HUNDREDS ATTEND THE PASTIME "TALKIE" OPENING HERE MONDAY

Theatre Was Packed At Both Show Periods Eager To See And Hear "Cocoanuts" That Proved A Knockout

Monday evening appeared to be the crowning achievement of the management of the Pastime theatre. The hour of opening had been announced as seven o'clock. Long before that hour, throngs gathered on the sidewalk eager to get a glimpse of and hear Clarendon's first talking picture.

When the doors were finally opened, a bevy of girls acting as ushers began to escort patrons to seats that were rapidly filled. The one hundred seats roped off to accommodate those who had paid a double price for tickets sold by the Chamber of Commerce as complimentary to the management, were soon filled.

Within a few minutes the capacity of the theatre seating room had been reached and the doors were closed leaving an equally large crowd to wait for the second show.

The opening picture, "Cocoanuts", had been widely advertised. There was no disappointment in the picture selected for the opening. Of the hundreds who saw it, there was not a dissenting voice.

The four famous Mark brothers were just as advertised—the greatest quartette of funmakers ever shown here. The comedy stars—Oscar Shaw and Mary Eaton—kept the crowd in an uproar. Chorus girls and dancing acts added spice to the entertainment and furnished a diversity that instantly captured the crowd.

For the present, there will be three changes of program each week. Each program is the best that money can buy. The patrons of the Theatre are as enthusiastic as the management.

At the close of the first play, the crowd was addressed by W. H. Patrick who complimented Mr. Mulkey for his keen foresight and ability to give the people of this section a show on a par with any in the state.

Mr. Rush, superintendent of installation of the talkie equipment, explained the mechanical wonders of the new invention as Mr. Casey ran a picture on the screen. Mr. Rush made the statement that the Pastime has the best equipment for talkies in the state west of Ft. Worth.

The same picture will be repeated tonight. "The Street Girl", a singing, music and talking picture, will be shown Wednesday and Thursday nights. There will also be plenty of comedy.

"The Green Murder Case" selected for Friday and Saturday nights will be a court scene that is said to be America's greatest screen drama. The ghost-ridden old mansion and death-dealing shots will give one plenty of thrills. Paramount all-talking news and Paramount acts also included on the program without extra charge.

ESTELLINE HELD TO SCORELESS GAME FRIDAY

Clarendon Squad Fools Dopesters In Placing Bets Against Visiting Team

The Broncho eleven left their favorite stamping grounds Friday to invade the lair of the Estelline Cubs. The Bronchos had been doped to get their first defeat of the year. The team was on a down hill go after the tie with the Memphis Cyclones the previous week. The able coaches, Hutton and Stocking, called the boys around them in the fore part of the week and put the question straight to them "If you have any guts and want to win, get out here and show it." There has been very few responses so assuring as the one the boys gave the coaches. The rest of the week was spent in scrimmages and running signals. The boys had the fight and wanted to win. Thursday evening the coaches again called the boys around them and had a heart to heart talk with them. "I have lived in Clarendon and gone to Clarendon schools and I have also played football," spoke Coach Stocking, "and as a Clarendon alumni to the football boys, I want to ask you to fight and win for Clarendon. Now is the time to do or die, so to speak, if you want to win district honors you will have to fight and fight hard tomorrow." Coach Hutton gave the final touch, when he spoke to the boys, that told on the Estelline field the next day. When the last minute arrangements were being made and the final words spoken, Coach Stocking read a letter from the Senior Class to the football boys asking them to fight for the school and for them. A close observer could have told then that the Maroon and White would not be lowered in defeat.

The team entered the field amid the cheering of the Clarendon boosters. The starting lineup was picked with Bill Rutherford filling the vacancy left at left guard by the absence of Pete Morris. The Bronchos received with the wind against them. The whole game was played practically on the north end of the field due to the wind from the south. The famed Bacuss of the Cubs found the hardest hitting eleven that he had ever played against. The terrible 220 pound Ferrel found Watson, Rutherford and Estlack to be men who tackled low and hard. Estelline "took to her aviation style of football" only to find that Estlack and Noble and Baird knew something about breaking up forward passes. The Bronchos were not able to intercept any passes however. Bacuss passed with a deadly accuracy that would have made many big team passers take notice.

Dillard's educated toe proved the downfall of Estelline's hopes of scoring while the Clarendon boys were defending the north goal. Esterling was the first man to hit Bacuss hard enough to lay him on the ground this year. "Scareface" McCreary proved to be poison for the Estelline boys who had great hopes of circling his end.

As the half neared the locals had the Cubs backed down to their goal line. Baird was using his head on every play calling signals. Noble and Dillard were making yards thru the opponent's line. Noble made a six yard run to place the ball on the three yard line as the whistle blew for the half.

No changes were made in the lineup at the half. Clarendon defended the north goal the third quarter. Helton and Behrens were playing real football holding their ground. Noble hit a man so hard while tackling him that it knocked Noble unconscious. Double time out was called in hopes that Captain Noble would be able to continue the game, but he failed to regain his bearings. Tucker subbed for Noble at left half. Tucker showed that good material was in store on the sidelines by making constant gains thru the Estelline line. Nichols received a leg injury that rendered him unable to do his best.

The fourth quarter marked the second march the Bronchos made on the Cub's goal. Clarendon's chance of scoring was checked by a substitute for the Cubs. The substitute hit Dillard as he was starting on one of his long end runs. This made Estelline have twelve men on the field, all in on play, at once. The referees were at a loss as to what to call it, but in fairness to both sides they called the ball back and pronounced the ball as being dead when the play started. The game ended with the score 0 to 0, but with a surprised crowd of fans. Clarendon had held the strong Estelline eleven to a scoreless tie on their own home field. Clarendon needs now only to beat Shamrock here tomorrow week and the Bronchos will be winners of this district.

THRONGS GATHER FROM DISTANT POINTS SAT.

Many Leader Subscribers Are Visitors At The Office Here Saturday

Where a year ago one seldom saw a citizen here on Saturday from a distance of over twenty miles, it is now a common sight to see them gather in from McLean, Alameda, Groom, Quail, Lakeview and other distant points. There is but one conclusion to be arrived at in this connection, and that is a widening of the trade territory. Visiting subscribers came from each of the places named above, stated that they were here to buy supplies and to attend the mule auction.

Most all of the visitors from a distance are good roads enthusiasts. With better roads they will come oftener they claim. They favor better roads, better cars, better stock and better poultry. In fact they are awakening to the fact that they are entitled to the better things and are going to get them.

Some were in from Claude, too. They talked of the Berry farm out southwest of there. Brand new house built by Clarendon contractors, Speed brothers doing the concrete and stucco work and Stegall the carpenter work B. F. Crawford and son the painting inside and out including the decorating.

The Berry farm is well known. Mr. Berry has about 1500 acres in wheat, a bunch of choice dairy cows and a whole lot of leghorn hens. He's making money and laying a good pattern for the other farmers.

In listening to the conversations of the farmer friends from a wide territory, one could not help but notice that they have radios. Keep up with the world. They read their trade magazines—the journals—and know all about the latest inventions. Late machinery. The better methods suggested by the experiment stations.

And they came to town in good cars, bought good stuff. Farmers are good judges of what they buy and getting better. A big crowd in town and hundreds staid over for the talkie show that night. They like entertainment. They have more plays in the schools and the schools are rapidly becoming the community centers of each neighborhood.

Several of these farmers brought produce to sell, got a good price. One man expected to practically give away several dozen eggs. Instead of that he got forty cents a dozen. The producer is coming into his own. There will be more big days. The days thru the week will become bigger days. The country is prosperous and the folks are buying what they need and what they want including luxuries.

Sheriff's Force Arrests Man Charging Transportation

When deputy sheriffs C. M. Peabody and Guy Pierce reached Hedley Monday morning their attention was attracted to a car from which water was dripping. Upon investigation, a quantity of "home brew" was discovered in the car. The driver had run off at the approach of the officers. The find was brought to town and the officers returned in the afternoon and arrested B. E. Land who lives some fourteen miles northeast of Hedley. He was lodged in jail here to answer to a charge of transportation of intoxicating liquor according to the officers making the arrest.

The starting lineup:
Estelline Position Clarendon
Bruce end Watson
Hays end McCrary
Mayberry tackle Behrens
Stevenson tackle Easterling
House guard Helton
J. McCollom guard Rutherford
Cox center Estlack
Bacuss quarter Baird
Terrell fullback Nichols
Curtis half Dillard
E. McCollom half Noble
Substitutes: Tucker for Noble.

MOTORCADE MAY VISIT HERE NEXT WEEK

Tour Begins At San Antonio Covering Important Cities Over West Texas

A delegation of over sixty citizens of San Antonio headed by D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Park Board, will visit Amarillo November 6th and inspect Palo Duro canyon for the purpose of getting personal information looking to the creation of a state park.

The motorcade will be entertained at many places on the trip and will receive a royal welcome at the hands of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

An attempt will be made to induce the motorcade to make the return trip via of Clarendon that they may further see the possibilities of constructing a road into the Canyon from this point. Many citizens of Clarendon and nearby towns plan to meet the party at Amarillo and use their influence in furthering the scheme.

This Texas Goodwill Motorcade, headed by a group of distinguished Texans and traveling in the combined interests of state parks, good roads, the American Legion, and Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, and Women's clubs, according to a communication from D. E. Colp, head of the Texas State Parks Board and manager of the tour.

In the party will be Mr. Colp, Ernest C. Cox, state commander of the American Legion; Robert O. Whitaker, state adjutant of the Legion; Robert Lee Bobbett, attorney general of Texas and Rotary district governor for South Texas; Hunter Metcalf, Rotary district governor from the Amarillo district; W. R. Jolly of the State Highway Commission; O. C. Daney, county judge from Brownsville representing the chamber of commerce and Kiwanis clubs of the Rio Grande valley section; Perry S. Robinson, San Antonio, Bexar county judge; Justo Penn, Laredo, Webb county judge; I. E. Cates, pastor of the First Baptist church in San Antonio and representing the Pastors' Alliance of that city; Hal L. Brennan, Laredo chamber of commerce; State Senator W. A. Williamson of San Antonio; State Senator Joe Moore of Greenville; and possible U. S. Senators Sheppard and Connelly who have tentatively accepted invitations to accompany the good will delegation.

Auto Salesman Again Sets High Record Mark

When asked by the Chevrolet distributor how many cars should be included in his quota for the remaining ten days of the month, Hick Johnson replied, "oh, about eight ought to be enough." When five was suggested as a sizeable quantity, Hick stood pat for the full eight.

Five cars or trucks would be a record breaker according to the Distributor, but Mr. Johnson sold six within the first four days. That left two to sell and six days to go. Johnson sold a coupe, sedan and a truck Friday while warming up and feels sure that the Allmond Chevrolet will have a nice run of sales this fall. The other members of the firm are hanging up some nice records and we merely give this record to back up our statement of last week when we stated that L. H. "Hick" Johnson was the champion car salesman of this territory.

Prominent Clarendon Citizens Spending Winter In Ariz.

Colonel Chas. Goodnight, who left here the first of the month seeking a more congenial climate for the winter months writes his Clarendon friends that he is located at 1539 East Mable street, Tucson, Arizona for the winter. The trip was made in their Packard stopping for a short time at Carlsbad where Mrs. Goodnight enjoyed the underground beauty of the famous Carlsbad Cavern. They also visited friends in El Paso on the trip.

UTILITIES COMPANY ADDS FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS

Development Of Country Is Greater Than Was Expected When Line Was Built

With all the skill and brains at their command, often a large corporation misses a guess as to the development of a country. Such is the present status of the West Texas Utilities Company in this section.

When the high line was built in here, it was expected to take care of all the power and light requirements for a period of ten years. During the past two months it became apparent that further changes and improvements would have to be made to meet the demands of the customers being added constantly.

The Hedley substation designed to take care of the demands of Hedley and Lelia Lake is being changed from 2300 to 6600 wire voltage. In addition to the usual demands, two gins have been hooked up on this line which makes the change imperative at this time.

Two voltage regulators have been added to the local plant. When the plant is in operation to help out the high line, these regulators serve to automatically keep an even voltage over the local wires.

According to a statement of Mr. T. D. Nored, local manager, the demands made of the Hedley-Lelia line have doubled within the past few months, and the consumption of juice over the local wires has increased much more than was expected.

"The company will continue to give the public the best service to be had and further equipment will be added from time to time as occasion demands", Mr. Nored said.

Good Citizenship Expressed In Worthy Contributions

The Hedley folks have something to be proud of in their schools. Just last week the Hedley Rural Demonstration Club contributed $20 in cash for the purchase of magazines.

In every school there is a number of worthy youngsters who are too poor to afford equipment for school study. They are victims of circumstances and are in no wise at fault. Barnes & Hastings, L. Spaulding and J. E. Pickett, business men of that town contribute frequently in the way of pencils, tablets and other necessary supplies.

Not the least of these free-hearted folks is Mrs. R. Priestly, who has a school supply shop near the school. This good woman has contributed for her means out of the fullness of her heart and the school is richer by book contributions.

This is a wonderful work. Others have seen an example worth while set for them to follow. Just a few dollars worth of supplies may mean much to encourage some poor boy or girl to get an education and be worth much to themselves and to the public.

Brice School Will Sponsor Hallowe'en Carnival

Enterprising teachers and pupils of the Brice public school will sponsor a Hallowe'en carnival Thursday night beginning at seven o'clock. The carnival will be held to increase the funds of the athletic treasury.

According to announcement, there will be plenty to see, eat and hear. Black cats, witches and pumpkins will be in evidence. Witches will tell fortunes. Handsome young ladies will wait on the multitude at the booths where dainties will be sold.

In addition to the usual attractions at a street carnival, the Hallowe'en program has been added to give the visitor double value for their time and the money spent to help a good cause.

Time, trouble and expense has not been spared to make the biggest hit in the history of amusement in Brice and a large crowd is expected to be present.

DISTRICT COURT TAKES UP CRIMINAL CASES

Trial Of Case On Change Of Venue From Hall County Is Begun Monday

The largest array of attorneys seen for many months is in evidence in the case now on trial before Judge A. J. Fires in which H. J. Chick is charged with a statutory offense, Miss Cordie James of Memphis being the complaining witness.

The jury trying the case is composed of A. M. Lanham, Buel Sanford, F. L. Goldston, J. N. Riley, J. D. Pope, J. R. Dale, J. A. Stewart, S. J. Ayres, N. F. Hudson, J. H. Easterling, E. M. Ozier and H. L. Riley. Forty seven names on the special venire were exhausted in selecting the jury.

The state is represented by district attorney James A. Mahan, county attorney R. Y. King and W. J. Bray, county attorney of Hall county. The defendant is represented by Cole & Porter of Clarendon, Fitzgerald & Grundy of Memphis and Judge Knott of Van Buren, Arkansas.

Constable J. D. May and a large number of witnesses are here from Hall county and several out of state witnesses are on hand. Many of them are here to serve as character witnesses.

The trial actively began this (Tuesday) morning and the complaining witness has been on the stand all morning. It is thought that night sessions will be held in an effort to complete the trial by Wednesday night.

Donley County Farmer Reaps Cotton Crop With Potatoes

Diversification gets another boost on the farm of J. R. Dale, one of our county's most progressive farmers of the Goldston community.

Mr. Dale has a good cotton production for this year but is having trouble getting it gathered. Pickers or gatherers are scarce and the present price will not permit him to pay much for the gathering.

While in the Leader office Monday, Mr. Dale said: "I have just harvested 225 bushels of sweet potatoes off about a half acre of ground and blamed if that ain't more clear profit than my cotton crop will make."

Like all good farmers, Mr. Dale has Jerseys and hens that pay his grocery bill right through the year. Mrs. Dale has an immense lot of canned fruit and vegetables stored in the cellar. In fact there is a lot of team work on the farm, both of them working together to make the farm produce to the limit.

These thrifty farmer folks are numbered among our very best citizens, have a good farm and a good home, manage to have the best living to be had and are going to diversify more next year than this year.

Local Contractor Successful Bidder On Three Jobs

Friends of Mr. Joe Humphrey, Jr. are congratulating him on his successful bid for the new Phillips 66 station that is to be built on the corner just south of the A. M. Beville residence on the corner of Second and Jefferson streets. Contractors from Pampa, Amarillo and other places were competing bidders on this job which was awarded to the local contractor.

Mr. Humphrey also has the contract for the erection of the Edgington apartments, a description of which appeared in the Leader of last issue. He is finishing the beautiful home for W. O. Butler across the street from the Montgomery residence near the High School.

The Butler residence is of the five room type with a large basement that will contain a bedroom, storage room and laundry. While the exact cost of this residence has not been announced, it will run several thousand dollars and is easily classed among the best in the city.

SEVEN MEN ARE ARRESTED AT MEMPHIS

Two White, Five Negroes Held In Night Watchman Case Of Sunday Night

A negro was lodged in the local jail Monday morning to avoid mob violence following the shooting of a gin night watchman at Memphis about two o'clock Monday morning. Four other negroes and two whites are also being held there pending an investigation.

A white man was seen to turn off the lights soon after the shot was fired. Buster McCreary, who was shot just above the heart, is expected to live, though his condition is critical.

Hedley Dairyman Wants To Make A Change

Mr. J. B. Stogner, who has been operating a dairy at Hedley for some time, has made up his mind to engage in other lines and is advertising his dairy equipment for sale in this issue.

The cows in this dairy are among the best in the county and Mr. Stogner has built up a good business. His sales have increased monthly necessitating the purchase of additional equipment of an up-to-date type. Hedley customers are anxious for another good dairyman to make the purchase as this is one of the most essential lines represented in the town.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted On East First

What came near being a serious car accident Friday happened when Joe Bounds' car struck that of Dewey Heath as Heath was backing into the street from his home on East First street.

The Bounds car was loaded with Pep Squad girls bound for the Estelline game and had they been traveling at a rapid rate, would have resulted in serious injury. Neither car was damaged to any great extent and no personal injuries were noted. The Pep Squad was in no wise affected as to vocal abilities and did effective service upon reaching their destination at Estelline.

LAFON-BEVILLE

The many friends of the young couple will be surprised to learn of the wedding of Miss Edna Mae Lafon and Mr. Ross Harwood Beville which occurred at the Methodist parsonage at Amarillo Friday evening of the 25th.

Rev. L. N. Stuckey, pastor of the Polk street Methodist church united the couple using the beautiful ring ceremony. Only immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. Ross Harwood Beville is the beautiful accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lafon of this city where she grew to womanhood and where she received her education. Her pleasing disposition made of her a favorite among the younger set and no one enjoyed a greater number of loyal friends than she.

Mr. Beville is the son of Attorney and Mrs. R. H. Beville until recently residents of Clarendon. Ross Harwood has been a school boy here until it became necessary for him to seek a higher school of learning. He matriculated at Simmons University at the beginning of the fall term this year and continued his studies until his marriage. He has exceptional musical ability, is a hustling young man and readily makes and holds friends.

The Leader joins with the innumerable friends of this happy couple in wishing them success and happiness.

Small Blaze Does Little Damage Monday Morning

Fire starting from the vent of the water heater in the J. C. Kilbough home early Monday morning damaged the wall paper but was prevented from doing further damage by the prompt action of the fire department in the use of chemicals extinguishing the blaze in a short time.

ELITE CUSTOMERS.

A bootlegger arrested at Camden, Arkansas last week claimed exemption on the score that he did not sell to the common herd, choosing his customers from among the wealthy and prominent church workers.

AUTO HEADLIGHTS.

The State Highway Department has issued orders revoking the license of all headlight stations of the State, making it necessary for the county commissioners to appoint new stations who shall operate under bond.

This law has not been enforced, and never will be. It has been a joke from its inception and worked an undue hardship upon those who chose to comply with it. If the law was made to reach the manufacturer, we might expect results.

YOUR COUNTY WEEKLY.

Your county paper heralds your advent into the world. It heralds your fame from the house-tops. It exploits your good traits of character when you marry and refuses to besmirge your reputation all thru life. Finally, when the last rites have been said, your county weekly lets you down easy, again heralds your good qualities and brings to those who mourn a message of cheer and sweet relief.

Your county weekly is first to your cradle and last at your grave. Many cuss the home paper but they don't believe it and read it every week even if they have to swipe one from a neighbor to get it.

FOUNDATION BEAUTY.

At a state gathering of the W. C. T. U. in Gary, Indiana the past week, one Prof. Raymond Schultz, sociologist of North Manchester University made the statement that "there is no leg beautiful enough to be bared to public gaze."

He might get by with that before a congregation of reformers, but to the aggregation of sore-eyed West Texans, he's just talking through his hat. If this quint-eyed, unsophisticated connoisseur of natural art could view the inhabitants of West Texas first hand, he would no doubt change his mind.

POLITICAL TIMBER.

Up to the present, none of those announcing for the governor's race have elicited so much as a squawk from their personally owned sheets. The fact that the penitentiary system has cost the people of this state better than eight millions according to legislature appropriations, during the Neff and Moody administrations, and only two hundred thousand during the Ferguson administrations, will cause many to stop and think.

Not only that, The Ferguson administrations turned back to the state more than a million in cold cash.

The people from "the forks of the creek" are again asking Jim to make the race. His only reply is: "I'm not hankerin', but will run if you want me." Thousands have become disgusted with colossal blunders and will want to return to something they can depend upon. We may expect a "homespun administration" next if Jim gets into the race.

HERO HYSTERIA.

Last week while sitting atop a flag pole of an Amarillo building, the said sitter received 16,825 phone messages according to compilations made by the phone company, most of them of the congratulatory type. This bird perched up there for a nutty stunt some four days and better.

No doubt the hysterically inclined hero worshippers invoked divine blessing on both the man and the pole. Had this fellow furnished amusement, relieved the distressed, saved a life or performed any act of human kindness, he would have passed unnoticed.

When the Lions repeatedly sent crippled or blind to Oklahoma City and paid the price for their relief, nothing was done and little said. Merchants who saw fit to use this method as a medium of advertising, catered to the wishes of a maudlin bunch who care little for humanity's needs and won.

FARM RELIEF.

Well folks, the cat's out of the bag and the long-looked-for farm relief is at hand. This is what is known as the Capper-Volstead Act. It applies only to farmer organizations. Where farmers are organized, they don't need it.

The bill will not infringe upon the business of the large corporations lending money to individuals with cotton in the bale as security.

Of the 5,106,000 bales sold in Texas the past season, organized farmer organizations, controlled 2.7 percent. This 2.7 percent may borrow 15.40 per hundred on baled cotton grading middling and a 7-8 inch staple.

Ninety-two percent of the cotton growers of the south are unorganized. Since it appears that there is no relief in sight for the unorganized grower, he may be forced to organize for self protection. If that be the case, then this bill will have been worth millions to the producers who may be forced to protect their own interests by organizing.

BEST COUNTRY WEEKLY.

The Traer, Iowa Star-Clipper, said to be the best country weekly published in the United States, is just what it is said to be. Sixteen pages, seven thirteen em columns and brim full of good reading matter and ads that carry information.

Traer is a little town of some 1400 inhabitants up in the corn belt. The paper has a sworn circulation of 3700 with a weekly circulation.

Not only is it in the corn belt, but they are also in the dairy belt, the hog belt and have several other money making belts. In looking through the paper one finds the names of Altenhein, Vanderheyden, Novotny, Bovenmeyer, Stauffer, etc. All the inhabitants are not "Irish", but folks with names like those never settle in a poor section. They also make business, build a good town and exploit the natural resources of the country.

A good country, backed by an enterprising people have enabled the Taylor family to publish the best weekly in the whole nation. Co-operation did it. When folks pull together, there is nothing impossible. Traer is not the county seat, but it is a better town.

An account is given of the Hesenius-Koipek wedding. Both working folks. They will go right on working and make a home. They will not practice race suicide, buy a car on the installment plan and live in a rented home. Up where the girls eat kraut like a flapper does bon bons. No wonder the men succeed! We need more of their kind in the Texas Panhandle, and they're coming every year. Luck to the Taylors.

THE GRAND JURY.

The present Grand Jury sitting at this time is to be congratulated. Fist fights, family rackets and neighborhood gossip have been swept out and worth while infractions of the law are being investigated.

Too many grand juries use up the good money of the taxpayers in investigating cases that should be settled in the justice courts. All Donley county should appreciate the fact that the men on this jury are level-headed fellows who stand for a square deal both as between the law violators and the taxpayer.

Mrs. W. E. Lyons of Abilene and Mrs. R. H. Lewellen of Walters, Oklahoma, members of the faculty of the Teacher's Training Course at the Methodist church, returned to their homes Friday.

Lester Martin of Prickett, Colorado arrived here Friday with a truck load of Mexican beans which he sold at Memphis. He also visited with his uncle, W. D. Martin and family while here.

Believe it or not, Dr. T. H. Ellis of this city has one of the prettiest bunches of turkeys in the country. The doctor does not intend for Thanksgiving or Christmas to catch him taking just any old thing that may be offered.

With Our Exchanges

Moody Absence Wins Approval; Crowning Success Of Career

Governor Dan Moody crossed over into Mexico for a hunting expedition and Lt. Gov. Barry Miller became governor of Texas during his absence. Here's hoping Dan will take a liking to Mexico, stay long and do well. No one in Texas will miss him much and many will feel certain of one thing at least—that there will be no special session of the legislature so long as he is away. We move that Texas grant Dan a leave of absence for about 18 months.—Fayette County Record.

Sheppard Plan Would Start More Home Brew Plants

We have not seen Home and State yet, but the big part of the press don't appear to take well to Senator Sheppard's bill to make the buying of liquor a felony. The La Coste Ledger says it would cause more home brew plants: Says the editor: "Senator Sheppard of Texas introduced a bill for a federal law, placing the buyer of liquor in the penitentiary for a certain term of years. It is but logical that if it is a crime to make and sell intoxicating liquors, it is also a crime to buy same, so everyone will be automatically compelled to manufacture his own liquor, for his own consumption. Yet, the great bootlegging business will go merrily on, while the lawyers will have two times as many to defend in the courts."—Uvalde Leader-News.

Ain't What She Uster Be

In the long ago when living was cheap, we lived in a town where the sand was deep. A few hills dotted the color scheme, and in between flowed a purring stream. There was plenty of room in which to stand, and living was easy in the sandy land. The folks were plain and honest and poor, and not affected by ambition's lure. They owned horses and cows and plenty of hogs, and every man had a passel of dogs. There were beans, potatoes and speckled peas and several million pestiferous fleas. There were frying chickens with yellow legs, and oodles and oodles of butter and eggs. There was plenty of time in this old town, to work and play and loaf around. Plenty of time to fish for perch, peddle gossip and scandal and go to church. As we see it now thru memory's glass, and to think of the things that have come to pass, we wipe that sweat from our heated brow, and wish by Heck! we were living there now.—Sam E. Miller of Mineral Wells, past President of Texas Press Association.

Lawyer Politicians For Governor

The two most widely advertised candidates for governor of Texas today are nothing more than professional politicians, seeking office and prominence on prejudice, and neither is fit for the duties of the office. Both have served in legislative positions, and never have missed an opportunity to vote for the creation of new offices and to increase the tax burden upon the people. Yet both have through political trickery worked up a large following among the voters. It does look like the time has come when the people of Texas would drop lawyer politicians seeking office on prejudices and elect a real business man at the head of the state government.

—Grandburg News.

Public sentiment in Texas is rapidly crystallizing in favor of a law absolutely forbidding the use of the public highways for commercial purposes, and this condition is mainly the result of the violation of the traffic laws by the truck people, who persist in overloading the big trucks, while the drivers of a majority of them show no regard for the rights of others on the roads.

Advantages Of A Vacation Tour To Europe

In the summer of 1930, there will be enacted again the wonderful Passion Play in the little village of Oberammergau, Germany. This old and greatest tragedy of history, reproduced by actors who have lived their parts from childhood, will be the objective of many a tour during the summer months.

But after all, the Passion Play is but one of numerous sources of education resultant of a European tour. From the standpoint of history, the advantages accruing from such a trip can not be counted. And in Art, there is the wealth of the world to be seen in the great and small art galleries of Europe. The traveller does not go to Europe especially for natural scenery. That is to be found in America itself in greater abundance, although Switzerland's snowclad mountains and dashing mountain streams rival those of Colorado. And nothing can be more pleasing to the sight than a quiet English landscape with its shaded lanes and green meadows and groves of trees from which rise slender church spires.

To be more explicit as to the advantages of a European tour, a general outline of such a trip might be given as follows: To sail from an eastern or a Texas port, if from the latter a probable visit in Havana and in the Canary Islands where firsthand knowledge of Spanish civilization is obtained. To land perhaps at La Harve, a picturesque little city on hillside sloping to the sea; take a boat train—one of those busy little continental trains that frisk noisily along, each coach divided into compartments for isolation of small groups, but never accomplishing its purpose with a party of tourists who crowd each other for sight-seeing spaces at open windows. Viewing the beautiful Seine through trees overhanging its banks, catching glimpses of houseboats going slowly down stream or of a fisherman dreaming on the bank, and of little pocket handkerchief fields on the far side slopes in checkered golds and greens, dotted with scarlet poppies. Arrive at Paris and spend delightful days visiting the largest Art gallery of the world, the Louvre, once the palace of kings; The old Notre Dame cathedral with its glorious Gothic front and its grinning Gargoyle waterspouts, where Napoleon was crowned, and where the Hunchback of Victor Hugo's immortal story wandered among the dark arches; the tomb of Napoleon in its majestic simplicity beneath the blue dome of the Hotel Invalides; the palace of Versailles with its gardens and fountains, the extravagance of kings. The shops, the opera,—there are many attractions in Paris besides those of historical value.

Through the picturesque fields and cathedral towns of France to Nice and to the little Kingdom of Monaco where Monte Carlo invites. Then along the coast to Genoa for a night's sleep in the home town of Columbus, and on to Rome to view the relics of an ancient city and marvel at a modern city built above the ruins. Down to Naples, where Virgil is buried a drive to Pompeii to see the shattered columns and temples of an unearthed Roman city, while Vesuvius smokes near by. A pleasure sail on the bay of Naples, with a trip into the Blue Grotto, if the weather and tide are favorable. Back to Rome to view St. Peter's and the Vatican, seeing works of art the memory of which will linger ever afterwards,—the Last Judgement of Michael Angelo, Raphael's Transfiguration, the Appollo Belvedere, and the Laocoon Group of statuary.

To Florence, the center of Art, where the Pitti and the Uffizzi palaces hold the greatest treasures of the old masters. To Venice, the romantic city of the sea; to Milan for a view of the cathedral and of Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper. Through mountain passes into Switzerland with a stop at Lucerne and other points. Then into Germany to see the Passion Play and to visit Munich, Dresden, and Berlin. To Holland, the land of dikes and canals, old Dutch windmills, and rivers higher than the land.

To London, where several days are spent in visiting sites of history and story,—Westminster Abbey, the Tower, St. Paul's, old Cheapside with its tributary streets called Bread, Wine, Poultry, etc. The Strand, Fleet Street, Temple Court where the old crusaders' Temple still stands; the Parliament buildings along the Thames, and perhaps a boat trip up the historic Thames to Kew Gardens or to Richmond Terrace for afternoon tea. Then a motor trip out to Windsor Castle and Eton College, and to the quiet little church of Stoke Pogis, made famous by Gray's Elegy. To the village of Warwick for a night, and a day through the Shakespere country, along the historic Avon river, with a stop at the ruins of Kenilworth Castle, and another at Warwick Castle, which is not in ruins.

Then last but not least, a motor trip through the land of romance, the heather covered hills and dales of Scotland, where ruins of old castles and monasteries thrill with their hints of past glory. A visit to Scott's home near the Tweed, and to the ruins of Dryburgh Abbey where he lies buried beside the broken ivy-covered arches of the church where he once worshipped. Then a visit to Edinburgh, and perhaps to Robert Burns' birthplace, the village of Ayr, where Tam o' Shanter had his wild ride. And then to some sea port to sail for home, after a full summer of education such as no school could give in the same length of time.

Miss Mary H. Howren, teacher and Dean of Women of Clarendon College as representative of the Armstrong Tours, is planning such a tour next summer, her third trip to Europe, and hopes to interest many in joining with her. Dr. Armstrong of Waco, Baylor University, has had long experience in organizing tours, and furnishes a trained conductor to each party. He offers trips of various lengths and prices, and Miss Howren will be glad to explain these to any interested in this great educational opportunity.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grundy, and little son Tommie and Mrs. Hazel Bellow were visitors here Sunday.

The football game played between the Hedley Owls and the McLean team here on the local grounds Friday, was one of the best games ever played here. The McLean boys took off the score. But in points the Owls were winners. The feature play of the game was when there was only three minutes and the score stood 19 to 0 in favor of the McLean side, it was the Owls ball to play for the last down, when Raines took the old pigskin on the 40 yard line and made one of the best complete passes to Watkins for a only touch down. Had the Owls had only a few more trials the score might have been different, but there was real stuff on both sides.

In the first quarter the boys came out on the field feeling good and ready for a hard game. The game was called by Mr. J. C. Moore of McLean and Cat Armstrong of Hedley. The team on both sides did good showing, but was mostly warming up to the play. McLean called time out on account of having a slight injury to one of the boys, but then the playing started in earnest. Most of the playing was done on center field, it seemed as the either side could not break through the line of the opposing team. The boys came out much better in the last half of the first half. The McLean team took the old ball over for the first score when they made a complete pass, but they failed to get that extra point, when the ball did not make goal. The rest of the playing was first one team and the other, they were pretty well matched. We find that ABin, Cooper and others were there for the line men, and Webb never failed on that good showing of breaking up those McLean passes, which would have gained ground had they gone through. The game was called time out for the first half, with the score as 6 to 0 in favor of the opponent.

While the boys were playing one of the best pep squads was on the side line doing their part with very snappy yells and songs. The Senior and Junior girls were all dressed in uniform of white and green and made a very beautiful drill on the field leaving a big H made from the colors of green and white. It certainly helps out to have the crowd behind you and the Jr. pep squad showed what they could when they have a little more training.

The first part of the last half was taken up with a hard fight for the game. The fight had not been on long when that long running boy on the McLean side made the 2nd touch down, running up the score for McLean to 12. The boys were doing some real playing on both sides and the boosters sure got a sore throat and his money's worth. Time was called for a McLean man when he got a real bad sprain, but he was taken from the ground and another player put in and the game was fought for the time of last half. The Owls were not beaten when then came out on the field for the last chance and did some real straight playing and showed some real team work. As you hear in these real league games 3 minutes to play and not one point, it was the Owls trying to carry the old pigskin some where on the last down, when Raines on the 40 yard line made a complete pass to Watkins for a touch down which ended the game with a score of 19 to 6. The boys were well matched, but McLean just had a little heavier bunch and could not be stopped in those line plunges, but in the pass work the Owls were there to see they were not complete. The next game will be ours and every one come and boost our boys.

Mr. William Adams, of Memphis was here to spend the week end with friends.

The Victrola given away by the Hedley Drug Store was luckily gotten by Harry Mendall. He was the one to get the one lucky number, it only took one to receive the beautiful music box.

A literary critic has said that all new books are for gotten within a year—especially by those who borrow them.

Temperance and cheerfulness is the best medicine.

The best mathematician in the world is he who doubles the most joys and divides the most sorrows.

If the town people who had once lived in the country should suddenly become ashamed of themselves, we would find the city turned into weeping willows—such is the great number of country raised people living in town today. Without the country people there would be no town.

I despise the youth who can and won't, but my admiration for the youth who will and can't is a thousand fold. The world stands in salute to the youth who is striving to make his way along the path of success and his reward will be measured by what success he has attained.

How Hallowe'en Originated

Hallowe'en, or All Hallowed Eve as it was originally known, began with the Druids, worshippers of the Sun God. The ceremonies began on the night of October 31st and ended on the close of the next day.

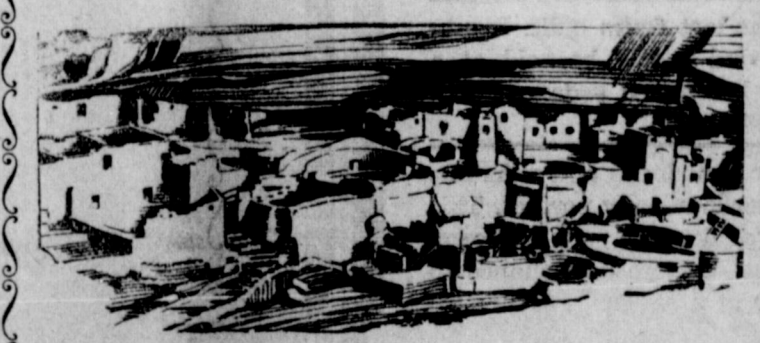

The ceremonials were held in commemoration of departed saints. Bonfires were built to frighten away departed evil spirits and many uncanny actions were vouchered for by the people during the night. Should a farmer devoutly honor the saints, his crop might be gathered in the one night, etc.

During the invasion of England by the Romans, a harvest festival was held honoring Pomona, the goddess of fruits and gardens.

During the ages the Hallowed Eve was changed to Hallowe'en as we know it today.

This autumnal celebration, shorn of its superstition, is observed for the thrill gotten out of it by our youngsters of today. The ancient emblems of the black cat, witch and black and orange colors remain the keynote to all social functions held at this time of the year.

Not many years ago, youngsters wrought great damage in

SAYS HE AND WIFE WILL ALWAYS SPEAK A GOOD WORD FOR ORGATONE

"Anyone who had noticed the dreadful condition my wife was in, can readily see the great change Orgatone has made in her," said J. E. McCollum living on rural route number 1, Amarillo, Texas.

"My wife has improved so much that her neighbors often speak of it. Her health has been broken up for over two years and she suffered from stomach disorders. Her appetite left her and what little she did eat would sour on her stomach, causing gas and intense pain. She was never able to eat breakfast at all. She was weak and dizzy and had terrible raging headaches and was losing weight and strength. She had severe cramps in her stomach and sides most of the time and would roll and toss at night and never got very much rest. She had a bad case of constipation.

"Since taking Orgatone, my wife is greatly improved and feels like a different person. She isn't bothered with stomach or indigestion troubles and isn't bothered with constipation. Orgatone has certainly helped her and we think it is a wonderful medicine and both will always speak a good word for it."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Clarendon at the Stockings Drug Store.

Wellington Merchant Buys Local Store Here This Week

The Leader store of this city which was established here in April by Mr. Ben Saied, and a store at Hedley established several months ago, was this week sold to his brother, Mr. Max Saied of Wellington. The management will remain the same here with Mr. Ben Saied in charge.

The Leader store was established here by a stranger among strange people. Fair methods and honest dealings has built up a dry-goods business that has exceeded the expectations of the management. Good will is considered one of the most valuable assets and there has been no pains spared to reach the buying public of this trade territory.

Every effort to put on a special sale has been met with success. The store is well stocked with bargains and the announcement of the biggest sale yet is made in this issue of the Leader. There is no deception. Everything will be marked in plain figures so that the hundreds who visit the store may properly judge of the bargains offered.

In speaking of the sale Mr. Saied made the statement that "we are new people, in new territory and want to build a big business and there is but one way to do it—honest goods, big bargains at a low price made possible by a low overhead and strong buying power for cash."

In looking over the double page ad of the Leader store in this issue, the reader will note that prices are quoted along with a condensed description so that the reader may know what to expect in the way of bargains. It will be further noted that the management is making every effort to keep Donley county money at home by offering to meet the prices of any mail order catalog with better goods.

CLAIMS NEW RATION MAKES 'EM LAY IN WINTER

"Double Balance" Program Calls For Four Grains and Mash of Skimmed Milk, but no Water

A "double balance" ration to make hens lay in winter, suggested by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, is worthy of a 90 day trial on the farms where only 10 to 20 eggs per day by 100 layers are produced during the cold winter months. All of the four grains in the grain mixture and the skim-milk are generally produced on the average farm and all four of the ingredients of the mash mixture can be secured in practically every trading center in this area.

The grain mixture, to be fed in dry litter inside the house, calls for three pounds of corn, preferably cracked, and one pound each of wheat, oats and barley. The mash mixture, always to be accessible in hoppers, consists of three pounds of bran, the same weight of middlings, two pounds of corn meal, and one pound of good, clean tankage. No water is to be allowed. Sour skim-milk is to be the only liquid provided. No other drink is needed. Without skim-milk the ration lacks the amount and source of protein needed to go with this combination of grain and mash.

This good, egg-making ration is nicely balanced in the nutrients needed to produce eggs at low cost. It is especially well balanced in its source of proteins, because it carries, wheat, oats and barley plant and the necessary proteins provided by milk and meat. It is also palatable, easily prepared, health-building, helpful to fertility, and has been found very practical in Wisconsin where the state

THE PRICE-YIELDING WEDDING MARKED BY BEAUTY

"An October wedding which was solemnized with beauty and dignity was that of Miss Katherine Maurine Yielding, and Milton Eugene Price, of Wichita Falls, Tex., Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Norwood Methodist Church. Rev. G. M. Davenport read the nuptial vows in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

The church was decorated on this occasion with the conventional greenery and vivid autumnal flowers. The altar was banked with palms and Southern smilax interspersed with tall standards of large specimen yellow and bronze dahlias and chrysanthemums, while on either side ivory tapers burned in tall holders.

Mrs. W. D. Saunders, organist; Mrs. Kenneth Lamkin, violinist, and Mrs. Joe Trumly, soloist, gave an interesting program of nuptial music.

Mrs. Frank Yielding, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Her smart costume of brown chiffon velvet was fashioned with flared skirt and V-decolletage and she carried yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids included Miss Mildred Smith, of Cullman, and Miss Frances Ferrell. They wore becoming frocks of wood-brown velvet and carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was lovely in an ultra smart afternoon ensemble of brown velvet, fashioned with short jacket and ecru lace blouse. Her accessories were also in shades of brown and she carried Pernet roses and valley lilies.

George Alexander, of Wichita Falls, was best man and the ushers included the four brothers of the bride, Howard, Milton, Newman and Frank Yielding, Jr.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Price left on a Western trip and will later be at home in Wichita Falls, Tex. She wore a green tweed ensemble for traveling.

Mrs. Price attended Women's College in Athens, Ala., and later Mary Baldwin College in Virginia. She is a popular and talented young musician and has enjoyed a wide popularity.

Mr. Price is a graduate of the University of Texas and a prominent business man of Wichita Falls.

The above clipping is taken from a Birmingham, Alabama paper. The bridal pair arrived here Friday night on their honeymoon trip for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. Price, parents of the groom. Concluding their trip, Mr. and Mrs. Price will make their home in Wichita Falls.

The Leader joins with the many friends of this estimable couple in wishing for them a happy realization of their plans for the future.

Stop, Look and Listen

The auto casualties of Texas since January 1st amounts to more than the state suffered over seas in the World War, according to an estimate of the Highway Commission.

The Railroad Commission will recommend to the next session of the legislature:

1. Placing on the roads a force of 50 officers under the Highway Department to enforce safety regulations and make arrests.
2. Prosecution by the Attorney General's Department of violators with the assistance of county authorities.
3. Requesting the next Legislature to enact a law that will require state license for drivers, depriving them of such permit when violations are proved.
4. Appealing to civic clubs, chambers of commerce and municipal governments for close cooperation.

In dollars and cents automobile accidents of all kinds cost the people of Texas $5,000,000 annually and the figure is increasing. It was estimated by L. A. Gueringer, chief engineer of the Railroad Commission, this including expenses, doctors' bills, property damage and litigation costs.

R. M. Tilley, Assistant Attorney General, is co-operating with the Highway Commission, telling just how far the highway patrolmen may go in the enforcement program, and especially complaining of violations by freight trucks.

10 States Have Law.

Gueringer pointed out that only 10 States have enacted statutes requiring drivers of automobiles to obtain licenses with penalties for violations, these being New York,

Iowa, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maine, Vermont, Rhode Island, North Dakota, California and Wisconsin.

At the regular session of the Forty-first Legislature last Winter Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman introduced a driver's license bill that provided many safety regulations and penalties but it died on the calendar, a casualty of crowded work, although there was little opposition.

State officials Saturday said that this or a similar measure will be sought at the next session.

Some of the crashes on highways are incomprehensible, according to reports reaching Gueringer and other officials. The 1929 monthly reports of the chief engineer, dealing with accidents at railroad crossings, show that many drivers insist on trying to wreck locomotives by driving into them, by driving into trains standing still, by driving into moving trains after 30 to 35 cars already have passed, so evidently the trains were seen by drivers.

Crashes Are Cited.

At Shamrock two accidents of similar character occurred when on different dates automobiles were driven into trains, once after 10 cars had passed and again when 35 had passed, eight persons were injured in the two crashes.

One of the most peculiar accidents was at Bowie, the report saying that a truck driver waited at a crossing 15 minutes for a train, drove up the track just as the cars were approaching then abandoned the truck. Yes, the driver was severely injured.

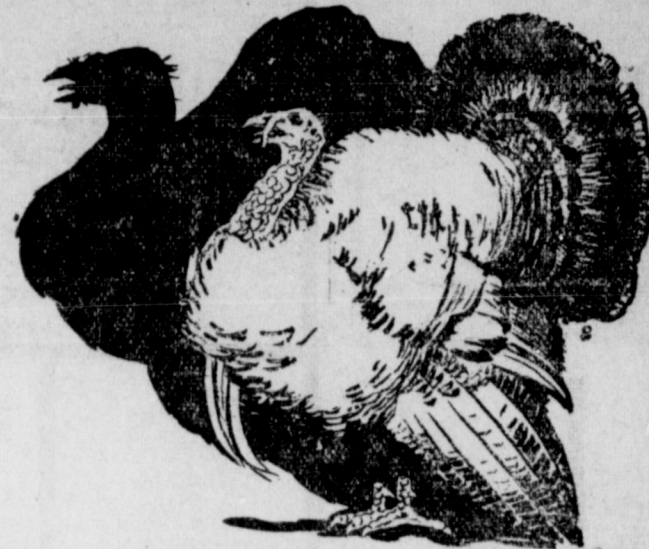

In January five automobiles loaded with passengers ran broadside into trains; in February, the number was seven; 10 automobiles colliding with trains was in March records. Two were killed in April in the attempt; five was the May figure; June witnessed three cars trying their luck with the sides of trains; July the number was four; August it was increased to eight and September it was seven.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davis entertained a few of their friends with a bridge party Tuesday evening. After the games, a very attractive plate luncheon was served to Misses Loraine Patrick, Maurine Vinson, Messrs. Clint Martin and Loyce Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Burk Ligon and the hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Latson, spent the week end in Childress.

Temple of Truth

By the Apostle

W. D. Martin, he who does not say so much but means what he says, says that a possum properly cooked is good eatin' which contradicts what some of the folks have been having so say to the Apostle about having eaten some mighty good possum back in old Arkansas. Possum and tater! Oh, boy! Who can furnish the possum?

The Apostle wants to buy a possum from some boy who happens to like to hunt around on the creeks. Bring the possum to the Leader office and cash in on it. Some of the best friends a fellow ever had will be invited to help eat that possum and the list will not be confined to ex-Arkansawyers either.

A slop fattened possum is better, therefore bring in the varmint right now as the feed is scheduled to take place Thanksgiving.

West Texas Counties Winners At Dallas Fair

West Texas again scores at the State Fair. Hemphill, of which Canadian is the county seat, won first prize. Garza county of which Post is the county seat, won third. The second prize went to Eastland county, a central western county.

Year after year counties from the "Great American Desert" region win over the counties of the more favored sections of the eastern and southern part of the big state. As a matter of fact, the best agricultural sections of the state are in the west and the public is beginning to find this out to be a fact.

Clarendon's Beggar Epidemic Becomes Monotonous

The beggar industry appears to become both endemic and epidemic here at times. Instance the week just passed. Three men and a woman each visited the Leader office within a period of thirty minutes. It appears that these folks travel in squads and work the towns on a wholesale basis splitting the proceeds, etc.

Something should be done to put a stop to this imposition say citizens who are ready to help the needy in a systematic manner where there is actual need existing. Other towns give the same kind of a report.

Pep Squad Girls Voice Their Appreciation

The business men are finally realizing, after being shown over and over, that our Bronchos are a grand and glorious team who with a little backing and help, are ready and able to bring honors to Clarendon. Hurrah for the Business men!

They very generously showed their appreciation of the Bronchos by taking cars to Estelline Friday as a means of transportation for the pep-squad and the football boys. Because of this there was a larger crowd of Clarendon boosters on the sideline than there were boosters for Estelline, and with this crowd of loyal pep squad and business men looking on, the Bronchos fought on harder for their fame, and kept it by a 0 to 0 score. We thank you business men. The Bronchos certainly appreciate your loyalty and interest.

They have said, "With a little backing we will win district championship." Come on, business men, let's keep backing the Bronchos! They need it, want it, appreciate it and they will not turn you down.
