

Need For Welfare Plan Emphasized In Call For Meet

Planning Group To Report On Organization Outline At Gathering

Attendance of every citizen of Brown county who is interested in welfare problems is urged at a community mass meeting to be held at the district court room at the court house Friday night. With the liquidation of the Texas Relief Commission the problem of providing for the welfare of the needy is distressingly acute, and some means whereby this problem can be handled must be worked out.

Beginning July 1 there will be no further aid for the needy from the TRC, and only a small percent of the case load in this county will receive old age pensions. At present all relief work in the county is being handled by the city-county case worker, Mrs. Ruby Ables, who is in charge of the only existing agency.

Family Welfare Work

A resume of the work done through the city-county office, the Family Welfare Association, for the month of May is illustrative of the acuteness of the situation. Commodities have been distributed through that office to WPA workers and their families, old age assistance applicants, mothers' aid recipients, transients, and the incapacitated who have received their final TRC budgets. A total of 833 families, or 3429 persons have been aided.

WPA surplus commodities distributed were as follows: 1821 garments, 1070 cans of beef, 2675 cans of vegetables, 1695 pounds of oatmeal, 8,000 pounds of apples and 3,111 pounds of flour.

In addition the case worker has, as a part of office routine, been in charge of accepting new cases, answering inquiries regarding applicants for old age assistance in Texas and other states who were at one time residents of Brown county, investigating child welfare problems in cooperation with the Commissioners' Court, inter-state transient problems, handling transient cases, and accepting applications for CCC enlistment.

Many In Distress

In stressing the need for immediate community action members of the planning committee described conditions as they now exist.

The incapacitated and those who are listed as Class C labor for WPA projects present the greatest single welfare problem in this community. No channel of government aid is open to them, and their welfare is definitely the community's responsibility. The incapacitated, many of whom are heads of families, are unable to do any sort of work, it was pointed out.

With the present schedule of WPA projects there is practically no means of utilizing the Class C laborers, those who are physically unable to do more than the lightest sort of labor, according to a statement made this week by Miss Ann Wilkens, assistant supervisor of the district 14 division of employment. All of these people are without income, and the only assistance they can receive at the present time is through the distribution of surplus commodities. Any other provisions to meet their needs are being made as efficiently as possible through the various private welfare organizations with their limited means, local workers stated.

Community's Responsibility

James C. White, community chairman, called the meeting for Friday night following a report from the chairman of the welfare planning committee, named at a mass meeting several months ago to consider ways and means of handling the community welfare problems. A welfare set-up has been tentatively outlined by the committee and will be presented to the citizenship at the meeting.

MANY VISITORS WILL COME TO TEXAS FOR CENTENNIAL AFFAIRS

Arrival of the vacation season, with the end of the school year, sees the beginning of one of the greatest travel movements ever known in Texas. Travel experts predict that the tourist business in Texas this year will be the greatest on record.

It made an exceptionally high record in its first year on test for production with the American Jersey Cattle Club of New York City, averaging 354.65 pounds of butterfat. A report on the test was received by J. R. Shelton, owner from the Production Testing Department of the club.

More than 400 farms in Manitoba are engaged in the business of fur ranching, foxes and mink being the chief animals raised.

Its architect is monumental in design in keeping with the theme of the Exposition. The building is in the cultural group and faces the lagoon. Displays in motion will present the editorial policies, news coverage, advertising and circulation features.

SHUT-INS TO HAVE FLOWERS ON SUNDAY

The fourth annual International Flower Shut-In Day will be observed here Sunday, when an effort will be made to deliver flowers to all worthy shut-ins in the community. Hans Schroeder, manager of Brownwood Floral Company, is chairman of the local committee. Flowers from his shop and from the A. M. Davis Floral shop are to be delivered free to all shut-ins in the city whose names are turned in to the committee from the Business and Professional Women's Club, in charge of all deliveries.

Dr. Mollie Armstrong, in charge for the club, said Thursday that they were anxious to secure the names of all persons to whom the flowers should be sent. Although they cannot undertake the delivery of flowers to shut-ins who live out of the city limits, flowers will be provided for all whose relatives will come and get them. The names of those to whom the flowers should be delivered or furnished are to be given to Dr. Armstrong or to Mrs. Tex Worsham, co-chairman, as soon as possible.

Many people are interviewing R. E. Sikes, Fort Worth representative of the Federal Housing Administration who is here this week to assist local people with their building and loan problems, but few seem to be taking advantage of the opportunity to finance home building and repairs, according to Smith Bell, county FHA chairman.

Mr. Sikes has an office on the second floor of the Bulletin building and will be there to interview people of this locality the remainder of the week.

FISHERMAN DROWNS IN JIM NED SUNDAY

B. S. Allen, 40, typewriter and adding machine salesman, of Fort Worth, was drowned late Saturday afternoon while fishing in the Jim Ned about 18 miles from Santa Anna. Serious injuries were sustained by Clint N. Duggins, Santa Fe employee, Thursday night, June 4, on highway 19 four miles north of Brownwood in a head-on collision between the automobile in which he was riding and a car without lights. Mr. Duggins, who suffered a broken leg, a bruised chest and numerous cuts and bruises, was rushed to a Brownwood hospital for treatment shortly after the accident, and was sent to Temple Friday night for further treatment in the Santa Fe hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Allison, companions of Duggins, received minor bruises. One of the youths in the other car, said to be from Comanche, was seriously injured and was taken to a hospital at Gorman for treatment.

COUNTY AGENTS PLAN PROGRAM FOR DISTRICT 4-H CLUB CAMP

200 Will Attend Brownwood Camp; All Counties Will Be Represented

More than 200 4-H club boys and a large number of club sponsors and club leaders from Extension Service District 7 will attend the annual boys encampment to be held at Lake Brownwood June 29 and 30. Selection of the lake as a camp site was made by the four county agents who make up the encampment committee at a meeting here Friday, and plans for the encampment were completed at that time.

Announcements of the camp and programs have been mailed by County Agent C. W. Lehmburg to all agents in the district, which includes Jones, Shackelford, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan, Eastland, Erath, Runtels, Coleman, Brown, Comanche, Mills, McCulloch, San Saba, Mason, Llano, Gillespie and Blanco counties. The county agents are being invited to bring their wives to the camp, and arrangements are being made to secure cabin accommodations for all the women who attend.

New Deal's Pick for Lehman Job?

Belief that Robert H. Jackson, above, government counsel in the $3,000,000 tax suit against Andrew Mellon, would become the New Deal candidate for governor of New York, was expressed in Washington circles, following announcement that Gov. Herbert H. Lehman would not run for re-election. Native of Jamestown, N. Y., Jackson is popular with the state's Democratic leaders.

SCOTT NEW HEAD OF WALTON LEAGUE TO SUCCEED HANNA

Dr. D. R. Scott was elected to succeed R. T. DELIVERY OF BONUS TO START JUNE 16

Veterans must be identified before registered letters containing their bonus bonds can be delivered to them, according to information given postmasters from adjoining towns and communities who met here Friday morning to receive instructions regarding delivery of the bonus bonds. Postmasters of Brownwood, Bangs, May, Zephyr, Brooksmith, Indian Creek, Cross Cut, San Saba, Goldthwaite, Grosvenor and Byrds attended the meeting, which was conducted by Postal Inspector Carl Besserer of Fort Worth division.

The postmasters of the various communities are making arrangements for the delivery of the bonds in their respective communities so that veterans in the different sections of the county will not have to come to Brownwood for their bonds. Postmaster George Kidd of Brownwood has arranged to use Memorial Hall for certifying bonds that veterans want in cash.

The hall will be kept open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily after delivery of the bonds is started. From 5 p. m. until 9 p. m. the postoffice will be kept open for their delivery, he said. The bonds will be mailed from Dallas June 15 and delivery will probably start here June 16.

The veteran must not attempt to fill out any part of his bond until he goes before a certifying officer. Bonds that are to be held must not be certified. A veteran may certify and cash some of his bonds and hold the others, but these latter must not be certified, according to the instructions given by Inspector Besserer.

After the bonds are certified, the veterans will be given receipts and the bonds will be mailed to Dallas for payment. Checks for the bonds will be mailed from Dallas directly to the veteran.

COMMISSION FIRM TO AUCTION LIVESTOCK IS ESTABLISHED HERE

One of the most important new businesses is to be established in Brownwood in many years was announced this week when W. S. Galloway and his son, H. S. Galloway, arrived here to establish the Brownwood Livestock Commission Company. The company will conduct weekly livestock auction sales, contacting buyers from all parts of the country, and handling all kinds of livestock.

Construction will be started this week on barns, pens and a large auction ring, located on a two-acre tract on Center avenue, formerly used by Evans & Anson. The work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible, and it is expected that it will be completed and the first auction held within the next 30 days. Auctions will be held weekly thereafter.

It has been a number of years since a livestock commission company has been operated in this section of the state, and Mr. Galloway selected Brownwood after considering a number of locations.

Local business leaders this week stated that the commission company would be a valuable addition to Brownwood business and would be an important means of advertising Brownwood as a livestock trading center. The company will bring in buyers from throughout Texas and from nearby states, especially through the corn belt, where buyers are interested in feeder cattle from Texas. An experienced auctioneer will be employed to handle the sales.

The barns and pens, as well as the auction ring, will be of the very latest type, Mr. Galloway stated. The barn will be so constructed that it can be extended as needed. Local materials are going into the construction, and local labor has been employed.

Several people will be employed by the commission sales company. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Galloway and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Galloway already have moved to Brownwood and established their homes here.

BROOKSMITH SHOW PLANS COMPLETED

Plans for the Brooksmith Community Day, to be held at Brooksmith June 18, were completed at a meeting of the general committee Wednesday. The public is invited to attend the all-day program, and many candidates are expected to be present. A livestock show, rodeo, free barbecue dinner at noon and several other interesting features are planned, according to County Agent C. W. Lehmburg. The program will start at 10 a. m.

About 25 to 30 calves will be exhibited by members of the 4-H boys clubs. J. D. Pruitt, county agent of Brady, will place the calves and make a talk on training and preparing calves for shows.

Sam Logan, assistant to the Coleman county agent, will conduct a sheep judging contest. All kinds of livestock will be shown in the exhibits. Every boy who exhibits a calf will receive a prize of some sort, County Agent Lehmburg said. The prizes are to be donated by Brownwood merchants.

News of Regatta Spread Through All West Texas

Many Inquiries Received and Racers Now Applying For Entry In Races

Window placards and handbills advertising the Lake Brownwood Regatta, to be held June 20 and 21, were distributed in the cities and towns of this entire section of the state this week as a part of the Regatta Association's intensive campaign to tell the citizens of Central and West Texas about the Brownwood celebration. C. A. Lindsey started Monday on a tour of 15 counties of this section in which he will distribute advertising material for the N. O. A. race meet and other attractions of the Regatta, and arrangements have been made to send Alton Stewart next week on a tour of the larger communities of this section to advertise the celebration by means of his loud speaker equipment.

Cards advertising the Regatta attractions have been mailed to the 24 hotels owned or operated in Texas by the National Hotels Company, which owns Hotel Brownwood, and will be placed under the glass covers of writing desks in all the hotel rooms. Stories about the Regatta have appeared in many newspapers over the state, and inquiries about the affair are being received almost daily by Chester Harrison, secretary of the Regatta Association, sponsors of the second annual Lake Brownwood Regatta.

Will Decorate Town

A contract for street decorations for the Regatta and the State Lions club convention to be held on the two days following the huge water festival has been let by the Brownwood Lions Club to the Oil Belt Decorations Company of Cisco. Work will be started on placing flags and banners along all streets in the business district the latter part of this week.

According to officials of the Lions club the town will be more elaborately decorated than at any other time in its history. Individual stores and other places of business are being asked to arrange special decorations for the occasion, and it is expected that the entire town will present a gala appearance for the thousands of visitors expected for the Regatta and the Lions Club convention.

Ticket sales have already started in all parts of the city. A number of organizations as well as individuals have entered the ticket selling contest sponsored by the Association and are competing for the cash prizes offered to the individual or organization which sells the most tickets.

Race Entries

Several racers have already mailed their official entry applications to Secretary Harrison. Racers are expected to be here from Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, Dallas, and several other Texas cities. In addition a number of racers from Oklahoma are planning to enter the N. O. A. contests Sunday, according to information received by Regatta officials.

Entries received during the past week are:

Driver A. J. Leverett, 2904 Robinson street, Austin, member of Shreveport Boat Club, Shreveport, La., to enter his boat, "The Shiek," in the Class C race. His racing number is L103.

Driver C. E. Green, 1613 Navasota street, Austin, member of the Kennelwood Boat Club, to enter his boat, "Cajun," in the class B race. His racing number is 8.

Plans are being made to arrange for a local preview of the moving pictures showing points of interest in Brownwood, taken recently for use in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce exhibit at the Fort Worth Centennial Exposition. The six reels of films, five of which are in natural colors, were approved by a committee from the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce which attended a showing of the films at Abilene Monday.

Members of the committee, which included Gus J. Rosenberg, chairman; Dr. Mollie Armstrong, and Chester Harrison, secretary of the local organization, are enthusiastic in their praise of the films. They are not only accurate and noteworthy from a standpoint of interest, but they are true works of art, according to Mr. Harrison.

The films showing scenes at Lake Brownwood and the state park were particularly good, members of the committee said upon their return. Other scenes included are Corgan Park, the schools and colleges, pean station, scenes on the highways and in the residential sections of town, public buildings, churches and the railway yards. Several shots also were made in the business section.

If arrangements for a local showing of the films can be made they will be brought here at an early date, according to chamber of commerce officials.

IV—COWBOY SONGS

The ditties of the plains, known as cowboy songs, began on the long, monotonous journeys that were necessary to get the cattle to market. Few of the songs were original. Like all popular ballads, they grew by accretion, but they are interesting as an expression of the people who sang them. At night the cattle were rounded up and bedded down. At dawn, when they began to graze, it was the duty of the cowboys to keep their heads pointed northward. After a few hours they were gathered in and strung along a trail, often more than a mile in length; and then the songs began.

The rhythm of the cowboy songs is that of the long, steady gait of the cow pony—sometimes a walk, sometimes a trot, sometimes a lope. "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie" is a night-herding song, sung as the cowboy walked his horse, crooning to produce a lulling effect on his thin, wild, long-horned cattle. In the day-herding songs, the rhythm changes to that of the lope of the horse. The whole purpose is to keep the cattle moving; frequently the songs are interspersed with staccato yelps, as the "Whoopie ti yi yo" in "Get Along, Little Dogies." In "The Old Chisholm Trail," the rhythm is that of the horse's trot and again there is the staccato of "Ki yi yoo, yoo, ya." "Home on the Range," often called the cowboy's "Home Sweet Home," contains the solemnity and awe-inspiring quality of the vastness and loveliness of the plains. These songs came straight from the heart of the cowboy as he spoke familiarly to his herd in the stillness of the night, under what O. Henry called the "tallest ceiling in the world."

will be held Tuesday afternoon, June 16.

Clio

The 4-H Club girls of Clio met June 2 at the home of Mrs. Leo Nelson. Six members were present and one visitor. Several members were absent on account of illness. We had one new member, Betty Jo Nelson. Winnie Ezra was elected song leader and Olene Ezra was elected secretary.

Club songs were sung and the girls talked about going to the encampment in July. Each girl should have her story written and her pillow made before she can go to the encampment. The next meeting will be June 16 at 10:30 a. m. at the Clio school house.—Leota Renfro, reporter.

Wilcox, Baptist minister, who is at home for a visit after serving at Pernambuco, Brazil for fourteen years, described the traditions and people of the South American country and told of its vast resources in an address before Brownwood Rotary Club Friday. He stated that although there have been two revolutions during his residence there the country is now at peace and now has an excellent form of republican government.

administered by a board of seven members, to be selected from the community. Other features of the cooperation of every member of the proposed organization will be worked out at the meeting, and it is hoped that the organization can be perfected within the next few days.

In urging attendance at the meeting members of the welfare committee stated that the magnitude of the program will necessitate the cooperation of every member of the community. Unless steps are taken to perfect the organization and arrange for its support there will be acute suffering among the needy, and it is definitely the community's responsibility to prevent this eventuality.

HIGHTOWER SECURES LARGE WEST TEXAS AREA FOR OPERATION

Hightower Oil & Refining Co. and one of the major companies have just completed negotiations whereby it secures a large, inside, partially developed lease in West Texas, and the major company takes over acreage in Hamilton County. While all the details of the transaction have not been made public, it is learned from reliable sources that rather large acreage was involved in the transaction.
Both of the contracting parties expressed complete satisfaction with the outcome of the negotiations. This is particularly so with the local company, as Hightower Oil & Refining Company has taken over a lease of approximately 320 acres which is practically proven for oil, having production on all four sides. The major company acquired interest in Hamilton County where the Hightower Oil & Refining Co. developed through core drill tests some very promising acreage.
Hightower Oil & Refining Co. has already sent one drilling rig to the new leases and it is said another will go out this week.

GARLAND L. BOWDEN SEEKS COUNTY OFFICE

Garland L. Bowden has authorized The Banner to announce his candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, subject to action of the voters in the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Bowden is a native of Russellville, Arkansas, and came here forty years ago, as a little boy, to grow up with the country. He attended the Brownwood schools, and in very early manhood married Miss Pauline Sowell, daughter of T. C. Sowell. For about eighteen years he was employed by the Texas & Pacific and Santa Fe Railroads, and since that time has been engaged in the furniture business. He is widely known throughout the county as a capable business man, and his qualifications for filling the office of County Treasurer are unquestioned. He pledges, if elected to the office, to give acceptable service to all the people of the county, and respectfully requests the active assistance of all his friends in every precinct as the campaign begins.

Another week, and the ten-year dream of most veterans of the World War will come true—the payment in full of the adjusted service compensation certificates through issuance of the bonus bonds.

Bonus Money

Accepting payments of the bonds will be a pleasant task for veterans. But it also imposes upon those receiving this gratuity certain obligations.

In presenting the cause of the veterans to Congress, and in building up a popular public demand for immediate payment, leaders of Veterans' organizations presented the obvious fact that ex-service men were in great need of the money at this time, and the implication was that this money would be put to good use by the veterans receiving it.

Well, it may be, and again it may not. That depends largely upon the individual veteran. Every conceivable scheme is being used by almost every manufacturer or retailer of any article of any kind to part the veteran and his cash.

Most veterans, it is to be hoped, will accept the wise counsel that now is being given them by national leaders of the American Legion: to be thrifty; to spend sparingly, to cash bonds only when and as needed, and to buy only necessities or use the money to retire pressing debts.

After all, the veterans who receive this money are not children any more. Eighteen years have passed since the World War was in progress, and eighteen years added to the age of even the youngest veteran makes of him a mature man.

It veterans will follow the advice of those leaders, who were most instrumental in securing for them this bonus payment, it will be a good thing. If not, it would be better had it not been made.

The presence in Brownwood last week of Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, for an oil and gas hearing, tended to bring to mind again the important role that oil is playing in the development of Texas; in the daily life of every individual in the Lone Star State.

Importance of Oil

Even in Brownwood, where oil has had an important part in the prosperity of this section of the State, there has been a more or less general feeling that oil is just a spectacular side-line to the regular routine of business.

Of the 252 counties of Texas, 210, or all but 42, derive some part of their revenue from oil, either in the form of production or development activity brought about by the hope for paying production. No other State even begins to equal this record; no other county in the world has production that has such an important bearing upon the industry as less than a half dozen counties in East Texas.

When it is considered from the standpoint of the revenue derived to Texas; when it is considered from the number of individuals it employs, then its importance is more easily recognized and appreciated, and the need for stringent proration is easily understood.

Oil has come to be the most important item in the growth of Texas and the prosperity of its citizens. And every indication points to its continued leadership for many years to come.

Business is bad for bank robbers throughout the United States. So bad that the National Bureau of Casualty and Survey Underwriters have announced that insurance rates against such criminals are coming down by twenty per cent in thirty-five states. It is an unusual situation in a country where we have come to regard all crime as on the increase.

Business Is Bad

The general improvement throughout the country is attributed to two factors: First, a rule, promulgated two years ago, requiring banks to keep 85 per cent of their insured money under delayed time locks, and, second, the increased activities of the various law enforcement agencies, particularly those of the Department of Justice, which have made bank robbery an increasingly undesirable business.

These factors no doubt have been the cause for the nation-wide reduction in bank robberies, but the cause in Texas is well known. Several years ago when the Texas Bankers Association offered a cash reward for dead bank robbers, and paid the award in many instances, there was general criticism of the scheme. But it was apparent in a few months that bank robberies were becoming less frequent; until now it is very unusual for a Texas bank to be robbed.

Making crime unattractive is the best way to prevent crime, whether it be bank robbery or kidnaping.

"We can be thankful that people in all walks of life realize more and more that government is a living force in their lives. They understand that the value of their government depends on the interest which they display in it and the knowledge they have of its policies." — President Roosevelt.

If names mean anything one of the naval officers at the Texas Centennial Exposition should go far in his profession. He was christened John Paul and his surname is Roach. He is a lieutenant, junior grade, and executive officer of the Texas Bluejacket Company, Paris, Texas, is his home.

Scenic backgrounds on the stage of "Cavalcade of Texas," huge spectacular production at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, are so realistic that the man-made rocks and mountains appear in photographs and under the performance lights as actual landscapes.

With the Republicans gathering at Cleveland to name a presidential candidate and choose timber out of a great pile of planks set forth, we feel that they really have a terrific job on their hands. It has been said that the Democratic platform is largely a pat on the back for what the present administration has been doing in Washington. A grand platform, I call it, and a grand party who will stick together on a platform and a candidate. Though sometimes they have not seen eye to eye with all that has taken place, they have found in the long run that it pays to stick together and that the present administration which was taken over as a sort of receivership has been made to pay dividends in health, happiness and the saving of our youth.

Last week I thought sure I would be among those present at the opening of the big birthday celebration, but alas, and goodness me, I must wait until July for my trip. However, radio has brought the whole beautiful opening pageant to me. I could see the Texas rangers, following the lone star flag, I saw the important battles through the wonderful descriptive ability of some of the speakers, I heard the grandson of Robert E. Lee, of course I heard Jimmie Allred, that young red heard whom we all admire so much here in western Oklahoma. Admiration for himself but especially for his dainty and lovable wife who is a girl from our parts. Tears filled our eyes when the band played "Tenting Tonight" but were turned to happiness and something else not quite nameable when that stirring tune "Dixie" came over the ether. Then, as two young Americans got up from their play to stand at attention when the band played "Star Spangled Banner" we were filled anew with loyalty and pride for a nation who could be joined as one in great mind and heart and devotion to one flag. Texas' under six flags has been a soul inspiring pageant to radio audiences all over the world and to those who saw it, it must have been a tremendous challenge to greater and grander living.

ON TEXAS FARMS

COLLEGE STATION—Approximately 200,000 work sheets have been filled out by Texas farmers to participate in the Agricultural Conservation program. It was estimated recently by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee upon surveying reports from county agricultural agents up to June 1. Members of the State Committee further pointed out that the 300,000 work sheets represent about 75 per cent of all Texas farm acreage. They said that out of the 500,000 farms in the state, some 100,000 should be eligible to receive grants. It was for the purpose of giving farmers more time to sign up work sheets that June 10 was set as the final date in Texas.

COLLEGE STATION—The State Agricultural Conservation Committee for 1936, consisting of seven members, has been appointed. It was recently announced by H. H. Williamson, Director of the Texas Extension Service.

The committee members, who will work out problems of the Agricultural Conservation Program during the year, are as follows: A. H. Montgomery, Darronzett, Texas; J. H. Watson, of New Castle; V. L. Cade, Slaton; H. A. Terry, Clarksville; George Chance, Bryan; L. C. Trousdale, Houston; and George Slaughter from Wharton. Members of the temporary State Agricultural Conservation Committee, which has been acting during the last few weeks, consisted of L. C. Trousdale, of 1935 Rice Board; George Slaughter of 1935 Corn-Hog Board; A. H. Montgomery, of 1935 Wheat Board and George Chance of the 1935 Cotton Board.

CHILDRESS—Mrs. Clyde Dennis, yard demonstrator in the Community Center Home Demonstration Club of Childress county has a windbreak planting for her yard improvement work. On the north and west, 900 small Chinese elms, osage oranges, desert willows, and tamarix have been arranged in the best manner for checking wind currents. The inside row next to the house is of Chinese elms, the tallest of the trees, then a row of osage oranges, a row of desert willows, and last a row of tamarix, a shrub which grows close to the ground.

The windbreak will thus have the contour of an earth dam and will not be easily penetrated by wind. The orchard is planted inside the windbreak for protection. "Windbreaks are a farm asset in more ways than one," says Mrs. Dennis. "They tend to protect the soil from mechanical injury by wind, and a belt of trees by the farm buildings protects them from extreme winter cold and summer heat and makes the home a pleasanter place in which to live."

SAN ANTONIO—Erwin Ripps, 4-H Club boy from the Buena Vista community in Bexar county, recently sold two pigs for $31.25 which made him a clear profit of $15.15, according to a report of H. F. Schlemmer, assistant county agent. The pigs cost Erwin $8.60. He fed them $7.50 worth of feed. The cost per pound of gain was approximately 4.5 cents. One of the pigs, a Duroc-Jersey, gained approximately 2.40 pounds per day during the entire feeding period. "The pigs were sold on the market at $7.75 per hundred pounds on a day when the market supply was high and prices low," the assistant county agent said. "This 4-H club boy's demonstration, however, showed that proper handling of livestock brings a profit in spite of low prices."

TOM'S TANTRUM

Texas is entertaining company this year. The welcome mat is out for hundreds of thousands of Centennial visitors—distinguished visitors, too, including among their number the President of the United States. For months, we have been figuratively dusting and sweeping and putting our house in order against the day when the company will come. We wanted them to have a good time and we particularly wanted them to see us at our best. And now it looks like our visitors are going to be placed in the uncomfortable position of the guest who is present when a peevish child of the family takes it into his head to stage a tantrum because he has been told he can't have something he wants. The Voters of Texas told Tom Hunter two years ago—and four years ago, too, for that matter!—that he couldn't have the governorship he wanted because they didn't think he was the man for the job. That was a bitter disappointment to Tom, especially so since he was a man of reputed wealth and had been accustomed to getting the things he wanted. For the last two years now he has been nursing his grudge—not against the voters who denied him, but strangely, against Jimmy Allred. The fact that Governor Allred has been proving to the voters in the meantime that they chose wisely has done nothing to help Tom's temper. And now, with our house crowded with honored guests, Tom has chosen this most unfortunate time to vent his spleen. His outburst of personal abuse at Austin when he opened his third gubernatorial campaign there June 2 is to be deplored. In any other year it might be shrugged off as only the bitter taste of sour grapes in the mouth of the disappointed office seeker. But this year we have a housefull of company. We can but apologize to our visitors—and take Tom out behind the woodshed for a ballot-spanking on July 25.—Floresville Chronicle-Journal, June 4, 1936.

Program for the first morning will be devoted to livestock judging, judging of field crops, judging poultry, insect study, and demonstrations in canning. In the afternoon recreational activities will be carried out, and in the evening each club will present a stunt on an entertainment program planned. The public is invited to attend this program. Work started the first day will be completed the second day, including placing of livestock classes and field crops. Let's invite the boys' parents to come to the camp the second day and bring basket dinners have been mailed out by Lehberg. Details of equipment needed the boys and other information has also been sent out by the county agent. During the county encampment delegates to the district encampment, to be held at Lake Brownwood June 28 and 29, will be selected as well as delegates from the county to the A. & M. College Short Course. C. E. Bowles, district 7 agent; L. L. Johnson, state club agent; R. R. Reppert, extension entomologist; and Mr. Jones, entomologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, will attend the encampment. County agents from several adjoining counties also will be invited to attend.

in this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Could Texas legally be divided? A. R. T. Lubbock. A. Yes. The resolution admitting Texas into the Union provided that it might be divided into as many as five states if the population is sufficient and the voters so decide.

Q. How much carbon black is produced in the Panhandle gas field? V. T. Alto. A. The 1935 production was 125,546 tons, with a total value of $10,551,680.

Q. Where and what is the "Steamboat House"? A. G. Ballinger. A. It was Sam Houston's home at Huntsville, in which he spent his last years, and was so named because of its resemblance to a steamboat of that period. It has been purchased by Col. J. E. Joney, of Houston, and presented to the State of Texas to be removed to Sam Houston State Park, Huntsville, where another of Houston's homes is located.

Q. Did Texas take any part in the revolution of Mexico against Spain from 1810 to 1821? T. B. D. Amarillo. A. No. Texas had only a few thousand civilized inhabitants at the time and they were so distant from the seat of government that they felt little or no concern about it.

Q. Where is the "Enchanted Rock"? E. L. O. Montague. A. Near Fredericksburg in Gillespie county. It is probably the largest one-piece granite rock in the world.

GRASSHOPPER THREAT REPORTED IN COUNTY

Reports have been received by County Agent C. W. Lehberg from all sections of the county that grasshoppers have already made their appearance and are doing a great deal of damage in cotton fields. Mr. Lehberg warns that the grasshoppers be poisoned before they become a serious menace and has given the following formula for poisoning:

"Thoroughly mix poison and bran together. Mix the liquid ingredients together, and then add to the dry ingredients and stir thoroughly. Add more water if necessary. The mixture should be thoroughly moist but not so wet and sloppy, but that it will readily fall apart in flakes when thrown from the hand. Scatter this broadcast so that the amount mentioned in the formula will evenly cover twenty acres of infested area. More than this is a waste.

"Some don't's: (1) Don't use lead arsenate or calcium arsenate. (2) Don't use corn syrup. (3) Don't place in piles or lines."

News of Brown County Communities

Ebony

The Wilmeth family enjoyed a family reunion over the week-end at Riverside Farm, the Wilmeth homestead. The occasion was the celebration of the eighty-third birthday of Grandma Wilmeth. Although her birthday was Wednesday, June 3, Grandma was the recipient of a surprise birthday party Saturday night, June 6. All the family assembled in the dining room where was displayed a cake decorated with wild pink plox and bearing 83 pink candles. A picnic supper was served with cake and punch at the last. Perhaps the best feature of the celebration to Grandma was that there were present all of her own children. James R. Wilmeth, Mrs. J. F. Bateman, Mrs. E. O. Dwyer, and Mrs. J. E. Briley, and all of her living step-children, Mrs. Nellie Malone, and Mrs. Clara Miller, and also her sister, Mrs. E. M. Abdill of Fort Worth. In-laws present were Mrs. James Wilmeth, E. O. Dwyer, J. R. Briley, and Bob Norman. Grandchildren, Bernice, Lucille and Gene Wilmeth; Grace Briley, Joe and John Robert Bateman; and Mrs. Bob Norman, Great-grandchildren, Jane and Nancy Norman.

Grandma Wilmeth and her sister, Mrs. Abdill, had rather romantic lives, both of them having lived on three continents. Both of them were born in Brazil—Grandma at Rio Grande de Sal in 1853 and her sister at Rio de Janeiro in 1857—the while their father was a physician in the army of Emperor Don Pedro. They were both educated in Europe. Grandma came to Texas when only sixteen. Her sister came much later. Grandma appreciates very much her quiet peaceful home on the Colorado where she has lived since 1888.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Clements and daughters, Ruth and Etta, left Saturday morning for Gladewater where they will attend a reunion of the Clements family.

Afterward they will be at home at the Wilmeth ranch. They have both been elected to teach the Neal School in San Saba County for next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman and children, Jane and Nancy, of San Angelo came in Friday to visit Mrs. Norman's aunt, Mrs. Nellie Malone, and to take back with them Mrs. Norman's mother, Mrs. Clara Miller, who has spent three weeks with her sister, Mrs. Malone.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer and little daughter, Edna Beth, left Saturday for Austin to be ready to enter the University Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Cawyer were both so-elected in the school at Pasche.

Early High Notes

Well, the reunion held at Jenkins Springs last Saturday and Sunday was a decided success. Everybody seemed to have a perfectly pleasant day on both days. On Saturday we had quartettes by Myron Embrey, Marvin Petross and his family, Mr. Avinger and Joe Ashley, whistling pieces by Oleta Melton of Ballinger, accompanied on the guitar by Arthur Vernon; talks by several of the candidates. Lunch was spread under the brush arbor both days. Many thanks to every one who responded by bringing big baskets of lunch. Plenty and to spare for every one there. Then the night program was rendered in the Early High auditorium. A stage was to have been built in front of the Jenkins Springs church, but it rained most all week and it was decided to have it at the school house. A full house listened to the program which met with great applause. The night program was in the form of a welcome by seven little girls each with a letter in their hands, spelling welcome. They were Dorothy Jean and Margie Merri Byrd, Betty Ellen Griggs, Nedda Petross, Hazel Mae Green, Betty Lamar McCollum and Frances Henderson, Colorado, Texas, who also gave a reading about her doll, Sally Lou. Another reading was given by Margaret Petross about Grandma's cookie jar, a song, "My Darling Baby" was sung by Wanda Jo Ribble of Lubbock. Other songs, readings and quartets were rendered by different ones. The music for the occasion was furnished by E. J. Carnes and Arthur Vernon. Then came the play, "The Laughing Cure," put on by nine characters, most of them Jenkins Springs under the brush arbor again where we listened to songs, talks by different ones and last but not least by any means, before the noon hour, a real interesting talk by Dr. Jewel Daughety, which all enjoyed very much. Then came the noon day spread again, which was a beautiful spread as usual at dear old Jenkins Springs. Then too soon in the afternoon came the parting song, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." It was decided to meet again next year at the same place, but no definite date was set.

Those coming here to attend the reunion from out of the county were Mrs. Bobby Henderson and two daughters, Mildred and Frances, Colorado, Texas; Mr. Early Johnson, Fort Worth; Mrs. Minnie Bell, Arpp, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Overton Ribble and two children, Lubbock; Mrs. Polk and son, Frank and wife of Mason, Pat Green of Temple, Lloyd Wyatt, Colorado, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Harris, Portales, New Mexico; Lee and Horace Irvin, DeLeon; several of the Jim Kirksey and Newt Scott family from Brysonville and perhaps several other whom I can't think of now.
