PAID THE PRICE

All Clarendon mourns with the families of these two boys, who have given their lives for our liberty, and we take off our hats in sincere honor and appreciation of the brave and noble boys of our town who have given their all. Juddie Dingler, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Dingler and who is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKillop. This splendid young man gave up his life from wounds received at Atiny on Oct. 8th.

Roy Boswell, son of Mrs. F. C. Whipple, died Oct. 14th from wounds he received on Oct. 8th. He went with the Amarillo boys and Juddie Dingler went with our boys.

Alec Noack, son of J. E. Noack while operating a hay press last week caught one of his feet in the machinery and is at present confined to his bed, however, we learn that he will be up in a couple of weeks.

Miss Mattie Montgomery, who has been at the Adair Hospital the past week with the flu was returned to her home Sunday, and is reported as doing nicely.

MR. AND MRS. B. NOACK VICTIMS OF INFLUENZA

Mrs. Bernhard Noack died at the Adair Hospital, Thursday evening December 5th, and her death was soon followed by her husband's, Bernhard Noack, who passed away last Saturday morning, Dec. 14th.

The whole family, father, mother and their three children, had fallen ill with the influenza. They considered themselves fairly over their sickness when of a sudden their temperature began to rise, and their condition seemed to grow worse. They called the doctor, who ordered them to the hospital at once. Tuesday afternoon Dec. 3rd, the ambulance was sent for them to their home, some three miles south of town. They were hurried to the hospital where proper attention could be given them. The following day the mother had her baby girl taken to J. E. Noack's, in whose care the child now remains. Thursday morning the mother fell into a delirium from which she never recovered until death claimed its victim that same evening at 6:20 o'clock. Her body was placed to rest in the Citizens Cemetery. Her husband, though very low, remained conscious or semi-conscious for nearly a week after her death. On Thursday of last week all hopes for his recovery were abandoned and Saturday morning at 9:45 he also succumbed. Sunday afternoon he was laid beside his life-long companion. Rev. J. H. Kollmeyer, Lutheran pastor, officiated at both burials.

Three children, one son and two daughters, aged one, five and eleven years, mourn the loss of their parents. May the Lord be their comfort for the present, and their Guardian and Protector in the future!

Besides their children, Mrs. Noack, nee Kantz, is survived by two brothers, one of whom, Mr. Fred Kaatz, is a well known citizen of Donley County.

Both of our departed friends were in the prime of life, she being 33 years, 4 months and 3 days of age, and his being 38 years, 11 months and 21 days. May the Lord keep their bodies unto a blessed resurrection, and comfort the bereaved with His bountiful grace.—Contributed on special request of The Clarendon News.

NEWS OF DONLEY CO. SOLDIER BOYS

The News has compiled herewith newsy paragraphs giving news of the Clarendon boys who have already been discharged from army service, and of those in America who are expected home soon:

Lieut. Joe Burton returned home Monday morning from Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., and will visit through the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Burton and many friends. Lieut. Burton volunteered his services over a year ago, entering the second officers training school at Leon Springs, from which he received his commission, and was sent to Camp Gordon, where he has since been stationed as an instructor in an infantry regiment. He is one of the four Burton boys who volunteered in the early days of the war, all, however, are in France except Joe.

George Stocking, who enlisted in the aviation service in January, 1918, was called to active service in June, going to Camp Dick, Dallas, from which place he was transferred in July to the school of Military Aeronautics at Princeton, N. J., and graduated from this department in October. He was again transferred to the school of fire at Fort Monroe, Va., and later was to finish a seven weeks' course in artillery observation, which would have entitled him to a commission in the air service, but when the armistice was signed he secured his discharge. Mr. Stocking, since returning home has accepted the position as superintendent of the Clarendon public schools. He has two brothers who are across, Jerome being in France, and Dr. Fred Stocking is in Siberia.

Paul P. Stead will reach home the last of the week from Ellington Field, Houston, where he has been in the aerial service the past few months.

Seldon Bagby has received his discharge from the mechanical school at Camp Mabry and after a visit with relatives at Clarksville, will return home.

Gurtis Moore is again home, having his discharge from Camp Mabry, where he was attending the mechanical school.

Lieut. D. Allen Baker, another Clarendon boy, who has been in the army for some months, anticipates reaching here within the next few days. He enlisted with the Seventh Texas Infantry, later known as H. Company of the Thirty-Sixth, spending some time training at Camp Bowie. In the summer he was chosen to attend the officers training school at Camp Pike, Ark., at which place he received his commission. He was then assigned to Camp Perry, O., where he attended the Small Arms Firing school. At the time of his discharge he was stationed at Camp Pike as instructor in Military Hygiene.

Sergeant Herbert Baker informs friends that he will be home soon, and hopes to be with them Christmas. Since his enlistment he has been connected with the Personnel Department at Camp Travis.

Paul P. Stead, who formerly lived in Clarendon and who is known by a majority of our people, will be home at Groom shortly. He finished the School of Military Aeronautics at Austin and was transferred to Ellington Field at Houston and would have received his commission in a few weeks.

Irving SoRelle, son of W. A. SoRelle and wife, returned last Thursday from Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky., where he has been attending the officers training school, but when the armistice was signed the school was discontinued and those in attendance discharged. After the holiday visit with his parents and friends he will resume his school duties at A. and M. at which institution he was a student before his call to the colors.

La Verne Smith, the son of Mrs. Victor Smith, who resides in South Clarendon, arrived home last Friday from Austin where he has been a member of the S. A. T. C. naval detachment at State University. Before entering he was an employee of The News office.

Lloyd Stallings reached home last Tuesday and is enjoying a visit with

STOCKHOLDERS NOTICE

The stockholders of the First National Bank of Clarendon, Texas, will meet in the office of the bank the first Tuesday in January, 1919, the same being the seventh day of the month, for the election of directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

W. H. PATRICK, President.

R. W. Harvey left Monday morning for Duncan, Okla., to attend the bedside of his brother-in-law, C. F. Frensey, who is very ill with influenza. Mr. Frensey has visited in Clarendon often and his friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

JANUARY STOCK SHOW IN DENVER A GREAT EVENT

The board of directors of the Western Stock Show association have decided that the next National Western Stock Show, which opens in Denver on January 18, is to be known as the "Victory Stock Show". It is planned to make it the greatest event that has ever been held in Denver. Additional space has been secured for the show thru the lease of the big three-story horse barn across the street from the show buildings and Lafayette street in front of the show will be closed to public traffic and included within the show. By this method it is expected that all of the exhibits can be successfully taken care of.

The directors report that the outlook for exhibits at the coming show is the best of any previous year. All departments will be filled to overflowing, and it is expected that there will be a gathering of stockmen from Colorado and adjoining states and from all over the west; in fact, that it will be greater than any previous exhibition.

In connection with the Stock Show the annual convention of the American National Livestock association will be held and plans are being made for a great mass meeting of stockmen at which government officials will undertake to explain to the stockmen what the post-war demand for live stock and agricultural products will be during the coming year and for some time to come. Heretofore these meetings of stockmen have been held for the purpose of informing government officials regarding conditions. At this meeting government officials who have been in Europe investigating will tell stockmen what they have found out.

Plans are being matured on a large scale for one of the greatest live stock and agricultural exhibitions ever held in the west. It will be a time to celebrate and Denver will be wide open during the week.

"FATHER'S LETTERS"

Many Clarendon fathers are now wearing unusually happy smiles this week, due to the fact that they have been recipients of letters from their sons across the seas. These letters were written on November 24, and arrived here Sunday night and Monday. This date was specially designated for all the boys, "Over There" to write to their "Dads", sending them Christmas cheer. One boy wrote that they were told every day is "Mother's Day," but that Nov. 24th, was to be "Father's Day".

Uncle Sam took particular interest in these letters, rushing them right through, that each letter might be received by Christmas. On the envelope of each letter was written "Dad's Xmas Letter".

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIPS IN SUNNYVIEW DISTRICT

The Sunnyview School District was divided into halves in the Annual Red Cross membership drive and so far as the committee is able to learn, the northern half of this splendid community is the first to complete their quota and work. From the accompanying list it appears that the membership is unanimous, and too much praise cannot be accorded the workers and citizens of this district for their fine showing and patriotic spirit. W. D. Van Eaton says that if every community in Donley County does as well as these good people, the membership roll in the county will run around seven thousand. The challenge is out—let's see who can beat it.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County, GREETING: You are hereby commanded to summon by causing to be published in some newspaper as the law requires, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court of Donley County, Texas, at Clarendon in said county and state on Monday, January 13, 1919, the first day of the January Term of said Court, then and there to answer the petition of Sam Fringer's petition filed in said Court on the 9th day of December, 1918; the Docket Number of said suit being No. 1020, and the defendants being the parties here named for summon: O. B. Haskett, widow, Alta Mae H. Tyler and her husband, John Tyler, Allie Belle H. McKnight, Verda Lee H. Pamton, and her husband, Wm. Pamton, Elford Elizabeth Hasket, Jessie Barnett Haskett, Ruffie S. Haskett, Frank S. Haskett, Lessie W. Haskett, Ralph L. Haskett, Luella M. Haskett, Margurite Haskett, and the unknown heirs of J. D. Haskett, deceased, and S. F. Anderson.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand is as follows: Plaintiff says that J. D. Haskett died August 9th, 1913; that O. B. Haskett was his wife; that during marriage relations they acquired title to all of the M. A. Hardin 160-acre pre-emption survey in Donley Co., Texas; that same was so owned in community at the time of his death; that the deceased died intestate; that no administration was had upon his estate; that none can be had; that O. B. Haskett of right own one-half of said land; that there was no other estate belonging to deceased except his interest in said land; that the land was never worthy more than $1500.00; that the surviving wife paid the expenses of the last illness and interment of deceased out of her separate estate; that after the payment of last said amount, $400.00, the community estate was of a value not exceeding $1000.00; that the survivor received no allowance for the maintenance of herself and the children of deceased for the first year; that the said Alta, Allie and Verda are the three married daughters of deceased; that all the other defendants except O. B. Haskett and Anderson are the minor children of deceased; that there were eleven children and no more; that deceased moiety in said community was insufficient to maintain herself and children for one year; that all said children were minors at death of deceased, and that the survivor maintained all for more than three years; that by virtue of this fact the said O. B. Haskett was in equity the owner of the entire estate; that in November, 1918, she conveyed the entire tract of land above said to plaintiff by warranty deed; that the said Anderson sets up some sort of claim to said lands the nature of which is unknown to plaintiff, which assertion beclouds plaintiff's title; that the want of proof of death and heirship; the want of administration of said estate; the want of the vestiture of legal title to said lands in his vendor beclouds his title, and praying for a decree declaring the title to said lands to have been vested in the said O. B. Haskett at the time of said conveyance, and annulling all claims of the said Anderson, and for general relief.

Of this writ, make due return in season as the law provides showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court at Clarendon, Texas, this 9th day of December, 1918.

W. E. BRAY, Clerk of The District Court of Donley County, Texas. By I. V. Andrews, Deputy.

RED CROSS CALLED ON TO CONTINUE ITS WORK INDEFINITELY

CHAPTERS AND BRANCHES WILL BE CENTERS IN EACH COMMUNITY FOR GIVING AID TO DISTRESSED HUMANITY.

ACTIVITIES NOT CURTAILED

Membership Campaign Each Christmas Will Be Means of Calling Americans Together to Show Spirit of Love.

Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the War Council of the Red Cross, has issued to the 3,854 chapters and the 22,000,000 members of the American Red Cross the following statement outlining the future policy of the American Red Cross:

"The whole American people will be invited in the week preceding Christmas to enroll as members of the Red Cross. It is confidently believed there will be no further campaigns for Red Cross funds, but instead the annual roll call will constitute the foundation of the Red Cross. The people should therefore know as definitely as possible the plans of this their national humanitarian society.

"Since the armistice was signed I have had an opportunity to confer in Paris with the heads of all American Red Cross commissions in Europe, and later, in Washington, with the President of the United States, the War Council of the Red Cross, the managers of the 14 Red Cross divisions of the United States and with the heads of our departments at national headquarters. I am, therefore, able to speak now with knowledge and assurance in saying that the beneficent work of the American Red Cross is to go forward on a great scale—not alone, as heretofore, for purposes of relief of war, but as an agency of peace and permanent-human service.

"Since America's entry into war the purpose of our Red Cross has been primarily to aid our army and navy in the care of our own men under arms, and, secondly, to extend relief to the soldiers, sailors and civilians of those nations which were fighting our battles along with their own. With the funds which have been so generously contributed by the American people this war work of the Red Cross will continue and be complete with all possible sympathy and energy.

"Wherever our soldiers and sailors be, the Red Cross will stay with them until they are demobilized. Nothing which we may do will be left undone, either. For the men in the war zone, for those returning, for those in the camps and hospitals or for their families at home the Red Cross will continue its ministrations. In this latter effort 50,000 trained Red Cross workers are now engaged at 2,500 different places throughout the land.

"The problems of reconstruction, involving feeding and caring for the distressed civilian population of Europe, are of such magnitude that necessarily they must be met very largely by the governments of our allies, with whom our own government will co-operate.

"The great task of fighting tuberculosis, promoting child welfare and caring for refugees, with which the American Red Cross has concerned itself so effectively in France, Italy and Belgium, will at an early date be assumed by the governments, the Red Cross organizations and the relief societies of those countries, which, now that they are released from the terrific burden of waging war, naturally desire to take care, as far as they can, of their own people.

"The war program of the American Red Cross will thus steadily and rapidly merge itself into a peace program. The wake of war will, however, reveal the prevalence of disease and give rise to epidemics and emergencies which in all parts of the world will call for unlimited voluntary effort, the cutting of red tape and the manifestation of those qualities of human sympathy which government action cannot display.

"Here will be the opportunity for the American Red Cross. But even our Red Cross must not and cannot act most effectively alone; we must labor in co-operation with the National Red Cross and relief societies of other nations, to the end that not alone the heart of America but the heart of all mankind may be mobilized on behalf of suffering humanity.

"While, therefore, the plans of the American Red Cross in this direction cannot be formulated specifically, in advance of the general relief program of the Allied governments, the American Red Cross is nevertheless planning to develop its permanent organization in this country upon a scale never before contemplated in time of peace.

"The commissions which are now conducting the activities of the American Red Cross in foreign countries, as well as the temporary war organization in this country, will as a matter of course ultimately merge their energies with those of the permanent organization of the Red Cross.

"With the war has developed the striking and important fact that many men and women, some of whom have met with great success in devoting their lives entirely to business, came into the Red Cross organization at the outset of the war simply that they might serve their country, but have realized such a satisfaction to themselves in the opportunity to serve mankind that they now desire to become a part of the permanent peace organization of the American Red Cross.

"There may, therefore, be perfect confidence that the peace activities of the Red Cross will be conducted under able and inspiring leadership. The chapters will maintain their organizations upon a scale adequate to the new demands to be made upon them. Local committees will indeed appreciate more and more the value of having in their midst strong and efficient Red Cross chapters. The divisional organizations, with honorary and permanent staffs, will be maintained, always ready for service, and national headquarters will have a large and efficient personnel to direct the activities of the organization as a whole.

"Study is being given by the national organization not alone to problems of international relief, but to plans in this country for enlarged home service, the promotion of public health education, development of nursing, the care and prevention of accidents, and other correlated lines which may contribute to the health and happiness of men, women and children. Such plans, when developed, will, it is believed, provide both for world relief and for home community service and thus constitute a channel for the continued and useful expression by Red Cross workers and members of those qualities of sympathy and love which our whole people have poured out so unstintedly during this war.

"For the completion of its war work and for the institution of its peace program, the Red Cross is fortunately in a healthy financial condition. Abundant occasion for the use of large funds of money and great quantities of garments and other supplies will continue to arise, but it is believed that there will be no further need for intensive campaigns for funds. The work of supplementing governmental activities which the Red Cross will be called upon to do in all parts of the world will be upon a great scale, but it will call for human service rather than for large expenditures.

"What the American Red Cross needs now is not so much contributions of money as the continued devotion and loyalty of its members. This is peculiarly true at this moment of transition from war to peace. Annual membership involves the payment of only one dollar. The money thus received not only will defray all the administrative expenses of the organization, but will leave it a substantial balance which, together with all funds subscribed directly for relief, is devoted solely to that purpose.

"The roll call of the nation is thus to be called at Christmas time, that through enrollment in their Red Cross the American people may send a message to our soldiers still overseas and to the people of the world that we are not merely content with seeing our arms united with our allies in victory, but that our abiding purpose is that the love, the sympathy and the intelligence of all America shall be rededicated to the permanent service of mankind."

RED CROSS IN THIS DIVISION ALWAYS HAS SET THE PACE

Simmons, Pointing to Remarkable Record, Says He Hopes People in This Section Will Maintain Place in Front.

George W. Simmons, manager for the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross, in a statement given out today said that he hoped the Southwestern Division would continue to set the pace in Red Cross activities.

"In the past we have compelled the other Red Cross divisions to follow us, and I hope we will be able to say that we have an unbroken record as the leading division of the country when the calling of the roll is completed," said Mr. Simmons.

"The people of Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma have in the past nobly responded to all the calls of the Red Cross, and in this membership campaign to be held during the week of Dec. 16-23 I hope the response will be similar to that in the past.

"Will it not be a great achievement if every resident of the division joins the organization? It will mean that for all time we can point to the five states as being 100 per cent loyal to its promises and pledges in both war and peace.

"The Red Cross must continue to give comfort and cheer to the soldiers and sailors overseas and those in the camps in America.

"While the Red Cross will continue to aid the stricken of Europe, we must not neglect preparation for the care of our own people should an emergency arise.

"The women of the five states have given their time to making surgical dressings, refugee garments and to knitting thousands of articles given soldiers and sailors and the poor of Europe by the organization, and to fail to answer the roll call at this time would reflect on their generous efforts.

"It does not appear necessary, for me, as manager of this great institution in this great division, to appeal to the people in this division to join, because I feel convinced they will respond. I merely ask that the loyal supporters of the organization—the men, women and children who have made the work of the Red Cross possible—set forth the facts to their friends, so that when the membership campaign period is over we can call to the attention of the world that every resident of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma is a member of America's greatest institution."

AMERICAN SOLDIERS LIKE THE FRENCH GIRLS

For the benefit of the young ladies of Donley County who have "friends" wearing the uniform of Uncle Sam over in France, The News feels that it would not be amiss to reproduce the following expressed attitude of the average American boy in France. It was printed in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Sunday and gives some interesting views upon the characteristics of the French maid.

"There is treason in the American Army abroad, girls!

The fact has been revealed thru the Army Edition of a French paper just received in Fort Worth. This paper requested American soldiers to state which they preferred, the French or American girl.

Private W. V. Harris, Base Hospital, No. 22, writes: "I would like to state that from the past experiences I have found the French girls more thoughtful, more agreeable and more attentive than the American girls. In other words, the maids of France are paramount."

Another American soldier declares that "it is my opinion that of the majority of friends I have spoken to that the girls over here are just a little more worried about the boys than the girls back home. It can't be made as a general statement, because there are a few exceptional lovers who can't forget the girls back home, but who, nine chances out of ten, have been forgotten by them.

"The French girl is purely feminine in all her ways and looks, which is the thing most of our girls pride themselves on getting away from with the result that they are neither feminine nor masculine, but a crude mixture of both. And this condition is usually brought about by their constant desire to do something that boys are doing or something that may get them in the Sunday edition or the Daily Scream.

"For instance, while my friend who is a French girl and I were out for a little walk, I suggested that we have dinner and mentioned one of the leading hotels. She immediately suggested that there was no need to spend the extra money py is a loveable trait. It does not occur to the French girl that she is sacrificing her own dignity when she sacrifices her own desires. It seems natural to her to be always looking for the good in a person. Goodness alone impresses her making her blind to the bad.

"Too large a percentage of our American girls are pleasure seekers, who give the good time of the fleeting moment permanent value. Though apt to be generous in small things, in large things they are usually selfish.

"If American girls would copy the French in their habit of making much out of little, both in dress and managing the household, a great step will be taken toward the decrease of unhappy marriages."

Another soldier likes the French girl because she makes him save his money. He writes: "From experience I have found the French girls more agreeable than the American girls, more thoughtful and more attentive than the average American girl.

"For instance, while my friend who is a French girl and I were out for a little walk, I suggested that we have dinner and mentioned one of the leading hotels. She immediately suggested that there was no need to spend the extra money for a meal which could be obtained for less money, service and food being the same.

Another soldier lad writes: "No doubt, the American soldier has spent several francs with the French girl and she could have no other thought but a good one. At the same time I can't see any extra work they have done, not more than we deserve.

"I am a true American and don't believe in mixed affairs. I will lift my hat just now, but lower it soon and prepare to lift it again on my return to my true American girl, as I know she is. I am over here to do my bit and not to forget the ones I love."

W. R. SILVEY RESIGNS SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENCY

The retirement of Supt. W. R. Silvey from the Clarendon Public Schools marks the close of a continuous service of twenty-four years in the school work. This record has few equals if any in the State of Texas. During this period the public schools of Clarendon have developed from a school of seven grades to a school of eleven grades ranking in Class A of the affiliated schools of the state.

The graduates of the public school are filling positions of honor and trust in the various walks of life throughout the Panhandle. Some of them have written their names high up among the leading business and professional men of the state. In college work, many of them have distinguished themselves.

Supt. Silvey found the public school housed in a five room wooden building, he leaves it occupying two splendid brick buildings, the new high school building being among the most modern in Texas.

The schools of Clarendon have always been the pride of the city. The public school has always ranked among the best in the state, therefore it has been one of the strong factors in the growth and development of Clarendon. To this fact may justly be attributed the splendid loyal citizenship that has always stood for the best ideals in education.

Supt. Silvey has not fully decided just what line of endeavor will claim his attention, but whatever it may be, he will continue to be very much interested in the progress of the public school.

To his friends who number legion he extends greetings for their loyal support during a long and arduous service as teacher, and The News knows he bespeaks for the new administration the same spirit of co-operation that has been given to him. He expects to continue as a citizen of Clarendon and Donley County for years to come.

The News is sorry that Supt. Silvey deems it wise to sever his relations with our schools, but as he retires with the consciousness of duties well performed, we hope he really understands the feeling of gratitude in evidence among our people here in Clarendon where his faithful service will never be forgotten and where his conception of efficiency and service will long remain the accepted standard.

T. E. WOMACK DIES

Thomas Edward Womack, aged 33 years, son of W. A. Womack of this city died last Friday evening at Cisco, Texas, after a brief illness. He was taken with the influenza and soon developed a case of pneumonia. The mother was at his bedside when he died as was also his wife, but the father failed to reach there until after he died. The remains reached here Sunday morning and were taken to the home of W. A. Womack, from which place the funeral took place at 4 p. m. Revs. Gardner and Morgan conducted the services. A goodly number of citizens and friends of the family were present. The deceased had been in the employ of an oil company for some time. He had never resided in this city, but had several acquaintances as well as relatives here. There were present here the following relatives from elsewhere: J. M. Womack, of Greenville, brother of W. A. Womack; also J. L. Womack and wife of Amarillo, brother of the deceased; J. M. Warren and wife of Clarendon, parents of Mrs. T. E. Womack; Ray Warren and wife and Jim Warren and wife of Clarendon. Earl and Wilson Ballew, Will, John and Harvey Lott and each of their wives of Clarendon, C. W. Talley and wife of Clarendon. The Herald extends most profound and heartfelt sympathy to the parents, widow and relatives. —Hall County Herald.

Fredrick Becton, who has been attending Clarendon College the past school session, was stricken recently with the flu, from which developed pneumonia. He was taken to Adair Hospital, where he received the best of attention, but despite all he passed away from this life Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. That night the remains were shipped to his home at Becton, Texas, for interment. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Becton, were with him during his illness and returned Sunday evening accompanied by Prof. L. E. Gribble. The News extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved father, mother and friends.

and Mrs. Callie Murphy during the holidays. He is attending Kemper school at Booneville, Mo.

Friends will be pleased to receive news of their young friend Lieut. W. H. Cooke, Jr., who writes his parents that he has re-enlisted in the navy for another year. However, he hopes to visit here in a short while. Lieutenant Cooke has made a splendid record in his military career which had its beginning when he volunteered with H Company, organized and commanded by Captain E. A. Simpson, and trained at Camp Bowie. He ranked as a non-commissioned officer while there, and this summer was selected to attend an officers training school at Jacksonville, Fla., from which he graduated in a few weeks, and received his commission. He was sent to New York, where he now has his headquarters with the navy. He has made several trips across.

Parke E. Chamberlain, until the signing of the armistice was an instructor in the auto mechanic school, Camp Mabry, Austin. He is home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Chamberlain. The holidays he will spend in Dallas visiting friends. Lon Browder is one of our first boys to return from overseas. Though in service only a short while abroad, he relates some very interesting experiences. He was connected with a hospital unit.

TEUTONISM TRIMMED TO A "T"

You may say what you like of what won the war, and maybe the debate will go on for a hundred years, but the fact remains that the following caustic arraignment of Teutonism appeared on November the 9th, and the Germans signed the armistice on the 11th. Facts are facts and anybody can draw his own conclusions. This remarkable document is the work of Mr. Chas. Dutton, of Montclair, N. J., and it appeared in the Montclair Times. Mr. Dutton is eighty-one years old, yet is ranked as among the best corporation auditors in New York City. In the following essay he achieved the task of writing a complete essay on "Teutonism", using no word that did not begin with the letter "t". The essay is as follows:

Truthful thinkers turning their thoughts to these troublesome times trace the tributary terrors to Teutonism.

To test this theorem the teller tersely tells this tragic tale, the truthful tale.

The Teutons turn their thought to treachery, to trickery, to tyranny.

They transmit these three thought types to transactions that testify to the truth that these triplicate Teutonic traits transcend the Turk's topmost tyrannous thought.

Technically, the Teutons themselves think, tho truthfully told 'tis the Teutonic throne that thinks.

The tenantry, the throne's tools, trundle to the throne thought.

Tenantry talk takes the throne talk trajectory; the throne threateningly talks; the tenantry timidly talk; these twin talks tally.

The Teutonic throne, thru their typographical text, through their Tageblatt, tells the tenantry that their Teutonic traditions, their technical training, their tremendous trade, their theocratic theories, their trained troops thoroughly testify to their tenable Teutonic transcendancy.

This tirade, toothsome to themselves, they trumpet to those territories that the Teutons tabu, tho to the transatlantic territory they temper their threatening tone.

The transmarine territory's transactions tantalized the Teutonic throne; therefore, to tame these taunting Tommies, the Teutons traversed the thrifty tract 'twixt the two territories.

There their troops thronged the termed towns; they trampled the tillage; they tore to tatters the tenements, throwing the tenants to the tempest; they torpedoed the temples, turning tablettes to tinder; they terrified the toddling tots; they trailed the traditional Tophet through the thoroughfares.

The Teuton's tyrannical treatment terminated the tattered territory's tolerance; that the Teutons termed timidity.

They tackled the trampling troops; their terrific thrusts thwarted the Teutons' trespassing till the territories, tolerant till then, took to themselves the task to turn the tyrannous tide.

Together toiled the transmarine, the transcontinental, the transmontane, the transatlantic territories; together they took their turn trumping the Teutonic trick.

The tricky treaties tempted the Tzar's territories to turn their thought to themselves, the ties tightened that tied the trustworthy territories together.

They taxol their treasures; they tested their thrift; they trained their troops to trigger tactics; they toughened them to trench terrors; they taught them to trail their titanic tanks through the tangled terrain.

Those thoroughly tested they tutored to tower the thunderclouds; to trace the terra topograpa; to tackle the Taubes; to torpedo their targets through the tree-tops.

Thousands tendered their time, their talents, themselves, to tend tattered troops, to treat torn tissue.

Then transports, tripling the tonnage, took these thousands times thousands to the trenches to test the Teutonic trumpeted transcendancy.

There they'll tarry till the Teutonic throne tumbles.

Trust these tireless thoroughbreds—trust their traditional tenor, their true trend, their typical tact, their tested tenacity.

Trust them to transform Teutonic thought; to turn turmoil to tranquility; to trammel treaty trickery; to thwart the treacherous threatenings to Teutonize this teetrestial.

Thoroughly trust them to terminate Teutonism's tiniest trace.

They'll taintlessly, totally triumph.—Literary Digest.

RETIRED LIVE STOCK DEALER TESTIFIES

Joe Therrell Says There Is Something Unusual About Tanlac—Gained Thirty-Five Pounds In Weight.

"There is bound to be something unusual about Tanlac to make a man of my age gain thirty-five pounds and feel like he is made over again," said Joe E. Therrell, a retired live stock dealer living at Del Rio, Texas.

"I am seventy years old and I hadn't been free from suffering in five years until I started taking this Tanlac," he continued. "I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat swelled me up with gas until I would be miserable for hours afterward and would get so dizzy I would almost fall, at times. I was badly constipated, my legs hurt awfully and my back ached until I could hardly straighten up when I would bend over. I tried everything I could get hold of and kept getting worse until I almost gave up hope of ever being able to do any more work."

"I have taken five bottles of Tanlac so far and have not only gained thirty-five pounds in weight, but I feel brimful of life and energy and am stronger and better than I have been for years. I have told everybody I know what Tanlac has done for me and I know of at least a dozen people who are now taking Tanlac after seeing what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Clarendon by Stocking's Store; in Hedley by J. F. Tomlinson Drug Co.; and in Jericho by O. C. Brown.

"HIT THE TRAIL WITH YOUR W.S.S. PLEDGE MONEY," "BILLY" SUNDAY

W. A. Sunday
Pastor 37.

"Come on, Texas! Hit the trail with your dollars! Don't wait until the last day to get that Government note off your hands!"

This is Billy Sunday's injunction to Texans, who urge that all War Savings Stamp Pledges be paid by Christmas and that no one put off W. S. S. Pledge settlement until December 31, the last day of grace.

To Texans, Billy Sunday, famous evangelist who is now preaching in Fort Worth, says:

"You say you are glad the war is over, you men and women of Texas; you say you appreciate the bloody sacrifices that the boys from Texas and the other 47 States have made for you—that you reverence the memories of the heroes who have kept Hun and harm from you; you say you are glad that there will be no more casualty lists blackened with the names of the men who have dared and done for you; but how, I ask you, have you shown that appreciation? How have you expressed your gladness?"

"Has the War Savings Stamp Pledge you solemnly made to President Wilson last summer been paid? Have you kept faith with the boys and are you keeping faith with them? Until that pledge you made to invest in United States Government War Savings Stamps has been met, until the word you gave to President Wilson has been redeemed—not until then have you shown your appreciation of the heroic acts of the men from whose hearts the blood of life has been poured. Not until then have you made good the solemn and binding promise you made your President."

Boys Are Not Over

"The war is over, people of Texas, but our boys are not. They must be brought home, back here to you in Texas, and until they are brought home they must be fed and clothed and cared for. Your duty to these men, the duty you owe yourself and your country has not been discharged until every United States soldier and sailor has been brought back home again. To these men, the men whom we call 'our boys', War Savings Stamps mean food, clothing and tickets to the good old U. S. A."

"It takes money to care for these men—these soldier and sailor boys who have beaten back the Hun. It takes money to bring them home; don't for a minute think that the obligation you are under, if you call yourself American, to save and lend your savings to the United States Government in War Savings Stamps is ended just because fighting has stopped. Listen! It is costing the Government $50,000,000 a day—$1,500,000,000 a month—to feed and clothe and bring these men home."

"Come on, Texas folks! This is December—the ninth inning of the War Savings Campaign. Put punch in that swing of yours; put the pay in your patriotism. Get those War Savings Stamp Pledges wiped off Uncle Sam's slate by Christmas. Remember: The last day to liquidate War Savings Stamp Pledges is December 31st. Don't wait until the last day to get that Government note off your hands, don't wait until the last day to make good your word—do it by Christmas."

"They are no investments, those War Savings Stamps. I have all I can hold myself. I am going to give them for Christmas presents—they are the best gifts to give this year. Every time you buy one of those W. S. S. bonds you have gotten hold of the best security any government has ever issued."

"Come on, Texas! Hit the trail with your dollars! Get that War Savings Stamp Pledge paid now!"

Warning! Your W. S. S. pledge is due this month. The final call for payment has been made by the Government.

KEPT PLEDGE TO SEND BREAD

American Nation Maintained Allied Loaf Through Self-Denial at Home Table.

AVERTED EUROPEAN DESPAIR

With Military Demands Upon Ocean Shipping Relieved, World Is Able to Return to Normal White Wheat Bread.

Since the advent of the latest wheat crop the only limitation upon American exports to Europe has been the shortage of shipping. Between July 1 and October 10 we shipped 65,980,205 bushels. If this rate should continue until the end of the fiscal year we will have furnished the Allies with more than 237,500,000 bushels of wheat and flour in terms of wheat.

The result of increased production and conservation efforts in the United States has been that with the cessation of hostilities we are able to return to a normal wheat diet. Supplies that have accumulated in Australia, Argentine and other hitherto inaccessible markets may be tapped by ships released from transport service, and European demand for American wheat probably will not exceed our normal surplus. There is wheat enough available to have a white loaf at the common table.

But last year the tale was different. Only by the greatest possible saving and sacrifice were we able to keep a steady stream of wheat and flour moving across the sea. We found ourselves at the beginning of the harvest year with an unusually short crop. Even the most optimistic statisticians figured that we had a bare surplus of 20,000,000 bushels. And yet Europe was facing the probability of a bread famine—and in Europe bread is by far the most important article in the diet.

All of this surplus had left the country early in the fall. By the first of the year we had managed to ship a little more than 50,000,000 bushels by practicing the utmost economy at home—by whetting days, wheatless meals, heavy substitution of other cereals and by sacrifice at almost every meal throughout the country.

In January the late Lord Rhondda, then British Food Controller, cabled that only if we sent an additional 75,000,000 bushels before July 1 could he take the responsibility of assuring his people that they would be fed.

The response of the American people was $5,000,000 bushels safely delivered overseas between January 1 and July 1. Out of a harvest which gave us only 20,000,000 bushels surplus we actually shipped 141,000,000 bushels.

This did America fulfill her pledge that the Allied bread ration could be maintained, and already the American people are demonstrating that, with an awakened war conscience, last year's figures will be bettered.

Our exports since the country entered the war have justified a statement made by the Food Administration shortly after its inception, outlining the principles and policies that would govern the solution of this country's food problems.

"The whole foundation of democracy," declared the Food Administration, "lies in the individual initiative of its people and their willingness to serve the interests of the nation with complete self-effacement in the time of emergency. Democracy can yield to discipline, and we can solve this food problem for our own people and for the Allies in this way. To have done so will have been a greater service than our immediate objective, for we have demonstrated the righteousness of our faith and our ability to defend ourselves without being Prussianized."

Sending to Europe 141,000,000 bushels of wheat from a surplus of approximately nothing was the outstanding exploit of the American food army in the critical year of the war.

GREATEST OPPORTUNITY WOMEN EVER HAD.

It was given to the women of this country to perform the greatest service in the winning of the war vouchsafed to any women in the history of the wars of the world—to feed the warriors and the war sufferers. By the arts of peace, the practice of simple, homely virtues the womanhood of a whole nation served humanity in its profoundest struggle for peace and freedom.

FIRST CALL TO FOOD ARMY.

This co-operation and service I ask of all in full confidence that America will render more for flag and freedom than king ridden people surrender at compulsion.—Herbert Hoover, August 10, 1917.

A year ago voluntary food control was a daring adventure in democracy; during the year an established proof of democratic efficiency.

DUEL OF CAPT. McDONALD AND SHERIFF MATTHEWS

The News presents to its readers the following account of a duel fought in Quanah twenty-five years ago between Capt. Bill McDonald and Sheriff Matthews of Childress County. The story is a clipping from the Quanah Chief of December 14th, 1893, and will call to the minds of some of our older readers similar happenings in the barbarous days of early civilization in the Panhandle.

"On Saturday last Sheriff Matthews and three of his friends came down from Childress, presumably on business connected with his office, but Capt. McDonald, in some manner received word that they, or at least Sheriff Matthews, had come down to kill him, knowing that the rangers were all out of town. The news in some manner reached a number of McDonald's friends, and they interrogated him about it and he told them that he had heard that Matthews and his gang intended to shoot him between the eyes. No demonstration was made however, and it was thought the matter was merely a conjecture until about train time when a large crowd had congregated at the depot, as is their custom, to see the train come in.

McDonald was at the depot when Matthews, accompanied by Sheriff Coffey, came down the street to the depot. The two men met a short distance from the platform, and a short conversation took place between them. Before people were hardly aware of the fact, or could collect their thoughts, a deadly fusillade was going on between the two men. The shots were so close together, and the excitement so great that it was impossible to tell who fired the first shot, even Sheriff Coffey, who was standing almost between the two men, could not tell.

As soon as the smoke of battle had cleared away it was found that both men had been severely wounded. McDonald received two shots, one in the breast, the ball passing through his body and coming out of his back, below the shoulder blade, the second, which is supposed to have been fired from another source, struck him at a point from the shoulder, passing through and also through his neck. Matthews received two shots, one in the neck and one in the back, just above the hip. Two more shots struck a thick plug of tobacco in his coat pocket, just above the heart. The shooting did not last over five seconds, so rapidly were the shots fired, and as soon as it was over, it was noticed that Matthews had fallen where he stood but that Capt. McDonald had staggered to a post some thirty feet away, and sunk down.

In an instant friends of both parties had picked up the wounded men, carried McDonald to the Robert Henry drugstore, and Matthews to the Ramsey drugstore where their wounds were attended to."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon A. J. Williams and the unknown owners and claimants of an interest in the stock of the Clarendon Mercantile Company as a private corporation incorporated under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Texas by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Donley County, Texas, to be held at the court house thereof in Clarendon on the 2nd Monday in January, 1919, the same being the 13th day of January A. D. 1919, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 17th day of December, 1918, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court, No. 1023, wherein J. T. Lane is plaintiff and the Clarendon Mercantile Company and A. J. Williams, Henry Williams, J. A. Barnett, H. T. Bridges and the unknown owners or claimants of the stock in said defendant, corporation are defendants; Plaintiff alleges that on the 15th day of January, 1918, he purchased from B. T. Lane Lots 7, 8 and 9 in Block 13 in Grants Addition to the town of Clarendon, Donley County, Texas, paying therefor a good and sufficient consideration and receiving from the said B. T. Lane his certain warranty deed therefore; that the said B. T. Lane purchased said land from the defendant Clarendon Mercantile Company on September 4th, 1912 paying a valuable consideration therefore and receiving from said Company a warranty deed to said premises executed by A. J. Williams Secretary and Treasurer of said Company. That since the execution of said deed he and his grantor, B. T. Lane have occupied said premises, using, enjoying and paying taxes on same. Plaintiff says that the deed executed by defendant, Clarendon Mercantile Company, as aforesaid, in which the title to said land was attempted to be conveyed to the said B. T. Lane was defective because said deed did not have affixed thereto the seal of said corporation nor was such seal recited in the record thereof and because no authority shown by resolution or otherwise authorizing said A. J. Williams as Secretary-Treasurer of said corporation to sell said land and make conveyance thereto.

Plaintiff further says that on account of the defects above mentioned in said deed from said corporation to said B. T. Lane the title he holds to said land is clouded and rendered unmarketable, that on said account prospective purchasers of same refuse to accept his title thereto to his damage $2500.00. Plaintiff further alleges that on the date of the execution of said deed by said Clarendon Mercantile Co., the above named defendants, A. J. Williams, Henry Williams, J. A. Barnett and H. T. Bridges were the owners of all the stock of said company, that said last named date said corporation has been legally dissolved and no longer exists. Premises considered plaintiff prays that the Clarendon Mercantile Company, A. J. Williams, Henry Williams, J. A. Barnett, H. T. Bridges and all persons unknown to plaintiff claiming an interest in the stock of said corporation now or at any time subsequent to September 4th, 1912 be cited to answer this petition and that upon hearing hereof plaintiff have judgment removing cloud cast upon his title to said land and that his title thereto be quieted and that the deed from said Clarendon Mercantile Company to said B. T. Lane be adjudged a good and sufficient deed conveying the title to said land, etc.

Herein fail not but have you before said court on the 1st day of the next term thereof this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand and official seal this 17th day of December A. D. 1918.

W. E. BRAY,
Clerk District Court, Donley County Texas.

By I. V. ANDREWS, Deputy.
