CLARENDON INSURANCE MAN GAINS NATIONAL RECOGNITION ANNUALLY

The value of sustained production in keeping the life underwriter in the category of the successful producer year in and year out is demonstrated convincingly by the record of George B. Bagby, who at the end of the 1935 production year again finds himself in first place among the salesmen of the United Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Dallas.

Persistence of production has been a big factor in Mr. Bagby's leadership. During the 1935 production year he wrote 313 applications and thus maintained the remarkable average of one application for every working day in the year. In 1934 he wrote 310 applications. He entered the life insurance business in March, 1928, and during the last eight years has produced $3,123,202.00 of business, a yearly average of almost $400,000.00.

His yearly totals follow:

1928	$243,000.00
1929	516,000.00
1930	507,500.00
1931	359,565.00
1932	404,465.00
1933	300,754.00
1934	334,743.00
1935	507,175.00

This record is made more impressive by the fact that he lives and works in Clarendon, Texas, a town of less than 2,500 population, in a county of less than 10,000 inhabitants. His 1934 production record won for him permanent possession of the production trophy offered by the company in recognition of selling leadership, the requirement being that the cup must be won three consecutive years. Another cup is now being offered and by virtue of his 1935 leadership Mr. Bagby has won the first leg on the new trophy. He has received many other tokens of recognition for his leadership in life insurance.

Mr. Bagby not only has a good production record but his renewal record is above the average. He keeps a file of premium maturity dates and makes it a point to see all clients before their premiums come due. By means of this personal service he not only is able to keep most of his business in force but is able to sell his clients additional policies.

Donley County To Have Poultry Show

Tentative dates for the annual Donley County Poultry Show have been set for January 17 and 18. This show is sponsored by the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce and is open to any poultry breeder of this county. Now is the time to begin selecting and fitting the birds for the show. Attractive prizes will be offered on all the leading breeds of chickens. A premium list will be published later. The poultry shows of the past have had a great deal to do with raising the quality of the Donley County farm flocks much above the average.

Pampa-Samnorwood Lead In Tournament

On last Saturday, December 7, six hard fought basketball games were played in Clarendon at the Junior High School gym. The eight teams playing here on that day represented the Future Farmer Chapters of the following high schools: Perryton, Pampa, Miami, McLean, Samnorwood, Quail, Estelline, and Clarendon.

In the semi-final games Samnorwood won from Clarendon and Pampa defeated Estelline, to win places in the final game which will be played in Pampa on December 14. Both of these winners have excellent teams, with plenty of ability and experience.

In the first game of the tournament Clarendon won over McLean by the score of 26 to 6. The outstanding player of this game was Stewart of Clarendon, with Cornell, Butler, Behrens, and Rolls turning in good games for the winners. Brawley played a good game for McLean.

Samnorwood, eliminated Quail in the second game by the decisive score of 30 to 7. All the Samnorwood boys were fast and rangy. Roark and Fullingham were the outstanding players for the winners.

In the third game Pampa served notice that they would be contending for final honors when they defeated Miami 48 to 25. At the half Pampa led 44 to 2. During the second half with the Pampa second string playing, the Miami boys were able to ring up 23 more points. Wiler, Hasel and Herring of Pampa were easily the best players of the game.

The fourth game was a battle from start to finish between Perryton and Estelline, with Estelline finally winning by the close score of 22 to 19.

In the semi-finals Samnorwood eliminated Clarendon by the score of 32 to 13. Cornell and Stewart of Clarendon and Willingham and Roark of Samnorwood were the leading scorers of this game. In the other semi-final game, Pampa won from Estelline by a score of 28 to 11.

The final game of the tournament will be played at Pampa on December 14, when the second meeting of the aPnhandle district F. F. A. will be held.

Mrs. Shelton Dies At Hedley Friday

Funeral services were conducted at the West Baptist church in Hedley Saturday at 2:30 for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Shelton, aged 86 years and one of Donley county's oldest pioneers. She passed away at 11 p. m. Friday.

The pastor, Rev. Byrom Todd, was assisted in the services by Rev. V. A. Hansard, former pastor of the deceased.

The flower girls were Beatrice Hansard, Mrs. Youree, Hazel Tollett, Jaunita Crawford. The pallbearers were W. H. Jones, V. F. Wade, Ike Rains, S. A. Burdine, O. R. Culwell, J. Les Hawkins.

Survivors are W. D. Shelton of Ashtola, T. P. Shelton of Ft. Worth, and Mrs. S. A. Killan of Hedley.

Grandma Shelton, as she was affectionately known to a large circle of friends, had resided at Hedley since 1892. Internment was made in the Rowe cemetery at Hedley.

Curtise, Paul L. Dishman, Frank C. Doherty, Joseph L. Hawkins, Mrs. Mabel E. Nippert, Ray M. Doherty, Richard Longshore, Miss Hazel Stewart and Truman E. Caldwell.

Orgie Behrens Gets Place On Highway Patrol

Qualifying for a place on the State Highway Patrol requires a rigid examination in a multitude of subjects when one stops to think that only twenty-six made the grade out of a class of over two thousand.

Of the small number to qualify was Orgie Behrens, a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Behrens, who reside east of town. Orgie grew up and received most of his schooling here.

He will be in special training at Austin for the next few weeks, and has moved his family from Hereford to that point.

BEST DECORATION WILL DRAW PRIZE

The Clarendon Chamber of Commerce will again award a loving cup to the local firm having the best Christmas window decoration. The show windows will be judged by a secret committee sometime before Christmas and the winner will be announced at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet which will be held probably during the latter part of January.

A cash prize of $3.00 will also be awarded for the home having the best Christmas decorations as viewed from the outside. This prize will also be awarded at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce. It is hoped that the citizens of Clarendon will help to spread the Christmas spirit by decorating the homes and business houses during the holiday season.

Hatley to Hold Auction Sale December 30th

A full line of farming tools is included in the list of chattels that S. A. Hatley and sons will sell at public auction at their home on Che-nault ranch northwest of Ashtola.

Mr. Hatley is not leaving the country. He merely is changing to the tractor method of farming and is offering his present farming equipment at auction to dispose of it quickly. The date of the auction is December 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Baker were Amarillo visitors Wednesday.

Postoffice to Stay Open Wednesday

Postmaster Bugbee announces that the postoffice will remain open all day Wednesday, the 18th, due to the Christmas rush. This change is made to render greater service to the public.

For some months, the postoffice force has been taking their half day holiday each week on Wednesday afternoon.

Goldston School Is To Have Minstrel

The Ashtola Minstrel will put on a real show what the Goldston school Friday night of this week. Half the proceeds will go to the Goldston school for buying equipment. But we will let Principal Dennis Smith tell you about it in the next paragraph.

"And by the way, folks, we're the fun."

And by the way, folks, we're going to meet another Friday 13 this month. That sounds bad, but we have a little secret for you. It's going to be a lucky day for you if you can spend that evening with us at the school house. Fun galore! Bingo, beauty parlor, indoor tennis, dominoes, horse-shoes, and many other things to eat. The program will open promptly at eight o'clock with a one-act play that will make you laugh until your suspender buttons pop off. Sew 'em on a little tighter, throw a little loose change in your pocket, and come on over and join in the fun.

Yuletide Season Pictured In Colors

Dazzling elegance would be a proper way to describe the many beautiful displays of colored lights and streamers used by local merchants in calling attention to the approach of the Christmas season.

The fact that the Chamber of Commerce offers a prize each season for the most beautifully decorated business front, is some inducement for merchants to enter into the friendly rivalry of competition. The prize is not altogether considered, of course, but the honors are great.

Many unique designs are made. Show scenes appear and some have quaintly arranged stocks of gifts in an interwoven scheme with Yule decorations that make an appeal effect.

One driving down the street would not miss sensing the enthusiasm of Christmas, by any stretch of the imagination. Loud colors "cry" out the season and colored lights direct the buyer or visitor to stocks of fairly priced goods galore. Not in many years has the display of variety been exceeded.

Editor Becomes Grandpappy For Fourth Time

With the advent of little Miss Barbara Faye Estlack this morning, the editor becomes grandfather for the fourth time. Yeh, all of them are girls. This little lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Estlack.

If the old adage is true that male births is an omen of war, there won't be any wars for a heck of time in our family. Looking at it from another standpoint, since the women folks are taking up our other bad habits, they may take up the shooting habit and make war possible most any time.

$35,000 Cotton Money Received Today

County agent H. M. Breedlove announces the receipt of one thousand cotton parity checks today.

The total amount represents $35,000.00. Cards have been mailed, he said, notifying those who have checks at his office.

Auction Sales Are Getting Attention

Several consignments of horses, mules, cattle, hogs, and a complete line of farming equipment will be offered at public auction next Saturday at the Clarendon Sales Pavilion in addition to the regular offerings, the managers stated Wednesday.

The sales are steadily growing in interest, larger numbers of buyers being present for each auction. As interest grows, larger offerings in greater variety will be made.

Col. J. B. Chambers of Wellington, an auctioneer of several years experience, cries the sales. Messrs. Harry Blair and O. R. Castleberry are the managers of the Sales Pavilion.

This plan of bringing buyer and seller together is an idea worked out by local men who find that the plan works admirably to the interest of all parties concerned.

No by-bidding is permitted under any circumstances. All those having stock of any kind, or implements or household goods, are urged to bring them in for the sale.

Runaway Team Makes Safe Landing Wednesday

A team of large gray horses attached to a wagon with cotton frames on the bed and belonging to Ed Aduddle started for home about 6 p. m. Wednesday.

They ran the full length of the main street north. Nearing the depot, they veered to the right flattening a highway marker set in concrete. They kept up the fast gallop for about six blocks east past the Laundry. No damage was done except the loss of a trace chain.

At the time, more than a hundred cars were parked on the main street. The team kept steadily to the center of the street and 'minded their own business.

KIDDIES, ATTENTION!

Through the generosity of Mr. Homer Mulkey, children of the Clarendon school grades are to see a free picture show at the Pastime Saturday morning at 10 a. m.

The reels will include a special "safety" reel, and comics that appeal to children. Tickets will be distributed by the teachers here Friday afternoon.

The free pictures will be shown at the Cozy Monday morning at 10 a. m. for the benefit of the rural children of the county.

Must Re-Pool All 1935 Certificates

Donley county cotton producers have until next Monday, December 16th, to re-pool the unsold portion of their 1935 special pool tax exemption certificates in the regular 1935 pool, H. M. Breedlove, county agent, stated Wednesday.

Although the certificates are not here, forms are available for the repooling in the county agent's office.

Unless they are re-pooled, the certificates for tax exemption will be returned to the farmers too late for them to get into the regular pool, and the farmers will be left with the certificates on their hands. Approximately forty percent of the certificates in the special pool, have been sold. Leaving an unsold equity of 60 percent which the producer can recall or re-pool in the national pool.

Highway 66 is Named Will Rogers Highway

At a meeting of the National U. S. Highway Association held in Amarillo Tuesday, the name of Will Rogers was unanimously selected for Highway 66. The highway extends from Chicago to Los Angeles, and crosses the north end of this county.

The noted humorist, for whom the highway was named, met death in an airplane crash in Alaska August 15th.

Marvin Land had business in Amarillo Tuesday.

Joe Bownds Will Head Father-Sons

Following the custom of former years, a father was elected Monday night at the annual banquet, to head the Fathers-Sons affair. Joe Bownds received this honor. Robert Nichols, who represented the sons in a talk at this meeting, was elected vice president.

Two sons and two fathers were elected to the board of Directors. They are Ralph Andis and John M. Bass representing the fathers, and Bob Word and George Wayne Estlack representing the sons.

Judge W. T. Link as principal speaker of the evening chose as his subject "A Changing World." The Judge mixed humor with his talk believing that those present preferred to be entertained rather than instructed. During his remarks he called attention to a number of radical "isms" in vogue during the past few years, and stressed the important progress of man's ingenuity in many lines during the past few years.

Rev. E. D. Landreth spoke for the fathers in a very interesting manner. Others appearing on the program during the evening were Judge Lowe, F. W. Rathjen, R. E. Drennan and Rev. Landreth in singing a duet. Other singers were Misses Wilma De Smith, Hulda Jo Cauthen with Mrs. Lalar Wilkerson at the piano.

Hubert Reavis, Nickey Stewart, and Arthur Chase furnished plenty of good music throughout the banquet, with Hubert giving a saxophone solo and Arthur giving a piano solo.

In selecting the oldest father present, this honor was avoided by every old man present, neither of them wishing to divulge his age. The youngest father honors went to "Snooks" Andis for the second

Baxter Moves Meat Market To City Grocery

There are veterans of all kinds, and it so happens that our fellow-townsmen, J. M. Baxter, is a veteran meat cutter.

Mr. Baxter has spent about forty years of his life in a butcher shop, three years of that time in Clarendon. He formerly conducted a meat market in the Shelton & Sanford grocery, but this week opened shop in the City Grocery.

An appeal to the public to shop and mail early was made Monday by Postmaster Chas. H. Bugbee.

"In order to handle the mail to meet the expectations of the public, and to meet our own standards of efficiency", is the reason the request is being made. It means more to the public than to the postoffice clerks.

While special help is employed through the rush, even at that the peak of the load renders the task a burden. Mistakes might occur and delay delivery of the packages. Then too, packages are more likely to get crushed or jammed if one waits until the last minute to do the mailing.

Christmas business has already begun, Mr. Bugbee said, and one of the biggest Christmas seasons in several years is right at hand.

Packages should be wrapped with a light color paper, not red or green, so that the address may be easily read. Only one address with the return address in the upper left hand corner is necessary.

Lad is Given Sentence On Forgery Charge

Passing a forged check to the amount of $3.50 on the Wilson drug store of Hedley drew a one year reformatory sentence for Clayton Leatherman of Fargo, Oklahoma.

He was arrested and brought to Clarendon from Hedley Sunday. He reflected over the matter until Tuesday when he was taken before Judge Lowe where he entered a plea of guilt and was given a sentence of one year. His sentence was suspended due to his age, he being but fifteen.

Amarillo Man is Appointed Tax Survey Supervisor

Frank S. Peterson of Amarillo, recently appointed supervisor over twenty north Panhandle counties for the WPA state-wide tax survey, was in Clarendon Wednesday. Mr. Peterson was here securing applications for helpers in making the survey in Donley county.

Mrs. Ralph Cornelius Is Buried Here Wed.

Mrs. Mina Gertrude Cornelius died in Amarillo Tuesday and funeral services were conducted at the Clarendon Baptist church Wednesday at 3 p. m. by her pastor, Rev. Horton of Amarillo, assisted by Rev. J. Perry King, pastor of the First Baptist church here.

Mrs. Cornelius, aged 33, formerly resided here, but had resided in Amarillo for the past few years.

Besides her husband she is survived by a son, Richard Earl; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Martin of Clarendon, three sisters, Mrs. W. O. Pruitt of Wheeler and Mrs. R. W. Fruitt of Amarillo, and Mrs. Ethel Moss of Shamrock, and four brothers, Clyde, Clinton, and Chester Martin of Clarendon, and Otis Martin of Flipping, Ark.

Public Demands More Safety Driving

A large element of citizens of a more nervous disposition dread the traffic jam through the Holidays. They dread it for the simple reason, as they point out, no law is being enforced here relative to an observance of street traffic.

Stop signs are ignored, they claim, and corner cutting is common. Other traffic rules have been forgotten, is a further claim as they beseech the City authorities to give the matter immediate attention.

Others are so bold as to place all the blame on the City for not enforcing traffic ordinances all the time.

Perhaps the City and the public are both to blame, as an observer put it today in discussing the need for a rigid enforcement of traffic laws before some horrible accident demands action after it is too late.

GOVERNMENTAL BUREAUS.

People are wondering to what extent the federal government will continue to exert government control of so many phases of living after the dangers of the depression have subsided. The people may expect most of the present bureaus to continue. Senator Bennett Champ Clark has an interesting discussion on this subject. He went to Washington on the program of reducing governmental functions, and set this up as his battle cry. He fought the old bureaus, and denounced the creation of new ones, but still they continued to grow. He dug into the law and found in Washington that many big departments have grown up without any sanction of law to create them. They simply slipped into an appropriation bill as an emergency, and have continued to stay there unmolested. The people of Texas were shocked four years ago to find that Texas has 123 departments of government, all more or less independent of each other. The legislature spent nearly $100,000 investigating this condition and laid before the people a report with a plan to eliminate and consolidate these departments. Was the report ever considered. No, not seriously, at least. And the last two sessions of the legislature has added five or six departments, all of which will likely grow year by year. Those who resent the infringement of government into the field of personal rights are simply kidding themselves. Government is more and more taking charge of the personal affairs of every citizen of this nation. It will likely never reach the extent of a dictatorship in this nation, at least for years to come, but it has made rapid strides in that direction.—Canyon News.

BANKRUPT CITIES.

Several Texas cities and towns that rushed to vote bond issues back in the days when there was a tremendous demand for municipals are now wondering how they can get out of the dilemma into which they have fallen. The bondholders, too, are faced with the alternative of accepting a settlement of only a few cents on the dollar, or demanding more and getting nothing.

The perplexities of a bankrupt city were outlined pretty clearly at a mass meeting of citizens in Eastland who are trying to reach some agreement which will lift the burden of $1,400,000 bonded indebtedness that was voted back in the days when Eastland was apparently assured of a steady growth. But that was before the East Texas oil fields were discovered.

The substantial citizens of Eastland are afraid that if the city repudiates its bonds, taxpaying will cease entirely and the city government will collapse. Then both the bondholders and the city would lose heavily. On the other hand, if the agreement that can be reached with the bondholders still leaves an impossible burden on the taxpayers, the same thing will happen. The only escape is to convince the bondholders that the city should agree to pay only what it can, and then to convince the taxpayers that they must satisfy as much of their obligation as possible. To get the two groups to agree on a definite figure however, it is a difficult job.

Out of the financial troubles of some cities there should come a realization that cities, states and governments cannot borrow beyond their means without courting financial disaster.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

GOOD WILL ON THE ROAD.

The Holiday season is a peculiarly fitting time to emphasize the obligations of every motorist. It is of more than passive interest that the Yuletide closes that quarter of the year when automobile accidents, deaths and injuries are at an annual peak, according to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. How horrible is the thought that as we approach the days when the sentiment, "Good Will to All," is glorified throughout the land, the carnage of wrecks and broken bodies is strewn more than ever over the face of our country.

A great deal has been said about the necessity of courtesy in driving as an accident preventive measure. Driving at speeds reasonable for conditions, sharing the road, passing properly, using correct hand signals, avoiding all those actions which make driving dangerous and uncomfortable for the other fellow, are the dictates of courtesy and manners. So, too, are they dictates of the principle of the good neighbor. Good driving, with a real desire to safeguard the lives of those exposed to the consequences of that driving, is practical Christianity. It is a kind of practical Christianity that followers of creed can subscribe to as they join in the common rejoicing at this Christmas season.

The first concern of the churches of America is the saving of souls. By entering with whole-hearted activity into the automobile safety movement, they can extend their activity to the saving of lives, without violating their first purpose. The blot upon a soul as a result of killing or maiming another through careless or heedless action, is one not easily erased. The churches have the advantage of being able to appeal to a great section of the drivers of the country on occasions when they are most receptive to the idea of good will as a driving maxim. The good neighbor on the road could well serve as a theme for a sermon in every church at this time of the year.

So long as selfishness and stupid recklessness, so long as death and destruction exist on our streets and highways, the ideal of peace on earth, good will toward men, will command little more than lip service.—Nolan County News.

U. S. Mint in Denver Gets Dies to Strike Coins For Texas Centennial Holiday

Thirty thousand U. S. half dollars bearing the date of 1935 and issued as Texas Centennial memorial coins will be stricken at the Denver and San Francisco mints during the next few weeks, according to word received from M. M. O'Reilly, assistant director of the U. S. Mint. In 1934, there were issued 205,000 of the memorial coins being stricken at the Philadelphia mint. Dies used there are being transferred to the Denver and San Francisco mints.

Under authority of an act passed by Congress several years ago, 1,500,000 of the Texas Centennial memorial coins are to be issued. The Texas Department, American Legion, was named by statute as the agency to dispose of these coins for $1 each, the profit to be used for the erection of the American Legion Memorial Museum in Austin, to be dedicated during the celebration in 1936 of the Texas Centennial of Independence.

The memorial coins bear the imprint of the heads of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin, heroes of the Republic of Texas; the Alamo, and the five-pointed Lone Star of Texas.

The first of the 1934 coins was sold at auction from the steps of the state capitol in Austin. Former Governor James E. Ferguson was the successful bidder at $90 in behalf of his wife, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, who was the state's chief executive at the time.

TEMPLE OF TRUTH

Down state some of the service stations have installed a gadget known as a "power prover" designed to ascertain if any unburned gasoline is being wasted through the exhaust pipe. A tube is attached to the exhaust and to a machine that tells the story. It also indicates what should be remedied by a mechanic to prevent waste of power. Some day a similar machine will likely be used to indicate if the talker is getting anywhere in an argument. The indicator will inform him as to the affect he is having upon his victim. The only objection to that kind of a machine is, that arguments will cease when the arguer learns the futility of trying to convince anyone of anything.

And are the little folks interested in old Santa Claus! Letters to the bewhiskered man of kindly face kept coming; and coming over the week end. Little girls and little boys brought them. Big girls and big boys, mamas and papas, brought them. And a fine lot, too. Keep a lookout for them little folks, and may you get every wish.

And right here we want to pay our respects to Ben Andis of the Andis Bros. firm of truckers and movers. Beginning about 8 Thursday morning after the Leader had been printed the night before, the entire shop equipment was moved from and placed by 9:30 the evening of the same day. The big news press weighs several tons, but was a mere toy handled by Ben Andis and his crew with their "dollies," the press being moved intact. Not a thing was spilled or broken. Several days will be consumed in straightening up. A number of job printing calls were gotten out Saturday without interruption. Those requiring printing were most lenient and served to their satisfaction. We thank most heartily all those who assisted us in moving and getting straightened out again. Come to see us folks, in the White building next west of the Palmer Motor Company. Glad to see you any old time.

Dalhart and Amarillo are in a squabble over the soil erosion headquarters. We intended to move it down here, but the rain muddied up the highway until we gave up the job. Personally speaking, the soil erosion offices should be left in the center of the "dust bowl" where they can operate more efficiently and at less expense. That means that Dalhart should have it by all means.

Bob Rankin, highway foreman of this district, was fined $38 in Childress recently on a charge of speeding. Bob is the most conspicuous man in this section, if the records are true, because he was the only speedster prosecuted from June 1st this year to November 29th. Or at least he says that is the way the records indicate the manipulations down Childress way.

Giant popcorn poppers in packing houses are said to supply the cereal which they mix with sausages in cases. That's a mighty fine way to raise the price of corn, only the producer gets no benefit—just the packers. Corn sold as sausage increases the price of the corn about six times.

The fellow who wrote "Love Thy Neighbor" evidently had never lived in an apartment house where the several neighbors under the same roof owned two pianos, five radios and a bozo was trying to learn to play the saxophone.

A Dallas book dealer hit upon a new plan when he received a new book bearing the title of "Mrs. John Jacob's Astors," by asking an elderly lady to "review" it for him. The kindly old lady looked through the book and wrote: "This book is so obscene I wouldn't be caught dead with it in my house." The book dealer placed that statement along side the book in his front window and sold 84 books before noon. At that, it might have been true.

Now while you have time, get the surprise of your life by reading from the 3rd to the 5th verse of the 30th Chapter of Ezekiel. Then let me know what you think about it. No matter how busy you are, read it. You can't get away from the old Book.

That's all for tails week except to say your last chance to see Will Rogers' last picture is tonight. Showing "In Old Kentucky" at the Pastime tonight for the last time. See it!

Local Woman Wins Recipe Endorsement

Mrs. Joe Goldston, Box 114, Clarendon, Texas, has just been awarded a Certificate of Recipe Endorsement by Better Homes & Gardens for her recipe, "Orange Fluff Pie."

This certificate, which brings national recognition to Mrs. Goldston is given by Better Homes & Gardens only to distinguished recipes which pass its testing kitchen's tests for dependability, excellence of taste, and family usefulness.

In addition to the signed certificate, Mrs. Goldston also received six copies of her endorsed recipe, each bearing the Better Homes & Gardens stamp of recipe endorsement, which she can give to her friends.

In awarding these certificates, it is the magazine's aim to provide proper recognition for the creative work done by women in their own kitchens, and also to raise the standard of accuracy and dependability of recipes as a whole. No other magazine or institution gives this personal recognition and service to its subscribers.

Mrs. Goldston's endorsed recipe follows:

- ORANGE FLUFF PIE
 Orange Pastry
 1 1/2 cups flour
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Grated rind of 1/2 orange
 1/2 cup shortening
 5 tablespoons orange juice
- Sift the flour with the sugar and salt. Add the grated orange rind and the shortening, and work it in with a pastry blender. Gradually add the orange juice and toss together lightly with a fork until the pastry holds together. Place on a floured surface and roll thin. Fit the pastry over an inverted pie pan and prick the bottom and sides.

Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for 15 minutes. Remove from the oven and fill the baked pastry with the following:

- ORANGE FILLING
 4 egg yolks
 1 cup sugar
 1/2 cup orange juice
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup cold water
 1 tablespoon gelatin
 Grated rind of 1/2 orange
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 4 egg whites, beaten stiff
 2 teaspoons orange food coloring (or sufficient to color)
 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 1/4 cup grated coconut

Place the egg yolks in the top of a double boiler with 1/2 cup of the sugar, orange juice and salt. Mix thoroughly and cook until smooth and thick, beating constantly, with a rotary egg beater.

Pour cold water in a bowl and sprinkle the gelatin on top. Soak for 5 minutes then add the hot custard and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Stir in the grated orange rind and lemon juice. Set aside to cool and when the mixture begins to thicken, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites, to which the remaining 1/2 cup sugar has been added. Color with 1 teaspoon orange food coloring. Place in the baked pastry and chill in the refrigerator until firm and ready to serve.

When ready to serve, cover with whipped cream which has been colored with 1 teaspoon orange coloring. Sprinkle with coconut which has been tinted with orange food coloring if desired.

This recipe makes 2 small pies.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

WHY WE EXIST

Article V.

Having thus followed our rule on receiving persons into the church, we follow it as implicitly in all the orders of worship. We meet each Lords day for worship and to partake of the Lord's supper. We call the day "Lord's Day" and we never apply it to the name "Sabbath", which in the Bible is never applied to the first day of the week.

nor do they express the true conception of this solemn observance. The day and the Supper are united together in their observance, so that the day is not adequately celebrated without the Supper, nor is the Supper properly celebrated without the day.

Around this sacred feast as a center we group the teaching, prayers, and the praise appointed by God; while here, there, elsewhere, and everywhere we preach the Gospel, the word and nothing but the word, giving book, chapter and verse, for everything said or done. We therefore teach nothing but what the apostles taught, we pray for only the things for which we are taught to pray, and we offer no praise but the fruit of lips, giving thanks to God, imitating in this respect, not David, who praised God on the Psalter and Harp, but the apostles and their brethren in whose assemblies no sound of a musical instrument was ever heard. (Amos 5:23; 6:5; Eph. 5:19; Col. 3:16)

Believing that the appointments of God are wiser, than the appointments of men, we dare not fall, when practicable, to appoint in the congregations such permanent officers as he appointed in the beginning, nor do we dare go beyond, and appoint such as He did not. We content ourselves with overseers (elders) deacons, and evangelists, which all readers of the New Testament knew were found in the primitive churches. Thus each congregation functions under these scriptural officers, and all together we are responsible, not to Synod, Circuit Rider, Presiding Elder, Pope nor convention, but to God, and to Him alone.

The religion of the Bible is a workingman's religion. Our God is a workingman's God, and the Christian religion was founded by a workingman. The Bible is the most industrious book printed. It has been the experience of Mission workers in our large cities, that when old Lazy Bum goes to the mourners bench the first evidence of a change in him is that he hunts a steady job. When Christ came to set up His Kingdom he found people loafing and said, "Why stand ye here idle all day? He put them to work and paid them for their service. The call of this hour to the world is, go work in my vineyard today. If the principles of Christianity obtained throughout the earth there would not be an idle man on this globe. The thing we need today is to bring in the Kingdom of God, and we are not going to do it by loafing. I am going to make a bold statement, one that cannot be successfully contradicted by the wisest men of the age. All the problems under which the nations of the earth are staggering today can be solved if the people will stand to and abide by the principles of Christianity. I say that in the light of the teachings of all of God's word. Then let us be busy seven days in the week for the bringing in of the Kingdom of God. Too many of us feature the Sabbath day to keep it holy, and forget that the same commandment reads, "Six days shalt thou work."

Regular services at The Baptist Church Sunday. We believe that the helpfulness will be mutual if you will come.

WENDY BARRIE'S CAREER AS SCREEN STAR BEGAN WITH CHANCE MEETING

Wendy Barrie, lovely young British film star, is one of the most democratic persons in pictures and as feminine lead in Paramount's "Millions in the Air," she undertakes a role that is perfectly suited to her own personality.

"Millions in the Air," which opens on Wednesday, December 18 at the Pastime Theatre is a sparkling farce about a radio amateur program and Miss Barrie is cast as the daughter of a wealthy soap manufacturer, whose company sponsors the broadcast.

Under an assumed name the rich girl becomes a contestant on her father's radio program, and falls in love with John Howard, who plays an ice-cream salesman likewise seeking success as an amateur entertainer. Miss Barrie's democratic outlook, in spite of her social position, is emphasized in the film.

The young actress is one of the best-liked stars in Hollywood because of her contempt for sham and pretense and because she is as unpredictable as the weather in mid-April. She is frequently seen, for example, taking her Negro maid to the movies. And when she finds herself up against an amiable heckler, such as Jack Oakie, she always proves that she can swap cutting remarks in a masterful manner.

Miss Barrie was born in China where her father was an agent for the British government. She was educated in the Orient, in England and on the Continent. And her career as an actress came through an odd circumstance. Alexander Korda, the noted British producer, saw her in a London restaurant. He was attracted by her beauty and poise, and induced her to enter pictures. Before long she was cast as Jane Seymour in "The Private Life of Henry VIII."

When this picture began bringing in large royalties, Miss Barrie was in Palm Springs, Calif., resting. She lived there for several months before someone discovered that the "Jane Seymour" of the sensational British picture was in America. It remained for Zeppo Marx to talk Miss Barrie into going to Hollywood, 135 miles away, and continuing her film career.

She now lives with her mother and sister in a house that formerly was the home of Ramon Navarro.

Mrs. Chas. Dean and daughter Evelyn of Plainview visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lane over the week.

LEGAL NOTICE

The Board of Trustees of the Clarendon Independent School District wish to announce that they have secured the services of Mr. Cecil Alexander whose duties will be to work on Delinquent Tax Collections for the District. Please see Mr. Alexander at once and help us keep the schools open the full nine months term.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the Clarendon Independent School District this the 7th day of December 1935.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained. Saturday, the 14th, is the last day individuals may have the privilege of contributing to the Will Rogers Memorial Fund. Among the schools to contribute are students of the Municipal Junior College, Clarendon High School, Ash-tola, Chamberlain and Glenwood. BROTHERS MAKE VACATION TRIP TO SOUTHWEST

Full Week is Spent Seeing Mountains, Cavern, Museum And Old Mexico

Taking out for a full week, where could one spend the time more profitably than touring the great southwest. Such was the idea the Davis brothers, Denzel and Edward, had in mind when they left here on pleasure bent.

The first place of note was Roswell, down in the Pecos valley and often referred to as the "Salt Lake City" of the Southwest because of the beautiful flowers, trees, buildings and clean streets.

Carlsbad caverns, the 8th wonder of the world claimed a big share of attention on the next stop. No one ever tires of the 700 foot underground cavern covering hundreds of acres with beauties indescribable. Thousands from almost every nation on the Globe visit the Cavern every year, and the Davis brothers were glad, indeed, to be numbered among them.

A white ribbon stretched out across the desert among mountains as the highway appeared, and our visitors soon reached El Paso to the southwest. With but the Rio Grande between them, a visit to a foreign nation was too tempting to pass up. Several days were spent seeing ancient and interesting Old Mexico.

Doubling back to the Pass City, the journey then lay north through Las Cruces where is located the famed A&M College. Then up the Rio Grande farther past the only radium springs in America. Hot Springs came into view suddenly and then seven miles farther, gigantic Elephant Butte Dam with her lake, third largest in the world, hove in sight.

Expectations ahead set the pace of travel and on up the river Socorro, San Marcial with the large dormant volcanic crater to the right and then Belen. Short stops only were made with Albuquerque in mind ahead.

Some time was spent in the latter city, largest in the state, but Santa Fe was the goal of the Davis boys. Much time was spent in Santa Fe, second oldest city in the United States, having been founded in 1582. Two days were consumed in looking at the pictures in the Art Gallery and relics of all ages in the Museum. While the Art Gallery includes pictures from many masters of many lands, the Museum contains artifacts of all the ages of man from the stone age to the present. The trip home was without incident, except their first trip to view first hand the wonders of the Southwest gave the Davis brothers plenty to talk about. "Why people go to Europe to see less, when they can travel over our own Southwest and see more, is a mystery to me," said Denzel Davis in speaking of their wonderful trip.
