class: Tom Levisay, 1st; Billy Parson, 2nd.

In the Junior Class, Howard Keeler won 1st, Pete Levisay, second and Jack Carswell, third.

In the infant class, Acie Bert Chapman's calf won first. In the junior bull class Adron Chapman's calf won first and championship.

Howard Keeler's calf was declared champion over all classes in the meat class. This exhibit of 4-H Club calves attracted the attention of the large crowds visiting the fair and numerous statements were made by the visitors to the effect that this was one of the best Baby Beef shows they had ever seen, some saying that these calves compared favorably with the calves and followed Mr. Sam Logan of Coleman, who judged these calves closely in giving reasons for his placings.

The native grass exhibit shown at the Blanket fair attracted a great deal of attention. Numerous questions were asked in regard to proper rotation of pastures in order to get the greatest amount of good from the various grasses. Due to this exhibit a number of farmers and ranchmen have made requests for pasture improvement work.

Did Gov. Alf M. Landon kiss his first nurse, Aunt Molly Baird, or another woman whom he mistook for Mrs. Baird? That's the question that has West Middlesex, Pa., the governor's birthplace, in a tizzy on the occasion of his visit to the old home town in August, to start his campaign. The home-town Democrats claim he kissed the wrong woman. The G. O. P. adherents deny this as a canard. And the argument waxes hotter every day, as election nears.

FACTS REGARDING AMENDMENT GIVEN

By George Moffett, Chillicothe Member of the Legislature

Unless our present Constitution is amended, population will continue to be the only yard stick by which representatives are allotted to the various counties.

Thirty states take geography as well as population into consideration in laying out legislative districts.

Between 1920 and 1930 the population of Texas increased 1,161,000. Almost exactly one-third of this increase occurred in the three most populous counties. By actual census figures 69 rural counties showed a decrease in population between 1920 and 1930. Power farming probably accounted for most of this decrease.

The trend of population is unquestionably toward the large cities.

If Texas were redistricted today under our present Constitution, Dallas would have ten members and Houston eleven. In 29 or 30 years more this would be doubled.

County commissioners' precincts, city commissioners' precincts, judicial districts, school districts and many other districts are not laid out on a population basis but usually with an eye to giving each section or community adequate representation. Geographic and territorial considerations play an important part in shaping the aforementioned districts and should likewise be considered in laying out representative districts instead of using population alone.

Our forefathers wrote it into the Federal Constitution that the President and Vice-President of the United States should not come from the same state. They opposed concentration of power and Amendment No. 6 does the same thing.

The U. S. Supreme Court in 1932 definitely held that Congressional Districts need not be even approximately equal in population.

A fair and impartial study of the problem clearly shows that Amendment No. 6 should be adopted by the people at the November election.

Eighty Talented Artists Featured In Tent Theatre

So many beautiful girls that you can hardly count them, the famous Palais Royale Orchestra direct from Miami. Dozens of noted vaudeville artists, a dramatic cast of prominent players from stage and screen, and last but by no means least, Daphne, the "Queen of the Fan Dancers," comprises the entertainers who will visit Brownwood on the night of Tuesday, Nov. 10, playing but one engagement here. So massive is the attraction that a caravan of more than thirty-five large trucks, cars and buses is required to move the show, yet it is neither circus nor carnival but is recognized everywhere as being an outstanding example of clever combination of drama, vaudeville, cabaret and revue. In the words of the advance representative, it is the "greatest show on earth for the money." Presented under a huge tent with a seating capacity of more than 4,000 the huge and spectacular attraction is offered to the theatre-goers of Brownwood at regular prices and on this one night engagement ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by one adult paid admission.

This is the 12th Anniversary Tour of the Famous Billroy's Comedians. The doors to the tent will open at 7:15, with overture by the BONHAM—"It pays to market home-grown feed through livestock when prices are fair," Jess A. Smith of Fannin county told V. J. Young, county agricultural agent, recently. Smith has just completed a demonstration on 21 head of beef calves that gave him a net profit of $317.00.

Smith purchased the 21 Hereford calves on November 20, 1935 at a cost of $380.62. At that time they had a total weight of 3,250 pounds. The calves were fed hay and cake for 80 days. The next 120 days the calves were put on small grain and native pasture with cake continued. Then they were fed hulls, meal, and ground maize for 50 days. They were finished for a period of 50 days on ground corn and cottonseed meal.

The calves were sold on September 25. Their total weight was 13,503 pounds, representing a gain of 8,252 pounds over a period of 200 days. They sold for $1,012.72, which left a net profit of $317.00.

MARLIN—A yield of 44 bushels of corn per acre from a one-acre corn demonstration has been reported to W. L. Ross, Falls county agricultural agent, by Howard Haug, 4-H club boy. Howard sold the corn for 80 cents per bushel, making $35.20 return on the acre. Howard used yellow dent seed corn, selected from the barn from corn grown on the farm in 1935. After careful selecting and shelling the seed was treated to insure a better stand. The corn was grown on black land that had been tilled and was given good deep plowing in the fall, followed by and sons of Lubbock county, according to Miss Norfleet Grimes, home demonstration agent.

Heretofore the food has been stacked on the floor in the corner of the dining room, destroying food values and causing extra house work.

The kitchen floor made the ceiling of the cellar. The walls were celled with heavy boards, and the cellar was calcimined white thru-out.

CANTON—"It is worth $50 to me to have running water in and drainage out of my kitchen," says Mrs. Bob Gregory, kitchen cooper of the New Hope home demonstration club in Van Zandt county.

In her kitchen improvement work, Mrs. Gregory also added a sink and a new stove, papered the kitchen, refinished the woodwork and gave the linoleum a new coat of paint.

"I now have a clean and attractive workshop. Since I spend a large part of my time in the kitchen, I am enjoying working in an attractive one," she told Miss Beulah Blackwell, home remonstrator agent.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What Texas postoffice has the highest elevation above sea level? S. A. A. Frijole (meaning beans) in Culberson county, at 5,600 feet.

Q. Please state the main facts in the Anshin-Robertson controversy. E. P. A. Sterling C. Robertson acquired the rights of Robert Lettwich and the Nashville Company, obtained in 1826, to colonize lands north of Austin's grant. In 1820, when he attempted to settle the land, he was informed that it would be in violation of the law of April 6, 1830, forbidding further immigration. His contract was annulled and he was expelled from the country. In February, 1831, Austin and Samuel M. Williams obtained a grant that included part of the Lettwich grant. A little later Robertson's right were restored and a bitter feeling between the two resulted, which lasted until Austin's death.

Q. On what grounds did the Mexican government restore Robertson's right to colonize the Lettwich grant? E. P. A. The immigration law of April 6, 1830, allowed empresarios then holding grants one year to colonize the lands. That time had not intervened when Robertson attempted to carry out his contract, nor had it passed in 1831, when Austin and Williams secured their grant covering part of the Lettwich or Robertson grant.

Q. Tell something of Pendleton Murrah's Texas career. G. S. A. He was native of South Carolina, a lawyer in Alabama in early life, coming from there to Texas and locating at Marshall; served Harrison county in the Legislature in 1857; became governor of Texas, Nov. 5, 1863; left the state for Mexico in May, 1865, and died in Monterrey in July.

Of the six amendments that Texas voters will be called upon to vote for or against at the General Election November 3, three are of such obvious value that they need only to be explained briefly and their merits become apparent. They are numbered 2, 3 and 4 on the big ballot, and popularly are known as the Teacher Retirement Fund, the State Employee Compensation and the Pardon Abolition Amendments.

Three Worthy Amendments

The amendment provides that the state shall contribute to a retirement fund for teachers, on a 50-50 basis. The teachers will be required to subscribe to the fund not more than five per cent of their annual salaries provided the amount is not in excess of $180 a year for any one teacher. This money, together with a similar amount contributed by the State, is to be made available to the teachers for a retirement fund after 20 years of service in Texas at retirement age. A safeguard is that no teacher shall be privileged to receive any other pension or annuity without releasing to the State the amount it has paid into the retirement fund for that teacher. Money collected from the teachers must be invested in government or municipal bonds, the payment of the principal and interest on which is guaranteed by the United States Government.

Amendment No. 3 is designed to give State Employees the benefit of Workmen's Compensation Insurance. It is pointed out that the State, by law, requires private employers to provide such compensation insurance for all employees, whereas, the State has not done so. The amendment gives the Legislature power to provide such insurance, but does not compel it to do so. The largest group of employees affected by the amendment would be in the highway department, where work is most hazardous. Under the present plan, an injured employee of the state must secure permission from the Legislature to sue the State, a costly, slow and unsatisfactory procedure.

The removal of power of pardon and parole from the hands of the Governor is provided in Amendment Number 4. It is strongly advocated by Governor James V. Allred, original sponsor of the bill. It creates a Board of Pardons and Paroles, to be composed of three members, one of whom would be appointed by the Governor; one by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and one by the Chief Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals. They will serve for six years each, one member's term expiring each two years. Under such arrangement, it would be impossible for one individual office to have complete control of the board. Power to grant one thirty-day reprieve is given the Governor in death cases, and he has the veto power on all recommendations, and he may revoke paroles and conditional pardons. In cases of treason the Governor has the power to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons with the advice and consent of the Legislature.

The wide scope of this amendment is indicated when it is brought to mind that at the present time the Governor has exclusive power to grant pardons, reprieves, paroles and all other forms of clemency. The result is that the Governor is required to hear thousands of appeals, and spend no little part of his official time in consideration of clemency matters. It is a duty and obligation that no Governor wishes to assume, and one which the people of the State should not impose upon one official.

The other three amendments are in a manner controversial. The first would establish a state monopoly of the liquor business; the fifth provides salary increases for the Governor and certain other State officials, and the final amendment provides for limited representation in the Legislature for the more populous counties in the State. The latter two have been endorsed in these columns previously; the liquor amendment will be discussed prior to election day.

But of the three, numbers 2, 3 and 4, there should be little difficulty in arriving at a decision. They are meritorious and deserve a favorable vote at the hands of Texans November 3.

Newspapers throughout the State will give endorsement to the nomination by Harry Schwenker, publisher of the Brady Standard, of Rufus F. Higgs, of Stephenville for a place on the State Highway Commission, soon to be vacated by D. K. Martin of San Antonio. And it is right that they should, for Mr. Higgs, publisher of the Stephenville Empire-Tribune, is one of the outstanding newspaper men of Texas, and one of the ablest business men to be found in any business or profession.

Higgs Is Nominated

We have no way knowing what might be in Governor Allred's mind regarding the appointment. Certainly geographically Mr. Higgs is entitled to consideration. Too long it has been a political fallacy that appointments should come from sections far removed from the center of the State. The result is that the vast area generally known as Central Texas seldom is represented on important boards and commissions. From a geographic standpoint, Mr. Higgs' appointment would be a recognition of an important sector of Texas.

But from every other standpoint, Mr. Higgs also is eminently acceptable. Capable and efficient as a business man, pleasant and agreeable in personality, keen analyst of facts, his presence would be a benefit to any commission, his appointment would reflect credit upon any Administration.

America is primarily a nation of "little businesses" — in spite of all the talk we hear concerning "big business." This is especially true of the retail field.

A Nation of Little Businesses

According to Dr. G. W. Dyer, Professor of Economics, Vanderbilt University, in 1929, there were 1,230,300 independent stores in existence and 141,598 chain stores. The independent stores employed more than 3,000,000 persons, while the chain stores employed over 900,000.

Exact figures are not available for later years, but it is the general consensus of opinion, based on various surveys, that the situation has not changed greatly. Chain systems have grown and expanded — and so have independent stores.

In no country in the world are there so many opportunities open to the little fellow as in the United States. Even during the depression, a host of small businesses, retail and manufacturing, were started and though the going was hard, many of them managed to pull through and are now on the way to prosperity. They are succeeding because they give good service — the small business can often "get jump" on big business by providing personal services that a large organization can not — and because they meet a public need.

ROTATION GRAZING IS IMPORTANT FOR RETAINING PASTURE

By R. R. LANCASTER
Extension Pasture Specialist
Intensive grazing in this section provides better forage for the stock and the less desirable species are utilized. The turf is evened and all plants get a better chance. The grass covering becomes more dense. However intensive grazing cannot be pursued year-long continuously.

One of the most necessary and important matters to be demonstrated in my judgment, is the preservation of the desirable species of pasture plants. A system of grazing designed to allow each division of a pasture to mature a crop for two successive years before it is harvested by cattle in the fall of each year is called rotation and deferred grazing. Grazing on each division is deferred and rotated so that each unit has an equal chance to produce a maximum crop normally before it is disturbed.

Such a system does not call for laying out a division for a whole year. It is doubtful if that would be helpful to the grasses and certainly it would be a loss to the owner. Each division would be grazed down conservatively some time during the year.

The seeds of the grasses which are scattered on the ground are aided in their planting by trampling of the cattle. This manner of reseeding is highly important in some sections, however, in this region where curly mesquite and buffalo grass predominate the advantage gained by reseeding is not as great as it would be in a bunch grass country. In this region the grasses would be restored after a number of years of controlled grazing.

The greatest advantage gained by rotation grazing is in the strengthening of the plants. Allowing the plants to mature a crop normally permits them to store up food in their root systems to aid in the production of the next year's crop. It is a well recognized botanical fact that the surest way to kill plants is to keep them from producing green shoots. The continual removal of the early green shoots in the spring or following drouth by grazing gradually reduces the vitality of the plants until they finally die. Some species are much more readily killed in this manner than others. This fact is well illustrated in the disappearance from the ranges of the original grasses that predominated here.

By following a system of intensive grazing in rotation, grazing each pasture conservatively short before changing to the next pasture, covers a yearly reserve of full grown grass in the last section. Drouth should be hedged against by accumulations of hay and preferably silage. With plenty of silage stored when feed is cheap it can be used when feed is high. Also by having reserves of feed the pasture is saved from destructive grazing during long drouths. Enough turf grass should be left to prevent erosion and to hold runoff water until it soaks into the soil.

All such improvement should be worked out on small demonstration pastures to the satisfaction of the stockman. Having satisfied himself of the value of pasture improvement of whatever kind he carries

INCALCULABLES ARE BIGGEST FACTOR IN PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Politics holds just about all the headlines now. The great day, November 3, is just ahead, and the candidates are making their big drives, the editorial writers are wearing out typewriter ribbons, the poll makers are busy 24 hours a day, and the political analysts are growing haggard seeking to forecast the winner.

It has been many a year since political analysis was so difficult—or so hazardous. Reason for this is that this year a great number of what are termed "political incalculables" have arisen. Those incalculables may make past precedents worthless.

For example, the old party lines may not have been broken, but they certainly have been badly bent. Outside of the South which is still overwhelmingly Democratic, and New England which is strongly Republican, matters are chaotic in the extreme. It used to be that the Republican candidate, even in close elections, could count on the far western states, with almost absolute certainty. Today the Pacific Coast states, along with several bordering states, are generally conceded to Mr. Roosevelt by unprejudiced observers.

It also used to be that Democratic candidates—dismissing campaigns, such as those of 1920 and 1924, in which the Republicans had the election clinched even before the nominations—could count on carrying some of the big seaboard industrial states. Today most polls show Roosevelt trailing in such states, and some think that he has a better chance to carry Pennsylvania, which has not cast its electoral vote for a Democrat in generations than New York and New Jersey.

Both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Landon are seeking to appeal to voters in all camps, are trying to make their campaigns as non-partisan as possible so far as old-time party divisions are concerned. That is also true of the platforms—the old Democratic plea for states' rights, etc., has been pretty well dropped, and the Republicans, who once stood for more centralized government are now standing for less centralized government.

One of the biggest "incalculables" is, how many voters have shifted their party allegiance in the last few years? In 1932, a number of leading Republicans deserted Hoover and came out for Roosevelt—and Hoover took one of the worst beatings in history. In 1936, a number of leading Democrats have deserted Roosevelt and come out for Landon—and everyone is speculating as to how many followers they can turn against the New Deal.

Most aggressive Democratic anti-New Dealer is Al Smith—it is felt in some quarters that his speeches denouncing the Administration may shift a vast number of votes. Ex-Senator Reed is another Democrat whose speeches opposing Roosevelt are more bitter even than those of the Republicans. A considerable list of other Jeffersonian Democrats who are following suit could be made. On the other hand, not all of the conservative Democrats have left the New Deal. Senator Glass, who is big a figure as we have in National politics, today, has announced that he will support Roosevelt, even though he is opposed to most Administration policies. Reasons: He feels that if Roosevelt is re-elected, Democratic Senators will reassert their independence, will not have to unceremoniously obey White House orders, because the President cannot run again. Another Jeffersonian Democrat who will speak for the President is Secretary of State Hull, a cabinet member who has constantly grown in prestige ever since his appointment.

However, it is beyond argument that the defection of old-line Democrats from New Deal ranks is worrying the heads of the party. So is the defection of old line Democratic newspapers such as the Baltimore Sun and the St. Louis Post Dispatch. And so is the defection of prominent publicists who were for Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 and are for Mr. Landon now, of whom Walter Lippman is the most prominent.

All the polls, though most of them show Roosevelt leading, show that many voters who were for him in 1932 are against him now. That is natural—in that year, the Republican ranks were the thinnest in recent history. But the polls show also that there are some voters who voted for Hoover in 1932 who will vote for Roosevelt this year.

So this vastly important "incalculable" is the biggest topic of thought now. It is so important that Frank Kent has written that it is all there is to the campaign—that if there are enough anti-New Deal Democrats who will switch to Landon he will win; if there are not, Mr. Roosevelt's reelection is a certainty.

Editor, Banner: I see an article in the press depicting the great waste of drinking liquor, but not one word about the use of tobacco.

I believe that the Creator put everything on this earth for a wise and beneficent purpose. Sin comes by perversion and excess. I like the taste of wine, beer and whiskey. I also am fond of honey, jam and syrup, but I always knew better than to take on a gallon of either at one sitting; consequently, I have never been drunk or eaten enough of anything to make me sick. I abominate tobacco, but my family, with one exception, and 95% of my friends use it, and if there be any virtue in the stuff, I get it like my dear mother used to give me my baths, willy nilly.

I have inhaled a thousand or so good smokes; been thoroughly sprayed with amber, had my eyes, ears and nose filled with snuff, been smoked a beautiful herring brown, and been nauseated by the sight of public spittoons. Sometimes if I should be so unfortunate as to have an attack of biliousness and feel real low in spirit, I will write and uplifting article upon "Some Spittoons I Have Met."

However, being a cheerful and optimistic cuss, I will continue in the role of a sacrificial goat, upon the altar of personal freedom. The tobacco barons long ago enslaved the male population, but

Champ to Appear at Exposition

Carnation Ormsby Butter King, world's most famous cow, will appear at the National Dairy Show from her $2,500 aluminum throne at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas Oct. 19. The show will continue until Oct. 18. Jackie Cooper of movie fame places a crown on the champion after she established a double world's record for milk and butter at production.

what aroused my ire and causes me to write this is the alarming and insidious campaign inaugurated by the tobacco barons to enslave and exploit the female of the specie. I read anything and everything, but have never heard the least rumble of protest from press, pulpit or medical fraternity. All are as silent as the Sphinx!

There is my old family physician whom I love as a dad. I say, "See here, doc, how about the baneful effects of tobacco on the human system?" He squirms and twists and looks as guilty as a Hoover democrat trying to explain how he got that way, and says, "Now, now, son, you know I use it myself, and can't say a word." Doc is honest, he is.

Then one day I came home and picked up a copy of my favorite journal for which I subscribed for 42 years, and whose escutcheon, during all of these years, has been as stainless and white as the driven snow. But now, alas, I see the publications have succumbed to the lure of filthy lucre.

Ab, yes, there is the ad in dozen houses, two poodle dogs, no babies, and no home. She recommends the kind of cigarette in which there "isn't a sneeze in a carload."

Then Mrs. Highfalute, who is badly in need of a "lift" or maybe her "digestion" is badly damaged from going through several divorce courts and worrying about alimony. She stands up for the kind of alfalfa that soothes the nerves.

Then there is the one in which the sweet young thing is surrounded by gallant young gentlemen, perfunctory willing to sacrifice one for great cause. Ah, it is a terrible ordeal for one so young and fair, but she looks long and deeply into Reggy's soulful blue eyes and "reach-ers" for the right kind. She gets the right kind of coffin nail. Ye gods!

Really, it is deplorable that these prominent women should use their beauty and the glamor of their wealth and position to induce some impressionable child or girl in her teens to take up the cigarette habit. If a boy has a good, healthy, motherly, he has a chance in the world no matter what kind of billie coat daddy he might have. But God pity future generations if the mothers are to acquire the vicious and filthy habits of the male herd.

I have a preacher friend whom I love, and who I think will go to heaven when he dies if anyone does. He and I are at a gathering of his special brand of saints. We are on the same committee and are hurrying away to a nice quiet spot I am just about to get around to where we can confer in peace and the subject of tobacco.

Good old Walt! He'll tell 'em all about it! About that time he says, "Gee whizz! I'm about to starve for a chew of tobacco." He pulls out a thick cut and cuts off a big hunk that would knock out any mile goat in Texas, stuffs it in his jaw, heaves a deep sigh of contentment and makes a direct center of a knot hole at 10 feet!

I am so flabbergasted that I just ease off into a discussion of the downfall of old Adam or the final preservation of the saints or something. Good old Walt wants me to give up whiskey, beer, wine and cussing, but he wouldn't give up that old Brown Cow chawin' tobacco if he knew St. Peter would kick him down the golden stairs and slam the door on him!

DONATIONS NEEDED TO CARRY ON WORK OF WELFARE BOARD

Chas. B. Palmer, member of the Brown County Board of Welfare, this week issued a statement calling upon the people of Brownwood and Brown county to be more liberal in donations and pledges for the work of the board.

The statement follows: As a member of the Brown county Board of Welfare, I think it right and proper at this time to again call to the public's attention the condition of our people in distress. We are called upon daily for help for the sick, the aged, and others in sore need, and have to refuse even a little assistance on account of a lack of funds. Our budgets as set up some time ago contemplated a need for a short time of some of those eligible for old age pensions, but we find that so few of our aged that were on direct relief or clients of the county have received their checks, that the calls from them are added to our burdens. We have tried in every way to that the County and the City of Brownwood were solving their limit with funds available, and that all donations or monthly pledges would go directly to the needy with out one penny of administrative expense.

Many good people in Brownwood have responded in a great way, and it is very gratifying to the welfare board that such is the case as the Board is riving of their time and money that we may carry on. I am sorry that up to this time I have failed to hear of any money coming from the rural areas or small towns of the county. I fail to hear of funds being raised by any clubs, societies, or churches in these communities, yet we have requested a number of times that this be done. There is not a day passes without having calls from these communities through some individual or group for aid for some one in distress, and the time is at hand when we must say, "Sorry," but no funds," regardless of the distress that a little money might alleviate pain or even save a life.

I have never seen a time until now that our people have failed to do all they could but such is the case. I know that the communities of Bangs, May, Blanket, Thrifty, Brooksmith and Zephyr and all the rest of the county should be willing and ready to at least contribute to the amount necessary for their respective communities, and I am persuaded to believe that where given the opportunity by some local organization that they will respond in a liberal way on a monthly basis. We find that there are many people in Brownwood who through oversight or otherwise have failed to heed the call of the sick and aged neighbor in distress. The policy of this Welfare Board is to help only those who are aged and sick and cannot work.

About 275 families representing about 1000 persons are receiving aid through this Board, and of that number about 100 families must have a monthly allowance of cash and yet at this date we have received some $250 to care for all these people in October.

There are heart rending calls for drugs and medical aid from people who are dying from the want of the same, and yet we must tell them that the people have failed to respond to our calls. I feel sure that our people have not stopped to consider this serious matter, and I will not believe that the people in Brown county will sit idly by and see good people suffer and die for the bare necessities of life in this land of plenty, but such is the case now and will continue as long as nine-tenths of the people depend upon the other one-tenth to give all the money and carry your burden, and at the same time deprive you of your privilege that God has given you of doing what you can for your unfortunate neighbor.

I still say that we can do this job.

Turkey Market Will Be Active

Market for turkeys, which opens November 7, is forecast to be an active one, with an anticipated bumper crop in spite of setbacks caused by poor growing conditions this year.

Local dealers state that growers may expect a good price for their fowls and at least 60 carloads of the birds are to be shipped from Brownwood during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons. The latter opens early in December and will continue until about the middle of the month.
