GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL PLANS SUMMER CAMPS

At the first meeting of the recently organized Girl Scout Council Saturday afternoon plans were perfected for holding a Girl Scout day camp on Willis Creek two days in each month during June, July and August. Mrs. J. W. Trapp, commissioner and head of the council, was in charge of the meeting, held for the purpose of launching activities and making plans for the coming year.

The budget for the next year has been financed by the Rotary club. Jas. C. White, finance chairman, reported the club's decision to give the Scout program financial support, and H. G. Lucas, Rotarian, presented a check to the council. The Rotarians hope that with this support the Girl Scout movement may become firmly established on a permanent basis, according to officials of the club.

Committees to direct activities of the council have been named as follows: Mrs. E. J. Miller, planning and personnel chairman; Mrs. H. V. Riddle, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. T. W. Bynum, deputy commissioner; Jas. C. White, finance chairman; Mrs. C. D. McClendon, camp chairman; Mrs. W. D. Armstrong, publicity chairman.

Organization of a Girl Scout Council here was perfected recently under the direction of an official of the Girl Scouts of America. The council will direct work being done by the troops already organized, which have been operating as individual units, and will encourage the formation of other troops throughout the county.

ONE-TRUCK OWNERS ARE GETTING BREAK UNDER WPA POLICY

One-truck owners will have a better opportunity to meet the competition of fleet owners on Works Progress Administration projects than formerly under a new procedure inaugurated which will transfer the truck owners from the contract to the payroll basis. Prompt payment for services will also be assured by the new system.

Under the system previously used, each trucker was a contractor, and delays in payment for services often occurred because of errors in vouchers submitted. The new system was announced this week by Treasury Procurement and Works Progress Administration officials of WPA district 14.

Following the new procedure, truck-owners will certify their equipment to treasury district procurement officers, who will list each truck and assign it as orders are received from WPA or other federal agencies. The owner-operators will be allowed to work a maximum 150 hours per month at an hourly rate, which will be established for the county by treasury officials and approved in Washington.

Teamsters and truckers may receive information regarding the certification from district officials and project superintendents. Owner-drivers in all counties of the district who desire WPA employment are urged to apply for certificates in order that the widest rotation possible may be made through the state in assignment for projects.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN MOVING AHEAD IN SPITE OF WEATHER; DISTRICT COMMITTEES NAMED

UNDAUNTED by heavy rains which made headway in actual work difficult all this week, workers in the civic clean-up and beautification campaign under way completed plans for the program, which will be launched in all parts of the city as soon as weather conditions permit. Several homes have been entered in the beautification contest, for which list of prizes has been completed; one hundred per cent cooperation was pledged the campaign by all city officials and heads of city departments, and support of the campaign in the Brownwood Heights was pledged by Miss Lizzie Bullion, principal of the Brownwood Heights school.

Crews of men will be put to work cleaning alleys and other city-owned property when weather conditions permit. All weeds and grass in the alleys are to be cut, and other parts of the town owned by the city are to be made as clean and beautiful as possible.

Mrs. Carl Blasig, general chairman of the campaign, requests that all persons who have not been contacted by school children and who wish to enter their homes in the home beautification contest telephone the Chamber of Commerce office or notify one of the district chairmen. More than 1400 cards have been distributed to school children who are to have them signed for registration and returned to headquarters.

District Chairmen
The four district chairmen are Mrs. John Blake, Coggin School district; Mrs. Monroe Clayton, S. Ward district; Mrs. Robert Y. Davis, Central district which includes Looney and Ford schools; and Mrs. William Day, Brownwood Heights district.

The chamber of commerce has donated $50.00 to be given as prizes in the contest, and these awards will go to the schools in the district. First prize will be $20.00, second prize will be $12.00, third prize will be $8.00, while the fourth prize will be $5.00. A total of $50.00 has been allotted for prizes in the colored section of the city. The winning residences in each district will receive ribbons. Plaques will be given the blocks making the best showing.

Efforts will be made in the business section by June 18 before the visitors for the state Lions club convention, to be held at that time, and those who will come to attend the second annual Lake Brownwood Regatta arrive.

Dr. Mollie W. Armstrong, chairman of the Business & Professional Women's Club committee which has been placed in charge of the work in the business section met with the City Council Monday night when city officials pledged their support to the campaign. She made several requests to the councilmen in seeking to enlist their aid in the campaign to make Brownwood the cleanest city in Texas.

To Run on Schedule
A definite program for trash wagons was worked out. Beginning Monday three wagons will be available to haul trash from the residential districts. During the first week in June the three wagons will work in ward one, the second week in ward two, the third week in ward three and the fourth week in ward four. The wagons, which will be on duty each day from eight in the morning until six in the afternoon, will follow the same schedule in rotation all through the summer.

Citizens are requested to place all trash in containers in the alleys. In answer to complaints that the city wagons will not haul limbs of trees and large shrubbery members of the clean-up committee promise that the wagons will haul any trash placed in the alleys. They also request that those who have trash to be hauled call some member of the committee rather than notifying anyone at the City Hall.

Dr. Armstrong urged the city council to take some action on the zoning ordinance which was drawn up several years ago but which never was passed. She requested that the ordinance requiring all cars to be off the streets at night be enforced to allow the street thoroughly cleaned.

Coggin First to Organize
The Coggin Ward district was first to complete its set-up and begin active work. Mrs. John Blake, district chairman, reported at a general meeting last week that the campaign has been extremely well received by all residents of her district whom she had contacted.

Committee named for that district include Mrs. A. B. Queen, chairman of beautification of Junior High School and Senior High School campuses; Mrs. W. H. Camp, chairman of streets and alleys; Mrs. Harry Schaffer, chairman of cleaning and planting of vacant lots; and Mrs. W. R. Parker, chairman of repairing and painting fences, trees, etc.

Organization of the workers for the campaign in South Ward district, the second district to be organized, was worked out at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Monroe Clayton, chairman.

Committees named by Mrs. Clayton include: Mrs. C. B. Nickles, chairman of yard committee and block chairman; Mrs. Robert D. Sparks, chairman of keeping vacant property clean or planted; Mrs. H. B. Keith, painting and repairing buildings, whitewashing trees, etc., and caring for fences; Mrs. W. L. Ladyman, school grounds; Mrs. W. L. Caldwell, streets and alleys; Mrs. Ben A. Fain, Coggin Park; and Mrs. R. L. Farris, judging.

All property south of Coggin Avenue has been placed in the S. Ward district, although parents sending children to Coggin school will receive credit in the Coggin district as teachers and judges will check cards of school children when the contest terminates in October.

TEXAS VETERANS TO GET EIGHTY MILLION FROM BONUS PAYMENT

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The current spendings and money in circulation in Texas is expected to increase by about $80,000,000 during the next few months as result of the Federal Government issuing bonus bonds to veterans of the World War.

The number of bonusholders in Texas is 148,771, with an average face value of the bonus certificate $960, but a large number have borrowed against them.

Arrangements are being concluded by the Post Office Department to dispatch from Washington more than 3,500,000 bonus bonds to veterans who may hold them until maturity or surrender for cash. The bonds will be sent to 4,500 post offices throughout the country and delivery will be made to the veteran in person by registered mail.

Twelve Paying Offices.
Twelve Texas post offices have been named paying offices: Dallas, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

The Dallas and Austin post offices have been designated as paying offices not only for their respective postal districts but also for the remaining post offices in respective districts.

Although the bonus bonds earn simple interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum no interest is payable on any bond redeemed prior to June 15, 1937. The bonds will be mailed in $50 denominations with accompanying checks to cover the odd amounts. In a radio address from Washington Postmaster General Farley will give the veterans full and complete information concerning payment of the bonds.

The Government's gratitude goes to 3,531,800 who in the World War service, their bonus certificates aggregating nearly $2,500,000,000 (billions) in face value. Six out of seven borrowed, so that the total bill now to be paid is generally referred to as $2,245,000,000 (billions). The legislation remitted interest the Government charged on loans and reimbursed banks for interest they charged.

It is now estimated that 95 per cent of the bonus will be surrendered for cash by the veterans which would mean that something like two billion dollars will be put into circulation immediately. Statisticians have figured there would be an increase in the cost of living.

Texas Gets $88,696,221.
There are 148,771 bonusholders in Texas who will receive a total

BUSINESS SUBJECTS FOR ADULTS WILL BE GIVEN NEXT SESSION

The organization of free classes for adults to be offered by Brownwood High School during the regular school term next fall is contemplated by school officials. The courses of study to be offered and the number of classes will be determined by the demand. Any one interested in enrolling in a class is asked to leave his name and the subject desired with Bill Hooper, high school Diversified Occupation Department supervisor, who will be in charge.

Under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act much of the expense of conducting the classes will be met by the federal and state governments. Qualified persons in the city will be employed as teachers of the various classes.

If present plans are carried out subjects to be taught will include bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, business mathematics, nursing, household service, and show card writing. Any subject for which there are as many as eight persons desiring a class will be taught, according to Mr. Hooper.

The classes will be taught in the afternoon and at night. Work of organization will be begun during the summer so the classes can be started as soon as school opens next September.

MISS MALONE LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON FOR FARM WOMEN MEETING

Miss Mayesie Malone, Brown county home demonstration agent, left Thursday morning for Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of the Farm Women of the World, to be held in Washington June 1 to 7. After leaving Washington she plans to visit various points on the Atlantic coast, returning to Brownwood about July 1.

Speakers on the program include many names of prominent women of other countries as well as those from the United States. Among the many entertainment features planned is a reception to be given by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on the lawn of the White House.

Several changes in the home demonstration programs have been made due to Miss Malone's absence from the county during the month of June.

The picnic planned for the girls' 4-H Clubs, which was to have been held during June has been postponed until some time in July. The date will be announced upon Miss Malone's return.

Judging of the bedrooms entered in the bedroom improvement contest will be completed in June by Mrs. Earl Byrds, Mrs. W. G. Sawyer, and Miss Suella Clark. All bedroom demonstrators are asked to notify one of the judges when they have their rooms ready to be judged.

The club meetings in the various communities of the county will follow the programs outlined on the club year book.

"The Story of Louis Pasteur" one of the outstanding motion pictures of the present generation, will be shown privately to clergymen and teachers of Brown county by the Lyric Theatre Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. It was announced this week by P. N. Thomas, manager of the Lyric and Gem.

The picture has attracted wide attention throughout the United States since it was first shown a few weeks ago, and according to producers it is destined to create motion picture history. It traces the life and achievement of the distinguished French chemist and scientist, who contributed so much to the health and welfare of the world.

NEW REQUIREMENTS FOR DAIRYMEN ARE OUTLINED BY CITY

Dairymen who sell milk and milk products in Brownwood have been given until June 29 to comply with requirements of the city milk ordinance which provides that all milk sold in Brownwood must be Class A, B, or C. Sale of all Class D milk, produced from unregulated dairies, will be stopped. Members of the City Council voted to give the dairymen the extension of time in which to comply with the ordinance at a meeting Friday night, which was attended by fifty or more dairymen and others interested in dairy regulation.

M. Pierson, milk supervisor of the state health department, attended the meeting and explained in detail the advantages of dairy regulation and the necessity of requiring certain safeguards in the production and handling of raw milk.

The meeting was called after a number of small milk producers had protested that enforcement of the milk ordinance would necessitate the purchase of much expensive equipment which they were unable to afford, and therefore would force them out of business.

During the 30 day period allowed the dairymen, John McGhee, city sanitary officer, and F. D. Brock, of the state health department, will inspect all dairies serving the city to determine the quality of milk being sold. Points on which rating will be made are as follows:

Tuberculin testing and physical examination of cows; condition of the dairy barn and barnyard; condition of the milkroom; construction and operation of the toilet; condition of the water supply; handling and construction of the utensils; milking procedure and conditions; bottling and capping facilities; health of employees and type of vehicles used.

TOWNSEND LEADER IS LAUDED AT MEETING OF FOLLOWERS HERE

With an impressive display of oratorical fireworks leaders of the Townsend Old Age Pension Clubs from six Congressional districts boosted the Townsend movement and lauded Dr. F. E. Townsend's defiance of the Bell investigation committee at a regional convention of the Townsend clubs held here Monday. J. T. Newsum of Fort Worth, assistant state area manager, was principal speaker on the program arranged for the closing session Monday night. He described the many luxuries that will come to the masses of men and women past 60 years of age when they begin getting their $200 per month.

At the close of his speech, during which he explained that the Townsend plan would solve the unemployment problem and climax efforts of the government to get more money into circulation, he made an appeal for money to carry on the work of the Townsend clubs, and called for a free will offering.

Rev. A. R. Watson of Brownwood opened the convention session Monday morning with an address of welcome. Dr. W. R. Shook of Bradshaw made the response and in his brief address proclaimed the Townsend movement as the greatest in all history, ancient, medieval or modern.

Resolutions approving Townsend's defiance of the investigating committee and condemning the United States House of Representatives for appropriating money for the inquiry into the Townsend movement were presented by Dr. H. E. Miller of San Anzuelo, candidate for Congress from the 21st district. The resolutions were unanimously adopted by the club members present.

Delegates to the convention were registered from Waco, Abilene, DeLeon, Comanche, Coleman, Ballinger, May, San Angelo, San Marcos, Fort Worth and other nearby towns and communities. During the day the visitors were guests of the Brownwood Townsend club.

Officials of the Townsend movement and approved Townsend candidates for district and state offices present at Monday's regional meeting included: Joseph H. Price of Fort Worth, candidate for the U. S. Senate; Fred O. Jaye, of De Leon, candidate for congress from the 17th district; C. A. Hundreds of fishermen are expected to try out Lake Brownwood, closed to fishing for two years, this week-end when the season opens Friday, May 29, and since Saturday is a holiday, many fishing parties are being planned for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, in spite of unsettled weather conditions.

For the first time, overnight facilities are available at the lake, with the opening of the State Park, accessible to motorists via Byrd's Store. Boats for fishermen are available also at the park and at numerous other places along the lake.

Many prominent Texas sportsmen had made arrangements to visit Lake Brownwood for the opening, but weather conditions are expected to keep some of these away. Among those who have written they will be here are John Wood, member of the Texas Highway Commission; W. E. Morgan, member of the President Roosevelt is coming to Texas for a two-day visit, June 11 and 12. The visit is an important one, not alone because a President is to come to Texas, but for the additional reason that it gives official dignity to the celebration of Texas' hundredth birthday. Because of our geographical location, the visit of a President to this State is a matter of great import. Not before in the hundred years of Texas' history has this state had the opportunity to be host to a Democratic President. That in itself makes the visit noteworthy.

The President's Visit

But President Roosevelt and the Democratic Party that he represents are entitled to special consideration by Texans for a number of reasons. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, is a resident of Texas. After a rather eventful business career that has led him into many States in the Union, he has chosen Texas for his home. That he is enthusiastic about the possibilities of the Lone Star State is evident from his statement at the State Democratic Convention in San Antonio this week when he told assembled Democrats that he planned to show and tell his illustrious father of the advantages of Texas and the reasons why he felt Texas was the ideal place in which to live.

The Democratic party, which President Roosevelt represents, has been extremely considerate of Texas during the three years that the present Administration has been in office. The agricultural program - both the plan which was outlined by the Supreme Court and the one now being put into operation - has been designed to help Texas' greatest business, and has poured millions of Federal funds into Texas business channels. Regardless of our individual attitude toward various relief measures which have been inaugurated, taken as a whole, they have saved this State from bankruptcy, and saved countless thousands of individual businesses from economic destruction. As a Symbol of Prosperity, the President is due our admiration and respect.

Texas has fared well in the matter of personal recognition, too. Vice President Garner, named as President Roosevelt's running mate against the wishes of many politicians, has proved to be a real asset to the Administration, and beyond possibility of argument is the strongest figure to grace this office in the present generation. Many other individuals, too, including Jesse H. Jones, RFC chairman, have been given positions of responsibility in which they have acquitted themselves well.

That President Roosevelt has accepted the invitation of Texas to visit the State during the Centennial Year is not only a generous gesture; it is a recognition of the worthiness of the event and of the important position occupied by a great Commonwealth in the group of States.

Texas will leave nothing undone to make his visit a pleasant one.

Before this issue of The Banner has reached many of its readers, the dream and plan of those who have been sponsoring the Lake Brownwood State Park during the past few years will have been partially achieved in the opening of the State Park to the public with facilities beyond the hopes, two years ago, of the most enthusiastic backers. In spite of adverse weather conditions - favorable as they were to the greater good of the entire county in bringing crop conditions - in spite of adverse weather, plans for the opening of the park have gone forward with enthusiasm and well directed energy, until now Brownwood has for the first time a park of which it can be truly proud, and to which it can invite the world.

The Park Is Open

When first discussion of the State Park for the Lake area was heard in Brownwood it was not dreamed that a park of such magnitude could be realized. Conditions have made it possible during the past two years to improve the area, to construct the fourteen stone cabins, build picnic units, and further prepare the park for the accommodation of the thousands of people who will visit the lake during the summer months.

The gala events which would have marked the opening date, had fair weather made it possible, will not be held, and possibly much publicity will be lost thereby; but that is not important. The important thing is that the work of the Izaak Walton League and those who assisted has not been in vain. It is another proof that through cooperative effort much good can be accomplished.

There can be no question, in view of the many reservations for cabins received during the past two weeks, that people outside the immediate Brownwood area appreciate the value of the park. They will patronize it in large numbers, and will continue to do so, so long as they receive the service they expect, and the Lake continues to be the attraction that it now is.

It is hoped, though, that Brownwood people will avail themselves of the facilities of the park this summer in great numbers. Many have never visited the area; know nothing of the work that has been done.

Well, we want more work to be done at the Park to bring it up to the standard of State and National parks anywhere in the Nation. Whether this work is done or not depends largely upon the patronage given the park by the people of this section. If Brownwood people show, by their use of the park facilities, that there is a demand for additional improvements it will not be difficult to secure this work. If people of this section show through indifference and lack of patronage that they do not care to make use of the facilities already provided it will be impossible to secure further improvement work.

That is a point worthy of consideration. The park is a beautiful and useful thing as it is. If we show by our use of it that we appreciate it, and want further development, very likely that development will be forthcoming from the Federal authorities.

Something was said this week by Captain L. G. Phares, director of the Texas State Department of Public Safety with which most Texans are certain to find themselves in hearty agreement. Captain Phares declared that courtesy on the highways is one of the things that would help cut down the toll of automobile accident fatalities. Perhaps there is nothing new in that, but it is certainly important. Many of us have wondered why a perfect gentleman so often turns into a perfect boor when he gets behind the wheel and steps on the gas.

There's some high powered figuring, some midnight oil burning and many long puffs from the old corn cob pipe these days that mark the time between now and the fifteenth of June for many families. Of course the new car dealers are kept the busiest with the insurance peddlers a close second. It is a race between "I might just as well take it, buy a car and have a little spree" and "I should buy insurance as a sure income when I am old."

Because Jennie Harris Oliver is outstandingly successful in a state where there are many successful and talented writers and because she so truly represents the dogged courageous type of Oklahomans, she was chosen this year for Oklahoma's hall of fame. By success we do not mean in houses and lands, in bonds and oil wells but as Jennie herself would consider success, that of being known as Oklahoma's most loved writer. Once a young man in prison read one of her stories and it gave back to him something that the state had taken away. It gave him hope, ambition, a desire to "come back" and be something. The letter the boy wrote is in her strong box and means more to her than gold, as are several more.

In a lonely forty-windowed house surrounded by trees where house-martins spin their purple threads on the loom of the sky Jennie Harris Oliver is never quite alone. For she knows and loves people from every walk of life. As long as she has them, the moonlight, the birds and flowers she can make her magic and weave them all into stories and poems which the whole world knows and in which they revel.

"It Is Morning," a third book to be released lately, is a collection of her Jolie Nash stories. These stories written around Oklahoma's Agricultural and Mechanical College at Stillwater are perhaps her best known and most liked collection. Chester P. Davis, now a superintendent of city schools, is the hero, David Lawrence, in the series. His scrapes and escapades, his making his way through college by the help of his little mother, despite the tirades of a father who couldn't understand the sensitive nature of a growing boy, make up the book. All of the stories are problems of the heart. The boy must be allowed to shape his own life, women should be independent financially, a lie can be turned into something beautiful if it is made into a bridge which crosses misunderstanding and hate and leads a lad into the land of beginning again. ALLRED'S RECORD IS UNEXCELLED

(Dallas Dispatch)

So excellent is the record of James V. Allred, serving his first term as governor, that one wonders why anyone opposes him for renomination. If the people of Texas properly show their appreciation of the young governor in the Democratic primary, he will get a majority and renomination on the first ballot.

It may not be amiss to list some of the governor's major accomplishments: The state finances are in excellent condition. There is a four million dollar surplus in the school fund. The deficit is one of book-keeping only.

Creation of a creditable state police force is under way despite the difficulties created by the remnant of the old-time ranger force. The state police department promises to be a source of pride to the citizenship.

Ten millions of dollars was appropriated with the governor's approval for the aid of crippled rural school districts, and wisely disbursed as approval for the aid of crippled rural school districts, and wisely disbursed as far as the governor could control the matter.

The governor is carrying out in letter and spirit the will of the people as expressed in the liquor control law. The governor made good appointments, the board is self-supporting, and some two and one-half millions net have come into the treasury.

The governor set up a workable old age pension system. The federal social security board pronounced the set-up the best any state has submitted and is matching state contributions dollar for dollar. Sixty thousand old age pension checks averaging $20 will go out July 1.

A 50-million-dollar highway improvement program will be under way by July. It represents a combination of state, federal and relief funds capably brought together by the governor's highway department.

Oil companies are taking no part in the race. They are not backing or opposing Allred and contributing not a cent to any gubernatorial candidate. Allred, by his oratorical ability, has given the state immensely valuable advertising. This contrasts favorably with what happened in previous years. The governor is at the moment one of the state's best assets.

Texas Legends and Folklore

Olive M. Johnson, Director of Speech Arts North Texas State Teachers College

Geographical Legends

Many stories in Texas history have grown up around Enchanted Rock in Llano County. This is a mound of solid granite covering 640 acres. At night, spirit fires dance on the summit; by day, millions of isinglass stars gleam in the sunlight. The Indians held this rock sacred and went there to worship. Many a beleaguered ranger or settler escaped from the Indians by climbing the rock, for no Comanche would follow or even shoot an arrow toward a white man seeking protection of the Spirit of the Rock.

Texas also has legends of flowers, names, and streams. When the first Spanish priests came to Texas, they brought seeds of a blue flower said to grow on the hillsides near Jerusalem. They planted the seeds in the mission gardens. The flowers thrived and spread, so that now all the hills of the Southwest are covered with bluebonnets. And so Texas has in this beautiful alien her state flower.

The most famous geographical legend is that of the naming of the Brazos River. The full name of the stream is Los Brazos de Dios, the Arms of God. Every Texas knows of the sudden and devastating "red rises" of the Brazos, when a wall of water, often many feet high, sweeps unexpectedly down its bare stream bed. Some Franciscan friars, having prayed and fought their way across from Mexico, were suddenly attacked by hostile Indians. They fled across the dry bed of the river, with their enemies close behind them. They felt that all was lost. But suddenly, a miracle! A foam-crested wall of water came roaring down the river bed and swept the Indians to destruction. The friars fell on their knees and gave thanks, saying "Los Brazos de Dios!" And to this day the river is called Brazos.

Not all of the rivers were named so poetically. The old Texan way of pronouncing "Navasota" is "Navasot." The writer, born and reared near the river, had attained the distinction of the high-seventh grade before she knew that the word could be pronounced any other way. According to the legend, a white trader gave a setting hen and eggs to a squaw, in exchange for some valuable skins.

"Don't eat them," said the trader. "Let the hen go on sitting, and after awhile, you'll have lots of chickens and eggs." The squaw said nothing, but when her visitor was gone she had a grand feast. The next season the trader came again and asked her how she had succeeded in her chicken raising. "Nava sot!" said the squaw. "Nava sot!" And thus the river got its name. Of course, as every old timer knows, the geographers and historians who tried to beautify it into "Navasota" are all wrong.

Drunk Driving Is Charged In Crash

Charges of driving while intoxicated were filed Friday against a man who gave his name as Cecil Herring of Leuders following a collision between his car and that of W. D. Thomas of Brownwood. No one was injured in the accident although Thomas' car was badly damaged. Sheriff W. E. Hallmark arrested Herring soon after the accident, which occurred immediately beyond the Frisco overpass on the Coleman highway west of town.
