CLARENDON, DONLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, FEBRUARY 4, 1930

A Common Paper For Common People

County Agent Has Long Resided In The Panhandle

Knows Soil And Climatic Conditions And Field Crops That Pay

Donley county is most fortunate in securing the services of T. R. Broun as County Farm Agent because of his previous study and long years of practical training both as a practical farmer of Wheeler county and as a farm agent there.

The Commissioners Court has used excellent judgment in securing a man conversant with local needs rather than select a man from down state. Panhandle soil and crop conditions are unlike those of probably any other section. This being the case, one must remain here an indefinite period of time to thoroughly understand even the rudiments of knowledge required to succeed as a farmer.

Donley county has been without the services of a county agent for a number of years. Farmers themselves have been most insistent in demanding that they be furnished a man trained in agricultural problems, and are gratified to know that his services will be available after February 10th.

Mr. Broun has moved his family to Clarendon where they are now occupying the Fred Ballew home owned by Mrs. H. J. Edington.

Mrs. Broun is an enthusiastic worker in economic club work, she having brought along over three hundred cans of fruits, vegetables and meats to supplement the family larder. The ladies of the Home Economic Clubs will extend a hearty welcome to Mrs. Broun whose acquaintance will be mutually beneficial.

With Mr. Broun in charge of the agricultural work, and Miss Harvey Thompson continuing her work in charge of the C. H. D. clubs, rural citizens of our county will no doubt escape many of the trying problems of farm life this season.

Welfare Ladies Prepare A Sunday Meal For Local Jail Inmates

Several members of the Welfare Ladies organization prepared a noonday lunch for the prisoners of the jail Sunday. This is one of the many phases of the charitable side of the work of the ladies and the jail program is an annual affair.

County School Board Holds Session Here Saturday

Discuss Order Barring Rural School Money In Donley County

A meeting of the Donley County School Board was held at the Courthouse Saturday afternoon, H. T. Burton, superintendent of the City schools and president of the Board presiding.

A full membership consisting of H. T. Burton, E. L. Lewis, B. F. Jones, W. M. Pickering and Edwin Baley was present.

The recent injunction issued out of the court of Judge R. B. Minor of the 57th District threatened to work a hardship on some of the county rural schools that had not already received their apportionment when payment of $5,000,000 appropriated under the Texas rural aid law was tied up.

It now develops that W. S. F. y. Chief Justice of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals ordered the suspension of the injunction Saturday. It may be possible that the matter will be further held up if the matter is carried to a higher court. It is the contention of those opposed to the bill, that it is unconstitutional and that it will be necessary for the U. S. Supreme Court to pass on the matter before the funds may be paid out.

Mr. Burton stated that a call meeting will be held March 1st to further consider this and other matters affecting transfers from other districts, or from one district to another in the county.

Two Men Escape From Jail Sunday Morning

Two men sawed their way to liberty from the local jail about 2:30 a. m. Sunday morning and no clue has been found as to their whereabouts.

Paul Charles was the name given by one who was charged with the theft of the Walter Clifford car Christmas and who wrecked it near Trinidad and who was picked up at Pampa when it is alleged that he was driving a Colorado car which had been stolen.

The other party gave the name of McManus and was being held on a forgery charge, it being alleged that he forged the name of Glen Williams to a check a few weeks ago. He was picked up at Pampa also.

The Sheriff's department is making every effort to apprehend the men and expect to be notified of their capture at any moment.

Legion Member Is Given Military Funeral Here Sunday

Search For Relatives Gives No Clue—Past Remains A Mystery To Friends

After a ten day search for relatives without results, the body of Henry M. (Hank) Christianson was buried in the Citizens Cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2:30 with members of the local Post of the American Legion according to the usual military funeral.

The ex-service boys gathered at their Legion Hall shortly after noon and marched in a body to the Buntin mortuary where they took charge of the remains. The simple service at the grave consisted of scripture reading and prayer with a committal service which was said by Rev. Robt S. McKee, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The deceased never discussed his past to any extent with any one. He mentioned having lived with an aunt near Pittsburg, Kansas a few years during his childhood. He came to Texas in 1916 stopping at Lubbock where he worked at his trade as a painter.

It was while working at Lubbock that he conceived the idea of painting comic curtains after watching a Miss Lizzie Watkins doing that kind of work there. After returning from France, he painted a few curtains for schools near Lubbock.

He started his curtain work at Ralls in 1919 coming to Clarendon the same year, having formed a partnership with F. E. Bates. This partnership continued for several months when Bates sold him his interest and went to Iowa. Christianson continued painting scenic curtains and sign painting up to the time of his death and his curtain product is to be found in schools over west Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

In a business way he enjoyed the confidence of those with whom he had dealings. Being of a modest disposition, he made few friends but held them.

C. C. Powell will administer his estate which consists principally of life insurance, and the search for relatives will continue.

Preliminary Hearing Set For Wednesday Waived

The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Helen Bates set for Wednesday was waived after a consultation between County Attorney R. Y. King for the state and Judge A. T. Cole representing the defendant against whom a murder charge had been placed following the death of H. M. Christianson by shooting last week.

Bond was set at $5,000 awaiting the action of the grandjury. Mrs. Bates has been unable to make bond up to this time. Her mother, Mrs. Harris of Waco, has been here the past week but has not indicated how long she will remain in Clarendon. The grandjury will meet the second Monday in March.

Mrs. J. R. Reid, formerly Miss Grace Dubbs while living here, and who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. S. S. Dubbs for several days, has returned to her home in Brawley, Cal.

Resident Here Forty-Two Years Is Buried Sunday

Saw Clarendon Grow From Bunch Of Tents To A Modern Little City

Few men of the old west were content to settle down and stay in one place very long. An exception to that rule was S. E. (Uncle Shan) Atteberry, who died here Saturday.

Mr. Atteberry came to the old town location on the river and again moved with the town to Clarendon's present location when the Denver built through here about the year 1888. He operated the first hotel and when he and Mrs. Atteberry became aged, continued the hotel as a rooming house covering a period of forty-two years, or up until his death.

Few men have lived to see the changes first hand as he saw it. Railroad boom days, the wild and woolly west in her prime, the saloon days and Clarendon as we know it now.

Our subject was a man typical of the old west in that he took positive stands for right as he saw it. He refused to permit personal friends to change his views and popular opinion could not budge him an inch. No man appreciated a favor more or was quicker to resent an insult than he.

He led a quiet life, attended strictly to his own business and his work was his bond. He was honest in his dealings and demanded the same treatment from his fellow man. At seventy-four he passed from the scenes of his early manhood. Pioneering for him had always been an attraction. He loved the west and her traditions and his friends were those who had withstood the storms of carving from a vast empire a suitable place where he of the younger generation might live in peace.

Surviving him are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. R. L. Bigger, and two sons—Paul of Amarillo and Clyde of Pampa of the immediate family and a number of other relatives.

Mitchell Barber And Beauty Shop Has New Home

The Mitchell Barber and Beauty shop is now occupying their new home in the Latson building. The beauty parlor is located in the balcony where five separate booths are arranged, each for a special purpose.

A booth is provided for permanent waving, one for shampoos, another for facials, and a finger wave and marcel booth each. Shower baths may also be had. Soft water has been made possible for use throughout both departments—barber and beauty shops.

Heath Cleaner Occupies New Quarters

The Heath cleaning plant now occupies quarters in the Latson building facing north nearest the Telephone Exchange. New and modern machinery has been added and extra men put on the force.

The move was made Monday of this week and work was being turned out within a few hours after the machinery was installed in the new location.

County Commissioners Meet With Hospital Board

A joint meeting of the County and Hospital Boards was held at the Adair hospital Monday with practically every physician in the county present. Matters affecting the welfare of the hospital were gone over and financial records examined.

It was found that the hospital has been practically self sustaining since taken over by the county in October. All the wards and extra rooms are now occupied by patients. Five nurses are in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leeright and little daughter stopped over with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Noble Friday on their way to Dallas for a visit.

Poison Squad Will Visit Donley County

Secretary G. L. Boykin announces that J. M. Hill, representing the U. S. Biological Survey, will be here on the 13th of this month and those wishing his services should file their name at the Chamber of Commerce office at once.

This service is free and many owners of land infested with coyotes, prairie dogs, rabbits, etc. have already signified their intention of taking advantage of this opportunity to rid their lands of pests.

Marvin Jones Is Heard On Monopolies In Debating Bill

Makes Plea For Producer And Warns Against Lax Law Enforcement

In his speech before Congress in discussing the Haugen bill to impose a tax on butter substitutes, Congressman Marvin Jones of this district took occasion to point out some of the defects in enforcement of laws already passed. Mr. Jones is of the opinion that centralization of authority in Washington has caused trusts, combines and monopolies to disregard the law rather than check them.

"I want to take a plea for a change in the order of things," he said, "law already enacted are not being properly enforced, and mergers, chain organizations, and holding companies have been allowed to develop until the yeomanry of the country is being destroyed."

"I have repeatedly warned as to these dangers, but those in charge of the machinery of government have refused to take heed."

Congressman Jones said the rights of the states must be recognized and state local control preserved in all except those rights of a strictly national character.

"There must be a curbing of the mergers, combinations and holding companies and the gambling on the exchanges," he continued. "These tremendous concerns are setting prices and dictating terms to smaller concerns all over the country and in every phase of business life. The independent concern is being compelled to fight for its life, and individual rights are being lost."

Says Measure "Packers Bill" The Texan told his colleagues that he believed the laws against unfair methods should be enforced and wherever necessary, strengthened, thus protecting the right of the individual to fair play.

"I am not opposed to big business, I glory in the accomplishments of American business men, but these accomplishments must and should be kept within the terms of law and business of what ever nature must be made to deal fairly. There can be no other way to permanent prosperity," he concluded.

Getting back to the discussion of the Haugen bill, Congressman Jones referred to it as a "packers bill." "That bill would permit packers to manufacture their products at one-fourth cent a pound tax, and would impose a tax of 10 cents a pound on independent manufacturers of oleomargarine, eventually putting them out of business," he stated.

Congressman John C. Ketham, of Michigan, one of the proponents of the Haugen bill, addressed himself to the Democratic members of the South and Southwest, as those most interested in cotton growing.

"I am submitting figures to you to show that the proceeds from the sale of cotton seed oil to manufacturers of oleomargarine and similar products were $2,817,320 and the sale of cottonseed for the purpose of feeding dairy cattle totaled $107,870,000 a year," he stated.

Thousands of telegrams and letters from dairying concerns and butter manufacturers throughout the country have been received by delegates in Congress urging support of Haugen's measure, which would levy a tax upon all butter substitutes and cooking compounds, and would refer to them as oleomargarine.

Annual Banquet Most Successful Of Any Held Here

Program And Feed Follows Good Work Of Year In Compliment To Board

Without a doubt the successful banquet affair of last Tuesday reflected the good judgment and harmonious relations of the work of the Chamber of Commerce Board of the past year.

The attendance was the largest of any similar event and the expressions of good will on the part of visitors, farmers and business men could not have been more cordial.

Visitors from nearby towns were made to feel thoroughly at home, took a part in the program and furnished the best talks. The speaker of the evening, Joseph Leopold of Dallas, was the most scholarly and yet the most sensible that it has ever been the good fortune of many to hear judging from expressions of approval heard from many.

Henry Ansley, agricultural editor of the Amarillo News-Globe may not know much about farming, but as a toastmaster, he grades A-plus. Henry kept the entire audience on their toes from beginning to end. Speeches were cut short and nothing bodesome marred the general good feeling of the evening. The idea of giving the younger people a chance to express themselves met with popular favor.

Despite the fact that those of the last year's board made a new record in accomplishments, the new Board will try even harder to see that all Donley county continues to keep pace with the rapid development of the Panhandle.

T. M. Pyle, accompanied by his son Horace, visited his nephew, Flop Pyle and family here over the week end. Mr. Pyle is a Brewster county rancher but is wintering some seven thousand head of cattle near Dalhart.

Mrs. H. F. Smith of Childress spent the week end here as a guest of her sister, Mrs. S. S. Dubbs.

Secretary Local Chamber Paid Compliments

In discussing the progress made by the local Chamber of Commerce the past year, business men and others are giving much of the credit to Secretary G. L. Boykin whose training, intense interest and constant attention to the work has won for him many admirers over the Panhandle as well as among the home folks where his obliging disposition and ability to get results is best known.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Boykin will remain in Clarendon another year since prospects for successful efforts were never more promising.

Wood Changes Grocery Name And Market Added

The Wood grocery owned by A. N. Wood will henceforth be known as the "Hello World Grocery." A meat market has been added to the grocery service to be managed by H. S. Williams, local pastor of the Apostolic church, which is holding services for the present in the Denver hotel but will build during the year on lots already purchased on the east side.

Clarendon Furniture Comp'y Celebrate Saturday

The Clarendon Furniture Company celebrated their opening day Saturday with a good crowd on hand all day. The firm occupies the greater portion of the ground floor of the new Latson building including the balcony.

New lines are being added constantly and Messrs. Heath and Paxson, owners of the firm, are very optimistic over the outlook for a good business this year.

Frank Whitlock was called to Joaquin, Texas Sunday due to the death of his half brother, Earl Thomas. He went by stage as far as Ft. Worth.

Bank Building Offices Are Being Overhauled

All of the offices on the ground floor of the Farmers State Bank building are being replastered and are to be further brightened up with a paint job to be done by I. B. Pierce.

Judge Link's office has received quite a bit of attention and the office formerly occupied by Dr. Gal-laway is being worked over and will be occupied by Dr. Weston when the repair work is completed.

It is likely that the outside of the building will get a share of attention with a new paint job on the wood and iron work. This matter is under contemplation at present.

This is just one of the many jobs of a similar nature that will be undertaken just as soon as the weather becomes settled lasting until well into the spring, say owners of other business buildings on the Main street.

C. of C. Board Assumes New Labors On Thursday

Veteran Worker Is Chosen To Head New Board For The Coming Year

A full attendance of the 1929 board of the local Chamber of Commerce met with a one hundred percent attendance of the new Board at the Municipal building Thursday afternoon.

Holdovers from the old Board are: T. D. Nored, U. J. Boston and Homer Mulkey. New members elected are: Tom C. Connally, Alvin J. Bryan, A. A. Mayes, Holman Kennedy. These men with G. L. Boykin, as secretary, compose the Board for the year ahead.

Tom C. Connally was elected as president of the new Board. Mr. Connally is credited with having given more study to development work—both city and country—than possibly any other man of this section. Having a talent for clearly expressing his views eminently fits him for the place to which he has been chosen.

T. D. Nored, manager of the West Texas Utilities company, was chosen as vice president. Mr. Nored has entered heartily into every movement for the betterment of conditions from the first day that he arrived in Clarendon. No man stands higher in the estimation of our people, or is more willing to put his shoulder to the wheel and make it go than he.

As a choice of the membership, Messrs. Holman Kennedy, A. A. Mayes and Allen J. Bryan are thoroughly conversant with the needs and problems of this section, and that there will be a decided improvement in the work this season is the opinion of the leading business men of the town.

Greater progress was made during 1929 than for many years. New plans were tried out and found profitable. In turning over to the new Board the work of many problems, the Board of 1929 set a pace that will keep the new Board busy.

The new Board has the advantage of continuing plans already evolved. It has also a County Agent with whom they can co-operate and make greater progress than if working alone.

The Board will hold their next meeting on the 13th of this month at which time a report of the Committee of Committees composed of A. A. Mayes, Allen J. Bryan and T. B. Nored will make their report. It is the duty of this Committee to suggest names of parties most suitable to serve on the several committees.

Evangelistic Meetings At The Presbyterian Church

The Evangelistic Meetings are drawing good crowds and arousing a hearty interest.

Dr. Gaines B. Hall, of Wichita Falls, is an earnest, straight forward preacher who preaches real gospel sermons.

The meetings will continue every night this week, except Saturday, closing with the services morning and afternoon, Sunday. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Thompson Spends Busy Month In C. H. D. Work

Part Of Work Will Be Taken Over By New County Agent

Winter months generally afford a rest for most people, or at least a slackening up of the regular routine of work. Not so with the County Home Demonstration agent's duties.

During the past month, Miss Harvey Thompson spent twenty and a half days in the field with her clubs and giving demonstrations in variety in the homes of club members.

Five and a half days were spent in the office where any day means a busy day. Many are the calls for assistance and the office day of Saturday of each week is generally the busiest.

Thirty-one visits were made to homes where personal instruction was given. The subjects covered in these visits included poultry culling, home decoration, canning, etc.

Miss Thompson also met with twenty-seven Clubs during the month. Three hundred and twenty-four women and girls attended these demonstrations as a whole which gives one some idea of the scope of the club work of the county, and the importance of results that are being obtained.

A living room contest that closes April 15th is arousing a great deal of enthusiasm. Nine have entered this contest in which Mrs. J. D. Stocking and Mrs. M. T. Crabtree compose a helping committee to assist in scoring the rooms.

With the new county agent, Mr. T. R. Broun, taking over much of the work of Miss Thompson the past season, she will be enabled to accomplish more in her regular line of work.

Dodsonville's Largest Store Destroyed By Fire

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the N. L. Wesson general mercantile store at Dodsonville Wednesday. Loss of stock will amount to about $25,000 and the building loss is estimated at $10,000. Insurance to the amount of $18,000 was carried.

Little Theatre's First Production Is Highly Approved

Large Audience Grets The Players With Evidences Of Loyal Support

"The Lion and The Mouse," the first production of the Clarendon Little Theatre was given Friday, January 31 at the College Auditorium.

The house was well filled which is an indication that the people at large are heartily in sympathy with the Little Theatre movement and are co-operating with the directors in making a success in Clarendon.

The outstanding ability of the director, Mrs. Frank Stocking, manifested itself in the splendid manner in which the play was given.

It was an intensely interesting play and one of the highest type which required sixteen characters, each one of whom were perfectly suited to their parts and displayed real talent in their performance. A great deal of time and earnest work was given to rehearsals and the entire cast showed a very fine spirit of cooperation.

The leading roles were carried by Mrs. Elba Ballew, Mr. Frank Stocking and Mr. T. D. Nored.

The audience was highly entertained and very much pleased with this production and are looking forward to other plays which will be given through the spring months by the Little Theatre.

The proceeds will go to the fund for securing a much needed new curtain for stage at the College Auditorium.

WISDOM.

Believe It or Not says that Caesar could write, talk, read and listen all at the same time. He should have had Solomon's job with 400 wives.

NEARER CIVILIZATION.

The ancients went to war, captured enemies, made of them slaves and built pyramids, graven images, hanging gardens that were practically worthless. Today we have the radio, airplanes, automobiles, electric lights, telephones and hospitals and surgery beyond the fondest dreams of people of a century ago.

BETTER BUTTER.

When one sees a batch of imitation butter headed for the home of a Donley man, its a cinch he is not helping the local price of butter. Neither is it going to boost the price of cream if very many people are guilty of the practice.

Several ladies market Donley county butter wrapped in a paraffin paper with their name and address on the wrapper and get a premium for the product. Others should do the same. If you haven't confidence in your product, how can you expect others to have?

YOUR COMMUNITY.

The fact that a number of communities in Donley county have regular church services, Sunday school every Sunday, box suppers and school entertainments from time to time, simply means that good citizens are going to be produced in that community.

When your community becomes so dead that your young people are compelled to go twenty miles away in order to find amusement, it is time for red-blooded farmer folk to wake up to the fact that the greatest community asset is slipping. The christian farm home cannot be beaten as a cradle of citizenship. The farm homes must continue to contribute the brains of the nation now as they have always done.

MUSKRAT FARMS.

The muskrat is a native of Donley county. His pelt has reached fabulous prices and going higher. Great muskrat farms have been established in Louisiana. In 1921 the St. Charles Gun Club of St. Charles Parish, Louisiana composed of 50 members put up $1000 each for the purchase of additional land for a muskrat farm that the rodents might keep the waters clear of plant growth for better fishing.

"In the season of 1926 and 1927 they trapped and sold sufficient muskrat pelts, also carcasses for food consumption, and musk to perfume manufacturers to pay for a new luxuriously-equipped country club house, golf course and grounds, costing $350,000, and have paid all club overhead and operating costs since 1921, and besides, each member has received $18,000 in cash dividends this year.

RURAL ADVERTISING.

Michigan State College of Agriculture has established a course in farm advertising. It will teach students how to dispose of farm products without waiting for the middle man to come along and fix his own price. It will bring producer and consumer into closer touch.

It will also teach rural residents that advertising will create a market for their products where no market was known to exist, and that advertising is the cheapest method of disposing of their products.

We can abundantly prove to any one interested that all our rural advertising has paid. The cost is a trifle. Often a thirty cent ad has made the advertiser over fifty dollars. Come to the Leader office and make us prove it.

QUICK SERVICE.

In the 70's when the farmers of the middle states took a load of stock to the Chicago markets, crooks followed them home and took the money off them. Now they lift it off them on the main street saving the farmer the strain of anxiety and responsibility of carrying the money back home.

Here is the way the papers reported the deal in 1870:

The Gazette reported that Capt. John Dysart, of Nachusa Station, was robbed of $3,500 by burglars who blew open his office safe and took the money. He had been to Chicago and sold a load of cattle and it was supposed the robber shadowed him all the way home.

Here is a 1930 version of a similar affair as reported in the White Hall paper:

J. R. Carter of near White Hall, Illinois was slugged Friday and seriously injured three blocks from the Stock Yards bank when on his way to make a deposit of a check which he had received for three cars of hogs.

COMMERCIAL FEUDALISM.

That's the new name given the chain stores by the politicians who are running for office making the chain store proposition one of their leading planks.

These politicians include the Attorney General of Alabama who is a candidate for the governorship this time. Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana is another, and is expected to succeed himself. Ex-Senator Mayfield will talk chain store stuff to the Texas folks this season.

If one is in doubt about a certain store being a member of the "chain", ask them to contribute to something locally. If the local manager hands out the information that he will have to write "the manager" before he can do anything, you have found a chain store. Stay out of there. Trade with merchants who help build your churches, schools, roads and have a personal interest in the welfare of the county where you live.

SALOON AT HOME.

With all the debates pro and con on the prohibition question now going on in our national body at Washington, to say nothing of the side issue one hears every day when remedies in great variety are suggested, we believe the following is the most novel suggestion made up to date. This suggestion appeared in the Earlville (Illinois) Leader last week:

"Start a saloon in your own home. Be the only customer. (You will have no license to pay.) Give your wife ten dollars to buy a gallon of whiskey and remember there are sixty-nine drinks in a gallon. Buy your drinks from no one but your wife and by the time the first gallon is gone she will have $23.50 to put in the bank and $10.00 to start business again. (She can throw in two drinks on the house.) Should you live ten years and continue to buy booze from her and then "cash in" she will then have enough money to bury you decently, educate your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man and quit thinking about you entirely."

Clarendon College Museum.

There is nothing more interesting to the average student than a museum. It just happens that several citizens of Clarendon and surrounding territory have many valuable articles which could and would be contributed to a properly managed museum.

Some of these articles date back four hundred years and cover a wide variety of subjects. Some of the subjects had much to do with the early settlement of the southwest. Relics of pioneers are most interesting and are admired by practically every modern day resident of the Panhandle.

Could a feasible plan be worked out, Donley county offers a field of prehistoric animal remains second to none on the globe. Museums like the Smithsonian of Washington and Field's at Chicago have spent thousands of dollars taking remains of prehistoric animals from Donley county. Why not make a collection of these priceless relics before they are all taken east where they will be inaccessible to ninety-nine percent of the people who have a first right to them?

The relics of prehistoric value include the three-toed horse, saber-tooth tiger, imperial and common elephant, camel, and a large variety of marine animals and reptiles. In addition to the above, many relics of the stone age may be readily gathered and classified. These include idols, spear points, arrow heads, hammers, scrapers, axes, etc. fashioned from stone, flint and stone of similar texture entering into their construction largely.

A small collection has been placed in the main hall, but this could be increased several hundred times at small cost.

CARLSBAD CAVERN VISITORS.

During the year 1929, a total of 78,469 visitors were shown through Carlsbad caverns. They represented 48 states and China, Japan, Syria and India as well as northern European countries.

Advertising Man's Nightmare

Eventually, why not now, you'll drink milk from contented cows with a skin you love to touch, not a coffin a carload; reach for a little fairy in your home that hasn't scratched yet, and see what a whale of a difference there is in the Gold Dust Twins, when you see America first and a Fisher body made out of Campbell's soup with 57 varieties of Old Dutch Cleanser, because it floats, comes out like a ribbon, lies flat on the brush, gets it, for the hair of the women who cares says it with flowers, while you're riding in a Cloud you can't go wrong in the Ozarks, there's a reason, for when it rains it pours. —The Pathfinder.

WOMAN

She's afraid of a roach, she'll scream at a mouse, But she'll tackle a husband as big as a house.
She'll take him for better, she'll take him for worse.
She'll split his head open and then be his nurse;
And when he is well and can get out of bed, she'll
Pick up a teapot and throw at his head.
She's faithful, keen-sighted, loving and kind,
She's crafty, she's witty, deaf, dumb and blind.
She'll lift a man up, she'll cast a man down
She'll crown him her king, she'll make him her clown.
You fancy she's this, but find out she's that,
For she'll play like a kitten, and bite like a cat.
In the morning she will, in the evening she won't,
And you're always expecting she does—but she don't.
She'll love you in truth, and ignore your worst fib—
And there you have WOMAN, Man's long lost rib.

We Didn't Hear It This Way

The occupants of the parlor car of the limited were startled by the abrupt entrance of two masked bandits.

"Throw up yer hands," commanded one of them. "We're gonna rob all the gents and kiss all the ladies."

"No, pardner," responded the other bandit gallantly. "We'll rob the men but we'll leave the ladies alone."

"Mind yer own business, young fellow," snapped a female passenger of uncertain age. "The other man's robbing this train."

PEEKING

It was in a talkie the other nite. The old guy and the affected young lady were talking and she informed him that she did not eat tomatoes. The old guy got a little disgusted and said: "Yeh and I suppose you take a bath in a bath tub!"
"Certainly," she replied. "Where do you take one? In the sink?"
The old guy shook his finger at her deprecatingly: "Oh-oh," said he "you've been peeking!"

Temple of Truth

By the Apostle

Well you never can tell what these little folks are going to do. Week before last the Apostle got smart and put a puzzle in this column. That did not amount to so much but he was simple enough to offer a dollar for the correct answer accompanied by a fifty-word writeup.

It wasn't two days until an enterprising youngster of eleven years grabbed off that offer and also grabbed off my dollar. The correct answer is "The Moon." Here is his letter:

"The moon is the earth's satellite, is also the earth's oldest planet, yet it is new every four weeks. It revolves around the earth at a distance of 240,000 miles. "The moon shines because the sun's light is reflected from it to us. The moon's face always faces us.

T. Jones, plant pathologist, noted hunter and after banquet speaker, is scheduled to address the Glen Rose, Texas Chamber of Commerce banquet bunch the first week in February. He claims to have a prepared speech that will make a porcupine shed his feathers.

M. S. Parsons says he once knew a Scotchman who gave his best girl a box of stationery with her name printed on it and she then refused to marry him until she had used it up, and she would write no letters because postage cost too much.

Geo. H. McCleskey says many well-meaning people talk about the value of saving; that's jawbone. Some folks wish they had saved or were saving; that's wishbone. A few people resolve to begin saving now, and do it—that's backbone.

Olin Noble, who knows as much about an auto as any man in the Panhandle, says this is a feminine age—Lizzies everywhere, three Ruths in congress and most of the cars run by Ethyl.

Went to a 20-cent talkie the other night and paid fifty cents for it. The show did not start on time and I went to sleep, waking up again in the middle of the act. A cake-eater sat right behind me and helped out the leading lady with her singing—nobody could stop him. He was with a flapper whose jaws manipulated at the rate of 144 times a minute in an effort to get the best of a chaw of gum. Occasionally as she drew her breath, she made the gum pop for a change.

The female characters in the play were fairly well dressed in the vicinity of the waist, wore big ear bobs and seemed to make a big hit with the married men who were not accompanied by their wives.

The couple in front of me hugged ravenously—if you know what I mean. She smelled like talcum and used her compact to daub her face after every hug. Some show! But it was not in Clarendon.

A former Clarendon citizen wrote the Apostle during the blizzard that it was so hot at his home near Tucson, Arizona at that time that when the coyotes chased rabbits they all walked. No doubt of it! That's the same place where a fellow came back from hell after a blanket, too. We'll take ours in old Donley.

CLARENDON HOLDS GROOM TO A CLOSE DEFEAT 27 TO 29

Wednesday night the Clarendon Basketball team returned a game to Groom. Earlier in the season the Groom boys outplayed the Clarendon quintet to the tune of 57 to 17, but it was a different game Wednesday night. The game was close from the first tossup to the finish. Clarendon forged to the lead twice only to be put back a few points. The thrilling part of the game was to watch Benton Smith cover the fast, goal shooting ace of the Groom Tigers Townsend. Townsend is the main cog in the Groom team and with him covered the Broncs were able to keep the score more evenly than in the previous game. With Dillard getting his share of the tip offs to either Baird or Nichols the Clarendon scoring machine was working fine. The home boys are expecting to take the next game with Groom, which will be played on the home court in the near future.

CLARENDON DEFEATS LELIA LAKE IN PRACTICE GAME

Thursday night the Lelia Lake boys came up for a practice game with the home boys. The local quintet held the high score of 57 at the end of the sixth quarter while the Lelia Lake boys had scored 22 points. A game and a half was played with both the first and second teams of both schools playing at intervals. These teams have played several games with Clarendon coming out on top in the greater portion of the games.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, BUT WE HAVE A GOOD GIRLS TEAM

For the first time in many years the Clarendon girls' basketball team downed the fast and far famed Hedley girls. This was a good game and the home girls should be congratulated on their team and their coach, Miss Mamie Price.

They also won over the Wellington girls' team last week in a good game. Not to be outdone by the boys, the girls beat the Lelia Lake girls on the home court Wednesday night.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

The boys' basketball team has beaten Lelia Lake and Hedley in practice games which means that we have a good chance of winning the county championship. Now, with both a winning boys' and girls' team, why can't we come out and back the locals for the county championship?

SEEINGS AND HEARINGS AROUND THE CAMPUS

"Since the snow is gone, there will be no more snowballing on the campus says Mr. Burton.

Educational pictures are being shown in the class room by Dean W. A. Clark, Jr. for the benefit of the students.

Due to the fact that the sun is coming up earlier these days, Mr. Stocking and Miss Wiedman are starting 7:30 classes. They will be better than the late afternoon classes if the students will be on time and stay awake during the classes.

The interscholastic league work will be started in a few days. This will be unsatisfactory to some of the students, but as a whole the student body will take up the work with real interest with the hope of being a representative to the county and district meet. We expect to send more students to Austin this year than ever before. My hat is off to the student who will try to be a winner in some of the contests. This phase of the school work is one of the most interesting parts of the school year. It consists of spelling, essay writing, declaiming, debating, extemporaneous speaking, tennis and athletics. This work will develop the student in more ways than one.

ARIZONA KEEPS HER TRACKS

February, 1930
The prehistoric dinosaur tracks in Dinosaur Canyon in the Painted Desert region are going to remain the property of Arizona, thanks to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur. These ancient tracks, pressed in solid rock, were discovered about a year ago. Recently a group of archaeologists and paleontologists proposed to move them to Pennsylvania for scientific study. But Arizona put up a strong protest with the result that Secretary Wilbur informed Governor John C. Phillips that the tracks would stay right where they are.

Says He and Wife Will Always Speak a Good Word For Orgatone (Argotane)

"Anyone who had noticed the dreadful condition my wife was in can readily see the great change Orgatone (Argotane) has made in her" said J. E. McCollum living on rural route No. 1 Amarillo, Texas.

"My wife has improved so much that her neighbors often speak of it. Her health has been broken up for years and she suffered from stomach trouble. Her appetite left her and what little she did eat would sour on her stomach causing gas to form. She was never able to eat breakfast at all. She was weak and dizzy and had terrible raging headaches and was losing weight and strength. She had severe cramps in her stomach and sides most of the time and would not sleep and toss at night and never got very much rest. She had a bad case of constipation.

"Since taking Orgatone (Argotane) my wife is greatly improved and feels like a different person. She isn't bothered with stomach trouble and constipation and Orgatone has certainly helped her and we think it is a wonderful medicine and both will always speak a good word for it."

Genuine Orgatone (Argotane) may be bought in Clarendon at the Stocking's Drug Store.

SOCIETY

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEET IS HELD AT ALANREED

The Epworth Leaguers of the Clarendon District met at Alanreed Sunday February 2nd, to complete the business that had to be postponed on account of the small attendance at the meeting here in January.

The Sunday School hour was observed by a discussion of the lesson led by Vance Swinburn. Bro. Hardy preached a very inspiring and original sermon on the topic "Rebellious Youth."

At 12:30 lunch was served picnic style in the church yard. There was an abundance of delicious sandwiches, cakes, pies, salads and coffee.

The business session was called at 2:00 and a report of the money sent in by each League was given. The next District Rally is to be held at Memphis in May. The Green Belt Union again won the Loving Cup for having the most members, officers, and pastor present. Clarendon District ranks high in the race for the Loving Cup which is awarded each year at Summer Assembly. Summer Assembly is to be held in Canyon this year and it is expected that every League in the Clarendon District will have one or more representatives at this assembly.

A resolution was adopted that more of the pastors of the District make it a point to be present at these Rallies as their presence helps the respective Unions in the race for the loving cup. The Secretary's Book of the Clarendon Senior League made a grade of 95 per cent which is an excellent grade and speaks well for the Clarendon League.

There was nineteen present from the two Clarendon Leagues and those who did not attend missed a treat.

Industry Stimulator

Lord Churston, British financier, on his recent trip to West Texas said:

"There's no chance of comparing America and England. You have the cheapest power possible. Everybody can use it, whereas in England it can't be done. I pay 25 cents a kilowatt hour for electric service. It is impossible for all classes to have this convenience. For instance in the agricultural areas, where laborers are paid 31 shillings a week, they could not afford to buy electric service.

"West Texas should be very thankful for cheap power and for its availability to all. Big power companies certainly are of great stimulation to Texas Industry."

EDUCATION

Rural Aid:

Rural schools of Texas face disaster. An injunction granted in a Texas county district court Saturday restrains educational and financial officers of the State from paying out any of the $5,000,000 appropriated for the biennium for rural aid purposes.

Judge R. B. Miller, a distinguished jurist of the old school, granted the injunction on the ground that the rural aid law was unconstitutional of being discriminatory.

Some 3,600 rural schools will be forced to close. Operations of the Rural Aid Division of the State Department of Education are suspended. Approximately 15,000 high school students must drop out of school. Many rural school districts do not have high schools, but sent their scholastics to high schools in other districts. The tuition of these students is paid from the State rural aid funds. The amount allowed for the biennium is $400,000.

The rural aid funds are furnished to schools meeting certain requirements and qualifications. The State guarantees these schools a six and one half months term. Local and per capita apportionment funds are used to continue the length of terms after the aid funds are expended. It is feared that large numbers of short term schools will have reached the end of their terms before relief can be obtained.

Rep. Vernon Lemens of Glen Rose declared: "Our rural school system is now in a worse predicament than the Chicago public schools. The situation is extremely critical. Our rural schools are far more important than any other branch of our educational system. It is imperative that the Governor and the Legislature take immediate steps to remedy the defects of the rural aid law."

State officials are hoping that higher courts will reverse the decree of Judge Miner. A decision from an appellate court is expected soon.

Meanwhile, legislators have taken immediate interest in the situation and prison legislation has become of secondary consideration. Governor Moody has indicated that if necessary he will submit the subject of the Legislature.

There are those who express the opinion that the Legislature cannot remedy the defects of the rural aid law, the decision of Judge Miner being too far-reaching in its conclusions.

However, the House Education Committee met Monday afternoon to discuss methods of legislative remedy. D. F. Whitehurst, assistant attorney general, advised the committee not to introduce any legislation until an appeal can be completed.

One of the legislative remedies suggested is to have a bill passed creating the Rural School Division of the Department of Education. An appropriation to the Department of Education would operate the Division. This division would take the place of the Rural Aid Division; now suspended from operation by the injunction, operating expenses having been paid from rural aid funds.

A separate appropriation of $400,000 to pay high school tuition of rural scholastics has been suggested as another legislative remedy. If necessary, per capita supplementary funds could be appropriated. This plan would require no qualifications of rural schools for receiving State aid, but would make the grant subject to the approval of the Department of Education, having the same effect as the present rural aid law, according to Rep. Ray Holder, Chairman of the Education Committee and Lancaster newspaper publisher.

"We may not be lawyers, but we are going to find some way to get around that injunction," declared Holder. He appointed a sub-committee to draft emergency relief bills.

S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said that 250 rural schools would close next week if relief is not forthcoming immediately. He said that he will make a strong appeal to teachers of all schools affected by the injunction to hold open their schools until March. Marrs believes that local interests will contribute enough to pay salaries of Teachers rather than have their schools close down.

Governor Moody has declared his belief that the schools will remain open. "We have been operating under the rural aid law, virtually word for word as it is now, for 15 years. I believe Judge Miner is following the law as he sees it. Surely the schools have enough money from their ad valorem taxes to continue a few weeks or even months, and I hope the courts will act quickly. Such matters as this are given preference in all of our courts over other cases. An immediate decision of the appellate courts might clear the situation."

THE WEATHER

The reason why the weather cannot be dropped from the news or from conversation is because the weather will not stand for it, says an editorial in the Post-Dispatch. Stockholm, Sweden, reports the mildest winter in 160 years. England passed through the wettest December on record. Arizona had 30 inches of snow at Prescott. Points in Canada have had some of the lowest temperatures ever known in the snowy dominion, while in China, where the winter is outdoing itself, hundreds of people are reported frozen. Meanwhile the temperature at Sidney, Australia, reached an altitude of 126 in the shade. Thus does the weather force itself upon us in more ways than one. Age cannot wither or custom stale its infinite variety. This time last year, Central Europe was reporting the coldest winter in 200 years. The weather never wearies of novelty, never tires of whim. It is the only subject we know of that can hold its own as a steady diet in the midst of the prohibition debate.

THE HUMAN HEART

There's a heap o' love in the human heart

If we just dig down a bit; It's the Masterpiece of the Mighty Hand

And He gave His best to it. There's a heap o' good in the most of men,

Just underneath the skin, And much would show that we never know,

Could we only look within. There's a lot inside that we never see,

And perhaps we never know, 'Til fortunes turn and we're down and out,

Or sickness strikes us low. And the heart is right in the most of men,

When the truth is really known, And we often find that the heart is kind

That we thought was cold as as stone. We sometimes tire of the road so rough

And the hill that seems so steep, And we sometimes feel that hope is gone,

And we sit alone and weep; And then when our faith is burning low

And we lose our trust in men, True friends appear with a word of cheer

And the sun comes out again, And so I claim ehat the heart of man

Is about what it ought to be, For it's made of goodness through and through,

Could we look inside and see, God made all things and He made them well,

On the true and perfect plan, But He did His best in the greatest test

When He made the heart of man. —Frank Carleton Nelson.

A feed which will build bones quickly... building muscles strong... change fuzz to feathers in a hurry... all this they demand... and yet their little crops can handle only one tiny thimbleful of feed a day! What a job for feed!

Consider Purina Chick Startena (mash) for this job! In every thimbleful are twelve ingredients! Cod-liver oil... dried buttermilk... alfalfa flour... granulated meat... these and eight others are there... each one with a real job to do. Purina Startena is mixed over and over again... 960 times just to be thorough! And you will find the same care taken with Baby Chick Chow (scratch)... to be fed with Startena.

Your chicks... what they do for themselves... what they do for you... is entirely in your hands. They eat so little... yet it counts so much... that you can afford to do only one thing... feed Purina Chick Startena!

CLUB NOTES

Report of C. H. D. A. for January 20 1/2 days in the field. 5 1/2 days in the office. 48 office calls. 57 telephone calls. 82 Extension letters. 31 Home visits. 27 Demonstrations with a total of 324 present.

Living Room Improvement. Poultry work including: formulas for mixing home grown feeds, arranging breeding pens, and precautions necessary to hatch good chicks.

A Beef Canning. Girls demonstrations in sewing and table service have been worked on at H. D. club meetings in the county this month, 100 bulletins, A. & M. Extension poultry methods have been distributed by the C. H. D. A. and many people are adopting better poultry methods in Donley county for 1930.

Living Room Improvement. Ten clubs have learned the essentials of a livable living room, which follow: during demonstrations which were given in January to encourage and aid living room improvement for Donley county.

These essentials are: 1 Sunshine and fresh air. 2 Adequate natural and artificial light. 3 A finish easily cleaned. 4 Restful and cheerful color scheme. 5 Sufficient design to break the monotony and not be confusing. 6 Furniture that is comfortable, convenient and adequate for all the family in all their activities, including: a reading center for conversation, a music center, study space for children, a center for quiet games and storage for these. 7 An efficient heating system. 8 Accessories such as vases, flowers and pictures to add life, interest and enjoyment to the atmosphere. 9 A balanced arrangement, so that the room as a whole has unity.

Since living room Improvement had been demonstrated from several angles in 1928-29 the pictures plan was emphasized the time and the selection and placing of pictures was treated in such a way that the 154 women attending the demonstrations feel sure that they will be able to show their natures more artistic by their choice and arrangement of the pictures you will find in their homes. They decided; that hereafter pictures were to be hung flat against the walls; That frames, which one saw and remembered better than one could remember the details of the picture, were unsuitable; that a picture should lend atmosphere to the group of furniture or to that center of which it was a part. An historical picture or a picture with a thought provoking theme to be placed as a part of the study center, etc. Too sharp contrasts in pictures of the same room were to be avoided. If a picture of a Madonna and Child predominated, no scenes of hunters bringing in their kill were to be used, nor were tragic scenes to be adjacent. Such pictures being fit only for occasional moods and not to be lived with constantly were to be hung in a place less frequented. One picture to give a pleasing note of brilliant color contrasting to the room colors was advocated. Too many types of art in one room were considered cluttering and confusing, as well as too many sizes and shapes or too many pictures or other articles. Pictures were to be hung with invisible hangings or with picture cord and on a good vision range for the housewife when she is standing. If pictures are higher she seldom sees them. If they are lower they are in the way. All pictures in the room would naturally be placed the same light when this rule is used for pictures vary in size and shape. Large wall spaces are to be decorated with large pictures or by correct grouping of small pictures, as a small picture in a large wall space minimizes the picture in size and significance.

Pictures are to be placed so as to form a well balanced group with their urniture with which it belongs. If the wall paper has outstanding design few pictures will be suitable and a well placed mirror will be more pleasing. Too much calendar art was a monster we had to conquer. Family photographs were considered too sacred to our personal sentiment to expose to the gaze of every visitor that occasioned to be in our living rooms; so many photographs have been moved to the bed rooms.

We have 9 living room contestants with the first scoring done, and every one of the 154 club members attending the 10 living room
