

CCC Company Will Occupy State Park

Unit Assigned From Wyoming To Complete Work On Lake Brownwood Area

As the result of untiring efforts of local officials for more than a year, Lake Brownwood State Park will once more be occupied by a CCC company, which will arrive on October 17 from Casper, Wyo. Definite news of the reoccupation by 170 men was received late Friday afternoon by Chester Harrison, Chamber of Commerce secretary, in a telephone conversation with Major R. C. Throckmorton, commanding officer of the Fort Worth District of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Arrangements are under way for immediate necessary repairs and improvements of various nature in the park. Captain Thomas D. Martin, CCC district construction engineer, arrived in Brownwood Saturday morning to supervise repair of the camp barracks, which will cost around $5,000.

Occupied by CCC company 872 from November 4, 1934, to November 1, 1935, the park underwent an extensive development program, including the construction of 14 native stone camp cabins, boat dock, picnic sites, and installation of water and light plants. Company 872 was then moved to Hereford, and later to Tucumcari, New Mexico.

A new program of activity has already been tentatively outlined for the new CCC consignment. W. F. Ayers, West Texas district inspector for the National Park Service; William J. Lawson, executive secretary of the Texas State Parks Board; C. T. Patrick, architectural inspector and J. T. Roberts, landscape inspector of the NPS, were in Brownwood Friday afternoon inspecting the camp, and made plans to send architects and engineers to the park to map plans for the new program.

Brownwood Chamber of Commerce is recognizing and thanking several public officials for valuable assistance which they gave local citizens in obtaining a company. Included in the group are Congressman Charles L. South, Coleman; Governor James V. Allred and Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally.

Congressman South wrote many telegrams and letters and interviewed other government officials on behalf of the park. Governor Allred also entered into much correspondence.

COUNTY RECEIVES $914 CHECK FROM STATE TREASURER

Following receipt of a payment by the state totaling $914, county officials may now cash their August pay checks. The recent state payment is the second received this year. Of the $3,700 salary fund allotted this county by the state, only $1,829 has been paid.

Officials will continue to hold their September checks until the salary fund builds up from fees of office or tax collections, or they may sell them for a discount.

A constitutional amendment earlier in the year voted out the fee system of paying county officials, and during the year, $7,000 was transferred from other county funds to pay the salary fund, but there is no surplus at the present time, and the delayed payments have resulted.

RIDGED LAND VALUE REVEALED IN RECENT COUNTY FARM SURVEY

Moisture penetrates the soil 19 to 30 inches deeper on pasture land that has been ridged than on similar land unridged. This fact was pointed out by Zach C. Dameron, Jr., agricultural aide for the local soil conservation camp after comparative tests made in the Brownwood area.

Land used was Denton clay having a 3 per cent slope. At the contoured ridges the moisture had penetrated a depth of 52 inches. Borings made half way between the ridges, which were 12 feet apart, showed that the moisture had penetrated to a depth of 52 inches. About 300 feet from the ridges, in the same pasture, borings in the same type of soil revealed dry dirt at an average depth of only 22 inches.

Twenty-four farmers and ranchers of the Brownwood area have cooperated with the SCS in completing contoured ridges in their pastures, and 735 additional acres of pasture land will be ridged in the next few weeks.

WIDOW OF PIONEER BAPTIST PREACHER SUCCUMBS AT AMITY

Mrs. Sam C. Steel, May, widow of one of Brown County's first Baptist ministers, passed away at 5:45 a. m. Friday at her home. Last rites for the pioneer woman were held Sunday at the Amity church at 2:45 p. m., with interment following in the Amity cemetery, beside the grave of her husband, who died in March, 1934. The Rev. H. B. Ramsour officiated at the services.

Charity Lindley was born September 29, 1853, in Georgia. In 1874, she was married to Sam C. Steele in Hunt county. She came to Texas when only four years of age, and to Comanche county the year following her marriage. She and her husband, and other members of their party built the fourth log cabin in the Amity community, and dug the second well.

The story is related that her husband traded his pistol for a Bible when he entered the ministry. He organized the Amity Baptist church in 1875, and was ordained as its pastor in 1894. Throughout her life, Mrs. Steele was active with her husband in church affairs.

Survivors include four sons and one daughter. They are T. W. Steele, Abilene; R. D. Steele, of Brownwood; George Steele, Cross Plains; and Mrs. T. N. Petty, May. Twenty-two grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren also survive. Pallbearers were her grandsons, Earl, Cleburne, Herman, George Robert, Wylie and Milton Steele.

BROWNWOOD, BANGS RECEIVE PUBLICITY IN RADIO BROADCAST

The facts that 90 per cent of the approximately 1,000 residents of Bangs own their own homes, and that Brownwood's schools are ranked with the highest in the state were pointed out in a radio broadcast Wednesday morning over WBAP.

The broadcast, originally scheduled for Brownwood-Bangs Day at the Frontier Centennial, October 6, was postponed because of the World Series broadcasts. The program originated in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Building in Fort Worth, and was broadcast from 9:15 to 9:30.

In addition to the discussion of the Brown county cities, musical numbers were heard on the program. Other facts given included the origin of Bangs, the extension program of street paving under way there, and that Brown county has more and better roads than any other Texas county.

The speaker emphasized that Brownwood is a junction of three state and two federal highways, and that the Frisco and Santa Fe railroads both have lines through the city.

Pioneers Celebrate Golden Wedding Date

Golden wedding anniversary of a pioneer Brown county couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thomas, was celebrated Saturday at their home two miles north of Holder.

The Thomases have resided in Brown county for forty-six years. They were married in Monkstown, Fannin county, in 1886.

Children present at the wedding anniversary celebration were W. H. Thomas, Mrs. M. Bell, Mrs. T. D. Holder, Mrs. A. C. Dickerson, Mrs. Guy Houser, and O. D. Thomas. Another son, Arthur Thomas of Pampa, was unable to be present.

No Alarms Reported To Fire Department During Week 10-17

Fire Prevention week in Brownwood accomplished its purpose for a week, at least. Not a single fire alarm was turned in during the entire period.

Firemen are declaring that they cannot remember so many "fireless months" for any one year as 1936 has had. There was no insured loss in March, May, July or September.

Engineers Estimate Flood Damage To Be 48 Million Dollars

The State Board of Water Engineers reports that the flood damage on the Colorado River for the nine year period, 1926 to 1935, inclusive, was $48,000,000.00. The total in 1935 was $14,000,000.00. The total damage along the Colorado River for 1936 has not yet been fully determined but surveys in ten counties in the Central Texas area place the total loss during the month of September at $3,678,000.00. That makes it evident that the total loss for 1936 will exceed that of 1935.

These figures are alarming in that they show that flood damage is increasing year by year.

Three Beer Arrests Made By Officers

Released from the county jail Friday afternoon on appeal bonds, Guy Meadows, Mrs. Grace Taylor and R. D. McCuistian face sentences on liquor and beer law violation charges. Allotted time for their first appeal having expired, the trio was re-arrested last Thursday morning, and their sentences renewed.

Bill Hodges was also taken into custody by the Sheriff's department Thursday morning while at a house on Highway 7, east of the Frisco underpass, on a beer charge.

LUCAS IS ATTENDING CONFERENCE TO WORK OUT PECAN PROGRAM

H. G. Lucas left Wednesday noon for Washington, where he was called to attend a conference of pecan growers, shellers and distributors to endeavor to develop a pecan export or diversion program. Mr. Lucas, together with W. S. Price of Gustine, Secretary of the Texas Pecan Growers Association, will represent Texas growers in the conference. Mr. Price left earlier in the week.

The conference is the outgrowth of repeated efforts, led largely by Mr. Lucas, to develop an export program for pecans. It was called by the department of agriculture and will be held Friday and Saturday of this week.

PIONEER RELATIVE OF LOCAL RESIDENTS DIES

Mrs. A. S. Barkley, 66, grandmother of Mrs. Smith Bell and Jack and Joe Woodward, died unexpectedly at her home in Anson Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock from a heart attack.

Funeral services for the pioneer Jones county woman were held at the Anson Baptist church Sunday morning. The services were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Smith Bell and daughter, Betty Jane, who was the only great-granddaughter of Mrs. Barkley; Jack and Joe Woodward and Mrs. E. J. Woodward and daughter, Peggy Marie.

Mrs. Barkley was born in Tennessee September 17, 1870, and with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ward, moved to Denton in 1881, and a short time later to Jones county. She attended the first school taught in Jones county and later was the first teacher at Fairview, now Tuxedo, which was established in 1887.

She is survived by her husband, three daughters, one son, one brother, six grandchildren, and one great-granddaughter.

Pecan Legend Of Texas Is Told

AUSTIN.—The origin and discovery of the pecan, of which Texas produces half the world crop, have never been determined by agronomists, but there exists legends about it.

One unauthenticated story has it that a "prince" of the territory that is now Mexico, found the original tree and reported it to the "king of America," in 477 B. C. Where the date came from, no one seems to know, but it is related that the king ordered the prince to plant the nuts from the tree on the banks of every stream in the Southwest.

To that is attributed the profuse growth of the trees in the river bottoms of the state.

The first authenticated record of the existence of pecans is that of the Spanish explorer, Cabeza de Vaca, who in 1520 mentioned Texas walnuts in a letter to his king. He said he had found the nut on all rivers, that the meat was delicious, and they were "so thin-shelled they could be cracked with the teeth."

ASK REGATTA DATA

A letter from Petersburg, Virginia, has been received by the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce requesting data about the Brownwood Regatta. News of the success of the regatta prompted the Virginia officials to write for copies of all advertising matter used to promote the event and other information that might prove helpful in promoting a similar event at Petersburg.

Five Million Dollar Loss In Ten Central West Texas Counties Is Present Estimate

Plans were made at a meeting in San Angelo Wednesday of the Central West Texas Conservation and Flood Control Association, to present claims before the United States Army Engineers in Austin Tuesday for flood control for the Concho and Colorado river valleys. Chester Harrison, secretary of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, represented Brown county at the hearing.

Flood losses in ten West Texas counties was estimated to total some $5,000,000 during the last two weeks of September, 1936. With about 25 per cent of the loss unreported, a loss of $3,678,000.00 was reported from the counties represented.

Mayor Dorsey B. Hardman of San Angelo, president of the association, will present the brief on behalf of the Central West Texas counties to the board of army engineers Tuesday. The group asked that Marvin C. Nichols of the firm of Hawley, Freese & Nichols, Fort Worth engineering firm, explain the technical features of the brief at the hearing.

Nichols will call on members of the association for information to sustain the brief that will be submitted, but the group agreed not to impose its ideas of needed flood control on the army men. That question will be left to the engineers themselves.

LOCAL GINNINGS ARE HEAVY; MARKET ACTIVE

Following the Government's cotton crop estimate of 11,509,000 bales issued last week, being an increase of 488,000 bales over the August estimate, the cotton market has ruled steady and fairly active. Prices are about 15 points above those prevailing at the beginning of the week.

Brown county ginned 1843 bales to October 1st, and this has probably been increased to 1,900 or 2,000 bales to date. Cotton men estimate that the county will produce five or six thousand bales of cotton this year.

year. Gins are running steadily. The American Crop Service Bureau thinks that the crop in the southern half of the cotton belt is mostly harvested. Weekly summary tended to confirm this belief stating that the bulk of cotton in Texas has been picked except the light top crop.

North Texas with picking completed in many parts of Oklahoma. Considerable damage has been done to staple in all states east of the Mississippi river.

These reports together with more encouraging monetary news, good export demand, very good takings by spinners, decrease in hedging activity and better outside support all tended to help prices. Indian cotton not expected in volume until December and South African not until early next year places America as the available source of supply and keeps demand good.

The consumption report on cotton issued Wednesday, was also bullish showing cotton consumed to Oct. 1st, 629,727 as against 574,289 same month last year. Spinners takings were 311,000 bales vs. 277,000 bales last year while the cotton brought into sight was smaller—707,275 vs. 737,803.

General commodity markets are steady, the grain markets closing Wednesday at new season highs. Cotton seed oil also rules steady, as does the general stock market. All these features help sentiment towards cotton and have helped hold prices of this commodity steady.

The cotton market Thursday opened practically 6 to 7 points higher from Wednesday's closing. Middling cotton in Brownwood is 12 cents.

CCC Company—

responsiveness with government officials regarding the company. Senators Sheppard and Connally made personal inspections of the park as well as recommending its reoccupation.

Plans Being Prepared

J. T. Roberts, landscape inspector for the National Park Service, and N. H. Lee, superintendent, who will be in charge of development at the park under National Park Service supervision, arrived in Brownwood Thursday morning to outline work for the new CCC camp. Mr. Lee, who has been superintendent at the Kerrville State Park during the past year, was in charge of all development that was done here when the CCC company occupied the camp a year ago. Mr. Roberts is drawing preliminary plans for submission to the Texas State Parks Board and the National Park Service.

The company will spend about ten days getting the park in shape, improving the roads where necessary and doing other preliminary work. First construction work to be undertaken probably will be the construction of a bath house and bathing beach, putting bathing facilities in the 14 stone cottages at the park, and the construction of a caretaker's cottage. Other suggested improvements include the construction of two fisherman's barracks, reconstruction of the club house so as to increase its facilities, piping the cottages for gas and the construction of additional cottages. Should the CCC program be extended past next April, when it now is scheduled to close, it is likely that a game warden's cottage, rearing ponds and other improvements will be undertaken.

Company Is En Route

Word was received in Brownwood this week that six trucks left Casper, Wyoming, Sunday, each manned by two enrollees and bringing construction tools from the Casper camp. The remainder of the enrollees will arrive by train Saturday. Except for the announcement that Mr. Lee would be superintendent, no announcement has been made regarding the personnel of the technical staff at the camp.

First Lieutenant Jas. W. Gorman is commanding officer of the new company, and Lieutenant Walter F. Budwiger is second-in-command. Captain Guy A. Aspaugh is medical officer.

W. F. Ayres, chief inspector of the National Park Service for West Texas, and G. T. Patrick, architectural inspector, will arrive in Brownwood Monday to take charge of preparation of improvement plans. Both, with Mr. Roberts, and Wm. J. Lawson, executive secretary of the Texas State Parks Board, inspected the Brownwood park Friday of last week.

Back in 1876, when the present Constitution of Texas was adopted, the salary of the Governor was established at $4,000 per year. That was sixty years ago, but even then, it must not have been considered a very generous salary, for Texas as a Republic had established a salary of $10,000 a year for its President. Never the less, the $4,000 salary was written into the constitution, and there it has remained until this day, defying periodic efforts of interested people to increase the annual stipend.

The Salary Amendment

Texas had approximately 50,000 people back in the days of the Republic, when the Chief Executive's salary was fixed at $10,000. Today, with the Chief Executive drawing $4,000 a year, the population is in excess of 6,000,000 people. Property values have increased even more startlingly, and the wealth of the State exceeds many hundred fold that of the Republic. Doesn't it seem about time that Texans voted to increase the salary of their Governor?

That opportunity is to be presented the voters November 3, when six constitutional amendments are to be voted upon. One of these would increase the salary of the Governor from the present $4,000 to $12,000 a year. The latter figure more nearly approaches an adequate compensation for the duties and responsibilities which attach to the office, and would enable most of the occupants of the office to transact the duties of the State without a personal financial sacrifice—which has not always been the case in the past.

It is worthy of note that the salary proposed is not out of line with that paid by other states most of which are less able than Texas to pay. And, while there should be no waste of State money, there also should not be a condition which puts the State in the attitude of being niggardly toward those who represent it. It is safe to assume that no individual in Texas, employing an executive to take charge of so vast a corporation as is the State, would expect to secure a competent man for less salary.

Along with the increase in the salary of the Governor, the proposer amendment provides more modest increase in salary for the Attorney General, the Comptroller, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and Commissioner of the General Land Office. It is an amendment that should be given the enthusiastic endorsement of Texas voters.

Most worthy of the WPA projects in operation in this district—in theory, at least—is the nursery project being sponsored by the Brownwood American Legion Post, in co-operation with other civic and social organizations in this city.

Aiding The Children

The project has for its purpose putting nursery school and kindergarten facilities within reach of the children of parents who otherwise would be unable to provide these advantages for their children.

The furnishing of employment is a worthy undertaking, and must be continued for the present. It is accomplishing a great good, even though the salaries paid provide only the minimum necessities of life. And in the main, the projects undertaken will provide permanent improvements in many communities.

But looking after the children is even more important. That there is an organization such as the American Legion, that will sponsor such a project and assume the responsibility of seeing it through, is a credit to any community.

In taking over the task, the American Legion, locally at least, is doing much to offset criticism which has come to the organization from many who look upon it as a selfish institution, created and kept alive by those who might benefit through its operations. That such is not the truth is known to those who are familiar with the organization and its aims, but just the same, it is not generally understood. The work done to secure the payment of the bonus bonds to veterans has not helped the American Legion in retaining a favorable position in the public mind.

Such undertakings, as the nursery school in Brownwood give ample evidence of the worthy purposes of those who are directing the activities of the local Legion post. In aiding the children, the Legionnaires not only are being of inestimable help to the children and their parents; they are rendering a real service to the community as well.

The official ending of Fire Prevention Week—which was observed October 4th and 10th this year—should certainly not bring an end to the public interest and enthusiasm the Week created. We should regard the Week not as a seven-day matter, but as a fit starting point for a personal campaign, participated in by every citizen, that will run the 365 days of the year. Only if that is done can the Week produce real and permanent good results.

After Fire Prevention Week

In a number of past years, fire loss has dropped sharply during the Week and for a short period thereafter. Then it has risen again to the "regular" level. In other words, we applied the lessons learned when they were fresh in our minds—but forgot them almost as soon as New Year's Resolutions. So long as that situation continues, our national fire loss will remain at disgracefully high levels.

Every property owner can easily carry on a year-round campaign against fire. At regular intervals he should inspect his heating units, and electric wiring. He should not permit the accumulation of old newspapers, clothes and general debris. He should pay constant attention to the storage of inflammable liquids, paints, varnishes and similar articles which present a fire hazard. In case he does some building or rebuilding, he should personally make certain that a high standard of fire-resistant construction is attained.

There is certainly nothing difficult about such a program. It takes little time and costs next to nothing in money. And it may save your home and your life. A household motto should read: "Regard every week as Fire Prevention Week."

PEEP SHOW —For Ladies Only— BY MIGNON

My father was a cowboy. I lived out in the west. I loved his long horn dogies— But mavericks are the best.

Somehow in starting a column this week with a bit of foolishness I feel like the circus clown who laughed and made merry when his heart was breaking. The show must go on. Life must go on, whatever heart breaks come. This week Heaven seems a much sweeter place and not nearly so far away because a dear boy I loved is there and a big brother, too. Nevertheless this is the day my column goes out and so I'm rounding up a few mavericks. From a mind hasn't begun to click yet) you'll have to make out until I get myself together.

Out of the darkness and gloom I found this "Hymn for Courage" which helped:

"Hymn of Courage"

By Cora Paxton Stewart What though my dreams break on some rock-bound shore And leave but fragments scattered on the sand! Shall I be grieving for them evermore, Or shall I bind them up with eager hands, And laugh again and dance again . . . and keep As souvenirs their broken wings, nor hide Their scars, nor be afraid Fate yet may sweep Them back to sea on some outgoing tide? Why should one fear the vague, oncoming years If courage speak the final, dauntless word That puts the seal of silence on our fears? For I can tell you this: That I have heard A wondrous melody on Hope's last string, Seen winter's icy grip give way to spring.

These Kansas columnists may object to these brandin' irons but they can't very well do anything about it: Peggy of the Flint Hills says:

"When a girl gets a new boy friend, her sister wants to know if he is good looking; her brother, if he made the team; her mother, who are his people; and her father, has he got a job."

"Election sentiment seems to run in waves. The idea is to be at the top of the curve on November 3."

—And then Charles Galt remarks:

On Passes! If words are for men Their thoughts to conceal Where do the women Get in on the deal?

This is really plagiarism and what's worse you probably have already read it:

"Mae West, left out of the new Who's Who, sniffed Sunday: "That's all right. The boys who put out that book aren't in my address book, either."

Gee! Think of using George Ross like this from his famous "Gotham Gossip":

When Fannie Brice has a headache she reaches for an arla instead of an aspirin. Sometimes she can cure a cerebral pain by humming "My Man" or whistling "Rose of Washington Square." And three choruses can usually make her headache disappear. Never mind the sledge hammer effect of "The Anvil Chorus," Fannie finds it soothing.

I don't know what the exact proportions of her remedy are, but they might go something like this: for a severe headache, sing something heavy out of opera. For a mild ache, something light in the way of a popular number. Say "Way Down Upon the Swanee River" Maybe it belongs in the "You May Take It or Leave It" department, but science backs her up. That is, Fannie's osteopathic physician, a Dr. Sydney Kanev, of Manhattan backs her up.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. When, where and for what purpose was Fort Tenochtitlan maintained? R. P.

A. Tenochtitlan, on the Brazos near the present Burleson and Milam county lines, was a military post from about 1827 to 1832, maintained by the Mexican government to protect the northern frontier of the colony from Indians, and to promote settlement of the interior country on the Brazos.

Q. Who is called "The Mother of Texas?" W. K. B.

A. Mrs. James Long, wife of Dr. James Long, who headed the ill-fated Long expedition of 1821. When Long went on the expedition in the hope of recovering Texas from the Spaniards, he left her with her little daughter, Ann, and 25 men at Point Bolivar. The men deserted her one by one, leaving her, the child and a negro girl, to subsist alone during a winter of indescribable hardships and suffering. She finally despaired of Long's return and made her way, nearly starved, to Austin's colony in Fort Bend county, where she died in 1880 in her 83rd year.

Q. When was Bandera county organized, and who were its first officers? O. B. J.

A. It was organized in 1856 with J. B. Miles, chief justice (county judge); William Curtis, sheriff; P. Pool, county clerk; Irvin F. Carter, tax assessor and collector. The first store, also used for a postoffice, was erected there in 1855 by August Klappenbach.

Q. Who taught the first school at Matagorda? J. J.

A. Josiah Wilbarger, in 1825.

Q. Was James Bowie in the battle of Concepcion in October, 1835? I. G.

A. He rendered distinguished service in that battle, in which he was second in command.
