SCOUT PROGRAM BAPTIST CHURCH FRIDAY EVENING

Will Conduct Honor Court With Speaking by Scout Executive And Others

Those behind the movement hope to accomplish Friday evening beginning at 7:30, something in Boy Scout work here that has never been brought to a successful conclusion in the past.

A Court of Honor will be conducted with Joe Goldston, Sam Lowe and W. C. Stewart officiating. During previous Scout efforts here, it has never been possible to present this phase of the work just as those who shared in the movement would like.

In addition to the ceremonies incident to the Court of Honor, Scout executive C. A. Clark of this district will discuss the Scout movement in a general way. R. E. Drennon will speak on the need of Scouting. "Scouting and its uses" will be the topic for discussion by G. L. Boykin.

Both Mr. Drennon and Mr. Boykin have had much to do with boys in their daily school work. This fact coupled with their intimate study of Scout work, will enable them to bring to the boys something worth while.

Sixteen merit badges and certificates are to be awarded to those who successfully pass the "test program" that has had every boy "on his toes" this week in anxious anticipation of the coveted honor that comes to the qualified student.

The success of the movement thus far is largely due to the unselfish devotion of local scoutmaster S. L. Tidwell and his able assistant, Lee Vaughan. These young men have labored with a zeal that begets admiration. They have built up enthusiasm and aroused that personal contact of mutual admiration and respect so necessary in Scout work.

The public is cordially invited to see this presentation, hear the excellent talks and enjoy the program that is out of the ordinary. Come to the Baptist church Friday evening at 7:30.

"Much in Demand"

Wanted in Wharton, Texas, on charges of assault to murder. Wanted in Lufkin, Texas, for robbing filling stations. Wanted in Hillsboro, Texas, for murder. Wanted in Carmine, Texas, for bank robbery. Caught in Dallas, where he was wanted for robbery of Cedar Hill bank, Grand Prairie interurban station, and a packing plant in Dallas. That is the record of young Raymond Hamilton (above) hardly out of his teens. He is also wanted in Oklahoma and New Mexico, and perhaps elsewhere—quien sabe?

Plainview Evangelist Has Charge of Services

Evangelist James Standridge of Plainview has been conducting a series of meetings at the Church of Christ at Lelia Lake this week, conducting two services each day at 11 in the morning and at 7 in the evening.

The services are to continue until Sunday night on the same schedule except that three services will be held Sunday. Sunday is to be the biggest day and all visitors will be cared for according to the evangelist who issues an urgent invitation to the public to be present.

WELCOME TO 33 BEDLAM TO REIGN SATURDAY NIGHT

Pandemonium Will Reign On Main Street as New Year Greeted by Crowd

T. D. Nored, chairman of a committee on arrangements from the Lions Club that is sponsoring the "33 Jubilee" to be staged here from 11:30 to 12:30 Saturday night, was in today talking arrangements, but he never got his mind off of noise. In fact he asked that every one who comes out to do honor to the burial of 1932, and the welcome of 1933, be prepared to make plenty, plenty of noise.

The Barbecue King, sometimes referred to as plain Frank Whitlock, has received his mail order diploma on noise making. He will be "chief noise maker" and have that function, department or bureau, in charge for the whole hour.

As the old year passes, the band will sound taps. Immediately thereafter, the crowd will fall in behind the band on a grand march tune welcoming 1933. All who intend to work harder, dig deeper, smile more and laugh louder during 1933, are expected to get in the line of march.

Frank's diploma calls for "anvil shootin'" and "shotin'" she will be. It's been a long time since that stunt was pulled, but Frank believes it is time to pull it now or it would have been left out of the course.

Some kind of a talk will be attempted at 11:53 just before 1932 hides her face and shamefully disappears. This talk may be drowned in the deluge of racket, personal, mechanical, irrational and unadmonious, but it means just as much to the crowd. Get these with your noise machine. Dishpans and tin tubs—nothing barred. One man from Arkansas promised to have a cross cut saw on a crow bar and manipulated with a sledge hammer. If he does, Clarendon will experience her third earthquake. Don't forget the date—11:30 Saturday night.

DONLEY COUNTY'S OFFICIAL FAMILY CHANGES MONDAY

Five Changes Are Necessary Resulting From Mandates Of Voting Public

Of the nine offices in the courthouse, four of them are to remain in charge of the same officials. All nine officials are expected to assume the oath of office Monday. The Commissioners, in which there is no change, will also hold a regular session winding up the year's work.

In the district clerk's office, A. H. Baker who has served two terms, will be succeeded by Walker Lane. Mr. Lane is a native of Wichita county but has spent practically all of his school age of 15 years in Donley county. He was educated in the local schools and received his B. S. degree from Texas Tech at Lubbock some two years ago. This is the first time he has offered for public service.

Sam W. Lowe will succeed the veteran J. J. Alexander as county judge. He is a native of Arkansas but grew to manhood in Erath county. He received his education in the schools of that county, at John Tarleton at Stephenville and Simmons University at Abilene. Mr. Lowe has been a resident of Donley county since 1916.

Guy S. Pierce begins his second term as sheriff by unanimous consent of the people of Donley county. He is a native Texan, and except for the years spent in the navy during and following the World War, has lived in Hall and Donley county most of his life.

W. G. (Bill) Word will succeed Mrs. B. G. Smith as county clerk. Mr. Word was reared in Donley and surrounding counties growing up in the saddle as a cowpuncher. All of his time was not in the saddle for we find him as a graduate

The Hands That Rock the Cradle---

Boom Hill

Here is Grover B. Hill of Amarillo, Texas, who will be assistant secretary of agriculture in Roosevelt's administration, if the Texas Panhandle has anything to say about it. Hill is a veteran stockman of the Panhandle. Border cities in Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico also are for him.

News Item is Printed On Solid Rock Foundation

We have often heard of "solid facts" and read about a "solid foundation" but never saw it illustrated before until this week.

A rock was plowed up on the T. M. Little farm northwest of town on which appeared printed lines similar to that found on the average newspaper. After the characters were moistened, the letters appeared more plainly and some of the words became legible, but of no importance.

The rock was brought to the Leader office by Jerome D. Stocking who has the happy faculty of coming into possession of the mysteries of the earth. Mr. Stocking has not been able to give a lucid explanation of the freaky edition just yet, but is of the opinion that at some time the soft limestone rock rested on a printed sheet that has since decayed.

Family Reunion at Alexander Home Christmas Day

Judge and Mrs. J. J. Alexander had all their children with them Christmas Day, the first time in some years. The four sons, each with their families, were present.

Grady of Ft. Worth; Byron of Memphis; Clark of Naylor; Cecil of Clarendon joined with the parents in the Yuletide celebration.

Judge Alexander completes his second term as county judge this week. He was first elected county and district clerk in 1911, holding the office three terms. The family has resided in Hall and Donley county for more than 30 years.

LES BEAUX ART CLUB TO EXHIBIT VARIED POTTERY

Every Art in Producing Pottery Will Be Represented

Those who are interested in the beautiful products of the potter's skill, and the wonderful resources of the Nation, will be pleased to learn that the Les Beaux Arts club of Clarendon will exhibit an all-American showing of this art at the Parish house on the afternoons of Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Previous exhibits of this nature has attracted hundreds. This showing will surpass any attempt in the past in variety and quantity if not actual skill. This exhibit is being sent here through the cooperation of the Federation of Clubs, and will contain specimens of products from all the pottery sections.

No specimens will be offered for sale. No admission charge will be made. The Les Beaux Arts club invites citizens of the town and entire county to visit the Parish house on the dates named.

Because of its educational advantages, schools are expected to take advantage of the opportunity to view at first hand actual specimens about which they have read. The local art club is to be complimented for having made this opportunity possible.

Great, Great Grandmother Local Girl Dies

Relatives here were advised Wednesday of the death of Mrs. Fannie Baldree, aged 86, of near St. Augustine, Texas who died from the effects of burns when clothing placed too near a heater caught fire.

Her husband was killed during the Civil war and she never remarried. In addition to rearing her own family, she reared the children of a daughter. She was buried at McMahan Chapel, the site of the first Methodist church building in Texas.

Little Ira Jean Estlack is a great, great granddaughter. Her mother, Mrs. Alfred D. Estlack and her sister, Miss Ethel Hutto, are great grandchildren, and Ellis Hutto is a grandson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gamblin and smaller children of the family spent a part of the holidays with his mother and a brother at Greenville. Mr. Gamblin is a valued employee of the Lemons-Thompson grain company.

LOCAL CHAMBER TO MEMORIALIZE HENRY ANSLEY

Speaker at Banquet Here January 17th

According to announcement of Tom F. Connally, who has charge of the plans for the Chamber of Commerce banquet here January 17th, the program will be so arranged that the memory of Henry Ansley will be memorialized. It will be recalled that Henry was toastmaster here on the last occasion, and it was at the same meeting where Henry received encouragement to enable him to write the famous book, "I Like the Depression," the book since having a nationwide sale.

No other man than Old Tack had a better acquaintance with Henry Ansley outside his immediate family. Old Tack has consented to come down for the occasion, and will make an address in which he will pay tribute to his bosom friend, the late lamented Henry Ansley who became famous as the man "with a million smiles."

The banquet will be held in the Antro hotel according to Mr. Connally who promises a more complete detail of plans in the Leader next week.

Eva Nell Otto is Buried Here Tuesday

Funeral services for Eva Nell Otto aged 8, daughter of A. L. Otto residing west of town, were conducted by evangelist James Standridge at the cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

The child is reported to have died from an attack of diphtheria on Monday night. This is the only case of that malady known here at this time.

Mask Bove Dies Suddenly At Home in Chickasha

I. B. Pierce received information Monday of the death of his brother-in-law Mask Bove, at Chickasha who expired suddenly Friday.

The deceased had lived here some years ago and was a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Crabtree who reside in Chickasha.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones of Canyon spent the week visiting in the W. C. Jones home here and the J. W. Gatewood home near McKnight. He called at the Leader office Tuesday to have the usual number of Leader subs sent out as Christmas presents.

West Texans About 2,000 Years Ago Were Snail-Eaters and Cud-Chewers And Also Sat While Sleeping

Shades of delectable dainties! Millions of them consumed by the earliest West Texans were excavated by the Jackson archeological party who completed exploration of Seminole caverns recently. The caverns are located about 50 miles west of Del Rio.

Snail-eaters were our earliest West Texans. Countless numbers of shells were excavated in the kitchen middens of Seminole caverns, where a priceless collection of anthropological data, including six skeletons, hundreds of arrows, bows, flint knives and ornaments were found.

A description of the findings permits a reconstruction of the life of the inhabitants of the caverns 2,000 years ago. Judging by the skeleton and skull of the cave man, he is classified with that race about which very little is known, the Basket Weavers, Flat Tops, or Cud Chewers. He was a short, squatly, fellow of low mentality and fierce determination—if the lower jaw bone is to mean anything more than that it was developed to that extent by cud chewing. Of necessity he was industrious.

He hunted with bow and arrow and made his kill of small animals with a rabbit stick, resembling the Australian boomerang. He fished with nets made of lechugia or some corresponding fiber, bits of which were unearthed.

Prickly Pear Hats With the animal skins derived from his hunting, which his squaw dressed, the caveman rudely fashioned clothing for the winter.

To fasten his garments together, he used guanilla fiber, sewed with polished bone awls, many of which were included in the collection. On his feet he wore barachas made of woven fiber and held in place by strips of fiber and held in place between his great toe and fastening at the ankle. His headgear of two flat prickly pear leaves sewed together by sarahuita fibers. About his neck he wore conk shell, a strand six inches long and three inches wide, punctured by five holes drilled at different angles in the shells.

The skeletons, found in sitting position, told of the age-old superstition prevalent among the Indians of a happy hunting ground where one must be sitting ready at an instant's notice to die.

Finding of a crude egg-shaped abrading stone weighing approximately 300 pounds, indicated that perhaps during the long summer afternoons when heat made hunting impossible, the native passed the time polishing bows, sharpening arrows and filling the awls and flint knives. The ridges and holes in the sandstone identified its use.

Work Extensive Three mortar holes located in triangular position in the bedrock revealed the manner in which corn and wild oats were ground for food. The holes were five inches in diameter, tapering to a point at the bottom. A pestle probably two inches in diameter was used churn-like in grinding.

Deposits were found over the floor of the caverns from a depth of 16 to 18 inches to eight and one-half feet. The exploring party dug an eight foot trench, 20 feet wide and 100 feet long through the floor, requiring the work of five men for four weeks.

Those making up the party sent ment of the University of Texas were A. T. Jackson, head of the expedition; Jack Laughlin, Del Rio C. A. ... Liberty Hill, Mack Henderson, Llano, and Eddie ... Carson, Comstock.

Would Oust Hoover

PATMAN BLANTON

When it was suddenly suggested recently on the floor of congress that Hoover be impeached, congress squelched the idea overwhelmingly, only eight of some 400 present voting to continue with the attempted impeachment. Two of these were Texas congressmen, Wright of Patman from Texarkana and Tom Blanton from Abilene.

Club Room Board Election To Be Held Monday

All members of the Club Room Board, and the former members, are requested to meet at the ladies club room Monday, January 1st at 10 a. m. for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. By request of Mrs. J. M. Bass, President.

Phillips Filling Station Changes Hands

O. E. Harvey has disposed of his interests in the Phillips station near the courthouse square. Lawrence Hayter and A. G. Lane become the new operators in the transaction.

Lawrence has been away from Clarendon about 10 years spending a part of the time in Rice Institute at Houston. He was later employed at Dallas. A. G. Lane has been connected with this station for the past three years. Both young men are well known here and ask for a share of the autoist's business.

POULTRY SHOW GAINING INTEREST AS TIME NEARS

Loving Cup Goes To Judging Team in Poultry Contest That is County-Wide

The poultry show being sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce for Friday and Saturday of next week, is taking on definite form. Vocational agriculture students from the schools of the Panhandle are being asked to attend. A loving cup will be awarded to the team winning in the judging contest.

In addition to the loving cup, cash prizes will be awarded for the best specimen of cock, cockerel, hen, pullet and pen. Ribbons will be given on second and third prizes. Merchants of the town are being asked to contribute poultry supplies as additional prizes.

E. V. Quattlebaum is offering 25 baby chicks to the boy or girl exhibiting the best trio—two females and one male. He also offers the same prize to the party showing the best exhibit. These prizes are limited to Rhode Island Reds only on exhibit, and the baby chicks will be of the same variety.

Boys from the vocational agricultural class of the high school will assist with the exhibits, and the care of the birds.

Martin School Installs New Lighting System

Little by little the Martin community keeps adding to their community school building. During the past week the school board had Dewey Herndon install a carbide lighting system enabling the Christmas tree celebration to go over just right.

The main building is of brick with plenty of room for school purposes and a large auditorium for community gatherings and church services. Some are planning on building a library next.

West Texas Press Association

Varied Opinions.

Open saloons were once blamed with all our troubles. Next prohibition was given credit for all our calamities.

Chicago Pays Teachers.

Friday was a red letter day for school teachers of Chicago when checks for the first two weeks of May 1931 were mailed them when banks bought school warrants amounting to $2,250,000.

Our Lawmakers.

The lawmakers of Texas will convene in Austin the first week in January which is during the next ten days. Thousands of Texans look to them for help.

Political Beer.

The beer and light wine discussion in our national bodies has become a political squabble. Little is being done; little can be done, and little will be done.

Congress, by a simple act, can modify the Volstead act, but in order to repeal or amend the 18th amendment to the Constitution, a two-thirds vote of both Congress and the Senate, and ratification by three-fourths of the legislatures of the states would be necessary.

Australian Pests.

While the boll weevil is pestering the farmers of the south, rabbits are an ever increasing pest in most parts of Australia, the first ones being taken there for the purpose of growing a meat supply some fifty years ago.

The government sent troops into the Perth district of western Australia recently to guard the crops of the farmer against inroads of destruction as practiced by the emu. The emu is a double cousin of the ostrich, is very wild and untamable, but was driven into the farm belt in search of food when the drought forced them from their natural haunts.

Write a Postal.

Only newspaper men are asked to read this paragraph. Next week we begin a new year. Many weekly publishers exchange papers as a matter of courtesy.

Some publishers may have just such an opinion of the Leader, so we have hit upon a new plan. If you want the Leader to come to your desk weekly as an exchange, write us a postal. Otherwise it will be discontinued.

Amnesia.

Amnesia has long been defined as a failure of memory. Those so afflicted are said to forget the past. It is possible that those owing debts that could be paid, but are not, is due to an attack of "amnesia" rather than a natural inclination to become a deadbeat.

Carney discovers the "carne" of the coconut that is kept alive by the milk of human kindness. On the other hand, we know a lot of people who would welcome an attack of amnesia to better enable them to enjoy life in the future.

Fishing Grounds.

A scarcity of whales in the Bering sea forced four Soviet whaling snips to seek new fishing locations. These vessels plied their trade from Panama to the Philippine Islands bagging twenty-two of the large size whales, all of one species, on the trip which is said to be a fair catch for two weeks.

Fifty years ago fleets of Yankee whalers visited these same grounds. Now the Soviet whalers alone have the entire field to themselves, making headquarters at Valdivostok. Each Soviet whaler carries a crew of 186 trained men besides the women and children because families are raised on the whalers.

Going to The Dogs.

Our older folks some time tells that "we are going to the dogs." Their grandparents living back yonder with the open fireplace and log huts said the same thing. Then their grandparents who hiked to America to enjoy some semblance of freedom not possible in other lands, said the same thing about their younger generation.

Well down here in 1932 the dogs finally caught up with us, or we with them. Anyway, the dogs are tearing up our form of government like a "sow's bed." There is one consolation, we can better understand just what these old folks have been saying for the past several hundred or thousand of years.

Building Material.

Factories on a small scale are already marketing a synthetic building material made from farm waste of stalks, straw, etc. Boards of the smaller sizes, dimension timbers and shingles are being made. The materials may be "made" rather than sawed into the famous "read-i-cut" house material that was coming headlong just as the panic struck.

The sizes and quality will only be limited to the size of the machinery. The demand for the new material was made urgent because of the poor grade of lumber now on the market that is being sawed from young trees and practically worthless.

Some forms of this new material may be seen in sample form in the chemistry department of the local Junior college. Many new forms of building material made from a gypsum mixture are also on exhibit. The quality and price will make these newer building materials popular over night.

When the demand for new structures returns, we may expect as large a variety of new building materials, as new and modern designs for homes and business buildings.

That Texas Fee System.

The custom followed the law of officers taking fees for pay in our state rather than a straight salary. Officer associations have protested against the fee system to no avail.

Some good men are now under suspicion. Many people unjustly accuse officers of wrong-doing with an indiscriminate attempt at character assassination that drives good men from the field of public service.

Unemployed Relief.

Beginning with four, the Waterloo, Iowa Unemployed Relief Club now totals a membership of over 1700 over a period of three months.

The four men conceived the idea of harvesting vegetables on shares. To date the Club has harvested and received as their share nine carloads of vegetables, 40,000 pounds of corn meal, 34,000 pounds of oatmeal, 27,000 pounds of pork and 15,000 pounds of beans.

Selling a part of their "share" enumerated above, the Club purchased the wood on 500 acres of nearby land for winter fuel. They also contracted to keep the snow off the sidewalks through the winter in exchange for tax payments on homes owned by a part of the members.

Repair shops for shoes, clothing and furniture is maintained in one of the six buildings being operated. The dues amounts to 5 cents a year and 40 hours of labor each week. A. R. Locke, major in the Rainbow Division of the World War is president. Only the needy are permitted to join for whom jobs are immediately provided.

Our Home Life.

All too often do we under value and under estimate our homes, and more especially when we regard "home" as a place of four walls within which to eat and sleep. We do not place personal emphasis on the value of social relationship, where we are first taught the rudiments of generosity, hospitality, industry and a proper regard for the rights of others.

Home life a hundred years ago perhaps could furnish us with some valuable study in comparison with the homes of today. In the pioneer home, the interests of every member of the family was centered in the home, with loyalty and obedience the first law.

Since our success in life depends to a great extent upon our home life, the lessons in morality, obedience, charity, loyalty become of greatest importance. Good citizenship is born in the home. It need not be a mansion because those who dwell therein make the home rather than the inanimate material in the structure.

FEE SYSTEM OF TEXAS

In a statistical summary taken from its pending report to the 43rd Legislature, the Senate fee-investigating committee enumerates striking instances of abuses which have arisen from the fee system.

For example, some district or county attorney will charge a defendant on ten counts. If the man pleads guilty, he probably is sentenced to a year in State's prison on each count. As the terms run concurrently, however, he serves, not ten, but one year, with time off for good behavior.

The investigating committee's findings have led it to the conclusion that "in many counties violators of the criminal laws are arrested and brought into court solely for the purpose of collecting fees and with no intent to send the culprit to the penitentiary."

Such a practice is a shameful travesty upon justice. That condition largely may account for the fact that in the six-year period studied by the committee, 1925-31, 49,000 criminal charges were dismissed, to 24,000 convictions obtained. The proportion of dismissals ranged from 27.9 per cent in chicken-theft cases to 72 per cent in perjury. According to the statistics thus cited, it is 20 per cent harder to convict a murderer, and twice as hard to convict a person who commits criminal assault, as a chicken-thief.

During the six years in question the State paid $12,436,000 in fees on criminal cases. That figure does not take into account the petty cases tried in justice and city courts. To the taxpayer who foots the bill, it would appear that administering criminal justice in Texas costs too much, considering the results obtained.

Putting the arresting, prosecuting and other officials on a salary would reduce that cost heavily.

Probably fewer cases would show on criminal dockets, but the proportion of convictions to arrests would rise appreciably. Respect for the law doubtless would increase, as well.

The courts are not the only branch suffering from the fee-pocketing bane. The system premeates almost the entire governmental organization and its effect is everywhere damaging. Rarely a stimulus to industry of the right sort, the feesystem presents many a temptation to evils and abuses.

That method of remunerating public officials long ago outlived its usefulness—and nothing but usage pleads for its continuance. Its complete abolition would make for economy and efficiency in every branch of the public service to which it now applies.

Donley County Leader "A COMMON PAPER FOR COMMON PEOPLE"

TEMPLE OF TRUTH By the Apostle

Old Santa has come and gone. GW got me some silk stockings and I got her a new pipe and a can of tobacco. We had all the boys home with us including the inlaws and outlaws, as the saying is, also some neighbors. Also a big feed. There is not much difference in the way people celebrate Christmas in the average family.

Some folks celebrate by getting drunk and fighting. When they celebrate the birth of the Savior of the world in that manner, it looks like they are mad about it. Others shoot firecrackers that belong with the 4th of July. Some times I think Christmas has been commercialized until we have lost sight of what it really means. A lot of folks dread Christmas because of the extra expense, when as a matter of fact it should be a period of reverence looked forward to with pleasure.

We are glad that no accidents marred the pleasure of the community over the week. The worm style motorist failed to show up. A worm style driver is like a worm, never gives you any idea about which way they will turn.

Bill (with hands over eyes)—If you can't guess who it is in three guesses, I'm going to kiss you. Toots—Jack Frost, Davy Jones, Santa Claus.

If you have trouble with the cold weather in growing flowers, lay two pieces of coal in a dish, cover with a layer of salt and spread some bluing over the salt. You will be surprised at the way the mess will grow. The color may be varied by using the school water colors. Freezing won't hurt that kind of a pot plant. It costs practically nothing and is one of the most beautiful ornaments to be had.

Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors feast on turkey at Thanksgiving and Christmas by order of the government. No matter where they may be, no one is overlooked. The turkey order for this Christmas amounted to 220 tons.

The fact that postoffice beer did not show up here was a distinct disappointment to many. The latest from Washington tells that we may have "beer cafeterias" instead of establishing bars in the post-office. It is estimated that taxes, state and federal, will amount to 20 cents a stein. No, pardner, that 5 cent beer with a free lunch thrown in is a long way off yet.

The boys managed to lose my mud chains Friday. By golly I'll appreciate it if some one will bring them in—one at a time will do as that was the way they lost 'em.

The folks are coming in right along paying a dollar for the Leader a year and getting their money back through the coupon book. That is one way the merchants have of paying for your paper for you, and we are glad you appreciate the generosity of the merchants who are willing to help.

An old farmer friend was in today and said his life had been preserved for several years by "smoked salt." Now who wants to smoke salt?

The latest furniture fashion hints tell us that "rocking chairs are coming back." Why, dad burn it, I didn't know they had gone. We have five in the same room and coming into that room on a dark night is more dangerous than what Hobson did down in Cuba during the war. Stepping on a rocker and having the back fly up and knock out some teeth is not pleasant, but when all five get on the job—well good night nurse and bring on the arnica. It's worse than trying to find Dean Clark's daughter.

Let's pause here long enough to say that the Christmas card remembrances were greatly appreciated, and entirely too numerous to reply to—at least in one week. Anyway, the fact that so many readers of the Leader, and of this column, saw fit to remember the Leader family is one of the few things that go to make life worth while. To those of you who sent me a Christmas message personally, thanks a lot.

A lady called me up Sunday to say that she saw something nice in the Leader. With happy thoughts that at least one kind soul had found merit in this publication, I hastily queried her as to what it might be. "It was a turkey wrapped up with a copy of the Leader," she said. Well blow me down!

One of World's Great Wonders Found in Texas

Here's a real "look-see" at the wonders of Pluto's realm, taken in the newly discovered and explored Longhorn Cavern, right at the center of the State of Texas—at Burnet, 50 miles northwest of Austin. Dr. Frank E. Nicholson, famous as the explorer of Carlsbad, has definitely established this Texas wonder to be the third largest cavern in the world. When fully explored, it will be larger than any other, he says. Note Nicholson in the photo, with his wife, Peggy, standing just above him, almost in the "Dragon's Mouth." Longhorn Cavern State Park, with the cave as the feature attraction, will be opened to the public for the first time Thanksgiving day, with a big four-day celebration.

As Purple T. C. U. Norther Put Longhorns to Rout

The weather was bad for Texas Longhorns at Fort Worth Friday. A rip-roaring norther in the form of purple clad gridiron warriors of T. C. U. swept them aside to score twice, while the Longhorns battled the Purple wind with little or no avail all the way. Texas forwards were of firm belief, after the game, that they had played against an opposing line of seven tigers, instead of seven men. So was Texas' all-star backfield of this belief, for that matter. In the picture Red Oliver heads low for a gaping hole in the Longhorn line. Oliver rose to new heights Friday, and the Horned Frog team now stands firmly on the pinnacle of the Southwest Conference ladder.

Amarillo a few years ago. Being green gawky hoosiers from the sand belt, we naturally took in the town for any sights not common to our own little wide place in the road. At noon time, we wandered into the Woolworth store to get our first experience with a cafeteria. We lined up, took a platter each, paid off at the end of the line and sat down to shovel the food down with our knives as we do at home. Pretty soon I missed my fellow-townsmen until I located him on the street some minutes later. "What did you run off about?" I asked. He was a bright boy and laughed like he had shown Amarillo and Mr. Woolworth a new trick when he said: "Why dang their hide, they made me pay alright, but I slipped out without washing the dishes!" He told me later that he crawled on the bottom side of his back for two blocks just to play this joke on the cafeteria girls.

Sleep, work and companionship are the greatest factors in human happiness. I find the first to be impossible around grandchildren, plenty of the second and great gobs of the third. Still I enjoyed it all during Christmas.

Mrs. M. M. Noble and son Joe of Austin spent the holidays here with Mr. Noble. Joe is a student in the State University.

Our Weekly CHURCH CHAT

"A NEW YEAR'S PROGRAM"

Text: "Let us go on to perfection" Heb. 6:1. Every year is a fresh beginning. Every January is the world made new. The new year is a new opportunity. Let us resolve to make the most of it. Let us all push on toward perfection.

I. Let us "go on" to more knowledge. Christian knowledge lies at the foundation of Christian character. "Desire the sincere milk of the word, that we may grow thereby."

II. Let us "go on" to richer experiences. Know and you will feel. Feel and you will pray. Every day of the new year can be made to bring us richer experiences of Christian delights.

III. Let us "go on" to higher attainments. Pray and you will aspire. First principles are important but there are things still higher and nobler to attain—personal intimacy with Christ, the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, power in prayer, growing sensitiveness to sin—into the mysteries of things like these, the Christian should be stirred with a nobler discontent to enter.

IV. Let us "go on" to larger usefulness. Know and you will feel. Feel and you will pray. Pray and you will aspire. Aspire and you will work. Let us work for God as never before during this coming year. God will use us if we are willing. Let us be ambitious to make the most of ourselves, and do the most possible good for God and His Church. The time is short. New Year's Day is a milestone of the way that leads to eternity. We are all heading that way, we have only one life to live, so let us realize its utmost possibilities. 1933 will be carved on the tombstone of many that are now living. While we are yet alive let us "go on" toward perfection, and seek to merit the great reward God has in store for the faithful. Sunday morning we will bring a message on: "NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS." There are seven major resolutions that every Christian should make and abide by. At the evening hour, our subject will be: "SOJOURNERS." In this sermon we desire to show that we are all "sojourners" and are bound for a better land. PLEASANT VALLEY The school children enjoyed a Xmas tree at the school house

Present Financial Conditions Demand

CHEAPER GROCERY PRICES

Present day conditions demand that the grocery purchaser become a bargain hunter buying when and where the best prices are possible to be had. In order to meet these requirements of the purchaser, the grocery merchant is forced to adopt methods that will enable him to sell on a closer margin. In short he must Sell for cash only on a bare margin of profit.

He must discontinue free delivery cost.

He must carry a larger stock of better variety.

He must purchase produce from his customers and pay the highest market prices on a live-and-let-live basis.

Now in order to meet the requirements of our grocery trade, we will go on a strict cash basis on and after January 2nd. Our free delivery will be discontinued, and this saving passed to our customers. We will have no bad credit accounts and that saving will be passed to the customer.

Other economy measures will be put into effect in addition to the above items that will enable us to sell you groceries at a price that will meet with your approval. In fact, we are going to do everything possible to help you through the low price period even to the changing of the policy of the firm.

Educated Discrimination And Social Character

Arthur E. Morgan, President of Antioch College

In most towns in the western half of America the public school building completely dominates the community. In this structure the people, by a great cooperative effort, have given expression to their highest common purpose. As a universal influence for building personal and social character, the school is replacing the church and is competing with the home. For good or ill, the school is making America. What it is today, America will be in a generation. Education is the chief business of our country.

Recent enormous increase in scientific knowledge and in the complexity of life is putting extreme stress upon personal and social character. The American institution which best promises to make the necessary adjustments to this new world is the educational system. Many individuals and communities are attacking the problem with a vigor and intelligence that are greatly changing educational methods. In this development the best of our public schools and certain of the "experimental" private day schools compete for leadership.

Advance in American education is not limited to any type of institution, but takes place wherever an earnest, intelligent educator is supported by an intelligent, sympathetic constituency.

We must rely upon education for turning the present into a better future. If it becomes perfunctory, if it centers attention on a few interests and fails to see life as a whole, if it forgets purposes and is concerned only with methods, then the future may be dark.

Wherever educated discrimination increases, the imperfect pro-

LOW COST AND HIGH YIELD THE ONE WAY TO PROFIT

The result pictured above shows what the American-made nitrate of soda, used as a side-dressing, did for P. O. Bennett of Orangeburg, S. C. Yield increases like this are well worth the investment which nitrate of soda calls for.

While the farmer cannot control weather conditions, floods or insects, he can, and most emphatically should, use extreme care in the selection of his seed and in the selection and use of fertilizers. Good seed and wise fertilization will decide the value of his crops and hence the amount of his profits.

The cotton farmers who will prosper in 1932 are those who will reduce the acreage under cultivation for cotton and who will use adequate amounts of Arcadian Nitrate of Soda on those acres on which cotton is to be grown. For regardless of laws passed by the Federal or State governments, it is good common sense which prompts the farmer to reduce his cotton acreage. The balance of his fields may be more profitably planted with varied crops to produce food both for himself and his live-stock.

The wise farmer, however, will remember that every single dollar invested in good commercial fertilizer may be depended upon to bring him a return of three dollars or more. Omitting the fertilizer, may save a little money at planting time and while the crops are in their early growth stages, but real loss will develop if those underfed crops are not side-dressed later.

CONGRESSMEN SEEN AS HARD WORKERS

Banker Tells of Labor Put in by Members of Congress on Mass of Technical Measures

OUTLINING legislative procedure, Robert V. Fleming, President Riggs National Bank, Washington, D. C., gave the recent convention of the American Bankers Association a description of the difficulties and problems confronting the law-makers. Mr. Fleming said in part:

"The most important part of organization of the two branches of congress is election of standing committees. There are 34 standing committees in the Senate and 46 in the House. These are the workshops of Congress and the real work of law-making is done in Committees.

"The task of legislating for 124,000,000 people is a tremendous one. Of recent years approximately 20,000 bills are introduced annually in the two Houses. Only a small percentage become law, but they must be weighed in committee, accepted or rejected, perhaps amended, reported out, and then considered on the floor.

"Lawmaking involves about 99% of hard and unglorious work and about 1% of oratory. Few tasks appear so easy and are so difficult as enactment of sound and satisfactory legislation. Few individuals in any line of activity work harder or longer hours than the chairmen of the important committees during a session. I have great sympathy for the members of Congress whose constituents expect undivided attention to every piece of legislation in which they may be interested. From my personal observation, they earnestly and conscientiously endeavor to do all that is possible.

Public Hearings "When a bill is introduced, referred to committee and printed, the next step, if it is a measure of considerable importance, is to conduct a public hearing. The committee makes an effort to listen to anyone who cares to be heard either for or against a measure, although witnesses are frequently limited as to time. Members of the Cabinet and other officials of the administrative departments of the Government usually testify on measures in which they are interested and furnish the committee information in executive session or otherwise.

"Due to pressure of work and the fact that it is impossible for members of Congress to be technical experts on every subject of legislation, the committees are inclined to give consideration to the merits of arguments presented in testimony and the recommendations of the Cabinet and other officials. It is therefore highly desirable, both from the standpoint of Congress as well as those affected by proposed legislation, that the latter have an opportunity to discuss frankly the effects of such legislation."

A Country Editor Looks at Banking

THE editor of the Norwalk, Ohio, Herald takes a somewhat different view of the banking situation from a good many people. His idea is as follows:

"With rents falling and unpaid, real estate does not present a happy picture. Nor does the owner of carefully selected bonds feel any happier, with a bunch of them going wrong. A lot of folks very carefully invested in preferred and common stocks in the finest companies in the world have seen them fall to perhaps a tenth of what they paid for them, and no dividends at all. Some folks kept their money in savings accounts in banks, and some banks have closed and left them high and dry. But the situation is worth looking at very carefully.

"On government authority, most banks that closed were really solvent but for frozen assets and popular timidity. Gradually the closed banks are coming out from under and depositors in even bad cases will get at least 90 per cent of their savings. That's tough of course; nobody likes to lose half of what they had scrimped and sacrificed and saved. But when you hoard and stick the roll of bills in a coffee pot or under a mattress, some plug-ugly comes along and burns your feet till you tell him to take it and welcome.

"And what about the great majority of banks that weathered the storm, met all comers and are doing business as usual, carefully and conservatively, but safely? What about the savings in those banks? They are a full 100 per cent today—and they are the only thing we know of at 100 per cent anywhere. After all is said and done, a good, well managed bank is still the best place in all the world for money or savings. Right now in Ohio the banks pay the taxes on all savings and pay their depositors not interest on their savings. We can't think, just now, of many other investments that are a tenth as safe as a savings account in a solid bank. Why, even a savings account in a closed bank is actually worth more today than most stocks."

They've Never Tasted a Tonic! THESE are not patent medicine children. Their appetite needs no coaxing. Their tongues are never coated, cheeks never pale. And their bowels move just like clockwork, because they have never been given a habit-forming laxative. You can have children like this—and be as healthy yourself—if you follow the advice of a famous family physician. Stimulate the vital organs. The strongest of them need help at times. If they don't get it, they grow sluggish. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is a mild, safe stimulant. When a youngster doesn't do well at school, it may be the liver that's lazy. Often the bowels hold enough poisonous waste to dull the senses! A spoonful of delicious syrup pepsin once or twice a week will avoid all this. It contains fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin, and does a world of good to any system—young or old. You can always get this fine prescriptional preparation at any drug store. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Get some syrup pepsin today, and protect your family from those bilious days, frequent sick spells and colds. Keep a bottle in the medicine chest instead of cathartics that so often bring on chronic constipation. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin can always be employed to give clogged bowels a thorough cleansing, with none of that painful griping, or burning, feeling afterward. It isn't expensive.

AMERICAN NITRATE OF SODA PROVED BY FIELD TESTS

This photograph from the farm of A. M. Corley in Aiken County, South Carolina, shows the cotton picked from equal acres. The Arcadian Nitrate of Soda added over 1,000 pounds seed cotton to the acre yield.

WHEN farmers were first offered an American-made nitrate of soda some were skeptical, because they had believed this fertilizer could be obtained only from mines. They were, however, quickly assured by National and State authorities that the American-made product was effective in producing the desired effects on crops.

Some farmers still preferred to make tests in their own fields to determine what the made-in-America nitrate would do. By these tests they confirmed the statements made that "nitrate of soda is nitrate of soda whether man makes it or mines it."

The "show me" attitude of hundreds of farmers resulted in a great many farm demonstrations of Arcadian nitrate of soda. Numberless field tests by trained agriculturists proved its worth. For example: corn, side-dressed with Arcadian, yielded 49.5 bushels per acre, compared to 26.2 bushels without side-dressing—an increase of 55% in yield, as an average for many tests.

Cotton tests in six different States gave an average yield of 324 pounds lint cotton with fertilizer but no side-dressing. When Arcadian nitrate of soda was used for side-dressing, the yield was increased to 444 pounds lint cotton; the 120 pound gain being equal to a 37% increase in yield.

THE TAX MENACE A GROWING CRISIS

By FRANCIS H. SISSON
President American Bankers Association

NO danger, economic or social, more seriously menaces our life, happiness and prosperity than the rising tide of taxes which threaten to engulf us. This is not simply a problem of the depression. It has been developing for many years, growing more serious all the time. The depression merely brought it to a climax.

Unless drastic steps are taken to reverse this trend the problem will not end with the depression. It will continue to weigh down and retard progress for an indefinite period.

In city, county, state and nation the orgy of spending has run on. It is estimated that in the United States the total cost of all government is nearly five times what it was before the World War. Many localities have been brought to the verge of bankruptcy by their expenditures, while many have saddled their citizens with a debt burden that will darken their lives and hamper their progress for years.

The total cost of Federal, state and local government in the United States is estimated at forty-six million dollars a day. Based on national income in 1930, this represents about one-fifth the total income of our people, or about $110 for every individual in the nation. Total taxes in 1931 are estimated to have taken more than 22 per cent of the national income. It is occasion for serious thought on the part of everyone when one day's income out of every four or five must be contributed to the maintenance of government machinery.

United States Government expenditures were reduced one hundred and forty million dollars during the first quarter of the current fiscal year. The recent action of bankers in calling a halt to unnecessary expenditures of New York City as prerequisite to loans will reduce the cost of government in the country's metropolis, which is second in its expenditures to only the Federal Government. No state in the Union, in fact, no other government on this hemisphere, spends half as much as this one city. These savings in Federal and municipal costs are only the beginning of a movement needed throughout the country, if we are to be led out of depression into prosperity.

Deposit 'Guarantee' Fails of Purpose

LOS ANGELES.—While the idea of the guarantee of bank deposits by some legally enforced plan seems to appeal to many people who give it casual thought, the fact is that it has not only failed in every instance in the eight states where the experiment was tried, but actually produced unsound banking, and increased the number of failures, it was declared by the recent convention of the American Bankers Association held here.

"Guaranty of bank deposits carries an idea that naturally appeals to people in general on casual consideration," the declaration said. "However, in principle it is unsound and in practice it is unworkable. It has been tried in eight States and it has not only failed in every case, but it has resulted in increasing the number of bank failures. Taxing properly managed banks to make up losses of failed banks is not only unfair and unreasonable, but it weakens the whole banking structure. Again, guaranty of deposits places the incompetent and reckless banker on an equal footing with the able and conservative banker, which encourages bad banking at the expense of sound banking. We are therefore opposed to the passage of any law carrying a guaranty of bank deposits and believe that it is against the interest of the people of the United States to develop any such system."

Kristenstad, Texas' Principality Within a State

Kristenstad, the little communal community in the de Cordova bend of the Brazos river, is the half-formed dream of a man who dares hope that some day his people will be fully self-sustaining and un-mindful of the outside world. The father of the colony is John B. Kristensen, Danish farmer, pictured upper left with his wife. Upper right is a scene from the little printing office down the Brazos. Lower right is the Kristenstad postoffice. Lower left shows the location of this queer little community. The settlement consists of about 300 people, and has its own monetary system, brass pieces being used. The people are all as nearly self-supporting as possible, growing their own food and meat, weaving their own cloth.

Fumble! Exciting Moment in Texas Championship Game

Fumble! The Corsicana back drops the ball, and a Masonic Home player swoops in to recover it. This play vividly illustrates the mighty effort put forth by both teams when the Texas State high school football championship was decided at Corsicana Monday. Neither team scored, but Corsicana won the crown by penetrating the Fort Worth team's 20-yard line 5 times while the Masons never crossed the Tiger's 25-yard stripe.

A REPUBLICAN

One of the first rhymes I learned as a youngster was the one about the old woman who lived in a shoe and had so many children she didn't know what to do. During the recent campaign one of the democratic speakers referred to my old favorite—it wasn't Al—and yet I think if Al were to say it, it would sound something like this:

"'Dere wuz in de Bronx a foxy old goil wuz louzy wit kids and she peddled some boot; she voted fer Frank figgerin' bizness'd wholl, provin' she wuzn't rumb if she wuz an ole coot."

And here's how the guv'nah would say it himself: 'My friends, I want to talk to you about the old lady who lived in the shoe and had so many deah children and nothing to chew. Mr. Hoovah knew she had children; the Republican party knew she had children; everybody knew she had children! Did Mr. Hoovah do anything about it? NO! A thousand—ten thousand—ten thousand times, no! But we—the great Democratic party, my friends—we have a well-defined program of reforestation for the deah old lady's relief which, though it may not succeed in affording succah or comfort to the deah old lady, will at least provide all those deah children with thanks. I thank you!'

Should Give Father A Break

It's dad who writes the checks for Mother's day celebrations and all other celebrations, too. On the first of the month he is the most important member of the household. But the fact is generally forgotten on the second. Why not hand him a flower, some time, along with the "please remit"? The idea is suggested by Rev. W. W. Rose, of the First Universalist Church, Lynn, Mass. It is chiefly the father's fault, writes Mr. Rose in his church paper, that he is lost in the shuffle: "He is content to stand in the background. "He is inclined to be silent. "We take him for granted in human society even as we take salt for granted in the daily pro-vender. And like salt he savors the whole.

"Father works at the common place task of earning a living, supporting a family, discharging his duties, laboring along quietly six days in the week, standing between his dependents and the world.

"He shoulders the responsibility of rent and taxes.

"He works himself to death that his wife and children may be assured of comfort and independence.

"He is not often the scholar or the dreamer.

"He is not often the pathfinder or the pioneer; nor the rebel. "He belongs with the hundreds of thousands who dare not revolt—at least publicly.

"He has given hostages to fortune, as Francis Bacon once said. He knows it. But he doesn't care.

"Somewhere we may have a national Memorial Day to Dad. That is, if we can get sufficiently wrought up over him.

"In the meanwhile every day is his day. And he spends it working for the wife and kids.

"Give Dad a cheer, ladies, but let him pick out his own neckties!"

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tice of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Cox and daughters, Annie Sue and Lola Pearl of Panhandle, Miss Alpha Mae Patten of Childress visited their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Baker over the holidays.

Farmers Must Plan For Profits

WHEN selling prices are low, the only sure road to profits is the one which leads to lower production costs. The farmer cannot control market buying prices. But he can control his own operating costs and can plan to maintain a fair margin of profit.

To reduce production cost (even though the farmer cultivates fewer acres) PER ACRE PRODUCTION MUST BE INCREASED.

This calls for more intensive fertilization which will make every acre under cultivation give maximum results. Since labor costs remain about the same per acre, regardless of production volume, increased per acre production really means a proportionate saving in labor cost. Better fertilizing means also better quality which in turn means higher selling prices.

This is not mere theory. It has been proved over and over again in numberless practical farm tests.

Nitrogen is the growth element in all fertilizers. Arcadian Nitrate Soda used as top dressing or side dressing supplies this growth element in a quickly available form at a time when this type of plant food is vitally needed.

Only the short sighted farmer will neglect to give his fields adequate nitrogen if he hopes to make a profit.

WE HAD HOPED THAT

When Congress met for its short session the Nation had hopes, perhaps rather faint, that, as the presumably last lame duck session, the national lawmakers would cease to be a debating society and settle down to the performance of that the country really wishes from its lawmaking body. Citizens generally throughout the country wish drastic reductions in governmental expenditures; they wish the

The Need of Regular Eye Examination

Whether you now wear glasses or not, your eyes should be examined at least every eighteen months.

Eye changes occur very gradually. Serious eyestrain may be taking place without your being conscious of it—until it is too late.

Excessive tiredness, headaches, blurry type, and double vision are the danger signals, but very often the damage to your eyes has been done before you observe these signs.

Your vision is priceless. Safeguard it by regular eye examination.

DONLEY COUNTY'S—

from Trinity University at Waxahachie. He later spent some time in the famed Eastman business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He will have associated with him in the office A. H. Baker, retiring district clerk who brings many years of skill with him, having served Donley and Hutchinson counties in the district clerk's office. Mr. Word made the race for the clerk's office four years ago losing in the first primary by a narrow margin. He refused to continue the race to the second primary because his opponent was a lady. In the same race this year, he won by a handsome majority and many wonder if that old-time western chivalry four years ago had much to do with the results of his campaign in 1932.

The present incumbent in the assessor's office appears to be a permanent fixture so far as the voters are concerned. W. A. Armstrong will begin his third term Monday. It has been intimated that he originated in Jack county. However that might be, his familiar smile is all the protest one will hear. Besides, Jack county has sent a large number of mighty good men to the west despite all our jokes about that county.

County attorney R. Y. King will experience very little formality Monday and go right on with his office first won in the campaign of 1928. He frankly owns up to a third term and at the same time pledges himself to make this the best term of all. R. Y. is a native of Williamson county but "brought his family to Armstrong" county at an early age. Aside from the common schools of Armstrong, he attended a small college in Bell county and later graduated from the law department of the State University.

Serving his first term in public office as sheriff of Donley county by election in 1928, the office of tax collector was created at the end of two years and M. W. Mosley became Donley's first collector of taxes giving the new job the preference over the job of sheriff after two years in that office. He does not deny having been born in Arkansas, or living in Delta county Texas which is worse. He attended the common schools and graduated from the "college of hard knocks", as he terms it. He finally found Donley county in 1907. He has been elected by handsome majorities each time in campaigns that never end from one election to the next.

Sloan Baker who succeeds Mrs. Nora McMurtry as county superintendent of schools, is a product of west Texas by reason of having spent most of his life in and near Hereford. He early took advantage of the public school there and spent several terms in W.T.S.T.C.

Large Crowd Sees Pageant At Methodist Church

The Christmas pageant, "When the Star Shone" presented Friday evening at the Methodist church was very impressive. The presentation was complete in every detail with Mrs. U. J. Boston as the guiding spirit as she has been on similar occasions for a number of years.

Twenty-five characters were necessary in this presentation. Gifts for the needy were brought in which a number of the churches cooperated in making another "white Christmas" a success. The list included a big variety and these were wisely distributed through the official charity organizations of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson returned to their home at Clovis Tuesday after spending the Christmas holidays with her sister, Mrs. P. L. Chamberlain and family.

at Canyon, Trinity University of Waxahachie, Texas and Park College of Parkville, Mo. For the past eight years he has had charge of the Smith school between Giles and Memphis. He has devoted the past several years to school work and in preparation except for the time spent in the army during the War.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Koerner of Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Simmons of Dallas visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart and family over Christmas week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lalar Wilkerson succeeds Mrs. Linnie Cauthen as county treasurer. She is a native of Donley county being educated in the local schools, taking courses in both literary and musical branches. She is a skilled piano teacher and a dramatic artist of no mean ability. She will be the only lady to hold county office this term, defeating her predecessor by a very narrow margin.

Of the nine officials, only one is single—Walker Lane. Mr. Word has the largest number of children while Mr. King has none. Mrs. Wilkerson is a widow. Only two are grandfathers—Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Mosley. Three are ex-service men—King, Pierce and Sloan Baker

Armstrong Grocery Changes To a Cash Basis

In keeping with modern methods of keen competition and meeting the demands of his customers, Bryan Armstrong announces in the Leader this week through an advertisement the fact that the firm will be on a strict cash basis on and after January 2nd.

"My customers demand lower prices and I must get on a cash basis, discontinue free city delivery and cut corners on every hand to give them the low prices which they demand" said Mr. Armstrong today. He believes that by cutting down expenses of the firm, and passing this saving to his customers in the form of lowered prices, his firm can be of great help to those who wish to make the dollar go farthest. This policy is in keeping with a number of changes in the grocery line over the nation, and a policy that must finally be adopted by all of them to survive.
