Sheriff Picks Up Car That Was Stolen In San Antonio

Party is Lodged in Jail After Investigation is Made in Three States

Offering a good auto worth perhaps several hundred dollars at the low price of $150 here Friday, aroused the suspicion of Sheriff Pierce who got busy with an investigation.

A few telegrams informed him that the Desoto sedan had been stolen from the A B C Garage at San Antonio. A license plate was taken off a Studebaker car belonging to Paul J. Robier at Canyon City, Colorado and put on the Desoto.

The Desoto sedan also had a collision with a milk wagon at Canyon City and the officials there are looking for the driver.

The party taking the car from San Antonio is alleged to have taken a woman with him on a trip heading northwest marrying her at Clayton, N. M.

The party having the car in charge is said to have given the name of Joe Kingston. The woman with him is said to be his wife. Three men picked up at the same time claimed to be paid passengers and were later released after an investigation.

The Chief of detectives at San Antonio wired Sheriff Pierce to hold Kingston and the stolen car until his arrival.

Deputy sheriff Matthews of San Antonio came Monday returning both the man and woman and the auto to San Antonio.

Mrs. Fred Russell had as guest over the week her father, B. B. Eiland of Madera, California.

Greenbelt Bank Officials Meet Here In Annual Fete

Golf, Picture Show, Barbecue Swimming and Bridge Round Out Busy Day Wednesday

Members of the Greenbelt Bankers Association called Wednesday play-day in a meeting in Clarendon over Wednesday, many of them bringing their ladies for the day's entertainment.

Picture shows for the ladies and golf for the men consumed most of the day. Late in the afternoon the visitors were escorted to the Country Club where choice quantity of barbecued chicken and trimmings and swimming rounded out a day filled with pleasure. Frank Whitlock had charge of the "eats" including the barbecue.

In the ladies' bridge tournament, Helen Frosard of Turkey received high score. Miss Harrold of Memphis cut consolation.

Dancing in the spacious reception room of the Club House with music furnished by the Clarendon orchestra directed by Gus B. Stevenson was one of the many delightful features of the meeting.

Mr. Clouse of the public bank relations department of the Federal Reserve Banking system arrived in time to take part in the festivities at the Country Club.

W. W. Taylor is president of the Greenbelt Association, and J. D. Swift is secretary.

Man Dies Suddenly Tuesday At Hopkins Ranch

Joe (Shorty) Whittaker, aged 39, an employ of Mrs. Maggie Hopkins on her ranch 18 miles south of Pampa for the past eight years, died suddenly Tuesday.

He walked in from the field and phoned for a physician. When the doctor arrived no one answered the knock at the door and he walked in to find Whittaker lying on the floor dead near the telephone.

His death is supposed to have resulted from an acute attack of indigestion, though he appeared well earlier in the day. Mrs. Hopkins was visiting here in Clarendon when Mrs. Karl Adams, her daughter, received word from the ranch by phone.

The body was shipped to his old home at Iberia, Missouri Wednesday where his mother resides, and where he last visited some four years ago.

Old Fiddler And Old Fiddle Will Enter Contest

Among those to have already entered their names on the list for the old fiddler contest here the 4th of July is F. L. Behrens, who will be accompanied by his son George Truett Behrens.

Mr. Behrens purchased his fiddle in Dallas thirty-six years ago. It is of French manufacture, he says, and has a fine tone. It is his intention to win the best prize or else make some one break the record.

Others wishing to enter the contest should file their names with T. D. Nored at the office of the West Texas Utilities Company, or at the office of the Donley County Leader.

Mrs. Bryan Dawkins and mother Mrs. Austin, and Bural Austin of DeQueen, Arkansas are here this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Dawkins.

Better Buildings In Better Community Work in Donley Co.

McKnight Takes Lead With Construction of First Community Building

The idea of a community center with adequate accommodations has long been the dream of several communities in Donley county for many years. Leaders of these several communities have planned when they might have just such a building to foster goodwill and to better their conditions in general.

Several years ago when the citizens of the McKnight school community built a new school building, they converted the old school building into a teacherage. This teacherage has just been worked over and made into a community center building.

This building has a basement 20x28 feet. The main structure is a frame-stucco. It was remodeled with a view of making into a community center building only. Where the folks could gather, feel at home get more enjoyment out of life and become better neighbors by becoming better acquainted.

Over in the Bray community a new school building is nearing completion. Like a number of other communities in the county, this school building will also serve as a community center—a place where their folks may gather for bettering their conditions in general.

This building measures 46x75 feet. It is also of a frame-stucco design with a view of conserving fuel expense as well as presenting an appearance that will reflect credit upon the enterprise of her citizens. J. H. Watters is superintending the job.

Other sections of the county will see new buildings later in the season. The idea is taking root. Such buildings are a necessity. They have been used in East Texas as a meeting place for the demonstration clubs where vegetables, meats, and fruits have been canned in large quantities, as well as being used for other purposes.

W. F. Black Dies Suddenly at Home Near Canyon

A number of local people will remember W. F. Black who formerly lived west of town and who moved to Canyon a few years ago. He had lost an arm early in life but this fact offered little handicap to a man of his energy.

A number of friends accompanied the body here Tuesday where it was laid beside his wife in the local cemetery. He died suddenly at Canyon Monday.

Miss Genella Eldridge visited friends in Pampa this week.

Mayor Cagle Talks About Wonderful Trip Through Mexico

Was a Member of Globe-News Excursion Party Viewing Wonders of Aztecs

Returning home late Saturday night, Mayor W. P. Cagle was happy and buoyant with a wonderful store of information gathered as one of the members of an excursion party to view Old Mexico from Laredo via of the national capitol and back by Juarez.

Leaving Amarillo, the first stop was made at Austin where the Chamber of Commerce met the party with "flaring trumpets" entertaining in the good old American fashion. The party was shown through the State Capitol, met the Governor and other dignitaries.

San Antonio was out in gala attire with band and banners as the excursion party reached the city of contrasts and their first introduction to Mexican influence, later to be somewhat over-emphasized. Here the party paid humble tribute to the "Cradle of Texas Liberty" visiting the Alamo. A visit to Breckenridge park and the sunken tea garden, a swell banquet and back aboard bound for Laredo.

It was necessary to spend four hours at Laredo as the first Mexican influence of hospitality was encountered. All the interesting sights of the town were seen and auto trips made through a portion of the citrus belt better known as the "garden spot of America."

In crossing the river over the international bridge only a cursory inspection was made. There was an total absence of the much heralded photographers, finger print officials, dipping vats and tick inspectors, the Mayor said.

The first stop in Mexico was made at Monterey where the party was met by Chamber of Commerce officials accompanied by the band in brilliant uniforms. Five hours were required to "do" the town, though the Mayor stoutly denies that it was due to an inspection of the largest brewery in the nation where beer was served absolutely free in any quantity.

The beer garden afforded an inviting place for the banqueting amid beautiful flowers, trees, free beer and the soft crooning of stringed instruments in the hands of some of Mexico's most beautiful senoritas.

The sight-seeing Texans were shown over the city and it was here that the Mayor began to notice that Mexico was densely populated (continued to back page)

HELP! HELP! HELP!

The fate of the $25,000 appropriation for the Canyon Museum hangs in the balance. Individuals and Chambers of Commerce are urged to write Governor R. S. Sterling, Austin, Texas today requesting him to approve the appropriation.

Clyde W. Warwick of Canyon and representative from that district put the bill through the House. He has done all that mortal man can do up to this point. He is looking to the people of the Panhandle to back him now that this building be made possible.

The Bill provides that the state expend $25,000 to be matched by a like amount contributed by the people of this section. The people have contributed and want the building. It is necessary to care for the valuable historical relics that have been collected.

This building will be the first unit of one of the most valuable assets of the Panhandle preserving to posterity the early history of the most colorful section of the state.

Urge others to send telegrams and to write the Governor at once. This is our last chance for at least two years and possibly for a lifetime. Don't put it off another day. This is a time when the proud citizenry of the Panhandle of Texas expects you to do your duty. Honor heroes of pioneer days, and provide an educational feature for the present generation. But do it now.

Tons of Trouble Picked off Highway By Nail Picker

Large Magnet on Specially Constructed Truck Does The Work Perfectly

The second visit of the "nail picker" this week means a big saving to the motoring public if one may judge from the amount of puncturable materials collected from the state highways.

A round trip, taking about 12 feet at a swath, from here to Claude and back netted a collection of wire, nails, bolts and other materials calculated to puncture tires weighing 2995 pounds.

In going out on highway 88 north of town Monday afternoon, the magnet picked up 189 pounds of nails and small pieces of iron from the railway track to the Sawyer farm.

The average weight of materials collected varies, but will average about 100 pounds to the mile. Pocket knives are a side issue, seldom a day passing without one or more good ones being found by the strong magnet that jerks objects from under the loose earth to a depth of two inches.

The magnet, so strong that a man can hardly pull a weight off it, is capable of picking up a weight of several pounds. The operator related how the magnet attempted to steal a manhole cover weighing several pounds at Miami recently while cleaning the streets of nafts and tacks.

The "drawing force" of the magnet is supplied from a dynamo located on and propelled by an independent motor on the truck. When the switch is pulled, the objects fall from the magnet, are collected and dumped out of the way. The machine is in charge of W. S. Crooks and J. S. Honeycutt of the highway department.

Mrs. Fred Maher returned to her home in Amarillo today after a lengthy visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Antrobus and other relatives.

Trade Trippers Announce 3 Dates In Future Visits

Change of Program Planned For Each Community That Will Be Visited

Cold, damp weather kept the crowd away Thursday night when the Clarendon trade trippers visited that town. Hedley men joined in on the program and the ladies dispensed ice cream and cake.

The band played several overtures and marched on the streets. The meeting was held in the spacious auditorium of the high school.

The next trip will be made to the Goldston community this evening. Plenty of music and novelty stunts will furnish amusement. The ladies will sell the customary sweets and otherwise help along the treasury of worth while local demands.

Lelia Lake will entertain the Trippers on the evening of June 2nd. The meeting at this place last year was one of the best with a full attendance and plenty of enthusiasm. Local talent put on some of the best stunts in music and dancing that was seen any where in the country.

Martin will see the Trippers on the evening of June 9th. As this date is getting close to the Fourth of July celebration, this fact will be better advertised. Martin had a good turnout last summer and will do the same thing this time. The cake sales last year were a big feature.

All those who feel disposed to turn out are invited to share in these meetings that are designed to foster goodwill and a more neighborly spirit. Local people at each place are asked to contribute to the program as good talent may be found at each place.

Female Trouble.

Had you noticed that when a woman has more husbands than children, that she invariably has trouble?

Advice.

Work faithfully eight hours a day and avoid worry. In time you may become the boss working 12 hours a day and have all the worry.

Pestiferous.

Food-fad "quacks" are the successors of patent medicine "fakers" often feeding us on everything worthless from sawdust to goober hulls, with high-sounding names.

Sacrilegious

With the Pope speaking over the radio Friday morning in three languages along with an American broadcast on breakfast food, prunes and toothpaste, we failed to understand a blamed thing.

More Tolerance.

Elder T. A. Dunn of Crosbyton and minister of the Primitive Baptist faith, preached in the Christian church at Brownfield recently. All honor to a people who will not permit their religious zeal to overshadow christian courtesy.

Plain Stuff.

Poke salad, hog jowl and corn bread may appear homely in the estimation of some, but it has furnished the bone and sinew for some of America's greatest ministers, doctors, lawyers and home-builders.

Newspaper Homicide.

A Watertown, South Dakota man shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide recently in a quarrel over which should read the local paper first. There ought to be a law passed making the head of every family subscribe for two papers and keep it paid for in advance.

Arthur Brisbane.

Brisbane says that prohibition has caused the racketeering game to invade our nation. Berlin, Germany has been forced to double the police strength of that city to cope with the same thing in a section where prohibition is unknown. Well, Arthur, where do we go from here?

Information.

A newspaper friend writes this editor as follows: "I am a poor writer. Do you think I should attempt to write editorials for my paper?"

Certainly, by all means. Editorials, good or bad, serve only two purposes—sources of information and criticism.

Too Short.

The depression appears to have reached its highest point in the matter of women's skirts—the styles are lengthening out. Next to having St. Vitus dance and rheumatism at the same time, there is nothing more annoying right now than a short skirt with no hem.

Bumps Will Rogers.

Will has done a lot of good in the world. He has said a lot of things and gotten by with it until now comes Minnie D. Sanford, a leading D. A. R. worker who says: "In glancing over the bright sayings of Will Rogers, I see where he said that the D. A. R. women were talking too much. One thing sure, when we talk it amounts to something; it is not like soda water, all foam and no substance."

Shy on Religion.

The Radio Commission investigating the W. K. Henderson station at Shreveport is said to have found that he received $353,500 from 35,000 merchants. Of this sum he is said to have paid off a mortgage on his iron works to the amount of $151,000.

Perhaps that is the reason he is permitting the preachers to use his station at this time. He no doubt has more money than religion.

Tinkling Cymbals.

The merchant who dotes upon his "motto," past record or grandfather's reputation to pull him business, wont get near enough to headquarters to see 1931 methods if he lives to be a thousand years old.

Buyers may like him personally, but when they get ready to buy, they go where they know they will find their wants, and what they will have to pay for it.

President Rubio.

Announcement that President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico would visit the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo this fall is the most pleasing result that could have been accomplished by the Panhandle excursion party sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News.

The Tri-State Fair will assume an international standing and men like Wilbur Hawk are do a great deal of credit for bringing this Panhandle enterprise the attention and consideration it justly deserves.

Canadian Liquor.

In Canada where the government is supposed to handle the liquor problem, a system that has the endorsement of many in the United States. 19327 liquor law convictions were had in the nine provinces during the past twelve months.

Chain liquor stores owning 25 distilleries, 52 wineries and 84 breweries, and 4987 retail establishments are said to have practically gained control of the business.

Of the retail stores or bars in the nation, the government owns only 588.

From a reading of the yearly report, it is plainly evident that "private" not public ownership is doing the biggest business.

'Sale' not 'control' is the dominating characteristic. The 'saloon' persists though under another name. Judging from the number of convictions cited above, bootlegging or illicit sale has not been abolished.

With all that we hear about Canada's control of the liquor problem, it remains as much of a puzzle for possible solution as the negro problem.

Getting it Done.

After Carl Throop read our statement in our last issue regarding the phone service we were getting, he came up. We had a long friendly talk just like we always do because Carl is a darn nice fellow.

After a while we edged around to the phone situation when he asked how we liked the service his company was giving us. We frankly told him it was rotten. Why, we did not know but we couldn't use his service—we merely paid for it. In a few hours—the same day, to be exact—we got a new phone at the house and the office wiring was worked over and we had dandy good service. That's the way to treat the folks to build goodwill, and no one likes to please better than Carl Throop, district manager of the phone company. Thanks a lot.

Women And Spain.

With the passing of the Spanish monarchy, Mussulman fashion affecting women becomes a legend—an orgy of the past.

Women of Spain under the regime of the new Republic enjoy political liberty. Womanhood as well as the peon has been emancipated.

Senorita Victoria Kent, Spain's first woman lawyer and whose grandfather was an admiral in the English navy, was elected Governor-General of Prisons in the elections held following the collapse of the old monarchy.

It was she who was employed to defend the half-dozen Republican leaders on trial for their complicity in the abortive Republican coup last December. Her strong sympathy for the oppressed, and valiant service expended in this particular historical event no doubt had much to do with her election.

Made in Texas.

For years and years the newspapers and a few chambers of commerce of Texas have been advocating a program of "Texas Products for Texas People."

Col W. E. Talbot of Dallas has done more towards persuading Texas manufacturers to sell to the Texas retail trade than any other man or dozen men in the state.

While campaigning as the Republican candidate for the governorship in the last campaign, he found greater possibilities for serving the people of this state other than filling the office of her highest official.

In fact he practically lost sight of the campaign so engrossed was he in the wonderful future of persuading Texas capital to engage in the manufacture of dozens of commodities from our raw products.

Though the head of a large life insurance company, Col. Talbot knows that his people must prosper before they can buy insurance. A home market for home products will enable Texas people to buy life insurance because life insurance is just as essential to the protection of our homes as is groceries, dry-goods or any other commodity that enters into the lists of either necessities or luxuries required to make a people happy and contented.

Texas now manufactures thirty-seven important items that enter into the daily lives of the people of this state. Things you eat and use. Groceries to building materials.

What are the brands of these thirty-seven Texas made products? We frankly don't know. They are not advertised in the newspapers of the state read most by the consuming public. Should the merchant stock these products, an advertising campaign is necessary to create a demand.

Texas people will not buy Texas Made products simply because they are made in Texas. The goods must possess merit, must be priced right and the merchant stocking the goods has a right to demand that his customers be educated to these advantages through the local paper serving his customers.

OUR WEEKLY CHURCH CHAT
"The Kingdoms"

God has never been without a kingdom. "Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever" (Psa. 45:6). "By me kings reign" (Prov. 8:15). God the almighty ruler, the "Lords of lords and Kings of kings."

Most relative Scriptures allude to God's kingdom in a more limited sense. God established a kingdom among the Israelites. "Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people; for the earth is mine; and ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation" (Ex.19:5,6.) The children of Israel obeyed not God's voice, and kept not His covenant. They desired an earthly king. God granted their request, but the succession of kings chosen departed from the way of the Lord.

In infinite wisdom and love God promised, through Daniel, another kingdom. "In the day of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed" (Dan.2:44). John the Baptist preached, saying: "The kingdom of heaven is at hand" (Matt.3:22).

We are told when that kingdom was established. It was when our Lord rose from the grave, and was exalted to God's right hand," a Prince and a Savior." (See Acts 2:29-42 11:15. From His throne He poured out His Spirit upon His disciples," as the Redeemers coronation gift," and Peter filled with the Spirit, preached the first gospel sermon, and announced that Jesus, whom they had crucified, had risen, and ascended to sit upon the throne prepared for Him from the foundation of the world.

The condition of entrance into the kingdom are plainly stated. "Except a man be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God" (John 3:5) "Except ye turn and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven" (Matt. 18:3).

The nature of the kingdom is also defined. "My kingdom is not of this world" (John 18:36). It is composed of those who strive to do the will of God. "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth".

There is yet another kingdom. It is the kingdom of glory, which is the kingdom of grace perfected, men pass into the kingdom of glory via the kingdom of grace. There is no other road. "At Athens there were two temples—a temple of virtue, and a temple of honor—and there was no going into the temple of honor but through the temple of virtue." So, to enter the heavenly kingdom, we must pass through the kingdom of grace, the Church of the Living God. Yet, strange to say, many aspire after heaven, who shun the kingdom, the church, which is composed of those who are striving to do the will of God, here on earth." Not every one that saith unto me: Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven." Matt. 7:21-23.

"Christ at the Door" will be our morning subject next Lord's Day. Many doors have been closed on Him, have you closed the door of your heart by refusing to let Him come into your life? Sunday evening we will present a message on the subject: "The Church, The Body of Christ" We promise to give to you, one of the best sermons in our possession, on Christ and His Church and program. Lesson that all should know.

C. M. Lane visited his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Nunn at Amarillo over the week end.

Mrs. N. D. Hudson was operated on Saturday at Adair hospital and is reported to be doing as well as expected.

CHAPTER II PART IV

For many days Doris lay in her bed watching me as I worked about the cabin, cooking, cleaning, polishing my rifles, or turning and drying the pelts that hung on the walls. At first, every time that she tried to move the frost devils that still lurked in her bones, would sink their claws afresh into her nerves, so that she would cry out with pain, but as the days passed the demons began to loosen their grip on her and she could use her muscles more freely.

During the days that she lay helpless in her bed, I told her many interesting things that had taken place while she was a captive of the mad man.

After the days work was finished I would help her into a large chair near the fire and would sit for hours and tell her stories of the strange north land and the adventures of the lonely trappers and traders.

While I talked to her, her pains would seem to leave her and her face would brighten up. I would watch her from the corner of my eye and I love to see that faint smile that would drift across her lips. I love to see her eyes snap and flash in the glare of our flaming fire. She seemed to enjoy our chats so much that I hated to see the time come to put her to bed and to say good night.

After the light was out and every thing was still, I would lie awake and ponder over and over in my mind the things that she had said. For hours her smiling face would haunt me and rob me of sleep and dreams. I knew that the time was coming when she would return to her father. I had promised to take her home just as soon as the weather would permit. Then there would be any more smiles to greet me when I reached home after a days trample along the trap lines. There would be no more "Good Nights" for me as I would finish tucking the blankets around her at night. All would be quiet, and I would be just the same old trapper, she would be with friends and loved ones, I would soon fade from her memory, soon be forgotten numbered with the "Has Beens". When sleep would finally come, I would soon be dreaming about my little patient, planning on doing something or saying something to make her happy, to make her eyes sparkle, to make her smile.

One time I dreamed that she was my wife, and that we were as happy as a pair of doves, building their first nest. I was about the happiest being on earth, every thing whispered to me the story of love and happiness, but I awoke to learn that it was only a dream.

To me, my trap trails seemed longer than ever before, I could not cover the distance as quickly as I did before she came. Try as I might I could not reach home as early as I wanted to. Mile after mile I would travel going from trap to trap, my thoughts were not on my work any more, the love and sport of trapping seemed to flee from me, my mind was on the girl for the hut.

Soon she would be able to walk and then - - - yes she would want to go home. What had I to offer her, it was out of the question for me a trapper and trader to hope to win this fair maiden for a mate.

Time after time the idea entered my head to do what the mad man had done. Keep her here to look at, to have and to hold. She would never be discovered in my cabin. I could keep her hid like Jensen had. Why not try it. Then I would get mad with my self for promising her that I would help her find her father and mother. Was she not the most beautiful woman that I had ever seen? Why not keep her always who would be the wiser? No I could not do this, I remembered that look of fear that was upon her face the first morning in my shanty. I did not want that look to appear again, I knew that she could not smile for me if I kept her a prisoner. No I would fulfill my promise, I would carry her home to her parents. It would be weeks before she would be able to travel and I would do all that I could for her to keep her smiling for me as long as she was with me. With these thoughts in my mind I would hurry home to the girl that I had learned to love so dearly in such a short time.

Three weeks passed, Doris was now able to move around a little and every day I noticed that certain little things would be attended to when I came in nights. The pelts would be turned, the floors clean, this thing in place and the finishing touches that belong to a womans work and methods would attract my attention. One night upon reaching home I found a real hot supper waiting for me.

It has been said of old that the shortest way to a man's heart is by the way of the stomach. Well she sure did reach me with that meal. Fried potatoes and meat and bread are generally about all a trapper lives on, but the potatoes were fried just right, the meat browned to a turn and the bread, real hot biscuits, soft and fluffy. The same old things but so different, so much better, and prepared with her little hands.

That night as we sat by the fire I noticed that a sad look had crept into Doris's face. She was not as full of laughter and merriment as she had been. As for my self I could not stand to look in her face, it seemed to me that every time I started to speak that I would strangle. There was a message in my heart that I wanted to deliver but I could not, a lump would rise in my throat and I would be forced to look out of the window, shake up the fire or do something to keep her from seeing me choke up like a bashful school boy. I knew that she was thinking about home and friends and that these thoughts had caused her to lose her smiles and laughter.

Day after day she continued to improve and natural color began to return to her cheeks. Soon the parting time would come, this was the thought that was uppermost in my mind all the time. Doris began to notice that there was something on my mind and that I was worrying.

So one night while we were watching the fire leap up the chimney I broke the quietness by telling her that I was going on a long trip and that I expected to be away about four days.

"Yes I expect to leave in the morning."

Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a

Now! Please!— Actually put your finger on your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple— Do you know you are actually touching your larynx?— This is your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—Remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE, and so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed
in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute.

Revival in Progress This Week at Lott Ranch

A joint revival is in progress at the school house on the Lott ranch this week, having begun last Saturday.

The ministers conducting the revival had each planned a meeting to begin at the same time without the knowledge of the other. When they met there, both agreed to a union revival.

Rev. C. B. Ingram, Methodist minister of Clarendon, and Rev. Teadwell, a Baptist minister of Memphis, are conducting the meeting. Several conversions have already resulted from the meeting according to Rev. Ingram.

Will Rogers First to Enter Shaft Carlsbad Cavern

While visiting "cow waddies" of 1899 when he punched cattle around Carlsbad last week, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers visited the caverns. Will refused to take a dare and was the first to enter the cave through the new shaft. He made the 750 foot drop in a bucket.

The latest discovery in the cavern is a swimming pool fed by springs. The pool is 20 feet deep, 100 feet wide and about 300 feet long. Several have already taken a plunge though forced to make the decent to the pool by rope ladders.

The electric elevator will be ready to transport visitors to and from the cave about July 1st. The pond for swimming will not likely be ready this season as the drop below the latest level where paths have been made, is approximately 400 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Connally and son are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Connally.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hurn and Mrs. O. W. Latson attended the District Missionary Conference at Mobeetie Tuesday.

J. I. Ballengee of Canyon, boyhood friend of the editor of the Leader paid him a call Tuesday, the first meeting in exactly 25 years. J. I. was in the State Legislature years ago when a young man, representing the Clay county district.

Senator Moses Sponsors Bill to Speed Air Mail From Flying Fields to Post Offices by Pneumatic Tubes

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire has introduced a bill into the senate providing for pneumatic tubes between airports and post offices in order to speed the local delivery of air mail.

Senator Moses' bill is a timely recognition of the increasing importance of the Air Mail. Air Mail planes flew more than fifteen million miles in the United States in 1930, transporting some 7,500,000 lbs of mail. There were 47,992 miles of lighted airways in operation while mail planes flew 8,500,000 miles at night. In addition to the Air Mail service in the United States, there is the wonderful service with Latin America carried by the Pan-American Airways. This service reaches the West Indies, Central America, and both coasts of South America. It is now possible to send a letter from New York to Buenos Aires in seven days.

But it is foolish to fly planes at a speed of 100 miles an hour, or more, in carrying the mail, only to have it delayed in getting to the post office in the city after it has arrived at an outlying airport. From airports in the vicinity of large cities, the air mail must be carried in trucks through congested streets, subject to traffic laws and interruptions.

Under Senator Moses' bill, pneumatic tubes would run from the airport, beneath the streets of the city, and right into the post office. A pneumatic tube system is now used to carry the mail under the streets of New York City. It consists of a system of eight inch pipes extending up and down both sides of Manhattan Island between the Battery and 125th St., with a branch extending across the Brooklyn Bridge to the Brooklyn post office. This system has carried as many as eleven million pieces of mail in a single day. The mail is contained in metal carriers that look like long milk cans. Each carrier contains between 500 and 600 letters and moves at high velocity through the pipe, being carried along on a continuous current of air, impelled by electrically driven blowers. The carriers travel 180,000 miles daily. There are always two sets of pipes, one for each direction.

The advantages of the system are high speed, great economy, continuous arrival of carriers in the post office stations, permitting the force to be continuously employed, and the fact that no traffic jams, fires, snow or ice will interrupt the service. When a carrier filled with mail is about to reach a post office station it passes from the main pipe line through an air gate which closes after it. Its great velocity is arrested as its momentum compresses the air ahead of it against a second gate. This almost stops the carrier. Most of the air thus compressed is returned to the main line, but sufficient of it is carried to the rear of the carrier to shoot it out on a table in the post office at a rate of only one mile per hour. It is said that the pneumatic tube carrier is the only vehicle that does not wastefully dissipate energy in slowing down its speed. A train puts a lot of energy to commercial waste in stopping.

SENATOR GEORGE H. MOSES

Under Senator Moses' bill mail arriving at an airport would reach the post office in the City in a few minutes.

A business man who wishes to send a letter by air mail could wait until a very short time before the plane actually left the field or before posting his letter. Mail from arriving planes would be immediately shot to the post office. It is probable that a single line of double tubes would be adequate for the air mail for many years to come. Even in New York City the tubes are often used to carry second-class mail in slack hours.

Experts see in the tremendous advance of the air mail service a future possibility of sending letters overnight between the most distant cities of the country. They believe that Senator Moses' bill will relieve the handicap from which the air mail suffers by being delivered and sent so far from the center of the city.

He goes to sleep—Jessie Carnell.
His work goes on—Laverne Kimbriel.

* CHAMBERLAIN ***

Mrs. D. N. Hudson who has been in poor health for some years was carried to the Adair hospital Friday where she underwent an operation. We are glad to say she is doing nicely at this writing.

W. A. Hughes and Jimmie Mill-sap attended to business at Silver-ton Saturday.

While visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Sunday,

With better weather planting is in full blast again. Much of the early planting is to be done over.

As a result of a Quilting given by Mrs. H. M. Reed last Friday she has added three new quilts to her quilt chest.

W. A. Hughes says something is always happening to take the joy out of life.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago he imported some very classy wolf hounds with the view of capturing old stub foot dead or alive.

Now as this noted wolf had been practically chewing up and spitting out most all the dogs that came his way, W. A. said he thought it right and proper to give his dogs an extensive training before going out to battle this self-styled king of the forest.

So after catching all the jack rabbits in the community, he decided their speed and durability was all that could be desired, and to touch up their fighting ability, he used a bulldog for a sparring partner, and about the time he had them trained down to the finest point, something came along and broke up several sitting hens, in fact ate all the eggs good and bad, and indifferent, and believe it or not, W. A. is having the task of his life trying to convince friend wife that these high powered dogs are not the guilty culprits.

Mrs. Hughes declares that in her opinion these canines are a cross between a Water Spaniel and a lap dog and that they take more readily to the lap than to the water.

However in the language of proverbs, we would say may the Lord temper the wind to the new shorn Lambs.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson of Clarendon motored to Wellington Sunday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Blevins.

Terry County Herald.

Editor and owner Jack Stricklin, Sr. of the Terry County Herald at Brownfield adds another name to the masthead of his estimable sheet the past week. It is that of Jack Jr., aged 17. Could we wish him more than to say we hope he is a 'chip off the old block'? Or that he will develop the ability to make as much out of a little country weekly as has his illustrious father?

Ralls Banner.

Dick Hyatt, publisher of the Ralls Banner recently began a kind of editorial column on the front page of his excellent weekly. He failed to make the grade in his issue of last week.

Dick, if you happen to know him personally, can surprise you with his pithy writings that hit the spot. He has arrived at the age when he has become plain and practical. Keep up the good work Dick.

Booker News.

John Merriman, chief ramrod of the Booker News is a financial genius if nothing else. His four page paper is loaded with advertising that pays. The makeup is good and the general appearance of the News is one of the best in the state regardless of size.

John has a special front page column an idea that is becoming more popular with all classes of modern papers, both weeklies and dailies. He has iconoclastic tendencies that force him to 'speak out in meetin' regardless of who it hits. He has won every battle so far in dealing with matters extending over a wide range of subjects from preachers to railroads.

Dublin Progress.

Once a good eight pager but cut to a four. The "masthead" was left off last week's issue to accomplish this feat, but the job was done. The Sullenbergers, father and son are the producers.

In opening the paper the first article is headed, "Cemetery Working" which leads one to know that they brighten the city of the dead if nothing else. That country has been hard hit the past few years.

A large photo on the front page features Jersey cows. In referring to the name of the publisher, we are not surprised that he advocates dairy products as a redeeming feature of a country that is temporarily down and out.

Robstown Record.

As proof of his honesty, editor and manager Ray Karney of the Record tantalizingly prates before the public in his issue of last week the information that he is sole custodian of 50 bottles of beer.

Ray explains the source of supply by saying that the City Marshal found the beverage cached under a culvert. While he may have already started a motorcade to Robstown, he will do the public a favor by announcing the results of a "thumb-nail" test.

Ray's writings under the non-deplume of Ramrod Ramblings are not all in lighter vein. His next article warns young ladies that "keep kissable" is a snare and a delusive bid for the almighty dollar even when used as part copy in a cigarette advertisement. Ray is one of Texas' most brilliant young journalists.

Claude News.

Thomas T. Waggoner gets out the biggest paper in proportion to the size of the town in the state so far as we have ever been able to learn. Nice breezy, well-edited and full of news that ought to please any subscriber of the News in that section.

Just another case of where the man is bigger than his territory. He ought to be talking to thousands each week where he is now able to speak to hundreds. He is said to be unpopular with a few because he dares to point out the faults in his good town that should be corrected—the one big duty of the modern newspaper man.

Alice News.

Owned and edited by C. L. Tanner who writes pungent paragraphs in a special column on the front page under "Brainstormer", has been in a hospital the past two weeks recuperating from an operation.

the home people think of me, anyhow?

But it's not the kind of heat you have Or your new electric comb.

It's the people who live in that house of yours

That make the place a home. It's you we come to visit with,

Not your rugs and chairs, Household stuff is bought and sold Almost anywhere,

But the fellowship of kindred souls Is gold that must be mined,

And through the heat of passing years, Cherished and refined.

What do we care if your electric lights Are run on kerosene,

Or the "rig" you use for going to town Doesn't fuel on gasoline?

MISS EMILY YATES, HALF CIRCLE E-Y RANCH

DUDE RANCHERS AT KANANASKIS

GUY WEADICK, T-S RANCH

Motion pictures showing the easy-going life of the average "cow-puncher" on the Western prairies and radio programs featuring his quaint folk-songs have aroused an intense interest in the minds of young folk many of whom have envied the cowboy and his life in the saddle. To accommodate the "tenderfoot" who has become "saddle-minded" several "dude" ranches have been established at various points throughout the Canadian West. These ranches run by dyed-in-the-wool westerners, are open during the summer months for the accommodation of vacationists, and they are ideal places in which to spend a fortnight or more, particularly for those who like horses, camping and life in the great out-doors.

Guy Weadick, manager of the celebrated Calgary Stampede, has a place known as the T-S Ranch at High River, Alberta, adjoining the E-P Ranch of the Prince of Wales. Guy is a cowboy himself, and he makes his guests feel at home in the saddle and on the trail. They learn how to throw a lariat, how to saddle a pony, how to pitch a tent and a hundred other "tricks of the trade." Another "dude" ranch, run by Mrs. Bill Brewster, is located at Kananaskis, near Banff, Alberta. Mrs. Brewster is an old hand at the game and she delights in coaching city-folk in the various pastimes and sports connected with life in the "great open spaces." Then there is the Half Circle E-Y Ranch, under the management of Miss Emily Yates, at Seebe, Alberta. Her guests enjoy strenuous days in the saddle, lazy days about the range, located in a meadow valley; fishing, swimming and other pursuits. All of the foregoing ranches are reached via the main transcontinental line of the Canadian Pacific Railway and on any of them there still resounds the staccato tattoo of galloping hoofs proven that the old west has not yet vanished.

We come to visit with the folks That we call you and yours. Don't 'knock' the things around your house,

Don't rate your home so low Because your things can't quite compare

With millionaires you know. We're not concerned with what you have,

The honey in the comb Is you—we come to see the folks That make your house a home.

Mrs. F. G. Harrison returned to her home at Kemerer, Wyoming Saturday after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Youngblood.

An even dozen baby sea horses were born last night in the Miami aquarium—and both the youngsters and father are doing nicely. The mother? She was relieved of all responsibility some time ago when she transferred to the male parent the task of bringing the babies into the world.

In the queer little fishes of the genus hippicampus, to which the sea horse belongs, nature's usual process of birds is reversed. The female deposits the eggs some time before they are ready for hatching.

The male immediately takes them and conceals them in an abdominal pouch until they hatch and the "colts" are ready to make their own way in the sea.

The babies in the aquarium tank today were fluttering all over the place, while papa and mamma arched their necks and glided around the tank proud as Punch. The little fellows have prehensile tails, like their elders, and in resting coil these around rocks in the aquarium.

Largest of the babies is about half an inch long and unless a close inspection is given, they hardly can be seen. Capt. R. J. Waters, director of the aquarium, said the sea horse menage will be increased again with more arrivals in a few days.—Miami Dispatch.

By the Apostle

Migosh! The College Hill widow says the first thing a loafer does after he eats breakfast is to hunt somebody that's busy.

Every time we begin to talk about a spring suit the good woman talks about a vacuum sweeper. Who wants to wear a vacuum sweeper?

R. P. Bewley down at Leslie is building him a home out of GYP dirt. Good idea! Good idea! If he will build a box and come up on Salt Fork and get a supply of petrified ice to line it with, he can have a modern refrigerator at practically no cost.

An Ohio woman artist is said to be painting pictures using kitchen products instead of paint. Her first picture is a portrait of a "Gentleman Preferring Blondes."

"Pretty good, but don't you think you have too much egg on the vest, she was asked?"

"Well perhaps I should have used just the yolk instead of the whole egg."

"And the circles under the eyes—just a little too prominent, may I ask?"

"Oh, that? That's because I burned the toast Sunday morning. Just a social error."

"I see. But tell me how you got that unusual effect on the hair?"

"Two cups of brown sugar, 6 raw potatoes and a cake of yeast", she said.

"Did you ever try canned malt?"

"Yes, but it had the head somewhat shaky."

"What's that in the back-ground?"

"That's a barnyard scene. Some fried chicken, Mulligan stew and a custard sky did the trick."

Now since you have read that, how would you like a boiled landscape, half a portrait on toast and a slice of Mona Lisa with cream? A man headed for Arkansas had to come through Clarendon Friday on detour off 66 highway due to the mud near Alanreed. Was he sore? You tell the world, he was. He said that road was so muddy buzzard shadows had bogged up and the birds were starving to death.

Well he was sorter windy, but not a champion. When the Apostle listened to him lie on this country for a ten minute heat, we got busy just to show him how it could be done.

We told him it was always muddy on that 66 highway. In fact the Oklahoma folks always brought along two cars—one for pleasure and the other for Donley county. He was told that it was so muddy between Lelia and Hedley that the turtles walked on stilts. That nearly got his goat.

Seeing that he was from Arkansas and dumb, we poured it on. He was told that it got so muddy at Claude following a sprinkle that the kids used tractors for scooters, and that a half inch rain was the signal for the parents to get the shovel and dig their kids out of the yard.

He looked sick by this time but there was no use to let up unless he showed fight—and he was too weak by now for that.

He was told that an Arkansawyer last fall fell into a rut this side of Ashtola and thought he had found Palo Duro canyon. When he passed Goodnight and got back on the black mud where the airplanes have to detour, he was arrested by a Claude constable for dragging the highway out of the state.

"You are the biggest liar I ever met", he said. "Where the chickens are you from?" "Oh, I'm from Benton county, Arkansas", I told him. And that is just where the old Apostle spent his happiest days—down on little Sugar and Cow Skin. If he ever comes back, we will tell him that the early Kansas settlers in the "wire grass belt" would plow a furrow a half mile long, hitch mules to it and drag it home and build a house out of it.

Hooraay! Hooraay! The good Woman is going away!!!

She's going down east in the chigger belt to attend a reunion of ten brothers and sisters—half of each. One of the best families I ever married into. Not a one has been arrested for anything yet.

Some live in town and some in the country but the reunion will be in the country where they can get something to eat. All are married and there was 57 kids in the family when the count was lost.

The Apostle will have to stay at home. When the Good Woman gets back some of the older kids in the family will go to the State Press meet at Angelo where they will also visit the grandparents. The Apostle will again be left at home.

Being henpecked is being inconvenienced if anything. There should have been more lap poodles and less hen-pecked husbands.

The worm will flop later in the summer. It will be some worm, too, believe me. The Apostle may be getting the worst of the deal now but he will hitch-hike to "cool Colorado" in August and hunt up relatives whom he has never seen.

Up around Littleton where he was born sometime between the Revolutionary war and the World War, to be exact.

And say, if you want a start of poke you can get it. Have about a hundred plants to give away. Transplant them like tomatoes or cabbage. Ready now. You'll have to hurry if you want them. Call late Saturday evening. They will be no more after that date.

And say, if there is anything a tourist should do it is to be careful about eating hot dogs and hamburgers at wayside filling stations. They are making hamburgers out of horse meat in New Mexico.

As a girl started to swallow a chunk of hamburger, some one said "oh" and the meat thought he said "whoa". You know that meat stopped in that girl's throat and choked her to death.

Our farmers are busy finishing the planting of their cotton. The recent rains packed the ground in some of the last planting, necessitating "scratching" to aid it in getting through the ground. Some have reduced their acreage half, others not planting any at all. Most everyone has reduced some. Since the war on blackbirds in these parts, more feed is being planted than for several years. We are hoping to harvest a crop of feed this year. Quite an acreage of Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes and tomatoes form the major crops, while beans, peas, okra, peppers, and in fact everything that can be grown here, represents quite an acreage. Of course the usual crops of melons and cantaloupes are also

ious Fluid Will Aid U. S. Air Fighters in War, Say Experts

ST. LOUIS, MO.—In the event of war, Uncle Sam's Army and Navy air fighters will have a decided advantage over enemy flyers because of a mysterious new fluid that protects motors against loss of lubrication and greatly increases the flying range of planes, according to aviation engineers here. These authorities point out that during the World War many planes were either destroyed because of motors becoming jammed from lack of lubrication when their oil tanks were pierced by bullets, or captured because of the ships running out of gasoline in protracted combats far from their base and being forced to land in enemy territory. They declare that these hazards now have been overcome by the perfection of a new liquefied colloidal graphite fluid, which exhaustive tests at the airport here show establishes a lubricating surface over metal bearings that is impervious to heat, cold or dilution so that motors may be driven long distances absolutely without lubricating oil. Thus in case a plane's oil tank is punctured by gun fire and completely drained, the indestructible dry graphite lubricating film produced by this fluid would still permit the pilot to fly many miles to safety before any signs of motor trouble from loss of lubricating oil would develop. The tests also showed, according to these engineers, that airplane motors conditioned with this virtual pyr or fire oil, effected a saving of five gallons of gasoline an hour, affording a greatly increased flying range—an invaluable asset to pilots engaged in war.

the science of motor lubrication since the ancient Egyptians "oiled" the wheels of the first wooden cart with sea water. HARD TIMES IN MISSOURI

"We are having hard times in Missouri. The streets are full of automobiles going nowhere in particular but in a great hurry to get there. Times are so hard that it is difficult to find a place to park a car," according to the Record, Canton, Mo. "We have only one for every three persons in Missouri. If times were not so hard we no doubt would have an automobile for every person in the state.

"We are up against it. We saw a girl last week that was so hard up that she did not have silk stockings and rather than wear rayon she wore none at all. Of the thousands of girls in Missouri, it is almost unbelievable that one would have to do without stockings. But that is not all. The consumption of cigarettes only increased 5,000,000 packages in the last year, when everyone knows that the sale should have increased twice that much.

"Times are sure hard. We were able to obtain a seat at the movies after waiting only twenty minutes when we should have had to wait at least an hour. One drug store got along with an installation of only two fountains last summer which shows how bad things really are. Only one extra show case for lip sticks, two extra racks for magazines and a lunch counter into the druggist's saving and made him realize how hard times really are.

"When will times be better? It is almost impossible to find a parking place near a movie theatre, a miniature golf course, and any other place of amusement. A terrible condition. Something really ought to be done to compel the 'hot dog' stands to carry enough food so the crowd would not have to go home. This way of building stadiums and other places of amusements only half big enough to accommodate the crowd ought to be remedied.

"Yes, times are hard. The grocer cannot find time to sell flour, grit or bacon. It takes all his time to sell canned peaches, canned salmon, canned soup, canned meats, canned applesauce and canned mush.

"The dry good merchant is crying that his bolts of gingham, muslin, and denim remain on the shelves and the hardware man has no demand for plows, wire fencing, nails and hammers. All he can sell is radios, electric fans, percolators and vacuum cleaners. Yes, times are hard."

Mr. and Mrs. Lanham Ball moved to Alanreed Sunday.

Transmission Line Service Aids Development

WEST TEXAS is a land rich in natural resources and vital raw materials, and in the near future far-seeing manufacturers will locate their plants in this territory where they will benefit by cheap land, moderate operating expenses, low living costs, an abundance of native-born and intelligent workers, splendid shipping facilities, ideal climatic conditions and an adequate and elastic supply of inexpensive and dependable electric energy.

When these industries survey West Texas for the most attractive factory-sites, first consideration will be given those progressive small cities which offer the constant power supply of a transmission line system serving a wide area from strategically-located main generating stations and further stabilizing its service through interconnection and auxiliary plants.

One hundred and twenty prosperous cities and towns throughout West Texas are interconnected by the 2,500 mile trunk transmission line network of the West Texas Utilities Company. Receiving service from three major generating stations—supplemented by twenty-two auxiliary or standby plants—leading citizens of these towns confidently anticipate the rapid industrial development of this vast empire, truly called the "Land of Opportunity."

lated with beggars and churches. Leaving Monterey, the only stop made between there and Mexico City was at a siding in the desert when it was necessary to sidetrack for a regular train. Mr. Cagle states that the train had no sooner stopped than hundreds of beggars ranging from mere tots of two years to men and women with hair snow white showed up.

When asked what impressed him most on the entire trip, the Mayor promptly replied that "the sight of the beggars, and especially the children, staid in my mind almost continuously."

Mexico City! The wonder of wonders. Architecture of all the ages. Two days were spent in seeing the wonderful city and surrounding country. The train was met by notables and bands. Cars were placed at their disposal for the entire stay.

Headquarters were at the St. Regis hotel, largest and finest in the city. There was the first Santa Fe train to enter Mexico. The visitors were escorted to the Castle where they met the President.

President Rubio informed Mayor Cagle that he had received his letter sent him by airplane and mailed the day before the Mayor's departure from Amarillo. Since returning home, Mayor Cagle received the following letter in reply:

Presidente De La Republica
Mexico
May 20, 1931

Mrs. Mae Shaver
City Secretary
Municipal Building
Clarendon, Texas. U. S. A.
Distinguished Madam:

Permit me the pleasure of answering your esteemed letter, dated the 15th of this month. I received the hand of Mr. W. P. Cagle, Mayor of that city, who has arrived at this capitol on board an excursion.

Sincerely I acknowledge the courtesy of which you have made me the object on extending to me a cordial invitation to be present at the Fair that will take place in the city of Amarillo next September and with entire pleasure I accept it, without this meaning a formal obligation on my part, for as yet I do not know if my official business will give me the opportunity of doing it in person.

I make sincere supplications for the continued prosperity of Clarendon and of you, and taking advantage of the moment, I am repeating with all kindness, your affectionate friend and constant servant.

P. Ortiz Rubio

"The floating gardens were most beautiful, but the Aztec ruins recently unearthed after being buried some six thousand years ago by volcanic action, were the biggest sight they had to offer", stated the Mayor.

Pyramids are being unearthed by scientific men excavating on the sight of an ancient Aztec city larger than Mexico City is at present. The party crossed an ancient bridge several hundred feet long built by Aztecs from the same material of which the pyramids are built.

A building unearthed containing large rooms served as the banquet chamber where the visitors were feted. Aztec maidens were the waitresses. The program consisted of music, dancing and speaking by notables.

Cutting grain with a hand sickle as in Biblical days and threshing it out by trampling the straw with burros, was one of the sights coming under the observation of the Mayor. The grain was growing on rich land under irrigation and the products "beat anything I ever saw in wheat" he said.

Some of the party tried their skill at operating a "one-handed" plow propelled by oxen motor power. "It was a good scratcher but no plow and awful hard to handle when a green hand took hold of it" is the way the Mayor was impressed with the most modern farm machinery to be seen on the trip. The cathedral completed in 1573 in Mexico City was the most magnificent building where the Mayor was told golden candlesticks and ornaments represented an expenditure of fifteen "tons" of gold.

The President's castle is also known as Chapultepec castle located high on a hill once the site of a castle home for rulers of the Aztec nation. Montezuma occupied the mansion at the time of Cortez' invasion of the nation. "The president has the best bunch of furniture I ever saw", stated Mr. Cagle.

After leaving Mexico City, the next stop was made at Chihuahua where Mayor Cagle was escorted to the dignified seat of the Mayor-General in the ornate castle of the city. The Mexican mayor spoke excellent English and showed the visitors every courtesy. Milk wagons were cans attached to the back of a burro. Gasoline sales were evidently slim as they neither burned it or used it for cleaning purposes.

"They don't drink water among the higher-ups in that country" according to Mr. Cagle who states that the first Mexican word to be learned by the visitors was "agua", meaning water. Cafes and hotels serve no water, it being supplied only on request. Most all other kinds of drinks are served voluntarily.

"We had a grand trip but I never knew there were so many burros, beggars and churches in the world as I saw on the trip and Texas is the best place after all." The Mayor could not tell all that he saw or heard but did say that the people making up the party were the friendliest and most courteous it has ever been his privilege to associate with on a journey.

The return trip was made through Juarez, El Paso and Albuquerque, thence to Amarillo. The Mayor was impressed very much with Albuquerque where the modern ideas were in sharp contrast with those of the Mexican.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invokes its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

Several Reports Heard On Activities At Lions Luncheon

Prizes Are Awarded Eleven Members For Perfect Attendance Record

Lion Nored reported on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Lubbock at a meeting of the Club Tuesday at the Anstro hotel during the weekly luncheon hour at noon.

Lion Boykin called attention to the goodwill trip to Goldston scheduled for Thursday evening of this week, and urged every member to join the motorcade and assist in the program.

Thanks in the form of resolutions were extended Dr. Streit of Amarillo for three operations on the eyes of Mr. Houdashell, and to Joe Goldston for fitting the glasses.

It will be recalled that Mr. Houdashell was practically blind little more than a year ago when the Club began to lend assistance in the matter. Three operations during this time in which members accompanied the patient to Amarillo, and proper fitting glasses, have restored the sight to this man.

Frank Heath was inducted into the mysteries of Lionism, made the usual penalty talk and received the usual penalty. He therefore becomes a full-fledged Lion.

Miss Shirley Nored and Argold Nored pleased their audience with a number of contributions on stringed instruments.

The eleven to receive Lion lapel buttons for perfect attendance were Lions Odos Caraway, Fred W. Rathjen, Sam Braswell, Sr., A. L. Chase, Sam Braswell, Jr., C. J. Douglas, Holman Kennedy, J. T. Patman, D. O. Stallings, Loyd Stallings, Walter Wilson.

Mr. Baxter for more than a year conducted the meat market in the A. N. Wood's grocery. He tried Iowa Park for the past several months but likes Clarendon better.

He is again conducting the meat market in the Woods Grocery and asks his old friends to call on him. Mr. Baxter has been in the meat business over thirty years, likes the business and likes to do business with our folks here.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Lott was buried Sunday. Mrs. Lott still remains a patient at Adair hospital.

Judge Cole Pays Tribute In Talk At Rotary Luncheon

Expressions of Good Deeds Are Heard in Eulogy Paid Dr. S. P. Brooks

An almost perfect attendance greeted President B. L. Jenkins at the tap of the bell Friday noon at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club.

Rotarian J. W. Evans, as chairman of the Committee on International Relations, had charge of the program. Rotarian A. T. Cole spoke on the subject of international relations digressing from his subject near the close to pay tribute to a friend whose death occurred the previous week.

In speaking of Dr. Brooks, he paid him high tribute as a man whom he knew in college days, and with whom he had a close association for some four years. "He had a few faults, and led as blameless a life as any man I ever knew", was a tribute he paid the late president of Baylor University.

President Rufus Greene of the Memphis Rotary club spoke at random for several minutes and paid his respects to President Jenkins in a sarcastic manner while the President was outside the room. Rotarian Greene was making up his attendance, it being his policy to toe the hundred percent mark each week.

Rotarian Dave Warren of Amarillo paid the Club his respects and brought forth applause when he stated that "he had not missed a meeting in over four years."

Rotarian Geo. H. Hill of Roswell's Rotary Club also made up his attendance record and paid the organization his respects in a short talk.

Rotarian Bob Sorrells of Borger, temporarily in Clarendon for several days, brought best wishes from his home club and complimented the Clarendon club.

The matter of electing officers for the coming term was had at this meeting. The following Rotarians will serve the Club the remainder of the year with installation on the first Friday in July: president, J. C. Estlack; vice president, R. E. Drennon; 2nd vice president, O. L. Jenkins; secretary, W. Cecil Alexander; treasurer, R. E. Paxson. Fred E. Chamberlain was elected to serve on the Board of Directors.
