

Encampment of Club Women at Lake Aug. 5-7

200 Women Expected to Attend First Annual Encampment at State Park Site

Summer camp for the Brown County Home Demonstration Club Women will open at Lake Brownwood State Park August 5 and continue through August 7, according to announcement by Miss Mayesie Malone, county home demonstration agent. Attendance for the three day encampment is expected to reach 200.

Eleven home demonstration women's clubs of the county will be represented at the camp. A number of outstanding speakers from Dallas and A. & M. College have been invited to appear on the program, and several women from the home demonstration clubs of Eastland and Coleman counties also have been asked to attend as guests.

Interesting phases of women's club work will be presented in the addresses of the speakers. Mrs. Bess Edwards of A. & M. College, assistant state home demonstration agent, will attend the camp the first evening, August 5, and speak on "The Centennial Quilt." Mrs. Raymond McElrath of Coleman, district vice president of the home demonstration club, will give a report on the county women of the world meeting which she attended in Washington, D. C., recently. "Gardens of the Bible" will be the subject of a talk by Mrs. Walter Helmick of Brownwood.

Editor on Program

Other prominent speakers will be Miss Peggy Morris, associate editor of Farm and Ranch, Dallas; Mrs. Eula McFarland, instructor in home economics at Howard Payne and Daniel Baker Colleges; Mrs. Roy Mathews, Bangs, vice president at large of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, who will make a report of the association meeting at the short course at A. & M. College; and Chester Harrison, secretary of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

Two club women of May will present a clever skit on "Staving Off Summer Billows Attacks." Games, stunts, and songs will be directed by Mrs. J. W. Phillips, recreational director, of the Byrds club.

All delegates who attended the A. and M. short course, will make a report and all demonstrators of the county will point out the progress of demonstration work among the women during the course of the encampment, Miss Malone said. Delegates who have been asked to report on a specific phase of the meetings at the short course are Mrs. Stanley Price, Owens; Mrs. L. H. Davis, Grosvenor; Mrs. Eleanor Lappe, May; Mrs. Will Vandiver, May; Mrs. L. N. Yarbrough, Bangs; Mrs. Myrtle Byrd, Grosvenor; Mrs. W. A. Foreman, Bangs; Mrs. Emma Newton, Cross Cut; and Mrs. C. M. Kilgore, Zephyr.

Austin Morris Furniture Company has promised to furnish a large oil Electrolux for use during the encampment. Cooks have been secured to have complete charge of the kitchen and will be paid by Austin Mill & Grain Company. Other donations which have been indicated include ice to be furnished by the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce; and salad dressing, sandwich spread, peanut butter, flour, meal, and coffee by Gold Chain Company. Permission for the use of the camp buildings and dining hall were secured from the State Parks Board and the National Park Service.

No children will be permitted to attend the camp, Miss Malone said. The purpose of the summer camp is to relieve the women entirely from home responsibilities and cares for the three-day period.

McCamey, Tex., held Texas' first rattlesnake derby as a feature of the tenth birthday of the oil town.

FIRST BROWNWOOD LIVESTOCK AUCTION TO BE HELD AUG. 8

Brownwood Livestock Sales Commission Co., Inc., announces that their opening sale of livestock will be held at the new auction pavilion at Brownwood, Saturday, August 8. After the opening, sales will be held weekly on Saturdays.

One of the best auctioneers available anywhere will be in charge of the sale; pens fully equipped to take care of thousands of head of livestock of all kinds are ready; the new auction ring affording a large number of seats with good view of the ring has been completed and everything is in readiness for the first sale, for which a large number of stock of all kinds have already been listed.

Buyers all over the country have been expected to attend—some from as far away as Mississippi. The management stresses the fact that the local yards have been designed with a view to taking care of stock from this entire section—not merely the immediate Brownwood territory—and emphasizes the intention of making Brownwood one of the outstanding markets of its kind in the country.

They urge that the entire territory co-operate with them in doing this and, of course, by so doing, help create a more convenient permanent market for the stock of this section.

All kinds of livestock will be handled—horses, mules, cattle, hogs, sheep and goats—water has been piped all over the yards, and arrangements have been made to feed a large number of stock at a reasonable rate.

The yards are located on Center Avenue in Brownwood, near the intersection of railroad tracks, with loading chutes direct from alleys to two railroads as well as convenient truck and trailer chutes. Everyone with anything in the livestock line to sell is urged to be here Saturday, August 8th. There is no danger of overcrowding, as there is plenty of pen room and as many as a thousand individual sales per day is possible with the arrangement.

LIFE SAVING REVIEW WILL BE CONDUCTED

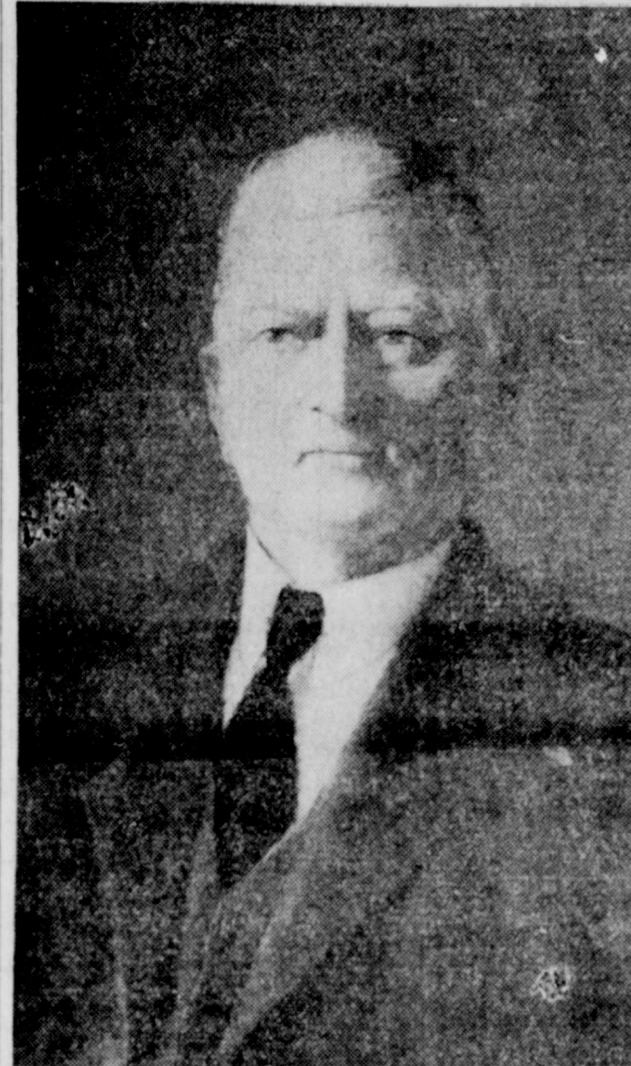

All senior life savers, who are 20 years of age, may enroll in the course in life saving to be conducted by Roger C. Plaisted, field representative in first aid and life saving for the American Red Cross, Friday and Saturday, July 31 and August 1.

ASSOCIATION HOLDS CITY WIDE REVIVAL

Revival meetings, sponsored by all pastors of the city who are affiliated with the Brownwood Ministerial Association, opened Monday night at the corner of Avenue D and Eighth Street and will continue throughout the week. A different pastor is in charge each evening. A large choir with members from the various churches has been organized. Special music is in charge of Steve Heather with Mrs. Heather as accompanist.

At the same time that plans for holding an old fashioned city-wide revival were perfected at a meeting of the Brownwood Ministerial Association, the Rev. Karl H. Moore was elected to the presidency of the association to succeed Rev. Robert Y. Davis who recently resigned. The office of vice president, vacated by Dr. Moore was filled by Rev. A. W. Anderson.

Exposition to Honor Great Texan

JOHN NANCE GARNER

A special proclamation by Governor Allred has proclaimed August 5th as John Nance Garner day, and the distinguished Vice President will be honored on that day by a tumultuous demonstration at the Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Thousands of Texans will converge upon Dallas in probably the greatest public ovation ever accorded a citizen of the Lone Star State. The Exposition is preparing to handle the gayest and largest crowd in its history.

PARKS HAVING WATER AREAS PROVE MORE POPULAR WITH TEXANS

State and local parks containing water areas, where facilities are available for swimming, boating, and fishing, are shown in a preliminary study made by the National Park Service to be the most popular in Texas, from a use standpoint.

Whether within close proximity to population centers, or in comparatively isolated regions, water is the lure that draws the crowds, provided adequate provision also has been made for picnicking. The mermen and the mermaids; the followers of Izaak Walton; the devotees of the oars and the paddles—these are away out in front, immediately following picnickers, in the classification of activities in the parks.

The study is important from the standpoint of planning for continued development of recreational areas because it furnishes a definite guide to activities that are most popular with park users. It shows, in the number of hikers, the advisability of continued development of foot trails. Another point brought out is that in Texas there appear to be an unusually large percentage of people who are interested in nature study, including geological formations, plant and animal life.

In cooperation with the Texas State Parks Board and other state agencies, the National Park Service now is carrying on development work at eighteen State Parks; Palo Duro Canyon, Bonham, Bastrop-Buescher, Lake Corpus Christi, Big Bend, Longhorn Cavern, Mother Neff, Garner, Gollad, Fort Parker, Balmorhea, Daingerfield, Lockhart, MacKenzie, Cleburne, Tyler, Paris, and Kerrville.

Work in metropolitan parks at Fort Worth, Dallas, Beaumont and Sweetwater, is being done in cooperation with the respective local park boards.

Where there are no natural bodies of water, and conditions are favorable for development of adequate water supplies, dams are being built to create lakes. Construction of roads, trails, and bridges; comfort stations, overnight cabins, shelters, and picnic units with fireplaces, tables and benches, are among other major projects.

Emergency Conservation Work funds and Civilian Conservation Corps labor are being used.

More extensive planting of trees and shrubbery is being done in sparsely-forested regions. To encourage the return of birds and small animals to areas they have abandoned, water holes are being developed, and plant material brought in to afford food and shelter. Permanent structures, such as

CITY OFFICIALS CURB SPREAD OF TYPHOID BY PROTECTIVE STEPS

Preventive measures set up under the direction of Dr. J. M. Horn, city health officer, to check the spread of typhoid fever which has appeared in a small area in Brownwood have placed the situation well under control, it has been announced.

Ten cases of typhoid fever were reported as required by law to the health officer; nine of these still are under quarantine, one case having been dismissed. Dr. Horn stated.

Serums were given to scores of people to prevent a typhoid epidemic at the Community House. Mrs. Roy Gower, health nurse employed by the Junior Service League, is directing this work. She is assisted by Mrs. Thelma Schneider Odell, R. N., who volunteered her time to the work.

Mrs. Ruby Ables of the Brown County Welfare Board is in charge of providing commodities to the needy families and offering other assistance.

Individuals interested in helping the needy are asked to make donations of sheets, gowns, and clean cotton rags which are badly needed in the treatment of the numerous typhoid fever cases that are in existence in the poor sections of the city. Requests are also made for fruits and cereals. Persons having such are asked to call Mrs. Roy Gower or leaders of any church organization who have taken an active part to fight the menace and make contributions.

Cooperation of the City Council with the health authorities, to hold the epidemic in check has been of great service, Mayor W. H. Thompson said.

Legion Post Will Name Officers At Meeting On Monday

Officers of Isham A. Smith Post, American Legion, will be elected at the regular meeting of the post on Monday night, August 3, it was announced this week by post officials. All members of the local post are urged to be present at the meeting.

administration buildings, caretakers houses, and cabins, are being screened with plant material to blend into the natural surroundings. Parking districts are being arranged to restrict automobiles to limited areas, so as to promote ground cover and preserve the semi-wilderness aspect of the parks. "Nature trails" are being developed and signed with names of wild flowers, trees, and geological formations.

CC DIRECTORS VOTE OFFICIAL BROWNWOOD DAY SEPTEMBER 15

Directors of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously to have September 15 designated as Brownwood Day at the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial rather than August 5 in a meeting held Wednesday, and instructed Chester Harrison, secretary to go to Fort Worth to see D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to confirm the date.

September 15 was named a few weeks ago as Brownwood Day at the Fort Worth show, but in making arrangements for various towns on the special day list which have exhibits in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce building, Mr. Bandeen named August 5 as Brownwood Day without consulting Mayor W. H. Thompson or Brownwood Chamber of Commerce officials of the change. Tuesday Mayor Thompson received a letter from Mr. Bandeen asking if it were agreeable to change the date from September 15 to August 5. Following a conference with Chamber of Commerce officials, Mayor Thompson informed Mr. Bandeen that the first date had been publicized and arrangements had been made and to move it up to August 5 would not be satisfactory. Plans will be made to run a special train to the show if the September date is officially confirmed.

Special courtesies which will be arranged by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the city honoring on the special day will be a 15-minute radio program over WBAP. Mr. Harrison has been asked to supply information about Brownwood to be used in the broadcast.

Other special features will include a large lighted sign on top of the W. T. C. C. building announcing the special occasion; attention directed to the city's panel exhibit, motion pictures and souvenir literature for the day; introduction of the city's sponsor, if one is chosen at Casa Manana; and turning over to the city the supervision of the information booth that day.

PURCHASES OF HORSES BY ARMY IS PLANNED

Members of the purchasing board of the United States Army will be in Brownwood shortly after August 1, to buy horses for the cavalry and artillery, according to "Dizzy" Dean, local dealer. Brownwood for many years has been a popular market for purchase of army horses and mules, and many have come from here to the service units.

Mr. Dean suggests that anyone having horses to sell get in touch with him, and he will assist them in presenting their animals to the army officials.

SCOUTS CLOSE CAMP FOR SECOND PERIOD

Thirty-five Girl Scouts of this area attended the second monthly camp held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Lakewood Swimming Pool. Miss Mary Nell McClelland, director of the camp, was in charge assisted by members of the Scout Council and other interested workers.

A variety of activities were scheduled on the program. Miss Lydia Boenicke supervised the art craft course which consisted of basket weaving. Instruction in bead work was given by Dr. C. F. Achor; Miss Authalia Williams directed a class in horseback riding; Miss Lillian Durham instructed the group in swimming, and Mrs. H. V. Riddle Mrs. Carl Shannon and Mrs. Richard Fish assisted in the direction of other features of the work.

Participation in games, stunts, and a trail-hike across the mountains were some of the special activities arranged for the group. For each meal a different squad was in charge of arranging the details. A worship period was conducted each day. A talk on the "Ideals of Girl Scouts" was given during the course of the encampment to emphasize the merits of the organization and work of Girl Scouts.

Mrs. J. W. Trapp, troop commissioner, furnished ice cream for the group while the Rotary Club made donations which made possible the holding of the camp.

The third monthly camp planned for this summer will be held the latter part of August.

SUMMER MEETING OF PECAN GROWERS WILL BE HELD AUGUST 14

Brownwood will be host to the West Texas Pecan Growers Association which will convene here Friday, August 14, for the annual summer meeting, and the Southwestern Pecan Growers Association, growers' cooperative organization, which will meet at the same time.

Visits to the six-year-old pecan orchard at the U. S. Pecan Experiment Field Station in charge of Joseph H. Hamilton and to the Experiment Station of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology with C. B. Nickels, entomologist, will be made.

Entertainment for the visitors will include a fish fry and a trip on Lake Brownwood.

Relief Office To Aid WPA In Hiring Workers

New Set-Up Will Increase Number Eligible; TRC to Conduct Investigations

New policies and procedures that will guide the Texas Relief Commission in referring employable persons to the WPA on the basis of need, which will be inaugurated as a part of a statewide program, were discussed and explained in the first of a series of meetings to be held over the district Wednesday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Members of the county commissioners, city councils, Brown county Welfare Board, representatives from WPA and TRC were present.

Under the new set-up, applicants for WPA work will be required to register with the National Re-employment service, and bring their registration cards to the intake office of the Texas Relief Commission in the Whaley Building. The TRC office will investigate each case and make recommendations to the WPA offices. Anyone whose case was closed by the TRC prior to May 4, 1936, must go back through the procedure of intake before becoming eligible for WPA employment. County commissioners will have no authority to place men on WPA jobs, under the new plan.

Three factors will guide the TRC in determining the employability of individuals. These are: the need of the applicant for employment, the availability of private employment and the efficiency and ability of the applicant.

Age Limit Raised

Intake offices will be maintained in the Whaley Building where previous TRC and county welfare activities have been carried on. Since there are no available jobs at present, applicants needing relief may make their applications any time after the intake offices are opened. Applicants will not be interviewed at WPA or NRS offices. Change of the age limit of employables has been moved from 16 to 18 years, Mrs. Bennet pointed out.

Responsibility and authority of the Texas Relief Commission extends to...

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS SURVEY OF AIRPORT

Endorsement of a petition by 39 residents of Avenue A and Avenue B asking for an extension of the city gas line to serve them was received and filed by City Council at a meeting Monday night.

The Council voted to discontinue the lease of a small tract of land from C. L. McCartney south of the city which has been used as an emergency airport for the past few years.

Notice was received by city officials from attorneys that suit for damage is to be filed in behalf of Dr. H. L. Lobstein unless the city makes a payment for $40,000 damages for injuries received when his car and a city-owned car collided.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS TO MEET SATURDAY TO NAME DELEGATES

The county democratic convention, to name delegates from this county to the State democratic convention September 8, will be held Saturday afternoon at the district court room, it was announced this week. It is expected that the county convention will be rather a tame affair, as little interest has been shown in the meeting. Since Governor Allred already has received the Democratic nomination for Governor, and will dominate the state convention, it is assumed that the usual custom will follow and the Brown county delegation to the state convention will be drawn from his supporters in this county. Precinct conventions were held Saturday, the same date as the first primary election, at which time delegates to the county convention were selected. Thomas H. Taylor, democratic county chairman, will be in charge of the meeting Saturday.

PRECINCT CHAIRMEN SELECTED SATURDAY

Precinct chairmen of the county democratic executive committee, were named as follows in Saturday's primary: Mt. View, Louis Harris; Woodland Heights, T. N. Simmons; Ricker, J. W. Page; Jordan Springs, A. B. Wilson; Ward 4, S. E. Stark; Jones Chapel, L. W. Garmon; Indian Creek, C. B. McBride, St.; Williams, W. E. Chambers; Brooksmith, W. F. ALLRED AND SHEPPARD ESCAPE NECESSITY OF CONTEST IN RUN-OFF

Governor James V. Allred was renominated over four opponents in Saturday's primary election, and United States Senator Morris Sheppard won over five opponents. The vote in the Governors' race, with returns from 250 of the 254 counties, was: Allred, 476,900; Brooks, 30,359; Fischer, 127,176; Hunter, 210,530; Sanderford, 73,903.

Frank Morris, of Dallas, nosed out Carl Hardin of Stephenville for second place in the race for Railroad Commissioner, and won the right to oppose Chairman Ernest O. Thompson, in the August run-off. The vote in this race was: Hardin 142,403; Johnson, 99,417; Morris, 145,795; Rieger, 29,243; Thompson, 394,954.

In the only other state office in which there will be a run-off, Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald and George B. Terrell, former commissioner, will be opponents.

The following were nominated Saturday: George H. Sheppard, state comptroller.

William H. McDonald, state land commissioner.

Charley Lockhart, state treasurer.

L. A. Woods, state superintendent.

I desire to thank each person who gave me their vote in the primary election last Saturday for Commissioner, Precinct 1, Ward 4. I appreciate very much this loyal support and earnestly solicit the support of everyone in the next primary election on August 22nd. E. S. THOMPSON

CHAS. L. SOUTH IS GIVEN BIG MAJORITY

Charles L. South of Coleman, representative in Congress from the 21st District, won an easy victory over Dr. H. F. Miller of San Angelo. South carried every county in the district by large majorities, and piled up a more than 3 to 1 majority in the district.

Brown county gave South 4759 votes to 1581 for Miller. The vote in the district, still incomplete, gave South slightly more than 30,000 with 7,600 for Miller.

Blanton is trailing

Thomas L. Blanton, fiery congressman from the 17th district, and formerly representative of this district in Congress, was trailing his opponent, County Judge Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland, in the first primary, but will face a runoff. Judge Garrett carried seven of the twelve counties in the district, with Blanton ahead in five. Garrett lacked only a few votes of winning over two opponents, and indications are that he will displace Blanton in the August primary.

FOUR COMMISSIONERS IN RUN-OFF CONTEST

There will be run-off contests in all four counties for county commissioner, and in three of the precincts, the contestants will be the same as two years ago. In precincts 1, 2 and 4, voters will see the same names on the ballots as appeared in 1934.

Run-off opponents are: Precinct 1: E. S. Thompson, incumbent, and Lawrence Moore.

Precinct 2: James W. Phillips and H. I. Stepp, incumbent.

Precinct 3: Ben F. Hunt and J. A. Bettis, incumbent.

Precinct 4: Chas. B. Palmer, incumbent, and Chas. H. Butler.

Details of the vote by boxes for these and other candidates are contained in the vote tabulation for Brown County, elsewhere in this issue of The Banner.

PRESCOTT NOMINATED FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Ross K. Prescott was nominated representative in the legislature from the 125th district, comprising Brown and Coleman counties, in the Saturday primary. Prescott was given a clear majority over three opponents. A. R. Watson was second; Zeno Ingram third and D. D. Knight fourth. The vote:

Table showing vote counts for Prescott (2343), Watson (1623), Ingram (1458), Knight (285).

MILLER IS RETAINED AS DISTRICT JUDGE

District Judge E. J. Miller was renominated for a third four-year term Saturday, over R. L. McLaugh of Brownwood. Judge McLaugh carried Brown county, while Judge Miller carried Coleman and McCulloch counties and the district, winning renomination.

The vote was as follows:

Table showing vote counts for Miller (2965) and McLaugh (3047).

TO THE VOTERS OF BROWN COUNTY

I want to thank you for the support you gave me in my race for Sheriff, and to ask you for your continued support. And to those who did not vote for me, I would like for you to consider my case, and if you will give me your support on August 22nd, I certainly will appreciate it, and will do my very best to make you an efficient officer. J. J. (Jule) ALLCORN.

SHELTON DAIRY HERD SETS NATIONAL BUTTERFAT YIELD RECORD; OLD COWS PRODUCE

BY JESSE MARY HILL
American Jersey Cattle Club
In The Semi-Weekly Farm News

IF THE State-wide movement to celebrate centuries extends to the livestock industry, ten Jersey cows in the large herd owned by Jack and J. R. Shelton at Brownwood, Texas, can certainly take a bow, for their combined years pass the century mark. This herd has just set a national Jersey record for average butterfat yield by herds with over 95 cows entered, or averaging more than 70 cows daily by yielding an average of 354.65 pounds butterfat, 6,835 pounds milk per cow for a year's test on twice-a-day milking.

The ten long-time producers, none under 10 years old, have had altogether about eighty years of production in the herd first and last and had lived in the herd total of 112 years and 7 months when the herd was making its high record. They've been busy bringing up families, too, for they have presented their owners with a considerable number of offspring during the years, for 68 calves had been registered at the last count. Today many of their grand-progeny are in the herd.

As one representative of the herd, they present with pride beautiful Eminent Miss Benedictine, the smart young producer now on exhibit in the Jersey cattle herd at the Centennial Exposition. She is only a 4-year-old but in the year's test of the herd she yielded 423.31 pounds butterfat, 8,336 pounds milk, starting on test when she was 3 years and 6 months of age. This amount of milk is the equivalent of approximately 4,000 quarts yielded in the 365 days and the one additional day given by leap year.

Her sire, Benedictine Ruler 216-113, bred in a Connecticut herd, but brought to the Shelton Brothers herd when only a few weeks old, made one of the most distinguished records any sire of the Jersey breed in Texas.

Qualifies for Title.
He is the only sire developed in a Texas herd which has qualified for the highest award of the American Jersey Cattle Club, the title of "Superior Sire." This title is limited to those bulls of the breed whose daughters make outstanding records not only for butterfat production but have the good conformation considered characteristic of the Jersey breed of dairy cattle. He also won both the Gold and Silver Medal awards of the American Jersey Cattle Club for the high production of his daughters, and now has fifty daughters which have been tested for production. Their yields average 609.91 pounds butterfat, 11,531 pounds of milk per cow when computed to a mature equivalent 365-day basis.

The dam of the Centennial representative of the herd is Eminent's Cowslip's Girl 782174, sired by the Silver Medal bull Jolly's Cowslip of P. H. 190538. The dam yielded 453.13 pounds butterfat in 305 days as a junior 4-year-old. Jolly's Cowslip of P. H. was a Shelton herd sire for more than ten years.

The aged producers in the herd of 94 cows which stay at home in the Shelton Brothers' herd while Eminent Miss Benedictine visits the Centennial have a working record which would do credit to any industry.

During the year's test of the herd nine of these cows were in milk a total of 2,483 days and produced a total of 2,742 pounds butterfat, 56,617 pounds milk. The tenth cow, a 12-year-old which youngster, was used as a "nurse cow" throughout the year, and so won the Silver Medal twice as a was not listed as a milking member of the herd.

Altogether, the 95 cows in the Shelton herd, some of which were in milk for only a short time during the year of test, yielded a grand total of 25,425.18 pounds butterfat, or more than twelve tons, from 489,859 pounds milk. The milk yield of the entire herd is the equivalent of approximately 227,850 quarts produced in the year.

Out of the total of 95 cows in the herd during the year of testing there were 45 cows under 4 years of age as well as the contrasting group of aged producers. The high record was made under the usual conditions prevailing at any efficiently managed dairy farm. During the year the herd averaged 71.69 cows with an average of 62.24 cows in milk daily.

Aged Cows Make Records.
Every one of the aged cows has made one or more records in individual official tests and several qualified for gold and silver medal awards of the American Jersey Cattle Club with their records.
Jolly's Cleo 567477, 14 years of age last March, is probably the most distinguished cow in the herd. She has repeatedly attracted attention with remarkably high production yields in official tests and was

Usually one of the most spectacular races in Texas, when the state contests narrow down to two-man races, the run-off this year will be quite a tame affair, compared with former years. Voters throughout the state are breathing a sigh of relief that such is the case, for in the major races this year, there was no occasion for a prolonged contest; the choice of the people was too well determined in advance.

The August Run-Off

The splendid endorsement given by Texas voters to Governor Altred and his administration naturally is a source of gratification, not only to the popular young Governor, but to those who have approved his course of action during the 18 months he has been in office. It was a foregone conclusion that Governor Altred would be re-nominated by Texas Democrats. That the state would be spared the necessity of another month of bitter campaigning for this office was a bit more than most people expected, but it comes as a welcome relief.

The effect of the vote upon future legislation can only be surmised, but it is certain to be felt when the legislature next meets. Legislators who have been out of sympathy with the administration—and they have not been few—can read in the vote the fact that they are out of step with the desires of the people. Certainly the gross income tax legislation advocated by Tom Hunter; the suicidal natural resources tax suggested by Fischer and the sales tax advocated by Roy Sanderford are not what the people of Texas want at this time. The more conservative views of Governor Altred express the sentiment of the people more exactly than have the policies of any elected official in many years. If the legislature desires to carry out the wishes of the people it represents, it must follow the Altred program.

United States Senator Morris Sheppard, veteran of Texas politics, was given a splendid tribute, and the New Deal a substantial endorsement when he was re-nominated over five opponents. There was never much question that such a course would be the choice of Texas voters, and the Sheppard victory was taken as a matter of course. Opposition to Sheppard this year never did reach proportions that worried the Senator's friends.

In two other races efficient incumbents were given another term in office. Comptroller George H. Sheppard, considered by many the most efficient comptroller in the history of the State, and State Treasurer Charley Lockhart, each received re-nomination in spite of rather spirited opposition by several opponents. Their services have been of value to Texas, and that they are retained is a credit to the good judgement of the voters of the state.

In another state race—one of the most important—that of Railroad Commissioner, the present chairman, Ernest O. Thompson, received a vote that, lacking only slightly a majority, amounts almost to a victory for the incumbent. Chairman Thompson faces a second primary test with Candidate Morris, but the great lead given Thompson is an indication that he will have more or less smooth sailing in the voting August 22. The results leave only one state office—commissioner of agriculture—in real doubt.

All in all, the July primary in Texas was one of the most satisfactory that has been held in many years of hectic Texas politics. Voters generally are pretty well satisfied that they came so near finishing the job on one hot Saturday's voting.

Undoubtedly, Father Coughlin, radio priest whose dynamic personality and pleasing radio appearance first drew attention to him, had a large political following.

Whether he could swing or persuade many voters to leave their own parties and go with him into a third party is or not is problematical. But one thing is certain. Much of his influence was lost when he transcended propriety so far as to call President Roosevelt a liar. The apology which followed in a few days was ineffective, especially when it was so worded as to be in effect not apologetic but in the bragging, self-praising attitude which has marked the priest's essay into politics.

For any political leader to become so enthusiastic about his own cause, or so bitter against another, to begin calling names is an admission of weakness. For a priest to use such tactics and to be so thoughtless is inexcusable. Much of the good which might have come through the able man's sincere, though probably warped, activity was wiped out with a single utterance. Many who had accepted his teachings as classical discussions of debatable questions, now will regard his talks as the utterings of a mud-slinging politician.

No politician ever gained prestige through maligning his opponents. This is a lesson many have learned at their own expense; a lesson that many will never learn. Texas has had many examples of the mud-slinging politician, but few of this type have ever been honored by Texas voters. Jim Ferguson almost is an exception to this rule, but the astute Jim so phrased his descriptions of opponents that the audiences thought not of malice but of humor. He seldom endeavored to arouse his followers to anger, rather his technique was to make those who opposed him appear ridiculous. And not often did he lose his temper.

Texas was treated to a mud-slinging campaign during the first primary. Opponents of the present Governor attempted to outdo each other in maligning Governor Altred, and most of them pitched their entire campaigns upon the supposed faults of the one man. The result was a greater Altred vote than had been anticipated.

Regardless of whether Father Coughlin is called to task by the officials of his own church, he himself has been his worst enemy. In a moment of anger he destroyed to a great extent that which he had been years in building up, and through one inappropriately placed upon the cause which he represents a handicap which time cannot in itself overcome.

R. M. Thompson of Goldthwaite is dead, and in his passing Central Texas loses one of its outstanding newspaper men. Mr. Thompson for more than a quarter century had been editor and publisher of the Goldthwaite Eagle; prominent in newspaper and civic activities in an important section of the State.

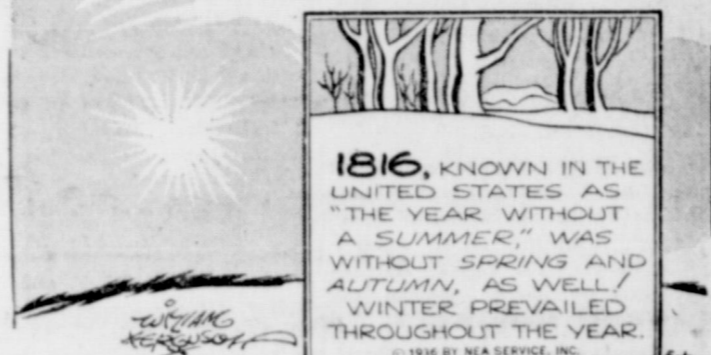

Few newspaper men in Texas enjoyed the respect and admiration of their profession as did Mr. Thompson. Mr. Thompson was one of the last of the "country newspaper men" in the strictest sense of the word. His newspaper each week was an expression of the man, and he was able to build into it the confidence which his acquaintances felt in him. He did his work well, and the standing of his newspaper in the community he served and in the state were testimony to his success.

Drivers who have not had their cars repaired, will, if caught, have charges filed against them in justice court, according to John P. Reed, highway patrolman.

"Father may I go out to swim?"
"Yes, my darling Daughter, After you see that the G. O. P. Has had their fill of water—"
"But Daddy," says that Peggy child, "You've done been notified . . . Why should I tend those elephants Can't you be satisfied?"
"Tut, tut, my child I'll have no sass The fun has just begun You can't get into the circus tent Until the water's done. Now mind your pa and watch your step And all these things remember You've got to make front page each day From now until November."

Wonder if Peggy doesn't get a little tired of all those headlines. A beautiful, real American girl, and all that, but I'll bet she'd like to play a game of tennis, change her breakfast cereal or brush her teeth in private once in a while without all the world having to know about it. Still those folks across the Mason Dixie Line, many of them, are planning on the "Peggy Ann Brown" dress for their early fall suit.

That makes me think of baby Dionne. He's having the time of his life wearing some of the out-grown finery the world's most famous babies which happen to be sisters to him. His mother can rock him all she wants to and he can have the plain old tummy ache and squall without the world worrying about it.

Too, I'm for the women every time but I have a kind of understanding feeling about Martin Malone who leveled his pistol at his wife the Comedienne, Polly Moran. He didn't like to be called Mr. Polly Moran. All this reminds me of a secret wonder I've had a long time, i. e., whatever became of "Mr." Frances Perkins?

Geese, don't we envy Helen McMahan, Oklahoma's state chairman of poetry from Pond Creek. That gal's a go-setter from every angle. Here she is galavanting all over the east and being wined and dined by the high and mighty and making Oklahoma feel proud that she belongs to us. First she visited Dr. Homer C. House, head of the Language and Literature Department of the University of Maryland. Mr. McDougal, the National Chairman of Poetry had a luncheon for Helen, as did Inez Tlyer, editor of Blue Moon, and the Goodyears who winter in Florida and summer in Maine. Herman Heydt, another author friend, took her all through Radio City, she was the luncheon guest of Cora Smith Gould at the Plaza in New York City which is the most exclusive hostelry in America. Then a card from Rockland, Maine, states she is enjoying clam bakes, lobster suppers and being presented at a "Scribblers' Club." Can't you just see our Helen strutting her stuff and knocking them all over with her wit and many talents? Won't she have a wealth of material for some more Oklahoma Sunshine when she gets home? Six weeks through the east of being wined and dined and cooled off in the Maine woods is some vacation if you ask me. Nothing is ever too good for our Helen, says I. She deserves it every bit and I'll bet those easterners realize Oklahoma stands for something else besides outlaws and cyclones after her visit.

Oklahoma's own Jennies Harris Oliver writes from the long red hill that she is working eight hours a day and has sold two stories lately to Good Housekeeping. Edgar Ward, sweet sinner and perhaps Oklahoma's most up and coming lyric is staying with her and they are really getting things done. Can you imagine a more delightful combination than Jennie and Edgar? Won't the lovely words just make themselves into a chain of shining beauty with those two wizards thinking them up?

ALUM CREEK—"The milk check is larger and the feed bill is smaller when you feed you dairy cows on home grown alfalfa." T. T. Royston, dairyman in Bastrop county, pointed out.

W. S. Millington, county agricultural agent, reports that Royston has been milking 12 cows which produced 22 gallons of milk per day. Three days after he began feeding alfalfa hay his milk production increased from 22 to 31 gallons per day. Royston plans to double his alfalfa acreage this fall.

DALLAS—Mary Keck of the Grand Prairie 4-H club of Dallas county reports that she has learned to keep her cutting bed just moist enough for the dirt to cling together when crushed in her hand, and also to keep the crust constantly broken after each watering in order to keep her cuttings living during the dry weather.

KINGSVILLE—Mrs. Lyman Hanson of the San Fernando home demonstration club of Kleberg county made two mattresses of home grown cotton last fall. About 250 pounds of seed cotton were ginned and pressed into a miniature bale and kept in well formed layers. Since the cotton was next few weeks. It is well worth watching for.

Best news of the month . . . Dr. Momer C. House of Maryland is to be my guest in early August . . . Jennie and Edgar are coming to see me soon . . . Helen McMahan will be home soon with a real ear full for Peep Show . . . That lovely little poet who made Good Housekeeping first trip out, Winnie Belle Sparks, is coming out, to see me some time next month . . . Tardy Publishing Company is forwarding me five lovely new books to share with you, among them being that book I've coveted so long, "Ten and Twenty Aprils." Be watching for them, they sound interesting . . . "Prairie Nauticas," Vera Holding's book of prairie poems is getting some fine reviews from all the big papers . . . ain't editors grand peepul?

ROBY—Curry McCain, farmer of the Capitola community in Fisher county, recently demonstrated to his own satisfaction that cotton burs have a value in adding organic matter to soil. McCain planted two acres of sudan, according to T. H. Roensch, county agent. On one acre cotton burs were applied to the land and the other acre was left in its natural state. On the acre on which the cotton burs were used, the sudan is now about waist high; while on the other acre, the sudan is about six inches high and is practically dead.

ALUM CREEK—"The milk check is larger and the feed bill is smaller when you feed you dairy cows on home grown alfalfa." T. T. Royston, dairyman in Bastrop county, pointed out.

W. S. Millington, county agricultural agent, reports that Royston has been milking 12 cows which produced 22 gallons of milk per day. Three days after he began feeding alfalfa hay his milk production increased from 22 to 31 gallons per day. Royston plans to double his alfalfa acreage this fall.

DALLAS—Mary Keck of the Grand Prairie 4-H club of Dallas county reports that she has learned to keep her cutting bed just moist enough for the dirt to cling together when crushed in her hand, and also to keep the crust constantly broken after each watering in order to keep her cuttings living during the dry weather.

KINGSVILLE—Mrs. Lyman Hanson of the San Fernando home demonstration club of Kleberg county made two mattresses of home grown cotton last fall. About 250 pounds of seed cotton were ginned and pressed into a miniature bale and kept in well formed layers. Since the cotton was next few weeks. It is well worth watching for.

Q. Who is E. F. Risken and why is he called the "Father of the Pecan Industry?"
A. Now 83, he came from England to San Saba more than 50 years ago and at once began experimenting with pecan improvement, being the first to top-work trees and thus paving the way for production of the high-quality pecans for which Texas has become noted.

G. F. Lometa.
A. March 10, 1856, from Travis and Bell counties.

Q. What is the origin of the name "Lampasas"?
G. F. Lometa.

take the Heat Wave "in stride" with an ELECTRIC FAN!

New York, July 10 (INS)—This torrid heat wave can be "taken in stride" and with a minimum of discomfort by the application of a few simple rules, in the opinion of Dr. Charles F. Bolduan, New York City's director of health education.

Nowadays these small electric fans are so cheap they should be taken advantage of. Much of the depressing effects of hot humid air is due to the fact the air is not in motion. Without any change in the composition or temperature of the air, an electric fan will often make conditions "delectable." People at home should take frequent shower baths, he said.

Use of an Electric Fan is one of Dr. Bolduan's simple rules for

Usually one of the most spectacular races in Texas, when the state contests narrow down to two-man races, the run-off this year will be quite a tame affair, compared with former years.

The August Run-Off

The splendid endorsement given by Texas voters to Governor Allred and his administration naturally is a source of gratification, not only to the popular young Governor, but to those who have approved his course of action during the 18 months he has been in office.

The effect of the vote upon future legislation can only be surmised, but it is certain to be felt when the legislature next meets. Legislators who have been out of sympathy with the administration—and they have not been few—can read in the vote the fact that they are out of step with the desires of the people.

United States Senator Morris Sheppard, veteran of Texas politics, was given a splendid tribute, and the New Deal a substantial endorsement when he was re-nominated over five opponents. There was never much question that such a course would be the choice of Texas voters, and the Sheppard victory was taken as a matter of course.

In two other races efficient incumbents were given another term in office. Comptroller George H. Sheppard, considered by many the most efficient comptroller in the history of the State, and State Treasurer Charley Lockhart, each received re-nomination in spite of rather spirited opposition by several opponents.

In another state race—one of the most important—that of Railroad Commissioner, the present chairman, Ernest O. Thompson, received a vote that, lacking only slightly a majority, amounts almost to a victory for the incumbent.

All in all, the July primary in Texas was one of the most satisfactory that has been held in many years of hectic Texas politics. Voters generally are pretty well satisfied that they same so near finishing the job on one hot Saturday's voting.

Undoubtedly, Father Coughlin, radio priest whose dynamic personality and pleasing radio appearance first drew attention to him, had a large political following.

Whether he could swing or persuade many voters to leave their own parties and go with him into a third party is or not is problematical.

For any political leader to become so enthusiastic about his own cause, or so bitter against another, to begin calling names is an admission of weakness. For a priest to use such tactics and to be so thoughtless is inexcusable.

No politician ever gained prestige through maligning his opponents. This is a lesson many have learned at their own expense; a lesson that many will never learn. Texas has had many examples of the mud-slinging politician, but few of this type have ever been honored by Texas voters.

Regardless of whether Father Coughlin is called to task by the officials of his own church, he himself has been his worst enemy. In a moment of anger he destroyed to a great extent that which he had been years in building up, and through one impropriety placed upon the cause which he represents a handicap which time cannot in itself overcome.

R. M. Thompson of Goldthwaite is dead, and in his passing Central Texas loses one of its outstanding newspaper men. Mr. Thompson for more than a quarter century had been editor and publisher of the Goldthwaite Eagle; prominent in newspaper and civic activities in an important section of the State.

Few newspaper men in Texas enjoyed the respect and admiration of their profession as did Mr. Thompson. Mr. Thompson was one of the last of the "country newspaper men" in the strictest sense of the word.

Mr. Thompson was one of the last of the "country newspaper men" in the strictest sense of the word. His newspaper each week was an expression of the man, and he was able to build into it the confidence which his acquaintances felt in him.

He did his work well, and the standing of his newspaper in the community he served and in the state were testimony to his success.

May

The state convention of Future Farmers was a great success reports Douglas Chambers and Heston McBride, delegates from the May Chapter to the state convention held in Stephenville Friday and Saturday of last week.

Several hundred boys and their advisors from all over the Lone Star State met in this convention to plan the policies of this great organization for the next year. Friday morning the delegates came in and registered and the first regular session was held beginning Friday afternoon at two o'clock. After the opening ceremonies and the disposition of the regular business, committees were appointed to make recommendations on all phases of the association. Heston served on the thrift committee, Douglas on the educational exhibit committee, and Mr. Morrison was adviser to the committee on chapter meetings.

At six o'clock the chamber of commerce of Stephenville gave the visitors a real feast at the city park which was most enjoyed by everyone.

Friday night at eight o'clock the convention met in regular session and raised fifty-five future farmers to the rank of Lone Star Farmer, conferred the honorary degree on 20 of the outstanding supporters of the organization of which H. G. Lucas of Brownwood was one and then had a number of stunts which were very good and entertaining.

Saturday morning the convention met in regular session and received the reports from the committees and completed other unfinished business. The last thing to come up was the selection of a convention place for next year. After a very heated discussion Arlington was selected and the convention adjourned.

The first Tuesday night of August is the next regular meeting night for the May chapter. At this meeting the officers for the coming year will be elected and the Greenhands will make plans for their annual encampment to be held the latter part of next week.

Certification to WPA does not necessarily mean a job is awaiting the person certified, as the quota assigned to Texas will permit the absorption of only a portion of those referred to WPA offices. Unless the surplus is absorbed by private industry in the various localities of the district, these must remain jobless.

"Green Pastures" Opens At Lyric

Finally reaching the screen after successful years on Broadway and the road during which it carried off the Pulitzer award and became famous as one of America's great stage plays of all time, "The Green Pastures" comes to the Lyric Sunday and Monday.

Written by Marc Connelly from Roark Bradford's tales of the interpretation of the Bible by the negroes of the Bayou country of Louisiana, "The Green Pastures," for all its fine comedy and childlike simplicity, is one of the most thoroughly religious dramas ever written, and the screen producers have expressed good taste in calling in Marc Connelly to write the screen play and assist William Keighley with the direction.

The large, all-negro cast is headed by Rex Ingram, proving the superman of the year by essaying the three important roles of "De Lawd," Adam, and Hezrel. He is given support by the principals Oscar Polk, as Gabriel, Eddie Anderson as Noah, Frank Wilson as Moses, and George Reed as Mr. Dehee. In the lesser roles of the cast are many faces familiar to those who saw the stage play. The spiritualists of the Hall Johnson Choir give the film the perfect typical background.

Special invitations were issued to friends of Scouting for Brownwood Day held at the Scout camp Sunday. A large crowd attended, according to reports.

During the course of the encampment a memorial program for the Uncle Billy Gibbons Memorial was held.

Several new handicraft projects were offered this year. Life saving classes, swimming, hikes, and camp fire programs were among the many features that were included for the period of encampment. Table inspection and personal inspection of each troop was made and banners were awarded to the honor campers troop.

Judge E. J. Miller and Dr. Jewell Daugherty were the principal speakers during the course of the encampment. The camp was supervised by G. N. Quirk, scout executive of the Comanche Trail Area.

In the early days of Ohio, laws required every able-bodied man between the ages of eighteen and forty-five to arm himself with rifle, bayonet, knapsack, ammunition, and two extra flints and meet at least four times each year with his company for training and once each year with his regiment.

Compulsory School Attendance

It was not until 1877 that compulsory school attendance was made effective in Ohio, and that required attendance only for at least three months out of each year.

"Cross of Fire" Threat Flames Anew in France

Threat of a march on Paris by 700,000 members of the militant "Cros de Feu" (Cross of Fire) organization of French war veterans added another disturbing element to the critical political situation that has existed since the Leftist election victory. A move by the cabinet to suppress armed political organizations, brought an ultimatum from Colonel Francois de la Rocque (inset), commander of the veterans pictured at an outdoor mass meeting, that "political action" would immediately follow an outlawing edict.

Many Compliance Forms Returned

Approximately 70 per cent of the forms which were sent out to about 1500 farmers in Brown county in compliance with rules and regulations of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act have been returned, according to County Agent C. W. Lehmborg.

The purpose of the compliance papers is to obtain an accurate check on the number of acres that are now being turned under. The forms will be sent to A. & M. College for review and when approved will be sent to Washington for final approval.

At a later date there will be a complete check of every farm in Brown county to obtain the acreage of each crop and to measure the number of acres comprised in each farm. All compliance papers must be in by October 30, Mr. Lehmborg said.

To the Citizens of Brown County:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the trust you have reposed in me, and for the honor you have bestowed upon me by permitting me to serve you again as your assessor-collector. I appreciate this more than I can tell you, and at any time that I can be of service to you, it will be a pleasure to do so. Thanking you again, I am,
Your servant,
Winston Wink Palmer.
(Pol. Adv.)

BROWNWOOD

BECKHAM RELEASED ON BOND OF $7500

Following a habeas corpus hearing in 35th district court, Tol G. Beckham, charged with the murder of Raymond Thompson at Zephyr June 30, was released from Brown county jail Monday on $7,500 bond.

After testimony was heard in the case as to the value of the property owned by the three sureties, W. S. Harper, G. B. Calloway and W. W. Allen, who signed the bond posted by Beckham, Judge E. J. Miller held that the bond was sufficient. Sheriff Jack Beckmark approved the bond and Beckham was released.

In connection with the Thompson killing, R. B. Woods, son-in-law of Beckham, who is also charged with murder as an accomplice in the killing, was released from jail several days previous to Beckham's dismissal. Woods perfected bond set at $5,000. Both Beckham and Woods were indicted by the grand jury two weeks ago.

SEWING ROOM PROJECT WILL BE CONTINUED

Continuation of the Brownwood W. P. A. sewing room project, which has been sponsored by the City during the past seven months, has been granted by City Council recently.

The project has provided employment in the sewing room to an average of 125 women daily during the seven months. A total of 10,679 garments were produced; amount paid workers totaled $17,572.96 since the sewing room opened in Memorial Hall November 27, 1935, according to a report made last week by Mrs. Bess Paddelford, district 14 supervisor of Division of Women's Projects.

The material, furnished by the government, totaled 21,189 yards which was made into garments and distributed to needy persons in Brownwood and Brown county.

MEMBERS OF 4-H CLUBS WIN HONORS AT A & M

Miss Kathryn Porter of Blanket, gold star girl, was elected secretary of the boys' and girls' 4-H clubs at the annual farmers' short course at A. and M. College last week.

Others who received distinction from Brown county were Miss Edith Kimmons of Zephyr, who won second place in the bedroom improvement contest of the 12 extension service districts of Texas, and Robert Lanford of Blanket, who made the highest individual record in the state for judging dairy cattle. He was awarded a $10 gold medal and a free trip to the Texas Centennial at Dallas.

Miss Kimmons, who was winner of the county bedroom contest and took part in the program at the course, was awarded a vase for second place prize.

The delegation representing the boys' 4-H clubs, the girls' 4-H clubs and the women's clubs of Brown county who attended the short course returned Saturday. County home demonstration agent, Miss Mayesie Malone, County Agent, C. W. Lahnberg, Jack Shelton and Arla Hallford accompanied the group.

Texas' Checkers Champion

Don F. Williams, left, president of the Texas State Checkers Association, presents on behalf of the Ford Motor Company as donor, a silver trophy to A. J. (Shorty) Temple, popular Dallas newsboy, as a winner in the state checkers championship tournament. The contest was concluded in the Ford court, at the Ford Exposition in the Centennial grounds, Dallas, Temple defeated A. R. Carrell, also of Dallas, in the finals. The first four games of the play-off were tied. Shorty won the last two and the title.

BROWN COUNTY FARMER ASKS NEIGHBORS TO VISIT FARM AND INSPECT CSC PROJECT

In the June issue of the Soil Conservation Service News, published by Region 4 of the Soil Conservation Service, from the Fort Worth headquarters office, is a letter from H. V. Hoover, Brown county farmer, inviting other farmers to visit his farm and inspect the work that has been done and is being done under the direction of the Soil Erosion Control Camp of Brownwood. Mr. Hoover's farm is in the northeast part of Brown county, just off the Cisco highway. His postoffice is Owens.

The letter, containing a splendid endorsement of the Soil Erosion work, is as follows:

Gentlemen:

Since reading the first issue of the Soil Conservation News, I have decided to write you my impression of the erosion control program on my farm.

My family, consisting of wife and three boys, tired of moving around. So two years ago I bought this place for a permanent home.

The farm was in a very run-down state but there was evidence that it had been a good farm. The fields were cut with numerous gullies and were badly washed. Some of it was apparently useless. Silt had washed down from high denuded areas to cover one of the big fields still in cultivation. After heavy rains the silt from the upper slopes would bury large patches of the growing crops. It did not take me long to realize that something had to be done, but I was at a loss as to how to go about it.

When the Soil Conservation Camp located at Brownwood I lost no time in contacting these in charge and in February 1936 signed a Cooperative Agreement. Since that time a great deal has been done.

A part of the farm was ready for planting in the usual straight row style, but the other fields were prepared for planting on the contour. I followed the land use and cropping plan worked out by the technical men and planted strip crops of Sudan grass and cow peas. The strips are growing well with the row crops planted on the contour between the strips.

One of the worst places on the farm was a deep gully. This was tilled and planted to a broadcast crop of Sudan grass. This grass is up to a good stand and one can hardly imagine the gully's former condition.

Another place decidedly improved is a low spot that caught and held the run off after each rain. For days and sometimes weeks this spot could not be farmed after rains, so the acreage was of no value and grew up in weeds and objectionable grasses. A diversion terrace was put in to divert water from the plot, and I now have a good stand of cane on it.

I have built about 3,000 feet of terraces on land where they were necessary. The "out field" on the eroded slope has been contour ridged and sodded with Bermuda grass for a permanent pasture. This pasture also took in about 11 acres of land permanently retired from cultivation. Gullies in this area, as well as in the native pasture, have been treated and further cutting and washing is a thing of the past.

I am very much "sold" in contour cultivation and strip cropping as well as all the other erosion control measures that have been used.

I am interested farmers are invited to visit my farm and see the erosion control program that has been instituted on it under the direction of the Soil Conservation Service.

Sincerely,
(Signed) H. V. Hoover.
